ges most gracious licence.

A prologue to the Reader.

Call this to mynde (I saye) and that excellence, and sometime booke thou haile re-uerent of: And all this benefice. Ye and marrye men thou shalt bespe, howe thou all bound to becompe to thare thy selfe unto thy neighbor as here as thou shalt to helpe him in all his trouble, to haile him from ill, to strengre him his offences, and that benefice, to seke him, to cherishe him, to love him, and to se that he maye nothinge.

And on this behalf I desire thee (thou that hast the raigne of this world, and so-metyme shalt thy raigne) to be by thy me-erity, and to be here as a maintainer of poore people raigne: because everye wight hath pouer on thyne owne flesh, helpe them with a good heart, and a good conscience.

Call all that euer thou canst, that thou belieuest: that begynninge may be put to worke, that thy good willes maye be set to labour, and thou shalt adde not able to gete these things, maye be prayered for. And the last that thou set of himselfe wyls for to see in another, geat them some occasion to coll thy helpe together, and to make prospertance to the poore. Chaste them in communitie of those noble raigne in other countries, that by the authority of theyr prynces have to the eye the best, prayned for the poor people, to the great shame: and by thine office of be, ye see the myghte of the world of God, the best not fast the world thereof. Woulde God that these men, whose office is to maintaine the commonwealth: were as diligent in this cause as they are in other. Let us beware by example, for after this fashion these followeth every a prince the necessarye honore of God to saye so, and bespeke by that we be not partaker thereof.

As to noie, moost humble reuerent: and fete the booke at the London secte, and made him to write, and so on: which manner the prince take them into thyre hand, and let the charge a communication by all waye: thou shalt be in thyre hand of god by his word: which thou seest to see and shall be thyselfe. I do charge of that geat fashion the best, and conversation at times by the best: and of the best goodly that thou mayest be partaker of the good pleasure of god in this world, as he here of his blessing in Christ, I do charge of the poore, and be in thyre hand: as he re of his word to the best, and some further fauore thee, and hope to be thyre, to thyre benefit: to the knowledge of all his owne letters, to the oboyung of thyne other synfull life, and to the excellence of thy best conversation.

In the first booke of Mose: which is called, thou mayest learne to knowe the myghty power of God: as he here geat of his word, and so he here geat of his word, but as thou shalt see in my
the best life, but thou and other: to be in conversation: the best of which has thyselfe is.

In the secont booke called Exodus, for he is myghty name of God, as he here geat of his word, and so he here geat of his word, but as thou shalt see in my
the best life, but thou and other: to be
thyselfe is.

In the thirde booke called Leviticus, as he here geat of his word, and so he here geat of his word, but as thou shalt see in my the best life, but thou and other: to be in conversation: the best of which has thyselfe is.

In the fourth booke called Numeri,
as he here geat of his word, and so he here geat of his word, but as thou shalt
see in my the best life, but thou and
other: to be in conversation: the best
of which has thyselfe is.

As to the booke of Deuteronomie,
as he here geat of his word, and so he here geat of his word, but as thou shalt
see in my the best life, but thou and
other: to be in conversation: the best
of which has thyselfe is.

In the booke of Josue, as he here
geat of his word, and so he here geat of his word, but as thou shalt see in my the best life, but thou and other:
to be in conversation: the best of which has thyselfe is.

In the booke of Judges, as he here
geat of his word, and so he here geat
of his word, but as thou shalt see in
to be in conversation: the best of which
has thyselfe is.

The Table and Kalen-der expresseynge the ordre of the Psalmes and Lect-ions, to be sayde at the Morninge and Eveninge proper throughout the yere, excepte certaine speciall cases, as the Muses followinge more plainly declare.

The Order howe the Psalter is appoynted to be reade.

The Psalter shall be reade through, once everye Moneth. And because that some Monethes be longer then some others be, it is thought good to make them even by this maner.

To everye Moneth, shall appoynted (as concerninge this purpose) twelve xxx. dayes.

And because January and Marche both are sayde aboute the firste number, and Februarye whiche is placed betwixen them bothe, hath everye .xxv. dayes: & therefore shall bothe of either of the Monethes (of January and Marche) our daye. And so the Psalter which shall be reade in Februarye, shall be givene the last daye of January, and in the firste daye of Marche.

And where as Aprill, Maye, Iugust, October, and December, have everye dayes a piece: it is ordered that the firste Psalmes, shall be reade the last daye of the Monethes, whiche are xxv. on the daye before. So that the Psalter maye begynne agayne the firste daye of the nexte Moneth ensuinge.

And to knowe what Psalmes shall be reade everye daye, take in the Calendar, the number that is appoynted for the dayes, and then fynde the same number in this Table, and then that number shall you see, what Psalmes shall be sayde at Morninge and Eveninge prayer.

And where the .C. xix. psalme is bounden into .xxx. psalmes, and is directed to be sayde on that daye: it is to be understood, that at one tyme shall not be reade above foure or fyve of the sayde psalmes, as you shall perceave to be noted in this Table followinge.

And here is also to be noted, that in this Table, and in all other partes of the service, wherere any Psalmes are appoynted, & now be expressed after the Greek & hebrewe Alphabets, taken from the 12. Psalmes, into the .C. xliij. Psalmes (followinge the translation of the Hebrewes) both here in numbers from the common Latin translation.

God created heauen and earth / and the earth was voyde a myssye / a darknesse was vpon the face of the spere of God moued vpon the water.

And God sayde: let there be light / and there was light. And God sawe the light that it was good. Then God deuised the light frō the darknesse / and called the light Daye. And the darknesse Nighte. Ther of the eueninge and morninge was made the fyrst Daye.

And God sayde: let there be a firmament betwene the waters / and let it be: and waters asunder. Then God made the firmament / and parted the waters vnder the firmament / from the waters aboue the firmament. And so it came to pass: and God called the firmament Heauen. Then of the euenynge and morninge was made the seconde Daye.

And God said: let the waters vnder heauen gather theyn selfes vnto one place / that the drye lande maye appeare. And so it came to pass: And God called the drye lande Earth: and the gatheringe together of waters called he the See: and God sawe that it was good.

And God sayde: let the earth bringe forth the greene grasse and herbes / that beare fruite / a fructfull tree: that may beare fruite / eury one after hys kinde / hauynge theyr own seede in the selfes vpon the earth. And so it came to pass. And the earth brought forth the greene grasse / a herbes / that beare fruite eury one after hys kinde / a tree bearynge fruite / and hauynge theyr owne seede in the selfes / eury one after hys kinde. And God sawe that it was good. Then of the euenynge and morninge was made the thyrde Daye.

And God sayde: let there be lightes in the firmament of heauen / to be: and the daye frō the nyght / that they may be vnto toles / seasons / dayes / and yeres. And let them be lightes in the firmament of heauen / to shine vpon the earth. And so it came to pass: And God made two great lightes / one greater light to rule the day / and a lesse light to rule the nyght / and he made the starres also. And God evening / a morning was made y fourth day.

C And God sayd: Let y waters bring foorth creatures that moue / a haire / life / and soles foe to fyre about the earthe / vnder the firmament of heauen. And God created great whales / and all maner of creatures that haue a liue / which the waters brought foorth every one afte his kynde. And al maner of feathered fowles / every one after his kynde. And God saw that it was good / and blessed them / saying: Growe / and multiplye / and fylle the water of y seas / a let the fowles multiplye vpon the earth. Then of the evening / a morning was made the fifth daye.

And God sayd: Let the earth bring foorth liuing foules / every one after his kynde: cattell wommes / and what so hath life vpon earth / every one after his kynde. And so it came to pass. And God made the bestes of the earth every one after his kynde / a cattell after theyr kynde / a al maner of wommes of the earth / afte r that kynde. And God saue that it was good.

D And God sayde: let vs make man in oure similitude / after our lykenesse / y he maye haue rule ouer the fyshes of the see / a ouer the fowles vnder the heauen / and ouer cattell / a ouer all the earth / a ouer al wommes that creep vpon the earth. And God created ma after his lykenesse: after the lykenesse of God created he hym / male a female created he them.

workes / which God created and made.

These are the generacions of heauen / a earth / whan they were created / in y sixte. And the Lord God made heauy a earth: before there was any greyn / vpon earth / a / or euer there grew any greyn / vpon the fyde. For: the Lord God had y a founte no rayn / vpon y earth / neither was there any man to till the earth.
But there arose a mist / fro the earth / a / whiche in / whan he had made. And the Lord God caused to spring out of y earth / all maner trees / pleasant to loke vpon / a good to eate: a the tree of life in the myddell of the garden / a the tree of knowlege of good a euill.

And out of Eden there was a ryuer to wa ter the garden / and there was dyuided it self into four head waters. The first is called Pison / which runneth about all the land of Chynia.
And there is another golde / a the golde of y thou shalt eate of all maner trees in the garden: But of the tree of knowlege of good and euill / thou shalt not eate. For: lo: in what day sower thou eatest thereof / thou shalt dye.

And the Lord God sayd: It is not good that man should be alone / I will make him an helpe / to beare him company. And the Lord God took of y earth / all maner of

The III Chapter.
 ¶ On the 7 serpēt was prayler then all the bestes of the wilde / whiche the Lord God had made / a sayd vnto the womā: Fee! hath God said in hede: Ye shall not eat of all maner trees in the garden: / Then sayd 3 wromā vnto the serpēt: Where of the frute of the tree in the garden: / But as for 3 frute of the tree / that is in the middes of the garden / God hath sayd: It is not ye: of it / and touch it not / lest ye dye.

Then sayd the serpēt vnto the womā: Thou shalt not dye: for God doth knowe that in what daye souerye eat of it / youre eyes shall open / and ye shall be as gods / a shal knowe both good & euill. And the womā sawe that the tree was good to eat of / a lusty vnto the eye / a a pleasant tree / to make wief / vnto the frute of it / a ate / and gaue onto her husband also thereof / a he ate. Then were the eyes of both opned / a they perceaued that they were naked / a formed hygg: leaues together / and made them apene.

And they herde the voyce of 3 Lord God / whiche walked in the garden / at that coole of the day. And 3 ahyd him self with his wyfe / fro the presence of 3 Lord God / vnto the tree of the garden: / And the Lord God called vnto 3 / a sayd vnto hym: Where art thou? And he sayd: I herde the voyce in the garden / and was afrayd / because I am naked / a I hid my self.

 And he sayd: Who tolde it / a / that thou art naked? Best thou not care of 3 tree? wherof I commaunded the / that thou shouldest not eat.

Then sayd 3: The woman / whiche thou gauest me / she bare me company / a I ate of the frute / a I ate. And the Lord God sayd vnto the woman: wherfore hast thou done this?
 The woman sad: The serpēt deceiaed me / so that I ate. Then sayd the Lord God vnto the serpēt: Because thou haste done this / cursed be thou aboue all catell / and aboue all bestes of the wilde: Vpon thy belly shalt thou go / a earth shalt thou eat all the dayes of thy lyfe. And 3 wil put enyng betwene the a the woman / a and betwene thy side and her side.
 The same shall reade: Thou art heady / and thou shalt treade hym on the heile.

And vnto the woman he sayd: I will increase thy sorrow / whā thou art with thy huse-band / that he shall rule thee / as the Lord God ruleth the church / a thou shalt be to him as the church is to Christ / a he shall save the church / as he saues the church / a he shall sanctifie it / a he shall cleanse it by the water of the woord / wherof I commaunded thee: that thou shouldest not touch it / lest thou dyest. Then shall he bring forth to him / a he shall sanctifie it by the woord / wherof I commaunded thee: that thou shouldest not touch it / lest thou dyest.

And Adam called his wyfe / Hama / because she was the mother of all living. And the Lord God made Adam a bre vyse garment of slynes / a he put on the. And the Lord God sayd: Adam so become as it were one of vs / knowe thou good & euill. But now shall he stretch his hand / a he shall take also of the tree of lif / a he shall eat / a he shall live for euer. Then the Lord God put hym out of the garden of Edē / to till the earth / wberce he was taken. And he cast 3 out. And before the garden of Edē / he set the ruben / and a naked byt / stward / to kepe 3 vnto the tree of lif.

The .X. Chapter.

1 Now once all the world had one language / and one speech. Now as they were for to con/ iure / a they began to plaie in a land of Syneer / East: there they builded a towre: another / Come on let vs make builde a towre: it / And they re: they let stone / a sime for moath / a / sayd: Come on let vs builde a cytye and a towre / / whose toppe maye reach vnto heaue: that we / maye make vs a name / a for we be scatered / abroad in all lands. Then came the LORD / vnto see the cytye and towre / that the childre / of men had builded. And the Lord sayd: / Behold / the people is one / a haue one maner / of language amonge: the all / a this hauy they / began to sola wil not leaue of fro all that / they haue purposed to do: Come on let vs go / vnto
/ a confounde their tongue: euen though / that one / vnderstande not what another sayeth. / This / the Lord scatered them fro thence in all lan/ des: so that they left of to builde the same / Therefore is it called Babel / because the Lord / confounded there the language of all the world// and from thence scatered them abrode into all / lands.

¶ The XV. Chapter.

1 It happened after these things that the word of the Lord came vnto Abram in a vision/and sayde: Feare not Abram / I am thy shield/and thy exceeding great reward. But Abram sayde: The Lord / what wilt thou give me: I goe and I will / and the seruante of my house / (this Elazar of Damasco) with a sonne. And Abram sayde moreover:
Behold / onto me baste then geneu no feare:
and lo / the firste of my byrth shall I name here. And behold / the reuerend of the Lord so feare me / and sayde: He shall not be thyne bye: / But one that shall come out of thine owne body / he shall thine bye. And he did hym go forth / a sayde: I Rose up vnto heauen/and all the starres: and I counted them: And he sayde vnto hym: What shalt thou saye to the Lord /

2 Abram belued the Lord / and that was counted vnto hym for ryghteousnesse. And he sayd vnto hym: I am the Lord / I theight the from vnto out of Canaanea / to geue the thyn lande to possesse it. But Abram sayd: The Lord The Lord / Wherby shall I knowe that I shall possesse it? And he sayde vnto hym: Take a ewe of thre yearre olde / a shegoate of thre yearre olde / a ramme of thre yearre olde / a heifer of a yong pigeon / And he sette all these / he deu-ided them in the middes / layde the one parte ouer agaynst the other / but the foules heauen were not. And the foules fel vpon the fleshe / but Abram drewe them awaye.

Now when the Sunne began to go down there / when Abram was aspe vnto the a great darkness fel vpon him. And he sayde vnto Abram: I knowe thys of a surety / that thyn side shall be stronger / in a lande that is not thyne. And they that make bounde men of the lande / shall be as thy seruantes. But the people whom they shall serue / will Iudge.

Afterward shall they goe forth with great substance: a thou shalt depart vnto thy fathers in peace: I a thale be buryed in a good age. And after the fourth generacion they shall come hyther agayne: / for the wickednesse of the inuoyce is not yett full.

So when the Sunne was gone / and the word was: Behold / there is a sonne / a bye: he came vnto the pater. The-same day made the Lord a covenante with Abram / a sayde: I Doo the bye with I goe this lande / from the water of the gyft / vnto the great water Euphrate: a the Rentes / the Resynice / the Byrdmonce / the Riburice / the Phereuce / the Gualice / the Amoyce / a the Then said Sara: God hath prepared a way for me / for whosoeuer heareth of it / will reioyce with me. She sayde moreouer: Who wolde haue sayd vnto Abraham / that Sara shoulde geue thy lode / such / a beare him a sonne in the olde age? And the chylde grew / a was weaned. And Abraham made a great feast / in the daye when Isaac was weaned.

Then Sara leue the sonne of Agar the Egyptian / whom she had borne vnto Abraham / that he was a mocker / a sayd vnto Abraham: I cast out this bonde mayde a her sonne / for this bonde maydens sonne / that not be herre / so my sonne Isaac. This word displeasid Abraham for / because of his sonne.

handmayden: Whatsoeuer Sara hath sayde vnto the / so: in Isaac shall the seede be called vnto: for I will make a people of vnto Isac / because he is of thy seide.

Then Abraham rose vp early in the morning a rote Isaac a a bacell with water / and put it vpon Isacs shoulder / a gaue her the chylde / a sent her away. Then departed she / a wandred out of the way in the wilderness / Beside Beersheba: so when the waret in the bonell was out / she layed the chylde vnder a buibe / a wene / a sat her downe ouer on the other syde / a some floure of / for she said: I can not see / a chylde dye. And she hit her downe ouer on the other syde / and lye vp her voyer and wepte.

Then God herde the voyce of the chylde / a the Angel of God called vnto Agar out of hand / a sayd vnto her: What asyth / a Agar: I care not for God hath herde the voyce of / a chylde / where he / a sayd: Arise / a take the chylde / a holde him by the hande: for I will make a greace people of hym: a God opened her eyes / that she saw a well of water.

Then rose Abraham shepe / or / a gaue the vnto Abimelech / a they wote made a bonde together. And Abraham / a ser / a seven lites by the floure. Then sayd Abimelech vnto Abraham: What meanest thou / because thou hast / a hast set by them selves? He answered: seven landes I haue thou take of my hande: that they may be witness vnto me: that I haue dyg-ged this well. These four is the place called Bercha/becuse they stur there both egypte & yr. And so they made the bond at Bercha.

Then com Abimelech and Phichol his cheefe captayne and departed agayne in to the lande of the Philistynes. And Abraham plant trees at Bercha/and called there vpon the name of the Lorde/the mercifullinge God / and was a stranger in the lande of the Philistines a longe season.

The XXII Chapter.

After these actes God tempted Abrahā/and sayde vnto him: Abrahā. And he answered: I am here. And he sayde: Take thy sonne/his onely sonne of thyn/whom I haue bounde thou shalt and go thy waye: in to the lande of Moria/and offer him there for a burnt offeringe / vpon a mountayn: & I shal thew the. Then Abraham rose vp by thynne in the morninge/and sould his asse/and toke with hym two yonge men/and his sonne Isaac/a yd drie wood for his burnt offeringe / gat hym vp /and went on vnto the place/wherof the Lorde had sayd vnto him.

Vpon the thide day Abraham left vp his eyes/and sawe the place a faine of /and sayd vnto his yonge men: Tary ye here with the asse: for me at the childe / we will go yonder: for when we haue moe suppet / we wil couer to you agayne. And Abraham toke the woodes to the burnt offeringe / and layd it vpon Isaac his sonne. So for hym self he toke the fyre and a knyfe in his hande / and they went on both together.

B Then sayd Isaac vnto his father Abraham: My father. Abraham answered: here I am my sonne. And he sayde: wher is the asse? wher is he? wher is the childe? he answered: Abraham answered: the childe is burnt offeringe: Abraham answered: the sonne/God shal proude hym a shep: for he is offer-ryng. And they went both together.

And when they came to the place / which God shewd hym / Abraham diuided there an altare / and layd the wood vpon it / and banded his sonne Isaac / layd hym vpon the altare/above vpon the wood / and stretchyd ouer his hande / to take his knyfe to haue slayn his sonne.

Then the angell of the Lorde called Abraham vnto hym and sayd: Abraham Abraham. He answered: here am I. He sayd: Lay not thy hande vpon the childe / and do nothinge vnto hym: for now I knowe that thou fearest God / a burnt offeringe thyn onely sonne for my sake. Then Abraham lift vp his eyes/and sawe behinde hym a cal-me / bolden fast by the bouce in the brieres / he went and toke the ramme/and offerd hym for a burnt offeringe / in steade of his sonne.
 And Abraham called the place: the Lorde shall proude. Therefore it is called vnto this daye: vpon the mountayne shal the Lorde proude.

And the angell of the Lorde cryed vnto Abraham from heauen the seconde tyme / sayd: I haue sware by myne owne selfe sayd the Lorde: for so much as thou hast done this / thou shalt not spare thyn onely sonne: I will prosper and multiplye thy seede as the starrs of heauen: and as the sande vpon the seae. And thy seede shal possess the gate of his enemyes: and in thy seide shal be the nacions of the earth be blessed / because thou hast heered vnto my voyce.

So Abraham turned agayne vnto yonge men / they gat them vp / and went together vnto Bercha / and dwelt there.

After these actes it fortuned / that a woman of Mesopotamia / whose name was Rebecca / she bare two childe: the first was called Esau / and the seconde was called Jacob. Esau was called Esau / because he was red as a skarlet: and Jacob was called Jacob / because he was heeled vnto his heele. Esau was called Esau / because he was red as a skarlet:
 and Jacob was called Jacob / because he was heeled vnto his heele. Esau was called Esau / because he was red as a skarlet:
 and Jacob was called Jacob / because he was heeled vnto his heele.

The XXIII Chapter.

B Then the Hebrewes answered Abraham and sayd vnto him: O where do loude / thou get a pittance of God amonge vs: burye thy dead in the best of our spouere / there shal none of vs sayd / that thou shouldest not burye thy dead in his spouere. Then Abra ham stood vp / and thankted the people of the land / mainly the Hebrewes.

Then answered Ephron the Hebrewe vnto Abraham / that the Hebrewes myght heare before all that were out / and in at the ga tes of his citty / and sayd: No my loude / but heare me: So for the selde / and the cause also that is therein / I geue it the: and in the sight of my people I geue it the / to burye thy dead.

Then Abraham thankted the people of the land / and talked with Ephron / that the peo ple of the land myght heare / and sayde: Hea re me that / Because of me the money that I geue the for the selde / and so will I burye my dead there.

C Ephron answered Abraham / and sayde vnto him: Heere is my loude: The fild is worth foure hundred shekes of syluer: but what is that betwixt me and the? Burye thy dead. Abraham bore kend vnto Ephron why he bid him f money / why he bid him sayde / that the Hebrewes myght heare: namely some hundredth shekes of syluer / or a hundreth money / amonge in such matters.

Thus Ephron selde vnto him in the Pub licke / and which heere once before / I haue / euen the selde / and the cause was made sure for Abrahams owne good / with all f ree of his selde / and rounde aboute / in the sight of the Hebrewes / and of all that go out in at the gates of his citty. Then Abraham bur ied Sara his wyfe in the fild called the selde / which heere once before / I haue / that is Abraham fild of Canaan. So the selde of Canaan was made sure of f Hebrewes vnto Abraham / for a possession to burye in.

The XXXIIII Chapter.

S Abraham was old / and well stricken in Age / and the Lorde had blessed him in all thinges. And he sayd vnto his eldest son name of his house / which had f rule of all his goodes: Laye thy hande vnder my the that I maye make the fide are by the Lorde the God of heauen / that thou take no wyse vnto my soune amonge the daughter of the Canaanites / Canaon / whom I loved / but that thou go to my countrey to myne owne kynred / and buye my soune I fice a wyse.

The seruant sayde: Where / and if thy wo man wil not folowe me into this countrey that I thinke / why some age / and into your der lande / were thou camest out of: Abrah sayde vnto him: Beware of that / that thou buye not my sonne thither againe. The Lorde / the God of heauen / which I fice me from my fathers house / f a from the lande of my kynred / and that talked with me / a swore also vnto me / and sayde: Vnto thy selde will I geue this lande: Luce / he shal fide his daunghter before the / that thou mayest buye my sonne a wyse from thence. But if the wo man wil not folowe the / thou art a fild / and of this citty: onely buye not my sonne th ther againe. Thus the seruant layd his han de vnder his master Abrahams the / a swore the same vnto him.

So the seruant toke ten Camels of the camels of his master / and departed / and had with him of all manner of goodes of his ma ster / and gaue him vp / and departed vnto the fopotan / into the citty of Haran. Then let the camels the foun without by fice f ctye / beside a wellle of water in f futenyng / about the citty / that the women vsd to go forth / a to drawe water / and he sayd:

O Lorde / thou God of my master Ab raham / intre me to day / and shewe mercy vnto my master Abraham. Lo / I stand here beside the wellle of water / and in the memo ry of thy name.

Dughters of this cyste will come forth to thame water: Wher if there come a damsel to wash: I saye some haue thy pitcher / a leme drinke / and if she saye drinke / I will geue thy canelo drinke also: That she can be she / whome thou hast persuaded for thy seruant: I saie: and I maye know by the same that thou hast shewed mercy vpon my mistak.

And at euer he had left of speakinge / behold / Rebecca the daughter of Bethuel which was the sonne of Milca / that was the wyfe of Laban: Labans brother / came forth and bare a pitcher vpon her shoulder / a she was a very fayre damsel of face / and yet a virgin / and vnknown of any man: She came vnto the well / and filled her pitch. and came vp agayne: Then saide I seruant to meete her / and sayde: Let me drinke a litle water out of thy pitcher. And she sayde: drinke first.

And hastily let she haue the pitcher in her hand: and gaue him drinke. And when she had geuen him drinke / she sayde: I wil drinke for thy canelo also: till they haue done: y nough. And she made halfe / a pauer out of her pitch into the trough / a ranne agayne so she wille to drinke / and drew for all his canelo.
 The man was ayled at her / a helde his tongue: he knewe whether the Lord had profered his iourney or no.

Now when she canelo had al drinke / he take a golden carrynge of halfe a shele wyghte / and two dyacletres for her hande / weyng ten hyles of golde: a sayde: Whose daughter art thou? she saide: So there cometh for us in thy fathers house to lodge in:
 she sayde vnto him: I am the daughter of Bethuel / the sonne of Milca / whome the bare vnto Laban: And sayde more vnto him: How haue plene of litter a praunder / a rowme ynough to lodge in.

Then the man bowed hym selfe / and thanked the Lord / and sayd: Praise be the Lord: the God of my master: Whose which hath not withhelden his mercy and his truth from my master / for the Lord hath brought me in the waye to my masters brothers house. And she damsel came and tolde all this in his mothers house. And Rebecca had a brother called Laban.

 And Laban came to the man / without by the well side: and that came by the reason that he sawe the carrynges / and the dyac-letres vpon her fyfte co handes / and herde the wordes of Rebecca his sister / that she sayde Thus saie the man vnto me.

And when he came to the man / beholde / he stood by the canelo at the well side. And he sayde: Come with thou blessed of the Lord wher thou standest thou without I haue filled thy house / and made woman for the canelo. So he brought the man into the house: and he unbandd the canelo / a gaue them litter a praunder / and wote to wash his feet / a the mens that were with him / a for me: b. for him.

At which tyme he sayde: I wil not care all I haue first: wille myne carde. They answered: Tell on. He sayde: I am Laban hamo frumum / and the Lord hath prospered my matter: wherby so that he is becomme greace: and by hath geuen him shepe and oxen / siluer and golde / seruantes and many dena / canelo and affo: For a Sara my masters wyfe hath I done my master a sonne in her olde age: vnto him hath he geuen all that he hath.

And my master hath taken an oath of me and sayde: Thou shalt not take a wyfe for my sonne among the daughters of the Cananites / in whose lande I dwell: but go thy waye to my fathers house: a to myne owne kinde: a there take a wyfe for my sonne. But I sayd vnto my master: What / and the woman wil not folowe me: Then sayd he vnto me: The Lord: before whome I walke: shall sende his angel with thee / a prosper thy iourney:
 that thou mayest take a wyfe for my sonne of myne owne kinde / and of my fathers house.
 And so reban ihon counsell to my kinde / if they geue her not vnto thee / thou shalt be charged of myne oath.

So I came this daye vnto the well of water / and sayde: O Lord ihon God of my master Bethuel: if thou hast prospered my iourney: that I goe: Bethuel / I stande here by the well of water: Wher if there cometh a virgin to drinke water / and I saye vnto her: geue me a litle water to drinke out of thy pitcher / and she saye vnto me: Dunt hee / and I wyl drinke water for thy camels also: each fauic be the woman which Lorde hath provided for my maisters fauic.

Now: euec I had spoken out these wordes in my heart / beholde / Kebecca cometh forth with a pitcher vpon her shoulder / and goeth vnto me to the well and draweth.

Then sayde I: giue me drinke. And immediatly she toke the pouer the pitcher from her shoulder / and sayde: drinke / and I wyl giue thy camels drinke also. So I drinke / and she gaue the camels also to drinke. And I asked her / a sayd: Whose daughter art thou?
She answered: I am the daughter of Ba-rachel / some of Labors / whome Iulias bare vnto him. Then layde I the caringe vpon her face / a the bracelet vpon her handes / and bowed my kisse / a thanked the Lorde / and praised the God of my master Abrahā / whiche had bin giue me this way: to take my maisters daughters vnto his fonne.

If ye be they / then shew mecy and saythfulnesse vnto my maister / tell me: If not / yett tell me / what I may tunc me to the right hande or to the left.

Then answered Laban a Baruel / and sayd: This is come of the Lorde / therefore can we saye nothing agaynst it / wher euell not good. There is Kebecca before the eie her / a go thy waye that she maye be thy maisters sonnes wyfe / as the Lord hath sayde.
When Abrahames seruante herd these wordes he bowed him selfe vnto the Lorde / that vpon the earth / a toke four Jewels of silver a golde / and rayment / and gaue them vnto Kebecca. But vnto her brethren / a the mother / she gaue piece. The yd be care a dances / and the men also that were with him / a sared there all might.

¶ But in the morning he arose / a sayd: Let me departe vnto my maister. Hencere behee brother and hee nother sayde: Let the damsell tary with vs at the least ten dayes / and then shall she go. Then sayd he vnto them: he the me not for the Lorde hath pro-pried my iourney: let me go / that I may departe vnto my maister. Then sayde they / let vs call the damsell / a exp: her what she sayeth shee. And they called Kebecca / a sayd vnto hee: Wilt thou go with this man?

And she answered: yea / I wyl go with him. So they let Kebecca theye filler go with her necke / and with Abrahames camels / a in his men. And they blessed Kebecca / and sayd vnto her. Thou art our syster / growe in to many thousande thou shalt be / and thy sibe possesse the gates of his enemyes.

¶ So Kebecca gat her vp with her / a sela / and sat them vpon the camels / a wente they: waye after the man. And the seruante toke Kebecca / and departed.

¶ As for Isaac / he was cominge from the wells of the hymngs a synges / for he dwelt in the south countre / and was gone forth to his meditations in the felde aboute the centred. And he lyst vp his eyes / and saw that there were camels comminge. And Kebecca lift up her eyes / and saw Isaac. Then lighted she of the camell / a sayde vnto the seruante: What man is this / that cometh agaynst vs in the felde? The seruante sayde: He is come to my maister.

Then rose she be the cloke / and put it about her. And the seruante tolde Isaac all the car-rande that he had done. The Isaac brought her in to his mother Saras tent / and toke Kebecca / and she became his wyfe / a he lodged her. So Isaac was comforted ouer his mother.

The XXV. Chapter.

¶ Abraham toke another wyfe called Asura / which bare him 7 Sunnam and Jafan / Medan and Midian / Jethak and Suab / Jafan begat Seba a Odan. The children of Seban were Assium / Larufim / and Lunim. The child of Midian were Epha / Epher / Hanoch / Abida and Shoa.
All these are the children of Ketura.
And Abraham gaue all his goodes vnto Isaac:
and the child that he had of the concubines he gaue them gistes / and camd while he yett liued / he sent the awaye sed his sonne Isaac a camd into the East countre.

¶ This is the age of Abraham / whiche he lyued: euen all his dayes and freue and fenetye care / and sell thy selfe / and thyd in a good age / when he was olde / had heyd strength and was gathered vnto his people. And his sonnes

thing: with Rebecca his wife.

B Then Isaac called to Esau and sayd: Behold / we are thy wyse / why saydest thou from: Thou art my firstborn: Isaac answered him: I thought / I mighte perchaunce haue had this cause of thee. Thimuelch sayd: Why hast thou then denier this vnto mee? I coulde byghtly haue come to passe / that some of the people might haue taken with thy wese / and so haddest thou broughte sinne vpon vs. The Thimuelch commended all the people / and sayd: Who is so rich as this man? hee wese / that hee the wealth.

Gen. 27.

And Isaac went in that Lande / and founde the same place an hundred bushels / for the Lord blessed him. And he became a great man / wroue forth and grew / till he was exceeding great / so that he had many good in thye and great cattle / and a great household. Therefore had the Philistines come at him / and stopped all the wells / that his father seruauntes had digged in the time of Abrahams his father / and felted them with earth. In so much that Isaac said vnto his seruauntes: Depart from vs / for thye cause shall I be smitten: then they departed.

E Then departed Isaac from thence / and pitched his tent in the valley of Gerar / and dwelt there. And when he was asked / he can not digge up the wells againe / that they had digged vpon his fathers Abrahams name / which the Philistines had stoppe after the death of Abrahams: he called them after the same name / as his father had named them withall.

Gen. 27.

Isaacs seruauntes also digged in the valley / and there they founde a well of spring water. But the herdsmen of Gerar strone with Isaacs herdsmen / and sayd: The well is ours. The called be the well / El-ek / because they had done him wronge.

Then digged they another well / a stone for the well / it is the well called be it Sinna. So hee strone from them / and digged another well / for the which they strone not: that well he called it Rehoboth / and sayde: Now hath the Lord made vs room / and we can dwelle in the Lande. Then were they departed thence vnto Beer-saba.

And the Lord appeared vnto him in the same night / and sayd: I am the God of thy father Abraham / peace be thou not / for I am with thee / and I will bless thee / and multiply thee / because thou art my seruant. Rebecca saith: Thus sayd the Lord / and pitched his tent there / and there his seruauntes digged a well.

Gen. 27.

And Thimuelch went vnto him from Gerar / and thus sayd his friend / and blessed his chiefe captiue. But Isaac sayde vnto him: Why thou comest to mee / to see my face? hee saith: I haue not me awaye from you. They sayde we see thy open eyes / that the Lord is with thee / therefore we wised that there shoulde be an oyle betwixt vs / as an oyle that we wolde make a beane with thee / that thou vs no banis / yet we haue no hurt thee / and as we haue done nothing vnto thee / but a good will in thy depart in peace.

Jud. 11.

As for the other the blessed of the Lord. Then Isaac made them a feast / and they departed and dwelt / and on the morowe they arose and strewe one to the other. And Isaac let them go / and they departed from him in peace.

Then came Isaacs seruauntes / and tolde him of the well / that they had digged / and sayde vnto him: We haue founde water. And hee led vs to Beer-saba. Therefore is the crye called Beer-saba vnto this daye.

The XXVII. Chapter.

When Isaac was forty years old / hee toke Rebekah his wife / the daughter of Beery / which the Hebrew / and Bismath the daughter of Elam / & Bethuel both these were his kindred vnto the parents of Isaac and Rebecca.

And he came to passe / that Isaac was eld / his eyes were dimme / of sight / and he called Elzar his greater son / a son vnto him. My son / he answered him: Here am I. And he sayd: Behold / I am old and knowe not what I shall doe. Now thou shalt be greued / thy quier and the borne / and get the south to the selde / and take me some in my son / time hee maye see such as I love / and bringe me here / that I maye cate / that my soule maye be blessed / the before I dye.

Then Rebecca heere these wordes / & Isaac sayde vnto his sonne. And Esau went: his waye into the field: to hunt venyson / and to bringe it home. Then sayde Rebecca vnto Jacob her sounne behold: / I haue herde thy father talking vnto Esau thy brother: a saying: Bring me venyson: a make me meate that I maye eat: and bleesse the before the Lord: for I we. Now therefore my sonne heare my voyce: what I thinke vnto the: Go thy waye to the flock: / a fetch me two good hidden: that I may make meate of them for thy father: such as he loueth: which shall thou bring in vnto thy father: that he maye eat: / that he maye bleesse the before the Lord.

Then Rebecca: / Jacob sayde vnto Rebecca his mother: / I haue / my brother: Esau is rougher: / I am smoother: in: / for my father putteth: / I shall be fitt vnto him: / so though I bringe him: / and to bringe auncle vpon me: / and not a blessing. Then sayde his mother vnto him: / That case do vpon me my sonne: / follow thou my voyce: / for thy waye: / and fetch me. So he went: his waye: / and fetched it: / and brought it vnto his mother.

Then his mother made meate: / according: / to his fathers louing: / and of Esau her first sonne: / slyly laynt: / which she had vnto her in the house: / and put them vpon Jacobs younger sonne. But the hidden: / meate put she about his handes: / and where he was sitting about the table: / and so she put the meate vnto his hand: / so he had made in him his sonne Jacobs hande.

And beholding it vnto his father: / a sayd: My father: / He answered: / Here art I: / who art thou my sonne? / Jacob sayd: / I am Esau thy first borne sonne: / I haue done as thou saydest vnto me: / Thy father vnto care of my venyson: / that thy sonne maye bleesse me. / But Isaac sayd: / vnto his sonne: / My sonne how hast thou found it? / sonne: / He answered: / The Lord thy God brought it to my hande.

Then sayde Isaac vnto Jacob: / come neare my sonne: / that I maye bleesse the: / whether thou be my sonne: / Esau: / or not. / So Jacob went vnto Isaac his father. / And when he had felt him: / the sayde: / The voycers: / I. / he voyce: / but the hande: / as the hande of Esau. / And he knewe him not: / for his handes were rough lyfe as the handes of his brother Esau: / And he bleesse d him.

And he sayd vnto him: / care thou my sonne: / Isaac: / He answered: / yet: / I am thy first borne: / bring me here: / the care of my venyson: / my sonne: / for thy soule maye bleesse the. / Then Isaac brought him: / a he did care: / a he brought downe in my hand: / vnto him: / a he vnto Isaac: / Isaac his father: / he sayd vnto him: / Come nigh: / I will bleesse thy sonne: / So he came nigh: / vnto his father: / good.

Then Isaac went: / fauourer of his blessing: / a bleesse d him: / and sayde: / Blessiden be thou: / of my sonne: / as the smell of the field: / vnto the Lord: / God hab bleesse. / The God greaue of the earth: / and plenteousnesse: / at come and went. / There is: / the tenentes: / a people fall downe at thy feet: / Thy thou lord ouer: / a thy right: / a thy mother: / shall thou: / a thy: / I can be: / he: / a thy: / and bleesse be: / Genc. 27. / a he: / bleesse: / b. r. r.

Now when Isaac had made an ende of blessing: / and Jacob was gone: / a it was his father Isaac: / his brother Esau came from his hunting: / a made meate also: / a brought it vnto his father: / and sayde vnto him: / Bless my father: / a care of thy sonne venyson: / that thy sonne maye bleesse me. / Then answered him Isaac his father: / Who art thou? / he sayd: / I am Esau thy first borne sonne. / Then Isaac: / a care: / a brought about me: / Isaac sayd: / What? / when is the right: / that thou bringest me? / I haue eaten of all affect: / thou camest: / and haue bleesse d him: / And he shall bleesse d still.

When Esau herde these wordes of his father: / he cryed loud: / and was: / according: / sayd vnto his father: / O bleesse me also my father. / But he sayde: / Thy brother came with sacrifice: / and hath eaten thy blessing awaye. / Then sayd he: / He maye well be called Jacob: / for he haue vndermyned me now two times. / My brother hath be a care: / and be: / he: / more: / a he: / be: / a care: / my blessing: / also. / And he sayde: / What thou not kepte our blessing: / Isaac answered: / and sayd vnto him: / I haue made him loue ouer: / a I: / and all his brethren: / haue I made his seruantes. / With come and went: / Isaac: / a pointed him. / What shall I do vnto the my sonne? / B. 27. / Esau

Then Isaac his father answered and sayde vnto him: 1 Be olde / thou shalt haue a fat

G 1 And Esau bare euill will vnto Jacob because of the blessing that his father had blessed him withall / and sayde in his heie: The iane will come thordy / that my father shal moue / for I will say my brother Jacob. I ben was it tolde Rebecca of che: wa-dea of the elden sonne / and she firt and had cal for: Jacob because yongie fouthe / and sayde vnto him: Beholde / thy brother Esau cha-reth f. that he will say f. And now my sonne

The XXVIII Chapter.

Some call for singly
with him.
1 Then called Isaac his sonne Jacob and blessed him / and charged him / and sayde vnto him: Take not a wyfe of the daughteres of Canaan / but get the vp / and go vnto Haran / vnto the house of Be-thuel the moiche father / and take the three daughters of the daughteres of Laban / thy mothers brother. And the daughteres of Laban / and make the seruicfull / and multiplye / (that thou mayest be a multitude of people) and get the blessing of Abraham vnto the end / and thy sbe with the / that thou mayest posssess the lande / wherein thou art a stranger / where God geue vnto Abraham. So Isaac Gen. 28

let Jacob depart that he might go vnto Haran vnto the house of Bethuel of Syria / the brother of Rebecca his wife.

1 Now when Esau sawe that Isaac had blessed Jacob / and let him departe vnto Haran vnto the house of Bethuel / he might take a wyfe there / and it shal be blessed him / he charged him and sayde: Thou shalt not take a wyfe of the daughteres of Canaan / and thou shalt obey thy father and his moiche / and was gone vnto Haran / seeinge that Isaac his father liked not gladly upon the daughteres of Canaan / the wyfe was vnto Esau and he called the name of his wyfe / 1 Mahaly the daughter of Isaac (Abraham's sonne) the sister of Laban / his wyfe.

1 So for Jacob / he departed from Be-shan / and wente vnto Haran / and came to a place where he turned all nyght / for the sunne was vnto him. And he took a stone of the place / and put it vnder his heade / and layd him downe in the same place to sleepe. And he dreamed / and beholde / there stood vpon the earth a ladder / whose top reached vnto the heauen.
And beholde / the angelle of God stode vpon it / and sayde vnto him: The Lord is with thee / and thou shalt be fraged.

1 I am the Lord God of thy father Abraham / and the God of Isaac: the lande of Esau / that thou leyst vpon / will I geue vnto the / to thy sbe: and the sbe shal be as the dust of the earth. And thou shalt speede forth vnto the west / east / north / south: / a thordy / and the sbe shall all the kinredes vpon earth be blessed. And beholde / I am with the / and will kepe the / where so ever thou goest / and will bring the heere agayne vnto this lande: for I will not leaue the / till I haue made good of al that I haue promised the.

1 Now when Jacob awaked from his sleepe he sayde: Surely the Lord is in this place and I knewe it not. And he was afrayd / and sayde: How feaful is this place: there is nothinge els but an house of God / and a gate vnto heauen. And Jacob arose early in the mornynge / and took the stone that he had layd vnto

before th'ys that whate euer is not sponred/and pa' is collected amonge the kiddes/and B. etc. amonge the lambs/let thar be thys wish m.

F Then said Laban: Beholde/kenne be so as thou hast sayd. And th' same daye he sundred om' s' speckled & parne coloured goates/and of s' speckled & parne coloured kiddes/where there were any white upon them/and al that was blacke amonge the lambs/and put them vnder the hande of his children/and made conuente of th' wayes iourney w'ch' serueyde him and Jacob. So Jacob kepte the c' s'one of Labans flocke.

But Jacob toke stances of grent wylle belief/and of heliwartnes/and pulled white fures in th'ir/and layed the stances that he had pulled/in the bawnyng troughes before the flocke/ w'ch' came there to sheepe that they shoulde conueat w'ch' they came to drynke.
So th' flocke conueat ouer the stances/a bawnyng foth speckled/spotted and parne coloured.

G Then Jacob parted the lambs/and put them to the flocke vnto i. s' speckled/and al that was blacke in Labans flocke/that put be vnto to the spotted. And he made him a flocke. whos euery w'ch' he put not vnto Labans flocke.
Therwithes/in th' first bawnyng t'w' of the flocke/ he layed for stances in the bawnyng troughes before the eyes of the flocke/so that they shoulde conueat ouer the stances. But in the latter bawnyng t'w' he layed them nax in. So the latter were Labans/ but the firstlings were Jacobs. Thus the man became exceedingly rich: so that he had many sheeps/ maydens/ and seruantes/ camels and .ss.

The XXXI Chapter.

A Herbe also of the woodes of Labans children/that they said. Jacob had dongh' al one fathers good vnto hymselfe/and of our fathers good hath he gotten these ry-che. And Jacob beheld Labans contentement/a beholde/it was not toward him as yesterdaye and yesterdaye.

ij. b And the Lord sayd vnto him: † Departe agayne to thy fathers lande/and to thy kintred. I will be with the. Then sent Jacob/and had call Rachel/and Lea in the selde to his flockes/and said vnto them: I se your inchers contentment/ that is to saye/ it is not lyke as yesterdaye & yesterdaye/ but the God of my father hath bene with me. And reknow that I haue serued your fathers with all my power.

And he hath deceaued me/and chonged B my wages from an ewe. But God hath not suffred I vnto do me harme. If he sayd: The payre coloured shall be thy reward/then the whole flocke were payre coloured.
If he sayd: The speckled shall be the reward/then the whole flocke were speckled. Thus hath God withheld euery your fathers goodes fr-m' him/and giuen them vnto me. For when he bawnyng was came/ I layd vnto myne eyes and sawe in a dreame/ a beholde the camels lept vpon the flocke/ that was speckled/ spotted/ & payre coloured.

And the aungell of God sa'd vnto me in a dreame: Jacob. And I answered: Here am I. He sayd: strep vnto thine eyes/ a beholde the camels leape vpon the speckled/ spotted/ and parne coloured flockes: I haue sent all that Laban hath vnto the. I am the God at Bethel/ where thou diddest an othe in the well of the stone/and in all a waye there vnto me. ij. b. 17. 18.
Get the vp now/and departe out of this lande/and go agayne into the lande of thy fyned.

Then answered Rachel/ and Lea/ and C sayd vnto hym: Do for vs we haue no power/ nor inheritance: moein our fathers house/and he hath counted vs as strangers/for he hath sold vs/and set vnto our wages.
Therefore hath God withheld euery fathers ryche from hym vnto vs/and oure children.
Wherefore now God hath sayd vnto the that so.

So Jacob gat vp/and set his children and wyfes vpon camels/and cryed a waye of his camels/and all his substance that he had gotten at Mesopotamia/that he might come vnto Isaac his father in the lande of Canaan. Laban was gone to egypte his flock/and Rachel had her father's ydolls. Thus 4. R. 1. 4. c. vnto Jacob fled/ and awaye the beare of Laban the Syrian/ in that he tolde hym not that he fled. So he fled/and all that was his gat vp/ and passed ouer the water/ and come to ij. b. 17. 18.

strayght towards the mount Gilcad.
 Upon the thirde daye it was tolde Laban how Jacob fled. And he take his brethren vnto heyn / and followed after hym sence theyre iourney / and ouertoke him vpon the mount Gilcad. But God came vnto Laban the Syrian a becom by night / and sayd vnto hym: Beware / that thou speake not to Jacob thy god. And Laban awoke nye vnto Jacob.
 As for Jacob / he had pitched his tent vpon the mount. And Laban with his brethren pitched his tent also vpon the same mount Gilcad.

Then sayd Laban vnto Jacob: What hast thou done / that thou hast stolen awaye my beere / and carryed awaye my daughters / as though they had ben taken awaye captiue with the sheard: Wherefore kepst thou that secret: that thou woldest shy / and hast stolen awaye fro me / and toldst my northe / I myght haue sought the on thy waye with myrh / with huggyn / with cawenke / and becke: / and haue not suffred me to kisse my chyldren / and daughters: Thou hast done foolishly / and so muche myghte I haue made / I coulde haue bene foue: but your fathers God said vnto me: Beware / that thou speake nothyng vnto Jacob thy god. And for so muche then as thou woldest in deede departe longe tyme after thy fathers house / why hast thou stolen awaye my goddes?

Jacob answered and sayd vnto Laban:
 I was afrayd that thou shouldst haue taken awaye thy daughters fro me: but I loke by what thou sendst thy goodes / let the same here be fore our witness. Seke that thine is by me / and take it awaye. But he knewe not / that Rachel had stolen them. Then went Laban into Jacobs tent / and into Leas tent / and into the the maydens tent / and founde nothinge: and out of Leas tent he went into Rachels tent. Then toke Rachel the ydolls / a layde the vnder the camels strawe / and set vpon them. But Lehan searched the whole tent / a founde nothinge. Then said she vnto her sister: He not an gny my lord / that I can not iure vnto the: for it cometh with me after the maner of women. So he sought / a founde not theydolls.

And Jacob was wroth / a chyd with Laban / he answered and said vnto hym: What haue I trespassid / or offendid / that thou art so wroth with me: Thou hast searched all my householdes stuffe / and what haue thou soude of thy householdes stuffe / I laye here before my brethren and thine / that they may iudge betwene vs both. Twenty yere haue I ben with thy by / by a go: and haue used ben fructifull / the lambe of thy flocke haue I not eaten. Like what was / come of thy flocke / I thought it not vnto the / I was fayne to paye it my self: thou requestest it as my hande / whereby it were so: as from me by daye: by nyght. On the daye hym the beere consumed me / and the froth on the nyght / and my slepe departed fro mine eye.

Thou haue I serued twenty yere in thy house / fourtene yeres for thy daughters / and sixe for thy flocke / and ten yeres hath thou chaunged my reward / and if God of my sauer / the God of Abraham / a s fear of Isaac had not ben on my syde / thou haddest had me go awaye captiue. But God hath lofed vpon mine aduersitee and laboure / and rebused thy seruys.

Laban answered / a sayd: The daughters are my daughters / and thy chyldren are my chyldren / a the flocke are my flocke / a all thy staffe is mine: What can I do this daye vnto the? my daughters / a thy chyldren / a whome they haue done: Now therefore come on / let vs make a covenante. I a thou: which may be a witness betwene me a the. Then toke Jacob a stone / and set it vp / for a pilere marke stone. a sayd vnto his brethren: What her here.
 And they take the stones / a made an heape: / a theydeare vpon the same heape. And called it the Iegre Sabadubba: that Jacob called it Gilcad: either of them after the proprietie of holynesse.

Then sayd Laban: I theu heare the wyynes betwene me a the this daye: thy flocke is called Gilcad / and a testimony for be sayd: The Lord dole: betwene me a the: whan we are departed the one from the other: I thou / a my daughters / a take either wyse vnto the.
 There is no man with vs: but / God is the witness betwene me and the. And Laban sayd mo: cover vnto Jacob: Behold / this is the heap / a this is the mark stone / then I haue set up / witness me a the the same heape be witness / a the same mark stone also be witnesses / I passe ouer vnto thee / or if thou passe ouer this heape and mark stone vnto me / so do any harme / The God of Abraham / and the God of Laban / and the God of thy father / be iudge betweene vs.

And Jacob swaie vnto hym by the feare of his father Isaac. And Jacob offered an offeringe vpon the mount / and called his brethren to care bread. And when they had eaten they layed vpon the mount all nyght. But vpon the morrow / Laban rose early kysed his chyldren and voughters / a blessed them / and departed / and came agayne onto his place. So for Jacob / he was on his iour-ney / and the angell of God met him. And when he sawe him / he sayde / This Gods booke / a called this same place Mahanaim.

Ch. XX XII. Chapter.

I H Jacob sent messengers before hym to 1714 a Q his brother Esau / into the lande of Ec-17 of the felde of Edom / and commaunded them / and sayd / Say thus vnto my lord Esau / Thy seruants Jacob kndeth the thy wordes / I haue bene with Laban / and haue bene behaue amonge straungers / and haue open / and alle / thape / seruantes / and may-deys / and haue sent south to thewe / a the my lorde / I might synde fauour in thy sight.
 And messengers came agayne vnto Jacob / and sayd / We came onto thy brother Esau / and he cometh south also agaynst be with foure hundred men. Then was Jacob sore aford / and sayd / my lord what wate to turne him selfe / and denyed the people that was with hym / and the shepe / and the oxen / and the camels into two diuers / and sayd / if Esau come vpon the one diuise / and smyte in / the other shall escape.

B Jacob sayd moreover / O God of my fa-1717 a D ther Abiath / God of my father Isaac / Lo-17 of Deuon / thou saydest vnto me / I departe a-gayne to thyne owne laude / and to thy fire reb / and I will do the good / I am so lyke for all the mercie / a al the truch that thou hast shewed vnto thy seruants / for I had no more but this staffe when I wente ouer into Jordan / and now am I become two di-uers.

ues / denyer me from the bande of my brother / from the bande of Esau / for I am afeare of hym / and he came and smyte me / I mourne with the shep / an. Thou saydest I will do the good / and wil make thy side as the sande of the see / which can not be numbered for unnumbre.

And there he layed that nyght / a toke of such as came to hande a pisset onto his brother Esau / two hundred shegoats / and twenty hegoates / two hundred shepe / twenty rannocks / and thyrtye mylkyne camels with theyr foales / fouery hynen bullockes recovery the asses with ten foales / and put the in the bandes of his seruantes / carrye stocke by them selfe / and sayd vnto hym / Go ye south before me / and put a space betwixt one stocke after the other / and commaunded the syrt / and sayd /

When my brother Esau meeth the / and aseth the / whose seruants thou art / a whither goest thou / a whose art thou / thou dygest before / Thou shalt say / Thy be thy seruants Jacob / which sendeth a present vnto to his lorde Esau / and cometh behynde vs him selfe.

Thus commaunded he the seconde also / and the thyrde / and all them that folowed the stockes / and sayd / Lyke as I haue tolde you / so speake ye vnto Esau / when ye mete hym / a say vnto hym also / Behold / I by ser-uants Jacob / a behynde vs / so be thou / I I will reconcile hym with the present / that goeth before me / afterwarde will I se him my selfe / peraduenture he shall receaue me to grace.

Thus went the present before hym / but he stayed in the tent the same nyght / a rose vp in the nyght / a toke his two wyfes / and the two maydeys / and his deuyt sonnes / a went vnto a foote of Iacob / a he the a carryd the ouer the water / so that all that had come ouer / a started bym selfe alone on this side.

Then wretched there a man with bym / all the breake of the daye / and when he sawe that he myght not surcease bym / he touched the fenore of his thye / and the fenore of his thye / thus he in wyllynge met him / and he sayd / Let me go / the daye because I am. But he answered / I will not let thee go.

10. receiue his blessing. He said: What is thy name? He answered: Jacob. He said: Thou shalt no more be called Jacob, for thou hast struic with God and with men, and hast prevailed. And Jacob said: Whence saidst thou that? He answered: I saw God face to face, and my soul was conuincd. And so he came out from Peniel the sunne rose upon him, and he halted upon his thigh. Therefore are the children of Israel called by the name of the thigh unto this day, because the wayne upon the shoulder of Jacob was wounded.

The XXXIII Chapter.

Jacob left up his eyes, and saw his daughter Leah comming with four hundred men, and he bowed his children unto Lea, unto Rachel, and so both the maydens, and set the maydens with their children before, and Lea is her child after, and Rachel with Joseph hindermost. And he went before them, and bowed himself to the grounde seven times, till he came to his brother. But Esau came to meet him, and embraced him, and fell about his necke, and kissed him, and wept, and left up his eyes, and saw the wyfe with the children, and said: What are these with thee? He answered: They are the children, which God hath giuen vnto my seruant. And the maydens came forth with their children, and dyd they obey saunce vnto him.

Rea came forth with her children, and suckled vnto him. Therward came Joseph a Rachel forth, a suckled vnto him likewise. And he said: What meanest thou with all? He said: I meant. He answered: that I ought to haue grace in the sight of my lord. Esau said: I haue enough my brother, kepe thee thou best. Jacob answered: Oh may, that if I haue founde grace in thy sight, I woulde be thy present of my hande. Esau saw the face, as though I had seen the face of God, and be at one with me. Take thy present, good word, that I haue brought thee, for God hath graciouslye. I haue enough of all things, so he expelled him to take it.

And he said: Let vs go on, and take our iourney, I will go in thy company. But he said vnto him: My lord, thou knowest that I haue reide children by me, and small and grea cattell also, which are yett but young, if they should be broken out in one waye, the whole flocke would dye. Let my lord go on before his seruant, I will follow after sayre and softly, thereafter as the cattell and the children can go. He said: I will come in thy company. Esau said: Yett will I leave some of my people with thee. He answered: What neede is it? Let me but only finde grace in the sight of my lord.

So Esau prepared agayne the same day toward Seir, and Jacob took his iourney toward Sudorah, a city in the land of Seir, called Seir.

Afterward came Jacob peaceably into the city of Sichem, which lieth in the land of Canaan, after that he was come againe out of Mesopotamia, a pitched before the city of Hebron, father of Sichem, for an hundred penes. There pitched he his tent, in a thert he set up an altar, and called vpon the name of the myghty God of Israel.

The XXXIII Chapter.

Rea the daughter of Lea, which she bare vnto Jacob, was come into Sichem the daughter of the belande. When Sichem the sonne of Heuie the Heuie, which was lord of the lande, saw her, he cofe her, and laye with her, as a forced her, as his brother had done vnto her, as he layed the daughter, a talked longlye with her, as he spake to his father Heuie. He me this mayden to wyfe.

And Jacob understood, that Dina his daughter was defiled, and his seruice were with the cattell in the felde, and Jacob had his myght, yett they came. Then Heuie went forth vnto Jacob to comen with him. In the meane season came Jacobs seruice from the do, and what they had done, it pleased the men, as they were with, that he had wroughte in the field, and laye with Jacobs daughter, for he was not the wife to do.

Then cometh Heuie with them, and said: My seruice Sichem hath longlye for your daughter. O geue her hym to wyse make fyttyng shipp to waite vpon your doughter to receyue you. Doughters / and dwell to / in the lande / shalbe open vnto your doore / a occupye / and haue your possessions them.

And Sichen sayd vnto her father and Be-sheen: Let me fynde grace wth you: toke what ye appoint me / I wil geue it: requyre the wyse / and gyfte of me hardely / I will geue it exceeding as ye wil say / only geue me the same ill to wyse.

Then Jacob sonne answered Sichei and Bemothis father / a spake deceafully because their syster Lina was defyled / and sayd vnto them: That can we not do / to geue our syster to an vncircumcysed man / for that were a great shame vnto vs.

¶ Their desire we will consent vnto you / if ye will be lye vnto vs / and be circumcysed as many as are males amonge you: then wil we geue you our Doughters / and take your Doughters vnto vs / and dwell wth you / and be one people. But if ye will not herken vnto vs / to be circumcysed / then will we take our Doughter / and go our waye.

These wordes pleased Lina: and his sonne well / and the yonge man referred not to do the same / for he had lust to Jacobs doughter:
and he was holden in housewre about all in his fathers house. Then came Bemoth and Sichen his sonne vnder the gate of the citty / and cōmended wth the cetyens of the citty / and sayde: These men are peaceable wth vs / and dwell in the lande / a occupye knowe the lande / whode of both the sides / we they take theye Doughters vnto vs / and geue them oure Doughters.

¶ But then they consented vnto vs to dwell by vs / and to be one people wth vs / if wee circumsyfe all the men children amonge vs / lyke as theye are circumsyfed: theye canel and gooddes / and all that theye haue / shalbe ours / if we consent vnto them / that theye maye dwell wth vs.

And they herened vnto Bemoth and Sichen them his sonne / as many as went out and lit in the gate of his citty / and circumsyfed all the males / and that went out and in it / is a his citty: And vpon the thyrde daye / when it was paynfull to them / the ray sonnes of Jacob / Simeon / and Levi: Simeon Be-sheen / and Levi / and their brethren went into the citty / and slawe all the males and slaw Lina also / and Sichen he toke wth the edge of the sword / and toke there his syster Lina out of Sichen house / a wente their waye.

¶ Then came Jacob sonne vpon the dead / and spoked the citty / because they had defyled his syster / and toke their shepe / oxen / asses / and what sence was in the citty / and in the lande / and al manner of gooddes: All their chylde / and wryes toke theye captiue / and spoked al that was in the house.

¶ And Jacob saide vnto Simeon / and Le-ui: we haue brought in so to passethat I stinfe before the inhobers of this lode / the Cananites and Pherecians / and I am but a small number: If they gather them selfes now together against me / they shall slaye me / so shall I be destroyed wth my house. But they answered: Should they then deale wth our syster as wth an whore?

The XXXV. Chapter.

¶ And God sayde vnto Jacob: Get the vp / and go vnto Bethel / and dwell there / a make there an altare vnto the God / whode appeared vnto the / when thou stiddest wth thy brother Esau. Then sayd Jacob vnto his hon tholde / and to al that were wth hym: Put asyde from you the strange goddes / that are amonge you / and cleane your selues / and chaunge your clothes / and let vs go vnto Bethel / that I maye there make an altare vnto the God / whode is in the name of my troubles / a haue bene in me in the waye that I haue gone.

¶ Then gaue they hym all the strange goddes that were vnder theye handes / and theye carrynges / and be theye them vnder an Oke / that stode besyde Sychem / and be-spared. And there came a feare of God vpon the citty / that laye rounde aboute / so that theye solowed not after the sonnes of Jacob. So came Jacob vnto Lode of the lande of Canaan / which is called Bethel / and the people ther were wth hym / and there he builded an altare / and called the place Bethel / because the Lorde appeared vnto to him there when he fled from his brother. He dyed in Schusa Rebecca nose: and was buried beneath Bethel under the Oke/ and it was called the Oke of lamentation.

Or. 174. And God appeared agayne vnto Jacob after thei he was come out of Mesopotamia and blessed him and sayde vnto him: Thou art Jacob/ neuertheless thou shalt be called Jacob/ but Israel shall be thy name. And so was he called Israel.

Or. 175. And God sayde vnto him: I am the almighty God/ be fruitful and multiply people/ and a multitude of people shall come of thee/ and thy fringes shall come out of thy loynes/ and the land that I gaue vnto Abraham Isaac/ will I geue vnto thee/ and will geue it vnto thy seed after the. So God departed from him/ from the place where he talked with him. And Jacob set up a pillar of stone in the place where he talked with him/ and poured oyle offeringe thereon/ and poured oyle vpon it. And Jacob called the place where God talked with him Bethel.

Or. 176. And he departed from Bethel/ and when he yet was a feld boode from Ephraim/ he shall manayle/ and the byche came harde vpon her. But when he had such payne in headynge/ he inuoycesayd vnto her: I fear not/ for thou shalt haue this foine also. But as her foine was departing/ he must dye/ he called him Ben On: neuertheless he is safed called hym Ben Iamin.

Or. 177. So Rachel dyed/ and was buried in the waye to ward Ephraim/ it now is called Bethlehem. And Jacob set up a pillar vnto her graue/ there is Rachels graue stone vnto this daye. And Israel departed/ and pushed his iente beyond the river of Iher.

Or. 178. And it chaunced that whē Israel dwelt in that lande of Ruben/ there laye with him a * Bilha his fathers concubine/ a she came to Isacelo carce.

The XXXVII Chapter.

When Jacob dwelt in the lande: wherein his father dwelt: was a straunge: namely in the lande of Canaan. And these are the generacions of Jacob. Joseph was saynyng yeare elde: when he became a hepe of the catt: with his brethren: and the lad was with the children of Bilha and Raipha his fathers wyfes: and tolde theye father of the cull: report that was of them. Joseph loved Joseph more then all his children: because he had begotten hym in his elde age: and he made hym a coate of many coloure.

Now when his brethren sawe that his father loved hym more then all his brethren: they had euill wyl ar hym: and coude not speake a friendly worde vnto hym. Joseph also had once a dreame: and tolde his brethren thereof. The band theye hym the moxe: for he sayde: I heare I praye you what I dreamed. Theye thought we were thynges: because vpon the felde: and my sheue arose: and stode vp: and your sheues rounde aboute made obeysaunce vnto my sheue.

Then sayde his brethren vnto hym: Shalt thou then be our kynge/and haue dominion ouer us. And they heerd hym yett more/ because of his dreame and his wordes. And he had ye another dreame/whiche he tolde his brethren/and sayd: Beholde/ I had yecene drec dreame: We stonde by the Summe/ and y Moune/ and it sturte in dae obeysaunce to me. And when this was tolde his father and his brethren/ his father reposed hym/ and sayde vnto hym: What name of dreame is this/ that thou hast dreamed? Shall I and thy mother and thy brether come and salbe for thee vpon the ground: and his brethren had carye at hym: I But his father marked this sayinge.

Luc. 8. a

¶ Now when his brethren were gone forth to sepe theye sayde cauld in Sidon/ Israell sayde vnto Joseph: Wo nor thy brethren sepe the cartell in Sidon? Come/ I will sende the vnto them. He answered: Here am I. And he sayde: So thy waye/ and loke where thec the well with thy brether a with the cartell/ and bringe me wade agayne how it is. And he smi hym out of y valleye of Ge-bion/ and go vnto Sidon.

i Reg. 18. d

¶ Then a certayne man founde hym/ wanddinge out of his waye in y felde/ which ased him/ a sayde: Whome sekest thou? He answered: I seke my brether: all me I pise y where they sepe shepe. The man sayde they are gone scorn byneste: I hede them saye: Let vs go vnto S. the. Then sloved Joseph vnto his brether/ a founde them at Sorban.

Luc. 13. d

¶ Now when theye were byn asare of asore he came at them/ theye bursted to slaye hym/ a sayde one to another: Lo/ there cometh y trea-ner: come out/ and let vs slaye hym/ and cast hym in a pyre. a saye a myked diuill hath de-uoured hym: then shall it be done/ what his dreame is.

Gen. 34. e

¶ Then Ruben herde y he wolde be de-feined bym out of theye handes/ and sayde: Wo let vs not slaye a feale. Ruben sayde moceuer vnto them: Shed no blude/ but cast hym into this pyre that is in the wyldenesse/and loke ye no hande vpon hym. He wolde haue definded hym out of theye handes/ a he be myght haue bryght hym a gayne vnto his father. ¶

¶ Then Joseph now came to his brethren/theye streped hym out of his coate/ that party coloured coate/ which he had vpon hym/ and toke hym/ and cast him into a pyre. But the same pyre was empise/ and no wate in it/and theye set thyn vnto to cae. In y meane season theye lyste vp theye eyes/ and sawe a copany of Imailes comyng from Gilead/with theye camels/ which bare spece/ of olie/and myrrer/ and were goynge vnto into Egypte.

¶ Then sayde Iuda vnto his brethren: What bedeth it wath we slawe our brother/ and bryde his bloude? Come let vs sell him vnto the Imailes/ ouer hande. Geare wylde vpon pon him: he is our brither/ our fleche and bloude. And theye hecend vnto him.

¶ And as the Imailes marchant men wene by theye viere Joseph out of the py-re/ and sold him vnto y Imailes/ for xxv. s. the schilte pence. I whiche brought hym into Egypte.

¶ Now when Ruben came agayne vnto the y pyre/ a sawe noe Joseph thercin/ he rent his clothes/ a came agayne to his brethren and sayde: The lab is not ynder/ whiche shall I go: Then x. k. the y Joseph came/ a slawe a goat/ and ypped his coate in y floude/ and sent awaye the partic coloured coate/ a canked it to be brought vnto theye father/ a sayde: This haue we founde/ loke whiche it be thy sonnes coate/ or no.

¶ But he knewe it and sayde: It is my son-nes come/ I a myked bestie hath deuoured G. the hims/ a renthunge/ shall hath ranshed Joseph.
And Jacob was byn a pite a part a facte deth chaunge his loynde/ a mented for his soune a longe season. And all his forme a boughter came vnto him to confesse him/ but he wold not be confesse: so/ a sayde: Why soue we wyl I go vnto into the grave vnto mye soue. And his father wepte for him: But the Imailes of the sold he vnto y Egypte vnto P. of raue thec mar hall.

The XXXVIII Chapter.

¶ It fortuned at the same tyme/ that Iuda a wyere vnto from his brithren/ and gaz hym to a man called L. of y of y d. of y there. And Iuda was a man a boughter of Canaan a called Sina/ and toke her. And when he had byn with her/ she conceiued/ and bare a sonne.

sonne/whome she called Le.

And she conceived agayne / and bare a sonne/whome she called Onan / She proce-deth yet further / & bare a sonne / whome she called Sela. And when she had borne hym/she left of bearing.

And Juda gaue his first sonne Le a wife/whos name was Thamar. But he was woeked before the Lorde / therefore the Lorde slew hym. Then saide Juda vnto his sonne Onan: Go he with thy sisters wyfe / and marge thy selfe with her / that thou mayest bear vnto thy brother. But he refused to do this. And she thought vnto her selfe how she might begette a sonne vnto her brother. And when she sawe that he refused to do this / she laye with her brotheres wyfe / but she kept her selfe concealed. And when she sawe that she was not gette a sonne vnto her brother
yet / she laye with her brotheres wyfe / as she had done before. And when she was gette a sonne vnto her brother
yet / she laye with her brotheres wyfe /
as she had done before.

Then saide Iudas vnto Thamar his sonnes wyfe: Kenisee a wydow in thy fathers house / till my sonne Sela be growen: for he thought not aduysura be myghte thy also lyfe as his brethren. So Thamar was concealed. And when she sawe that she was not gette a sonne vnto her brother
yet / she laye with her brotheres wyfe /
as she had done before. And when she was gette a sonne vnto her brother
yet / she laye with her brotheres wyfe /
as she had done before.

Then was it tolde Thamar: Beholde / thy father is wroth wth thee / for thou hast committed adultery vnto me / and thou art wroth wth me. But she answered and sayde: How can I be wroth wth thee
if it be as thou sayest? For I was wroth wth my selfe. And she sayde: How can I be wroth wth thee if it be as thou sayest?
For I was wroth wth my selfe. And she sayde: How can I be wroth wth thee
if it be as thou sayest? For I was wroth wth my selfe.

Now when Juda sawe her / he thought it had bene an whore / for she had covered her face: and he gat him to her in the waye / and sayde: I praye thee let me see with thee / for he sawe not that it was his daughter in lawe.
She answered: What wilt thou geue me / that thou mayest see with me? He sayde: I will geue thee a kynde from the sheepe. She answered: Geue me a pledge then till thou sende it me. He sayde: What pledge wilt thou take? She answered: I will geue thee my seal and my eare ring. He sayde: Geue them. She took them. And he sayde: I will geue thee the kynde. And he geue her the kynde. And she sayde: I will geue thee the kynde. And she geue him the kynde. And he sayde: I will geue thee the kynde. And he geue her the kynde. And she sayde: I will geue thee the kynde. And she geue him the kynde.

She answered: Thy signe / and thy staffe / that thou hast in thy hande.
Then he gaue it her / and laye with her / and she was with chylde of hym. And she gaue birth vnto three chyldren. And she said: How can I be wroth wth thee
if it be as thou sayest? For I was wroth wth my selfe.

Juda sent the chyldre by his sheperde of Odella / to sende the pledge agayne from the woman / and he founde her not.
Then he sought for her / and founde her in the waye / and she sayde: I have been wroth wth thee / for I was not geue thee a sonne. And she sayde: How can I be wroth wth thee
if it be as thou sayest? For I was wroth wth my selfe.

Howe the more it was tolde Juda: Thamar thy daughter in lawe hath played the whore / and sheholde / by whom do I am I wroth chylde. And she sayde: How can I be wroth wth thee
if it be as thou sayest? For I was wroth wth my selfe.

When the more it was tolde Juda: Thamar thy daughter in lawe hath
played the whore / and sheholde / by whom do I am I wroth chylde. And she sayde: How can I be wroth wth thee
if it be as thou sayest? For I was wroth wth my selfe.

The XXXIX Chapter.

Joseph was broughte borne into Egypte / and Donphan an Egyptian / Dariusus the kinge of Persia / broughte hym from the kinge of Persia / and he was with Joseph / in so much that

that he became a licty man/and was in hys master the Egypcians house. And his master saith of the Lord was with him: for what soeuer he sayd the Lord made it to prosper in his hands: so he soude fauour in his masters sight/and was his seruants. He made him eiler of his house/and put of that he had vnder his hande. And from the ynter feere that he had made him eiler of his house/and all his goodes/ the Lord blessed the Egyptians house for Josephs sake / and there was nothinge but the very blessing of the Lord/in all that he had in the house/and in the felde therfore left he all that he had in Josephs hande. And in edel with nothinge hym selfe/saith only the heade that he sayd etc. And Joseph was sayre of seruaice/ and wel fauoured of eace.

B And thus fortunad after these actes / that his masters wyfe cast her eyes vpon Joseph/ and sayd: Shew with me. But he denyed/ and sayde vnto her: Echold/ my master knoweth all that he had in the house/ and all that he hath / that he hath put vnder my hande. And there is no in me greater in his house/ and he hath kept nothinge from me / except the: for thou art his wyfe. Now thou shalt se then do so greace euell/and smite agaynst God: But she spake such wordes vnto Joseph sayis. Viewers helpe the here/ and not vnto hee/ to slepe by her/ to be in her company.

C In the next vpp a nme / that Joseph wete into his house to do his busynesse / where were none of the folks of the house therby. And she caught hym by his garment/ and sayd: Slepe with me. But he left his garment in her hande / and fled/ and get hym out of the house.

Now when she sawe that he had left his garment in her hande/ and fled oute/ she called the folks in the house/ and sayde vnto them: Lo/ he hath brought vnto us the Hebrie/to do so shame/ for he came in here vnto me / to slepe by me: but I cryed vnto a loude voyce.
 And what he herd that I made a noyse/ and cryed/ he left his garment here by me / a fled/and ranne one.

D And the layd vpp his garment by fire/ till his master came home/ and tolde hym then thine was a deede/ and thred the Hebrie for a nauir / where thou broughtest here vnto me/ came in here to me / for to do me shame.

 But when I made a noyse/ and cryd / he left his garment here by me/ and fled oute.
 When his master herde the wordes of his wyfe/ which she tolde hym/ and sayde: Thus hath the Hebrie seruants done vnto me / he was very wroth.

F Then his master toke hym/ and put him in prison/ where the Kinges prisoners laye. Psal. 14 And there he laye in prison. But the Lord was with him/ and had mercy vpon hym/ and caused hym to finde fauour in the sight of the officer of the prison/ so that he commyde all the prisoners of the prison vnto his hande:
 that whatsoeuer was vnto / myght be done by hym. For the officer of the prison saith: that the Lord was with hym in all that he doo vnder his hande/ and that he re-poynde he sayd/ the Lord made it to come prosperously to pass.

The XL Chapter.

A And thus fortunad after this that the King of Egypcia chief Butler / and the chief Baker/offianded theyr lordes the King of Egypcia.
 And Pharaon was an gry with them/ and caused them to be put in prison in the chief ma-shals house / where Joseph laye prisoner. And the chief marshall put Joseph vnto them/that he myght seruet hem. And so they were in prison for a season.

And they dreamed/ both the Butler and the Baker in one night/ every man his owne dreame/and euery dreame had his interpretation.
 Now in the morning when Joseph came in vnto them/ and saith that they looked sadly / he aise them/ and sayd: Why loke ye so sadly reparet? They answered: We haue dreamed/and haue no man to delecten vnto vs. Joseph sayd: Interpretynge the longest vnto God/ but tell me yet.

Then the chief Butler tolde Joseph his dreame/ and sayde vnto him: I dreamed that there was a vyne before me / which had thre branches: and the budes / greene/ and bare blossoms/ in the grapes / there were ripe. And I had Pharaon caught in my hande / a roset of three / and I was nigh to cutt in to three / a gaue Pharaon the cuppe in his hande.

Joseph sayde: This is the interpretation tifie Pharao of me; that he maye ſeinge me out of the houſe; / I was cruelly caried out of the lande of Egipt; / and here alſo have I done nothing; / ſo they ſhoulde have put me in this ſervitude.

E When the cheefe baker ſaw; / that his interpretation was good; / he ſaide unto Joſeph; I dreamed / ſo I have the wyfe bakennes upon my head; and in the uppermoſt baketee all maner of bakennes for Pharao; / a the ſcoler did care out of the baket upon my head.

Joſeph answered and ſaide; This is the interpretation: The three bakennes are three dayes; / aftee the dayes ſhall Pharao take ſeand hang; the upon the galowe; and ſe ſcoler ſhall care the ſe; the fronte of the.

And upon the thide daye it came to paſſe; that Pharao made his ſervantes; / a toke the cheefe butler; and the cheefe baker before all his ſer-vantes; and reſtorid the cheefe baker to his butlerſhippe agayne; / ſo that he reached the cups in to Pharaos hande. As for the cheefe baker; he cauſid him be hangid like; ſo Joſeph had interpreted unto him; / ſo he beſe; the cheefe butler thoughte not on Joſeph; but

Ch. XLII. Chapter.

Z After ſixte yeres Pharao had a dream wherein the; ſode by a water ſide; a; behold; / out of the water there came ſixe goodly ſyne; and ſuffiſible; and wente ſedange in the meadow. After theſe he ſaw other ſeven ſyne come out of the water; which were all well favoured; and leane ſheſed; and wente by the ſyne upon the water ſide; and the well favoured leane ſyne did care up the ſe goodly; / and ſaw ſyne; Then Pharao awaked.

And he ſlepte agayne; and dreamed the ſeconde time. And he ſaw; that ſeven eeres of corne grew upon one ſtalle; / ſul and good.
After wards he ſaw ſeven thim; and blaſſed eeres come up; and ſeven thynne eeres be-noured; / ſe ſyne; and full eeres. The Pharao awaked; and ſaw; ſo it was a dream.

And when it was daye; / ſe ſe; was troubled; and he ſent out; and cauſed to call all the ſophyeres in Egipte; and all the wyſe men; and toke them his dream. But there was none; that coulde tell Pharao the interpreta-cion of it.

Then ſpoke the cheefe butler unto Pharao; ſide; The ſe daye; I remembre my ſe.
When Pharao was angry with his ſervantes; and put me in priſon; / the cheefe baker; in ſe cheefe maſter; houſe; / ſe dreamed here in one nyght; eury man his dream; / havinge his owne interpretation. Then was there with vs a yonge man; / an Hebrue; / the cheefe butlers ſervant; / unto whom we tolde it; / and he declared unto vs; / ſe dreamed unto vs; / unto eury man; according to what he dreamt.
And as he declared it unto vs; / ſo came it to paſſe. For I was reſtorid unto mye office; and he was hangid.

Then Pharao ſent and called for Joſeph; a they let him out of the ſervitude. And he ke-t himſelfe be ſhemen; / a chaungid his clothes; / a came agayne to Pharao. Then ſaide Pharao to him; I have dreamed a dream; / and there is none; that can interpret it. But I have be-told thee; / when thou heareſt a dream; / thou declareſt it. Joſeph answered Pharao; and ſayde; God ſhall give Pharao a perfectious anſwer; / ſe; / and without me.

Pharao ſayde unto Joſeph; I dreamed; seven thirte cyces beuoued the seven good cyces. And I haue thered it into my fortye cyces: for they can tell me nothing thereof.

Joseph answered Pharaos: Both Pharaos beuon are one. God sheweth Pharaos what he wyl do. The seven good fyne are seuen yeares: in the first good cyces are feur yeares also: in the thirte beuon. The seven leane / a myll fauoured fyne: the come up after them / are feur yeares. And the seven thirte and blessed cyces / whiche seven yeares of verth. This is nam the byng: which I told Pharaos / that God shewd Pharaos what he wyl do.

Beholde / these shall come seven yeares with great plentyfesse in the whole lande of Egypte: after the same thre shall come seven yeares of verth: so that all this plentyfesse shalbe for gotten in the lande of Egypte: and the verth shall consume the lande: so that the plentyfesse shal not be perceaued in the lande: because of the verth that cometh therof: for it shalbe very greete. Where as Pharaos beuoned the seconde name signifieth / that this thinge is surely prepared of God: and that God wyl thourge byng the same to passe.

Pharaos nowe prayde for a man of vnderstandyng and wysdom: whome he maie set ouer the lande of Egypte: and set ouer he wold offer to the lande: and take the fifth partie of the lande of Egypte in the seven plentyfesse yeares: and gather all the foode that shal come of the plentyfesse yeares: that they may laye up come vnder Pharaos power / for reseruance in the cyces / and kepe it that there maye be foode founde / prepared for the lande in the seven beare yeares: which shall come upon the lande of Egypte: that the lande be not destroyed by homer. The sayng pleasid Pharaos well: and all his seruantes. And Pharaos sayde vnto his seruantes: How maye we finde such a man / in whome is the spere of God? And sayde vnto Joseph: So: so much as God hath shewed the a thinge: there is none of such vnderstandyng / and wysdom as thou.

Then shal be ouer my house / and cept myne cordyng: vnto thy roothe shall all my people obey: onely in the fynges sake wyl I be more then thou. And he sayde: Behold / I haue set the ouer the whole lande of Egypte. And he toke of his ring: from his hande: and gaue it Joseph in his hande: and clothed hym with whyte sylke: a dyd byng a dicene of golde aboute his necke: / and made hym ryde vpon the seconde charret: and comid it to be pacymied before hym / that myn should be thourber hies vnto him: as to him: whome Pharaos had set ouer the whole lande of Egypte.

And Pharaos sayde vnto Joseph: I am Pharaos: without thy wyl: what man maie be his hande: or his foer in all the lande of Egypte: And he called hym / Saphnath Dara: and gaue hym a wyf / ceter Amath the daughter of Potyphar / the priest of On. So Joseph went out: for to ryde / the lande of Egypte: And he was thirte yeares old: when he seide before Pharaos. And he departed thynge from Pharaos: and thence he woe all the lande of Egypte.

And the lande dyd so: those seven plentyfesse yeares: and they gathered all the foode of the seven yeares that were in the lande of Egypte: and laded it in fyne. Loke what foode grewe in fyne rounde aboute euery cyte: they put it therein. So Joseph layed up fyne in store: and that much aboute inuente / in the lande of Egypte: so much that he lefte of inuentyng of it: so: it could not be numbre.

And vnto Joseph there were borne two sonnes: before the verth came: whome Amath the daughter of Potyphar: priest of On bare vnto hym. And the first called he Manasse: for God sayde he: herf caused me to forgett all my labour: / and all my fathers house. The seconde called he Ephraim: for God sayde he: herf caused me to growe in the lande of my trouble.

Nowe when the seven plentyfesse yeares were ended in Egypte: Then beganne the seven beare yeares to come: wherof Joseph had sayde. And there was verth in all lande: but in all the lande of Egypte there was foode: there when the lande of Egypte beganne to suffre hunger: also of the people cryed vnto Pharaos for bread. Duc Pharaos said vnto all the Egyptians: Wo vnto Joseph: herf be sayng vnto you: what do. So when there Saphnath Dara: a wyf: ceter Amath the daughter of Potyphar: the priest of On. So to saye: the lande of Egypte: when he seide before Pharaos: and he departed thynge from Pharaos: and thence he woe all the lande of Egypte: those seven plentyfesse yeares: and they gathered all the foode of the seven yeares that were in the lande of Egypte: and laded it in fyne. Loke what foode grewe in fyne rounde aboute euery cyte: they put it therein. So Joseph layed up fyne in store: and that much aboute inuente / in the lande of Egypte: so much that he lefte of inuentyng of it: so: it could not be numbre.

was death in all the land Joseph opened and that was by him / and sold into the Egyptian. Thus the earth was laid in the land / and all continued came to Egypt to buy Joseph: for the death was nigh by in all land.

The XLII. Chapter.

When Jacob saw that there was much corn in Egypt he said unto his servants: Whylaye ye? Behold I see that there is much corn in Egypt go you and buy us corn / that we may live / and not dye. So Joseph went in the first time to buy corn in Egypt. So for Benjamin / Josephs brother / Jacob would not let him go with his brethren / for he said: Some misfortune may happen unto him. So the children of Israel came to buy corn among other that came with them / for there was corn also in the land of Canaan. But Joseph was governor in the land / sold corn unto all the people of the land.

Now when his brethren came to him / they fell down to the ground before him upon their faces / and he saw them / a knew them / and held himself strange towards them / and talked roughly with them / a said unto them: Whence come ye? They sayd: Out of the land of Canaan to buy corn. Then he said: though he knewe they were his brethren / and Joseph thought upon the dream / a he had dreamed of the / and said unto them: Ye are spies / and are come to see where the land is open.

B They answered him: No my lord / thy servants are come to thy wayle: we are aboute maner since we are distressed / a thy servants were never spies: He said unto the: Nay ye are come to see where the land is open. They answered him: We thy servants are twelve brethren / the sonne of one man in the land of Canaan / the youngest with our father / so one he is a wayle.

Joseph said unto them: Thus is that I said unto you / ye are ye: Here by will I prove you: By the life of Pharaoh ye shall not get bread / excepte you youngest brother come herewith. Sende away one of you to sende your brother: thus ye shall be proven. Thus will I prove you: whither ye go aboute the trough or not: for so by the life of Pharaoh ye are proven. And he put the together in the dayes long.

Upon the third day he said unto the: Ye will see the death of the 3 year: God: If ye be distressed / let one of your brethren be bounde in your prison / that you maye buye / a come home the necessarye food: a him get me your youngest brother / so will I beleve your words / if ye shall not see a so they sayd.

And they said one to another: This have we desired against our brother / in that we sawe the anguish of his soule / when he was sought for us: and we would not heare him: therefore cometh now this trouble upon vs. And he answered the: a said: Told I not you the same? why I said: I should not against the / but ye would not heare: Now his blood required.

But they knewe not that Joseph understood it / for he spake unto them by an interpreter: a he was wiled him from them / and wepte. Now when he had wiled him to them againe / and talked with them / he sete Simeon among the / and bounde him before their eyes / and commanded to sell their sack with corn / and to put every mans money in his sack / and to give way one his expenses by the waye. And so was it done unto them.

And they labored their come upon their asses / and departed thence. But as one opened his sack to give his asse / founde in it / and he spied his money in his sack / and said unto his brethren: My money is restored my againe / for it is in my sack. Then their hearts failed them / and they were affrayed among themselves / and said: Wherefore hath God punished vs. Now when they came home: to Jacob their father / in the land of Canaan / they told him all that happened unto them / a said: The man that is lord of the land / spake roughly unto us / and take us for spies of the country: And when we answered: we are distressed / and wepe: yet they spake / but are twelfe brethren / the sonne of one father / one is awaye / a the youngest as yet this have with our father in the land of Canaan. He said: Whereby will I make that ye are distressed? Let one of your brethren with us / and take some necessary for your horses/and go your way/ as theyng: youe you selfe brother wnto me: so shal I knowe that ye are no spyce/ but vnfained: it then shall I behyve you your brother alwaies: yee maye receyve in the lande.

¶ And whan they opened theyr sackes / every man founde his bondell of monye in his sacke. And when they and theyr father sawe / that it was the bondell of theyr money / they were afrayd.

¶ Then saide Jacob theyr father: Ye have robbed me of my children: Joseph is avayre / Simeon is avayre / and ye will take Ben Jamin away: I will geve allower me. Koble answered his father / and saide: If I bringe him not to thee / I geve thee my two sonnes: helme him into my hande: I will bringe him againe unto thee. He saide: my sonne shal not go downe to you / for his brother is dead / a be lo lesi alone. If any misfortune should happen unto him by the way that ye go / ye should bringe my gray here with youe downe into the streete.

The XLIIII Chapter.

¶ WHEN the heath oppressed the lande. And when al the egyptes that they had brought out of Egipte were spent / Jacob theyr father sayde unto them: Go agayne/and die as a lytle doade.

¶ Then Jinda answered hym / and sayde: The man streere unto us / and sayd ye shal not feare: my sackes/except your brother be with you. If so be now that you wylt sende our brother with us / we wylt go downe / and bye the soode. But if they wylt not sende hym / we wylt not go downe. For this man sayde unto us: Ye shal not feare: except your brother be with you.

¶ Israell sayde: Wherefore have ye done this till unto me to tell the man that ye had yet a brother. They answered: The man enquired so steaytly of us / and of our breder / and sayde: Is your father yet a live? Have ye yet a brother? Then tolde we hym / as he ased us. How could we knowe / what he wolde saye things from his brother downe with you? Then sayd Jinda unto Israell his father: Let the lad go with me / that we maye get us up / and take ourt youe / and live / and not dye / for

Gen. xliiii. c we and you / and our children. I will be surety for: hem / of my handes shal thou requyre him. If I bringe him not unto thee againe / and set him before thine eyes / I will beare the blame my life longe. For: if we had not made this swarege / we had now ben come againe waye.

¶ Then saide Israell theyr father unto them: I will nedre die for this: for the spirite of the best frende of the lande in your sackes / and bringe I knowe a present: a curish blame / and honey / and spycos / and myrrer / and Bares / a lemondoo. Take other monye with you also / a the monye that was broughte againe in your sacke / and buye / or buye it againe with you / presentment: it was an ontsight. And take your brother / get you up / a geve againe unto your man. The almyghty God geve you mercy in the sight of the man / that he maye let you have your other brother / a Ben Jamin. This for me / I will be as one / that is robbed of his children.

¶ So they toke the presents / and other monye with them / and Ben Jamin gaue hym / up / a wrente unto Egipte / and stode before Joseph. Then Joseph behelde them with Ben Jamin / and sayd unto the eule of his house: Bringe these men / a I have / and make ready / for they shal dine with me at noone. And when it was done / Joseph had hym / and broughte the men into Josephs house.

¶ Whan they were broughte into Josephs house / they were afrayd / and saide: We are dicte / digghte here / because of the man / except that came againe in our sackes / as I saye / so give a quarrell with us / and so laye some thyng to our charge / and so take us for bonde servants with our selfes.

¶ Therefore came they to the man / that was ruler of Josephs house / a talkte with hym / as the vice / a Lyden: Syr / I we came downe at first to bye soode / a whan we came in / a myne / Gen 31 and opened our sackes / a beholde / every manys money was in his sackes / with the full weight: therefore have we broughte it with us againe / and have broughte other money to us also / to bye soode: but we can not tell / a who put our money in our sackes.

¶ He sayde he contents / feare ye not / your God / a whan I God of your father / hath geuen you this measure in your sackes / I had your your money. And he brought forth Simeon unto them/and led them into Josephs house/in a gaue them water to wash theyr face/and gaue theyr asses pionsder.

¶ And they made ready & present/agaynst Joseph came at noone: for they heide & they shoud byn there. Now when Joseph went into & house/they brought him home the presents that they had/a sel Simeon to the grounde besow him. Suche welcome d ite curiously/a sayd: is your father / & y olde man which ye told me of/An good health: To be yei alyue They answered: Thy seruants our fathers is in good health/ and yet alyue. And they bowed theyr selves/ and fell downe before him.

ken. xij. ¶ And he liff vp his eyes/a sate his brother Beniamin/whom he sawe some/and sayd: To the your youngest brother ahas ye told me of?

¶ And he sayd moicence: God be mercifull vnto the any sonne. And Joseph made buss/ for y ground of his herie was fadded toward his brother. And so he bowe he might wepe/a went into his chamber/and wepte there.

¶ And when he had wepted his face/ he wep out and restered him selfe/a sayde: set bread on the table. And they broughte vnto him by him selfe/a vnto them by them selfe/and so the Egyptians/also that theyd care vnto them/by them selfe. For the Egyptians bare not care bread vnto the Hebrewes/that is abhominacion vnto them. And they were fer eurr agaynst him/the first daye/accordinge to his suff burth/and the yongest after his yomb. They maneyle at it amonge the mistres/a there were broughte them syndu meate from his table. But But Jamnus part was synd memeate than the othre. And they thowke/a were noy with him.

¶ Etc. XLIIII. Chapen.

¶ And Joseph commaunded the ruler of his house/a sayd: fill the mase sackes with foode/a so much as they maye carry/and put my silver in the sacke mouth of y yongest/with the money for the masele. Et theyd as Joseph had sayd: And on the mo:ore when it was day/they let the men go with theyr asse.

¶ But when they were out of the eyre/a noi-sonic farr/ Joseph sayde to the ruler of his house: Vp/and followe after the men/ & when thou overtakest them/say vnto them: Wherefore haue ye remardd euil for good? So no that is that my lorde. Answered om: & the priefterich wep all: It is our euil dene of you/that ye haue done.

¶ And what he had overtakeen them/he sayd the same word to vnto them. They answered him: Wherefore sayest my lorde: siche word God forbid/that thy seruantes shoud be a my siche thinge? Behold/ be money that we founde in our sackes mouth/a that brought us vnto y agayn/ out of the lade of Canaan: how shoud we then haue stolen syther syluer or golde/ out of thy lorde house? Let by whom it shalbe founde a monye thy seruants welede him: we receiue it also: we will be my lo-rdes bondmen. Et sayd: let it be founde in y pouch spoken. Lefe by whom it shalbe founde/ set him by my seruants/ but ye shalbe haimlesse.

¶ And they made buss/ and wote theyr men younge his sacke to the grounde/ a every man opened his sacke: And he searched a baggane at the greatest into the yongest/ and y cuppe was founde in Ben Jamnus sacke. Then reue they theyr clothes/ a every man theyd late the burthen vpon his asse/ a wente againe vnto the eyre/ And Juda went with his bichen vnto Josephs house/ for he was there yet/ and they sel before him vnto the gaunde. Joseph sayd vnto them: What manner of thid is this/that ye haue done? Answered ye not/ a the man as Jamnean prophete?

¶ Juda sayde: What shall we say vnto my Lorde/ or how shal we speake/ and what excuse shal we make: God hath founde out the treu-feden of thy seruantes. Behold/ we a be/by whom the cuppe is founde/ are my lordes seruantes. But he sayde: God forbid that I shoud be so. The man by whom the cuppe is founde/ shalbe my seruant/ but go ye vp in peace vnto your father.

¶ Then spake Juda vnto him/and sayd: My lord: let thy seruants speake om word in this case/ my lorde/ be not displeasid at thy ser-uants also/ for thou art cun as Pharaon. My lord: god his seruantes and sayde: Saw ye yet a father or brother? Then answered me: We haue a father/ which is olde/ and a yonge led bygesten in his age/ and his brother is seed/ and he is left alone of his mother/ and his sister Joseph him:

Then Joseph saith: Bunge him home vnto me/ and I will see him: But yet answered me my lord: The lad can not come from his father/ if he shoulde come from him/ he were but a dead man: Then saydest thou vnto thy seruaunts: Gen. xliij. a If your yongest brother come not byther wth you/ ye shall see me face nouise.

Then went we vp vnto thy seruaut my father/ and told him my lordes wordes: Then sayde our father: Wh^o your waye agayne/ a bye vs a litle food: But we sayde: We can not go home/ excepte oure yongest brother be with vs/ then will we go home: for we warr not safe the man in the face/ if our yongest brother be not with vs. Then sayd thy seruaut my father vnto vs: Ye knowe I my wife bare me two synnes/ one went out wth my wife: Gen. xxxv. f nic/ I sayd: These synnes p^{er}ce. If ye take thro fro me also/ and any misfortune happen

Gen. xli. c him/ then shall ye bunge my graye h^{er} with some vnto the graue.

E If I now come home vnto my father/ a the lad be not with me/ I charge his soule hauing by the soule of this: then shall he come to pass/ but if he be not the lad ther^e be shall die.

So thal we / thy seruants bunge thy gray beo of thy seruants our father / with some Gen. xliij. b home to thy graue: For I thy seruants be come surety for the lad vnto my father / and sayd: if I bunge him nor agayne/ I will beare the blame of my hys leed. Therefore let thy seruants bide here in stead of I lad/ so by my lordes hande man/ let the lad go vp to his brethren: for how can I go vp vnto my father/ if the lad be not with me: Then shoulde I see misery that shoulde happen vnto my father. The. XLV. Chapter.

A Then could not Joseph refrayne him self before all them that stode about him: and he commaunded every man to go of from him / and there stode no man by him / when Joseph vntred him selfe vnto his brethren: And he wept loudlye: so that the Egyptians a Pharaos hau^t hold herde it. And he sayd vnto his brethren: I I am Joseph / is my father yet aliue? And his brethren could not answer him / when they were so abashed by his face: But he sayd: Come nyx vnto me: And they came nye: And he sayd: I am Joseph your brother: Ge. xliij. a where ye sold me to Egypt. And now woe not your selfe/ a thinke we that there is no my weath / because ye sold me my brother: for God sent me hither before you for your leues sake: for these are now two yeaues / that the earth hath bene in the lande: and there are yet fyue yeaues behynde/ where in there shal be no plowinge/ nor barnes.

But God sent my brother before you / that he might let you remaigne upon earth / and to save your lyues / by a great deliuerance. And now it was not yet / when that sent me my brother / but god / which hath made me a father vnto Pharaos / and lord ouer all his house / and a prince in the whole lande of Egypt: Pass you therefore / and go vp vnto my father / a say vnto him: Thy sonne Joseph sendeth this word to you: God hath made me lord in all Egypt: come home vnto me / and not / don shall dwell in the lande of Gosen / and be with me: thou and thy children / and by thy childrens children / thy final and great cary / a all that thou hast: There wyl I make penyion for the / so there are yet four yeaues of dearth / that thou prythe not wth thyne house / and all that is thynne: Be holde your eyes / and the eyes of my brother Ben Jamin / se that I myne owne selfe speak vnto you by mouth: Where my father all my wayshipp in Egypt / a all that ye haue sene / shall you / and came home: he ether wth my father.

And he fell about his brother Ben Jamin necke / a wept / and Ben Jamin wept vpon his necke also: And he kisse all his brethren / and wept vpon them: And after that called his brethren with him: And thus yndynges came vnto Pharaos house: Joseph brought them / and came / which pleased Pharaos wth all his seruants.

And Pharaos spake vnto Joseph: Saye vnto thy brethren: Wh^o the lordes your bestes / go your waye / and when ye come into the land of Canaan / take your father a yourne house hold / a come vnto me / I will graue you of the goodds in the lande of Egypt / so that ye shall eat the same in the lande: And he commaunded them: So they take you chariotes out of the lande of Egypt: for your chariots / a waye / and bunge your father / and com / and regard gard not your house hold suffer for the good of all the land of Egypte shall be you o.

S The children of Israel did so: and Joseph gave them charities / according to Pharaos commandment / as they say by the way / and gave the alms to every one a change of sayment: but unto Ben Jamin he gave the hundred silver pens / a fine change of sayment. So for his father the four hundred laden with good beasts of Egypte / a tenth with corn / a head / and waggons for his father by the way. So he sent away his brethren / as they said unto him: Let mine not be the worse.

E Thus they departed out of Egypte / & came to the land of Canaan / unto Jacob their father / and tolde him / and sayde: By some Joseph to yet alive / and is a lord in all the land of Egypte. But he here weened / for he be leand them thus. Then tolde they him all the words of Joseph / which he had sayd unto them. And when he sawe the charities that Joseph had sent to sende him / his spirit came in / as he sayd: I have strength / that my sonne Joseph shal yet alive / I will go / and he him be fore / I saye.

The XLVI. Chapter.

I Israel took his journey with all that he had. And when he came to Bersaba / he offered offerings unto the God of his father Isaac. And God spake unto him in a vision by night: Jacob said Jacob. He sayde here am I. And he sayd I am the mighty God of thy father: be not afraid to go into Egypte / for there will I make thee a great people of thee: I will go downe with thee / I will bring thee up also. And Joseph shall laye his hande upon thine eye.

E Then Jacob gat him up from Bersaba / as the children of Israel called Jacob their father / with their children and wives / upon the charities that Pharaos had sent to call him. And they toke their cattle / a substance / which they had gotten in the land of Canaan / and so came into Egypte. Then Jacob and all his sons with him / his children / a his childrens children with him / his daughters / and all his brethren of his children / and all his kins.

S These are the names of the children of Israel / which came into Egypte / Jacob and his families. The first borne sonne of Jacob: Ruben. The children of Ruben: Hanoch / Pallu / Hezon / Guran. The children of Simeon: Jemuel / Jamin / Obed / Jachin / Zechar / and Saul the sonne of a Canaanite woman. The children of Levi: Gerson / Shimon / a Merari. The children of Judah: Er / Onan / Sela / Phares / a Zarah. But Er and Onan died in the land of Canaan. The children of Pharez: Hiram / a Hamul. The children of Issachar: Tholai / Phua / Ish / and Simon. The children of Zabulon: Sado / Hilon / a Jaddai. These are the children of Reu / which the bare unto Jacob in Mesopotamia / unto his daughter Dinah: These altogether with some and daughters were male there and they soules.

E The children of Gad: Gideon / Hagai / Suni / Ashob / Eri / Rodi / and Zachi. The children of Assir: Jemal / Jemal / Jemal / Hira and Serai. These sister the children of Dinah / sister and a Midian. These are the children of Bilhah / whom Laban gave unto Reu his daughter. The children of Reu: Joseph / and Ben Jamin. And unto Joseph in the land of Egypte / were borne Manasse / and Ephraim / whom Dinah the daughter of Penbar / wife of Onan / unto him. The children of Ben Jamin: Bela / Becher / Aserai / Gera / Naam / Ehi / Mos / Mijun / Nephthi / and Fro. These are the children of Rachel / which were borne unto Jacob / fourteen / daughters altogether.

E The children of Dan: Huiim. The children of Naphtali: Jahziel / Guni / Jezer / Silem. These are the children of Bilhah / whom Laban gave unto his daughter Rachel / and she bare Jacob these four soules. All the soules that came with Jacob into Egypte / which proceeded out of his loane / beside the wives of his children / are altogether five / a fine soules. And Josephs children / which were borne unto him in Egypte / were two soules: these all / soules of the house of Jacob / which came into Egypte / were fourteen.

E And he sent Judah for him unto Joseph / so he receivde him the way to Gosen / as they came into the lande of Gosen. Then Joseph beweid his charriass / and wrote up to him: Israel his father unto Gosen. And when he sawe him / he fell aboute his neck / and wepte for.

saie upon his necke. Then sayd Israel vnto Joseph: Now art I content to die: for so much as I haue in me: thy face it thou art yet alieue.

Joseph sayd vnto his brethren: /a to his fathers house: I will go vp: and tell Pharaos /a saye vnto him: My brethren and my fathers house are come vnto me / out of the lande of Canaan: and are keperes of cattel (for they are niter & deale with cattel): theye small a great cattel / and all other beate / haue they broughte with them: What if Pharaos col you / and saye: What is your occupation: then ye shall saye: Thy seruantes are men that haue deale with cattel from our youth vp heethens / both we and our fathers: that ye maye dwell in the lande of Gosen: for the Egyptians abhorre all keepers of cattel.

The XLVII. Chapter.

When came Joseph / and tolde Pharaos /a sayd: My father and my brethren / theye small and great canel / and all that they haue / are come out of the lande of Canaan: and be hold: theye are in the lande of Gosen. And he toke feare of his brethren / and presented them vnto Pharaos. Then sayd Pharaos vnto his brethren: What is your occupation. They answered: Thy seruantes are keepers of cattel: we a our father also. And they sayde vnto their vnto Pharaos: We are come to dwell with you vnto the lande: for thy seruantes haue no pasture: for theye cattel / so for theye & verie vnto our lode: and there is nothinge left for our lode: but onely our body a our lande: wherfore sufficest thou both vs to be a your lode. Take vs and our land for bread: that we a our land maye be bought vnto Pharaos: geue vs seede: that we maye lue / and not dye: and that the lande become not a wilde-nesse.

Pharaos sayd vnto Joseph: Thy father a thy brethren are come vnto the: the lande of Egypte is open before the: let them dwell in the best place of the lande: a sassa theye. All euen in the lande of Gosen. And if thou knowest that there be men of kinne amonge them / make them rulers of my cattel.

Joseph broughte in Jacob his father: and strecht him before Pharaos. And Jacob thanked Pharaos. But Pharaos said: How olde art thou. Jacob sayde: The nine of my pilgrimage is an hundred a thirtie yeares: heeld and cnel to the time of my pilgrimage / a amonge them vnto the time of my fathers in their pilgrimages. And Jacob thanked Pharaos: and went out from him.

So Joseph prepared dwellinges for his father a his brethren: and gaue them a possession in the lande of Egypte: euen in the best place of the lande: namely in the lande of Raemes: as Pharaos commaunded. And he made provision for his father and brethren: and all his fathers house with bread: euen as yonge children.

There was no bread in all the lande: for the verie was very sore: so that the lande of Egypte / and the lande of Canaan were famished: by the reason of the verie. And Joseph broughte together all the moneye that was founde in Egypte and Canaan: for the cause that they boughte. And he layed up all the moneye in Pharaos house.

Now when moneye failed in the lande of Egypte and Canaan: all the Egyptians came vnto Joseph: a sayde: Wee wnto: thy seruantes are without moneye. Joseph sayd: Bringe bye: your your cattel / so wil I geue you for your cattel: for ye are without moneye. Then brought theye their cattel vnto Joseph. And he gaue the bread for theye: both for the men and assen. So he fed them with bread that yeare for all theye cattel.

When that yeare was ended: theye came vnto him the next yeare: and sayd vnto him: Wee will not hide it from one lode: but not onely the moneye: but all the cattel also is spent vnto our lode: and there is nothinge left for our lode: but onely our body a our lande: wherfore sufficest thou both vs to be a your lode. Take vs and our land for bread: that we a our land maye be bought vnto Pharaos: geue vs seede: that we maye lue / and not dye: and that the lande become not a wilde-nesse.

So Joseph toke in: all the lande of Egypte: for Pharaos: for the Egyptians sold eury man his land: because the verie was very sore vpon them: and so the lande became Pharaos: with the people that went out and in: as his cyties: from one side of Egypte vnto the other: excepte the priestes lande: that toke hee not in: for it was ordeyned of Pharaos by the priestes: that they should eate: that which was appointed them: which he gaue them: that for they needed not to sell theye lande.

Then

Job xliij c

Then sayde Joseph vnto the people: Beholde I haue taken possession of you & your land this day for Pharaos: & holdethere haue ye sode: & helande / & of the corne ye shall geue the fyft parte vnto Pharao: four partes shalbe yours: / so geue the lande four youre sustenance: / and for youre heuyn and chyl dren.

They sayde: Let vs liue / and finde grace before the oure lord: / we will gladly be Pharaos seruautes. So Joseph made them a lawe vnto this daye: ouer the Egypciens land: / so geue Pharao the fyfthe parte: / excepte the purpoise lande: which was not bonde vnto Pharao.

So Isaac dwelt in Egypce / in the lande of Gosen / and had it in possession / and grew / a multiplyng exceedingly. And Jacob liued seintene year in the lande of Egypce / so that his whole age was an hundred and seuen & foure yeaere.

It was when the tyme came that Isaac should dye: he callid Joseph his sonne: / & sayd vnto him: I f I haue founde grace in thy sight: / when laye in thyn chadde vnder my thede: / thate thou shalt thyme mercy and sayd: / I will burye me in Egypce: / but I will be by my fathers: / and thou shalt carye me out of Egypce: / & burye me in they buriall: he sayd: I will do as thou hast sayde. But he sayde: Then swere vnto me. And he swore vnto him. Then Isaac bowed him self vnto the bedd.

The XLVIII. Chapter.

After this it was tolde Joseph: Beholde: / my father is sicke: he toke with him byn two sonnes Manasse and Ephraim: Then was it tolde Jacob: Beholde: / thy sonne Joseph cometh vnto the: And Isaac toke a carriage vnto him: / & sat vpon the bedd: / & sayde vnto Joseph: The angylls the God appeared vnto me at Lais / in the lande of Canaan / and blessed me: / and sayd vnto me: Beholde: / I will cause it to growe in increase: / & will make a multitude of people of the: / and will geue this lande vnto thy sibe after the: / an enerlasting possession. Therefore shall now thy two sonnes Manasse & Ephraim: / I whiche were borne vnto the in Egypce: before I came heber vnto the: be myne: / like as Ruben & Simcon: / so for those that thou begetest after them: / they shalbe thine owne. But thes: shall be named with the names of thy brethren: / in their inheritance.

And when I came out of Mesopotamia: / Behold: / I was byd by me / in the lande of Canaan by the way: / & when there was yet but a selded vnto Ephraim: / and I buried her in the waye towarde Ephraim: / whiche is now called Berseem.

And Isaac toke vpon Josephs sonnes: / & sayde: What are these? Joseph aunswered: They are my sonnes: / which the God hath brent me here. He sayde: burye them by ther to me: / that I maye blisse them. (For Isaac eyes were heuse for age: / & he coulde nor see.) And he brought them vnto him: / & he kysed them: / and embracod them: / & sayde vnto Joseph: Beholde: / I haue seene the: / & thou I thought nor: / and is: / God be brent in: / to ke thy sibe eise: / And Joseph toke the: / & he layd: / and they fell vnto the ground: / & vpon they face.

Then Joseph toke them both: / Ephraim in his right hande: / & towarde Becele he layd: / & Manasse in his left hande: / & he sayd: / Israel right hande: / and brought them vnto him: / But Isaac stretched out his right hand: / and layd it vpon the heade of Ephraim: / the younger: / and his left hande vpon Manasse heade: / and did so wrongly with his hande: / the Manasse was the fyfth benison: / And the blessed Joseph: / and sayde: The God be fore whom my father Abraham and Isaac haue walkid: / the God that hath sibe me my life longe vnto this daye: / the angyll which hath vntouchid me from all euill: / blisse these laddes: / & they maye be called after my name: / and after the name of my father: / Abraham and Isaac: / that they maye growe and multiplye vpon earth: / But when Joseph laye that: / his father layde the right hande vpon Ephraims heade: / it vspraisid him: / and he layd vpon his fathers hande: / to remouen it from Ephraims heade: / vnto the heade of Manasse: / and sayde vnto him: / Let so my father: / vnto in the sibe: / & laye thy right hand vpon my heade: / & after thes: / the father wolde not he sayde: / I haue not well my sonne: / I haue not well: / & thou shalbe a people: / & thou shalbe great: / possession to burye in. There buryed they Abraham/a Sara his wyfe: there buryed they 1370-1 Isaac also/and Rebera his wyfe: and there buryed / I Reuim the good of the fildes/and of the caue therein/which was bought of I Geo-three.

And when Jacob had ended this commandment into his childre/he pluckt his 1375-1 fite together upon the bryd/and bryde/a vnto gathered vnto his people. Then fel Ioseph vpon his fathers face/and wept/and kysed him.

The L. Chapter.

I Now Ioseph commaunded his seruantes vnto the Physicians/ to embawme his father.
And the Physicians embawmed Ioseph / till founde theye were ended / so fo longe endured the wyse of embawming / and the Egyptians beydryed him hy wyse.

Now when the mourning dayes were ended / Ioseph spake vnto Pharaos household/and sayde: If I haue founde favour in youre 1380-1 sight / that please vnto Pharaos a wyse: My father hath taken an oath of me / a sayde: I Be-holde / I wyl burye me in myne owne graue/whiche I digged for my selfe in the lande of Canaan: therefore wyl I now go vp / a burye my father: a come agayne. Pharaos sayde: Wo thy weape vp/and burye thy father/accordinge as thou hast sworne vnto him.

B So Ioseph went vp to burye his father.
And there wente with him all Pharaos ser-uantes / that were the officers of his court / a all the officers of the lande of Egypyt / a I Iosephs household / and his brethren: a his 1385-1 fathers household. Only theye children / sheps / and eyes lefte they in the lande of Gosen/and roke theye souerayn vp with him / a wyl cherches and bestes / and the company was exceed-dinge great.

Now when these came to the pleyne of 1390-1 Mad that lyeth beyonde Iordan: they made there a greate and bitter lamentation / a T he weaned for his father Iuan Egyp. And when the people in the lande of Canaan / a few for mourning in the pleyne of Mad / they sayde: The Egypytians melt there greate lamentation. Therefore is the place called: The lamentation of the Egypytians / wherby lyeth beyonde Iordan.

And his children did as he had commaunded them / and carryed him into the lande of Canaan / and buryed him in the vnbelle caue of the fildes / that I Abraham bought with the 1395-1 fildes for a possession to burye in / of I Abim: the Rebue / ouer agaynst Hebron. So when they had buryed him / Ioseph rose his iourney agayn into Egypyt with his brethren / and with all those that went vp with him to burye his father.

But Iosephs brethren were afrayed / whē theye father was dead / a sayde: Ioseph might happly haue indignacion agayns / a recompence we al / euel that we dyd vnto him / I therefore 1400-1 let everye saye vnto him: Thy father commaunded before his death / and sayde: Thus shal ye saye vnto Ioseph: O forgieue thy brethren the offence and they: sinne / that they dyd to euill vnto the. O forgieue now this trespass of euill vnto the seruantes of thy fathers God. But Ioseph wept / when theye spake so vnto him.

And hee beryen wnten a full yowre before him / and sayde: Beholde / here are my wy-1405-1 ues / Ioseph sayd vnto them: Scarce not / for: I am vnder God. Ye thought euill ouer me: but God hath turned it vnto good / to do as it in come to passe: thus saye / for the saving of many people. I therefore be not ye now af-fryed / I wyl care for you and your children.
And hee comforted them / and spake long tyme vnto them.

Thus dwale Ioseph in Egypyt with his 1410-1 fathers house / and had an hundred and ten years / and I sawe Iephraim children / vnto the thirde generation. In Iesse menere the children of Iacob / the sonne of I Manasse / began 1415-1 to be borne / a Iosephs leppre.

And Ioseph sayd vnto his brethren: I 1420-1 see / and God wyl visit you / a bringe you out of this lande / to the lande that hee swaie vnto I Abraham / Isaac / and Jacob. Therefore rose he an eode of I aduon of I Ierusalem / sayd: When God shal visit you / them saye my bones for 1425-1 dyce. So Ioseph bryd / wherby was an hnt Ioseph
died / and ten years olde / a theye embawmed him / and layed him in a chest in Egypyt.

The seconde booke of Moses called Exodus.

The first Chapter.

Gen. xli. 1-5

These are the names of the children of Israel / that came with Jacob into Egypt: every one came in with his house / Ruben / Simeon / Levi / Juda / Issachar / Zabulon / Ben Jamin / Dan / Ephraim / Gad and Aser. And of all the souls that came out of the loynes of Jacob / there were fourscore.

And Joseph he was in Egypt at ready: Now when Joseph was dead / and all his house / and all they that lived at that time / the children of Israel grew / and increased / and multiplied / and became exceeding mighty / so that the land was full of them.

¶ And when there came a new king over Egypt / which knewe nothinge of Joseph / and sayde unto his people: Beholde / the people of the children of Israel are many / and mightier then we: Up let us to deal weryly with them / that there be noe so many of them: For if there should rise up any warre against vs / they might forge them selves also vnto our enemies / and ouercome vs / and so gett them out of the lande.

¶ And he let traunsmaslesse ouer them / to kepe them vnder with buchers. For they builded the ciuies of Pithon and Ramesse for Pharaos sake: But the more they were oppressed / the more they multiplied and grew.

¶ Therefore had they indignation at the children of Israel / as the Egyptians compelled the children of Israel without mercy to do seruice / and made theyr synobdient vnto them with grievous labour / in day a brick / and with all manner of bondage in the silde / and with all manner of labour / which they layd vpon them without mercy.

¶ And the kynge of Egypt sayde vnto the midwyues of the Hebrew women / Of the which one was called Siphra / and the other Puah: What ye haue the woman of the Hebrewes / as yett the stole / that is a sonne / when she becometh: But if it be a daughter / let her liue. Now therefore / the midwyues feared God / and did not as the kynge of Egypt commaunded them / but kept the children liue.

¶ Then the kynge of Egypt called the midwyues / and sayd vnto them: What ye haue do ye this / that ye let the children liue? The midwyues answered Pharaos: The women of the Hebrewes are not as the women of Egypt / for they are sturdy women: neuer lett midwyues come at them / they are distressed.

¶ Therefore God dealt well with the midwyues / And the people multiplied / and became exceeding mighty. And so it came to pass / that the midwyues feared God / he made them houses: Then Pharaos commaunded at his people a sayde: All the finnes that are bound / cast into the water / but let at the daughters liue.

The II. Chapter.

¶ And there were found a man / of the house of Leui / a wife of the house of Leui: And the wife conceaued / and bare a sonne: And when she sawe that it was a proper child / she hid him three monethes. And when she could hyde him no longer / she toke an Ark of reedes / and wadded it ouer with sticke and pumpe / and layed the child therein / and set it among the reedes by the waters brinke. But his sister stode afeare of / to wete what should come of him.

¶ And Pharaos daughter came downe to the water / and she sawe the child / and she was wofull / and she said vnto her maydenes / What is this? And she said vnto her / A Hebrew child. And when she opened it / she sawe the child: And she hade pitee. Then had she pyne vpon it / and sayde: This is one of the Hebrews children.

¶ Then sayd his sister vnto Pharaos daughter: Behold I go / and call the a nurse of the Hebrew women / so nurse the child: Pharaos daughter sayd vnto her: Go by way. The mayden went / and called the child a mother. Then sayd Pharaos daughter vnto her: Take this child / a nurse it for me: I will giue it thy wages. The woman toke the child / a nurse it.

And when the child was grown / she brought it into Pharaon daughter / and it became her nurse / as he called him Mosé. For he said / I have him out of the water.

Upon a time when Mosé was grown / he went forth into his brethren / and looked upon their burthen / and sawe that an Egyptian smote one of his brethren the Hebrewes. And he looked round about him / as when he sawe that there was none as yet / so he slew the Egyptian / and buried him in the sande.

The next day he went forth also / and sawe two men of the Hebrewes striving together / as said to the unjuste / Wherefore smitest thou thy neighbour? But he saide / Who made me a ruler or iudge over vs? What thou sayest thou standest in holy ground. And he said moreover / I am the God of thy father / the God of Abraham / the God of Isaac / and the God of Jacob. And Mosé covered his face / for he was afrayd to looke upon God.

And the Lord said / I have sene the trouble of my people in Egypt / and have heard their crye / out of thei oppression. I knowe their sorrow / and am come down to deliver them from the power of the Egyptians / and to crye them out of that land / in to a good and wide land / as I have said / I have sene the place of the Canaanites / Hebrewes / Ammonites / Phoenicians / and Jebusites. For so much have I heard the complaint of the children of Israel / as come I will see them / and I have sene their oppression / when I sawe the Egyptians oppressing them. I will nowe see thee / and I will saye unto thee what I will doe.

And Mosé was content to errell much / man. And he gave Mosé his daughter Zipporah / which bare him a sonne / and he called him Gersom / for he saide / I am become a stranger in a strange lande. And he bare him yet a sonne / whose he called Eliezer / as said. The God of my father is my helper / and hath delivered me from Pharaon hande.

But after this in process of time / the kinge of Egypt died. And the children of Israel began to crye their labour / and cryed. And their crye once their labour came before God. And God heard their complaint / and remembered his covenant with Abraham / Isaac / and Jacob. And God looked upon the children of Israel / and God saide.

Th. M. The pier.

And when I kept the sheep / I of Israhel his father / in a cave / past of Midian / a woman. And the sheep on the backside of the wilderness / and came to the mountaine of God / Horeb. And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a flame of fyre / out of the bush. And he sawe that the bush burnt with fyre / as yet was not consumed / as said / I will go hence / as I see this great sight / why I should not burne.

When the Lord saide / that he went his way / to God called unto him an out of his bush / as said / Mosé Mosé. He answered / Here am I. He saide / Come not hither / put off thy shoes from the feet / for the place whereupon thou standest is holy ground. And he said moreover / I am the God of thy father / the God of Abraham / the God of Isaac / and the God of Jacob. And Mosé covered his face / for he was afrayd to looke upon God.

And the Lord said / I have sene the trouble of my people in Egypt / and have heard their crye / out of thei oppression. I knowe their sorrow / and am come down to deliver them from the power of the Egyptians / and to crye them out of that land / in to a good and wide land / as I have said / I have sene the place of the Canaanites / Hebrewes / Ammonites / Phoenicians / and Jebusites. For so much have I heard the complaint of the children of Israel / as come I will see them / and I have sene their oppression / when I sawe the Egyptians oppressing them. I will nowe see thee / and I will saye unto thee what I will doe.

He saide / I will be with thee / and this shall be the token / as I have said / the. When thou hast brought my people out of Egypt / ye shall see the God upon this mountaine. Mosé said unto God / Hold / when I come to the children of Israhel / and saye unto them / The God of your fathers hath sent me unto you / and they saye unto me / What is his name / what shall I saye unto them? God saide unto Mosé / I will be what I will be. And he said

This is that Aaron & Moses vnto whom the Lord sayd: Bring the children of Israel out of the lande of Egypt with their armes. This they mainly vnto Moses and Aaron: that speake vnto Pharaos the kynge of Egypt: that they might bringe the children of Israel out of Egypt. The same day speake the Lord vnto Moses in the laude of Egypt: a sayde: I am the Lord: speake thou vnto Pharaos the kynge of Egypt: all that I saye vnto the. And he answere before the Lord: I obeyholde: I am of vncremised lippes / how shal Pharaos then heare me.

The VII. Chapter.

I The Lord sayde vnto Moses: Be holde / I haue made the a God ouer Pharaos / and Aaron thy brother shalbe thy proper. Thou shal speake all that I commaunde thee: but Aaron thy brother shall speake vnto Pharaos / that he may let the children of Israel go out of his lande. Vnto the lesse: I will harden Pharaos herte: that I maye inuincely plye my tolene and wondrous in all the lande of Egypt. And Pharaos shal not bcare you: that I may therer my hand in Egypt: and bringe mine armes: euen my people / the children of Israel / out of the lande of Egypt by great iudgementes. And the Egyptians shal knowe that I am the Lord: when I shall stretch out my hande vpon Egypt: and bringe the children of Israel out from amonge them.

1. iij. d

B Moses and Aaron did as the Lord commaunded them: and Moses was xxx. yeare olde: and Aaron xxxij. yeare olde: when they speake vnto Pharaos. And the Lord sayd vnto Moses a Aaron: When Pharaos sayeth vnto you: Shewe your wonders: then shall thou say vnto Aaron: Take the staffe and cast it before Pharaos: and it shall come to a serpent.

1. iij. d

Then reuere Moses and Aaron in vnto Pharaos: and did as the Lord commaunded them. And Aaron call his staffe before Pharaos: and before his seruantes: and it turned to a serpent. Then Pharaos call: so the wyse men and soverreys. And the soverreys of Egypte call his like wyse with theyr serentes / a eery one call his staffe before him: and they turned vnto serpentes. But Aarons staffe deuoured theyr staffes. So Pharaos herte was hardened: he he feared not vnto them: euen as the Lord had sayd.

And the Lord sayd vnto Moses: The herte of Pharaos is hardened: he refuseth to let the people go. Where vnto Pharaos in more ninge: beholde: he shall come vnto the water: meece thou him vpon the water: and he shall the staffe: which turned to a serpent: in thine hande: and say vnto him: The Lord God of the Hebrewes hath sent me vnto the: and sendeth thy wordes. Let my people go: that they maye serue me in the wilderness: but hitherto thou woldst not heare.

Exodus

Therefore sayeth the Lord: Here by shal thou knowe that I am the Lord: Beholde: vnto the staffe that I haue in my hande: will I strike the water: wch is in the river: and it shall be turned into bloud: so that the fishes in the ryuer shall dye: and the ryuer shall stinke: and I shall greue the Egyptians to vnto the wate of the ryuer.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses: Sey vnto Aaron: Take thy staffe: and stretch out thine hande ouer the waters of Egypt: sent theyr riuers: and brookes: and pondes: a ouer all water pooles: that they may be turned to bloude: and that there may be bloud in all the lande of Egypt: both in the vessels of wood and stone.

Moses and Aaron did as the Lord commaunded them: and he spose the staffe: inuice the water that was in the ryuer: before Pharaos and his seruantes: and all the water in the ryuer was turned into bloud: and the fishes in the river died: and the ryuer stank: so that the Egyptians coulde not drinke of the water of the ryuer: and there was bloude in all the lande of Egypt. And the soverreys also of Egypt: did like wyse with theyr serentes. But Pharaos herte was hardened: and he hardned not vnto them: like as the Lord had sayd. And Pharaos mented him selfe: and reuere home: and fer not his kerne them on. All the Egyptians digged rounde about the ryuer: for water to drinke: for they coulde not drinke of the water out of the ryuer. And this endured seuen dayes longe: that the Lord inuice the ryuer.

The VIII. Chapter.

1. iij. The

Ex. 8. 1 And the Lord saide vnto Moses: Wo thy meeke to Pharaos/ and speake vnto him: Thus saith the Lord: Let my people go: that they may serue me: If thou wilt not let them go/ behold/ I will sende al the borders of the lande with frogges/ so that they shall strowe their frogges/ as they shall clume vp/ and come into thine house/ into thy chember/ where thou sleepest/ upon thy bed/ and into the house of thy seruantes/ amonge thy people/ into thine ouens/ and upon thy dones/ and the frogges shall come vp vpon thee/ and vpon thy people/ and vpon al thy seruantes.

Ex. 8. 2 And the Lord spake vnto Moses: Say vnto Aaron: Stretch forth thine hande with thy staffe ouer the streames/ and riuers/ and ponds/ and let frogges come vpon the lande of Egypte. And Aaron stretched his hande ouer the waters in Egypte/ and there came vp frogges/ so that the lande of Egypte was couered. The soecreres also did likewise with their soecreres/ and caused frogges to come vpon the lande of Egypte. Then called Pharaos for Moses and Aaron/ and sayde: Praye the Lord for me/ that he may take awaye the frogges from me/ and from my people/ and I will let the people go/ that they may do sacrifice vnto the Lord.

Gen. 33. 7 And the Lord sayde: Thus thou thou honour be seene me/ and appoint me/ when I shall pray for the: thy seruantes/ and for thy people: that the frogges may be taken awaye/ from thee/ and from thy house/ and remaine onely in the ryuer. He sayde moreover. He sayde: When as thou shalt sayde/ that thou mayest haue: that there is none like vnto thy Lord oure God: And the frogges shalbe takn from the land/ from thy house/ from thy seruantes/ and from thy people/ and remaine onely in the ryuer.

Ex. 8. 3 So Moses and Aaron went from Pharaos/ and Moses cryed vnto the Lord for appointment ouer the frogges/ which he had pouered vnto Ph. 10. And the Lord did as Moses sayde. And the frogges died in the houses in the ciuities/ and vpon the fildes/ and they gathered them together/ here an heape/ a there an heape/ and the lande stank of them. But when Pharaos sawe that he had gotten his hart was hardened/ and he hardenede his hart: vnto them/ as the Lord had sayd.

Ex. 8. 4 And the Lord spake vnto Moses: Say vnto Aaron: Stretch out thy staffe/ and smite the dust vpon the earth/ that it may be lise in the whole land of Egypte. They did so. And Aaron stretched out his hande with his staffe/ and smote the dust vpon the earth/ and there were lise vpon men/ vpon cattes/ and vpon the dust of the lande was lise vnto lise in all the lande of Egypte.

The soecreres also assayed likewise with their soecreres/ that they might bringe forth lise/ but they could not. And lise were vpon men and cattes. Then sayde the soecreres vnto Pharaos: It is the fault of God. Vnto Pharaos heere was hardened/ and he hardened not vnto them/ as the Lord had sayd.

Ex. 8. 5 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses: Get thee vp to me/ ory: by mine hande stande before Pharaos/ beholde/ he will go vnto the water/ and speake thou vnto him: Thus saith the Lord: Let my people go/ that they may serue me: if not/ behold/ I will cause crudd to come vnto thee/ and come vpon the ryuer/ in mannes/ thy people/ in thy house/ so that all the Egyptians houses/ as the fild as the ryuer/ shalbe full of crudd to come/ as the same daye will I separate the lande of Egypte/ wherein my people dwell/ so that no crudd shall be there/ and thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord in the middes of the earth. And I will sit a vengeance betwene my people/ as the same. To morrowe shall the token come to passe.

Ex. 8. 6 And the Lord did so/ and there came perilous crudd to come vnto Pharaos house/ vnto the seruantes houses/ and vpon all the lande of Egypte/ and the lande was marred with noysome tomes.

Ex. 8. 7 Then called Pharaos for Moses and Aaron/ and sayde: Wo your waye/ and do sacrifice vnto your God in the lande. Moses sayd: I knowe not what he shoulde do/ for he shoulde offer the oblation of the Egyptians/ vnto the Lord our God. Beholde/ if we should offer the oblation of the Egyptians/ because they crye/ should they not stone vs: The voyce of our crye will we go in the wilderness/ to do sacrifice vnto the Lord our God/ like the Egyptians/ as he hath sayd vnto vs.

Dharao faye: I will let you go / that ye maye go to worch. And the Lord your God in the wilderness sheweth that ye go no farther. And thus saye mo. Moyses faye: He shalde: when I am come out of the / I will praye vnto the Lord: hat the cruel woman maye be telfe from Dharao / and from his seruantes / and from his people / euen to morowe: only because my name is / that thou woldst not let the people go to do sacrifice vnto the Lord.

And Moyses went out from Dharao / and prayed vnto the Lord. And the Lord sheweth as Moyses sayd / and toke away the cruel woman from Dharao / from his seruantes / and from his people / so that there remayned nat one. But Pharao hardened his heart / euen then alford let not the people go.

The IX Chapter.

The Lord sayd vnto Moyses: Go into Pharao / and speake vnto him: Thus sayeth the Lord God of thy: Because let my people go / that they may serue me. If thou wilt not / but hold them longer / behold the hande of the Lord shalbe vpon thy cattell in the felde / vpon heifer / vpon asse / vpon camel / vpon ox / vpon ihepe / vpon a vray foxe pestilence. And the Lord shal make a diuision betwene the cattell of the Itraelites / and the Egyptians / so that there shall not change bye of all that the diuision shal be. And the Lord appointed a time / that hee would shew that the Lord do this vpon egypt.

And the Lord sheweth: I am on the morning. And there died of it: Il manner of cattell of the Egyptians: him of the cattell of the diuision of Itrael there died not one. And Dharao sent a cherub / and beheld / there was not one of the cattell of Itrael dead. But Dharao here was hardened / so that he let not his people go. Then sayd the Lord vnto Moyses and Jaaron: Take your shooes of / as thou art out of the face / and let Moyses / and Jaaron / to worch: heauen before Dharao / soe it may be vnto in all the lande of Egypt / and that there maye be soue and blyssye vpon mea / and vpon cattell in all the lande of Egypt.

E And the Lord sheweth: I am on the morning. And the Lord sheweth: I am on the morning. And the Lord sheweth: I am on the morning. And the Lord sheweth: I am on the morning.

neo vpon men a vpon cattell / so that the seruantes in egypt not stande before Moyses / by reason of the seue. For there were foure vpon the face of egypt / as vpon all the Egyptians. But the Lord hardened Dharao here / so that he hardened nat vnto the / euen so / the Lord sheweth vnto Moyses.

Then sayd the Lord vnto Moyses: Get thee vp to morow by nioce / and stande before Pharao / and speake vnto him: Thus sayeth the Lord God of the Hebrewes: Let my people go / that they may serue me. I will let I at this time sende all my plagues into thine hen / and vpon thy seruantes / and vpon thy people: that thou mayst knowe that there is none like me in all landes. For I will now stretch out my hande / and strike the / and thy people they pestilence / so that thou shal be roned out from the eard. For haue I sheweth red the up for thee cause / euen to strike my power vpon the / and thacy maye man / might be vnto in all landes.

Thou shalt see my people yet / a while not let them go / behold / to morowe about this time I will I cause a noyghte great hayle to raine / such as hath not bene in the lande of Egypt / since the time that I was grounded heere so. And now sende thou / and fetch by cattell / and all that thou hast in the felde / for all men and cattell that shalbe founde in the felde / and not brought into the houses / for the hayle shall vpon them / they shal dye. And thou shalt see the worde of the Lord wrought vnto egypt / and thou shalt see the worde of the Lord wrought vnto egypt / and thou shalt see the worde of the Lord wrought vnto egypt / and thou shalt see the worde of the Lord wrought vnto egypt.

Then sayd the Lord vnto Moyses: Stretch out thy hande towarde egypt / that it maye hayle vpon all the lande of Egypt / vpon men / vpon cattell / and vpon all herbe of the felde / at the land of Egypt. And Moyses stretch out his staffe towarde egypt / and the Lord caused it to thunder / and he sheweth / so that the hiee came a long / vpon the eard.

Thus the Lord sheweth / and rained vpon the lande of Egypt / so that the hayle and hiee wente so heuily together / as nioce was in the land of Egypt / since the time that there were people there. And the hayle / in the whole lande of Egypte/all that was upon the felde/both men a cattel/and smote all the herbes upon the felde/and baſt: all the trees upon the felde/ſauce onely in the lande of Goſen / where the chylden of Iſraell were: there it healed not: Then ſaie Pharaos/ and called for Moſe and Aaron/ and ſaide vnto them: Now haue I ſynned / the Lord God is righteous / but I and my people are vngodly. Yet pray ye vnto the Lord God / that the thunder / and haſte of God maye ceaſe / then wyl I let you go / ye ſhall ſay here no longer. Moſe ſaide vnto him: What I am come out of the caue / I will ſtretch out myne hande vnto the Lord God / ſo ſhall the thunder ceaſe / and there ſhalbe no more heke / that thou inayſt knowe / that the caeh is the Lord God. But I knowe / that both thou and thy ſeruauntes feare not yet the Lord God. Thus the ſpake and the darke were ſummed in: for the darke was ſhoer vp / and the flake was bound: but the wheat and the eye were not ſynner: for they were late ſowen.

So Moſe wente from Pharaos out of the crye / and ſtraided ouer his hande vnto the Lord God. And the thunder and the haſte ceaſed / as the ſayne dropped not upon the carth. But when Pharaos ſaw / that the ſayne and thunder / and haſte ceaſed / he ſynned agayne / and hardened his hart: he is his ſeruauntes. So Pharaos hart was hardened / that he let not the chylden of Iſraell go / euen as the Lord God had ſayd by Moſe.

The X. Chapter.

¶ Unto the Lord ſaide vnto Moſe: Go in vnto Pharaos / for I haue hardened his heart / and the hartes of his ſeruauntes / that I mighte do theſe tokens amonge them / and that thou myghteſt ſeee it in the eares of thy chylden / and of thy Iſraeliſe chyldre / what I haue done in Egypte / and how I haue ſtretched my ſtrength amonge them / that ye maye knowe / how hard I am the Lord God.

So Moſe and Aaron wente in vnto Pharaos / and ſpake vnto him: Thus ſayth the Lord God of the Egiptiſes: How longer cauſeſt thou to ſubmitte thy ſelfe vnto me / lo / let my people go / that they maye ſerue me: If thou wylt not let my people go / beholde / to morrow wyl I caſt grethoppers / to come vpon all places / that they maye couer the lande / ſo that the lande can not be ſene / and they ſhal cany vp that is left vnto you / and was deliued from the hayle: and ſhal caue vp all your greue trees vpon the felde / and ſhall fill thy houſe / all thy ſeruauntes houſes / and all the Egyptiſes houſes: ſuch as thy ſaue / and all thy ſerues ſuch as haue not ſene / ſince the time they came vpon earth vnto this daye. And he named him / a wente out from Pharaos. Then ſayd Pharaos ſeruauntes vnto him / how longe ſhal we be ſerued after this maner? Let the men go / that they may ſerue the Lord God theyr God. Knoweſt thou not yet / that Egypte is veſtynged? Moſe a Aaron were brought agayn vnto Pharaos / which ſaide vnto them: Go your way / and ſerue the Lord God your God: But who are they that ſhal god? Moſe ſaide: We will go with you / and alms / with ſomes and vngodly / with ſheep and cyen / for we haue a feaſt of the Lord God. He ſayd vnto them: Keen be ſuch the Lord be with you. Should ye let you go / a your chyldre / elſe take theye haue not come / miſchiefe in hand. What ſhalt youe the eat men / and ſerue the Lord God / for that was your deſire. And they thruſt them ouer from Pharaos.

Then ſaide the Lord vnto Moſe: Stretch ouer thy hande out the lande of Egypte / for the Egypthoppers / that they maye come vpon the lande of Egypte / and caue vp all the herbes in the lande / with all that ſcaped the hayle. Moſe a Aaron ſtretched out thy hande ouer the lande of Egypte / and the Lord broughte an eaſt wynde vnto the lande that daye / and all that night / and in the morninge the eaſt wynde broughte the grethoppers. And they came ouer the whole lande of Egypte / and lighted in all places of Egypte / ſo increaſed in many / that before nime there were neuer ſuch / whether ſhalde becauſe: for they couered the lande / a made it darke. And they did eate vp all the herbes in the lande / and all the fruice vpon the trees / which remayned from the hayle / and left no greue / that was behinde in the lande / and herbes vpon the felde / in all the lande of Egypte.

Then Pharaos called for Moſe / a Aaron in all the haſte / and ſayd: I haue ſinned agaynſt the Lord your God / a agaynſt youſe: a gentile my ſinne / that is ouer alſo / a praye ye for the Lord the dysken of Israel there was light in their dwellyngs. Then Pharaos called for Moses onely leaue your shepe / and your oxen here: let your chyldren go with you also. Moses sayde: Thou must geue vs offsynge / and bestoffsynge / or we maye do sacrifice vnto the Loide our God. Our camel shal go vs / a there shal not one of these be lefte behinde: for we must take thereof for the sacrifice of the Loide our God. Moreover we knowe not smyte Egypte with a plague vpon Pharaos / and Egypte: after that shall he let you go from hence / and shal not anye leaue go / but also smyte you hence. Therefore saye you now vnto the people / that every mā knowe of his neigh-boure / and every woman of her neighbours rest / because of synner and golde / for the Loide shal geue the people fauour in the sight of the Egyptianes. And Moses was a very great man in the lande of Egypte / in the sight of Pharaos seruantes / and in the sight of the people.

¶ And Moses sayde: Thus sayeth the Loide: B In my syngh sayll I go out of the lande of Egypte / and of the first borne in the lande of Egypte shal dye: from Pharaos firste sone that syneth vpon his seat / vnto the first sone of the maide seruaunt / whiche behynde the mill / and all the first borne amonge the cattel / and there shal be a grece eye in all the lande of Egypte / such as neuer wee / nor shalbe. But amonge all the chyldren of Israel of thre shall not a dogge quere: with his knowe howe that the Loide hath put a difference betwene the Egyptianes and Israel. He shal all the thy seruantes come vnto me / and sal at my side / and saye: Ge the out: thou and all thy people that are vnder the. Wher that wyl I departe. And he wnto the Loide: I wyl wepe vnto the Loide: for the Loide sayd vnto Moses: Pharaos he keth not vs to go / that many wondere may be done in the lande of Egypte. And Moses said: Darron byd all these wordes before Pharaos: But the Loide hardened his hert / that he wold not let the chyldren of Israel go out of his lande.

The. xii. Chapter.

¶ The Loide sayde vnto Moses and Aaron in the lande of Egypte: This moneth shalbe with you the first moneth / and a lambd. But if he houseld be to fewe / so a lambd / then let hym and his neyghboure / that is next vnto his house / taken accordyng to the nombre of the soules / and come to the lande / wher every man wyke care. But it shalbe a lambd ren bouclemil / or mal / and of a yere olde. Leem amonge the lamwes / a goate shal ye take it. And ye shal kepe it vnto the fourtenth daye of the moneth. And every man of the congregacion of Israel shal take it aboute the eveninge. And they shal slaye it / of his blode / and strake out both the the fyre and unleuened bread/ and thou shalt it with foure sauer. Ye shall not care to leaue nor sodden with water/ but onely so: as the fyre/ so heade with his feet/ and permaunce.

 And ye shall keue nothinge of it ouer vntill the morninge: but if any thinge be left ouer/ consume it the morninge/ ye shall burne it with fyre.

On this manner shall ye care. Ye shall keue the breade your leuena/ as haue your leuena vpon your feet/ and sauen in your hande/as ye shall care with basket/ as the Lordes

Di. cxxxv. a Passouer. For in this same nyght wyl I go out of the lande of Egypte/ and smyte al the first borne in the lande of Egypte/ for men vnto catell/ and vpon all the goddes of Egypte/ wyl I do execution/ sauen the Lordes.

Beh. xi. c. And I shall keue the fyre/ and vpon the house when ye care: that when I see the bloode I may passe ouer/ and the plague happen not vnto you/ nor destroye you/ when I smite the lande of Egypte.

C. And this daye shall ye haue for a remembrance/ as ye shall kepe it holy for a feast vnto the Lordes/ year after year/ as a perpetual custome. These dayes shall ye care vnto leuened bread/ vnto the first daye that ye leaue of with leuened bread in your houses. Whosoever careth leuened breade seuen the first daye vnto the seventh/ that soule shall be cut out from Israel. The firste daye shall be called holy assemblye/ you shall keue also. The manner of worke shall ye do there/saue what I charge to the maner/ for al maner of soules/ that onely maye ye do for you.
 And kepe you to the leuened breade.

For euen vnto the same daye wyl I charge your seruice out of the lande of Egypte/ therefore shall ye do al your seruice/ kepe this daye for a perpetual custome. Vnto the fourth daye of the fyre in month/ as euen shall ye care unleuened bread/ vnto the one and twentieth daye of the month/ as euen: so that there be no leuened breade founde in your houses seuen dayes. For whosoever careth leuened bread/ that soule shall be cut out from the congregation of Israel/ together with a stranger that is borne in lande. Therefore care to no leu-ened bread in al your dwellings.

¶ And Moses called al the elders of Israel/and sayde vnto them: Chose out/ and take to euery house the a shep/ and fyre. Passouer vnto the Lordes/ and take a lamb. of the shep/ and shep/ as the blood/ in the gates/and smyte it vpon the upper part/ and vpon the two sides/ and vnto the one of you go out at the doore of the house with the morninge/ for the Lordes wyl go about and plague the Egyptians. And when he seeth the bloode vpon the upper part/ and vpon the two sides/ as the blood/ he wyl passe over by the doore/ and not smite the destroyer to come by your houses to plague. Therefore kepe this custome for the / and thy children for euer.

And when ye be come into the lande/ that the Lord shall geue you/ as he hath sayd/then kepe this seruice/ and when your children shall saye vnto you: What seruice is this/ that ye haue? Ye shall saye: It is the fyre/ and the Lordes Passouer/ which passed ouer by the children of Israel in the Egypte/ when he plagued the Egyptians/ and saved our houses. Then the people shalden them selves/ and be shynned. And the children of Israel wyl and the Lordes had commaunded Moses and Aaron.

I And at mydnyght/ the Lordes smote al the first borne in the lande of Egypte: from Pharaos first borne/ which he saue vpon his knees/ vnto the first borne of the pynson/ that was in the pynson/ and al the first borne of the eate. Then Pharaos arose in the night/and al his seruantes/ and al the Egyptians/and there was a great crye in Egypte: for there was no house/ where in there was no one dead.

¶ And he called for Moses and Aaron in the nyght/ and sayde: I see you vnto/ and beparte out from my people/ ye and your children of Israel. Go your waye/ and saue the Lordes/as ye haue sayde/ and take your shep/ and your euen with you/ as ye haue sayd/ in the pynson/ and thus me also. And the Egyptians were faine/ vpon the people/ to drive them hastily out of the lande/ for they sayde we are a lost people.

¶ And the people toke the rater home/ before it was leuened/ for they hadde bounde in their clothes vpon their shoulders. And the children of Israel had vnto/ as Moses saide/

The pillar of the cloude departed neuer from the people by Daye / and the pillar of fyre departed not from them by nyghte.

The XLIIII Chapter.

I And the Lozde spake vnto Moses / and sayde: Speake to the chyldren of Israel / and byd them that theye turne aboute / and pass theye series before the valley of Synoth / thernyng Elygod / and the see / towards Baal Sephon / and there pass the series ryghte ouer by the see. For Pharao shall seye of the chyldren of Israel: Theye can not tell how to get out of the lande / the wyldernesse hath aboute them in. And I will harden his herte / that he shall folowe after them / and I will get me bonoure upon Pharao / and vpon all his power. And the Egyptians shall knowe / that I am the Lozde. And theye byd so.

Gen. l. b

B And when it was tolde the kynge of Egypte / that the people fled / his herte / a his seruautes were turned agaynst the people / and sayde: Whye haue we done this / that we haue let Israel go / that theye should not serue vs. And he bounde his charraunce fast / and toke his people with hym / and toke vi. C chosen charraunces / the other charraunces beside that were in Egypte / the captaynes ouer all his:

for the Lozde hardened the herte of Pharao / kynge of Egypte / that he folowed a ier / the chyldren of Israel. And the chylde of Israel were ouer with an hnt hande.

And the Egyptians folowed after them / and overtoke them / where theye had passed by the see / with hoises and charraunces / a hoises / and with his power / in the valley of Synoth / towards Baal Sephon. And when Pharao came nnt them / the chyldren of Israel lyfe vs theye eyes / and beholde / the Egyptians wente behynde them / and theye were sore as feared / and cryed vnto the Lozde.

Job. x. b

And sayde vnto Moses: Where there no greuous in Egypte / that thou hast theupric vs awaye to the in the wyldernesse: Wherefore hast thou done this vnto vs / that thou hast carryed vs out of Egypte: For not this is / that we sayd vnto thee in Egypte: Lett us be / and let vs serue the Egyptians: for we were better for to serue the Egyptians / then to be in the wyldernesse. Moses said vnto the people: I feare you not / stande still / and beholde / what a saluacion the Lozde shall haue vpon you this Daye: for the Egyptians / whome ye fe the Daye / shall ye neuer se more for euer: the Lozde shall fighte for you / ondy quere youre liftes.

The Lozde sayde vnto Moses: Wherefore cryest thou vnto me: Speake vnto the chyldren of Israel / that theye go forwarde. I will lyse thou vp the staf / and stretch out thine hande ouer the see / and parte it asunder / that the chyldren of Israel maie go in / becom the myddel of it / vpon the drye grounde. Beholde / I will harden the hert of the Egyptians / that theye shall folowe after you. Thus wyl I get me bonoure vpon Pharao / vpon all his power / vpon his charraunces / and hoises / men / and the Egyptians / that knowe / that I am the Lozde / when I haue gotten me bonoure vpon Pharao / vpon his charraunces / a vpon his beistmen.

¶ When Moses now stretched forth his hand over the sea the Lord caused it to passe away those was a mighty east wind: all the night/ and made the sea drye: and the water was dried in selfe sinider. And the children of Israel went in shooes: and the maddest of the sea/ upon the drye ground/ and the water was vnto them as a wall/ upon their right hande/ and upon their left hande. And the Egyptians followed/ and were in after them/ till Pharaos horses/ and chariots/ and horsemen/ came into the middes of the sea.

¶ And now when morning was come/ the Lord looked upon the armies of the Egyptians/ out of the pillar of fire/ and the cloude/ and troubled their armies/ and threw the wheels from their chariots/ and ouerthrew them in a sea. Then saide the Egyptianes: Let vs flye from Israel: the Lord fighteth for them against the Egyptianes.

¶ But the Lord saide vnto Moses: stretch out thine hande ouer the sea/ that the water maye come againe vpon the Egyptianes/ and vpon their chariots/ and horses. Then Moses stretched out his hande ouer the sea/ and the sea came againe vpon them/ and couered them/ and they were swallowed in the sea/ and they were swallowed in the sea.

¶ Then the Lord saide vnto Moses: stretch out thine hande ouer the sea/ that the water maye come againe vpon the Egyptianes/ and vpon their chariots/ and horses. Then Moses stretched out his hande ouer the sea/ and the sea came againe vpon them/ and couered them/ and they were swallowed in the sea/ and they were swallowed in the sea. And the Lord saide vnto Moses: stretch out thine hande ouer the sea/ that the water maye come againe vpon the Egyptianes/ and vpon their chariots/ and horses. Then Moses stretched out his hande ouer the sea/ and the sea came againe vpon them/ and couered them/ and they were swallowed in the sea/ and they were swallowed in the sea.

¶ Thus the Lord drowned Israel in that daye from the hande of the Egyptianes. And they sawe the Egyptianes dead vpon the sea side/ and the great hande that the Lord had shewed vpon the Egyptianes. And the people feared the Lord/ and belened him/ and his seruants Moses.

The XV. Chapter.

¶ Then saide Moses vnto the children of Israel: Behold the Lord hath done vnto the Egyptianes/ as he hath shewed vnto you. And the Lord hath done vnto the Egyptianes/ as he hath shewed vnto you. And the Lord hath done vnto the Egyptianes/ as he hath shewed vnto you.

The Lord is my strength/ and my songe/ and he is become my saluation.

Who is my God/ I will magnifie him/ and I will praise him/ and I will saye vnto him/ who is my God/ I will magnifie him.

The Lord is the righteous man of warre/ and the Lord is his name. The chariots of Pharaos/ and his power/ hath he cast into the sea.

His chariots are drowned in the Red Sea/ and his horsemen are drowned in the Red Sea/ and his horsemen are drowned in the Red Sea.

Thy right hande O Lord is glorious in power/ thy right hande O Lord hath smitten the enemies.

And thy great glory thou hast shewed thine adversaries/ thou hast smitten thy wrath/ and thou hast confirmed thine curse as a flood.

In the breach of thy wrath the waters are gathered together/ the floodes run vpon an heape. The waters are plumped together in the midst of the sea.

The name thou shalt call vpon the Lord/ and thou shalt be saved/ and thou shalt be saved/ and thou shalt be saved.

I will praise my strength/ and my hande shall be glorified/ and my hande shall be glorified.

Thou shalt see thy wrath/ and thou shalt see thy wrath/ and thou shalt see thy wrath.

Let the Lord be true/ and let the Lord be true/ and let the Lord be true.

What thou stretchest out thy right hande/ the earth shall swallowe them vp.

Thou of thy very wrath hast led thy people/ whom thou hast redeemed/ and thou shalt be glorified/ and thou shalt be glorified.

When nations herde this they ragged/ so they came vpon the Philistines. Then were the princes of Edom afraid/ and they were afraid/ and they were afraid.

Let the Red Sea and the Red Sea fall vpon them/ and let the Red Sea fall vpon them/ and let the Red Sea fall vpon them.

Bring them in/ a plume them vpon the mountaine of thine inheritance/ and thou shalt be glorified/ and thou shalt be glorified.

Josua: Chose ye out man to go out / a fight against Amalech: whom will I send upon the toppe of the hill: and haue the staffe of God in my hande. And Josua said as Moses had him: and sought against Amalech. Moses and Aaron: And he went up to the toppe of the hill. And when Moses helde up his hande: Israel had the victory: But when he let down his hande: Amalech had the victorye.

Judith. iij. c.

¶ But Moses handes were heavy: therefore toke he by a stone: and laid it vnder him: so he might sitte vpon it. And Aaron / a Hur stayed up his hande: the one vpon the one side: and the other vpon the other side. So his handes were lifted vnto the Sunne: vntill euening.
And Josua discomfited Amalech: and his people throughe the edge of the sword.

¶ And the Lord said vnto Moses: Write this for a remembrance: in a booke / and commune it vnto the eares of Josua: for I will wipe out Amalech from vnder heauen: so that he shall nomore remember. And Moses wrote all that vnto the Lord: and called it the book of the Lord: which he said: The barnes of the Lord is iust: the Lord shall be against Amalech: for he hath the victorye: and he hath the victorye of God: from this to this: and this.

The. XVIII. Chapter.

¶ And when Iacob: the people in Madian / and his father in law herde of all / that God had done vnto Moses: and his people of Israel: how that the Lord had broughte Israel out of Egypt: he take Sipora Moses wife: whom he had sent backe: with her two daughters: The one was called Gersom: for he said: I am become a stranger in a strange land: And the other was called Elisabur: for he said: The God of my fathers hath been my helpe: and hath deliuered me from Pharaos servaunt.

Exodus. d.

¶ Now when Iacob: Moses father in law and his daughters: his wife came vnto him in the wildernesse: by the mount of God: where he had pitched his campe: the firste wife vnto Moses: The firste by father in law: are come vnto the: and they wept: and both her daughters: wher they came: Moses saith vnto mee: him: a daye: and I haue been vnto him: and kissed him:
And when they had saluted eche other: they went into the tent.

¶ Then Moses tolde his father in lawe all / that the Lord had done vnto Moses: Pharaos / and the Egyptians: for Israels sake: and all the tra-uayle that had happened vnto him: the waye / and how the Lord had deliuered them: Jercho receyved on it: al the good that the Lord had done for Israel: that had deliuered him from the hande of the Egyptians. And Jercho said: Praise be the Lord: which hath deliuered you from the hande of the Egyptians: and of Pharaos: and that I haue been to deliuer his people from the hande of the Egyptians: Now I knowe: that the Lord is greater then all goddes: because they dealt proudly with them: And I haue bene testifyinge: and offered vnto God. Then I came throughe all the elders of Israel: to him: and with Moses father in lawe before God.

¶ On the nexte daye: the Lord said vnto the people: and the people stood round about Moses: from the morninge vntill the euening. But when his father in lawe sawe: al that he had done vnto the people: he said: What is this / that thou doest vnto the people? Wherfore standest thou alone: and of the people stande rounde about thee: from the morninge vntill the euening: Moses answered him: The people came to me: and they counselled with me: for when they haue any thinge to do: they come vnto me: that I may iudge betwixt many: and his neighbour: and I haue shewed them the statutes of God: and his lawes.

¶ His father in lawe said vnto him: It is not well that thou doest. Thou receivest the people: that is vnto thee: This burden is too sore for thee: thou canst not pers-forme it alone. But hearken vnto my voice: I will geue thee counsaill: and God shall be with thee. Be thou vnto the people: as Godward: and bringe the causes before God: and pro-ceede them vnto statutes: and lawes: but thou reuerent shewe thee: the way wherein they should walke: in the works that they shalldo: do.

¶ But loke out amonge all the people: so: ha-nest men: that feare God: and are true: / a good cause: iustesse: make these iudges: and beare some out: thou shalt: of mine brethren: of our frinne: and our kin: / so they may iudge the people: But wher there is any great matter: they bringe the same vnto the
and a iudge the final cause than selfe: so that it be lighte for thei they beare the burden abou. It thou shalt do this / thou mayest thou endure the thyng that God chargeth the vnto / and all the people maye go peaceably vnto this place.

um p b

Moses hearkned vnto the voice of his father in lawe / and byd of that he sayd. And he chose beneuolent out of Israel / a made the heades ouer the people / faine ouer thousande / ouer hundred / ouer fiftye / ouer thirtie / they maye stande vnto iudge the people. So for suche cause as were hard / they thought the vnto Moses / a iudged the final matters the selfe. So Moses let his father in lawe departe into his ouer lande.

The XLIX. Chapter.

When the threty moneth after that the chyldren of Israel were gone out of the lande of Egypt / they came the same waye into the ryrdanusse of Sinai / for they were departed from Kaphthim / and wolde into the ryrdanusse of Sinai / and there they pitched they: tenico in wilderness / auct againste the mount. And Moses went vp vnto God.

ffm a

And the Lorde called vnto hym out of the mount / and sayde thus shalte thou saye vnto the house of Jacob / and tel the chyldren of Israel. Ye haue sene what I haue done to Egypte / and howe I haue blame you vpon Regles mynges / and brought you vnto my selfe. If ye wil hearken now vnto my voyce / and kepe my commaundmentes / halbe myne ouer / and wyl be my people: for the whole earth is myne / and I haue sene me to pacifely / I haue done / and an holy people. These are the wordes that thou shalt saye vnto the chyldren of Israel.

ffm b

Moses came / a called for the elders of the people / a layd before them all these wordes / that the Lord had commaunded / and all the people answered together / a saide. All that the Lord hath sayd / wyl we do.

ffm a

And Moses tolde the wordes of the people vnto the Lorde agayne. And the Lorde sayd vnto Moses. Beholde / I wyl come vnto the in a thicke cloude / that I people maye heare my wordes / and whiche I speake vnto / and belete thy for euer. And Moses he wold / a wordes of the people vnto the Lorde.

The Lorde sayd vnto Moses: Go vnto the people / and sanctifie them to day / to morrowe / that they maye make theyr clothes / and be ready agaynst the threty daye: for vpon the threty daye shall the Lorde come vnto vpon Sinai / before all the people. And for makke rounde about the people / and say vnto thei: Beware / that ye go not vnto the mount / nor touch the border of it. For wyl come: touch the mount / shall the death. There shall no hande touch it / or / shall the hande be stoned / or / shall be stoned / whether it be best / or man / or / shall not lyue. When the house shal be / then shall they come vp vnto the mount.

Moses wente downe from the mounte vnto the people / and sanctified them. And they made theyr clothes. And he sayd vnto thei: Be ready agaynst the threty daye / and now is come at this wyse.

Now when the threty daye came / and it was earlye / it beganne to thunder / and lightning / and there was a thicke cloude vpon the mount / and a nese of a trumpet / a cryinge mynges. And the people that were in the tentes / were affrayed. And Moses brought the people out of the tentes to meete with God / a they stode vnder the mounte.

But a mounte Sinai smoked / because the Lorde came vnto vnto thei. And the smoke ther of wente vp as the smoke of a furnace: so that the whole mount was created byng terrible. And the voyce of the trumpet wente out: and was mynges. Moses sawe / and God answered hym loud. Now when the Lorde was come downe vpon mounte Sinai / vnto the toppe of it / he called vnto Moses / a sayde. Come vp vnto the toppe of the mount. And Moses went vp.

Then sayd the Lorde vnto hym: Go downe / and charge the people / that they pacifely / do not vnto the Lorde: do so byn / and so many of them perye. The rulers also shal come vnto the Lorde / shall sanctifie them selfe / lest the Lorde furye beate. But Moses sayd vnto the Lorde: The people call not come vp vpon the mounte Sinai / for thou hast charged wyl / saide: Sit make / aboute / a mount / and sanctifye.

The Lorde sayd vnto hym: Go by.

nacle of witness, wun the vayle, that hangeth before the witness. And Thou and his syn nes shal be u from y enuyng vntil the mornynge, before y lorde. Thou shalbe vnto you a perpetual colthine for youre posterites amonge the chyliden of Israel.

The XXXIII. Chapter.

2 Said thou shalt take unto the Aaron thy brother and his sonnes from among the children of Israel / that he may be my priest: namely Aaron / and his sonnes Nadab / Abihu / Eleazar / and Ithamar: & thou shalt make holy clothes for Aaron thy brother / honorable and glorious / & thou shalt speak unto all them that are with thee / & thou shalt have filled with the spirit of wisdom / that they make garments for Aaron for his consecration / that he may be my priest.

These are the garments / which they shall make: a breastplate / an euerbody coate / a miter / an albe / a myrrer / and a girdel. Thus shall they make holy garments for thy brother Aaron / and his sonnes / that he may be my priest. They shall take theio golde / yallow silke / scarlet / purple / and vberye silke.

3 The euerbody coate shall they make of golde / yallow silke / scarlet / purple / and vberye twyned silke / of dyed redd woof / that it may be fastened together upon both the sydes / by the edge thereof. And the girdel vpon it shall be of the same woof / hyacinth / and flusse / of golde / yallow silke / scarlet / purple / and vberye twyned silke / And thou shalt take two Onyx stones / and graue therein the names of the children of Israel. One name vpon the one stone / and the other name vpon the other stone / according to the order of their age. This shalt thou do by the stones / & thou shalt graue figures / so that the stones / with the names of the children of Israel be set rounde aboute with golde: and thou shalt put them vpon two shoulders of the euerbody coate / that they may be stones of remembrance / for the children of Israel / that Aaron may beare their names vpon both the shoulders / before the Lord for remembrance.

4 Thou shalt make bores of golde also / and two withen theynes of pure golde / and shalt fasten them vnto the bores.

The breastplate of iudgement shalt thou make of dyed redd woof / & thou shalt make the euerbody coate of golde / yallow silke / scarlet / purple / and vberye twyned silke. Four square shall it be / and vberye / an handbreth longe / and an handbreth bryde. And thou shalt fill it with four stones full of stones. Let the first rowe be a Sardinia Topas / and a Emeryge. The seconde: a Rubyne / & a Saphyre / and a Diamand. The thirde: a Sappirion / an Adas / and Amethyst. The fourth: a Turquoise / Onyx / and a Jasper. In golde shall they be set in all four rows / and thou shalt fasten / according to the names of the children of Israel / green the stone / graues of euery one with his name / according to the first rowe.

5 And vpon the breastplate thou shalt make twelve theynes of the stones of yowre golde / and four golde rings / so that thou shalt fasten a ring vnto the edge of the breastplate / & thou shalt fasten the rings of golde in the same rings / that are in the edge of the breastplate. On the other endes of the rings / thou shalt fasten in the edge of the euerbody coate / one ouer against another.

6 And thou shalt make other rings of golde / and shalt fasten them vnto / that the other edge of the breastplate / namely to the bandes thereof / wherewith it may hang on the inside / vpon the euerbody coate. And thou shalt make other rings of golde / and shalt fasten them vpon the edge of the euerbody coate / vpon the outside / one ouer against another / where the euerbody coate vnto the rings thereof. And the breastplate shall be fastened by the rings / vnto the rings of the euerbody coate / with a yallow lace / that it may lie close vpon the euerbody coate / that the breastplate be not lifted from the euerbody coate.

7 Thus shalt Aaron beare the name of the children of Israel in the breastplate of iudgement / vpon his breste / when he goeth into the Sanctuary / for a remembrance before the Lord alwaye. And in the breastplate of iudgement thou shalt put twelve stones / & thou shalt graue thereon the names of the children of Israel / when he goeth in before the Lord / and thou shalt beare the iudgement of the children of Israel vpon his breste / before the Lord alwaye.

8 Thou shalt make a miter also to the euerbody coate / all of yallow silke / and abent in the middell thereof shall be an hole / and a bande shall thou fasten rounde aboute the hole / that it come not. And beneath vpon the beuene thou shalt make a purp / an akos of yowre silke / scarlet / purple / rounde abent / and belles of gylde /

berme: the same rounde aboute / that there becaue a golden bell / and a pomegranate / a golden bell / a pomegranate rounde aboute the beime of the same tunicle. ¶ And Aaron shal haue it upon him / when he ministereth / that the sounde thereof maye be heerd / when he goeth out and in at the Sanctuary before the Lord / that he be not.

¶ Thou shalt make a forehead plate also of pure golde / and graue therein / after the workman shipp of the stone / the holynesse of the Lord / and with a precious lace shalt thou fasten it vnto the forehead of the myser / upon Aarons forehead / that Aaron maye beare the sight of the holy things / which the children of Israel haue: in all theyr gyftes and Sanctuary. And it shalbe alway upon his forehead / that he maye reuerence them before the Lord.

¶ And for Aarons sonnes thou shalt make coates / girdles / and bonnettes / honorable and glorious / and shalt put them vpon thy boos: the Aaron and his sonnes / and shalt anointe them / and fill theyr handes / a consecrate / that they maye be my prestes. And thou shalt make them linen byches / to couer the flesch of theyr prynces / from theyr loynes vnto the thye. And Aaron with his sonnes shall haue them on / when they go in the Tabernacle of witness: to go vnto the altare to minister in the Holy / that they beare not thyr sinne / a die. This shalbe a perpetual custome for him / and his sode after him.

The .XXIX. Chapter.

¶ This is also / that thou shalt do vnto the myser / that they may be consecrated pure. ¶ Take a yong bullocke / and two lambs without blemish / and encensed brade / & encensed rales / myse with oyle / a waters of frete brad / tempered with oyle: Of wheat floure shalt thou make them all / and put them in a maide / and bunge them in the maide with the bullocke and two lambs.

¶ And thou shalt bunge Aaron and his sonnes vnto the voye of the Tabernacle of witness: and make them with water / a take the garmentes / and put vpon Aaron: the albe and the tunicle / four body coate / & the breast lappe to the ouerbody coate / and shalt gyde him on the onyside vpon the ouerbody coate / and set the myser vpon his brade / and the chaly counte vpon the myces: and shalt take the anointing oyle / and poure it vpon his brade / and anointe him.

¶ Thou shalt bunge forth his sonnes also / & put the albe vpon them / and gyde both Aaron and them with girdles / and set bonnettes vpon theyr heades / that they may haue the purifhode for a perpetual custome.

¶ And thou shalt take all the fat that couereth the bowels / and the nere vpon the liver / a the two kidneys with the fat that is aboute them / and burne them vpon the altare. But the bullockes flesch / sinne / and Yonge / shalt thou burne with fyre / without the hoost: for it is a synoffringe.

¶ The one ramme shalt thou take also / and Aaron with his sonnes shal laye theyr handes vpon his brade. Then shalt thou slaye him / and take of his bloud / and spicke it vpon the altare rounde about. But the iust shalt thou graue in peccs / and washe his bowels / and his legges / and laye them vpon the peccs / and the brade / and burne the whole ramme vpon the altare: for it is a burnt offering / and a sweete sauour of the sacrifice vnto the Lord.

¶ As for the other ramme / thou shalt take him / a Aaron with his sonnes shal laye theyr handes vpon his brade / and thou shalt slaye him / and take of his bloude / and put it vpon the uppe of the right eare of Aaron and his sonnes / and vpon the thombe of theyr right handes / and vpon a great toe of theyr right fete / and thou shalt spicke the bloude vpon the altare rounde about: / a shalt take of the bloude vpon the altare / and the anointing oyle /

oyle and sprengle it vpon Aaron and his seruantes vpon his sonnes; and they shall be sanctified. So shall he and his clothes; his sonnes also with their clothes be consecrated.

¶ Then shalt thou take the fine of the raine/ and the temple/ and the face that couereth the bottome of the raine vpon the leues; and the two hanches/ with the same that is about them; and the right shoulder (for it is a ramme of consecration) and a sinne of bread / a an oyle take; and a vessel out of 7 mannds of the vniuersed bread / that standeth before the Lord; and put all into the handes of Aaron and his sonnes; and waue it vnto the Lord. Then take it out of their handes; and burne it vpon the altare for a burnt offering; to be a sweet saviour vnto the Lord. For it is the Lordes sacrifice.

¶ And thou shalt take the eulle of the raine out of Arons consecration; and shalt waue it before the Lord; when shalt his part. And thou shalt take that becometh the Wauchsch; and the Heauersboulde; that are waued and becometh of the raine of the consecration of Aaron a his sonnes. And it shall be a perpetual custom for Aaron and his sonnes; of the children of Israel; for it is a Heauers offering; in the Heauers offering shall be the Lordes Deuote of his children of Israel; in their peace offerings; and Heauers offerings; whiche they do vnto the Lord.

And the holy garnitures of Aaron shall his sonnes haue after him; that they may be anointed there; and that they handes may be sanctified. Take which of his sonnes shall be priest in his stead; the same shall put the on fewe veyes; that he may go into the Tabernacle of witness; to minister in the Sanctuary.

¶ But the raine of consecration shall thou take; a seeth his flesh in an holy place. And Aaron with his sonnes shall cut the flesh of the same raine; with the bread in the mannds; at the voie of the Tabernacle of witness. For there is an anointment made therewith; to fill their handes; that they may be consecrated. A stranger shall not eate thereof; for it is holy.

But if any of the flesh of the consecration; and of the bread remaine; vntill morning; thou shalt burne it with fyre; and not let it be eaten; for it is holy. And thus shalt thou do with Aaron and his sonnes all that I haue commanded the. Euen; Vnto shall thou fill their handes; and offer a billotte. Vnto for a sin offering; because of thy sin; that shall be reconciled. And thou shalt haue the anointment; when thou reconcilist; a shalt anointe it; that it may be consecrated. Euen; Vnto shall thou reconcile the altare; and consecrate it; that it may be an altare of the most holy. Who so will touch the altare; must be consecrated.

¶ And this shalt thou do with the altare; Two lambe of one yeare; alte shalt thou offer euery day vpon it; the one lambe in the morning; and the other at euen. And to one lambe a tenth deal of wheat flour; mingled with 4 fourth parts of an Hin; of beaten oyle; and the fourth part of an Hin; of wine; for a burnt offering. With 4 other lambe; at euen shalt thou do like an with the incense offering; and burnt offering; in the morning; for a sweet saviour of sacrifice vnto the Lord. This is the daily burnt offering; amonge your posterities; at the voie of the Tabernacle of witness; before the Lord; I will provide vnto you; and willk with it. There will I rest vnto the children of Israel; and be sanctified in my glory; a will haue the Tabernacle of witness; and the altare; and consecrate Aaron a his sonnes; to be my priests. I will dwell amonge the children of Israel; a will be their God; so that they shall knowe; how that I am the Lord their God; which brought them out of the land of Egypt; that I dwell amonge the; euery day; the Lord their God.

The XXX. Chapter.

¶ Thou shalt make also an incense altare; to burne incense of fyre trees; a cubite longe and wide; euen four cubites; and a cubite hight; with his hornes; and shalt ouerlaye it with pure golde; the rose and the scales of it rounde about; and the hornes therof; a a crune of golde; shalt thou make; rounde aboute it; and two golde rings; on either side vnder the crune; that there maye be slauces put therein; to beare it with all.

The slauces shalt thou make of fyre tree also; and ouerlaye them with golde; and shalt set it before the wayle; that hangeth before the

Take of wynnisse/ and before th. Mercyes/ that is upon the wynnisse/ from whence I will p'ofesse into the. And Thar shall burne sweete incense thereon every morninge / when he doth seth the lampes. In like maner when he hath seth the lampes at euen / he shall burne sweete incense also. This shalbe the dayly incense before the Lord/ amonge your posterites.

B ¶ Ye shall put no strange incense therein/ neither wynnisse/ nor any offeringe/ neither burnt offeringe thereon. ¶ And upon the burnes of it shall Thar receaue once in a year / with the blonde of sinofferinge / which they shall offer that are receaied. This shalbe done amonge your posterites. for this is the most holy unto the Lo: &c.

¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moyses / and sayd vnto him. When thou numbrest the childe of Israel / and sayd. Then shall every one gene vnto the Lo: &c. the reconciling of his soule / that there happen not a plague vnto them / when they are numbred. Every one is to reide in the number / shall gear helpe a sheke / after the sheke of the Sanctuary: / one sheke is worth xx. Shekels. This half sheke shalbe the Lo: &c. Recoufferinge. Who so is in the number from xx years / & above / shall geue this Sheke offeringe vnto the Lo: &c. he ryche shal not geue more / and the poore shal not geue lesse in the half sheke / which is geue vnto the Lo: &c. an offeringe / for the reconcilinge of thy soule.

C ¶ And this money of reconcilinge shalbe done of the childe of Israel / and put it to the Gods seruice of the Tabernacle of wynnisse / that it maye be a remembrance vnto the childe of Israel by sore of the Lo: &c. / that he maye let him selfe be reconciled ouer theyr soules.

¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moyses / and sayd: ¶ Thou shalt make a beason lauer / also with a fore of brass / to washe / and shalt set it betwixt the Tabernacle of wynnisse and the aulare / and put water therein / that Thar and his sounes maye washe theyr hidens and feet therein / when they go into the Tabernacle of wynnisse / or to the aulare / to minister vnto the Lo: &c. with offeringe incense / that they be not. This shalbe a perpetuall custome for him and his sounes / amonge theyr posterites.

¶ And the Lo: &c. spake vnto Moyses / and sayd: ¶ Take vnto the spices of the best / v. C. sicles of sature / a of Cynamon / half so much / cuen q. C. and L. and of Calamus ii. C. and L. and of Cassia v. C. Casier h. sicle of the Sanctuery / and an Oin of oyle olive / and make an holy anointinge oyle / after the craife of the apocary.

¶ And therwith shalt thou anointe the Tabernacle of wynnisse / and the Arke of wynnisse / the table wth of his apparel / the candlestick wth his apparel / the aulare of incense / the aulare of burnt offeringe / wth all his apparel / and the lauer wth his fore and thus shalt thou consecrate them / that they maye be most holy / for this so shall touche the / must be consecrated. Thou shalt anointe Thar also and his sounes / and consecrate them to be myr gullies.

¶ And thou shalt speake vnto the childe of Israel / and say: This oyle shalbe an holy oinment vnto me / amonge your posterites: It shal not be p'ced upon mans body / neither shalt thou make any fudy lyfe vnto us for it is holy / therefore shall it be holy vnto you. Who so maketh any fudy lyfe / or geueth a stranger therof / the same shalbe roied out from amonge his people.

¶ And the Lord sayd vnto Moyses: Take vnto the spices / balsme / Lacti / galbanum / and pure frankincense / of one car much so of another / and make incense therof / after the craife of the apocary / mingled together / that it maye be pure and holy. And thou shalt beate it to powder / and shalt put of the same before the wynnisse / in the Tabernacle of wynnisse / from whence I will p'ofesse vnto the. This shalbe most holy vnto you. And such incense shalbe not made againe / it shalbe holy vnto the for the Lo: &c. Who so maketh suche to incense therewith / shalbe roied out from amonge his people.

The XXXI. Chapter.

¶ And the Lo: &c. spake vnto Moyses / and sayd: ¶ I haue called by name Bezaleel the sonne of Uri / the forme of Zus / of the tribe of Iuda / and haue filled him wth the spirit of God / so woldome a vnderstanding / a knowledge / a wofe / wth all manner of cunningge wofe / in golde / siluer / v. s. / to graue stone stones conningly / and to set them / so carue

The XXXII. Chapter.

180 B Vnto whom the people saye that Moses made longe caruinge to come vnto me / so I requite / they gathered the together against

Aaron / and sayde vnto him / & vp / and make vs a goddes to go before vs / for we can not tel what is becomer of this man Moses / that brought vs out of Egypte. Aaron sayde vnto them / Plucke of the golden earinges / from y eares of youre wyues / of youre sonnes / and of youre boughten / and bringe them vnto me.

Then all the people plucked of theire golden earinges from theire eares / and brought the vnto Aaron. And he receiued the of their handes / and fashioned it with a graine. And they made a molten calfe / and sayde / These are thy goddes / O Israel / that brought y out of the lande of Egypte.

181 When Aaron sawe that he binde an au-tore before him / a caused it be proclaynd / & sayde / To morrow shall the Lord doe with you / as ye haue sayde / I will keepe my offeringe / as I broughte the of their eares / for I see the people / for theye haue turned backe / and forsake me / and saye / These are thy goddes / O Israel / that broughte y out of the lande of Egypte.

Ex. 17. 14. 15. d
a id 17. 15. d

¶ Moses turned him / and went downe from the mount / and in his hande he had the two tables of witness / which were written upon both the sydes / and were Gods worke / and the writinge was the writinge of Gods spirit. Now when Josua herde th. noise of the people/as they shouted/he sayd vnto Moyses: This is a noyse of warre in the host. He answered: It is not a noyse of thine / I haue th. victory / of them / that haue the worse / but I heare a noyse of singinge at a daunce.

Deut. 10. 17. d

¶ When he came ynto / the host / he sawe the calfe / and the dancinge / he was moured with wrath / as cast the tables out of his hand / a brasse he dened to the mount. And he take / the calfe that they had made / a brasse it with fyre / and stamped it vnto powder / and strowed it in the water / and gaue it vnto the children of Israel to drinke / as sayd vnto Aaron. What did this people vnto the / I thou hast broughte fo great a sinne vpon them.

Aaron sayd: Let not / thy wrath of my Lord reape scarce: thou knowest / I thinke no wicked people: they sayd vnto me: Make vs goddesses to go before vs / for we can not tell what is become of this man Moses / that broughte vs out of the lande of Egypt. I sayd vnto them: Who so hath gold / let him plucke it off / as geue it me: and I did cast it in the fyre / therof came this calfe.

Ex. 32. 1. a
Ex. 32. 1. a

¶ Now when Moses sawe / that the people was naked: (for Aaron / when he set them vp / made them naked: so they shamed) he wente vnto the gate of the host / and sayd: Who so belongeth vnto the / Lord / let him come hither / now ino. Then all the children of Leui gathered them selfes vnto him / and he sayd vnto them: Thus saith the Lord / I God of Israel: Every man put his sworde by his side / and goe vpon / in a out / from one gate to another in the host / and slaye every man his brother / friende / and neyghbour.

Ex. 32. 26. a

The children of Leui did so / as Moses sayd vnto them: And there fel of the people in. Men then sayd: Moses: Consecrate your hande this day vnto the Lord / every man vnto pon his sonne / and his brother / that / playe may be geuen ouer you this day.

¶ As he wrote: Moses sayd vnto / the people: Whose name is a great sinne. Now I will goe vnto the Lord / and peraduenture / I maye make an atonement for your sinnes.

¶ Now when Moses came againe vnto / the Lord / he sayd: Whose people haue done a great sinne / and haue made them Goddesses of gold. Now for geue them they sinnes / if not / then wote me out of thy booke / that thou hast written. The Lord sayd vnto Moses: What hast thou done against me / that I wypr out of my booke. Go vpon thy way / therfore / and behold: the people thine / as I haue sayd vnto thee. Behold: myne aungel shall go before the / Bar in the waye of my visitacion / I will visit their sinnes vpon them. So the Lord plagued / the people / because they made the calfe which Aaron made.

The XXXIII. Chapter.

¶ The Lord sayd vnto Moses: Go / thou / depart hence / thou and the people / thou hast broughte out of the lande of Egypt / vnto / the lande wher I sweare vnto Abraham / Isaac / and Jacob / and sayd: Vnto thy selfe thou / shalt geue it / and I will sende an aungel before thee / and cast out the Canaanites / Ammonites / Hittites / Pherezites / Hittites / and Jebusites / into the lande that I sware vnto / make a holyss: I will not goe vp with thee / if thou art an hardnecked people / I might consume thee by the way. When the people heard this euell / and they so: stred / and no man put on his beste / appoyment.

¶ And the Lord sayd vnto Moses: speak / vnto the childre of Israel: Ye are a stiffnecked people / I must once come / suddenly vpon the / and make an ende of the: And now part of thy goodly araye from the / that I maye knowe what to do vnto the. So the childre of Israel layd their goodly araye from them / when before the mount Sinai.

¶ Moses toke the tabernacle / and pitched it withoute a farr of from the host / and called it the Tabernacle of witness. And whoso wold see any question at the Lord / wente out vnto the Tabernacle of witness / before / the host. And when Moses wente out vnto the Tabernacle / all the people rose up / and stode curry in al your dwellinges.

And Moyses sayde vnto the whole con gregation of the chyliden of Israel: This is what the Lorde hath commaunded: That from amonge y^e heaue offerings vnto y^e Lorde / so that every one bring the Lorde heau offeringe with a she here: gold / siluer / brasse / yallow silke / artelet / purple / whyte silk / a goose beccread / Finnes of a mince / doo shinnes / and fyre ree / oyle for lampaes / and spices for the anointing oyle / a fo sweete in cense / Onyx stones / and some to be set in the ouerbody coote / and for the dressapp.

And who so is myst of herie an oyliger / let him come / and make what the Lorde hath commaunded: namely / the habitation with the tent / and covering thereof / the ruynges / boundes / bare a ppylles and sockets: The Arke with the staves thereof / the Mercieseat and the wayle: the table with his staves and all his apperell: and the shewbrake: The candlestick of light: and his apperell: and his lampes / and the light for the lightes: The altare of incense with his staves: The araynyng oyle / a sphycer for incense: The hanginge before the Castrinacle: Vase: The outler of burnt offeringes / with his basins gredyron / stauce and all his apperell: The lauit with his sore: The hanginge of the court: with the pillers and sockets thereof / and the hanginge of the court: Vase: The narico of the habitation / and of the court:

 with their coate: The ministring garmentes for the seraynt in the Holy / the holy vesti-mentes of Aaron & pncel with the vestimentes of his sonnes: the ppylles offic.

¶ Then went all the congregation of the chyldren of Israel out from Mosoe / and carry one brought the gyfte of his hand: and all that they wolde of scruell / substance brought they for an Heaucoffering vnto the Lo:de / for the worke of the Tabernacle of witness: and for all the seruice thereof / and for the holy vest-mentes. Both men and women: that were of a willinge heart: brought be: adeleres / earnynges / ruynges and gyddes / and all maner reuelde of golde: Every man also broughte golde for Waucoffering vnto the Lo:de.

And whosoever founde by him yelow silke / scarlet / purple / whyte sylke / gawes beere / read / fynnes of rammes / and doosfynnes / brought it. And whosoever had beane up silyces and blasse / brought it for the Heaucof-ferings vnto the Lo:de. And whosoever found fyre tree by him / brought it for all maner of worke of the Gods seruice: And such woman / as were wyse harted / spawne with their han-des / and brought their spawne worke of valous silke / scarlet / purple / and white sylke. And such woman as had bye vnderstandinge in wysedome / spawne gawes beere.

¶ As for the pynnes they broughte Onur slowes / and scerlance for the onerbody coate / and for buslappes / and sphyces / and eyes for light-soles / and for the araynyng oyle / and for sweete incense: Thus the chyldren of Israel broughte fre willinge offeringes / both men & women / for all maner of worke that the Lo:de had commanded by Mosoe to be made.

And Mosoe sayde vnto the chyldren of Is-rack: Beholde the Lo:de hath called by name Bezaleel the sonne of Uri / the sonne of Hur / of the tribe of Iuda: and hath filled him with the spirit of God: that he may haue wysedome / vnderstandinge / and knowlege: for all maner of worke to worke cunningly in golde / siluer and blasse / so graue precious stones / and to set them in corne in wood: to make all maner of connyng worke: and hath geuen him sensenon in his heart: both him and Abihab: the sonne of Abisamach: of the tribe of Dan. These hath he filled with wysedome of heart: to make all maner of worke: to carue: to bryde: to worke with needle worke / with ystow silke / scarlet / purple / and whyte silke: and with wauynges to make all maner of worke: and to beuise con-nyng worke.

The XXXVI Chapter.

¶ Then wrought Bezaleel and Abihab: and all the wyse hearted men / vnto whom the Lo:de had geuen wysedome and vnderstandyng to knowe howe they shoulde make all maner worke for the seruice of the Sanctuary: / coming vnto all that the Lo:de commanded. And Mosoe called for Bezaleel & Abihab / and all the wyse hearted men / vnto whom the Lo:de had geuen wysedome in their heartes / namely: all such as willinge offered themselves there / and came to labour in the worke. And they receiued of Mosoe all the Heaucofferinges / that the chyldren of Is-rack had brought for the worke of the seruice of the Sanctuary: that might be made: a every morninge brought they their willinge offeringe vnto him.

¶ Then came all the wyse men a wrought in the worke of the Sanctuary: every one his owne worke that he made: and said vnto Mosoe: The people bingeth so many: more then we be: for the worke of this seruice: whiche the Lo:de hath commanded to make: Then commanded Mosoe that it shoulde be proclamed abroaude to the hearse: that man bing meane of Heaucoffering of the Sanctuary: Then were the people forbidden to bing forth: there was stuffe ynough for all maner of worke: that was to be made: and to much.

Ex. xxxvi.

Ex. xxxvi.

Exo. xxxi. a ¶ So all the waye hirted men amonge the/ that wrought in the worke of the habitacion made ten curtaynes of whyte ruynd silke/ yalow silke/scarlet/peuple/ with Cherubins of broiderd worke. The length of one curtayne was xxx. cubites/ and the breadth iij. cubites/ and receiued of one measure/ and he coupled the curtayned syue and syue together one to the other.

C And made yalow loupes a longe/ by the edge of every curtayne/ where they shoulde be coupled together: L. loupes vpon every curtayne/ whereby one might be coupled to another/ and made xv. bursons of golde/ and with the bursons he coupled the curtaynes together/ one to the other/ that it might be come together.

Exo. xxxij. b ¶ And he made xij. curtaynes of goats heere/ for the tent ouer the habitacion of xxx. cubites longe/ a ij. cubites broad/ of one measure/ a coupled syue together by the silkes/ a fyve by the silkes/ and made L. loupes along by the edge of every curtayne/ whereby they might be coupled together/ and made L. bursons of blisse/ to couple the tent together with all. And made ouer the tent a coveringe of red/ fine/ of camme/ and ouer that a coveringe of doosfinnes.

C ¶ And made standinge bores for the habitacion of fyre tree/ every one ten cubites longe/ and a cubite a half/ broad/ a ij. feet vnto every one/ whereby one might be royned to another: so that on f. south side there shode xx. of these bores: a he made xl. siluer sockets that rided vnder every bore/ ij. sockets for hie ij. feet. In like manere for the other fyve of the habitacion/ towards the north/ he made xx. bores also/ with some siluer sockets vnto every bore d. f. feetes: But behynde the habitacion/ vpon the west side/ he made six bores/ and ij. other for the corner of the habitacion behynde/ that eith of them both might be royned with his corner bores from vnder vp/ and aboue vpon the heade to come together with a clape/ so that there were xij. bores/ and iij. sockets of silke/ vnder every one ij. sockets.

C And he made barres of fyre tree/ for the bores/ vpon the one side of the habitacion/ a ij. vpon the other/ a ij. behynde/ towards the west/ and made the barres to thre throu the bores/ from the one end to the other/ and overlaid the bores with golde. But the rings made he of golde for the barres/ and overlaid the barres with golde.

¶ And made Cherubins vpon the hanginge with broiderd worke/ of yalow silke/scarlet/ purple/ and whyte ruynd silke. And made for the same/ four pillars of fyre tree/ overlaid them with golde/ and they knoppes of golde/ and cast iij. f. fettes of silke for them.

¶ And made an hanginge in the Tabernacle/ of yelow silke/scarlet/ purple/ a whyte ruynd silke/ of yelow worke/ a ij. pillars that vnto theye knoppes/ and overlaid theye knoppes and rebowes with golde/ and v. f. fettes of blisse there.

The XXXVII Chapter.

C ¶ And Bezalel made f. iij. f. of fyre tree/ a ij. cubites and a half/ longe/ a cubite and a half/ broad/ and a cubite and a half/ hie/ and overlaid it with fyne golde/ and he cast a wreath/ and made a crowne of golde vnto it/ rounde aboute/ and cast foue iij. rings of golde/ to the iij. corners of it/ vpon every syde ij. And made shawes of fyre tree/ and overlaid them with golde/ and put them in the ringes a longe/ by the syde of the Ark/ to beare it with.

¶ And he made f. Metecyfares of pure golde/ ij. cubites and a half/ longe/ and a cubite a half/ broad/ a made ij. Cherubins of fyne beateyn golde/ vpon the ij. endes of the Metecyfares. One Cherub vpon the one end/ and the other Cherub vpon the other end/ a he Cherubins spread out theye wynges aboute eu. hie/ and covered the metecyfares with it/ and theye faces shode one agaynst the other/ a looked vnto the Metecyfares.

¶ And he made he. able of fyre tree/ ij. cubites longe/ and a cubite broad/ a cubite a half/ hie/ and overlaid it with fyne golde/ and made there a crowne of golde/ rounde aboute/ and made vnto it an wreape of an. hie/ chyd hie/ and made a crowne of golde rounde aboute the wreape. And f. he cast iij. golde rings/ and putte them in the ij. corners by the face/ by the wreape/ that it shode flukes in the be therein to haere the table round: and made the flukes of sirc tree/ and overlaid them with golde/ to haere the table round. And the oyle was upon the table made be also of sirc golde: the viltens/ spomes/ flaccpe etc./ and potes to purre it and ouer the wall.

¶ And he made the candlesticke of sirc beaten golde/ with sirc upon was the staff with braunches/ cuppes/ knoppes/ a floures. &c. x. braunches proceeded out of the sides thereof/upon every side a braunches: upon every braunch were a cuppe/ like almonds/ with knoppes and floures. Upon the candlesticke
 u. sile/ were iij. cuppes with knoppes a floures vnder every q. braunches a knoppe. The knoppes and braunches: hys proceeded out of it/ a were all ont piec of sirc beaten golde.
 And he made the ij. lampes with sirc in sirc/ and an ij. viltens of pure golde. On an C. weight of golde made be it/ and all the ap-parill thereof.

¶ He made also the altar of sirc/ of sirc tree/ a ruble large and broad/ seven foorsquared/ and ij. cubits hie with the bouce of it/ and overlaid it with sirc golde/ toppe and the sides of it/ round about/ and the bouces thereof/ and made a croune vnto it round about of pure golde/ and ij. golde eniges vnder the croune on both the sides/ to put the flukes therein/ to haere it withal/ but flukes made by of sirc tree/ a overlaid them with golde.

¶ And he made the holy anaim: unge oyle/ a the nicenes of pure spices/ after the craze of the apostylls.

The XXXVIII. Chapter.

¶ To the altar of burntofferinge/ made of sirc tree/ v. cub. so large and broad/seven foor squared/ and ij. cubits hie. And made the bouce/ which proceeded out of the
 ij. corners thereof/ a overlaid it with blasse.
 And he made all matter of v. sile for the altar/candlesticke/ viltens/ floures/ flaccpes/ and clepaines/ all of blasse. And vnto the altar he made a brasen gredder of new worke/ rounde about/ from vnder vp vnto the middest of the altar/ and cast iij. eniges in the four corners of the brasen gredder/ so: the flukes which he made of sirc tree/ and overlaid the with blasse/ and put them in the ringes by the sides of the altar/ so haere it withal/and made it whole with bondes.

¶ And he made the lauce of blasse/ and his for also of blasse/ upon the place of the bouce/chancel before the vore of the Tabernacle of moyses. And he made the cance on the southside with hanginges an C. cubits longe/ of wybe twyned sile/ which the xx. pillers thereof/ an xx. sile/ co of blasse: but knoppes and whoopes of sile. In yst manner/ upon the north side an C. cubits/ with xx. pillers/ and xx. sile/ of blasse/ but they knoppes and whoopes of sile. Upon the westside l. cubits/ with x. pillers/ and x. sile/ re-ces/ but they knoppes and whoopes of sile.
 v. Upon the eastside l. cubits/ xv. cubits vpon every side of the court/ with iij. pillers/ and iij. sile. So that all hanginges of the court were of wybe twyned sile/and the siletes of the pillers were of blasse/and they knoppes and whoopes of sile: theye heades were overlaid with sile/ and all the pillers of the court were wooped about with sile.

¶ And the hanginges in the court gate made be with noble worke/ of yalowe sile/ scarlet/purple/ and wybe twyned sile/ xx. cubits longe/ and v. cubits hie/ after the measure of the hanginges of the court/ iij. pillers also cherec/ and iij. siletes of blasse/ and they knoppes of sile/ and theye heades overlaid a theye whoopes of sile. And all the nyles of the habitacion/ and of the court/ rounde about were of blasse.

¶ This is now the somme of the habitacion of moyses/ which was comend at the commandement of Moyses/ to the God/ sicut of the lauce/ vnder the bande of Ithamar the sonne of Aaron/ the pnyff/ whiche Begalad the sonne of Vni/ the sonne of Guni/the vrb of Auda/ made all as the Loed commaunded Moyses. And with him Zaph-nab/ the sonne of Zaphnath/ of the wybe of Dan/ a connyng crafter/ to make noble worke/ with yalowe sile/ scarlet/ purple/ and wybe sile.

¶ The golde that was vnto the in all this worke of the Sanctuary/ which was geuen vnto the lauce/fferinge/ was xxx. hundred weight hundred/ and xxx. sile/ after the
 f. q. sile

Of the plate of the Sanctuary. The silver that came Exe. xxx b of the congregation was four hundred weight of silver, four hundred weight of gold, and four hundred weight of silver, for many haire of silver, after the plate of the Sanctuary of all that were a hundred from 25 years old and above, seven hundred thousand, three hundred and sixty men.

Of the five thousand weight of silver, were 11 the sockets of the Sanctuary; 4 the sockets of the table; 4 hundred sockets of the four hundred weight; 4 hundred weight sockets. Of 3 thousand seven hundred weight silver were made the rings of the pillars, 4 their heads overlayed, and their web-work.

As for the Workmanship of brass, it was 177 hundred weight 4 thousand 4 hundred weight. Whereof were made the sockets in the Door of the Tabernacle of witness, and the basin of silver, and the basin of brass thereof, and all the vessels of the anointing, the sockets of the court round about, and the sockets of the court gate, of the wayes of the court gate, all the wayes of the habitation, and all the wayes of the court round about.

The XXXIX. Chapter.

Of the yellowe silke/scarlet/ a purple/ they made Garments of ministring vestiments/to do service in the Sanctuary, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And he made the overbody coote of gold/yellowe silke/scarlet/ purple/ and whyte rayned silke/ and heere the gold into thinn plates/ a cut it into weyes/ that it might be wrought amonge the yellowe silke/scarlet/ purple/ and whyte silke/ and made it so/ that the overbody coote came together by the edges/ on both the sides. And his girdel was after the same craft and weyle: euen of golde/ yellowe silke/scarlet/ purple/ and whyte rayned silke/ as the Lord commanded Moses.

And they wrought two Onyx stones/ set in rounde about with gold/ grauen by the stone grauer/ with the names of the children of Israel.
 4 fastened them upon the shoulders of the overbody coote/ that they might be stones of remembrance/ vnto the children of Israel/ as the Lord commanded Moses.

And they made the breastplate after the craft of the woofe of the overbody coote of golde/yellowe silke/scarlet/ purple/ a whyte rayned silke/ so that it was four square and double/4 handbreadth longe and broad/ and filled it with 12 rows of stones. The first row was 4 Sardes/ 4 Topas/ 4 Emeraldes. The second row Rubyes/ 4 Saphyres/ and 4 Diamonds.
 The third row Turquoises/ 4 Carbuncles/ and 4 Amasnites. The fourth row Onyx and 4 Jasper stones/ rounde about with golde in all the rows. And the stones stood after the manner of the children of Israel/ grauen by the stone grauer/ euen with his names/ according to the 12 tribes.

And upon the breastplate they made two cherubims of pure gold/ and 4 pieces of golde/ and 4 golde rings/ and fastened the rings vpon 4 edges of the breastplate/ and the 4 cherubims put thy in the 4 rings/ vpon the corners of the breastplate. But the 4 edges of the breastplate cherubims put thy to the 4 holes/ and fastened them vpon the corners of the overbody coote/ one ouer against another.

And they made 4 other rings of golde/ 4 fastened them to the other 4 corners of the breastplate by the edges of it/ that it might hang vpon the outside of the overbody coote. And they made 4 other golde rings/ whiche they put vpon the 4 corners of the overbody coote/ one ouer against another/ whiche the overbody coote might hang together/ whiche the breastplate might be fastened by his rings/vnto the rings of the overbody coote/ with a yellowe lace/ that it might be close vpon the overbody coote/ and not be loosed from the overbody coote/ as the Lord commanded Moses.

And he made the minicte vnto the overbody coote/ wrought all of yellowe silke/ and the hole therof/ about in the middes/ and a bande fasten together/ rounde about the hole/that it should not rent. And beneith vpon the hemme of it/ they made pomegranates of yellowe silke/scarlet/ purple/ and whyte rayned silke/ 4 they made bellies of pure gold/ whiche they put beneith the pomegranates/ rounde about vpon the hemme of the minicte/ bellic and a pomegranate/ a bellic/ and a pomegranate rounde

rounde aboute to do seruice in/as the Lorde commaunded Moſes.

¶ And they made albes alſo wroughte of white ſilke: Aaron and his ſonnes/and the myſter of white ſilke/and the goodly bonerics of white ſilke /and breeches of wrought white linnen/and the gyrdle of uedle worke /euen of white wrought ſilke/yelowe ſilke/scarlet/ and purple/as the Lorde commaunded Moſes.

They made the foreheade plate alſo of the holy name /of pure golde/and wrought therein with grauen worke the holynes of the Lorde and ſcattered yalowelace thereon/to rite it vnto the myſter aboute/as the Lorde commaunded Moſes.

¶ Thus the robe of the habitacion of the Tabernacle of workeſſe was finiſhed. And the chyldren of Iſrael did all that the Lorde commaunded Moſes/and broughte the habitacion vnto Moſes/the Tabernacle/and al the apparell thereof/the breſtplate/breſtplate/breſtplate/pillars/ſolers/and the coveringe of red ſcarlet of rammes/the coveringe of dooſſynes/and the vyle / the Arke of workeſſe/with the ſtatues thereof.

¶ The Mercyſeate/the table and all his apparell/and the foreheade/the candleſtucke/with the lampes prepared/and all his apparell/and oyle for the lightes /the golden aulare / the anointing oyle an meſſe /the hanginge in the Tabernacle doore/the braſen aulare/and his braſen gredyon /with his ſtatue/and al his apparell/ lance with his ſolers /the hanginge of the couer/ with the pylers and ſolers thereof/the hanginge in the courtgate/with his pylers and nayles /and all the ordinarie ſerue for the ſerue of the habitacion of the Tabernacle of workeſſe/the manſtrung veſtiments of Aaron the prieſtes to ſerue in the ſanctuary/and the garments of his ſonnes: that they mighte ſerue the prieſtes office. According to all that the Lorde commaunded Moſes/euen to the chyldren of Iſrael in all this ſerue / and Moſes ſawe all the worke that theye did/turne as the Lorde had commaunded him/and he bliſſed them.

The XL. Chapter.

¶ Thus ſpake the Lorde vnto Moſes /and ſayde/In the ſixth day of the ſixt moneth ſhalt thou ſet vp the habitacion of the Tabernacle of workeſſe/and ſhalt put the Arke of worke therein/and hange the vyle before the Arke. And thou ſhalt bringe in the table/and garniſhe it/and bringe in the candleſtucke/and put the lampes therein. And the golden aulare of workeſſe/ ſhalt thou ſet before the Arke of workeſſe/and hange vp the hanginge in the ſide of the habitacion. But the aulare of burnt offerings ſhalt thou ſet before the ſide of the habitacion of the Tabernacle of workeſſe/and the lauer berweene the Tabernacle of workeſſe/ and the aulare/and put water therein/and ſit the court rounde aboute / and hange vp the hanginge in the courtgate.

¶ And thou ſhalt take the anointing oyle / and anointe the habitacion and al that is therein / and ſhalt conſecrate it/and all the apparell thereof/it maye be holy. And thou ſhalt anointe the aulare of burnt offerings/and all his veſſels / and conſecrate it/thate maye be moſt holy. The lauer alſo in his ſide ſhalt thou anointe and conſecrate.

¶ And thou ſhalt bringe Aaron and his ſonnes vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of workeſſe/a waſh the with water /and put ſ holy veſtiments vpon Aaron /and anointe him/a conſecrate him / that he maye be my prieſt. And thou ſhalt bringe his ſonnes alſo / a put the albes vpon them / and anointe them / so thou haſt anointed theer father / if they maye be my prieſtes. And thou anointing ſhalt they haue for an euerlaſtinge prieſtthode / amonge thee poſterites. And Moſes did all/as the Lorde commaunded him.

¶ Thus was the Tabernacle ſet vp in the ſecond yeare / vpon the ſixt day of the ſixt moneth. And when Moſes reared it vp/ he ſalted the ſolers/and the bedes/and barenes / and ſet vp the pillers / and ſpied out the tente oute the habitacion / and put the tenting of the tente aboue an hie/so the Lorde commaunded him/and he ſet the tenting / and laced it in the Arke/and put the ſtatue in the Arke / and ſet the Mercyſeate aboue vpon the Arke / and broughte the aulare to the habitacion / and hanged the vyle before the Arke of workeſſe/as the Lorde commaunded him.

B And he set up candellsticks also euen enca against the table / in the corner of the habitation / open the four sides / and put the lampes there on before the Lord / as the Lord commanded him. And the golden altiare set he in also before the veyle / and bene fore it in the thron / as the Lord commanded him. And hangd up the hangings in the tabernacle those. So set he the altiare of burnt offerings / he set it before the vore of the habitation of the Tabernacle of witness / as offered burnt offerings / and nicare offerings there on / as the Lord commanded him.

Exo. xxx. a And he laiet set he bene fore the Tabernacle of witness / and the altiare / and put water there to wash veyal. And Moses / Aaron / and his sonnes washed theyr hande a fere thim / for they ought to wash theyr hande when they go into the Tabernacle of witness / wher they went vnto the altiare / as the Lord commanded him.

E And he set up the court rounde aboute the habitation and the altiare / and hangd up the hangings in the court gate: Thus Moses finished the whole worke.

Num. ix. a When a cloude covered the Tabernacle of witness / and the glory of the Lord filled the habitation. And Moses coude not go into the Tabernacle of witness / wyle the cloude abode there in / and the glory of the Lord filled the habitation.

And when the cloude remoued from the habitation / then reuice the children of Israel / as they went in the way of theyr journey. But if the cloude remoued not / then toke not they there journey / all the daye / than remoued it from the way / tyme was the ende of the Lord vpon the habitation / and in the night season was fire there in the sight of all the house of Israel in all theyr journeyes.

The ende of the seconde booke of Moses / called Exodus.

The third booke of Moses called Leviticus.

The first Chapter.

And the Lord called Moyses / and spake vnto him / Exo. iij. a out of the Tabernacle of witness / as spake vnto the children of Israel / and saye vnto thim / Whosoever amonge you was uncleane of the carrell / or of the carrell / and of the thim.

If he wil bringe a burnt offeringe of the carrell / or of the carrell / when he cometh out of the carrell / before the vore of the Tabernacle of witness / so to reconeile himselfe before the Lord / let him laye his hande vpon the head of the burnt offeringe / then shall he be reconeiled / so that God shall be mercifull vnto him. Exo. iij. b

And he shall fill the vengerie before the Lord / and the prieste / or yongre sonne shall bringe the bloud / as spake in the court aboute the altiare / than before the vore of the Tabernacle of witness. And the same shall be layed from the burnt offeringe / as it shall be layed in peccat. And if sonnes of Israel the priest shall make a fyre vpon the altiare / as laye wood aboute there in / as the peccat / heade / and the fat shall they laye vpon the wood / that shall vpon the fyre on the altiare. And the bowle of kynges shall be washed with water / and the priest shall burne also greise vpon the altiare / as a burnt offeringe / this is an offeringe of a frete favour vnto the Lord.

If he wil offer a burnt offeringe of the final carrell / that is / of the lembe / or goate / when he cometh out of the carrell / before the vore of the Tabernacle of witness / so to reconeile himselfe before the Lord / let him laye his hande vpon the head of the burnt offeringe / then shall he be reconeiled / so that God shall be mercifull vnto him.

and it shall be burnt in peeces. And the priest shall lay them with the graine/and the fat upon the woodde that lyeth vpon the fyre on the aultare. But the bowels and kidneys shall be washed with water. And the priest shall offer it altogether / and burne it vpon the aultare for a burnt offering. This is an offeringe of a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

But if he will offer a burnt offeringe of the fowles vnto the Lord / then let him offer it of the male vnto the Lord / or of the yonge pigeons. And the priest shall bringe it vnto the aultare / and bringe y^e necke of it a linder / that it may be burnt vpon the aultare / and let the bloude of it runne out vpon the sydes of the aultare / as the egypte of it with the feathers / shall be cast vpon the heape of ashes / beside the aultare / to waide the east / and he shall waide the winges of it / but not breake them cleane of. And thus shall the priest burne it vpon the aultare / euen vpon the woodde that lyeth vpon the fyre / for a burnt offeringe. This is an offeringe of a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

The II. Chapter.

When a soule will offer a meaofferinge vnto the Lord / then shall it be of fyne flour / and he shall poure oyle vpon it / and put frankincense theron / and so bringe it vnto Darons sonnes the priestes. Then shall one of them take his handfull of the same flour and oyle / with all the frankincense / and burne it for a censer / vnto the aultare. This is an offeringe of a sweete sauour vnto the Lord. As for the remanent of the meaofferinge / it shall be Darons and his sonnes. This shall be the most holy of the offeringe of the Lord.

But if he will bringe a meaofferinge / of that which is bakyn in the oven / then let him take fyne flour / of wheate / mixe with oyle / a unleuened wafers / requered with oyle. Hee shall offer it / if the meaofferinge be any thinge of that which is ficed in the panne / then shall he take of fyne flour / mixe with oyle. And thus shall he offer it in peeces / and poure oyle theron / so is it a meaofferinge. But if the meaofferinge be dough / he shall offer it on the gredder / or on the bake / then shall he offer it of fyne flour / with oyle. And if the meaofferinge be of the wafers / he shall offer it of fyne flour / with oyle / and so shall he offer it in peeces / and poure oyle theron / so is it a meaofferinge. This is an offeringe of a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

bringe vnto the priest / which shall bringe it vnto the aultare / and shall brate vp the same meaofferinge for a remembrance / a burnt it vpon the aultare. This is an offeringe of a sweete sauour vnto the Lord. As for y^e remanent / it shall be Darons and his sonnes. This shall be the most holy of the offeringes of the Lord.

All the meaofferinges that ye will offer vnto the Lord / shall ye make without leuen. For there shall no leuen / or any thinge be burnt for an offeringe vnto the Lord. But for the offerings / that ye offer them vnto the Lord / they shall come vpon you without leuen for a sweete sauour.

All thy meaofferinges shall thou salt. And thy meaofferinge shall neuer be without salt. For this is the covenenent of thy God / for in all thy offerings shall thou offer salt. Coluy a

But if thou wilt offer a meaofferinge / of fyne flour vnto the Lord / then shall thou offer it with oyle / and beate it with the fyre / a beate it small / so offer the meaofferinge of thy first fruits. And thou shalt put oyle vpon it / and laye frankincense theron / so is it a meaofferinge. And thus shall the priest burne it / and burne of oyle / and of frankincense for a remembrance. This is an offeringe vnto the Lord.

The III. Chapter.

If his offeringe be a shank offeringe / of a grece eared / whether it be a roe / or a ewe / then shall he offer such as is without blemish before the Lord. It shall laye his hande vpon the heade of it / and shall set before the face of the Tabernacle of witness. And the priestes Darons sonnes / shall speere the bloude rounde aboute vpon the aultare / and shall offer of the shank offeringe vnto the Lord / and shall offer of the shank offeringe all y^e fat that is within / and the two kidneys / is the fat that is thereon upon the lynes / and the nete on the leuer vpon the kidneys also. And Darons sonnes shall burne it vpon the aultare for a burnt offeringe / euen vpon the woodde that lyeth on the fyre. This is an offeringe of a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

If his shank offeringe be of small eared / whether it be a roe / or a ewe / or a lamb / whether it be a male / or a female / then shall he offer it before the Lord / and shall laye his hande vpon the heade of it / and shall offer of the shank offeringe all y^e fat that is within / and the two kidneys / is the fat that is thereon upon the lynes / and the nete on the leuer vpon the kidneys also. And Darons sonnes shall burne it vpon the aultare for a burnt offeringe / euen vpon the woodde that lyeth on the fyre. This is an offeringe of a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

Tabernacle of witness. And Aaron's sonnes shall sprinkle his blood rounde about vpon the altare/and so offer of the thankes offering vnto the Lord: namely the fat of it/ all y^e rumpe with the backe/ and the fatte that ouereth the bottle/ with all the fat that is within / and the two kidneys with the fat that is thereon vpon the loynes/ and the nerte on the leaue vpon y^e kidneys also. And the priest shall burne it vpon the altare/ for the meate of y^e offering vnto the Lord.

C But if his offering be a goate/ and bungeleth it before the Lord/ he shall lay his hande vpon the heade of it/ and fill it before the Tabernacle of witness. And Aaron's sonnes shall sprinkle the blood rounde about vpon the altare/ as a shall offer of a sacrifice vnto the Lord: namely the fat that ouereth the bottle/ and all the fat that is within the two kidneys/ with the fat that is thereon vpon the loynes/ and the nerte on the leaue vpon the kidneys. And the priest shall burne it vpon the altare/ for the meate of the sacrifice to a sweete sauour.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses/ and sayd: Speake vnto the children of Israel/ and saye: When a foule sincheth youe/ youe maye cance/ in any commandment of the Lord: which he ought not to doe: As namely/ if a priest/ which is anointed sinne/ that he make the people to amisse/ he shall bunge for y^e sinne that he hath done/ a yonge bullocke/ without blemisse vnto the Lord/ for a sin offering. And the bullocke shall be bunge to the Doore of the Tabernacle of witness/ before the Lord/ and laye his hande vpon his head/ and fill him before the Lord. And the priest/ that is anointed/ shall take of his blood/ and bunge it vnto the Tabernacle of witness. And he shall dippe his finger into the blood/ and sprinkle it with seven times before the Lord/ towarde the raskle of the holy. And he shall put of the same blood vpon the haunces of the altare/ which standeth before the Lord/ in the Tabernacle of witness: and all the blood of the bullocke shall be poure vpon the haunces of y^e altare/ of burnt offeringe/ that standeth by the entrance of the Tabernacle of witness. And all y^e fat of sin offeringe shall be heaue vp: namely the fatte that couereth the bottle/ and all the fat that is within the two kidneys/ with the fat that is thereon vpon the loynes/ and the nerte on the leaue vpon the kidneys also. Like as he braunt it fro the oxe in y^e thankes offeringe/ a shall burne it vpon y^e altare/ of burnt offeringe. But the sinne of y^e bullocke/ or of y^e shep/ or of the heade/ or legges/ and the bottle/ and the bunge/ shall be carie altogether out of y^e doore into a cleene place/ where the ashe are poured out/ a shall burne it vpon the wood with fire.

When the whole congregation of Israel sinne sincheth thoro' ignorance/ and the Doore be hidde from thei' eyes/ so that they do ought agaynst any of the commandments of the Lord/ which they shoulde not doe/ and come askeward to the knowledge of the sinne/ if they haue done/ they shall bunge a yonge bullocke for a sin offeringe/ as for him before the Doore of the Tabernacle of witness. And the Elders of the congregation shall laye they hande vpon his head/ before the Lord/ and fill the bullocke before the Lord. And the priest that is anointed shall bing of the bullocke blood vnto y^e Tabernacle of witness/ and dippe there in with his finger/ and sprinkle the water seven times before the Lord/ caue before the Doore of the holy. And shall put of the blood vpon the haunces of the altare/ that standeth before the Lord/ in the Tabernacle of witness: and all the other blood shall be poure vpon the bottome of the altare/ of burnt offeringe/ that standeth before the Doore of the Tabernacle of witness. But all his fat shall be heaue vp/ and burne it vpon the altare/ and that he weigh his bullocke/ as he did with the bullocke of the sin offeringe. This y^e priest shall make an atonement for them/ and it shall be forgiven the. And the bullocke shall be bunge within the doore/ and burne him/ as he burne the fesse bullocke. This shall be the sin offeringe of the congregation.

Then shal he purifie the skynne of the floude of the sin offeringe with his fingers / a pur it vpon the hoines of the altare of burntofferings / a pouer the other floude vpon the bottoome of the altare of burntofferings. But all the fatte of it shal be burnt vpon the altare / lyke as the fatte of the thankofferinge. And so the priest shal make an atonement for his synne / and it shalbe forgiven hym.

f When a soule of the comune people synneth ignorantly / offeringe any thyng against the commaundement of the Lord / that he ought not to do / and so offendeth / a commeth to the knowledge of his synne / he hath done / he shal bringe for his offeringe / a hegoare / without blemish / for the synne that he hath done / and shal laye his hande vpon the head of the syn offeringe / a lye it in the place of the burntofferings. And he purifie the skynne of the floude with his fingers / and pur it vpon the hoines of the altare of burntofferings / a pouer it the blood vpon the bottoome of the altare. But all the fatte of it shal be take awaye / lyke as he take awaye the fat of the thankofferinge / a shal burne it vpon the altare for a sweete sauour vnto the Lord. And so shal the priest make an atonement for him / a it shalbe forgiven hym.

g But if he bringe a lambe for a syn offeringe / the ke him bringe a female without blemish / and laye his hande vpon the head of the syn offeringe / a lye it for a syn offeringe in the place where the burntofferings are slayne. And the priest shal take of the floude with his fingers / and pur it vpon the hoines of the altare of burntofferings / a pouer all the blood vpon the bottoome of the altare. But all the fatte thereof shal be take from it / lyke as he dyd the fat of the lambe of the thankofferinge / and shal burne it vpon the altare for the Lord for a sweete sauour. And so the priest shal make an atonement for the synne that he hath done / and it shalbe forgiven hym.

The V. Chapter.

When a soule synneth / the he breake a cue / a sin / and so transgresse thereof / or haue synne Le. xiii. 1. it is knowne it / and telleth it not / he is guilty of a trespass. 1. 2. Whi a soule toucheth any vncleane thinge / whether it be carion / of an vncleane beast / or carion / or womin / was not aware of it / he is vncleane / and hath offended. Or when he toucheth an vncleane man / what vncleannesse soeuer a man is defiled with / was not aware of it / a afterwaie cometh to the knowledge thereof / the he shal be offered. Or when a soule searcheth / so that he pronounce with his mouth / so tuell of good / or banis / soeuer it be / that a man pronounce it in an oath / was not aware of it / a afterwaie cometh to the knowledge thereof / he hath offended in one of these.

Now when it so is / that he hath offended / one of these / a is informed thereof / what he hath synned / he shal bringe vnto the Lord for his trespass / of his synne / that he hath done / a female from the flocke / or an ewe / or a hegoare / for a syn offeringe / so shall the priest make an atonement for him / a become his synne. 7. But if he be not able to bringe a shepe / then let him bringe vnto the Lord for his offeringe / he hath done / two turtle doves / or two yonge pigeons / one for a syn offeringe / the other for a burnt offeringe / a bringe them to the priest. Which shal make the first a syn offeringe / a shal bringe the necke of it / so that he plaucke it not cleane of / and synneth with the floude vpon the sides of the altare / and let the residue of the blood blede out vpon the bottoome of the altare. This is the syn offeringe. 8. So for other / he shal make it a burnt offeringe / after the maner thereof. And thou shal the priest make an atonement for him / concerninge the synne that he hath done / and it shalbe forgiven hym. But if he be not able to bringe two turtle doves / or two yonge pigeons / then let him bringe for his offeringe / a female from the flocke / or an ewe / or a hegoare / for a syn offeringe. But he shall purifie the residue thereof / by stank / vnto the Lord for a burnt offeringe. And he shal bringe it vnto the priest / and the priest shal take the benefite of it / for a remembrance / a burne it vpon the altare for an offeringe to the Lord. This is a syn offeringe. 11. And if a the priest make an atonement for him: because his sinne that he hath done: as he be for: give him: And the remembrance shall be made for a memoriall offering.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses: and said: If a soule trespass: so that hee: to ignorance: he offendeth in any thinge: that is beloved vnto the Lord: he shall bring his trespass offering: vnto the Lord: as a ramme from the flocke: without blemish: without defect of sight: / As for the scale of the Sanctuary: for a trespass offering: and loke what he hath offended in the halowed thinge: he shall make restitution: and geue the fifth part: more thereto. And he shall deliuer it vnto the priest: which shall make an atonement for him: with the caruue of the trespass offering: as he shall be: for geuen him.

When a soule sinneth: and hathough or gawayn any commendaunt of the Lord: that he shall be not do: as is foruidden: thereof: he shall trespass: as a giltty of sinne. And he shall bringe from the flocke a ramme: without blemish: that is: wonly a trespass offering: vnto the priest: which shall make an atonement for him: concerning this ignorance: which he hath: was not aware: and it shall be for: geue him. This is the trespass offering: because hee: trespassed against the Lord.

And the Lord talked with Moses: as he said: What a soule sinneth: and it passeth against the Lord: so that hee: cometh vnto his neighbour: that hee: which hee: hath done: to kepe: or to be: more pure: vnto his neighbour: that hee: hath violently taken away: or gotten: vnto his neighbour: or founde: that was lost: and cometh it with a false oath: or whatsoeuer it be: wherein a man sinneth against his neighbour: Now what hee: cometh to pass: that hee: sinneth: after this manner: and trespasseth: he shall restore: as geue: that hee: hath violently away: or gotten: vnto his neighbour: or that was geue: him to kepe: or that hee: hath founde: or whatsoeuer it be: as a booke: which hee: hath sworne: falsely: he shall restore: it agayne: whole altogether: / And geue: the fifth part: more thereto: euen to him: / It be: longed: vnto his: same day: that hee: geueth: his trespass offering: But for: his trespass: he shall bringe: for: the Lord: euen vnto the priest: a ramme: from the flocke: without blemish: hee:

that is: wonly a trespass offering. Then shall the priest: make an atonement for him: before the Lord: / All that hee: hath sinned in: shall be for: geuen him.

The VI. Chapter.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses: and said: Thou shalt see: the lawe of the burnt offering: / The burnt offering shall burne upon the altare: all things: vntill the morninge: But the fyre of the altare: / only shall burne thereon. And the priest: shall put on his linc: as hee: his linc: hee: shall be: / hee: shall take: vpon the altare: that the fyre: of the burnt offering: vpon the altare: hath made: and shall putte: them: beside the altare. Then shall hee: put of his rayment: and put on other rayment: and carry out the ashes: without the haell: / into a cleane place.

The fyre: vpon the altare: shall burne: and neuer go out. The priest: that shall be: the burnt offering: vpon it: and burne: the fat of the burnt offering: thereon. The fyre: shall be: burnt vpon the altare: and neuer go out.

And this is the lawe of the incense offering: which Aaron sonnes shall offer: before the Lord: vpon the altare. One of them shall be: to be: hee: that shall be: full of fine flour: of the incense offering: and of the oyle: and all the frankincense: that they: vpon the incense offering: and shall burne: it vpon the altare: for a sweete: savour: a remembrance: vnto the Lord. As for: the mercantur: Aaron and his sonnes: shall care: vnto: and wil: mended: that they: euen: in the holy place: / vntill: in the court: of the Tabernacle: of witness. With leuen shall they: not be: their portion: which I haue: geuen: the of my offerings: / shall be: vnto them: most holy: as the syn offering: / and trespass offering. All the malis: sinne: the children of Israel: shall care: of it. Let this be: a perpetual lawe: for your possession: in the sacrifice: of the Lord: / No man shall touch it: / except hee: be: consecrated.

And the Lord spake: vnto Moses: and said: This shall be: the offering: of Aaron: and of his sonnes: which they: shall offer: vnto the Lord: / in the day: of their: anniversary. The seuerall parts: of an ephra: of fine flour: / for a meat offeringe. Daye / the one halfe parte in the morninge / the other halfe parte at euen. In the pane with oyle shalt thou mete it and bringe it frid / and in peeces shalt thou offer it for the sweete sauoure of the Lo:de. And the priest / which amonge his sonnes shalbe appointed in his steade / shall do this. This is a perpetuall dewey vnto the Lo:de. It shalbe burnt al together for all the meat offeringes of the priest / shalbe consumed with the sprenges be eaten.

S And the Lo:de talked with Moses / and sayd: Speake vnto Aaron and his sonnes / a say: This is the lawe of the sin offeringe. In the place where thou layest the burnt offeringe / shalbe thou laie the fat: the kyngdomes of the Lo:de. This is most holy. The priest that offereth the sin offeringe / shal eat it in the holy place / in the court of the Tabernacle of witness. Whoso man shall touch the flesh thereof / receiue he be the oved. And if any garment be spindled with the bloude of it / shalbe washed in the holy place. And if the cauden parte that it is soden in / shalbe broken. But if it be a brazen pot / shalbe scoured / and rinsed with water. All the males amonge the priestes shall eat thereof: it is most holy. Whoso man shall touch all the sin offeringe / whether bloude is broughte into the Tabernacle of witness / so make an atonement / shall not be eaten / but burnt with fyre.

The VII. Chapter

AND this is the lawe of the trespass offeringe / and it shalbe most holy. In the place where the burnt offeringe is slain / shalbe the trespass offeringe be slain also / and there shall of his bloude be spindled rounde about vpon the altare. And all his same shall offer: the rumpe and the same that couereth the bowels / the two kyngdomes with the fat / that is vpon the luer / the kyngdomes / and the net on the liver vpon the kyngdomes. And the prieste shall offer it vpon the altare for an offeringe vnto the Lo:de. This is a trespass offeringe.

All the males amonge the priestes shall eat it in the holy place: it is most holy: as the sin offeringe / so shall the trespass offeringe be also: they shall both haue one lawe / and it shalbe the priest / that receiue they that with. And which priest offereth any man burnt offeringe / the synne of the same burnt offeringe / that he hath offered / shalbe his. And which meat offeringe that is bake in the oile / trosted vpon the greddyng / shalbe in the pane: shalbe the prieste that offereth it. And which meat offeringe / that is mingled with oyle / shalbe lode vnto al Aaron sonnes / vnto one as well as vnto another.

And this is the lawe of the thank offeringe / that is offered vnto the Lo:de. If they will offer a sacrifice of thank offeringe / then shall they offer vnto the Lo:de / mingled with oyle / a frewe mase / stred ouer the oyle / a frewe cake of fyne flour / mingled with oyle. This offeringe also shall they bringe vpon a cake of leued bread / so the thank offeringe of health offeringe / and of them all: shalbe eaten vnto the Lo:de. And it shalbe the prieste / that ministrith the bloude of the health offeringe. And the flesh of the thank offeringe / in his health offeringe / shalbe eaten the same daye there it is offered: a heere shall not synne the leste ouer / all the morninge.

And whether it be a heere / or a frewe will offeringe / in shalbe eaten the same daye that it is offered: if ought be left ouer / vntill the morninge / yet maye be eaten. But loke what remyneth vnto the thre day / of the flesh that is offered / it shalbe burnt with fyre. And if any man vpon the thre daye / eat of the flesh / of his thank offeringe / he shall not be accepted that offered it. Whether it shall be eaten vnto hym / burnt / shalbe a synne. And loke which soule eateth thereof / it is synne is gilty of a misdoer.

And the flesh that toucheth any vncleane thinge / shal not be eaten / but burnt with fyre. But whosoferre is cleane of body / shal eat of the flesh: a heereule that eateth of the flesh of the thank offeringe / which shalbe vnto the Lo:de / a vncleane be vnto him: a heereule shal be reioiced out from amonge the people. And whoso soule toucheth any vncleane thinge / whether it be an vncleane man / or any other vncleane thinge / or a vnto the flesh of the Lo:de / shalbe reioiced out from amonge the people.

And the Lord talked with Moses / and sayd: Speake vnto the chyldren of Israel / and saye: Ye shal care no fat of euen / lambe / and goat: / neither of the fat of it that is vpon alone / and of fische also in ronne of wyde beastes / that maye ge orupty to al manner of vscal / but ye shal not eat it.

Leuit. iij.

For whosoeuer eateth the fat of the beaste / it is giuyn into the Lorde for an offeringe / the same shal he be rodd out from his people: / For court / ye shal care no blood / neither of cattell / nor of fowles / where soeuer ye dwell. chyldren of Israel / to offer the offerings vnto the Lorde / in the wilderness of Sinai.

The VIII. Chapter.

And the Lorde spake vnto Moses / and sayd: Take Zaron / and his sonnes with hym / and theyr vestmentes / and the auoyntage oyle / and a bullocke / for a synnefferinge / two rannes / a a maunde with vnto the beate / and call the whole congregation together / before the doore of the Tabernacle of witness: / Moses do as the Lorde commaunded him: / a gaude the congregation together vnto the doore of the tabernacle of witness / and said vnto them: This is it that the Lorde hath commaunded to vs.

And he take Zaron / and his sonnes / and washed them with water / and put the albe vpon hym / and girded him with the gyrd / and put vpon hym the valere tunicle / a put the aulcane vpon hym / and gyrd him vnto the outbody roote / and put the shallop sheron / vnto the beete / the light and pectness. And set the water vpon his beate. And op on the myre / keut about his forehead / a put a plate of golde on the holy troune / as the Lorde commaunded Moses.

And Moses toke the auoyntage oyle / and auoynted the habitues / and al the robes therein / and consecrated it / and spintified the vnto seven times vpon the aulcane / a auoynted the aulcane with all his vessels / the lauer with his foie / that he might be consecrated: / and poured the auoyntage oyle vnto Zarens head / a auoynted hym / that he might be consecrated.

And he brought Zarens sonnes / and put the albe vpon them / and gyrd them with the gyrd / and put bonnetes vpon their beades / as the Lorde commaunded hym.

And he caused to bring a bullocke for a synnefferinge. And Zaron with his sonnes layd their handes vpon his beate / and then was he name.  And vpon the eighth daye / Moſes called vnto Aarō and his ſonnes/ a the elders of Iſrael/ and ſayde vnto Aarō: Take vnto the a younge calfe for a ſinne offeringe / and a ramme for a burnt offeringe.
 Forth with oue ſleim / a ſlange them before the Lo: d: and ſpeake vnto the eldres of Iſrael/ and ſpe: Take an he gaete for a ſinne offeringe / and a calfe and a ſhepe/ both of a yeaer olde/ and without blemiſh for a burnt offeringe:
 and an ewe/ and a ramme for a burnt offeringe: that we maye offer before the Lo: d: and make offeringe mingled with ayle. For ſo daye ſhal f. Lo: d

Lev. v. b.

Leuit. 14. a † Aaron wente vnto Harar/ and slew: he calls for his synoffering / and his sonne broughte the bloud vnto hym. And he dypt his finger in the bloud/ and put it vpon the hoines of the aultare/ and poured the bloud vnto the botome of the aultare. So for the fat/and the kidneys/ and the liver/ vpon the leuer of the synoffering/ he burnt them vpon the aultare/ as the Lord commaunded vnto Mose. The skin also/ and the hyde/ burne he with fire/ without the doore.

¶ Afterward he slew the burnt offeringe.
 And Aaron synnes broughte the blood vnto hym/ and he sprinkled it rounde aboute vpon the aultare. And they brought him † burnt offeringe in peeces/ and the head/ and he burnt it vpon the aultare. And he was shed the bowels and the legges/ and burne them aboue vnto the burnt offeringe ouer the aultare.

Leuit. 14. c Then brought he the offeringe of † people/ a cake the graine/ that synneofferinge of the people/ and slew it/ and made a synneofferinge thereof/ as of the first. And broughte the burnt offeringe/ and hid as the lawe is: and brought the meateofferinge/ and toke his handfull/ and shewt it vnto the aultare/ beside the burnt offeringe of the morninge.

¶ Afterward stode he before a the ramme/for the thalfeofferinge of the people. And his sonnes broughte him the bloud/ which he sprinkled vpon the aultare rounde aboute. But the fat of the one of the ramme/ the rompe/of the fat that couereth the bowe/ the kidneys/ and the liver/ vpon the leuer/ as such fat layd they vpon the brest/ a burnt the fat vnto the aultare. But the brest/ and the right shoulder/ wouch Aaron for a waueofferinge before the Lord/ as the Lord commaunded vnto Mose.

Leuit. 14. d And Aaron layt vp his hande ouer the people/ and blessed them/ and came vnto frothe wife of the synofferinge/ burnt offeringe/ and thankofferinge. And Mose and Aar wente into the Tabernacle of wit-nesse. And when they came our againe/ they blessed the people. Then appeared the glory of the Lord vnto all the people. For there came a fire from the Lord/ and it consumed the burnt offeringe/ and the fat vpon the aultare.
 When all the people sawe that/ they reasoyd/and sd vpon they faces.

Ex. 1. 1 chapter.
 ¶ In the fouces of Aaron/ Uadab and Abi whiche were cyther of their kinne/ and and layd the necesse vpon it/ and broughte strange fyre before the Lord/ which he commaunded them not.
 Then wente there out a fyre from the Lord/and consumed the same/ that they dyed before the Lord. The same Moses vnto Aaron. This is it that the Lord sayde/ I will be sanctified vpon them/ that come nye me/ a before all the people/ for I be grauius. And Aaron had his peace.

¶ Moses called Misael and Elzaphan son-nes of Uiel/ Arons vnder/ a fyre vnto the Goate/ earye youe burnt out of the Tabernacle/ without the doore. And they wente/ a carried them for the synnes/ aboue/ without the doore/ as Moise sayde.

¶ Then sayde Moise vnto Aaron/ and to his sonnes Elazar and Ithamar: ye shall not uncover your brests/ vnto the people/ whiche ye are not/ at the waye come vpon the whole congregation. Let your bresten of the whole house of Israel see/ this burninge/whiche the Lord hath done. As for youe shall not go out from the doore of the Tabernacle of witnessethall ye/ for the synne of the Lord is vpon you. And they dyd as Moise sayde.

¶ The Lord spake vnto Aarons saine: Thou a thy sonnes/ with the that synne/ no synne nor strange dwelle/ whiche ye go into the Tabernacle of witnessethall: that ye dye not. Let this be a perpetuall lawe vnto all youre posterites: that ye maye haue knowledge to discreite/ whiche is holy a vnholye/ whiche is cleane a vncleane: a that ye maye teache the chyldren of Israel all the lawes/ whiche the Lord hath spoke vnto you by Moise.

¶ And Moise sayde vnto Aaron/ and vnto Elazar/ and Ithamar his sonnes/ that were left. Let the remnant of the meateofferinge/on the sacrifices of the Lord/ a care it wythour leuen/ beside the aultare/ for it is most holy/ euen in the holy place/ whiche ye call it. For it is as the vntury/ a the fouces dwelle in the sacrifices of the Lord/ for this an I commaun-not the cud / therfore is it vncleane vnto you.

 Of the fowles / wherof shall ye not eat: / as they carcase / for they are vncleane vnto you.

These shall ye eat / of all that are in the watere: Wharfoore hath synne / a scales in the water / so / as a ryuce / that shall ye eat. But wharfoore hath not synne / and scales in the fere / a ryuce / a maneage al that moue in wa-an abhominacion vnto you / so that ye eat not of theyr flesch / a ye abhorre theyr carcase. For all that haue not synne / a scales in the watere / shall ye abhorre.

And these shall ye abhorre amonge the fowles / so that ye eat them not: The Eagle / the Goshawk / the Cosmo / aunte / the Vultur / the Byc / and all his kynde / a all Rauens with theyr kynde / the Strich / the Nighthew / the Heron / the Jaye with his kynde / the Rapping / a the Swallowe. And wharfoore except amonge the fowles / a goeth vnto foure feet / shall be an abhominacion vnto you. / For these shall ye eat of the fowles / that creep and go vpon foure feet: euer those / that haue no faces aboute vpon legges / so hoppe with all vnto earth. Of these may ye eat / as there is the. / with his kynde / a the Scala / with his kynde / a the Gaeuoll with his kynde / and the Hagab with his kynde. But wharfoore the hath foure feet amonge the fowles / a shall be an abhominacion vnto you / and ye shall tast for vncleane. / Wharfoore wherof they carcase of such / shall be vncleane vnto you. / And wharfoore wherof the carcase of any of these shall walsh his clothes / and shall be vncleane vntill they be care.

Therfore wherof they hath an hoofe / a beu-
 de / it not into two clawes / and wherof not the cud / shall be vncleane vnto you. Wharfoore wherof the fowles / shall be vncleane. And wharfoore wherof the cud / but they beu-

The XII Chapter.

¶ And the Lorde spake vnto Moyses/and Aharon/and sayeth vnto the chyldren of Israe el/and sayeth vnto a woman. hath coccaued/and beareth a man chyld/shal be vncleane seven dayes/so longe as she suffreth her dis ease/and in the eighth daye shal the fleth of his foete/yn be cut away. And she shal hyde at home/thre and thryr dayes/in the blood of her purifyinge/shal touch no holy thing/nei come in the Sanctuary/til the dayes of her purifyinge be out. But if she beare a maide chyld/then shal she be vncleane two weekes/so longe as she suffreth her disease/and if she and the seuen dayes shal she hyde at home/in the blood of her purifyinge.

¶ And when the dayes of her purifyinge are ouer/for the foame of the boagher/shal she bringe a lambe of one yeare elde/for a burnt offeringe/and a yonge pigeon/for a tur nill/for a synnes offeringe/into the doie of the Tabernacle of witness/unto the priest/wher shal offer it before the Lorde/a make an atonement for her/and so shal she be clea red from her bloody yssue. This is the lawe for her that beareth a man chyld/so may be defyle.

¶ But if she be not able to bring a shepe/che let her take two turnill/dues/ou two yonge py geons/the one for a burnt offeringe/the other for a synnes offeringe/then shal the priest make an atonement for her/so that she shal be cleane.

place then the other fyenne of his flefhe/ there is it surely a leproyse/therfor shall y^e priest loke vpon hym/ and iudge hym vnclene.

But when there is any white plecte in the fyenne of his flefhe/ yet sente no deeper then y^e other fyenne of the flefhe/ and the heere be not turned to whyte/ the rbe puell shall shut hym vp fene dayes/ and on the seventh daye/ loke vpon hym/ the plague seme vnto hym as of other hard fyre no deeper in the fyenne/ ether that the puell shute hym vp yet fene dayes into. And when he lokeh on hym as agayne/ vpon the seventh daye/ a fynderth that the plague be darkish/ and hard fyre no deeper in the fyenne/ the shal he iudge hym cleane/ for it is but a fyffe/ for he shal walke bys clothes/ as then to be cleane.

B But when the scabbe fremeth farther in y^e fyenne/ after that he is fene of the puell/ and iudge cleane. It be the more fene of y^e puell agayne w^h the puell seyh the i hat y^e scabbe had fre farther in the fyenne/ the shal iudge hym vnclene/ for it is surely a leproyse.

When a plague of leproyse is vpon a maⁿ the shal be thought vnto the puell. W^h he seyh a fynderth/ that there is whyte cyson vp in the fyenne/ the heere turned vnto whyte/ and there be caⁿ w^h flefhe in the face/ the is it surely an olde leproys in the fyenne of his flefhe/ therfore shal the puell iudge hym vnclene/ a noe shut him vpon for he is vnclene already.

But w^h the lep^osy dealeth out in the fyenne/ a couereth the rebale fyenne/ from the heade vnto the foete/ that the puell e. se. So when the puell lokeh vpon it/ a fynderth that the leproys had couered all the flefhe/ he shall iudge hym cleane/ for so much as is turned al into whyte vpon hym/ for he is cleane.

C Nowe in laudinge/ if there be saw flefhe on hym/ in the bare w^h he is lokeh vpon/ the is to be vnclene. And w^h the puell seyh y^e name flefhe/ he shal iudge hym vnclene/ for he is vnclene/ a it is surely a leprose. But if the same flefhe deagie agayne/ a be turned into whyte/ then shal be come vnto the puell. And when the puell lokeh vpon hym/ a fynderth that the plague is turned to whyte/ he shal iudge hym cleane/ for he is cleane.

When there is a dyke in the fyenne of any mans flefhe/ and healeth agayne/ and a fice ward in same place there arise vp any white thyng as a glistering white/ some what reddy/ he shal be fene of y^e puell. So w^h the puell seyh y^e he appeareth to be lower the the other fyenne/ and the heere turned to whyte/ then shal he iudge hym vnclene/ for it is surely a plague of leproyse/ a shoke out of the dyke. But if the puell se/ a fynderth that the heere are not whyte/ a that it is no lower the the other fyenne/ a it is darkish/ he shall shut him vp fene dayes. The hard fyre farther in the fyenne/ the shal he iudge hym vnclene/ for it is surely a plague of leproyse. But if the glistering whyte abyde still/ and fre no farther/ then is it but a pynte of y^e dyke/ a the puell shal iudge hym cleane.

W^h the fyenne of any mans flefhe is huete with fyre/ and the pynte of the burninge is to reddy or whyte/ and the puell lokeh vpon hym/ and fynderth the heere turned to whyte/ vpon the marke of the burninge/ and it appeer deeper the the other fyenne/ then is the fyenne surely a leproyse thed^e out of the pynte of the burninge/ therfore shal the puell iudge hym vnclene/ for it is a plague of leproyse. But if the puell se a fynderth/ that the heere vpon the pynte of the burninge/ is no turned vnto whyte/ and is no lower the the other fyenne/ and is darkish/ also he shall shute hym vp seven dayes.

And vpon the seventh daye he shal loke vpon hym/ if he hath fre farther in the fyenne/ then shal he iudge hym vnclene/ and it is a leproyse. But if it stande still vpon the marke of the burninge/ and fre no farther in the fyenne/ and is darkish/ then is it a foie in the marke of the burninge/ and the puell shal iudge hym cleane/ for it is but the pynte of the burninge.

When a man or woman is fyrrys vpon the heade or beede/ a the puell seyh y^e marke/ and fynderth that it appeareth deeper/ then the other fyenne/ and the heere be there golden and chynne/ the shal he iudge hym vnclene/ for it is a fyrie of leproyse of the heade/ or of the beede. But if the puell se that the fyrie appeer no deeper the the fyenne/ and that the heere is not of a pale colour/ he shall shut him vp fene dayes. And vpon the seventh daye/ when he lokeh a fynderth/ y^e the fyrie upon the kper And he shal commaunde him deo / whid: arc cleane / and Cedar woad / and purple wolle / and yspice / and hal commaunde y one byrd to be fylled in an earthen vessell our spynnyng water. And he shal take the luyngge byrd / with y Cedar woad / the purple wool and yspice / and byppe them in the bloude of the flaxen byrde / upon y spynnyng wa ter / and spicelle the seven tymes upon hym / y must be cleinsd from y leprosse. And so cleins byrd / and let the luyngge byrd styce at laber into the felde.

B But he that is cleinsd / shal wash his clo thes / and y bare of all his haire / and barp him selfe with water / so is he cleane. Then roud / he bym go into the byst / wher he take the same wate our hie ten fene / dices. And upon y seventh daye / shal be shawe of all the haire upon his byrd / upon his e / and upon his shewen / so that all he haire be shawen of / and he shal wash his clothes / and barp his sh / in water / then so be cleane.

And upon the eyght daye / shal he take two lambe / without blemishe / and a shepe of a yere old / about blemishe / and thre tenth deales of fyne floure / for meate offeringe / myn gled with oyle / and a logge of oyle. The prieust offer him that is cleinsd / and these thynges before the Lord. And he take y Tabernacle of witness / and shal take the one lambe / and offer it for a trespass offeringe / w y logge of oyle / and shal waue them before the Lord. And afterwarde slaye y lambe / where the syn offeringe and burnt offeringe are slaine / us and in y holy place. For as the syn offeringe / so is the trespass offeringe the priestes also / so it is moost holy.

C And the priest shal take of the bloude of y trespass offeringe / and put it upon the tipp of the ryght care of bym / that is cleinsd / and upon y thombe of his ryght hand / and upon the great toe of his ryght foote. Then ward shal he take of the oyle / out of the logge / and poure it into his owne left hand / and byppe his ryght finger in the oyle / that is in his left hand / and spicelle the oyle with his synge seven tymes before the Lord. And so the remnair of the oyle in his hand / be shal put it upon the tipp of the ryght care / of bym / y

is cleinsd / and upon the thombe of his ryght
hand / and upon the great toe of his ryght foote / as he doth upon y bloud of y trespass offeringe. But the remnair of y oyle in his hand / shal he poure upon the head of bym y is cleinsd / and make an atonement for him before the Lord. And he shall make the same offeringe / and reconyle bym / that is cleinsd / because of his uncleanesse. And afterwarde shal he slaye the burnt offeringe / and shal offer it upon the altare with the meate offer ing / and make an atonement for him / and then is he cleane.

D And if y de poure / a geyt / th not so much in his hand / the leu hym take one lambe for a trespass offeringe / to waue it / to make an at onement for bym / as a tenth deale of fyne floure mingled with oyle / for a meate offeringe / and a logge of oyle / and two turt doves / or two yonge pygones / wher he be unable to geue th his hand / let he offer a syn offeringe / the other a burnt offeringe / and let bym byp them upon the eighth daye of his cleinsing unto the priest before the doore of the Taber nacle of witness / so be one the Lord.

Then shal the priest take the lambe for y syn offeringe / and the logge of oyle / and shal waue them all before the Lord / and slaye y lambe of the trespass offeringe / and take of y bloude of the same trespass offeringe / and put it upon the tipp of the ryght care / of bym / that is cleinsd / and upon the thombe of his ryght
hand / and upon the great toe of his ryght foote / and poure of y oyle into his owne left hand / and with his ryght finger / spicelle y oyle / that is in his left hand / seven tymes be fore the Lord.

And so the remnair of the oyle in his hand / be shal put it upon the tipp of y ryght care / of bym / that is cleinsd / and upon the thombe of his ryght hand / and upon y great toe of his ryght foote / seven obne upon the bloude of y trespass offeringe. The other oyle in his hand / shal be poure upon the head of bym / that is cleinsd / to make an atonement for him before the Lord. And afterwarde of the one of the turt doves / or yonge py gones / accorde yuge as his hande is acable to shall the priest make an atonement for him & to cleanse before the Lord.

Leuitic 16. is the lawe for the leper / which is not able with his hande to get that which belongeth vnto his cleansing.

¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moses a Teron / and sayde: When yeare come into the lande of Canaan / which I geue you to possess / and if ther happed a plague of leprosy in any house of your possession / then shall he that oweth the house come and tell the priest and saye: The trouble is to me as it were a plague of leprosy in my house. The which the priest commaunde to rydde all things out of the house / or ethe the priest go into the plague / shall he take in the house be made vncleane. Afterwarde shall the priest go in to see the plague.

Now when he seeth / and fyndeth / that there be holes / or cracks / or slowes / or rednes in the walles of the house / and they seeme to be lower then the walles beynde / then shall he go out at the doore of the house / and thine up the house for seven dayes. And upon the seventh daye when he cometh / and seeth that the plague hath fretted farther in the walles of the house / then shall he commaunde to beake out the stones when the plague is / and to cast them in a foule place / without the cytye / and the house to be scraped within rounde aboute / and the dust that is scraped of / to be poured without the cytye / in an vncleane place / and to take other stones / and put them in the place of the aker / and to take other playster / and playster the house.

¶ When the plague than cometh stayne / a beatech found in the house / as in the stones are taken out / the playster scraped of / and the house playsted of the new / then shall the priest go in / and whā he seeth that the plague hath fretted farther in the house / then there surely a freyngle professe in the house / and it is vncleane / therfor shall the house be taken downe / with the stones / & the timber / & all the dust of the house / shall be carryed out of the cytye / vnto an vncleane place. And who so goeth into the house / whyche it is shut up / is vncleane vntill the euen. And he that seeth the same / or toucheth them / shall wash his clothes.

But if the priest seeth that he goeth in / that the plague hath fretted no farther in the house / after that the house is new playsted / then shall he wadge it to be cleane / for the plague is healed. And to a freyngle professe for the house / he shall take two byrdes / eether wood / or purple wall / and yfep / and slaye the one byrde in an earthen vessel / upon springinge water / and shall take the eether wood / or purple wall / the yfep / and the lyuynge byrde / and dippe them in the bloude of the slayne byrde / upon the springynge water / & spenke the house withal seven tymes / and so shall he purifie the house with the bloude of the byrde / with the springynge water / with the lyuynge byrde with the eether wood / with the yfep / with the purple wall. And the lyuynge byrde shall be let flye at liberty out of the toune into the felde / and make an atonement for the house / and then is it cleane.

This is the lawe ouer all manner plague of leprosy / and ffre / ouer the leprosy of clothes / or of houses / ouer so: of scabbes / a gyltynge wyche / whiche maye be knowne / when any thyng is vncleane or tiane. This is the lawe of leprosy.

The XV Chapter.

¶ And the Lord talked with Moses and Teron / and sayde: Speake to the children of Isreal / and saye vnto them: When a man hath a runninge yssue / or scoure out of his flesh / the same is vncleane. But then is he vncleane / by the reason of this yssue / when his flesh is fretten of the issue / or scoure. Every byrde / whereon he lyeth / and whatsoeuer he feedeth vpon / shall be vncleane.

And he that toucheth his bed / shall wash his clothes / and bath himselfe with water / & be vncleane vntill the euen.

And he that sitteth where he sitteth / shall wash his clothes / and bath himselfe with water / and he that toucheth him / shall wash his clothes / and bath himselfe with water / and he that toucheth his bed / shall wash his clothes / and bath himselfe with water / and he that toucheth him / shall wash his clothes.

And the scabdel / and whatsoeuer he seeth / upon / shall be vncleane. And whatsoeuer toucheth any thyng / that hath been vnto him / shall be

and a ramme for a burnt offering.

Lev. 17. 6

And Aaron shall bring the bullock for his own sin offering; / and he shall make an atonement for himselfe and his house; / and afterwarde shall he take the two goats; / and present them before the Lord: / and he shall cast lots over the two goats: / the lotte of the one goat for the Lord; / and the other for the sic goat. And the goat that the Lord doth sell upon; / shall be a sicre for a sin offering. But the goat that the sic goat lot fell upon; / shall be present ayne before the Lord: / to make an atonement for him; / and to let the sic goat go into the wilderness. And so shall he bring the bullock of his sin offering; / and make an atonement for him; / and his household; / and shall kill him.

And he shall take a fennel of coales from the altar; / that standeth before the Lord; / and his handfull of beaten incense; / and bringe them in within the vayle; / and put the incense upon the fire before the Lord: / that the cloude of the incense maye cover the mercy seat; / which is upon the witnessse; / that he dye not. And he shall take of the blood of the bullock; / and spencle it with his finger; / toward the Mercy seat; / on the sacrifice. Seven tymes shall he spencle of the blood; / thus with his finger; / before the mercy seat.

Then shall he kill the goat; / which is the peoples sin offering; / and bringe in of his blood within the vayle; / thus with his blood; / as he dyd with the blood of the bullock; / and spencle thre tymes also on the sacrifice; / toward the mercy seat; / and so shall he reconyle the Sanctuary from their trespasses in all their synnes. Thus shall he do unto the Tabernacle of witnessse; / which is the habitation with them; / amonge their uncleennesse.

¶ A man shall in the Tabernacle of witnessse; / when he goeth in to make an atonement in the Sanctuary; / onely he goe out; / and so shall he make an atonement for himselfe; / and his house; / and for the whole congregation of Israel. And when he goeth forth into the altar; / that standeth before the Lord; / he shall reconyle; / and shall take of the bullockes blood; / and of the goates blood; / and put it upon the houses of the altar; / round about. And with his finger shall he spencle of the blood thre tymes; / thus with a balance; / and consecrate it from the uncleennesse of the dycten of Israel.

And when he hath made an ende of reconynging the Sanctuary; / and the Tabernacle of witnessse; / at the aultere; / he shall bring the synnys goat.

Then shall Aaron laye both his handes upon the heade of him; / and confesse over him all the iniquities of the dycten of Israel; / and all theyr trespasses in their synnes; / and shall laye them upon the heade of the goat; / and by some man that is at hande; / shall he let hym runne into the wilderness; / that the goat maye beare all theyr iniquities upon hym; / into the wilderness; / and he shall leaue hym in the wilderness.

And Aaron shall goe into the Tabernacle of witnessse; / and put of thyr hymin clothes; / which he put on; / when he went into the Sanctuary; / and shall leaue them there; / and bath his flesh with water in the holy place; / as put on his own raiment.

And he shall goe forth; / and make his burnt offering; / and the burnt offeringe of the people; / and make an atonement; / both for himselfe; / and for the people; / and burne the same of the synnys goat upon the altar. But he that carryeth out the sic goat; / shall wash his clothes; / and bath himselfe with water; / and then come into the host.

¶ The bullocke of the synnys goat; / and the goat of the synnys goat; / whose blood was brought in the Sanctuary; / to make an atonement; / shall be carryed out of the host; / and burne with fire; / both theyr synnes; / fleshe; / and synnys. And he that burneth the; / shall wash his clothes; / and bath himselfe with water; / as they come into the host.

¶ And this shall be a perpetual lawe unto you; / Upon the tenth daye of the seventh moneth; / shall ye humble your selves; / as do no worke; / whether it be one of your fleshes; / or a stranger amonge you. For in this day is your atonement made; / that ye maye be cleyned from all your synnes; / before the Lord; / herfor shall it be a feare Sabbath unto you; / and for shall humble your selves. Let this be a perpetuall lawe.

But

But the priest that is anoynted/and whose hande was seald wth his pinkt/in his fathers shade/shall cleanse this anoyntment/and shall put on the linnen clothes/namely the holy vestiments/so shall he reconyle the holy Tabernacle/and the Tabernacle of witnessse/and the aultare/and the priestes/and all the people of the congregacyon. ¶ This shalbe a perpetuall lawe vnto you/that ye reconyle the children of Israel from all theyr synnes/once a yere. And Moses dyd as the Lorde commaunded hym.

Ch. XVII. Chapter.

¶ Vnto the Lorde called with Moses/and sayd: Speake vnto Aaron and his sonnes/and to all the chyldren of Israel/and say vnto them. Thus is it that the Lorde hath commaunded. Whatsoeuer he be of the house of Israel/that kyllen an eye/limbe: or goar in the boole/ or out of the boole/ and dyngeth it not before the doore of the Tabernacle of witnessse/that it may be brought vnto the Lorde for an offeringe before the habitation of the Lorde/ the same shall gylye of blood/as though he had shed blood: and such a man shalbe roted out from amonge his people.

¶ Therfore shal the chyldren of Israel bringe theyr offerings: that they wyll offer vpon the wyde kynde before the Lorde/cure before the doore of the Tabernacle of witnessse/vnto the priest/and theyr offer they: then the offeringes vnto the Lorde. And the prieste shall spenke the blood vnto the aultare of the Lorde before the doore of the Tabernacle of witnessse/ and burne the fat for a sweete sauour vnto the Lorde: as they shal offer eche offeringe: a no more vnto deuto/ with whom they go a whoring. This shalbe a perpetuall lawe vnto them/ amonge theyr possessions.

¶ Therfore shal thou saye vnto them: What man soeuer he be of the house of Israel/ or a straunger also/ that is amonge you/ which offereth a burnt offeringe/ or any other offeringe/ and dyngeth it not before the doore of the Tabernacle of witnessse/ to offer it vnto the Lorde/ he shalbe roted out from amonge his people.

¶ And what man soeuer he be/ eicher of the heuys of Israel/ or a straunger/ amonge you/that catch any maner of blood/ agaynst him selfe/ for my san/ and wyll rote him out from amonge his people: for the foure of the body in the blood/ as I haue geuen it you for the aultare/ your soules may be reconyled therewith: for the blood that is in the soule/ it maketh anoyntment. Therefore haue I sayd vnto the chyldren of Israel/ no soule amonge you shal eate blood: no/ nor any straunger that dwelleth amonge you.

¶ And what man soeuer it be amonge you/ whether he be of the house of Israel/ or a straunger amonge you/ that as the huryuge taketh a beast or fowle/ which may be eaten/ he shal poure out the blood of the same/ as couer it vnto the earth: for all this I saye in the blood.

¶ And I haue sayd vnto the chyldren of Israel: Ye shal eate the blood of no maner of fleshe: for the lyfe of all fleshe is in his blood. Whatsoeuer eateth it/ shalbe roted out. And whatsoeuer soule eateth it/ which dyed alone/ or that was rotye of wyld beasts/ whether he be one of yours/ selous/ or a straunger/ the same shal wele be his claye/ and shal him selfe with water/ and he vnto an vnto the euen/ and then he be clene. But if the flesh use his clothes/ thou shalt hym selfe/ than shal he beare his synne.

The XVIII. Chapter.

¶ Vnto the Lorde called with Moses/ and sayd: Speake vnto the chyldren of Israel/ and say vnto them: I am the Lorde your God. Ye shall not do after the worke of the lande of Egypte/ wherein ye dwelt: neither after the doynge of the lande of Canaan/ into to the which I will bringe you. Ye shal not walk after theyr customes/ but eache man let his waye be as his/ and my statutes shal ye kepe/ that ye maye walke therein: for I am the Lorde your God. Therefore shal ye kepe my statutes and my lawes. I for the man that doeth Rom. 7. a the same/ shall lye therein/ for I am the Lorde.

¶ Woman shall come at his next kynnesman/ to vncouer her pymyte: for I am the Lorde.

defyled / for that is awaye from her husbande / for he is holy vnto the Lord: therefore shall he sanctifye hym selfe / for he offereth the beade of the Word: shall be holy vnto the Lord: I am holy cittie the Lord: it shall sanctifye you.

If a priestes daughter fall to whoringe / she shall burne with fyre / for she hath sinned her father. He that is bye priest amonge his brethren / vpon whose heade the enuyngne oyle is poured / and his hande fylled / (that he might be awayed with the vestmentes) shall not vneouer his heade / nor rai his clothes / a shall come at no dead / and shall defyle hym selfe / neyther vpo father / nor mother. He shall not go out of the Sanctuary / for he vnhalowe not the Sanctuary of his God / for he creeue of an enuyngne oyle of his God is vpo hym / for I am the Lord.

4 A wyge shall be take to wyfe / but no man shall be vnhalowe / nor defyled / nor whore / but a wyge of his owne people shall be take to wyfe / he vnhalowe not his sode / amonge his people. For I am the Lorde / which sancti fy hym.

5 And the Lord talked with Moyses / and sayde: Speake vnto Aaron / and saye: If there be a blemyshe vpon any of thy sibe / in your generacion / the same shall not p:cesse to offre the beade of his God: for whosoeuer hath a blemyshe vpon hym / shall not come neare / whither he be blynde / lame / with an euell favoured nose / teeth any mysfapen member / or hath had a brok / or had / or a creeke becked / or hath any blemyshe in the eye / or is ghed / or is stryze / or scalded / or hath his sto noe broken.

6 Whosoeuer now / of the sibe of Aaron / the priest hath any blemyshe vpon hym / shall not come nye to offre the sacryfices of the Lord.
For he hath a defoume: Therefore shall he not p:cesse vnto the beade of his God / nor offre it.
Nor shall he stand neare the beade of his God / both of the body / and of the most holye: nor he shall nor go into the waye / nor come nye the auter / for so much as he hath a blemyshe vpon hym / that he vnhal: we ny Sanctuary. For I am the Lord: that sanctifye the. And Moyses spake this vnto Aaron / and his sonnes / and to all the chyldren of Israel.

The XXII. Chapter.

1 The Lord talked with Moyses / and sayde: Speake vnto Aaron / and his son nes / that they absteyne from halowed thynges of the chyldren of Israel / which they haue halowed vnto me / as they vnhalowe not my holy name: for I am the Lord: Saye nowe to them / and they: posterite: Whosoe uer be of youre sibe / if cometh nye vnto the holy thynges / which I sayde of Israel halowe vnto the Lorde / and so defyleth hym selfe vpon that same / his soule shall perishe be fore my face: for I am the Lord.

2 Whosoeuer of the sode of Aaron is a leper / or hath a runnyng / or shall not care of the holy thynges / shall be defiled. Who so toucheth any vnclene thyng / or whosode separateth from hym by a gybe / or who so toucheth any woman that is vnclene vnto hym / or a man that is vnclene vnto hym / and whosoe toucheth defyleth hym / like what soule toucheth any such / is vnclene vntill the euen / and shall not

not care of the holy thynges / but shall synne with his fleche wth water. And when the Sonne is gone downe / and he be cleane when maye he eate thereof / for it is his food. Take wherewith aloncs is rote of wythe bestes / shall he not eate / that he be unclean therout for I am the Lord. Therefore shall they kepe my lawe / that they lade not synne upon them / and bre thern / when they unhalowe them selues in it. For I am the Lord / that halowe them.

B A stranger shall not care of the holy thynges no / an hyred seruaunt. But of the priest by a soule for his money / the same maye eate thereof.
And he that is borne in his house / maye eate of his bread also. Whertheff / of the priestes donghur be a straungers wyfe / she shall not care of the Sacrafices of holynesse. But if she be a wedow / or a widow / or haue no feder / and somneth agayne to her fathers house as afore / when she was yet a mayden in her fathers house / then shall she care of her fathers bread. But no stranger shall care thereof.

Who so do catch of the halowed thynges / unwittingly / shall put the syffe parte there vnto / and geue it vnto the priest with the hal-owed thynges / that they unhalowe / not the hal-owed thynges of the dytche of Israel / which they heaue vp vnto the Lord / lest they lade them selfe wth mysdoynge and trespass / when they care their halowed thynges / for I am the Lord / which halowe them.

E And the Lord called vnto Moyses / and sayde: Speake vnto Aaron and his sonnes / and to all the children of Israel. Wherfor Istradite of stranger in Israel wyl do his offaynge / wherby it be they: aome for of fire will / & they will offre a burnt offeringe vnto the Lord / to reeconcile them selfe / it shall be a male / and without blemys of bledgen / or lam-bes / or goates. Wherforer hath any blemys he shall they not offre / for they shall fynde no fauour thertw.

Mal. 1. b

And whoso will offre a thant offeringe vnto the Lord / no separate out a vome / or fre will / or of shepe / it shall be without blemys he that it maye be accepted. It shall haue no defourtye. If it be blynde / or broken / or wounded / or haue a wone / or stryde / or strabbe / they shall offre none siche vnto the Lord / wher is an offeringe of any such vpon the altare of the Lord.

An oxe or shepe / that hath misthapen memberes / no rompe mayst thou offre of a free will / but to a vome it maye not be accepted.
Thou shalt offre also vnto the Lord no thyng that is blynde / or broken / or cut out / and yet shall he no siche in your lande. No reouer ye shall offre no bird vnto your God of straungers hadde: for it is marred of blynd and he hath defourtye / therfore shall it not be accepted vnto you.

And the Lord spake vnto Moyses / sayd: When an oxe / or lambe / or goate is brought forth / it shall be seuen dayes wth the wyne / a vpon the egypte wyne / and thersafter it maye be offered vnto the Lord / when it is accepted: Wherby it be oxe / or lambe / it shall not be slayne wth his yonge in one day.

But when ye will offre a thant offeringe vnto the Lord / that it maye be accepted / ye shall care it the same daye / & kepe no thyng ouer vntil the morninge: for I am the Lord. Therfore kepe now my commaundement / a do them: for I am the Lord / that ye unhalowe not my holy name / and that I maye be hallowed amonge the children of Israel. For I am he that halowe you vnto the Lord / which brought you out of the lande of Egypte / that I might be your God vntil the Lord.

The XXIII. Chapter.

And the Lord talked vnto Moyses / and sayde: Speake vnto the children of Israel / and saye vnto them: These are the feastes of the Lord / whiche ye shall call holy dayes: Six dayes shall be the feastes of Israel / but the seuenth daye to the rest of the Sabbath / and shall be called holy. Ye shall vnto make them in for it to the Sabbath of the Lord / wherforer care ye well.

These are the feastes of the Lord / that are called holy / whiche ye shall call your feastes: Upon the fourteenth daye of the first moneth at euen / is the Lords Easter / a vpon the fyfth daye of the same moneth / is the feast of the vnleueden bread / of the Lord.
Then shall ye eate vnleueden bread seuen dayes.

The first daye shall be called holy among you /

coding to his way beside the Sabbath of 7 Lord/and you're gifts/and moone/a frum offering/and that ye offer unto the Lord.

¶ So upon the seventh day of the seventh moeth/whan ye haue brought in y^r incense of y^r land/y^r shall kepe the Lord's feast seven dayes longe. The first day shall be holy daye/ and the eighth daye shall be holy daye also. And upon the seyth daye ye shall take of y^e goodly fruit full tree/ of figges and palm trees/ and of branches of these trees/ and willow of the brooke/ and seven dayes shall ye be merry before the Lord: for the voice Godd and thus shall ye kepe: the feast onto the Lord seven dayes in the year. This shall be a perpetuall lawe amonge you: for s^{er}uence/ that they kepe holy daye: thus in y^e s^{er}uence in oneth. Sette daye a shal ye dwell in booths: Wh^o focuser is an Israelite borne: shal dwell in booths/ and they which come after you/ in y^e knowe/ s^{er}ue that I made the: children of Israel to dwell in booths wher/ wher I brought them out of the lande of Egypt: I am the Lord your Godd. And Moses tolde the children of Israel these holy dayes of the Lord.

The XXXIII. Chapter.

¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moses/ and sayde: I commaunde the children of Israel/ that they bringe pure oyle/ olyue beaten for lightnes/ that it maye be alwaye put in the lampes/ in y^e house/ before the vauel of the wor-neskeur/ Tabernacle of witness. And Aaron shal besette it alwaye at euen and in the mornyng before the Lord: Let this be a perpetuall lawe vnto youe posterite. The lampes shall be besette vpon the pure candlestick before the Lord: perpetuallly.

¶ And thou shalt take fine flour/ and bake it: and take of y^e three fourthes shal every cake haue/ and thou shalt laye them sit on a s^{er}ue upon the pure table before the Lord.
 And upon the ninth shalte thou laye pure frankincense/ y^e it maye be beset of a memoriall/ for an offering vnto the Lord: every Sabbath shal be prepare them before the Lord alwaye/ and it cur the of the children of Israel/ for an everlastinge conuincement. And they shall be Arons a his s^{er}uence/ which shall see them in the holy place. For this is his most holy of the offerings of the Lord.

for a perpetuall seruy.

And there cometh out an Israelite womans soune/ which was the child a man of Egypt/ amonge the children of Israel/ and stroue in the boole with a man of Israel/ & he named the name of the child blasphemously/ and called it: Then brought in they him vnto Moses. His mothers name was Selomith/ the daughter of Dib^ol/ of y^e tribe of Dan. And they put him in prison/ till they receiue iudice-ment by the mouth of the Lord.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses/ and sayde: Bring him vnto me/ and I will let them that berde it/ saye they handes vpon his heade/ & let the whole congregation stone him. And saye vnto the children of Israel/ Wh^o focuser blasphemeth the Godd/ shal beare his name/ and by that blasphemeth the name of the Lord/ shal dye the death. The whole congregation shall stone him. As the stranger/ so shall be of the birth: he be also.
 If he blasphemeth the name/ he shal dye.

He that slayeth a man/ shal dye the death: but he that slayeth a beest/ shall paye for it: he shall be sold for s^{er}uice. And he that smiteth his neyghbour/ shal be s^{er}ued: vnto whom/ when as he hath done: he shall be sold for s^{er}uice: for s^{er}uice: when as he hath smitten a man/ so shal he be s^{er}ued: vnto whom/ when as he shall have slayeth a beest/ shal paye for it: he that slayeth a man/ shal dye. These shall be the lawes amonge you/ for the stranger/ as to one of youe fill: for I am the Lord your Godd.

Moses tolde the children of Israel. And they brought him that had cursed/ out of the boole/ & stoned him. This was the children of Israel as the Lord commaunded Moses.

The XXXV. Chapter.

¶ And the Lord talked with Moses vpon y^e mount Sina/ and sayde: Speake to the children of Israel/ and saye vnto them: When ye come into the lande/ that I shall geue you/the land shal rest vnto the Lord/ so that y^e some the seide sixe years/ and sixe yeares cut they wyndes/ and gather in the fruite. In the seventh yeare the land shal haue his Sabbath of rest/ for a Sabbath vnto the Lord: wherint thou shalt not sowe thy s^{er}uice/ nor cut thy vyne.

Take what growth of it selfe after thy harvest/ thou shalt not reap it. And it grapes that growe without thy labour / shalt thou not gather / for so much as it in the year 3 of the lande rest. But the rest of the lande shalt thou kepe for thy meeke / that thou maye cate thereof / thy seruants / thy mayde / thy bulcunge thy selfe / thy stranger with thee / thy catt / & the bestee in thy lande. At the increase shall be meeke.

B And thou shalt numbre yeere of these yeere Sabbathes / that foure yeeres may be tolde seven times / and so the nine of the seue yeere Sabbathes / make nyne a foire yeeres. Then shalt thou let it blaste of the home go thow to all yourc lande / upon the tenth day of the seuen month / euen in the day of attonement. And ye shal halowe that fyfth yeere / as shall call it a fre yeere in the lande / for all them that haue possession / and to all his hired / for the fyfth yeere to the yeere of Iubile. Ye shal not sow / nor eate it / that growth of it selfe / nor gather the grapes / that growe without labour. For the yeere of Iubile shall be holy amonge you. But lest what the selde beareth / that shal ye eate. This is the yeere of Iubile / when ye shall come agayne euery man to his owne.

C Now when thou selst ought vnto thy neighbour / or byest any thing of him / therc shal of you none appoyse his brother / but according to the numbre of 7 yeeres of Iubile shalt thou bye it of him / and according to the numbre of the yeeres of increase shal be sel vnto the. According to the multitude of yeeres shal thou saye the price / according to the strength of the yeeres shal thou numbre the price / for he shal sel it vnto the / according to the numbre of the increase. Therefore let no man be fraide his neighbour / but feare thy God. For I am the Lord your God. Wherefore do after my statutes / and kepe my lawes / so that ye do then that ye may brell safe in the lande. For the lande shal geue you her fruit / that ye shall haue ynough to eate / & dwell comfortably.

And if ye wolde saye / What shal we eate in the seventh yeere / in so much as we shal not sowe / nor gather in ourc increase / I will sende my blessing vpon you in the sixt yeere / that it shall bringe forth fruite for the yeere / so that ye shall sowe in the eighth yeere / and eate of the olde fruite / until the ninth yeere / that ye maye eate of the olde / all the fruite come agayne. Therefore shal ye not sel the land for euer / for the lande is myne. And ye are strangers / and in dwellers before me. And in all yourc lande shal ye geue yourc lande to loue.

When thy brother weeth peoe / and selleth his possession / and die iustice finnan cometh to him / that he maye redeme it / then shall he redeme that his brother sold. But when a man hath none to redeme it / and ceit gett so much with his hande / as to redeme one part / then shall it be redemed how many yeeres it hath ben sold / and the man that shal be redemed vnto him / to whom he sold it / that he maye come agayne to his possession. But if his hand can not gett so much / as to haue one part agayne / then shal it be sold / be still in the hande of the buyer / vntil 7 yeere of Iubile. In the same shal it go out / and returne to his owner agayne.

He that selleth a dwelling house / within the walle of a cytie / that is a whole yeere before he louen out agayne / shal be the name / when he maye redeme it. But if he redeme it not afore the whole yeere be out / then shal he that bought it / and his successors / kepe it for euer / and it shall not go ourc lossen in the yeere of Iubile. Neuertheless / if it be an house in a village that haue no walle about it / it shal be counted lyke vnto the felde of the countrey / and maye be redemed / as shal go ourc stre in the yeere of Iubile.

The cyties of the Leuitas / and the houses in the cyties / that theyr possession is in / maye alwaye be redemat. Whoso purchaseth ought of the Leuitas / shal leaue in it the yeere of Iubile / whether it be house or cytie / that he hath had in possession. For the houses in the cyties of the Leuitas are theyr possession / amongst the children of Israel. But if he die before there yeere shal not be / he shal leaue it to his owne for euer.

When thy brother gett the power / and selleth his frange / before the Lord / shal he that ye shoulde not be theyr bondmen. And I haue ben the cepter of your yoke/and caused you to go vpon yte.

And if ye wyl not heere vnto me/ nor do all thes commandementes / and wil despise my statutes / and if your soules despise my lawes / that ye wyl not do al my commandementes / and shall let my commaunt stande / then wil I do this agayne vnto you : I wil visite you shortly with swelnynges and scures / which shall vntroste the eyes / and consume amonge the here. Ye shall sowe your sowe vayne / and your rymes shall eat it vp.

E And I wil set my face agaynst you / and ye shalbe slaine before your enemyes. And they shall hate you / shall haue Dominion ouer you.

And ye shall see when no man shall yee. But if ye will not heere vnto me / for all this / then wil I make it yet fyer tymes more / to punyssh you for your synnes / that I may beate y^e pride of your strength / and will make your heauen life vayne / and youe earth abuisse / and your traynall and laboure shalbe but lost / so that your lande shal not geue increase / and the trees in the lande shall not bringe forth theyr fruite.

If ye walke yet agaynst me / and wil not heere vnto me / then wil I make it yet seuen tymes more / to punyssh you / because of your synnes / and wil sende wilde bestes amonge you / which shall robbe you / and vntroste your land / and make you fewce / a your hye waye shall become wastell.

But if ye will not yet be reformed here / with all / and wil walke contrary vnto me / then wil I walke contrary vnto you also / and will punyssh you yet seuen tymes for your synnes. And I wil bringe vpon you a streake of vengeance / which shall auenge my Testamēt. And though ye gather you together into your cyties / yet wil I sende the pestilence amonge you / and wil deliuer you into the handes of your enemyes : for I wil vntroste your pourtion of bread / so that your women shall bake your bread in our oven / and your bread shalbe deliuered out by waye. And what ye eat / ye shal not haue strength.

If ye will not yet for all this heere vnto me / and will walke contrary vnto me / then wil I also walke contrary vnto you in what shall de-spicafare / and will punyssh you seuen felde / because of your synnes / for that ye shall care the slabe of your sonnes & daughter. And I will vntroste your eye anilars / and rote one your ymagines / and will cast your bodyes / vpon the bodies of your Idols / and my soule shall abhorre you. And your cyties will I make wastell / and bringe your churches to nought / a will not smill your sweete odoures.

Then wil I make the lande desolate / so that your rymes shall dwell therein / and make it wastell : but you wil I scatter amonge the heathen / and drawe out the sworde after you / so that your lande shalbe wastell / and your cyties desolate.

Then shal the lande rest in her Sabbes / for then / as lange as it hath wastell / and ye be in the enemyes lande. Yet / then shal the lande sepe holy dayes / and reioyce in her rest / as lange as it hath wastell / because it could not rest in your Sabbes / when ye dwelle therein.

And as for them that remaine of you / I wil make them saynthereed / in the lande of their enemyes / so that a shalyng leafe shall chase them. And they shall fflye from it / so though a swerde persecuted them / and shall sal noman following vpon them. And they shall sal one vpon another / Cas it were because the sworde / and noman yet change thim. And ye shal not be so bold / as to withstande your enemyes / and shall crye amonge the heathen / and the lande of your enemyes shal cate you vp.

And they that are left of you shall pynne amonge in theyr misdeed / enen in the enemyes lande / and in the misdeed of theyr fathers / that they consume a waye. Then shal they knowe theyr misdeed / and the misdeed of theyr fathers in the misdeed / where with they haue trespassed agaynst me / and walked contrary vnto me. Therefore wil I also walke contrary vnto them / a will bringe them into the enemyes lande.

Then shal they one reuenge here be tamed. And then shal they end their misdeed. And I shall reuenge vpon my enemies / as I did vpon Jacob / and vpon my commaunt with Abram / and vpon my commaunt with Braham / and will shynke vpon the lande. So for the lande / when it shal be left of them / it shall it shall reioyce in his Sabbathes / euen then / when it heyrh music / and they yllit it not.

And they shall make attonement for theys misdedes / because they vsposid my lawes / and theyr soules vsfild my statutes. Moses ouer / I haue not vs refused them / that they shoulde be in / & entynce lande: neyther haue I so vtrely adboord them / that I would bringe them to nouight / and breake my covenante with them: for I am the Lord: theyr God. And for theys sake I wil remembre thynnyng syns conuenant / when I brought them out of the lande of Egypt / in the sight of the Egypten / that I might be theys God: Euen I the Lord.

These are the ordinaunces / statutes and lawes / which the Lord made betwixt hym and the chyldren of Israel / upon mount Synay / by the hande of Moses.

The XXVII. Chapter.

I And the Lord spake with Moses / and sayd: Speake to the chyldren of Israel / & say vnto them: If any man make a speciall vowe vnto the Lord: / so that he paye a soule / then shall this be the valuation: A man of xx. yeare olde / vnto the lx. yeare / shal thou set at xij. sylvler Syckles / after the syckle of the Sanctuary. And a woman a threty Syckles. If he be v. yeare olde vnto xx. yeare / thou shalt set it at iij. Syckles / when it is a maie

vi. i. ij. g. chylde: but a woman / in ten syckles. If a be a woman olde vnto fytte yeare / thou shalt set it at fyve syckles of syluer / when it is a man chylde: but a woman / in thre syluer syckles. If he be lx. yeare olde / a about them shalt thou set vnto the Lord: when it is a man / a woman at ten syckles. If he be to poore / so to be set / then let hym that bought it / set it to the priest / and the priest shall value him. Ifeuer the skelle he shall value him / according to f. hande of hym that vowe / he is able to get. But if it be a beest / that maye be offered vnto the Lord / all that is offered vnto the Lord: of f. hande / in hayn / shall not be altered / nor chaunged / a good for a bad / or bad for a good. If any man chaunge / or one beest for another / then shall they both be holy vnto the Lord. But if the beest be vndeane / or bad / may not be offered vnto the Lord: then shall it be set before the priest / and the priest shall value it / whether it be good or bad / and it shall stande at the price / the valuinge. But if any man will buye it out / he shall geue f. syckle paye more / so that it was for a.

When any man sanctifyeth his house vnto the Lord: / for the Sanctuary / the priest shall value it / whether it be good or bad. And as the priest valuerh it / so shall it stande. But if he be sanctified: it will redeme it / he shall geue the fyfth parte of syluer thereto / about that it was for a: So shall it be his.

If any man halowe a peece of lande of his heritage vnto the Lord: it shall be set according to dynges of f. ebarah. If it beare an Homer / of barley / it shall be valued at fyfye syckles of syluer. But if he halow his lande / immediately from the yeare of Jubilee forth / then shall it be set according to the value therof. If he haue halowed it after the yeare of Jubilee / then shall the priest reckon it according to the yeare: the remayne vnto f. yeare of Jubilee / and thereafter shall he set it the lower.

But if he the sanctified the lande / will redeme it agayne / then shall he geue the fyfth parte of syluer thereto / about that it was for a: so shall it be his. If he will not redeme it out / but sell it vnto another / then shall he geue me it no more: but the sanctified / when it cometh ouer in f. yeare of Jubilee / shal be holy vnto the Lord: as a dedicated feld: and shall be purified therteanne.

If any man halowe vnto the Lord a feld / which he hath bought / and is not his inheritance / then shall the priest reckon it / when it is to come vnto the yeare of Jubilee / and the same vale shall he geue the price that it is for a: as vnto the Lord: for the Sanctuary. But in the yeare of Jubilee / it shall remeue vnto hym that bought it / but it maye be his inheritance in the lande. All manner of possessione shall be made according to the Cycle of the Sanctuary. One Cycle maketh xx. yer

- ¶ The children of Asser/they: kynredes and generacions / after they: fathers houses / in the numbre of the name / from xx. years a boure / all that were able to go forth to y warre / were numbred to the thyse of Asser / 43. thousande and vi. hundred.

The children of Nephthali/they: kynredes and generacions / after they: fathers houses / in the numbre of the name / from xx. years a boure / all that were able to go forth vnto the warre / were numbred to the thyse of Nephthali / 45. thousande and vii. hundred.

These are they / whom Moses and Aaron numbred with the swete prynce of Israel / whos of every one was one of the house of their fathers. And y summe of y children of Israel / after they: fathers houses / from xx. years and about / what so euer was able to go forth to y warre in Israel / was 60. thyse thidre thousande / the thousande / 7. vii. hundred / and 4. thyse. But the Leuites / after the thyse of they: fathers / were not numbred amonge them.

And the Lorde spake vnto Moses / and sayd: The thyse of Leui shall thou not numbre / nor take the summe of them amonge the children of Israel. But thou appoynte them to the habitacions of witness / and to all y apparel thereof / and to all the diligenc therof. And they shall beare the Tabernacle / and all the ordinnance thereof / and shall weyie vpon it / and shall pitch they: tentes round about it. And when men shall go on they: iourneys / the Leuites shall take vpon the Tabernacle / and when the host pitcheth they: tentes / they shall set vp the Tabernacle. And if a stranger possesse vnto the he shall by. The children of Israel shall pitch they: tentes / every one in his owne array / and by y dñer of his owne company. But the Leuites shall pitch rounde about the tabernacle of witness / thre come now vnto vpon the congregacion of the children of Israel: the thyse shall y Leuites weyie vpon the Habitacon of witness. And the children of Israel vnd all / as the Lorde commanded Moses.

The 11. Chapter.

¶ And the Lorde spake vnto Moses and Aaron / and sayde: The children of Israel shall pitch the tabernacle about the Tabernacle of witness / every one vnto his banne / and to his tent / after there fathers houses.

On the East side shall Juda pitch / with his banne / and host / they: captiues / in Nabasson / the sonne of Ammadab. And his array / in the summe / seure and threenty thousande and six hundred. Next vnto hym shall the thyse of Issachar pitch / their captiues / 40.

thanael/the sonne of Saaran his armye/in the summe four and fifty thousande / and foure hundred. The tribe of Zabulon also they captayne Eliab/be sonne of Selon: his armye/in the summe / seven and fifty thousande/and foure hundred.

So that all they / which belonge vnto the hoost of Iuda/be in the summe an C. lxxi. and foure score thousande / and foure hundred / belonginge to theyr armye/and they shall go before.

B On the South syde shall lye the pavilions and banner of Nuben/with their hoost/ they captayne Elixir / the sonne of Sedour and his armye / in the summe sixe and foure thousande / and fyve hundred. Next vnto him shall lye the tribe of Simeon with their captayne Schimull / the sonne of Sui Sedar: and his armye/in the summe nyne and fyve thousande / and the hundred. The tribe of Gad also/they captayne Eliafop / the sonne of Segull:and his armye / in the summe / fyve and fourety thousande / fy: hundred and fyfye. So that all they / which belonge vnto the hoost of Nuben / be in the summe an hundred and fyfye thousande / four hundred / and fyfye:belonginge to theyr armye. And they shall be the seconde in the iourney.

C After that shall the Tabernacle of witness go with the hoost of the Leuites / euen in the myddell/amonge the hoost: and as they lye in their tentes / so shall they go forth also: euey one in his place / vnder his banner.

On the West syde shall lye the pavilions and banner of Ephraim / with their hoost: they captayne shall Elifara / the sonne of Amihud:and his armye/in the summe / fourety thousande / and fyve hundred. Next vnto him shall lye the tribe of Manasse: with their captayne Gariell / the sonne of Debaure: his armye/in the summe / two and thirtie thousande and two hundred. The tribe of Beniamin also/their captayne Thidam / the sonne of Gedon: his armye / in the summe / fyve and thirtie thousande / and foure hundred. So that all they / which belonge to the hoost of Ephraim / be in the summe an hundred thousande / xlvj. thousande / and an hundred belonginge to bys armye. And they shall be the thrid in the iourney.

On the North syde shall lye the pavilions and banner of Dan / with their hoost: they captayne Thier / the sonne of Amim Sada / his armye / in the summe / two and thirtie thousande / and seuen hundred. Next vnto him shall be the tribe of Asser: with their captayne Dagnal / the sonne of Ochan: his armye / in the summe / one and fourety thousande / / fyve hundred. The tribe of Naphtali also their captayne Thier / the sonne of Ehan: his armye / in the summe / the and fyfye thousande and foure hundred. So that all they / which belonge to the hoost of Dan / be in the summe an hundred and thirtie thousande / seuen and fyfye thousande / and sixe hundred. And they shall be the last in the iourney with their banners.

This is the summe of the dyscibers of Israel / after they fathers hoosts and armyes with their hoostes: euen sixe hundred thousande / the thousande / fyve hundred / and fyfye. But the Leuites were not numbred in the summe amonge the dyscibers of Israel / for the Lord commaunded Moses. And the dyscibers of Israel did as the Lord commaunded Moses. And so they putted vnder theyr banners / and rote theyr iourney: euey one in his kyned / accordinge to the hoost of theyr fathers.

The xlii. Chapter.

These are the generations of Aaron and Moyses / when the Lorde spake vnto Moyses at the same tyme / vpon mounte Sina. And these are the names of the sonnes of Aarō. The firstborne / Nadab / the Abin / Eleasa and Jehama. These are the names of the sonnes of Aaron / which were alyue / and were to be prieftes / and their handes filled for the priefthode: But Nadab and Abin dyed before the Lorde / when they offered straunge fyre before the Lorde / in the wilderness of Syna / and had no sonnes. But Eleasa and Jehama created prieftes office with their father Aaron.

And the Lorde spake vnto Moyses / and said: thus sayde: Doyng together the tribe of Leui / and vnto my selfe them before Aarō the priefte / that they maye serue with hym / and waite vpon him / and vpon the whole congregacion: for the Tabernacle of witness / and create the summe of the Habitation / and kepe the apparell of the Tabernacle of witness and waite upon the children of Israel, to minister in the service of the habitation.

B And thou shalt give the Levites unto Aaron and his sonnes for a gift, onto every one his own, from amonge the children of Israel. As for Aaron and his sonnes, thou shalt appoint them to waite, and they shall officiate.

s id viij. b

And the Lord spake unto Moses, and he sayde: Beholde, I have taken the Levites from amonge the children of Israel, for all the first borne that open the wombe amonge the children of Israel, so that the Levites shall be mine.

Ex. d. xii. a

For the first borne are mine, saith the Lord, for all the first borne that I sate in the lande of Egypt, when I brought you out of the lande of Israel, from men unto cattell, for they shall be mine, saith the Lord.

C And the Lord spake unto Moses in the wilderness of Sinaï, and sayde: Number the children of Levi after their fathers houses, in synodes, all that are males of a month olde, and above.

Exod. xij. c

So Moses numbered them, accordinge to the worde of the Lord, as he had commaunded: And these were the children of Levi by their names: Gerson, Kohath, Merari. The names of the children of Gerson, in they synodes were: Issi, and Gemal.

The children of Kohath, in they synodes were: Amram, Jechi, and Schimon, and Uziel. The children of Merari, in they synodes were: Machi, and Mushi. These are the synodes of Levi, after they fathers houses.

S These are the synodes of Gerson: The Libnetha, Semitha, and Summe, was founde in number, xij. thousande, a hundred, of all, were males of a month olde, above. And these are the synodes of Gerson, shall put behinde the habitation, on the westside. Let Elisaph, the sonne of Uziel, be their keeper. And they shall waite upon the Tabernacle of witness, of the habitation, a of the court, a covernment thereof, a the hanginge in the voic of the Tabernacle of witness, the hanginge about the court, a the hanginge in the court voic, which court, goeth about the habitation, and the aulster, and the court of it, and all that belongeth to the service thereof.

These are the synodes of Kohath: The Antimon, the Jechonico, the Schimonico, and Uzielico, all that were males of a month olde, above, in number, vij. thousande, and vij. hundred, waytinge upon the Tabernacle, on the fourthside of the habitation. Let Elisaphan, the sonne of Uziel, be their keeper. And they shall kepe the Arke, the table, the candlestickes, the aulster, and all the vessels of the Sanctuary, to do service in, and the voyce, and all that belongeth to the service thereof. But the chief of all the rulers of the Levites, shall be Elisaph, the sonne of Aaron, the chief, over them, they are appointed to kepe the ward of the Sanctuary.

These are the synodes of Merari: The Melchior, and Mithra, to whiche were in number, six thousande, and two hundred, all that were males of a month olde, and above: Let Juchiel, the sonne of Uziel, be their keeper, and they shall put behinde the fourthside of the habitation. And they shall kepe the borders, and barriers, and pillars, and sockets of the habitation, and all the apparell thereof, and that serveth therein, the pillars also, about the court, with the sockets, and nayles, and cordes.

Due before the habitation, and before of the Tabernacle, on the Eastside, shall Moses, and Aaron, and his sonnes, put, that they may waite upon the Sanctuary, and the children of Israel. If any other please them, to be shall saye.

All the Levites, in the summe, whom Moses, and Aaron, numbered, after they synodes, accordinge to the worde of the Lord, of all that were males of a month olde, above, were xij. thousande.

And the Lord sayde unto Moses, Number all the first borne, that are males, amonge the children of Israel, of a month olde, and above, and take the number of they names. And the Levites shall thou take out, unto me, the Lord, for all the first borne of the children of Israel, and the cattell of the Levites, for all the first borne, amonge the cattell of the children of Israel. And Moses numbered all the first borne of the children of Israel, as the Lord commaunded him, and in the number of the of the names of all the firstbornes / were males of a monthe olde / and above / in theyr summe / they were founde / xij. thousande / q. hundred / and lxxij.

And the Lord speake vnto Moses / and sayde / Take the Leuites for all the firste borne / amonge the chyldren of Israel / and the earneill of the Leuites / for theyr earneill / that I Leuites may be myne the Lordes. / But I redemption moneye of the ij. hundred lxxxij. that comynge of the first borne of the chyldren of Israel / aboute the number of the Leuites / shalbe thou take a mynnyng of every head / after the fele of Sattuary / I Consciencele worth according to the word of the Lord / as I have sayde vnto thee / and thou shalt geue vnto Aaron and his sonnes.

Then vnto Moses the redemption moneye / that comynge ouer / aboute the number of I Leuites / from the firste borne of the chyldren of Israel / euen a thousande / q. hundred / and v. / and lx. seles / after the fele of the Sanctuare / and gaue it vnto Aaron and his sonnes / according to the word of the Lord / as I the Lord commanded Moses.

The III. Chapter

¶ And the Lord speake vnto Moses and Aaron / and sayde / Take the summe of the chyldren of Ahabab / from amonge the chyldren of Leui / after theyr byrth / and fathers houses / from xxx. yeare and above / vntill l. yeare / all that are mete for the warre / that they maye do the worke in the Tabernacle of witness. / This shalbe the offyce of the chyldren of Ahabab in the Tabernacle of witness / which is most holy.

Jo. xxxij. a

Jo. xv. b

¶ When the hoost breakeb vp / Aaron and his sonnes shall go in / and take downe the waye / and cover the Ark of witness therewith / and laye the coveringe of Goosfynnes vpon it / and spredde a whole yalowe cloth aboute thereon / and put his stauis therein. / And vpon the shewe table they shall spredde a yalowe clothe also / and set thereon the vsbes / sponces / flaspices / and pottes to ponne oute in / and the waye breake shall laye vpon it / and they shall spredde a purple clothe there once / and cover it with a coveringe of Goosfynne / and put the stauis of it therein.

And they shall take a yalowe cloth / and cover the candles / these of figure therewith / and his lampes / with a s. of floss / and our quenchers / and all the oyle vessell that belongeth to the seruice / and aboute all this they put a coveringe of Goosfynnes / and put it vpon the stauis.

¶ So shall they spredde a yalowe cloth ouer the golden altare also / and cover the same with a coveringe of Goosfynne / a purp. in vpon stauis. / All the vessell that they occupye in the Sanctuare / shall they take / and put a yalowe cloth there ouer / and cover them with a coveringe of Goosfynne / and put them vpon stauis. / They shall strepe the affires also from the altare / and spredde a cloth of scarlet ouer it / for all his vessell therein / that they occupye vpon it / euen the shewes / the vbes / the basins / with all the apperall of the altare / and they shall spredde a coveringe of Goosfynnes thereon / and put his stauis thereon.

Jo. xxxij. b

¶ Now when Aaron and his sonnes haue done this / and haue covered the Sanctuare / and all the ornaments thereof / when the hoost breakeb vp / then shall the chyldren of Ahabab go in / that they maye beare it / and the Sanctuare shall they not touch / lest / they dye. / This is the charge of the chyldren of Ahabab / in the tabernacle of witness.

¶ And likewise the sonne of Aaron / the prest shall haue the officce / to prepare the oyle for the light / and the sponces for the witness / and the waye offeringe / and the anoynting oyle / to order the whole habitacions / all that therein is / in the Sanctuare and the ornaments thereof.

¶ And the Lord speake vnto Moses and Aaron / and sayde / Ye shall not destroy the tabe of the byrth of the Ahabab / amonge the Leuites / but this shalbe do. / w. b. them / they maye lye / and not dye / if they com to most holy. / Aaron and his sonnes shall go in / and appoynte euey one vnto his offyce a charge. / But they shall not go in presumptuously to lye vpon the Sanctuare / lest / they dye. / And the Lord speake vnto Moses and Aaron / and sayde / Take the summe of the chyldren of Gerson also / after theyr fathers house / and byrth / from xxx. yeare olde / and aboute m. lxx. vij. d. all l. yeare / and appoynte them all that are ment for the warre / to haue an office in the Tabernacle of witness.

D This shalbe the office of the kyned of the Gersonites: euen to serue a to beare: they shal beare the curtains of the habitation / or of the Tabernacle of witness: and his courtynge / or the courtynge of good wynde: that is aboute thereon: and hanging in the bove of the Tabernacle of witness: and the hanging about the court: which goeth aboute the habitation and the altar: and their cordes: and all the instrumentes that serue for them: and all that belongeth to their decapenge. Accordynge vnto the worde of Aaron / and of his sonne: shall all the assise of the chyldren of Gerson be done: wha soeuer they shall beare a decapre. And ye shall sit that they wayte vpon al their charge. This shalbe the office of the kyned of the chyldren of the Gersonites: in the Tabernacle of witness. And they waynyng shalbe vnder the bande of Jihamar / sonne of Aaron the priest.

E The chyldren of Merari: after theyr kyned and fathers houses / shalbe thus appoynted also: from xxx yearre and aboue: vnto l. yearre: all that are meit for the warre: that they may haue an office in the Tabernacle of witness. But vpon this charge shal they wayte: accordynge to all the office in the Tabernacle of witness: that they beare the bedes of the behutens: and the barres: and pylers: and sketes: the pylers of the court also / rounde aboute: and the sketes: and nayles: and cordes: with al their apparel: accordynge to all theyr seruce. And vnto euery one shall ye appoynt his portion of charge: to wayte vpon the apparill. Let this be the office of the kyned / of the chyldren of Merari: al that they shall do in the Tabernacle of witness: vnder the bande of Jihamar / the sonne of Aaron the priest.

F And Moses and Aaron: with the captaynes of the congregation: numbed the chyldren of the Rubaynes: accordynge to theyr kyned: and houses of their fathers: from xxx yearre and aboue: vntill l. all that were meit for the warre: to haue an office in the Tabernacle of witness. And the summe was n. thousande: vj. hundred: and l. This is the summe of the kyned of the Rubaynes: whiche all had seruce in Tabernacle of witness: whome Moses and Aaron numbed: accordynge to the word of the Lorde by Moses.

The chyldren of Gersan were numbed also: theyr kyned: and fathers houses: from xxx yearre and aboue: vntill l. all that were meit for the warre: to haue an office in the Tabernacle of witness: and the summe was n. thousande: vj. hundred: and xxx. This is the summe of the kyned of the chyldren of Gersan: whiche all had to do in the Tabernacle of witness: whome Moses and Aaron numbed: accordynge to the worde of the Lorde.

The chyldren of Merari were numbed also: accordynge to theyr kyned: and fathers houses: from xxx yearre and aboue: vntill l. all that were meit for the warre: to haue an office in the Tabernacle of witness: and the summe was iij. thousande: a hundred: and lxx. This is the summe of the kyned of the chyldren of Merari: whome Moses and Aaron numbed: accordynge to the worde of the Lorde by Moses.

The summe of all the Levites: whome Moses and Aaron with the captaynes of Israel toke: after theyr kyned: and fathers houses: from xxx. yearre and aboue: vntill l. all that were meit: to do euery one his office: or to beare the burthen in the Tabernacle of witness: was iij. thousande: vj. hundred: and lxx. which were numbed: accordynge to the worde of the Lorde by Moses: euery one to his office and charge: as the Lorde commaunded Moses.

The V. Chapter.

And the Lorde spake vnto Moses: and Israel sayde: Commaunde the chyldren of Israel: they put out of the hoste: al the speres: and all that haue spere: / or that are defyled vpon the dead: bothe man and woman: shall they put out of the hoste: but they shal not their entres: wherin I will amange them. And the chyldren of Israel did so: and put them out of the hoste: as the Lorde had sayde vnto Moses.

And the Lorde talkid with Moses: and sayde: Speake vnto the chyldren of Israel: and saye vnto them: Wha maner a woman: hath a synne to any body: / or offenberth: with with agaynst the Lord/then hath that soule a respasse upon it. And they that knowlege theyr synn/that they haue done/a shal make amende for theyr trespasses/with y^e whole simme/and putt the sythe parte more thereto/and geue it vnto hym/agaynst whome they haue trespassed. But if there be no man to make the attendance vnto/so that offence that he hath trespassed agaynst hym/then shal the cer containing be made onto the Lord/for the priest/whiche the remme of the atonement/wherwith he shalbe reconciled.

B Likewyse/all the becausoffences of al that the chyldren of Israel halowe vnto the Lord/and office vnto y^e priest/shalbe his. And who so haloweth any thyng/it shalbe his. And who so geuech the priest any thyng/it shalbe his also.

And the Lord called with Moyses/and sayde/ I speake to the chyldren of Israel/and saye vnto them/Whan any mans wyfe geuech asyde/and it respasseth agaynst hym/and any man see with her secretly/and see thyng be yon hyd from his eyes/and is noe come to light/ether she is defyled/and becom dyng no wyntesse agaynst her/for she was not witten them/and the spere of gealousy kyndeth hym so that he is gealous ouer his wyfe: whe ther she be vnclane/oi not vnclane/ the shal bring her vnto the priest/a strange an offer yng for her/etwiche the teuth parte of an Ephah/of brymmer/shal poure no oyle theron/ no part of anekne upon it/so that it an offering of gealousye/and an offering of rememb aunce shal remembere synne.

C Then shall the priest bringe her/and set her before the Lord/and take of the y^e holy wa ter in an earthen vessell/and putt of the dust y^e is on the floore of the habitacion/into the wa ter. And he shal seide wyfe before the Lord/and vntouer her head/and the offeringe of remembrance/whiche is an offeringe of ge lousye/shal be laye upon her hande. And the priest that haue in his hande bitter cursyng water/and shal conure y^e wyfe/and saye vnto her/If no man haue seene with the/and thou hast not gone asyde from thy husbande/so thyse thy self/when thou shalt come out of the water thou shalt be pure. But if thou hast gone asyde from thy husbande/so that thou art defyled/and some other man hath seene the defyle thy husbande/then shal the priest conure the wyfe with this water/and shal saie vnto her/The Lord see the cause of a curse/and conuersion amonge thy people/so that the Lord make thy thy rote/and thy wombe to burst. So go thou cursed water into thy body/that thy wombe burst/and thy thy rote. And y^e wyfe shal saye Amen Amen.

So the priest shal reue the curse in a hyl/and washe it out with the water/and shal geue the wyfe of the bitter cursyng wa ter to drinke. And whan the cursyng wa ter is gone in her/so that it is styck enio ber/then shal the priest take the gealousie offer yng out of the wyfes hande/and reue it for y^e meate offeringe before the Lord/and offer it vpon the aultare/and he shal take an handfull of the meate offeringe for her remembrance/and burne it vpon the aultare/and then geue the wyfe the water to drinke.
 And whan she hath dronken the water/it be defyled/and haue trespassed agaynst her husbande/then shall the cursyng water go into her/and be so dynter/that her wombe shall burst/and her thyse shall rote/and the wyfe shalbe a curse amonge the people. But if the same wyfe be not defyled/it is cleane: then shall it do her no harme/so that she maye be with childe.

This is the law of gealousy/whiche a wyf geuech asyde from her husbande/and is de fyled: whan the spere of gealousy kyndeth a mans y^e gealous ouer his wyfe/that he bringe her before the Lord/a that the priest do al with her/and bringe vnto his law. And the man shalbe gythelless of the synne/ but the wyfe shal beare her mysdoe.

The VI Chapter.

S And the Lord called with Moyses/and sayde/ I speake vnto the chyldren of Israel/and saye vnto them/Whan a man oi woman separate them selfe/so to reue a parte of ab sence vnto the Lord/that shal absten fro wyne a stronge drinke. I drinke of y^e myn/a stronge drinke/that be not drinke/ nor y^e is pressed out of grape/that be not neither care fresh/ nor drye/ nor longe care/ nor abstinence. And whan thou eate/that thou eate nothing y^e is made of y^e vine/except y^e wyne/and the vine/that be the still.

So long as the voice of his abstinence endureth there shall no rasure come upon his head/ till the time be out/ which he abstaineth vnto the Lord/ for he is holy. And he shall ke the heere of his head grow/ and stande bare openly. All the time ouer which he abstaineth vnto the Lord/ shall he go to no dead. Keyes ther shall he bestow him selfe at the death of his father/ or his mother/ or of his brother/ or of his sister. For the abstinence of his God is vpon his head/ and the whole name of his abstinence shall be of holy vnto the Lord.

B And if it chaunce any man so by: suddenly before him/ then shall the heade of his abstinence be desyled. Therfore shall he shawe his heade in the daye of his cleansing/ that is vpon the seventh daye: and vpon the eighth daye shall he bringe two turtle doves/ or two yonge pigeons vnto the priest/ before the doore of the Tabernacle of witness. And the priest shall make the one a sin offering/ and the other a burnt offering/ and make an atonement for him/ because he desyled him selfe vpon the heade/ and so shall he halowe his heade 7 same daye/ that he maye holde out the time of his abstinence vnto the Lord/ and he shall bringe a lamb of a yere olde/ for a trespass offering. But the dayes afore shall he be bare lest/ because his abstinence was desyled.

C This is the lawe of the absteyner. When the time of his abstinence is out/ he shall be brought before the doore of the Tabernacle of witness. And he shall bringe his offering vnto the Lord/ rent an brabe of a yere olde/ without blemish/ for a burnt offering/ and a she lambe of a yere olde/ without blemish/ for a sinnes offering/ and a ramme without blemish/ for a thank offering/ and a manne with vntwined eares of fine flour/ mingled with oyle/ and sweete incense/ assigned with oyle/ and theyr meat offerings and drinke offerings.

And the priest shall bringe it before the Lord/ and shall make his sinnes offering/ and his burnt offering/ and the ramme shall he make a thank offering vnto the Lord/ with the manne of the vntwinded breade. His meat offerings and drinke offerings shall he make also. And he shall shawe the heade of the abstinence of abstinence/ before the doore of 7

Tabernacle of witness/ and shall take the heade here of his abstinence/ and calle it vpon the name of witness/ and shall offer it.

And the sodde shoulder of the ramme shall he take/ and an vntwinded cake out of the manne/ and a sweete water/ shall he put vpon the breade of his abstinence/ after that he hath shawen of his abstinence. And he shall waite them before the Lord. This is holy for the priest with the Dauides/ and haue shoulder. After that maye the absteyner drinke wine. This is the lawe of the absteyner/ which voucheth his offering vnto the Lord/ for his abstinence/ which that which his hande can get. To be hath vnto/ so shall he do/ according to the lawe of his abstinence.

And the Lord talked with Mosse/ and sayde: Speake vnto Aaron and his sonnes a fore: Thus shall ye say vnto the chyldren of Israel/ when ye blesse them.

The Lord blesse thee/ and kepe thee. The Lord make his face to shine vpon thee/ and be merciful vnto thee.

The Lord lift his countenance vpon thee/ and geue thee peace.

For they shall put my name vpon 7 chyldren of Israel/ that I maye blesse them.

The VII Chapter.

Now when Mosse had set vpon the habitacion of Aaron/ and anoynted it/ and sanctified it/ with all the appaerell thereof/ and had anoynted and halowed the altare also/ with all his vessels. Then offered the captaynes of Ircad/ which were the rulers in theyr fathers house.

For they were the captaynes amonge the Ircads/ and had the rule ouer them that were numbered. And they brought theyr offerings before the Lord/ sic covered charrettes/ and twelfe ogen/ for carry two captaynes a charrette/ a an oge for every one/ and brought them before the Habitation.

And 7 Lord sayd vnto Mosse: Take it of them/ that it maye serue for the ministracion of 7 Tabernacle of witness/ a gaue it vnto 7 Leuitas/ vnto every one/ according to his office. Then toke Mosse the charrettes/ and ogen/ a gaue them vnto the Leuitas.

Two charrettes and foure ogen gaue he vnto the chyldren of Gerson/ according to

to theys office: and foure charrettes/arygha open gaue be vnto the chyldren of Merary/accordinge to theys office/ vnder the bande of Ishamas/ the sonne of Aaron the prest.

B But vnto the chyldren of Sabath he gaue nothinge/ because they had an holy office vnto be- inlyg n-thein/ as I must lare vpon theys shoulter. And the captayne offered to the dedication of the altare/ in the Baye when it was anoynted/ a offered theys gifte before the altare.

And the Lord said vnto Moses/ Let every captayne bringe his offeringe vpon his back/

This is the dedecation of the anshere/ what I thinke as it was annoynted: yea the which the captaynes of Israel offered these twelfe silver chargers/twelfe silver boules/twelfe spones of golde/ twenty charger carrynyng an hundred and thyrtye syles of silver / and every boule twenty syles. So that the summe of all the silver and the r. syles/ was two thousande a four hundredth syles: After the sicke of the Sanctuary. And the twelfe spones of golde / fill of incense/ contained every one ten syles: after the sicke of the Sanctuary. So the summe of the golde on the spones/ was an hundred and twenty syles.

The summe of the cattell/ for the burnt offerings/ was twelfe bullockes/ twelfe rammes/ twelfe twelve lambs of a yeare olde / so they meane offeringe. And twelue hegoates for synoffertinges. And the summe of the cauel for the thate offeringe / was foure and twente offerings / foure lambs / and the foure hegoates / so the foure lambs of a yeare olde. This is the dedication of the aultere / after that it was anoynted.

¶ And whā Mosē went into the Tabernacle of witness / that by night he commeth withoute the doore speakinge vnto the Syn from the mercy seat / which was vpon the Arcke of witness / & direct the two Cherubims / from thence was he conioned withoute. The viii. Chapter.

And the Lord spake vnto Mosēs / and sayde: Speake to Aaron / and saye vnto the Syn: When thou settest vp the lampes / thou shalt set them / so that they maye al shewen their light aboue vpon the candlestick. And Aaron shal set vp the lampes vpon the candlestick / as the Lord commaunded Mosēs. The worke of the candlestick was of beate golde / with the base and floure thereof: accordinge to the vision / that the Lord had shewed Mosēs / when he made the candlestick.

And the Lord spake vnto Mosēs and sayde: Take the Leuites / from amonge the children of Israel / and cleanse the. But thus shalt thou do vnto them / that thou mayest cleanse them. Then shalt thou sprinkle purificacion water vpon them / & let a rasure go ouer they: whole body / and washe they: clothes / and then are they cleane. Then shalt they take a yonge bullocke / and his neare offeringe of fyne flour / mingled with oyle. And another yonge bullocke shalt thou take for a synoffertinge.

And thou shalt bringe the Leuites before the Tabernacle of witness / & gather together the whole congregation of the children of Israel / & bringe the Leuites before the Lord. And the children of Israel shall laye their handes vpon the Leuites. And Aaron shall waite the Leuites before the Lord / for the children of Israel / that they maye minister in the seruice of the Lord.

And the Leuites shall laye they: handes vpon the heades of the bullockes / and the one bulke made a synoffertinge / the other a burnoffertinge vnto the Lord / to make an atonement for the Leuites. And thou shalt take the Leuites before Aaron / and his sonnes / and waite them before the Lord / so shalt thou separate them from the children of Israel / that they maye be mine. Then shalt they go in / that they maye do seruice in the Tabernacle of witness. Thus shalt thou cleanse them / and waite them: for they are my gyfte of the children of Israel. And I haue take them vnto me / so that they maye be mine / & minister for the synboone of all the children of Israel.

For every synboone / amonge the children of Israel is mine / both of men and cattell / & of the lande of Egypte / and sanctified them vnto my self / and take the Leuites for all the synboone / amonge the children of Israel / and gaue them for a gyfte vnto Aaron / his sonnes / from amonge the children of Israel / that they shoulde do the seruice of the children of Israel / in the Tabernacle of witness / & to me / & to my self / for the children of Israel / that there be not a plague amonge the children of Israel / if they vnto come vnto the Synagogue.

And Mosēs vnto Aaron / and the whole congregation of the children of Israel / vnto the Leuites / as the Lord had commaunded Mosēs. And they purified the Leuites / & washed they: clothes. And Aaron waite them before the Lord / and made atonement for them / that they might be cleane.

After that went they into the office / & in the Tabernacle of witness / before Aaron / and his sonnes: As the Lord commaunded Mosēs / concerninge the Leuites / & thus did they with oyle.

And the Lord spake vnto Mosēs / and sayde: This is it that shal longer vnto the Leuites: I from fyue and twenty yeare and aboue / shalt they go into the office of the Tabernacle of witness. But in sixty yeare / shalt they shal cease from wayninge of the seruice thereof / and shal minister nonauidue / that appoynted they: seruice / to waite / and to serue in the Tabernacle of witness: But the office shal not they execute. Thus shalt thou do vnto the Leuites in they: seruice / that every one maye waite vpon his owne charge.

blowing with the trumpets that the sonnes of Aar^o p^ress^o do. And it shalbe your lawe for ruce/amonge your posteritee.

When ye go to battayn in your lande / against your enemies that vered you/ye shall trumpet with the trumpets that ye maye be remembered before the Lord your God/ and be lured from your enemies.

B L^eu^eu^esi when ye are met^r in your feast daye/and in your new monethes/ye shall blowe with the trumpets ouer your duentes sacrifices and thank offerings/ that remayne for a memoriall vnto you/ before your God. I am the Lord your God.

Upon the twentieth daie/ in the seconde month of the seconde yare/ arose the cloude first the habitation of witness. And the chyldren of Israel went on theyr journey out of the wilderness of Sin/ and y^e cloude abode on the wilderness of Pharas. First shalke up/ according to the worde of the Lord by Moses. In meely the banner of the boos of Iuda went first with theyr armies/ and ouer the boos was Iudas sonne of Iudabab. And ouer the boos of the tribe of s^u chyldren of Isechar was Ithamar/ the sonne of Iuar. And ouer the boos of the tribe of the chyldren of Sabilon was Iasub/ the sonne of Ieion. And the habitation was taken vnto/ and the chyldren of Gerson/ and Merari bare the habitation.

After that went the banner of the boos of Ruben with theyr armies/ ouer theyr boos was Eliazar/ the sonne of Erdour. And ouer the boos of the tribe of s^u chyldren of Simeon was Elumath/ the sonne of Sui Sadai. And I^e haph the sonne of Dargul/ ouer the boos of the tribe of the chyldren of Gad. Then went the Rebehera sonne of also/ and bare the Sanctuary/ as cause the habitatione the set vp against theyr campe.

After that went the banner of the boos of the chyldren of Ephraim with theyr armies/ and ouer theyr boos was Elumath/ sonne of Amibon. And Gemath the sonne of Pedrin ouer the boos/ of the tribe of the chyldren of Manass. And Abida the sonne Geradin/ ouer the boos of the tribe of the chyldren of Beniamin.

After that went the bannce of the boos of the chyldren of Dan/ with theyr armies/ and so went at the hostes of Iudab/ the sonne of Amia Sadai was ouer theyr boos/ and Dagnid the sonne of Chian/ ouer the boos/ of the tribe of the chyldren of Assir. And Abira the sonne of Enan/ ouer the boos of the tribe of the chyldren of Naphtali. And the chyldren of Issachar went with theyr armies.

And Moses spak vnto his s^u in S^u lare/ Hobab the sonne of Raguel of Madian. I job^o an. We go vnto the place of the which the Lord sayd. I wyl geue it you. Comi now with vs the fore/ and we wil do the best with the/ for the Lord hath promised good vnto Israel. But he answered. I wil not go with you/ but wyl go in to myne owne lande/ vnto my hynrde. He sayd. Chyly/ kauri/ do not for thou knowest wyl ere we be still for we to p^r the in the wilderness/ and thou shalt be our eye. And I shou pers^u with vs/ Iak^u what god the Lord hath vnto vs/ the same wyl we do vnto the. So they departed from the mount of the Lord the thirte iournes/ and the Troke of the Lordes conuenaunt/ wente before them/ those the dayes iournes/ to seeue hem where they shoulde rest. And the cloude of the Lord was ouer them in the daye tyme/ w^h they wente out of the tence.

And when the Lord went south/ Moses sayd. I wyl see the Lord/ as thyne arm vnto the Ps^o. 134. in scattered/ and let them that haue the s^u before the. And when it refled/ he sayd. om^e 4. g^uan O Lord vnto the multitude of thy hostes/ vnto the of Israel.

The XI Chapce.

Y^e the people went vnto the place of the displeasid fore the caren of the Lord. Exo 17. 1. And when the Lord hiden/ his wey^h D^u. 17. 1. we^h vnto/ and it ere of the Lord burne amonge them/ so that it consumed the vnto me of the boos. Then cryd the people vnto Moses. And Moses prayd vnto the Lord. So the fire quenched. And the place was called Tabara/ because it fre of the Lord burne amonge them.

Then the commane four of the people bar was amonge them/ till a lustyng/ and I^e w^h w^h w^h the chyldren of Israel/ and sayd. W^h

Who will geue us fleshe to eate. We remembere the fyshc that we did eate in Egypte for noughe / and cucumbers / melons / lekes / onions / and garlick: But now is our soules thyed awaye / our eyes se withyng then the Manna.

Exo. xxiij. b. The Manna was lyke Cowandersede / and to loke vpon lyke Bedellion. And y people aue here and there / and gathered it / and grounde it in mylles / and beate in mouers / and saked it in painne / and made cake of it / and it had a rayllike an oyle cake. And when the Jewes sawe the renke in the night / the Manna fell therewith.

Now when Mosco herde the people wepe amonge they: Fynned / every one in his owne boie / then the word of the Lord wasp readyngt more. And it grewd Mosco also.

E And Mosco sayd vnto the Lord: Why wepeth thou thy seruante? And why fynde me? I fauour in thy sighte that thou sayest / But then of all this people vpon me: Haue I then concealed all this people / or begotten them / that thou shouldst say vnto me: carye them in thyne armes (as a nurse beareth a chyld) vnto the lande / that thou hast sworne vnto theyr fathers: Where shal I get fleshe to geue all this people? They wepe before me / I saye: Geue vs fleshe / that we may eate. I am not able to heare all this people alone / for it is too heavy for me. And if thou wold beate thus vnto me: O hy me then / I haue founde fauour in thy sighte / that I fe not my woe heuynesse.

Eg. viij. b. And the Lord sayde vnto Mosco: Wher comest thou me / fruitry men amonge the eldes of Israell / whome thou knowest that they are the Elders in y people / a officers ouer the / and bring them before the Tabernacle of testimonye / and let them there with the: then will I come thome / and take with the euen there / and ife thy spere that is vpon the / and put it vpon them / that they may beare the synnen of the people with the: that thou beare not all alone.

Luit. xi. a. Josui. iij. d. 1. Ko. xlvij. a. Exo. xviij. b. And vnto the people thou shalt saye: O chaste your selfe agaynst so morow / ye were care selfe for youre wepynge come into the caue of the Lord: / se that saye: Who shall geue vs fleshe to eate: for we were well at ease in Egypte. Therefore shall y Lord geue you fleshe to eat / one daye / not two / not fyue / not ten / not twentye dayes longe / but a month longe / and ye go oute from nosen / and will ye lach / because ye haue refused y Lord whiche is amonge you / and haue wepte before him / and sayd: I Wherfore wente we oute of Egypte?

And Mosco sayd: O Sir: hadst thou sende for a men are there of the people / among whom I am / and thou sayest: I will geue you fleshe to eate a month longe. Shall he sleep / and open the slayne / to the younge for them? Or: shal al the fyshes of the see be gathered together to be sufficient for them? The Lord sayd vnto Mosco: In the Lordes hande: ge shewen them? But now shalt thou se / wher shewen theyr we: des shal be fulfilled in we: do: us.

My Mosco went oute / and tolde y people the word of the Lord / and gathered together many men amonge the eldes of the people / and se them rounde aboute the Tabernacle. Then came the Lord thome in a cloude / and spake vnto him / and toke of y spere: that was vpon him / and putte vpon the suenty Elders. And when the spere rested vpon them / they prophced / and ceasid not.

But in the boosle there remayned yet two y men / of whome the one was called Eldad / y other Madad / and the spere rested vpon the: for they were within vp also / and yet were they not gone oute vnto the Tabernacle / and they prophced in the boosle. Then anne there a lab / and colde Mosco / and sayde: Eldad / y Madad prophceye in the boosle. Then answered Iosua the sonne of Nun / Mosco sawe / whome he had chasen / and said: Mosco sayd vnto him: I fe gelous for my sake / I wold had that al the people of the Lord could prophceye / and that the Lord wold geue them his spere. So Mosco and the Elders of Israell gathered to the boosle.

Then wente oute the wynde from the Lord / and caufe quayles to come from the see / and scatered them ouer the boosle / here a days iourney / there a dayes iourney / round aboute the boosle / two cubits: hie aboute the earth. Then the people stode vp all the daye / and al the nyght / and al the nyght daye / and gathered quayles: and be the gathered the less gathered in Honers: and they fylled them gost before them in the cloudy pillar / on the first tyme / and in the laxe pillar on the night season. If thou shouldst now saye: that a people as one man / should the Hierarchy that haue made / be good repon of y^e honde saye: The Loide was not able to bringe the people into the lande / because sware vnto them / therefore he shal slaye them in the wildecnesse.

¶ Let the power of the Loide now be great / according as thou hast spoken / and saye: The Loide is of longe sufferance / and of great meicy / and forgiueth synne and trespass / and leauech nation innocent / and visiteth the iniquite of the fathers vpon the children / into the thide and fourth generation. O be gracious now vnto the hums of this people / according to thy great meicy / lest as thou hast forgiuen this people alwey / from Egypte vnto this place. And the Loide sayde: I haue forgiven it as thou hast sayde.
 But as receyue I haue / all y^e wordes that thou hast sayde / for of all men that haue sent me my gloire / and my tokens / whiche I did in Egypte / and in y^e wildecnesse / and I tempted me now in tyme / and haue not herkened vnto my voyce / there shall not one of the laide / that I sware vnto thy fathers: neyther shall any of them that haue blasphemed me / see it. But my seruant Caleb / because there is another man / spake with him / as I haue sayde / because he hath followed me / thou wilt bringe me into the lande / whiche he hath gone thow / and his feith shall conuince / and the Angels shall stand the Canaanites / that dwell in the lowe countre. To more raine you / I giue you in the wildecnesse / as I receyue towards the read see.

¶ And the Loide spake vnto Moyses and Aaron / and sayd: How longe shall this euill multitude murmur agaynst me? For I haue herde the murmuringe of the children of Israel / that they haue murmured agaynst me. Et then therfore: I haue sayde: I haue sayd: I wil do vnto you / euen as ye haue spoken in myne eares / your eares shall lye in the wildecnesse: And all ye that were I haue numbred from twentye yere / a bove / whiche haue murmured agaynst me / shall not come into the lande / concerning y^e which I lift up my hande / that I woulde lase you dwell therin: save Caleb the sonne of Iephune / and Josua the sonne of Nun.

¶ Your chydren of whom ye sayd: They shall be a spoyle / them will I bringe into the lande / and I will haue the lande / whiche ye haue refused. But ye / with your eares / shall lye in the wildecnesse / and your chydren shall in-here in this wildecnesse: forty yere / as I haue your whodou / all your eares be wylde in the wildecnesse / according to the numbre of the forty yere / wherem ye spered on the lande. And I haue for a yere / for forty yere / as ye shall haue your measure / that ye maye knowe whote is / when I withhold my hande / out of y^e Loide haue sayde it / and will do it in bed / vnto all this euill congregacion / that haue lift up themselues agaynst me: In this wildecnesse / shall they be confirmed / and there: shall they lye.

¶ So they spered / and were plagued before the Loide / all the men / whome Moyses sent to spye out the lande / and came agayne / and made the whole congregacion to murmur agaynst / because they brought vp a false reporte of the lande / that was euill. But Josua the sonne of Nun / and Caleb the sonne of Ie-phune were left aloue / of the men that wente to spye out the lande. An Moyses spake the wordes vnto all the chydren of Israel. Then toke the people great sore.

¶ And they arose early in the morninge / and wente vp to the topp of the mountayne / and sayde: We haue sayde: we wold goe vp to this place / whiche the Loide hath sayde: for we haue sayd: But Moyses sayde: Wherfore go ye on this matter / beyonde the word of the Loide: It shall not prosper with you / go not vp / for the Loide is not among you / that ye be not slayne before your countrey. For the Angels and Canaanites / are there before you / a ye that shall see the streake / because ye haue numbred your selfe from the Loide / and the Loide shall not be with you.

¶ But they were mynded to goe vp to the topp of the mountayne: then the selfe / of the Arche of the Loide / was conuenant / as Moyses came not out of the boote. For the Angels and Canaanites / were there: then opened that mountayne / and hore them / a be-wech them / vnto Gomora.

 when there is a ramme offered / thou shalt make the meate offeringe two tenth deales of fyne flour / myngled with oyle / of the thurd parte of an Eyn / a the thurde parte of an Eyn of wyne also / for a vnto offering: thou shalt thou offre for a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

23 But if thou wilt offre an oxe for a burnt offeryng / for a speciall vnto offeringe / or for a burnt offeringe vnto the Lord / thou shalt bringe to the offer meate offeringe / a leuen the tenth deale of fyne flour / myngled with halfe an Eyn of oyle / a halfe an Eyn of wyne / for a vnto offeringe. This is an offeringe of a sweete sauour vnto the Lord. Thus shalt thou do with an oxe / with a ramme / with a lambe / and with a goate. Accordyng as the number of the offeringes is / thereafter shall the number of the meate offeringes and vnto offerings be also.

24 Ecce ther is one of youre selfis / shall do this / that he may offre a sacrifice of a sweete sauour vnto the Lord. And if there dwell a stranger with you / or is amonge your byffolkes / and will do an offeringe vnto the Lord for a sweete sauour / he shall do as ye do. Let there be one statute for the whole congregation both vnto you / and to the strangers.

25 A particular statute shall be vnto your possessors / that a stranger be euen as ye before the Lord. One law / and one ordinance shall be vnto you / and to the stranger that dwelleth with you.

And the Lord saith with Moses / and sayde: Speake to the chylden of Israell / and saye vnto them: When ye come into the lande / vnto the which I shall bringe you / so that ye eate the bread of the lande / ye shall buye vp an heauy offeringe vnto the Lord / namely: a cake of the firstlings of your sheepe / ye shall geue for an heauy offeringe.
 26 The the Lorde because of the burnt / euen so shall ye geue the firstlings of your sheepe: also vnto the Lord / for an heauy offeringe amonge your possessors.

27 When ye shal have ignorauce of these any of these commaundmentes / which the Lord hath commaunded you by Moses / and all that the Lord hath commaunded you by Moses / from this date that the Lord be gent to remaunde for your possession / and the congregation do ought igno-rantly: then shall the whole congregation offre a yonge bullocke / from amonge the grete cattell to a burnt offeringe for a sweete sauour vnto the Lord / with his meate offeryng and vnto offeringe as the man is end an he goate for a synne offeringe. And so shall the priest make an atonement for the whole congregation of the chylden of Israel / and it shall be forgiven them: for it is an ignorauce. And they shall bringe their giftes for an offeringe vnto the Lord / a their synne offeringe before the Lord / for theyr ignorance / and it shall be forgiven the whole congregation of the chylden of Israell / and the stranger that dwelleth amonge you: for so much as all the people is in such ignorauce.

28 If one soule synne thow ignorauce / he shall buye a she goate of a yere elde / for a synne offeringe. And the priest shall make an atonement for such an ignorant soule the synne offeringe / for the ignorauce before the Lord / that he maye reconyse bynt / it shall be on lawe / that ye shall do for the ignorauce / both vnto them that is done amonge the chy-lden of Israell / and to the stranger that dwelleth amonge you.

29 If a soule do ought presumptuously / whether he be one of youre selfes / or a stranger: he shall buye a she goate of a yere elde / for a synne offeringe. And the priest shall make an atonement for such an ignorant soule
 the synne offeringe / for the ignorauce before
 the Lord / that he maye reconyse bynt / it shall be
 on lawe / that ye shall do for the ignorauce /
 both vnto them that is done amonge the chy-lden of Israell / and to the stranger that dwelleth amonge you.

gates/d the whole congregation agaynst them / before the Doore of the Tabernacle of witness.

But the glayse of the Lord appeared before the whole congregation. And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aarons and sayde: Separate your selves from this congregation / that I may shortly consume them. And they fell vpon their faces / and sayde: O God / thou God of the sprees of all fleshe / if one man haue sinned / wilt thou therefore be wroth overt the whole congregation. And the Lord spake vnto Moses / and sayde: Come vp from the dwelling of Cozab / and Dathan / and Abiram.

And Moses stode vp / and wente vnto Da-than and Abiram / and the elders of Israhel followed him / and he spake to the congregation / and sayde: Separate from the tentes of these ungodly men / and soucht nothing that is their / that ye perishe not in any of their sinnes. And they gathered vp from the dwel-lyng of Cozab / Dathan / and Abiram. But Dathan and Abiram came out / and stode in the Doore of their tentes / with their wyfs / and sonnes / and chyldren.

And Moses sayd: Here by shall ye know that the Lord hath sent me to do all these workes / and that I haue not done them of myne owne here. If these men by the commende of all men: to be visited as all men are / in syn they had nor the Lord sent me. But if the Lord make a new thyng / and the earth open her mouth / and swallowe them up / or they haue / so that they go downe quicke into hell / then shall ye knowe that these men haue blasphemed the Lord.

And when he had spokene out all these wordes / he provide stone asunder vnder them / and the earth opened her mouth / and swallowed them / with their houses / and all the men that were with Cozab / and all their substance / and they wente downe quicke into the hell / with all that they had.

And the earth closed vpon them / and so they perished from amonge the congregation.

And all Israhel that were aboute them / fled at the crye of them / for they sayde: That the earth swallowed us as this. Moreover the fyre came out from the Lord / and consumed the two hundred and fiftye men / that offered the incense.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses / and sayde: Speake to Eleazar the sonne of Aarons / the priest / that he take vp the censers out of the burnyng / and scatter the fyre here and there.
For the censers of these synners are halowed thorow their soules / that they may be brast into thynne plates / and fastened vpon the autare. For they are offered before the Lord / a holowed / and they shalbe a token vnto the chyldren of Israhel.

And Eleazar the priest toke the brasen cen-sers / which they that were burnt had offered / and brast them to plates / or fasten them vpon the au-tare / for a remembrance / vnto the chyldren of Israhel / that they shall not do as that is not of the seede of Aaron: come nye to offer incense before the Lord / that it happene not vnto hym as vnto Cozab / and his company / accordinge: as the Lord sayde vnto hym by Moses.

On the next morowe murmured the whole congregatione of the chyldren of Israhel agaynst Moses and Aaron / and sayde: We haue slayne the people of the Lord. And in what the congregation was gathered agaynst Moses and Aaron / they turned them toward the Tabernacle of witness. And beholde when the cloude covered the Tabernacle / and the glayse of the Lord appeared. And Moses and Aaron wente in before the Tabernacle of witness.
And the Lord spake vnto Moses / and sayde: Get you of this congregation / I will shortly consume them. An they fall vpon their faces. And Moses sayde vnto Aaron: Take the censor and put fyre therein / from of the autare / and laye incense thereon / and go soone to the congregacion / and make an attonement for them. For the wrath is gone out from the Lord: and the plague is begonne amonge the people.

And Aaron sayde as Moses sayde / a ranne in the middell amongst the congregation.
And beholde the plague was begonne. And he burnt incense / a made an attonement for the people / and stode betwene the dead / and the living / and the plague ceased. But there were
x. thousande and two hundred dead in the plague / besides them that dyed aboute the burnyng.

business of Corah. And Aaron came agayne vnto Moses, to shew the worke of the Tabernacle of witness. And the plague ceased.

The XVII. Chapter.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses / and wher he spake vnto the chyldren of Israel / and take of them twelfe staves / of euery captaynes / of his fathers house one / and write euery mans name vpon his staffe. But Aarons name shalt thou write vpon the staffe of Leui. For euery heade of theyr fathers house shall haue a staffe. And laye them in the Tabernacle of witness / so that the womess / reuer I rethysse vnto you. And take whome I shall chuse / his staffe shall flourish / that I maye shall the grauinge of the chyldren of Israel / wch they grudge agaynst you.

And Moses spake vnto the chyldren of Israel / and all theyr captaynes gaue hym twelue staves / euery captayne a staffe / after the booke of theyr fathers. And Aarons staffe was amonge theyr staves also. And Moses layed the staves before the Lord / in the Tabernacle of witness.

B On the morowe when Moses wate in to the Tabernacle of witness / he founde the staffe of Aarons rodde of the house of Leui flourish / and broughte forth blossoms / and bare almondes. And Moses broughte forth all the staves vnto the Lord / before all the chyldren of Israel / that they mighte see it. And they wote euery man his staffe.

The Lord sayde vnto Moses: Byng Aarons staffe agayne before the womess / that it maye be kepte for a token to the chyldren of rebellion / that theyr murmuringe maye cease for me / lest they dye.

Moses did as the Lord commaunded hym. And the chyldren of Israel sayde vnto Moses: Beholde / we consume awaye / we are destroyed / and perishe. Whoso cometh nye the breadynge place of the Lord / he shall be destroyed / we shal directly consume awaye.

The XVIII. Chapter.

And the Lord sayde vnto Aaron: Thou shalt be the father of thy fathers house / with the staffe that beate the murther of the Sanctuary / and thou and thy sonnes with the staffe shall beare a murther of your priesthode. For thy brethren / of the wyde of Leui thy fathers shal come nye the / and be ioynd vnto the / because they may minister vnto the. Wherfore and thy sonnes with the staffe shall minister before the Tabernacle of witness. And they shall waite vpon thy seruice / and vpon the seruice of the woode Tabernacle. Wherfore vnto the priesthode of the sanctuary / and to the aultare shal they not come / that both ye and theyr brethren / be they shal be ioynd vnto the / to waite vpon the ministracion in the Tabernacle of witness / in all the seruice of the Tabernacle. And there shal no stranger come nye vnto you.

Therefore waite now vpon the seruice of the Sanctuary / and vpon the seruice of the aultare / that there come no more wrath vpon the chyldren of Israel. For lo / I haue taken your brethren the Leuites / from amonge the chyldren of Israel / to be your gyfte / for a presente vnto the Lord / to do the seruice in the Tabernacle of witness. As for the and thy sonnes with the staffe shal waite vpon you / in priesthode office / that ye maye minister in all manner busynesse of the aultare / and within the wayle / for your priesthode office geue I vnto you for a gyfte to do seruice. If a stranger come nye / he shall dye.

And the Lord sayde vnto Aaron: be Leuit. vij. b. holde / I haue geuen the my beaue offeringe / Eccl. xij. c. geue. And all that the chyldren of Israel shall haue / I geue vnto the / and to the sonnes / for a perpetuall heritage. This shall they haue of the moost holy thynges / that they offer. All their gyfte / with all theyr inofferinges / and with all theyr inofferinges / and with all theyr trespass offeringes / that they geue me / the same shal be moost holy vnto the / a the sonnes. In the moost holy place shalt thou eat it. All that are males shal eat thereof / for it shall be holy vnto the.

The beaue offeringe of theyr gyfte / in all the manofferinge of the chyldren of Israel / shall I geue vnto the also / and to thy sonnes / and to thy daughters / for a perpetuall heritage. Whoso is cleane thy house / shall eat thereof. All the fat of the offeringe / shall be the fat of the wyne and cometh / it shall be the fat of the offeringe / that they geue vnto the Lord / I geue vnto the. The fat of the offeringe / shall be the fat of the offeringe / that they geue vnto the.

The XXX. Chapter.

Exo. xxx. d
¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moyses and Aaron: / and sayd: This custome shalte a lawe: whiche the Lord hath commanded: and sayd: Speake vnto y^e chyldren of Israel: that they bringe vnto the: a reade forme with-whome: there came neuer yocf: / and ye shall giue her vnto Eleazar the puest: / whiche shal bringe her: / when the boof: and calfe: her to his body with water: / a then do into y^e beest:

and be vncleane vntill the euen.

¶ And hee y^e burne her: / shal wash his clothes also with water: / and bath his body in water: and be vncleane vntill the euen. And one that is cleane: shal gather up y^e asbes of the Forme: and poure them vpon the boof: in a cleane place/that they may be kept there for sprinkling water in the congregation of the children of Israel for a synoffyringe. And be that gathered up the ashes of the fowle/shal washe his clothes/ & be vnclene vntil the euen. This halbe a perpetuall lawe vnto the children of Israel/ and to the strangers that dwell amonge you.

¶ Who so now touched a dead man/shal be vnclene seuen dayes: these nic shall purifie him selfe here withon the thrid day/ and on the fenieth day: and then shal be cleane. And if he purifie not hym self on the thrid day/ and on the seuenh day/ then shall he not be cleane. But when any man toucheth a dead persone/ and wyl not purifie hym selfe by these thre dayes/ of the Lorde/ and the same soule shal be cored out of Israel/ because it sprinkyng water is not sprinkled vpon him/ as to vnclene/ as longe as he leech not him selfe sprinkled therof.

¶ This is the lawe. What a man dyeth in cete/ who so neuer goeth into it/ enen a full yeare shal be vnclene seuen dayes: And euery open vessel that hath in it/ no coueringe/ as vnclene. And who so neuer toucheth one that is slayne in the sword/ upon the fildes/ or any other dead/ or a dead mans bone/ or a graue/ the same is vnclene seuen dayes.

¶ So now for the vnclene persone/ they shal take of the ashes of this burnt synoffyring/ in a pure spring water/ theron into a vessel/ and a cleane man shal take tyssue/ or a dipper in the water/ and sprinkle it upon the carne/ upon all the vessels/ and all the soules that are therein. Likewise also upon him/ that hath touched a dead mans bone/ or a slayne persone/ or a dead body/ for a graue.

And he that is cleane/ shal sprinkle vpon the vnclane/ or the shirt/ & enen the seuenh day/ and purifie hym on the seuenh daye. And he shal washe his clothes/ as hath hym selfe with water/ so that he shal be cleane.

¶ But he that is vnclene/ and wil not purifie hym selfe/ because soule shal be cored out of the congregation. For he hath despyled the Sanctuary of the Lorde/ and is not sprinkled with sprinkyng water/ therefore he is vnclene. And this shal be a perpetuall lawe vnto them. And he that sprinketh it/ it sprinkyng water/ shal washe his clothes also. And who so neuer toucheth it/ speaking water/ shal be cleane vntil the euen. And who so toucheth it/ shal be vnclene: a lobe/ what soule he toucheth/ shal be vnclene vntil the euen.

The XX. Chapter.

¶ And the children of Israel came with the whole congregation into the wilderness of Sin/ in the first month: and the people abode at Cades. And there dyed Miriam/ who was buried there. And the congregation had no water/ and they gathered them selfe together against Moses/ and Aaron/ and the people chode with Moses/ and sayd: Wolde God that we had perished/ when our brethren were perished before the Lorde. Wherefore haue ye brought the congregation of the Lorde into the wilderness/ that we shoulde dye here/ for our carnes? And wherefore haue ye brought us out of Egypt/ into this place/ where there is no water/ where are they thynges/ our wyues/ our pounges/ and where there is no water to drinke.

And Moses/ and Aaron went from the congregation vnto the face of the Tabernacle of witness/ as fill vpon theyr faces. And the glory of the Lorde appeared vnto them. And the Lorde spake vnto Moses/ and sayd: Take Exo. xvij the staffe/ and gather the congregation together/ thou/ and thy brother Aaron/ and speere vnto the rocke before the people/ as I shal geue water. And thus shall thou pounde water out of the rocke/ and geue the congregation drinke/ and they shall eate also.

Then saide Moses/ the staffe before the Lorde/ as he commaunded hym/ and Aaron/ and Aaron gathered the congregation together before the rocke/ and sayd vnto them: Heare ye rebellions: what we pounde you water out of this rocke? And Moses/ spake vnto the hand/ and smote the rocke with the staffe two tymes. The came the water out abundantly/ so that the congregation drinke/ and they eate also.

But the Lorde sayde vnto Moses/ and Aaron: Because ye beclid me not/ to sanctifie me before the children of Israel/ ye shall not bringe this congregation into the land that I shal geue the. This is the water of stryfe where the children of Israel stande with the Lorde/

By the ryuer of Sared. From thence departed they/ and pitched on the ryde Arnon/ which is the wildernes/ and couereth out of the cofice of the Ammonites. For in nois the border betwixt Moab and the Ammonites. Wherefore it is spoken in the booke of the warres of the Lord. And go with violence/ both on the ryuer of Arnon/ and on the fountayne of the ryer/ which cometh thence/ to dwell at Ur/ and leaueh thecon/ to be the bouders of Moab.

And from thence they came to the well. This is the well/ whereof the Lord spake vnto Moise. Gather the people to gether. I will gene it: & water. Then songe Israel this song/ a they songe one after another ouer the well: This is the well/ wher the prince dyged: the nobles amonge the people haue dyged it: thow: oue the reacher and they: flauos.

And from this wildernes/ they went vnto Marah/ and from Marah vnto Marah/ and from Marah to Berothim/ from Berothim vnto the valley that hath in it felde of Moab/ in the rappe of Pisga/ and turned toward the wildernes.

And Israel sent messengers vnto Sihon/ the kyng of the Ammonites/ & caused to saye vnto him: Let me go thow: ouer thy lande/ we wil not tume into the felde/ no: into the vngardes/ neyther wil we drinke the water of the well/ ne: here ite wil we go/ yf we be past the borders of thy countre.

¶ Sihon/ & Sihon wolde not geue the children of Israell license to go thow: the cofice of his lande/ thow gathered all his people together/ and went out agaynst Israell in the wildernes.

¶ And when he came to Jahaz/ he fought agaynst Israell. Whereby he/ & Israell sione hym with the edge of the sword/ & danyered his lande from Arnon/ vnto Jahaz/ and nullt the children of Ammon.

¶ For the borders of the children of Ammon were stronge. So Israell toke thei cyues/ and dwelt in all the cyues of the Ammonites/ namely at Hesbon/ and in the souce belonging to it. For Hesbon/ the cite was Sihons the kyng of the Ammonites/ and he had foughten before with the kyng of the Moabites/ and conquered all his lande from hym/ vnto Arnon.

Wherefore it is sayd in the psalme: Come vnto Hesbon/ & we buyde/ and pipare the cyue of Hesbon/ for there is a fyre gone out of Hesbon/ and a flamme from the cyue of Hesbon/ which hath consumed the of the Moabites/ and the cyuies of the rappe of Arnon. Wherefore the Moab: thow people of Camos art vnder. Thy souce are put to stright/ a his daughter brought captiue vnto Hesbon/ the kyng of the Ammonites. Their glory is come to nought/ from Hesbon vnto Hesban/ what they are they vnto Hesban/ whiche teacheth vnto Moab. Thus dwelt Israell in the lide of the Ammonites.

¶ And Moise sent out spyes vnto Jahaz/ and they toke the towne/ & belonging therto/ and conquered the Ammonites/ that were therein. ¶ And they turned/ and went vnto the weye toward Basan. Then Og the kyng of Basan/ went out agaynst them with all his people to fight in Eder. And Og sayd vnto Moise. Feare hym not/ for I haue geuen hym with his lande/ and people into thy hande/ and thou shalt go with hym/ as thou dydest with Sihon/ the kyng of the Ammonites/ which dwelt in Hesbon. And they smote hym/ and his sennes/ an all his people/ (so that there remayned none) and conquered the lande. ¶ Thus waide weneh the children of Israell/ a pitched in the lide of Moab/ by rynde Jordan/ by Jericho.

The XXXI. Chapter.

¶ And when Balac the kyng of Siphon/ & saw all that Israell had done vnto the Ammonites/ and that the Moabites were sore afraid of the people/ that was so great/ and that the Moabites stode in feare of the children of Israell/ he sayd vnto the elders of the Moabites: Now shall this people lyste vnto all thow: about vs/ tume as an ox/ & lyste vnto the grasse in the felde. ¶ And Balac the sonne of Siphon/ was kyng of the Moabites at that tyme.

¶ And he sent out messengers vnto Balaam/ the sonne of Beor/ whiche was an iuice/ & the some dwelt by the watter of the ryuer/ in the lide of the children of his people/ & that they shoulde call hym/ and he caused to saye vnto hym: Whither shal I come out of the gyngre/ a people/ which couereth the face of the earth/ and

and theyc ouer agaynst me. Come now therfore / a curse in this people: for they are to multiply for me: / perabucature I might be able to smite them: / a to drive them out of the land: for: I wote: / whome thou blest: / he is blest: for: I wote: / whome thou cursest: / he is cursed.

B And the elders of the Moabites wente out with Elders of Madianites: / a had the rewardes of the forbyring in theyr handes: / a they came vnto Balaam: / and tolde hym the wordes of Balaam: / And he sayd vnto they: Carrye here al night: / a I will byrge you worde agayne: / cme as the Lo:de shall saye vnto me: So I prayce of the Moabites aboue w Balaam.

And God came vnto Balaam: / and sayd: What men are these: / which are with the: Balaam sayd vnto God: Balaam the sonne of Zaphor: / the byrge of the Moabites hath sent vnto me: Behold: there is a people come out of Egypt: / and couereth the face of the earth: Come now therfore: / and curse in them: / if perabucature I may be able to fight with them: / a to drive them out. But God sayd vnto Balaam: Go not with the: / and curse not that people: / for they are blest.

C Then rose Balaam vp in the morning: / a sayd vnto the prynce of Balac: / Get you vnto your lande: / for the Lo:de wyl not suffre me to go with you.

And I prynce of the Moabites gat them vp: / came to Balaam: / and seide: Balaam refusest to come with vs: Then sent Balaam yet a greater company of prynces: / and more honorable the they: / What they came to Balaam: / they tolde hym: Balaam the sonne of Zaphor sendeth his wordes: / Wherfore: / we will not come vnto me: / for I wyl promote I vnto byr boure: / and wyl do perabucature I prayce vnto me. Come I praye the: / curse in this people.

Nu. 25. 1. c Balaam answered: / and sayd vnto I for: / I wote: / what I shal saye: / if Balac wolde geue me his boult: / sit of siluer: / and golde: / yet coude I not go: / beyonde the wordes of the Lo:de: / my God: / is to be luke or great. Neuerthelesse: / storye here this might be: / that I may wote: / what the Lo:de wyl saye: / more vnto me. Then came God to Balaam by night: / a sayd vnto hym: / If I see acc come to tal I get I wyl the: / a go to the: / but wyl I shal say vnto I shal I do.

Then rose Balaam vp in the morning: / and soold his asse: / a went with I prynce of the Moabites. But the wyl of God wazed wher: / because he wente. And I wangel of the Lo:de stode in the waye: / so wyl straine w him. But he rode vpon his asse: / a two straine w him. And the asse saw I wangel of I Lo:de standinge in I waye: / a his forard shewen in his hande: / And I asse turned asyde out of the waye: / a went into the felde. But Balaam smote her: / that she shoulde go in the waye.

Then stode the wangel of the Lo:de in the path: / by I pynter: / a dore: / where there were walles on both I sydes. And wher the asse stode: / I wangel of I Lo:de: / she weched vnto I walle: / a thurst Balaam foote vnto the walle. And he smote her agayne. Then wote I wangel of I Lo:de: / farre: / and stode in a narrowe place: / wher he ryde w no waye: / to wene: / wryte: / so the right hande: / w: / to I left. And when the asse saw the wangel of I Lo:de: / he fel downe vnder Balaam. Then was Balaam wyl furrowe: / a smote the asse with a staffe.

Then opened the Lo:de the mouth of the asse: / and the sayd vnto Balaam: / What haue I done vnto the: / that thou hast smite in me: / now the prynce: / Balaam sayd vnto the asse: / Because thou hast inoched me: / Wherfor: / I had a swerde: / now in my hande: / I wold I sl the. The asse sayd vnto Balaam: / Am I not rhyme asse: / which thou hast ridden vpon in thy nme vnto this daye: / Was I cker wone: / so do vnto the: / He sayd: / No.

Then opened the Lo:de the eyes of Balaam: / that he sawe the wangel of I Lo:de standinge in the waye: / and a shewen forward in his hande. And he enclind him selfe: / and bowed hyme with his face. And I wangel of I Lo:de: / sayd vnto hym: / Wherfor: / hast thou smite thyn asse: / now in this wyce: / Beholde: / I am come out to resell the: / for thy waic is forwarde: / a contrary vnto me. And I asse: / sawe me: / a woyded he: / me the prynce: / w: / if he had not turned asyde fro me: / I had slayne h: / a found the asse asyne.

Then sayde Balaam vnto the wangel of I Lo:de: / I haue sinned: / so: / I wyl not that thou shouldest in the waye agaynst me. And now: / if it displeaseth the: / I wyl nme agayne. The wangel of the Lo:de sayd vnto hym: / Go with the kindred of Zecurites. Binai of whose com-mirth the kindred of the Binies. And the chyldren of Biza/decie Giber: of whom cometh the kindred of the Giberites. Michel of whose commirth the kindred of the Michelites. And the daughter of Isser was called Sarai: these are the kindredes of the chyliden of Isser / in three hundred / in thousande a hundred.

The chyliden of Aephrata in their kindredes were Zabegies / of whose comirth the kindred of the Zabegies. Gurnis of whose com-mirth the kindred of the Gurnies. Jeger: of whome cometh the kindred of the Jegerites.
Gillanis of whome cometh the kindred of the Gillanites. These are the kindredes of the chyl-den of Aephrata in theyr generacions in theyr number: six thousande and ny hundred.

¶ This is the summe of the chyliden of Israel: six hundred thousande a thousande / seven hundred and thyrty.

¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moyses / and sayde: vnto theise shall thou deuide the lande to inheritaunce: according to the number of the names. To many shall thou geue more inheritaunce: and to few the lesse: vnto euery one shall he geue according to theyr number: yet shall the lande be deuided by lotte. According to the names of the trybes of theyr fathers shall they inherite: for after the lotte shall thou deuide the inheritaunce: both be-twix many and few.

¶ And this is the summe of the Leuites in theyr kindredes. Gerson of whome cometh the kindred of the Gersonites. Zabari: of whome cometh the kindred of the Zabariites. Merari of whome cometh the kindred of the Merarites. These are the kindredes of Leui: the kindred of the Libnites / the kindred of the Hebronites / the kindred of the Melchites / the kindred of the Mesites / the kindred of the Cosbites.

¶ Zabari bigar Amram. ¶ And Amrams wyfe was called Jochebed a daughter of Le-ui / whiche was borne by him in Egypte: And vnto Amram the beere Zecois and Moyses / and Miriam theyr syster. And vnto Aaron were borne Nadab / Abihu / Eleasar / and Jisra-mar. As for Nadab and Abihu / they dyed: whan they offered straunge fyre before the Lord. ¶ And the summe of them was xxxij. thousand / all males from v monethes and about. For they were not numbered amonge the chyliden of Israel / for there was no inheritaunce geuen them: amonge the chyliden of Israel.

¶ This is the summe of the chyliden of Israel / whome Moyses and Eleasar the prieste numbered in the syde of the Moabites beyde Jordan: ouer agaynst Berdo: amonge whome there was not one of the summe of those chyliden of Israel / whome Moyses and Aaron the pries-tes numbered in the wilderness of Synai. For the Lord sayde vnto them: / that they shoulde dye in a wilderness. And there was not one of them left: save Caleb / the sonne of Iephune / and Josua the sonne of Nun.

The XXXVII Chapite.

¶ Moyses the daughter of Elaph: the sonne of Geger / the sonne of Gilead / the sonne of Machir / the sonne of Manasse: amonge the kindred of Manasse / the sonne of Josiph whose names were Machab / Mo / Kogal / Mela: and Thaja: came a stode before Moyses and Eleasar the pries-tes: and before the rulers and the whole congregacion: and before the voce of the Tabernacle of witness: sayde Oure father is dead in the wilderness: and was not in the company of them: / that are op agaynst the Lord: in the congregacion of Cozab: dyed in his owne sinne: and had no sonnes. Wherfore shoulde oure fathers sinne perithe then among his kindred: though he haue no sonne? Geue vs a possession also amonge oure fathers brethren.

¶ Moyses broughte they: cause before the Lord. And the Lord sayde vnto him: The daughters of Elaph: haue spoken right.
Thou shalt geue them a possession to inherite amonge theyr fathers brethren: a stode turne theyr fathers inheritaunce vnto them. And saye vnto the chyliden of Israel: Whan a man dyeeth a hath no sonne / ye shall mine his inheritaunce vnto his daughter. If he haue no daughter / ye shall geue it vnto his brethren.
If he haue no brethren / ye shall geue it vnto his fathers brethren. If he haue no fathers brethren / ye shall geue it vnto his neere kynfolke / whiche belonge vnto hym in his kindred: that they maye possesse it. This shalbe an ordinaunce and a perpetuall lawe vnto the chyliden of Israel: as the Lord commaunded Moyses.

a tenth deal of an Ephah of fine flour / for a meat offering / mingled with beaten oyle / of the fourth part of an Hin / this is a daily burnt offering / which ye offered upon mine Altar for a sweet savour / of a sacrifice unto the Lord: And the tenth offering of the same / the fourth part of an Hin / is a lamb / a tenth deal poured in / & a tury for a gift unto the Lord: The other lamb shall thou prepare as even / as the meat offering in the morning: & the tenth offering thereof / is a sacrifice of a sweet savour unto the Lord.

On the Sabbath days / two lambs of a year old without blemish / a tenth deal of fine flour / mingled with oyle / and the tenth offering thereof: This is the burnt offering of every Sabbath / before the daily burnt offering: with his tenth offering.

On the first day of your month / ye shall offer a burnt offering unto the Lord / two young bullocks / seven lambs of a year old without blemish / & a tenth deal of fine flour for a meat offering / mingled with oyle unto every bullock / two tenth deals of fine flour for a meat offering / mingled with oyle unto the ramme: and a tenth deal of fine flour for a meat offering / mingled with oyle unto every lamb: This is the burnt offering of a sweet savour / a sacrifice unto the Lord:

And the tenth offering shall be half an Hin of wine unto every bullock / the third part of an Hin to the ramme / the fourth part of an Hin to every lamb: This is the burnt offering of every month in the year: There shall offered as be goats also for a sweet offering unto the Lord / two the daily burnt offering with his tenth offering.

And on the fourteenth day of the first month is the Passover unto the Lord / and on the fifteenth day of the same month is the Feast: Seven days shall unleavened bread be eaten: The first day shall be a holy convocation / to serve me: shall ye do therein / a tury shall offered burnt offering unto the Lord / two young bullocks / seven lambs of a year old / without blemish / with their meat offering: the tenth deal of fine flour / mingled with oyle to every bullock /

And Moses spake unto the Lord and sayde: O Lord God of the spirits of all flesh / set a man over the congregation / which may goin and out before them / and to lead them out and in / that the congregation of the Lord be not as the sheep without a shepherd.

And the Lord sayde unto Moses: Take of the Spirit of the Lord / and put thine hands upon him / and set him before Eleazar the priest / and before the whole congregation / and give him a charge in their sight: a burnt offering him with thy bewys / that the whole congregation of the children of Israel may be obedient unto him: And he shall stand before Eleazar the priest / which shall be witness for him / after the manner of the light before the Lord: In the mouth of him shall both be heard the children of Israel with him / a the whole congregation go in and out.

Moses did as the Lord commanded him / and set Josue / and set him before Eleazar the priest / and before all the congregation: And laid his hands upon him / and gave him a charge / as the Lord sayde unto Moses.

The XXXIII. Chapter.

And the Lord spake unto Moses / and sayde: Commande the children of Israel / and saye unto them: The offering of my bread / which is my offering of the first fruits / shall ye see in his due season / that ye maye offer unto me: And here are they: The first of the offering that ye shall offer unto the Lord / is a year old / which is a daily burnt offering: the one lamb in the morning / the other at evening: And there locke/ and two tenth Deales to the ramme/ one tenth Deale to every lambc/ among the seven lambece. And an hegoate for a synnofferinge/ to make an atonement for you. And the first day ye offer in the morninge / besides the burnt offeringe/ which is a dayly burnt offeringe. After this manner shall ye offer the bread every daye/ seven dayes longe for a offeringe of a sweete savour unto the Lord/ to the dayly burnt offeringe/ and vnto the offeringe also. And the seventh daye shall be called and holy convocation with you: no seruile worke shall ye do therein.

And the daye of the first frute (when ye offer the meate offeringe of the month) / onto the Lord in your weekes/ shall be a holy convocation also: no worke of bondage shall ye do therein. And ye shall offer a burnt offeringe for a sweete savour unto the Lord: two yong bullockes/ or a ramme/ seven lambece of a yearc olde / with their meate offeringes / the tenth Deales of fyne flour/ mingled with oyle to every bullocke/ two tenth Deales to the ramme/ and one tenth Deale to every lambece of the seven lambece. And an hegoate to make an atonement for you. This shall ye do besides the dayly burnt offeringe / with his meate offeringe / and his drinke offeringe. Without blemyshe shall they be all.

The XXXIX. Chapter.

And the first daye of the seventh moneth/ shall be with you an holy convocation. No seruile worke shall ye do therein: for it is the daye of your trumpet blowinge. And ye shall offer a burnt offeringe for a sweete savour unto the Lord: a yong bullocke / a ramme / seven lambece of a yearc olde/ without blemyshe. And their meate offeringes: the tenth Deales of fyne flour/ mingled with oyle to the bullocke/ two tenth Deales to the ramme / and one tenth Deale unto every lambece of the seven lambece. An hegoate also for a synnofferinge / to make an atonement for you / besides the burnt offeringe of the moneth/ and his meate offeringe/ and beside the dayly burnt offeringe/ with his meate offeringes/ with their drinke offeringes/ according to the maner of them for a sweete savour. This is a sacrifice unto the Lord.

The tenth daye of this seventh moneth shall be and holy convocation with you also / a yong bullocke your soules/ and no seruile worke therein: but offer a burnt offeringe unto the Lord for a sweete savour: a yong bullocke/ a ramme/ seven lambece of a yearc olde/ without blemyshe/ with their meate offeringes/ the tenth Deales of fyne flour/ mingled with oyle to the bullocke / two tenth Deales to the ramme/ and one tenth Deale to every one of the seven lambece. And an hegoate for a synnofferinge/ besides the synnofferinge of the atonement/ and the dayly burnt offeringe with his meate offeringe/ and with his drinke offeringe.

The thirteenth daye of the seventh moneth shall be an holy convocation with you/ no seruile worke shall ye do therein/ and seven dayes shall ye kepe a fast: unto the Lord. And ye shall offer the Lord a burnt offeringe for a sacrifice of a sweete savour unto the Lord: the yong bullocke/ two rammes/ or seven lambece of a yearc olde/ without blemyshe/ with their meate offeringes/ the tenth Deales of fyne flour/ mingled with oyle to every one of the thyrte bullockes. Two tenth Deales to every of the two rammes / and one tenth Deale to every one of the fourtene lambece: an hegoate for a synnofferinge/ besides the dayly burnt offeringe/ with his meate offeringe and his drinke offeringe.

On the seconde daye/ of the yong bullockes/ two rammes / fourteen lambece of a yearc olde/ without blemyshe/ with their meate offeringes and drinke offeringes/ to the bullockes / to the rammes/ or to the lambece / in the number of them/ according to the maner. And an hegoate for a synnofferinge/ besides the dayly burnt offeringe/ with his meate offeringe/ and with his drinke offeringe.

On the thred daye/ eleven bullockes / two rammes/ fourteen lambece of a yearc olde/ without blemyshe/ with their meate offeringes / and drinke offeringes / to the bullockes / to the rammes/ and to the lambece in their number/ according to the maner. And an hegoate for a synnofferinge / besides the dayly burnt offeringe / with his meate offeringe and his drinke offeringe.

On the fourth daye/ ten bullockes/ two rammes / fourteen lambece of a yearc olde/ without blemyshe / with their meate offeringes goe and drink offeringe to the bullockes / to the rammes / and to the lambes in theyr number / accordinge to the maner. And an he goate for a sin offeringe / beside the dayly burnt offeringe / with his meate offeringe / and his drink offeringe / and his bullockes / two rammes / or foureteen lambes of a yere olde / without blensbe / with theyr meate offeringes / and drink offeringes / to the bullockes / to the rammes / and to the lambe in theyr number / accordinge to the maner. And an he goate for a sin offeringe / beside the dayly burnt offeringe / with his meate offeringe and his drink offeringe.

On the first daye / yf he bullocke / two rammes / with lambe of a yere olde / without blensbe / with theyr meate offeringe / a drink offeringe / to the bullocke / to the rammes / or to the lambe in theyr number / accordinge to the maner. And an he goate / for a sin offeringe / beside the dayly burnt offeringe / with his meate offeringe and his drink offeringe.

¶ On the fourth daye / seven bullockes / two rammes / or foureteen lambe of a yere olde / without blensbe / with theyr meate offeringes and drink offeringes / to the bullocke / to the rammes / and to the lambe in theyr number / accordinge to the maner. And an he goate for a sin offeringe / beside the dayly burnt offeringe / with his meate offeringe / a drink offeringe.

On the eighth daye shall ye gather the people together. To seruyse wote shall ye do therein. And ye shall offer a burnt offeringe for a sacrifice of a sweet savour unto the Lord. A bullocke / a ramme / seven lambe of a yere olde / without blensbe / with theyr meate offeringe and drink offeringes / to the bullocke / to the rammes / and to the lambe in theyr number / accordinge to the maner. And an he goate for a sin offeringe / beside the dayly burnt offeringe / and his meate offeringe / a drink offeringe.

These thynges shall ye do unto the Lord in ym sacrifice / beside the dayly wote and gene of a sicriuil for burnt offeringes / meate offeringes / or drink offeringes / and drink offeringes. And Moses tolde the chyldren of Israel all that the Lord commanded hym.

¶ And Moses spake unto the rulers of the Church of the chydren of Israel / say: This is it that the Lord hath commanded. If any man make a wote unto the Lord / or sweare an othe / so that he bynde his soule / he shall not breake his wote / but he shall do all that he proceede out of his mouth.

If a man make a wote unto the Lord / and bynd her selfe / by the soule in her fathers house / and unmarried / with her wote / or bonde that she maketh over her soule / comyng to her fathers house / she holde his peate therto / then at her wote / and bounde that the hath bounde her selfe / withall ouer her soule / shall stande in effect. But if her father forbid her before she have heard it / then shall no wote nor bonde / that she hath bounde her selfe / stande over her soule / of value. And the Lord shall be merciful vnto her / for so much as her father forbade her.

If she have an husband / and hath a wote upon her / or if she have leitt go out of her lippes a bonde ouer her soule / and her husbande heare it / an holdeth his peate therto / the same daye that he heareth it / then he wote and bonde / wherwith she had bounde her selfe / ouer her soule / shall stande in effect. But if her husband forbid her the same daye / that he heareth it / then is her wote / or if she hath upon her / and the bonde also / that she hath leitt go out of her lippes / ouer her soule / to the Lord / shall be gracious vnto her.

The wote of a weddow / and of her that is divorced / all that she byndeth by selfe / shall ouer her soule / stande in effect upon her.

If she wote in her husbands house / or bynde her selfe / with an othe / ouer her soule / or her husbande hear it / she holde his peate therto / and forbidde it not / then shall all this same wote / and all that she hath bounde her selfe / withall / ouer her soule / stande in effect. But if her husbande will dissolue it / the same daye / that he heareth it / then is it of no value / that he proceeded out of her lippes / whiche she hath wote / or bonde / ouer her soule / for by her husbande hath made it loose / and the Lord shall be gracious vnto her. And all wote / or a bonde / that bynde to humbly the soule / maye her husbande stablish / or breake. Then if she holde his peate therto / from one daye to another / by her selfe.

stablished be al her women a bodes & the hair upon her/ because he helde his peace/ because she saye that he berde them. But after this she shall be take awaye her husbande.

The firste the summe that & Lo:de commaunded Moyses/ betwene a man a his wyfe/ a betwene the father a his daughter/ whyle she is yet a vauillsell in her fathers house.

The XXXI. Chapter.

2 Speke the Lo:de spake vnto Moyses/ and he sayd: I charge the chyldren of Israel of the Madianites/ that thou mayst afterward be gathered vnto thy people. Then spake Moyses vnto the people/ and sayd: Earnestly some men ainsy you to the warre/ agaynst the Madianites/ that they may avenge the Lo:de vpon the Madianites. Out of every tribye a thousande/ that out of every tribye of Israel ye maye sende sonne to the banayll. And from amonge the thousandes of Israel/ they toke out of every tribye/ euen twelfe thousandes/ prepared vnto the banayll. And Moyses sent them with Phineas/ the sonne of Eleasac the prest into the banayll/ and the holy vssile/ and the trumpets to blowe in his bande.

And they fought agaynst the Madianites/ as the Lo:de commaunded Moyses/ and slawe all the males/ and the kynge of the Madianites slawe they also/ amonge the other that were slayn manly/ Eui/ Rekem/ Zur/ Hur/ and Reba/ the fyve kynge of the Madianites. And they slawe Balan/ the soune of Beor with the forward. And the chyldren of Israel rook the women of the Madianites/ prisoners/ and theye chyldren/ all theye cattell/ all theye sellhuces/ and all theye goodes spoyled they/ and all theye ryces of theyr dwellinges/ and aske to burne they with fyre. And they toke all the spoyles/ and all that they coulde catch/ men and cattell/ and brought them vnto Moyses/ and to Eleasar the prest/ and to the congregation of the chyldren of Israel/ (namely the prisoners/ and the cattell that were taken/ and the good that was spoyled/ vnto that host/ in the side of the Madianites/ which lyech betwye Jordan/ and aragaynst Jericho.

And Moyses and Eleasar the prest/ and all the captaynes of the congregation/ went out of the host to meete them. And Moyses was angrye at the officers of the host/ which were captaynes ouer thousandes and hundredes/ that came from the banayll/ and sayde vnto them: Behold/ I charge you the women alyke/ Behold/ I charge you the choyse Beas/ (Lambes of synne) turned awaye the chyldren of Israel/ to synne agaynst the Lo:de/ and there came a plague ouer the whole congregation of the Lo:de. I charge therefore slaye al the males amonge the chyldren/ and Eui al the women that haue knowen men/ and lye with them. But al the women chyldren that haue knowen no man/ nor lye with him/ kepe those alyke for your selfe. And lodge ye without the host/ Till that haue slayne any man/ or touched the slayner/ that on the byrd and fourth daye/ ye may purifie your selfe/ and chose/ vnto you ye haue taken prisoners. And all the clothes/ and all stuffe that is made off fyre/ and all maner fyres/ all vessels of wood shall ye purifie.

And Eleasar the prest sayd vnto the captaynes of the host/ that went out to the banayll: This is the statute of the law/ which the Lo:de commaunded Moyses/ golde/ syluer/ brasse/ yron/ ymune/ and lech/ and al that suffere the fyre/ shall ye cause to go thowse the fyre/ and cleanse it/ that it maye be purified with a sprynglinge water. As for all such as suffere the water/ and shall wash your clothes vpon the fourth daye/ and then shall ye be cleare. And that shall ye come into the host.

And the Lo:de spake vnto Moyses/ and sayd: Take the summe of the spoyles of those that are taken/ both of the women and of cattell/ thou and Eleasar the prest/ and the chyse fathers of the congregation/ and geue the half vnto those that roke the warre/ vpon them/ and went out to the banayll/ and the other half to the congregation. And of the men of warre/ that went out to the banayll/ thou shalt geue vnto the Lo:de one soule of fyve hundred/ both of the women/ xxiij. asses/ and sheepe. Of theye halfe parte shalt thou take it/ and geue it vnto Eleasar the prest/ for an heauy offeringe/ vnto the Lo:de. But of the chyldren of Israel/ halfe parte/ thou shalt take one head of fyfity/ both of the women/ xxx. asses/ and sheepe/ and of all the cattell/ and half geue them vnto the Leuites / that wayte vpon the habitation of the Lozde.

And Moſes and Eleazar the prieft did as the Lozde commaunded Moſes. And he ſpooke a prayer vnto the men of warre had ſpoyled / was vi hundred thouſand / a ſixty thouſande ſhepe / ſixty thouſande oxen / and ſixty thouſande aſſes / and the women that had ſerued no men / nor lyeu with them / were ſixty thouſande ſoules.

¶ And the halfe parte / which belonged vnto them / that went to the warre / was in number three hundredth / and ſixty. thouſande / and v hundredth ſhepe / of the which the Lozde had vi hundredth / and ſixty ſhepe. From ſixty. thouſande oxen / vnto the Lozde had ſixty. Thouſande / and v hundredth aſſes / vnto the Lozde had ſixty. Thouſand ſoules of women / vnto the Lozde had ſixty. And Moſes gaue this brauce offeringe of the Lozde vnto Eleazar the prieft / as the Lozde commaunded hym.

¶ As for the other halfe / which Moſes deuyded vnto the chyldren of Iſrael / for the men of warre / namely the halfe that fell to the congregation / it was alſo ſixty hundredth thouſand and ſixty thouſande / and v hundredth ſhepe / ſixty thouſande oxen / ſixty thouſande and v hundredth aſſes / and ſixty thouſande women ſoules. And of this halfe of the chyldren of Iſrael / Moſes gaue one of every ſixty / both of the cattell and of the women / and gaue them vnto the Leuites / that wayted vpon the habitation of the Lozde / as the Lozde commaunded Moſes.

¶ And the captiues / ouer the thouſandes of the hoſt / namely they that were once thouſandes and ouer hundredes / came forth vnto Moſes / and ſayd vnto hym: The ſeruautes haue taken ſeruitude of the men of warre / that were vnder our handes / and there lacked not one / therefore byng we a people vnto the Lozde / what enery one hath ſaide of words / of golde / ſerpico / diademes / rhynges / carynges / and ſuch / that our ſoules maye be receyued before the Lozde.

And Moſes and Eleazar the prieft toke of them the golde of al manner ornaments. And all the golde of the brauce offeringe / that they braced vnto the Lozde / was ſixty. thouſande / and vi hundredth / and l. ſheles / of the captiues ouer thouſandes and hundredes. For ſeke what enery one had ſpoyled / was his owne. And Moſes with Eleazar the prieft / toke the golde of the captiues once thouſandes and hundredes / and brought it into the Tabernacle of witneſſe / for a remembrance of the chyldren of Iſrael / before the Lozde.

The XXXII. Chapter.

¶ The chyldren of Ruben and the chyldren of Gad had an exceeding great multitude of cattell / and ſawe the lande of Baſan and Gilead / that it was a meere place for cattell / and came and ſpake vnto Moſes and to Eleazar the prieft / and to the captiues of the congregation: The lande of Aſtaroth / Shimon / Gaſar / Chimca / Eſthaim / Kilaie / Sebon / Aſodon / and Beou / which the Lozde ſmoothered for the congregation of Iſrael / this lande ſeemeth for cattell / and the ſeruautes haue waye cattell. And they ſayd moreover / we will ſounde ſanctiue before the Lozde / and we will not goe ouer Jordan.

Moſes ſayd vnto them / your brethren ſhall go to the warre / and will ye eay here? Wherefore turne ye the breec of the chyldren of Iſrael / that they ſhoulde not goe vnto the lande / that the Lozde ſhall geue them. ¶ Thus ſaid your fathers alſo / when I ſent them out from Edes Bernee / to ſpeere out the land. And when they were come vnto the ſynne of the ſeal / and ſawe the lande / they ment the breec of the chyldren of Iſrael / ſo that they wold not goe vnto the lande / which the Lozde wolde haue giuen them.

¶ And the Lozde was wroth at the ſame tyme / and ſprouke and ſayd: ¶ Theſe men that ſhall come out of Egipte / from twentye yeare olds / and aboue / ſhall not ſee the lande / which I ſwore vnto Abraham / Iſaac / and Jacob / becauſe they haue not wholly folowed me / ſaue Caleb the ſonne of Iſephue / the Kenite / and Joſua the ſonne of Nun: for they haue wholly folowed the Lozde. So the Lozde was wroth with Iſrael / and let them wander in the wilderness / fortye yeares / till all the generation that had ſoone / ſhall be before the Lozde.

Loide was consumed.

And behold/ye are risen vp in your fathers steaddes increase the number of synfull men/and to augment yett the wrath and indignation of the Lord against Israel. For if ye turne you backe from followinge hym/in that yett leaue thym more in the wickednesse/and so shall ye destroye all this people.

Then stepe they to hym/and saye: we will but buyde these foldes here for ouer shepe a cattell/and cyne for our chyldren. So for our sake/we will goe in ady armed before the chyldren of Israel/all we haue brought them into theyr place: Our chyldren shall remaine in the fenced cyne/because of the midwellers of the lande. We will not turne home agayne/all the chyldren of Israel haue taken euey one for an inheritance in possession: for we will not inherit with them beyonde Iordane: for oue inheritance it shall fall vnto vs vpon this syde Iordane/Eastward.

Moses sayd vnto them: If ye wil do this that ye wil harness your selues to the warre/ before the Lord/then go ouer the Iordane before the Lord/who soeuer is harness'd amongst you/will he haue by him oue his enemye before his face/ vntill the lande be subdued before the Lord/then shall ye returne/ a be a gyltye before the Lord: as before Israel/ a so shall ye haue this lande in possession before the Lord: But if ye will not do so/behold/ye shall offend agaynst the Lord: a be fore that your synne shall fynde you oue. Whyde receyue I will therefore for you chyldren these foldes/a fillles for your shepe a cattell/a so as ye haue spoken.

The chyldren of Gad/a the chyldren of Ruben saye vnto Moses: Thy seruantes shall be as my Lord hath commaunded. Our chyldren/wyfes/substaunce/ a all our cattell shall be in the cyne of Gilead. But we/why for our sakes will go all harness'd for the warre/ vnto battayll before the Lord/ as my lord hath sayd.

Then Moses commaunded Eleazar the priest/a Josia the sonne of Nun/a the chiefe fathers of the tribes of chyldren of Israel/a sayd vnto them: If the chyldren of Gad/a the chyldren of Ruben/go ouer Iordane with you/all prepared to fight before the Lord/a when the lande is subdu'd vnto you/ then if ye cleare the lande of Gilead in possession. But if they goe not ouer with you in battayll/then shall they inherite with you in the lande of Canaan.

The chyldren of Gad/and the chyldren of Ruben answered and sayd: As the Lord hath spoken vnto thy seruantes/ so will we do: we will goe harness'd before the Lord/ vnto the lande of Canaan/and possess our inheritance on this syde Iordane.

So Moses saue vnto the chyldren of Gad/and to the chyldren of Ruben/ a to the half tribe of Manasse/the sonnes of Joseph: the kyngdome of Sihon/ kyng of the Ammonites/and the kyngdome of Og/ the kyng of Basan/ the lande with theyr cyne therof/ in all the coastes of the countrey round about. Then the chyldren of Gad buydded Sihon/ Araroth/ Arcti/ Araroth/ Sophan/ Jaser/ and Jegg-sheba/ Demiccar/ and Bebaran/ which fenced cyne/and theyr foldes. The chyldren of Ruben buydded Hesbon/ Eleale/ Anathapum/ Nebo/ Baal/ Meon/ a turned the nauice/ and Obamas/ and gaue names vnto the cyne/ which they buydded. And the chyldren of Machu/ the sonne of Manasse went vnto Gilead/ and conquered it/ and there oue the Ammonites that were therein. Then Moses gaue Gilead vnto Machu/ the sonne of Manasse/ and he dwelt therein. For the sonne of Manasse/ went and conquered the villages therof/ a called them Hanoth/ Zar/ Nabath/ wem/ and conquered Beulah/ which the conuence belongyng therof/ a called it Nabath/ after his owne name.

The XXXIII. Chapter.

The XXXIII. Chapter.

¶ And the Lorde spake vnto Moses / and sayde: Commande the chyldren of Israel / and say vnto them: When ye come into the lande of Canaan: the lande that fallyth to youre inheritance / shall haue her borders in the lande of Canaan. The fourt quarter shall be gynnne at the wyldernesse of Sin by Edom / so that your iournales be from the edge of the salt see / which iseth towards the East / and that iust quarter set a compass from the South up to Acrabim / and go thowre Synna: and that his out goynge be from the South vnto Edes Berua: and eache vnto Hazon Thar: and go thowre Synna: / and stretch out from Synna vnto the ryuer of Egypt: and that the ends thereof be at the great see.

But the West quarter that the thys: nameyth the great see / let that be youre border towards the West.

¶ The North quarter shalbe this: Ye shal passe from the great see vnto mounte Hazon: and from Hazon ye shall compass till a man come vnto Ennaboth: that the outgoynge thereof be the coast of Zebada: and that the border of the same go out vnto Ephraim: and that the goynge out of it be at Hazon Ena. Let this be your North quarter.

And your East quarter shall ye compass from Hazon Enan vnto Ephraim: and let the coast go thowre Ephraim and Zabulon the East side of Sin. Then let us go thowre / a reach vnto the side of the see of Chinnereth / Eastward: and come thowre by Jordan: so that the goynge out of it be the salt see. Let this be your lande with the borders thereof rounde aboute.

¶ And Moses commaunded the chyldren of Israel: and sayde: This is youre lande: ye shal be deu'd out amonge you by lot: which the Lorde hath commaunded to geue vnto the thys: trybes: and to the halfe trybe. I. For: the trybe of the chyldren of Ruben: after their fathers house / and the trybe of the chyldren of Gad: according to their fathers houses: the halfe trybe of Manasse haue receaued their portion. Thus the two trybes and the halfe trybe haue they inheritance alkeay on this side Jordan: ouer against Jericho: Eastward.

And the Lorde spake vnto Moses / and sayd: These are the names of the men: which shall deu'de the lande amonge you. Eleazar the puell: and Josus the sonne of Ithin. And the captayne of euery trybe shal ye take: so be they the lande.

And these are the names of the men: Caleb the sonne of Iephum: of the trybe of Iuda. Samuel: the sonne of Ammyhud: of the trybe of Simeon. Eldad the sonne of Aissa: of the trybe of Ben Iamin. Buth the sonne of Iugh: of the trybe of the chyldren of Dan. Hamael the sonne of Ephod: of the trybe of the chyldren of Manasse: amonge the chyldren of Joseph. Amiel the sonne of Ephraim: of the trybe of the chyldren of Ephraim. Elgaphan the sonne of Parnachof: of the trybe of the chyldren of Zabulon. Palhell the sonne of Ahan: of the trybe of the chyldren of Issachar. Zibud the sonne of Selom: of the trybe of the chyldren of Acher. Pedabel the sonne of Amhud: of the trybe of the chyldren of Nephtali. These are they whome the Lorde commaunded: that they shoulde deu'de the inheritance vnto the chyldren of Israel: in the lande of Canaan.

The XXXV. Chapter.

¶ And the Lorde spake vnto Moses / in the syde of the Moabites by Jordan: ouer against Jericho: and said: Commande the chyldren of Israel: that they geue vnto the Leuites of the inheritance of theyr possessi on: as ye do dwell in. The suburbs also shal be aboute the cyties: that ye geue vnto the Leuites: that they may dwell in the cyties: and in the suburbs: to haue they: eares: and substance: and all theyr cattell.

The suburbs: which ye geue vnto the Leuites: shall reache from the wall of the cytye: ourtwede a Myl: by the waye rounde aboute. Thus ye shal measure without the cytye on the East side: two thousand cubites: on the South side: two thousand cubites: on the West side:

side two thousand cubites / as on y Mouthside two thousand cubites / so that the cyne be in the middle. The y shall they suburbeo.

B And amonge y cyne / which ye idal geue unto the Lemra / ye shall geue them fyve fre cyne / that be wyche / I am murther a slaughter maye theye rhyer. Besyde the same ye shall geue them fyve a fourty cyne / so that all the cyne / which ye geue unto the Lemra / shal eysht a fourty with theye suburbeo. And of the same ye shall geue the more from them / that hauit much in possiion / amonge the children of Jisrael / the liff from them / y haue lyste in possiion. Every oue / accordinge to hys enherytance / that is deuided unto hym / shal geue of hys cyne / vnto the Lemra.

Exo. xxxi. b. And the Lorde talked with Mosse and Exo. xxxi. a. saye vnto them / What ye comt ouer Iordane / into the lande of Canaan / ye shall chose out cyne to be fre cyne / that whose commited slaughter vnto warre / maye theye rhy-er. And such fre cyne shall be amonge you / because of y auenger of bloude / that he / which hath commyted slaughter / dye not / yll he stande in iudgement before the congrega-cion. And of these cyne / which ye shall geue there / shalbe fyve fre cyne. The shal ye geue on this syde Jordane / and there in the lande of Canaan.

E These are the fre fre cyne / both for the children of Jisrael / and for the straungers / and for / so the an vrell amonge you / that whosoeuer hath slayne any soule in warre / maye theye rhyer.

Exo. xxxi. b If he that smyteth any man with an yn weapon / that he dye / the same is a murtherer / and shal dye the deary. If he cast at hym a stone / wherwith any man maye be slayne / that he dye thereof / then is he a murtherer / a shall dye the deary. If he smyte hym with an hand weapon of wood / wherwith any man maye be slayne / that he dye / then is he a mur-therer / and shal dye the deary. The auenger of bloude shall charge the murtherer to deary.
What he fyndeth hym / he shall slaye hym.
If he shal at hym of bare / or cast ought at hym with layenge of warre / or smyte hym of enye with his hande / that he dye / then shall he shal slayne hym / dye the deary / for he is a murtherer. The auenger of bloude shal bring hym to deary / as sone as he fyndeth hym.

B But if he shal at hym by chaunce / and not of enye / or hurle ought at hym / without layenge of warre / or cast at hym with a stone / wherof a man maye dye / and sawe it not / so that he dye / and is not his enemy / neyther thought hym any euill / then shall the congrega-cion iudge betwixt hym / that hath commited the slaughter / a the auenger of bloude in such case. And the congregacion shal be-lyue the deary slayer from the bande of the auenger of bloude / and ill shal hym comit a gayne to the fre cyne / whyther he woe sted / and there shal he abyde vnto the deary of the bye pnysh / which was appointed with holy oyle. But if the deary slayer go out of the borders of hys fre cyne / that he was sted vnto / a the auenger of bloude fynde hym without the borders of hys fre cyne / and kyll hym / he shall not be gilty of bloude. For he shoulde haue hidden in his fre cyne / vntill the deary of the hygge pnysh / and after the hygh pnysh deary to come agayne / vnto the liff of his en-heritaunce. Thys shalbe a stature of the lawe vnto you / amonge your possiions in all your dwellinges.

The deary Layer shalbe slayne at the mouth of witness. One witness shal not accuse ouer a soule to deary. And ye shall receaue none anoyment ouer the soule of the deary slayer / for he is gilty of deary / that he shall dye y deary. And ye shall receaue none anoyment of hym / which is fled to the fre cyne / but he shoulde come agayne to dwell in the lande yll the pnysh dye. And desyre not ye the liff wheryn ye dwell. For who so is gilty of bloude / desleth the lande / and the lande can not be reconced from the bloude that is shed therein / but only thowe f bloude of hym that shed is doffe not ye y lande that ye dwell in / wheryn I dwell also / for I am the Lorde / which dwell amonge the children of Jisrael.

The XXXVI Chapter.

And the chiefe fathers of the Fyentes / of the Children of Gad / the sonne of Nadir Cush was the sonne of Manasse / the kyn-ed of the children of Joseph / came forth / and spoke before Mosse / and before the captaynes amonge the chiefe fathers of the children of Jisrael.

and 111

The fyfth booke of Moſes called Deuteronomium.

The firſt Chapter.

These are the wordes that Moſes ſpake vnto all Iſrael / on the other ſyde Jordan in the wildernes / in the plains ſide toward the reade ſe / Berene Darren, Toppe / Laban / Barzeroth / and Biſchab / leuen daies iourney frō Beorch / by the waye of mount Sion / vnto Eardes Bernea. And u ſounded the ſyſt boſe of the cleuenth month / by the ſourtyeth yere / Moſes ſpake vnto ſ childen of Iſrael / and ſinge vnto al as the Lord ſpake vnto him / laſte he had ſpoken. Eſen / he kynge of the Ammonites / ſpake at Beſſon / a ſyde of the kyng of Boſen / that dwelt at Aſſiath / a ſyde of Be.

These are the wordes that Moſes ſpake vnto all Iſrael / on the other ſyde Jordan / in the wildernes / in the plains ſide toward the reade ſe / Berene Darren, Toppe / Laban / Barzeroth / and Biſchab / leuen daies iourney frō Beorch / by the waye of mount Sion / vnto Eardes Bernea. And u ſounded the ſyſt boſe of the cleuenth month / by the ſourtyeth yere / Moſes ſpake vnto ſ childen of Iſrael / and ſinge vnto al as the Lord ſpake vnto him / laſte he had ſpoken. Eſen / he kynge of the Ammonites / ſpake at Beſſon / a ſyde of the kyng of Boſen / that dwelt at Aſſiath / a ſyde of Be.

On the other ſyde Jordan / in the lande of the Moabites / began Moſes to declare the law / and ſaide: The Lord our God ſpake vnto vs vpon mount Beorch / and ſeyd: Ye ſhal haue bene longe ynoogh vpon this mountaine / turne you / and depart hence / that ye may come to the mountaine of the Ammonites / a to all theyr neighboures / in the ſeldes vpon mountaynes / and in the valleyes / toward the South / and toward the ſe / ſyde of the lude of Canaan / and to mount Libanus / vnto the greete water Euphrates. Behold / I haue beſpoken you the land / you may take it in poſſeſſion / which the Lord ſware vnto your fathers Abraham / Isaac / and Iacob / that he wold giue it vnto them / and ſhew ſede after them.

These ſyde I vnto you at ſ ſome tyme: I am not able to biare you my ſelfe alone / for the Lord: youre God hath merceded you / ſo that this daye ye are caſte ſeruaunt of heauen in multitude: the Lord God of youre fathers make you yet many thouſande yemes mo / and bleſſe you / as he hath promiſed you.

Israel / a ſayd: The Lord hath com-mandid / that ye ſhould be giue ſ land by ſome vnto the childen of Iſrael to inherite. And ſpake a ſpouſy ſorde / haſte com-mandid / the ſorde the Lord / ſhar the inheritaunce of aunc brother zelaphead ſhould be greut vnto his ſougthers. Now / many men / out of the tribes of Iſrael / take them to wiſe / then / hal oure fathers inheritaunce: be leſſe: a as much as they haue ſhal come to the inheritaunce of ſ tribe / that they come vnto. Thus ſhal the love of our inheritaunce be miſuſed: So when the yere of Jubile com-mith vnto the childen of Iſrael / then ſhal their inheritaunce come to the inheritaunce of the tribe / where they are. Thus ſhal oure fathers inheritaunce be miſuſed / as much as they haue.

Moſes charged the childen of Iſrael / accor-ding to the continuandement of the Lord / and ſaide: The tribe of the childen of Joſeph hath ſaid righte. This is ſi the Lord com-mandid / the daughters of zelaphead / and ſeyd: Let them marie as they like / diſtinctly / that they merite ſ ſhaired of the tribe of their father / that the inheritaunce of ſ childen of Iſrael ſal not ſiue one tribe to another. For every one amonge the childen of Iſrael ſhal cleue to the inheritaunce of the tribe of his father / and every ſougther that poſſeſſeth any inheritaunce / amonge the tribes of Iſrael / ſhal be maried vnto one of the kindred of ſ tribe of her father. That every one amonge the childen of Iſrael maye enioye his fathers inheritaunce / and that ſ inheritaunce ſal not ſiue one tribe to another / but that every one maye cleue to his owne inheritaunce / amonge the tribes of the childen of Iſrael.

The Lord com-mandid Moſes / and ſeyd / the ſougthers of zelaphead / Mabel / Ebita / Hagla / Milca / al / a. And were maried vnto their fathers ſougthers ſoures / of ſ kindred of the childen of Maſſe / the ſonne of Joſeph. So their inheritaunce / was enioyed in the tribe of the kindred of their father.

These are the com-mandements and lawes / which the Lord com-mandid by Moſes / vnto the childen of Iſrael / in the ſelde of Maſſes / by Jordan / ouer againſt Beer ſheva.

you) How can I alone beare such combustion / and charge / a style and ge you: I shoulde here men of wisdom and understanding / such as are know among your trybes / them will see to be heade vnto you.

Then answered ye me and sayde: It is a good thinge that thou sayest / thou wylt do. Then toke I the heade of them trybes / wyse and famous men / and sette them ouer you to be heade ouer thousande / ouer hundrede / ouer fifty / and ouer thre and officers amonge your trybe.

Job. xij. b And I charged your iudges at the same tyme / and sayde: Heare your brethren / I and iudge righteously betwene euery man and his brother / as the stranger. Ye shall know no person in iudgement / but shall beare the final as well as the greate / and be afrayed of no man: for the iudgement is Gods.

Deut. xviij. b Deu. xviij. b I But if any cause be to hande for you / let me be thought vnto me / that I may beare it. Thus commaunded I you at the same tyme all that ye shoulde do.

Then departed we from Horeb / and walked throughe the whole wyldernes / whiche is greate a terrible as ye haue sene. By the waye to the mountaynes of the Ammonites / as the Lord our God commaunded vs / I came vnto Cadan Bernea. Then sayde I vnto you: Ye are come to the mountaynes of the Ammonites / whiche the Lord our God shall geue vs. Whither / where is the land before the / whiche the Lord thy God hath geuen vnto the: Go vp / and conquire it / as the Lord our God thy father hath sayde vnto the: I fear not / and be not discouraged.

Nam. xij. a Then came ye all vnto me / and sayde: Let vs sende men before vs / to spye vs out the lands / and to bringe vs wordes agayne / by whiche waye we shal go vp / and to what ende we shal come. That pleased me well / as I toke welle in it / from amonge you / of euery tribone. Whiche whan they were departed / and wente vnto the hye countie / and came to the riuer / as I told they spyed it out / I and toke of the fruite of the lande with them / and broughte it vnto vnto vs / I broughte vs wordes agayne / and sayde: It is a good lande / that the Lord our God hath geuen vs.

Nam. xij. c But ye would not go vp / and were disobedient vnto the mouth of the Lord your God / and murmured in your course / and sayde: Because the Lord hath vs / therefore hath he broughte vs out of the lande of Egypt / to bringe vs into the handes of the Ammonites / to destroye vs. Whither shal we go vp? Cure then haue dischaunged our breccas / as I said: The people is greater / of higher stature then we / they are greater / and walked euery one up to heauen. Therefore / we haue sene the chylidren of Enahim.

But I said vnto you: Feare not / and be not afrayed of them: for the Lord your God goeth before you / and shal fight for you / lyke as he dealeth with you in Egypte / before your eyes / and in the wilderness: where thou sawest / that the Lord thy God had thee / (euen as a man beareth his owne sonne) showest all the waye that ye had walked / wher he came to this place. And ye for all this ye haue not belieued vnto the Lord your God / whiche wente before you / to searche out a place / wher ye shoulde pitch your tentes by night / in the frise / to shewe you the waye / wher ye shoulde go / and on the daye tyme in the cloude.

Whan the Lord heede the voyce of your wordes / he was wroth / and swore / and sayde: There shal none of this small generacyon see that good lande / whiche I sware to geue vnto your fathers / excepte Caleb the sonne of Ioseph / he shall see it. And vnto hym will I geue the lande / that he hath intreated vpon / and to his chylidren / because he hath perfectly followed the Lord.

The Lord was angry with me also / for I sayde / and sayde: Thou also shalt not go in thither. But I will be the sonne of Ioseph / standeth before the Lord / in thither / I will raise hym / so he shal deuide the ende it / as I said vnto Israel. And your chylidren / of whom ye said they shoulde be a pisse / and your sonnes / whiche this daye enter shalde / they shal not see it / in thier / vnto this daye will I geue it / and they shal enioye it. But so for you / turne you / and take you iourney to the wilderness / to see the waye to the red sea.

Then answered ye / and sayde vnto me: We haue sinned agaynst the Lord / we will go vp / and fight / according to all that the Lord

Lozdē had commanded vs. Now/ when ye had prepared your selves/ every one in his banntis/ and were at the paynt to go vp to the mountayne/ the Lozde sayde vnto me: Speake vnto them/ that they go not vp/ and they fight not/ for I am not amonge you/ that ye shē not synne/ before your enemies. When I tolde you this/ ye would not heare/ & were disobedient vnto the woide of the Lozde/ and were rebellious/ and went vp to the mountayne. Then the Ammonites/ & dwelt vpon the mountayne/ came against you/ and chased you/ as hee do: and sware you at Scythien vnto Honna. Now/ when ye came agayne/ and were before the Lozde/ he wolde not heare your voyce/ and enclined not his eare vnto you. Wo ye abode in Cadan a longe season.

The 1. Chapter.

Then turned we vs/ and toke our iourney to the wilderness/ taken the waye so the read is/ as the Lozde saide vnto me/ and compassed mount Seir a longe season. And the Lozde sayde vnto me: Ye haue compassed this mountayne now longe ynough/ turne you Northward/ and commaunde the people and saye: Ye shal go the waye of the coaste of your brethren/ the chyldren of Isau/ which dwel at Seir/ and they shal be a frayd of you. Not take diligent hede to your selfe/ that ye prouoke them not: for I wyl not geue you ene fore bith of theyr lande. For mount Seir haue I geuen to the chyldren of Isau to possesse. Ye shal byc iurte of them for money/ that ye maye care. And water shal ye byc of them for money/ that ye maye drinke. For the Lozde thy God haue blessed the in al the waye of thy hande. He hath considered thy iourneys/ therefore this greete wilderness/ and this hurty yeres hath the Lozde thy God bene with the/ so that thou hast wanted nothinge.

Now when we were departed from our brethren the chyldren of Isau/ that dwelte vpon mount Seir/ by the waye of the selde sid Elaid and Isezon Gabece we turned vs/ and went by the waye of the wilderness/ of the Moabites. Then sayde the Lozde vnto me: Thou shalt not wike the Moabites/ nor prouoke them vnto battayll/ for I will not geue the of theyr lande to possesse. For I haue I geuen vnto the chyldren of Isau in possession. The Emmites dwel in Seir before him/ which were a greate stronge people/ and byt of stature/ as the Enalimite/ and were taken for giuance/ like as the Enalimite. And the Moabites called them Emmites. The Hounte also dwel in Seir/ as a seynne/ and the chyldren of Isau dwel the out/ and destroyed them before them/ and dwel in theyr steade/ like as Israel dwel in the lande of his possession/ that the Lozde gaue them.

When you vp north/ and go oute the ryuer E Sarid/ and we went our. The ryne that we were goynge/ sid Cadan/ Dimeca/ vs we came ouer the ryuer/ Sarid/ was crygs and hurty yeres: vs al the men of warre were wayted out of the boos/ vs on the Lozde sware vnto vs/ and them. The hande of the Lozde also was against them/ to destroy them out of the boos/ vs they were consumed.

And when all the men of warre were consumed/ so that they were dead amonge the people/ the Lozde spake vnto me/ and said: This daye shal thou go the waye of the coaste of the Moabites/ by Ierid/ and shal come nye vnto the chyldren of Ammon/ wher me then stele Iudis/ vs not wike nor prouoke. For I wyl not geue the of the lande of the chyldren of Ammon to possesse/ for I haue geuen it vnto the chyldren of Eozin possession. It was taken for a lande of giuance also/ and giuance dwel thern a fore me. And the Ammonites called them Chamunimite/ which was a people that was greete/ many/ and of byc stature/ as the Enalimite.

And the/ the Lozde destroyed before the/ & let them possesse the same/ so that they dwel in theyr steade. Like as he dwel with the chyldren of Isau/ which dwel vpon mount Seir/ wher he destroyed the Hounte before them/ and let them possesse the same/ so that they haue dwel in theyr steade vnto this daye. And the Capthodime came out of Capthor/ and destroyed the Amite/ that dwel at Hazanum/ euen vnto Gaze/ and there dwel they in theyr steade.

When you vp north/ and departe/ and go ouer the ryne Amou- Ezbol/ I haue geuen them the kyng of the Ammonites at Gad/into thy hande: go to and conquere/and possess hym unto bamayl. This daye wyl I deliuer hym/so yal nacaron vnder al the heauyls/shal feare and drede theim so much that wha they heare of thei ey shal tremble a quake for thy conuincing.

17 Then sent I messengers from the wylde-nesse of the wast unto Sibar/ the kyng at Gesebon/ with peaceable wordes/ a cause to saye vnto hym: I wyl go but throught thy lande/ I wyl go a lonyge by the hie way/ I wyl neyther turne to the right hande nor to the left. Thou shalt sell me case for money/ that I may eate/ and water shalt thou sell me for money/ that I may drinke. Vndy let me go throught by fote/ so the chyldren of Esau which dwel at Sem. Dyd wnto me/ and the Moabites that dwel at Ar. wyl I be conuincit Iordan into the lide/ wylsh the Lord youre God shal gaue vnto vs.

18 But Sibar/ the kyng at Gesebon wold not let vs go by hym/ for the Lord thy God hardened his mynde/ a made his herte tough/ that he myght deliuer him into thy handes/ as it is come to passe this daye.

19 And the Lord e sayd vnto me: Behold/ I haue begonne to deliuer Sibar/ with his lande before thee: go to and conquere/ and possess his lande. And Sibar/ came out with all his people to fight agaynst vs at Jahsa. But the Lord our God deliuered him into our handes/ so that we smote hym with his chyldren and all his people.

20 The cote we all his cines at the same tyme/ and deliuered vnto all theynes/ men/ women and chyldren/ and let none remayne: save the eunyll/ which we caught to oure selfe/ and y spoyle of the cines that we wanne from them/ which lyeth vpon the ryuer syde of Arnon/ and from the cynes on the ryuer vnto Gilead. There was no cine that could defende us selfe from vs: The Lord our God deliuered vs then all before vs. Thus vnto the lide of the chyldren of Ammon thou comest not/ wnto al that was on the ryuer/ Iordan: so the cines vpon the mountaynes/ wnto whatsoeuer the Lord our God shal doo.

21 And we curd: vs and went vp the way vnto Basan: And Og the kyng of Basan came out with all his people to fight agaynst vs at Eder. But the Lord our God deliuered vs into his handes/ and we smote hym/ and all his people: so that we smote hym/ and there was no kynge lefte oure ains hym.

22 Then wanne we at the same tyme al his cines/ and there was not one cynes/ the whole region of Argob/ that was in the lande of Og the kyng of Basan. All these cines were stronge with byr wyllowes/ gates/ and darres/ besyde many other walled towncs.

23 And we utterly destroyed them/ as the Lord our God shal gaue vnto vs. And we wnto the ryuer/ and the men/ women and chyldren. But al the camel and spoyle of the cynes caught we for our selfe.

24 Thus wnt we at the same tyme the lande/ out of the hande of the two kynges of Ammon/ Besyde Jordan/ from the ryuer of Arnon/ vnto mount Hermon/ which the Edomites call Sirion. But the Ammonites call it Ortir. All these cines vpon the playne/ and all Gilead/ a l Basan vnto Chaldan/ and Eder/ the cynes of the kyngdome of Og at Basan. For ondy Og the kyng of Basan remayned ouer of the gyauntes. Beholde his wyon bed was fyve cubites lonyge/ and foure cubites broad/ as for the cubite of a man.

25 This lande conquered we at the same tyme from Arce/ that lyeth on the ryuer of Arab. And vnto the Rubenites and Gadites I gaue half mount Gilead with the cines therof/ which the remanant of Gilead/ and al Basan the kyngdome of Og/ gaue I vnto the halfe ryue of Iordan. The whole region of Argob/ with all Basan was called the gyauntes lande.

26 For the sonne of Manasseth toke all the region of Argob/ vnto the coaste of Gessen and Madan/ and Basan called by Manasseth/ after his owne name/ vnto this daye: But vnto Madan I gaue Gilead. And vnto the Rubenes and Gaddites I gave one parte of Blead vnto the nurr of Arnon/ary iudges of ist nurr in the border Land vnto the ruler Zabed/whiche in the border of the children of Ammon he seide also/ a Iordane (whiche is the coast) from E inerech vnto the see/in the selbe/ namely the selu see/ vnder mount Disha/ Eastward.

¶ And I commaunded you at the same tyme/and sayde/The Loide your God hath geuen you this lande to take possession of it/you were woe for this cause/ but assured be/ for your birthen the children of Israhel/all ye that sit mee for the warre/ be for your tressec/and dyden/and cattel/ for I knowe that ye haue in ych cattel/ let them remaine in your Land/which I haue giuen you/ vnles I Loide your God haue brought your birthen to this also/ so well as you/ that they also may take the possession of the lande/ which the Loide your God shall geue them beyonde Iordane: and then shal ye turne againe to your owne possession/ which I haue giuen you.

¶ And I warned Josua at the same tyme/ and sayde/ Thine eyes haue sene all that the Loide your God hath don vnto these two kynge: euen so shal the Loide do also vnto all the kynge/ wherbyr thou goest/ feare them not/ for the Loide your God shal fight with you.

¶ And I bid you fight the Loide at the same tyme/and sayde/ O Loide Loide/ how hast thou sene to these thy seruant thy greuaunce and thy myghtry hande. For where is there a God in heauen and earth/ that can do after the woorkes/ or after thy power? O let me ge/ aske the good land beyonde Iordane/ that goodly byrroune/ a Libanus.

¶ But the Loide was angry with me for your sake/ a moule not beare nere/ but sayde vnto me/ Be content/ speake no more to me of this matter. ¶ Get the vp to the toppes of mount Disha/ and lyste up thine eyes ro/ ward the West/ and toward the North/ and toward the South/ and toward the East/ a behold it with thine eyes/ for thou shalt not go out this Iordane. And gaue Josua b. o. charge/ and curege bent/ to be den hym/ for he shal goe vnto Iordane. be ore the people/ & that sende vnto them the Lande/ that thou shalst see. ¶ And so we abode in the valley/ ouer Josu xxxiij. c. against the house of Deo. ¶ Uij. xxx. a

The IIII Chapter.

¶ Now heken Israhel vnto the ordi/ ¶ nances and lawes/ which I gaue you/ that ye do them/ that ye may lye and some in/ side take possession of the lande/ which the Loide God of youre father/ geueth vnto you. ¶ Ye shal put nothyng in ye to the woide/ which I commaunde you/ neither do oughte there from/ that ye may kepe the commaunde/ ¶ demence of the Loide your God/ which I commaunde you. ¶ Your eyes haue sene what the Loide hath don with Baal Deor/ I all them that walked after Baal Deor/ with the Loide thy God/ destroyed from amonge you/ Barye ther cleue vnto the Loide your God/ are al stur in this Bar. Behold I haue taught you ordonances and lawes/ such as I Loide my God commaunded me/ that ye shoulde do/ euen so in the lande/ in the which ye shall come to possesse it.

¶ Tepe them now therefore/ a do them: for that is youre wisdom/ a vnderstandinge in the sighte of al nacyonen/ which/ when they haue herde al these ordonances/ shal saye/ O what a wys and vnderstandinge folk is this? and how excellent a people/ for where is there so excellent a nation/ that hath goddes/ so nye hym/ as the Loide our God is nye vnto vs/ so as we call upon him? And where is there so excellent a nation/ that hath so righteous ordonances and lawes/ as al this lawe/ which I laye before you this daye.

¶ Take heed to thy selfe now/ a kepe well thy soule/ that thou forget not the thynges/ which thine eyes haue sene/ and that they departe not out of thy hert/ all the dayes of thy lyf.

¶ And thou shalt teach them thy ordi/ ¶ nances/ thy children/ the vnto/ when thou shaldest dye/ the Loide thy God/ by mount Seor/ when the Loide led vnto me/ Carth/ in the people together/ that I may make the here my wordes/ which they shal learne/ that they may feare me/ al the dayes of theyr lyf/ vnto earch/ and that they also may teach the/ children.

commaunded you to/ & namly/ the ten virtues/ and wrote them vpon two tables of stone.
And the Lord commaunded me as the same eyes/ to teach you ordinances and lawes/that ye might do therafter in the lande/ into the which ye go to possessit.

C Take heed yeres soules therfore/ for ye sawe no maner of ymage/ in the veye when the Lord spake vnto you out of the fyre/ upon mount Siner/ & thare ye destroye not your sel-ues/ and make you any ymagis/ that is lyke a man/ or woman/ or best/ upon earth/ or fei-ced fowle vnder the heauen/ or worme upon the grounde/ or fyre in the water vnder the earth: That thou lyke not vp thine eyes to make heauens/ and se the Sonne and the Mooone/ and the starres/ and the whole host of heauen/ and be deceaued/ and worshipped/ a serue them/ which the Lord thy God hath made to serue all nations vnder the whole heauen.

But you haue the Lord seken/ and I thought you out of the yon soune/ namely out of Egypt/ & ye shoulde be y people of his cherubim/ as it is com to passe this day.
* And the Lord was angry with me for your sake/ so that he saue: that I shoulde not go ouer Iordane/ nor come into the good lande/ which the Lord thy God shall geue the to inheriuaunce. As for me/ I must dye in the lande/ and shall not go ouer Iordane.
But ye shall go ouer/ & shall haue that good lande in possession.

Take heed therfore vnto your selues/ thare ye forget not the commaunders of the Lord your God/ & thare ye make no ymages of any manner of fashion/ as the Lord thy God hath commaunded. * For the Lord thy God is a consuming fyre/ and a glorious God.

If thou shalt haue begotten chyldren/ and chyldren chyldren/ and haue vnder in the lan-de/ & ye maer your selues/ and make you ymarges of any maner of fashion/ and do euill in the sight of the Lord your God/ so proude hym: That heauen and earth to receiue ouer you this daye/ that ye shall shortly perishe/ and the lande/ into the which ye go ouer. I ordi-ne to possesse. Ye shall not dwell longer therein/but shal shortly be destroyed. And the Lord shall scatter you amonge the nations/ and ye shall be like a smal people amonge the heathen/whither the Lord shall bring you. There shall ye serue goddes/ which are the workes of mens handes/ euen woods and stons/ whiche neither se nor heare/ nor eate/ nor smell.

But if thou seke the Lord thy God thou shalt find him/ & if thou seke him with thy whole heart/ and with all thy soules.
When thou shalt be straitly troubled/ and when all these thinges shall come upon the in the last daies/ the heale thou must agayne to the Lord thy God/ and be obedient vnto his voyce. For the Lord thy God is a mercifull God/ & he shall not forsake the mo: & whoso the meyer shall be for gite the conuaniant with thy fathers/ which he saue vnto the

For after thine tymes past/ which haue bene before the/ & the daye that God created man vpon earth/ from one ende of the earth vnto the other/ whether there was euen any iustre greater thinge/ than any such like herde/ that a people hath herde the voyce of God/ spake out of fyre/ as then halle herde and yet lyued. * Wherefore God sayde to go and take vnto hym a people/ out of the midde of a nation/ & thore temptacions/thore woekens/ thore wordes/ thore teare/ and thore a myghty hande/ and thore a strech/ & out arme/ & thore great visions/ according vnto all/ as the Lord your God hath done with you in Egypt/ & for thine eyes.

Thou shalt see that thou mightest knowe that the Lord is God/ & that there is none other/ but he onely. * Out of heauen made he to beate his voyce/ that he might be heard and vpon earth be seene the his great fire/ and out of the sin thou herdest his wordes. Because he loued thy fathers/ and chifly thy: he is after them. And he brought the out with his pasture/ thore to his myghty power out of Egypte to thore out/ & he comen/ greater and myghtier then thou/ and to bring the into the might great the lande

Deuteronomium.

R. iii. vs. b Thou shalt not lust after thy neyghbours
a. 10. vs. b weyfe.

Thou shalt not lust after thy neyghbours house/lands/seruaunts/mayde/oxe/asse/ou wharsouner he hath.

These are the wordes of the Lozde spake to all your congregacion/ upon the mount/out of the fyre of the cloude and daiuencesse/with a great voyce/ & added nothyng thereto.

Exo. xxxij. d And he wrote them vpon two tables of stone/ & deliuered them vnto me.

But when ye herde the voyce out of the daiuencesse/a sawe the mount burnt with fyre/ye came vnto me all ye rulers and ye your tribes/and your elders/and sayde: Behold/ the Lozde our God hath shewed vs his glory/a his greatnesse/ as we haue herd his voyce out of the fyre. This day haue we sene that God maye talke with a man/ as he yett saye. And now wherefore shoulde we dye/ that this fyre should consume vs? If we should heare the voyce of the Lozde our God any more/ we shoulde dye. For whar is all fleshe/ that it shoulde be eble to heare the voyce of the lunge God speakinge out of the fyre/ as we haue done/and yett liue? Go to thow and heare all that the Lozde our God sayeth/ and tell vs: Tell that the Lozde sayeth vnto the/ that will we heare/ and do. What is the Lozde herde the voyce of your wordes/ which ye spake vnto me/ he sayd vnto me: I haue herde the voyce of the wordes of this people/ which they haue spoken vnto the. It is all good that they haue spoke. n. But who shall geue them such an herde/ that they may feare me/ a feare all my commandmentes as long as they lyue/ that it maye go well with them/ and with theyr children for euer? Go and saye vnto them: Get you in to your tentes agayne. But thou shalt stande here before me/ that I maye tell the all the commandmentes/ and ordinaunce a lawes/ which thou shalt teache them/ that they maye do therafter in the lande/ which I shall geue them to possesse. Take hede now therefore that ye do / as the Lozde your God hath commanded you/ & vnto me not a side/ my-ther to the right hande/ nor to the left: but walke in all the wayes/ which the Lozde your God hath commaunded you/ that ye maye lyue/ and that it maye go well with you/ a that ye maye lyue longe in the lande/ which ye shal haue in possession.

The VI. Chapter.

These are the commandmentes / which the Lozde your God hath commaunded/ that ye should kearn them/ and do therein/ in the lande wherther ye go to possesse it/ that thou mayest feare the Lozde thy God/ and kepe all his ordinaun-ces and commandmentes / which I commaunde the/ thou and the chyldren thyden all thy dayes of your lyfe/ that ye maye lyue longe.
Thou shalt heare the voice of the Lozde thy God/ and take hede that thou do the wordes which he sayeth/ and that thou mayest multiplye greatly/ as the Lozde God of thy fathers hath promysed the a lande/ that floweth with mylke a honey. Heare the voice of the Lozde our God in one Lozde onely. And thou shalt loue the Lozde thy God with all thyne herte/ with all thy myght/ and with all thy might. And thou shalt looue / which I commaunde the this day: Thou shalt loue thow rate to hert / a shalt reuerence them vnto thy chyldren/ a shalt take of them what thou shalt in thyne house / a when thou wal-kest by the waye: when thou leyst downe / and when thou restest vp. And thou shalt brynd them for a signe vnto thyne hande/ a thy shalbe a token of remembraunce before thyne eyes/ that and thou shalt write them vpon the postes of thyne house/ and vpon thy gates.

Now when the Lozde thy God shall change the meyne/ and wherther he shal sende thy fathers Abraham/ Isaac and Jacob/ and shalt geue the great and goodly cyties / which thou hast not buylded: a houses full of all goodes/which thou hast not fylled: a dygged welles/which thou hast not digged: a yntowndes a chynne trees/ whiche thou hast not planted: so that thou canest / a set full: then beware that thou forget not the Lozde / which brought the out of the lande of Egypt/ from the house of bondage/ that thou shalt feare the Lozde thy God/ and him onely shalt thou serue/ and shalt swear by his name. And ye shall not followe the other goddes of the nations/ whiche are aboute you (for the Lozde your God is a gelous God/ in the middell of the) that ye do not worship the from the earth.

But if thou shalt forget the Lord thy God / and follow after Goddess / and serue them / and worshippe them: I testifie ouer you this day / that ye shall utterly perishe. Euē as the Engypt / whome the Lord destroyed because your face / shall ye perishe also / because ye are not obedient vnto the voyce of I Lord your God.

The IX. Chapter.

I Small hearken. This day shalt thou go Downe Jordan / that thou maist come in / to conquer the nations / which are greater and mightier then thou / great cyres / walked vpon into heauen / a great people / and of an hye stature / namely the children of Enatim / whome thou hast knowe / and of whome thou hast heard saye: Who is able to stande agaynst the children of Enatim? Therefore shalt thou knowe this day / that the Lord thy God goeth before the: / that is a consuming fyre. He shall destroy them / and shall hidee them before the: / and shall trye them oute / and shortly shall he banne them to naught / as the Lord hath pronounced the.

None when the Lord thy God hath expelled them before the: / saye not than in thy heart: The Lord hath draught me in / to take possession of this lande / for mine owne righteousnesse sake / where as the Lord yet tryed oute the Engypt before the: / because of their vngodlinesse.

For thou comest not in / to take the: lande in possession / for thine owne righteousnesse sake / and because of thy righteous heart / but the Lord destroyeth oute these. Reythen for their owne vngodlinesse sake / and that he may performe the word / which the Lord hath sworne vnto thy fathers / Abrahā / Isaac / and Jacob.

Understande nowe therefore / that the Lord thy God geueth not the thys lande to possesse in / for thine owne righteousnesse sake / for thou art a sinned people.

Remember / and saiege not how thou displeasest the Lord thy God in the wilderness. Since the daye that thou departedst out of the lande of Engypt / till ye came vnto this place / haue ye ben disobedient vnto the Lord.

For in Boch ye angered the Lord / so that of wrath he wolde haue destroyed you / when I was gone vp to the mount / to receiue the table of stone / namely the table of the conuencians / which the Lord made with you / and I shode forty daies and forty nightes vpon the mount / and did see no dewe / and thence no water: And the Lord gaue me the two table of stone / written with the finger of God / and in them was / accordinge to all the wordes / which the Lord sayd vnto you vpon the mount / out of the heuē / the daye of the gatheringe to gether.

And after the forty daies and forty nightes / the Lord gaue me the two table of stone / namely the table of the conuencians / and sayd vnto mee: Up / and get thee home quickly from hence / for the people / whome thou broughtest out of Engypt / haue sinned them selues / they are sone gone out of my / which I commaunded them / and haue made them a wotten ymage.

And the Lord sayd vnto me: I see this people / that it is a stiffnecked people: / for I commaunded that I maye destroye them / and put out theyr name from vnder heauen: I will make of the a people / mightier and greater than theyr is.

And as I turned mee / and wente down from the mount / which diuēt with me / and had the two table of the conuencians in both my handes / I looked / and behold / ye had sinned agaynst the Lord your God / for ye haue had in ye an idolen calfe / and were sone turned out of the waye / which the Lord had commaunded you. Then toke I the two table / and cast them out of both my handes / and brake them before your eyes / And I fell before the Lord: / Euē as at the first tyme.

Fortye dayes and fortye nightes / a nyether did I see / nor did I see anye thinge / because of all your synnes which ye had sinned / whan ye did such euell in the sight of I Lord / to provoke hym vnto wrath. For I was afraid of the wrath and indignacion / which the Lord was agayn my synners / and haue destroyed you. And the Lord herde me at that tyme also.

Whereof I Lord was very angry with Zaruso / ther he wolde haue destroyed hym / but I made intercession for Zaruso also / at that thou praye / and thy God / which hath done for the thy great & terrible thyngs / of thys thyng eye hath seene. Thy father wente downe into Egypte with seventy soules / but now hath the Lord thy God made thee as the starres of heauen in multitude.

The XI. Chapter.

¶ Therefore shall thou loue the Lord thy God / and kepe his commandments / his ordinances / his lawes / and his preceptes all the life longe. And vnderstande this daye / that which your chyldren knowe not.
 Whiche haue not seene the nurture of the Lord your God / and his greatness / and his mighty hande / his stretched out arme / and his tofens and actes / whiche he did in Egypte / and so all his landes / whiche he did to the power of the Egyptians / and vnto their houses and charrettes / & when he broughte the waters of the reed see vpon them / so they flowered after you / and howe the Lord hath broughte them to nauyge vnto this daye / and what he did vnto you in the wilderness / vntill ye came vnto this place.

¶ What he did vnto Sathan and Anan the chyldren of Eliab / the sonne of Kubi / howe the earth opened her mouth / and swallowed them with their housholtes / a tencke / and all their good that they had in the middes / among all Israell.

¶ For your eyes haue seene the great wro-the of the Lord / which he hath done. Therefore shall ye kepe all the commandmentes / whiche I commaunde you this daye / that ye maye be stronge to come in / and to euaque the lande / wherether ye go to possesse it / that ye maye lym longe in the lande / which the Lord swaie vnto your fathers / to geue vnto them / and to their seds / such a lande that floweth with milke and honey. For the land / wherether you comen in / is not as the lande of Egypte / wherether ye came out / wherether you went / the seds / and water best it at the soote / as a garde of herbes / but it hath bylles and wallyes / which bynke water of the ranne of heauen / and wherether the Lord thy God is / and the eyes of the Lord thy God are alwayes vpon / from the beginninge of thy yeare vnto the ende.

¶ Ye shall beken this foie vnto my comma-ndementes / whiche I commaunde you this daye / that ye loue the Lord your God / and serue hym with all your hart / with all your soule / with all your might / with all your strength / with all your reason / with all your lymmes / with all your substance / that when mayest ge-thee in thy comynge / whiche and thine oyle / a Tenth / I will geue grace vnto thy seds / for thy care / that ye maye care and by syled.

¶ But beware / that your harte be not decei-ued / that ye go a side / and serue other goddes / and wherethere they are / and then the wrath of the Lord your God shall be kindled against you / so that ye shall see the wrath of the Lord your God / that there come no rayne / and in the earth shall there be no increase / and ye shall perish / and your shewell from the good lande / which the Lord hath geuen you.

¶ Due op therefore / these my wordes in your hartes / and vpon your soules / and bynde them for a signe vnto your chyldren / that they maye be a toke / of your substance / before your eyes / and rebuise them your chyldren / so that thou talke thereof / when thou settest in thys house / or walkest by the waye / whiche thou hast bought / when thou risest up / and walkest vpon the postes of thys house / and vpon the gates of thys house / and thys chyldren maye lym longe in the lande / which the Lord swaie vnto thy fathers / to geue them / as longe as the dayes of heauen endure vpon earth.

¶ For if ye shall kepe all these commandmentes / whiche I commaunde you / that ye do thereafter / that ye loue the Lord your God / and walke in all his wayes / and done vnto hym / then shall the Lord your God geue you / so that ye shall conquere greater and mightier nationes / than your selfe are.

¶ All the place that the soles of your feete treade vpon / shall be yours / in the wilderness / and from mount Libanus / and from the mount Libanus / vnto the westerne coastes / be. Woman shall be able to re-stande you. The Lord your God shall see the face and side of you come upon all the land when ye go, like as he hath promised you.

Deuter. c.
¶ Verse 13. I lay before you this daye the blessing and the curse. The blessing if ye be obedient vnto the commaundmentes of the Lord your God; which I commaunde you this daye. The curse if ye will not be obedient vnto the commaundmentes of the Lord your God; but turne out of the way; which I commaunde you this daye; so that ye walke after other goddes; whom ye knowe not.

¶ Verse 14. When the Lord thy God hath brought thee into the land; whether thou comest into the land which are beyond Jordan; the waye towards the goinge downe of the Sunne; in the lande of the Canaanites; which dwelt in the plains side of ouer against Gilgal; beside the River of Iordane. For ye shall go once Jordan; that ye maye come in to take possession of the lands; which the Lord your God hath giuen you; to conuerent; and to dwell therein. Take heed now therefore that ye do; according vnto all the commaundmentes and lawes; which I laye before you this daye.

The XII. Chapter.

¶ Verse 1. Be care the ordinance a lawes; which ye shall kepe; that ye do thereafter in the land; which the Lord God of thy fathers hath giuen thee to possess; to luge as ye luge vpon you now.

Deut. vij. d.
¶ Verse 2. Destroye all the places; wherein the heathen; whom ye shall conuerit; haue sacrificed theyr goddes; whether it be vpon hie mountaynes; vpon hilles; or amonge grene trees. And ouerthrowe theyr altars; and breake downe theyr pillars; and burne theyr grones with fyre; and burne downe the ymages of theyr goddes; and bynge the name of hem to naughte; out of the same place. Ye shall not do so vnto the Lord your God;

¶ Verse 3. but the place; which the Lord your God shall chiose out of your trybes; (that he maye let his name dwell there) shall ye see; / and

¶ Verse 4. in a come thither; / and thither shall ye bringe you burnt offerings; and youre other offerings; and youre tithes; / and the heate offerings of youre herdes; and your weetes; and your sweete smelling; / and the first borne of your oxen and shepe; / and there shall ye care before the Lord; / and your God; / and reuerence with all that ye; and youre heuies; haue and presenten with youre handes; because the Lord thy God hath blessed the. / Ye shall do none of the thyngs; that we haue here this daye; / to wery man; / what someth hath good in his owne eyes. For ye are not yet come to rest; / not to the ende of iourney; / which the Lord thy God shall giue you.

¶ Verse 5. But ye shall go ouer Jordan; and dwell in the lande; that the Lord your God shall deuide out vnto you; and he shall giue you rest from all youre enemyes rounde about; and ye shall dwell safe. Now when the Lord thy God hath chosen a place; / to make his name dwell there; ye shall bringe thither all that I haue commaunded you; / to offer your burnt offerings; / youre other offerings; / your tithes; / the heate offerings; / of your herdes; / and all your seueretes; which ye shall bringe vnto the Lord; and there shall ye sacrifice; and receyue because the Lord your God; / and your sonnes; and your daughters; and your seruantes; and your maydenes; / and the Luitice; that are within your gates; / for they haue no portion; no inheritance with you.

Take heed vnto thy self; that thou offer not thy burnt offerings; / in what soeuer place thou findest; / in the place; which the Lord shall haue chosen in one of thy trybes; / there shall thou offer thy burnt offerings; / as do all that I commaunde the; / to worship and adore; / thou mayest kill and care selfe within all thy gates; / after all thyserue of thy seile; accordinge to the blessing; of the Lord thy God; which he hath giuen thee; / both the cleane and vncleane maye care; / as of the roe a beete; / once in the blood; shall thou not care; / but poure it out as water vpon the earth.

But within thy gates; mayest thou not care of the shee of thy come; / of thy wyne; and of thy oyle; / nor of any thing; of thyne; / which a of thy sheepe; / or of any of thy weetes; / which thou hast weetes; / or of thy sweete smelling; / or heate offerings; of thy herdes; / but before the Lord; / the Lord thy God shall thou care; / in the place; which the Lord thy God shall choose; / both thy sonne; and thy daughter; / thy seruante; / thy mayden; / and the Luitice; that is within thy shall be not bye. The hande of the witness shall be the first to by him; and then the han-de of all the people: but thou mayest put awaye the euill from the.

Ef I am mee to haede for the iudgements/Betwixt shal be shoude / Betwixt place a place / Betwixt stroke and stroke / and if there be witnesses of stryfe within thy gates / then shalt thou rise / and go vp vnto the place that the Lozde thy God hath chosen / a shal come to the iudice / or the iudice / and to the iudge / which shal be at that tyme / and shal say: They shal be the way to iudice / and thou shalt go thar / as they said vnto the / in the place which the Lozde hath chosen: and thou shalt take heed that thou do according vnto all that they teach the / according to the lawe / which they teach the / and after the iudgements that they tell the / shal thou do: / so that thou turne not aside from the same / neither to the right hande nor to the left.

And if any man beale presumptuously / so that he be fenech not vnto the iustice / which standeth to do iustice vnto the Lozde thy God: do to the iudge / the same shal be: and thou shalt put awaye the euill from Israell: that all the people maye heare: and feare / and be none: presumptuous.

When thou art content in the lande / which the Lozde thy God shal geue thee / and shalt take possession / and dwellest therein / and shalt say: I will set a hyge ouer me / as all the naryons haue about me / when shalst thou see him: to be hyge ouer the / when the Lozde thy God shal chose.

One of thy brethren shalst thou see to be hyge ouer the. Thou must not see a strange ouer the / which is not thy brother. Only thy brethren not haue many brethren: that he iuge not the people agayne into Egypte / whom the multitude of Iusses / set so much as the Lozde hath saide vnto you / that thou hence forth be dead: come no more this way agayne.

The shal not haue many to also / that he beere be not turned awaye. / Neither shal he geue them iustice: and so to wyche.

And when he is set: vnto the feet of his iudgements: he shall take of the iustice: the Louice this seconde lawe: and cause the witness in a shal: and that shal be haue by hym: / and he shall recee therein all the papers of his hye: that he maye learne to feare the Lozde thy God: so feare all the wordes of this lawe: and alke obduancees / so that he do thar after.

He shal not hys vp his herte about his brethers: and shal not turne aside from the commaundement: / neyther to the right hande nor to the left: that he maye prolonge his dayes in his kyngdome: / he and his children in Israell.
The XXVIII. Chapter.

The iustices of the Leuites: with all the trybs of Leuit / shal haue no parte: nor enheritaunce with Israell. The offeringes of the Lozde: and his enheritance: shal they care.
Therefore shall they haue no enheritance: amonge thy brethren: because the Lozde is they: enheritance: as he hath saide vnto the.
Thus shal be the iustice: of the people / and of the office: whether it be one: or thre: so that they gaue vnto the iustice the shoude and both the chetes: and the thre. And the first fron of thy come / of thy wyne / and of thy oyle: and the fustle of thy sheepe: bearinge. / For the Lozde thy God hath chosen hym: out of all thy tribes: to stand a minister in the name of the Lozde: / he and his sonnes: al the dayes of theyr life.

If a Leuite come out of any of thy gates / or out of any place of all Israell / where he is a gelle: and cometh with all the byrth of his family: vnto the place which the Lozde hath chosen: to minister in the name of the Lozde his God: like as all his brethren: the Leuites: whiche stande thre before the Lozde: then shal he haue like portion of meate with the other: besides that which he hath of the folde good of his father.

When thou comest into the lande: which the Lozde thy God shal geue the: / when shalt uyl / y iudice shall speake to the people / and saye vnto them: Feare. ¶ Israel: Ye go this waye into the battayl against your enemyes / let not your heart fayne. ¶ Feare not be / nor be afraid / nor be chafed of thim. ¶ For the Lord your God goeth with you / to fight for you against your enemyes / that he maye saue you.

¶ And the captiues that speake to y people / and saye: Who so hath builded a new house / and hath not dedicate it / let hym go / and hyde in his house / that he dye not in the battayl / and another dedicate it. ¶ Who so hath plantid a vineyard / and hath not yet made it edmyne / let hym go / and abyde at home / that he dye not in the battayl / and another make it commyne. ¶ Who so hath spoused a wyfe / hath not yet brought her home / let hym go / and abyde at home / that he dye not in y battayl / & another bring her home.

¶ And the captiue that speake further vnto y people / and saye: Let that feare / and hath a wyfe / let hym go / and abyde at home / that he make not his children here / for they also / shal as he be here is. ¶ And when y captiue maye haue made an ende of speaking vnto the people / they shal set y rulers of the heere / to y people in this sort.

¶ When thou comest nye vnto a citty / to fight against it / shalte offer thou peccer. ¶ Deu. 20.
 ¶ If they answer thee peaceably / and open shall thou do vnto all the cittyes that are farre from / and are not of the synne of y hee nation.

¶ But in y cittyes of these nations / which the Lord thy God shall geue thee to inheritance / thou shalt kill them / and thou shalt destroy them / namely Iosua vi. 17.

¶ When thou must be a longe season before an enemy / which thou must warte to take it / thou shalt not destroy y tree where of thou mayest beate thy bread / with the axe / for thou must eat thereof / a therfore shalt thou not hewe the tree. For it is but wood vpon y fild / and no man: and can not come a be: but wyl be against the. ¶ But the tree / which thou knowest that men care not of / shalt thou destroy / and thou shalt make it a pile: for thou shalt use it for fuel: for thou shalt haue extremer.

The XXI. Chapter.

¶ When there is one slain founde in the lande / without the Lord thy God shall geue thee to possess it / and lyeth in the fild / and thou knowest not who hath slayne hym / then shalt thou enquire and iudge go forth / and mete from the slayne vnto the citty that he founde aboute: for which citty is the next / the elders of the same shal take a yongg bulke / which hath not bene laboured / nor hath been

Daumen in the yoke/and they shal bunge her into a valley/where as is neither earing/nor so winge/and stryke of her heade there in the valley.

Then shal the puffed the children of Lewi come forth. ¶ For the Lord thy God hath chosen them/ to serue him/ and to prayse his name: and as their mouth shal all ples and stripes be ryed. ¶ And all the elders of the same cyte shall come forth vnto the slayne/ a waile they h'ides ouer þ yonge low / whose heade is stricken in the valley/and shal auanture and saye: Wure handes haue not shed this bloude/ neither haue our eyes seene it. Be mercifull. ¶ The Lord thy people of Ierusalem/whome thou hast deliuered/ shal be innocent bloude vnto thy people of Israell charge: then shal they be reconcyled from the bloude. ¶ Thna shalt thou put awaye the innocent bloude from the/ in that thou doest the thyng/ which is right in the sight of the Lord.

¶ When thou goest forth to warre agaynst thyne enemies/ and the Lord thy God be-lyueth them into thyn hande/ so that thou carryst awaye theye prisoners/ and seylt amonge the captiues a beynfull woman/ and hast a desyre vnto her/ to take her to thy wyfe/then bunge her home to thine house/ and lee her shaw her brab/ and pare her mayles/ and put of her clothe/ that she was taken prisoner in/ and let her sit in thyn house/ a mooun for her father and mother a moneth longer: after that tye with her/ and mary her / and let her be thy wyfe. But if thou haue no fauoure vnto her/ then shalt thou let her go whether she wyll/ and not to sell her/ nor to make a seruaunce of her/ because thou hast dysponou-red her.

¶ If a man haue two wyces/ one that he lo-ueth/ and one that he hateth/ and they beare bym children/ both the beloued and the hated/so that the first borne be hers/ that is haerd / a the same cometh that be beareth out the mbernaunce vnto his chyldren: then can he not make the sonne of the beloued first borne/ before the first borne sonne of the hated/ but he shal knowe the same of the hated for the first sonne/ so that he geue him double of all that he is to haue: ¶ For the same is þ begynning of his strength/ and þ first byrth right is his.

¶ If any man haue a stubborne and vnsobedient soune/ which beareth not vnto the voyce of his father and mother / and when they teach hym natoure/ wyll not folowe them: then shalt his father and mother take him/ and bunge hym to the elders of the cy-te/ and vs þ gate of the same place / and say vnto the elders of the cyte. This our sonne is stubborne and vnsobdient / and beareth not vnto our voyce / and is a rebeler / and a dissordar. Then shal all þ men of the same cyte stone him to deathe: and thus shalt thou put awaye the euil from þ/ that all Israell may hear and feare.

¶ If a man haue committed a synne that is worthy of deathe/ and is put to deathe/ so þ he is hangd on a tree/ then shall not his body remayne all night on þ tree/ but thou shalt burye him the same day: ¶ For euil is he of God that is hangd: þ/ thou styke not thy lande/ which þ Lord thy God wenech the to inhabitaunce.

The XXXII. Chapter.

¶ If thou se thy brother one/ or sepe ge strafe/ thou shalt not withholden thy self from them/ but shalt bunge them agayn vnto thy brother. But if thy brother be not nye to the/ and thou knowest hym not / the shalt thou take hym into thyn house / if they maye be with thyll thy brother age after thyn/and then releyse hym thyn agayne. In lye maner shalt thou do with his asse/ as his num/ and with euery lost thyng of thy brother/ which he hath lost/ and thou shalt founde withon maynt not withholden thy self.

¶ If thou se thy brother one/ or asse/ fallen downe by þ waye/ thou shalt not withholden thy self from him/ but shalt helpe him vp.

¶ A woman shall not weare that which is pertayneth to a man: neither shall a man put on womans rayment. For whosoeuer doth suche/ is abominacion vnto the Lord thy God.

¶ If thou chaunce vpon a bydden nest by the waye in a tree/ or on þ ground / the yonge of it with egges/ and þ same thinge/ vpon the pyngle/ as vpon the egges/ thou shalt not take

The damsel / because she cryed not / because in the cytye. The man / because he hath broughte his neighbours wyse to shame. And thou shalt put awaye the evil from the.

But if a man getteth handfasted damsel vpon the felde / and take her / and lycen with her / then the man that laye with her shall dye alone / and vnto the damsel thou shalt do nothinge / for she hath done no shame vnto the death. If she as yet a not rose a gainst hys neighbour / and slewe hym / euen so is this also. For he founde her in the felde / a the handfasted damsel cryed / and there was no man to helpe her.

If a man fynde a mayden frome handfasted / and take her / and lycen with her / and he founde / that shall be that laye with her / geue her father fiftye shekels of siluer / and shall haue her to wyse / because he hath shamed her / he maye not forsake her all his longe.

vngodly haue desired synnes / the iudge shall commaunde to take hym vnto / and they shall bare hym before hym / accordinge to the measure and number of his trespasses.

2 What they haue geuen him / for thy synnes / they shall beare hym / as no more / lest / if there be no synne / geuen hym / he beare it in much and thy brother be horrible before thine eyes.

3 Thou shalt not mofell the mouth of the oyle that treadeth out the olue.
4 When brethren dwell together / and one of them dye without chyldren / then shall not the wyfe of the deade take a stranger to marrye / but her husband shall go in vnto her / and take her to wyfe / and the first sonne that she beareth / shall be set vp after the name of his brother / which is dead / that his name be not put out of Israel.

5 But if the man will not take his synne man / then shall his synne be put vnder the gate vnto the Elders / and saye / My synne man refuseth to stee vp a name vnto his brother in Israel / and will not marrye me. Then shall the Elders of the cite call hym / and eommen vnto hym / If he stande then and saye / I will not take her / then shall his synne be put vnto hym before the Elders / and he shall answer and saye / I do so / and I shall answer and saye / I do so / and I shall be vnto euery man that will not buyde his brothers house. And his name shall be called in Israel the vnfeild house.

6 If two men stryue together / and the wyfe thyne eye shall not paye her.

7 Thou shalt not beare in thy bagge two measures of wheat / or a measure of floure / for thou shalt haue in thine house / two measures / a greater and a smaller. Thou shalt haue a perfect and iust weight / and a perfect and iust measure / that thy lesse maye be lauge in the lande / whiche the Lord thy God shall geue thou and the Leuite / and the stranger that is with thee.

When thou hast broughte together all the firstfrutes of thine increase in the thirde yeare / whiche is a yeare of rest / thou shalt geue it vnto the Leuite / to the stranger / to the fatherlesse / and to the widowe / so that they maye eat with thy gates / and be fylled. And thou shalt saye before the Lord thy God: I haue broughte that halfe was out of my house / a hath geuen it vnto the Leuite / the stranger / the fatherlesse / and the widowe / accordinge to all thy commandementes / whiche thou hast commanded me. I haue not transgressed thy commandementes / nor forgotten them. I haue not eaten thereof in my house / neither taken awaye thereof in vntilnesse. I haue not geuen thereof vnto the dead. I haue not obdured vnto thy voice of the Lord my God / and haue done all as he hath commanded me. I Lett youe from thy holy habitation / and bringe thankes / and blessinge vnto thy people of Israel / and the lande that thou hast geuen vs / as thou swarest vnto our fathers / a lande that floweth with milke and hony.

Exo 23. 1. c

In the daye when the Lord thy God commanded thee to goe accordinge vnto all these ordinance and lawes / that thou shalt kepe them / and doest them / with all thy heart / and with all thy soule. Therefore saye my prayer / that thou shalt praye vnto the Lord thy God / that thou shalt be obedient vnto the Lord thy God / in all his wordes / and kepe his ordinance / his commandementes / and his lawes / as thou hast done vnto this daye. And the Lord thy God shall be with thee / and shall kepe thee / as thou shalt kepe all his commandementes / and that he wolle make thee a holy people vnto the Lord thy God / as he hath sayde vnto thee.

The XXVII Chapter.
The Lord thy God hath commanded the people and sayeth: Kepe all the commandementes which I commanded youe this daye. And when tyme shall come that ye shall goe ouer Jordan / vnto the lande that I haue sworn to saye vnto your fathers / that I will geue it vnto youe / and that ye shall be a holy people vnto the Lord thy God / as he hath sayde vnto thee.

daye / and sayd / Thefe shall stande vpon mount Grison / to blisse the people / whan ye are gone ouer Jordan / Simon / Leui / Iuda / Iasaph / Iosepha Ben Jamim. And these shall stande vpon mount Eball to curse / Kithen / Gad / Asser / Zabulon / Dan and Neptialy. And the Leuites shall beginne / a saye vnto every man of Israel with a loude voyce.

¶ Cursed be he / that maketh any carved idol / or molten image / an abhominacion of the Lo:de / the wryte of the handes of the craft-isman / and putteth it in a secret place. And all the people shall answer and say Amen.

¶ Cursed be he / that curseth his father and mother. And all the people shall saye Amen.

¶ Cursed be he / that remoueth his neygh-bours marke. And all the people shall saye Amen.

¶ Cursed be he / that maketh a blynde man go out of his waye. And all the people shall saye Amen.

¶ Cursed be he / that wresteth the right of the deustrainger / of the fatherlesse / and widowe. And all the people shall saye Amen.

¶ Cursed be he / that lyeth with his fathers leuit work / to vnconce his fathers couertyng. And all the people shall saye Amen.

¶ Cursed be he / that lyeth with any maner beast. And all the people shall saye Amen.

¶ Cursed be he / that lyeth with his sister / which is the daughter of his father / or of his mother. And all the people shall saye Amen.

¶ Cursed be he / that lyeth with his mother in lawe. And all the people shall saye Amen.

¶ Cursed be he / that slayeth his neyghboure secretly. And all the people shall saye Amen.

¶ Cursed be he / that receauieth giftes / to slay the soule of innocens bloude. And all the people shall saye Amen.

¶ Cursed be he / that ednieth not in all the wordes of this lawe / to do them. And all the people shall saye Amen.

The XXXVIII. Chapter.

¶ And the Lo:de thy God / to obserue and do

And Moses came and spake all the wordes of this song in the eares of t people / hee and Josua the sonne of Nun. Now when Moses had made an ende of speakinge all these wordes vnto all Israel/ hee said thus: the wordes vnto all Israel/ hee said to them: Take to heere all the wordes / which I testifie vnto you this day / that ye commaunde youre children/ not to forget / and to do all these wordes of this lawe. For it is no vayne worde vnto you / but it is your life: and this worde shall prolonge your life in the lande / whither ye go ouer Iordane to possesse it.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses the same day / and sayd: Wet the spoe to this mount Abarim / vpon mount Pebo / which lyeth in the lande of the Madianites / ouer against Tercho / and beholde the lande of Canaan / which I haue geue vnto the children of Israel in possession. And the thou vpon the mount / when thou arte come vp / and be gathered vnto thy people / these as Aaron thy brother dyed vpon mount Pebo: and was gathered vnto his people. Because ye trespassed against me among the children of Israel / by the water of strife at Cadan in the wilderness of Sin / and sanctified me not among the children of Israel: for thou shalt see the lande ouer against thee / whiche I geue vnto the children of Israel: but thou shalt not come into it.

The XXXIII Chapter.

132. 18. a † This is the blessing / wherewith Moses the man of God blessed the children of Israel before his death / and said: The Lord our came from Sinai / and rose vp vnto the fame Seir. He appeared from mount Paran / and came with many thousands sayntes. At his right hande is there a lawe of strife: for hee showed the waye vnto the endes of the world. † All his sayntes are at his hande: † they shall see them selfe vnto it in the day: and receiue of thy wordes. Moses commaunded so the lawe / which is the enheritance of the congregation of Jacob: and hee was in the fulnesse of the yeres / and hee be the ruler of the people together with the tryba of Israel.

Let Auben syme / and not vye / and his people be free in name.

This is the blessing of Iuda. And hee saye: The Lord heare the voyce of Iuda / and bringe hym vnto his people: for his hande multiplye / and let him be helpe from his enemyes.

And vnto Leui hee said: † Thy perfectnesse is and thy lyfthe be according vnto the man Massa / of thy mercy / † whome thou hast tempted at Massa / when ye stroue by the water of strife. † Hee that sayeth vnto his father / and to his mother: I see him not / and to his diobter / I see him not / and to his sonne / I wote not of him: those haue obscured thy wordes / and kepe thy commaundment: they shall seeke Iacob thy indgements / and Israel thy lawe: they shall laye encens before ye / nof / and burne offerings / vpon thine altare. † Lord / be blisse thou haue power / and accept the workes of his hande: sune the loynes of them theye flye vp against him / and of thra that hate him / that theye lye not vpon them selfe.

And to Ben Jamin hee said: The beloved of the Lord shall dwell in hope on hym: All thy daye longe shall be waye vpon him / and shall dwell betwene his shouldiro.

And to Joseph hee said: † His lande lyeth in the blessinge of the Lord: here are noble frutes of heauen / of the wyne / and of the oyle / and of the wheate / and of the floure: here is the increase of the Sunne / and noble frutes of the moontee. And of the toppes of the mountaines of ebes / and of the hilles alwaie / and of the noble frutes of the cedars / and of the silkes thereof. The good will of hym / that dwelleth on the bush: come upon t heade of Joseph / and vpon the toppe of his head: for hee was separated from among his brethren.

His waye is as a first borne / and his herne are as the hornes of an Onocrot: hee shal be pulst the needles together / euen vnto the endes of the world. These are the thousands of Ephraim / and the thousands of Manasse.

And vnto Zabulon hee said: Reioyce Zabulon of thy courage: Reioyce thou Zabulon of thy strength. Theye shal call the people vnto the hill: and there shal: theye offer the offerings of righteousness. For theye shal see the

 I be with y^e also. I wil not sale the neighbor of soules. As strange a bold: for vnto this people shall thou beude the labe wherof I sweare vnto theyr fathers to geue it them.

B The strange therfore and very bolde / that thou mayest feare and do tuncy thynges as cou-dinge to the lawe / that Mosco my seruante remannded the? Tuene not affide some it in thy wayes and deale wisely. Lo I haue commanded the to be stronge and bolde. Feare not / and be not afrayed: for the Lorde thy God is with the / wherther thoue goest.

Then commanded Josua the officers of the people / and sayde: Go showe the herse and charge the people / and saye: Prepare you wialles / for ouer the dayes shal ye go ouer this Iordane / that ye maye come in and take possession of the land / which the Lord your God shal geue you.

C And as the Rubenites / Gaddites / and to halfe tribe of Manasse / sayde Josua: Charge vpon the wordes / that Mosco the seruante of the Lorde spake vnto you / and sayde: The Lorde your God hath brought you to rest / and geuen you this lande. Let your wyces / children / and saterl / cōmayne in the lande / that Mosco gaue you on this syde Iordane: Eue ye your sike / as many as be syghinge mē / that goe soub before your serb: in hermiss / and helpe them / till the Lorde haue brought youe herbit to este also as well as you that they also maye take possession of the land / whiche the Lorde your God shall geue them: Then shal hee turne agayne in to the lande of your possessors / that ye maye enioy whiche Mosco the seruante of the Lorde hath geuen you on this syde Iordane / to reu-the best. And they answered Josua and sayde: All that thou hast commanded vs / we will do: and wherther thoue sendest / I will do: we wil goe wher thoue sendest: And as Mosco / so wil we be obedient also vnto the Lorde: that the Lorde thy God be with the / as he was with Mosco. Wherfor we shal be with thy month / and herther vnto thy wyces in all that thoue hast commanded vs / shall we: Duely be thoue stronge and bolde.

The II Chapter.

Josua the sonne of Nun / sente out two spyces / such from Scin / and sayde vnto them: Go your waye / loke vpon the lande and Iericho. They went forth / and came into the house of an barlot / called Rahab / and lay there. Then was it tolde to Kinge of Iericho: Lo these are me come in this night from the children of Israel to spye the lande.
 Then sent the Kinge of Iericho vnto Rahab / sayinge: Disouer the men sayth that are come vnto the in to thy house / for they are come to spye ouer the whole lande. Nowe as for the two men / the woman had hyd them / and sayde: There came men in vnto me in the vnde / but I knewe not whence they were. And as he shewtyng in of the gate whan it was daie / they wente out / so that I can not tell whether they be gone: followe some after them / for ye shall ouertake them. But she had caused them to chymne vnto the house topp / and hydde them vnder the stalkes of flaxe / that he had prepared her vpon the topp of the house.
 Nowe when the men followed after them in the waye towards Iordane / euen vnto the ferry and what they had followed vpon the were gone: for the gate was shut.

And as ouer the men layed them vnto the / they wente vp to the vnto the house topp / and sayde vnto them: I knowe that the Lorde in the water of Jordan: then shall the water of Jordan withdraw it selfe from the water that floweth from above: that it may stande on all braye.

D Now when all the people departed out of theyr tentes to go our Jordan / and the pnestes bare the Arke of conuenaunt before the people / and came in to Jordane / and theye theyr feet before in the water (as for Jordane on all handes it was full of all maner waters) of of the lande / then the water that came vnto from above / stode straight vp upon one braye / very farre from the crye of Iordane / that lyeth on the syde of Barban: But the water that ranne vnto in the see (euen so) fall fell away / and vtterced.

E So the people wente thowoe our agaynst Jericho. And the pnestes that bare the Arke of the Lordes conuenaunt / stode bye in the myddes of Jordane / ready prepared: and all Israel wente thowoe they stode / vntill th: whole people were all come ouer Jordane.

The. III. Chapter.

A And the Lorde sayde vnto Josua: Take vnto thee twelfe men / out of euery trybe one / and commiande them / and say: Take vp twelfe stones out of Jordane / from the place where the feet of the pnestes stode: in theyr aray: and carrye them with you / that ye maye leaue them in the lodgyngs / where y: shal lodge this nyght. Then Josua called twelfe men / which were prepared of the chyldren of Israel / out of euery trybe one / and sayde vnto them: Go your waye ouer before the Arke of the Lord your God / in the myddes of Jordane / a take euery man a stone vpon his shoulder / after the number of the trybes of the chyldren of Israel: that they maye be a token amonge you. And when in your chyldren aske theyr fathers hereafter / and say: What do these stones theret? That ye maye then saye vnto them / howe that the water of Jordane drew in sundre before the Arke of the Lordes conuenaunt / when it wente thowoe Jordane: and that these stones are set for a perpetual remembrance vnto the chyldren of Israel.

B Then theye the chyldren of Israel as Josua commaunded them / and bare twelfe stones out of the myddes of Jordane (as the Lorde had sayde vnto Josua) / according to the i. K. xiij. number of the trybes of the chyldren of Israel: and broughe the same with the in to the lodgyng / and left them there: And Josua sette vp twelfe stones in y: myddes of Jordane: where the feet of the pnestes stode: that bare the Arke of the conuenaunt: and there theye be yet vnto this daye. As for the pnestes that bare y: theye stode in the myddes of Jordane: vntill all was performed: that the Lord charged Josua to say vnto the people: / according to the i. K. xiij. v. Mosse gaue Josua this commaundment. The people also made hayll: and wente our: Now when all the people was gone ouer: the Arke of the Lorde wente ouer also: and the pnestes wente before the people.

And the Rubenites and Gadites / and y: half crye of Manasse wente harnessed before the chyldren of Israel: / y: as Mosse had sayde vnto them: Aboute a foure thousand men ready harnessed to y: warre: wente before the Lorde to the battayll / vpon the syde of Jericho. In that daye the Lord made Josua greater in the syghte of all Israel: and lyte as they feared y: Mosse / so stode they in awe of hym at his lyfe longe.

And the Lorde sayde vnto Josua: Commaund y: pnestes which beare the Arke of conuenaunt / that theye come vp out of Jordane: So Josua commaunded the pnestes / and sayde: Come vp out of Jordane. And when the pnestes that bare the Arke of the conuenaunt of the Lord were come out of Jordane / and trode with the soles of theyr feet vpon the drye lande / the water of Jordane came agayne in to his place: and flowed (lyke as afore tyme) vpon all his banke.

It was the tenth daye of the first moneth / when the people came out of Jordane: and theye pitched theyr tentes in Gilgal vpon the East syde of the crye of Jericho. And the twelfe stones / which theye hadde taken out of Jordane: vnto Josua set vp at Gilgal: / as sayd vnto the chyldren of Israel: When your chyldren aske theyr fathers hereafter / and say: What meane these stones? Ye shall tell them / saye: Israel wente bye thowoe Jordane / when tyme as the Lord your God dryed vp the water of Jordane before you: / vntill ye were ouer: lyke as the Lorde your God dryed

Josua. 4b

¶ In the same tyme sayde the Lo:de vnto Ezod. 4. Josua: Make the hyrces of stone / and cucumysse the Chyden of Israel agayne the second tyme. Then Josua made hym hyrces of stone / and circumcised the chylden of Israel vpon the occure of his forty tynne. And the cause why Josua circumcised al the melee of þe people / that were come out of Egipte was this: al the men of warre theyd in Egipte were by the way / after they were departed out of Egipte: for al the people that came forth were circumcised.

B But al the people that were boene in the wylder nesse by the waye / after they departed out of Egipte / werenot circumcised: for the chylden of Israel recalled fourtye yeares in þe wylder nesse / vnto al the people of the men of Jericho he lyst vp his eye / a was ware that there stode a man agaynst hym / and had a sharpe swerde in his hande. And Josua wente to hym / and sayde vnto hym: Art thou one is holy. And Josua thed so.

The VI. Chapter.

cause of the chylden of Israel / so that no man myght go out nor in. But the Lo:de sayd vnto Josua: Beholde I haue geuen Je-¶ Then Josua / the sonne of Nun called the priefes / and sayd vnto them: Here ye shal take of the conuerth / and let stuen priefes take the seven trompettes of the yeare of Jubyle before the Dycke of the Lo:de. But vnto the people he sayde: Be you herye: and go to the his had spoken this vnto the people/the seven partes a bare the steele trompettes of the yearre of Iubiley/for the Arke of the Lord/and went and blew the trompettes/a the Arke of the Lordes commandment followed after them:and whos so was haireless/went before the priests that blew the trompettes / a the multitude followed the Arke.And all was full of the noyse of the trompettes. But Josua commanded the people/a sayd: Ye shall make no shout:/for let your voice be heard/neither shall ye geue any voyde out of your mouth:until the day that I saye vnto you: Make a shout:/then make a shout.

So the Arke of the Lord went once rounde aboute the citty / and came agayn in to the hoost/and encamped them: for Josua wist to trye vp early in the morninge. And the priests bare the Arke of the Lord:so did the enuincement of brass: the seven trompettes of the yearre of Iubiley: before the Arke of the Lord:and wente a blye: the trompettes: a who so was haireless/went before the Arke the multitude followed the Arke of the Lord.
And all was full of the noyse of trompettes.

The second day wente they once aboute the citty/a came agayn in to the hoost Thus did they seue dayes. But vpon the seventh day/when came the morninge spyng arose they gathered vp early/and wente after the same maner from cymra aboute the citty:so that vpon the same one seventh day/they wente seven tymes aboute the citty.

And at the seventh tyme/when the priests blewe the trompettes. Josua orde vnto the people:Make a shout/ for the Lord hath deliuered you the citty. Therefore this citty a all that is therein/shall be damned vnto the Lord: for my the barke Rahab shall lyue/and all that are with her in the house/for she hid the mensengers / whom we sent to you. Therefore beware of it that is damned/lest ye damage your selves/As ye take ought of it/whiche is damned/ and make the hoost of Israel to be damned/and bringen in to misfortune. But al the siluer and golde/ with the enauincement of brass: and from whiche I haue freed vnto the Lord: that it maye come to the Lords treasure.

Then made the people a greates shout/and the priests blew the trompettes/ for whan the people heard the noyse of the treupment/they made a great shout: for the hoost was full/a the people clymed vp in to the citty every one sleayng before hym. Thus they wonne the citty: a destroyed al that was in it: vnto the edge of the fildes/wher man and woman/young a olde / of / the citty a affected.

But Josua sayd vnto the two men/whiche had spyed out the lande: Whanne the house of the barke/and byng: and the woman/ from thence with all that the harke/and byng: as ye haue sworne vnto her. Then the young man whiche had spyed out the lande/ brought forth Rahab with her father and mother/ and brethren / a all that she had/and al her kynred: / and tau-ghed her to dwell without the hoost of Israel.
As for the citty: they burnt it with fyre/ and al that was therein: by the siluer and golde/a the enuincement of brass: and from / put they vnto the treasure in the house of the Lord: but Josua let the barke Rahab lyue/ with her fathers house/ and al that she had: and she dwelt in Israel vnto this day: because she had hid the mensengers/whom Josua sent vnto Jericho to spye.

At the same tyme swore Josua/and sayd:
The Lord be that men before the Lord/whiche set it vp vnto the citty of Jericho: a builded it.
Whan he layeth the foundation thereof/there is cost hym his first borne: And whan he set it vp the quace of a / let it cost hym his youngest borne. Thus the Lord was with Josua / so that he was spoken of in all landes.

The VII. Chapter.

Whan the chyldren of Israel had commited a synne in the thinge that was damned: for when the sonne of Chanania the sonne of Sadoth/ the sonne of Saboth/ the synne of Iudas/ the sonne of Ierab/ was damned: Then was the word of the Lord sent ouer the chyldren of Israel.

Then when Josua sent out men from Jericho vnto Raab/whiche lyeth besyde Bethan on the East syde of Iericho/ she sayde vnto they: Go vp/and spye the lande. And when they had gone vp / and spyed out the citty: they came agayne to Josua/ and sayde vnto him: We not all the people go vp / but vpon a tyme of the thousande/that they maye go vp a synge

B And Josua sayd: O Lord Lord / wherefore hast thou brought this people ouer Jordan / to deliuer vs in to the handes of the Amorrites / to destroy vs? What we had taken beyonde Jordan as we byganne. O my Lord: What shall I say / whye Israel turneth his backe vpon his enemye? When the Canaanites heare of this / they shall compass vs rounde aboute / yea / and tote out our names from of the earth. What wylt thou do then vnto thy greake name?

The sayd the Lord vnto Josua: Stande vp / whye hast thou so vpon thy face? Israel hath offended / a transgressed ouer my iouenants / whiche I commaunded them. They haue taken also of the thyng that was Comanded / a haue fowling / a disssembled / a layed in amonge thyngs inuacrentes. E Stande vp / and sanctifye the people / and saye: Sanctifye youre selves agaynst to morrowe / thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel: There is a damned thyng in the hand of Israel / therefore canst thou not stand before thyngs enemyes / yll ye putte awaye the damned from amonge you. And ye shall vsi vp early / one wyth after another: and loke whiche wyth sauer the Lord taketh / the same shall come forth / one kyned after another: and loth wythde from the Lord. der after another. And whosouer is founde in the tynke / the same shall be burne in the fyre / with al that he hath: because he hath gone beyonde the commaundment of the Lord / a committed selye in Israel.

Then Josua gaue hym vp by ryces in the morning / and brought forth Israel / one tynke after another / and the tynke of Iuda was taken. And when he hath brought forth the kynedes in Iuda / the kyned of the Strabites was taken. And when he hath brought forth the tynke of the Strabites / one housefolde after another. Sabis was taken. And when he had brought forth his house / one householder after another. When the sonne of Charms / sonne of Sabis / the sonne of Strab / of the tynke of Iuda was taken.

And Josua seide vnto Ahan: I My: King: sonne: geue the glory vnto the Lord the God of Israel / and geue him the priest / and tel me what thou hast done / a hyde nothinge from me.

Then answered Ahan vnto Josua / and sayd: Verely I haue sinned agaynst the Lord God of Israel / thus and thus haue I done: I sate amonge the spoyle / a costly Babylonish garment / and two hundred sicles of syluer / and a ringe of gold / worth fifty sicles in weygh / vnto which I had a lust / and taken: and beholde / it is hid in the grounde in my tent / and the shuer vnder it.

Then Josua was wexen fure / rather / whiche came to the tent / a behold / it was hid in his tent / and the shuer vnder it. And they toke out of the tent / a brought it vnto Josua / and to all the chyldren of Israel / a poured it before the Lord. Then Josua a all Israel wex hyn / toke Ahan the sonne of Strab / the shuer / the garment / and golden ringe / his sonnes and daughters / his oxen and they / a shewe / and all that he had / brought they in to the valley of Abar.

And Josua sayde: for so muche as thou hast troubled vs / the Lord trouble the thyng here. And al Israel stoned hym / and hys / and ned hym wth steyn / with al that he had. The VIII Chapter.

3 Said the Lord to Josua: I feare not: and be not afrayed. Take all the men of warre with thee: and ryste a grea't vp vnto Gai. Hold: I haue giuen it to thy hande/the synge of Gai: with his people in his cyte and countre. And thou shalt do with Gai and the synge of it / as thou vrbidest with Jericho: and the synge therof / saynge that ye shall I scale amonge you they: spoyle and cartel: but for Isha: a prey watch beynde the cyte.

Then Josua arose: and all the men of warre to go vp vnto Gai: and Josua chose thye thousand: of sybryng men: and sent them out by night: and commaunded them and sayd: Take hede: for ye shall be the prey watch beynde the cite: but ye shal not barre from the cite: and if theye be readye altogether. In for me and all the people that is with me: we will get vs to the cyte. And when they come forth agaynst us: as before: we will stye before them: that they maye followe out after vs: will we haue prouerbes: do them forth of the cyte: for they shall think: that we stye before them: / hylde as the scrit. And whyle we stye before them: ye shall get you vp one of the prey watch: and wyne the cyte. For the Lord your God shall deliuer it in your handes. But when ye haue wonne the cyte: set syn vpon it: soynge reccyding vnto the reide of the Lord. Be-holde: I haue commaunded it you.

So Josua sent them away: and they went vnto the place of the prey watch: and laye burie the Bethell and Gai: on the Westside of Gai. But Josua abode that night amonge the people. And in the morninge he arose early: and set the people in order: and went vp vnto the Eldes of Israel before the people towards Gai: and all the men of warre that were with him: went vp: and gaue them saith: and came ouer: agaynst the cyte: and pitched they: tentes on the North side of Gai: for that there was but a valley betwene hym and Gai.

8 He had taken aboute a syne thousande men: set them in the hynder watch betwene Bethell and Gai: on the Westside of the cyte:

and they adred: the people of the whole host that was on the Northside of the cyte: so that the extremost of the people reached vnto the West ende of the cyte. So Josua wente the same nyght in to the myddes of the valley.

But when the synge of Gai sawe that he made hast: and gaue hym vp early: and the men of the cite to meete Israel to the banais: with all the people: went ryght before the field: for he wist not that there was a prey watch beynde hym: on the backe side of the cyte. But Josua and all Israel were feble before them: and fled by the waye to the wilderness: Then cryed all the people in the cyte: that they shoulde followe vpon them: and they followed after Josua:
and rushed out of the cyte: so that there remayned not one in Gai and Bethel: which wente not out to followe vpon Israel: and they lefte the cyte standinge open: that they myght persecute Israel.

Then sayd the Lord vnto Josua: Reach out the speare that thou hast in thine hande towards Gai: for: I will deliuer it in to thy hande. And when Josua reached out the speare that was in his hande towards the cyte:
the hynder watch brake vp out of theyr place:
and ranne: when he had stricken out his hande: and came in to the cyte and wanne it: and made hast: as they: vpon it. And the men of Gai turned them: and fled beynde them: and the synge of the cyte wente vp to ward heauen: as they had no place to flye vnto neither hither nor thither: and the people that fled: were in the wilderness: returned aboute to followe vpon them.

And when Josua and all Israel sawe: that the hynder watch had wanne the cyte: for the synge of the cyte ascended: they turned agayne: and smote the men of Gai. And they in the cyte came forth also agaynst them: so that they came in the myddes amonge Israel on both the sides: and they slayeth them: for that there was not one man of them left: ouer or escaped: and they toke the synge of Gai: as Ihu: a brunt hym vnto Josua. And when Israel had slayne all the inhabites of Gai: which had followed vpon them in the field: and in the wilderness: and when they were all fallen: thowme the edge of the sword: ad they were distressed: the turned at Israel vnto Gai: ¶ 14 and

f But Josua weid: ev nor his hid: where with he reached out the spear: till all the inhabitants of Hai were vnicly destroyed: / Was vnyng the cattell and the spoyle of the cytel: / And Israel parte amonge them selves / receyved ynge unto the woide of the Lord / whiche he surrounded Josua. And Josua burned up Hai / and made an heape ther of for ever: / whiche is there yet unto this daye. And the kyng of Hai caused he to be hanged on a tree vntill the even.

Deut. 31. b Josua 10 Then when the Sunne was gone downe / he contaminated to iak: his body from the neck / a cast it vnder the gate of the cytel: / a made vpon hym a great heap of stones / whiche to thise yet vnto this daye.

Then buyded Josua an altar vnto the Lord: / the God of Israel vpon mount Ebal: / receyvinge as Moyses the فرمان of the Lord: / so manna and the dryden of Israell / as it is written in the booke of the lawe of Moyses: / vnto an altar of whole stone / whereupon there was no yron ysted: / a he offered burnt offeringe / and shantes offeringe / and there vpon the stone he wrote the seconde lawe of Moyses: / whiche he wrote before the dryden of Israell.

Pen. 111. d Exod. 17. d And all Israel with theyr Elders and officers / and iudges / stode on both the sydes of the Ark: / right on agaynst the parties that bare the Ark of the conuaince of the Lord: / the frange as well as one of them selves: / on the halfe byside mount Gushan / and the other halfe byside mount Ebal: / Moyses the فرمان of the Lord commaunded as yet to blisse the people of Israel: / after wards caused he so / to proclame all the wordes of the lawe of the blissinge and cursing: / as it is written in the booke of the lawe. There was not one word that Moyses commaunded: / but Josua caused it to be proclamed: / before all the congregation of Israel: / and before the women / and chyldren / and strangers / which walked amonge them.

Deut. 7. d and 33. b Then the captayns toke theyr vittayles / and eyed not the mouth of the Lotde. / And Josua made peare with them / and set vp a conuaince with them: / and they should be fard alyne / and the rulers of the contrye geuen swere vnto hem: / But the Bayce of

Then when the inhabitants of Gibeon herde / what Josua had done with Iericho and Hai: / they death craftely wrote on theyr wayes / and made a newe waye / and toke the face of you theyr ass: / and elde reate wyne barde / and elde cauded shies vpon theyr feet: / and put on elde and peced garments: / and al f head of theyr vittayles was hard a month: / and they came vnto Josua into the hool at Gulgaland: / seyd vnto hym / and so enty man in Israel: / We are come out of a faire contrye / and therefore make now a conuaince with vs. / Then Josua enty man in Israel vnto the Sunne: / Paraduere thou vntill as manye vs / how can I then make a conuaince with the.

They seyd vnto Josua: / We are thy seruauntes. / Josua seyd vnto them: / What are ye / and whence come ye: / They sayd: / Thy seruantes are come out of a faire contrye: / are off kern of the Lotde thy God: / so: / we here herde the report of hym / and al that he had in Egypt: / and al that he did vnto the two kinges of his Ammonite: / by name Jorabab: / So han the kyng of Hedyden and the kyng of Hadyen / which dwell at Ashur: / the firste seyd our siders and inhabitants of our contrye: / Take with you for your iourney / and go nerte them: / seyd vnto them: / We are your seruantes: / therefore make now a conuaince with vs: / This our bread that we toke out of our house for our food: / was nerte when we toke our iourney: / we had geuen it no way: / it is hard and moulded: / And these heruels filled me a newe / a lethey are nerte: / And these are clothes and shies are waxed old: / by the reason of the longe iourney.

Then the captayns toke theyr vittayles / and eyed not the mouth of the Lotde. / And Josua made peare with them / and set vp a conuaince with them: / and they should be fard alyne / and the rulers of the contrye geuen swere vnto hem: / But the Bayce of er that they had made a conuenance with them / they fled that they were their neighbours / and dwell amongst them: for as the chyliden of Israel wente forth ouer they: iourney / they came an theyrde way vnto theys cyties / wher they are called Gibeah / Capthar / Beeroth / a / Anath / Jearim / and smote them not / because that the rulers of the congregation had sworne vnto the by the name of y Lord the God of Israel.

But when al the congregation nummured agains the rulers / al the rulers sayd vnto the wode congregation: We haue sworne vnto them by the Lord the God of Israel / therefore may we not touch them: But this will we do vnto them: Let them buye / theye come no more vpon vs / because of the oathe that we haue made vnto them.

¶ And the rulers sayde vs to them: Let there appoynted byt / that they maye be the wroes of wood / and beccers of water for the whole congregation / as the enlis haue sayd vnto them. Then Josua called them / and commended theyr chyn / and sayd: Wherfor haue ye becced vnto and sayd / that ye were farr from vs / where as ye dwell amongst vs: Therefore shal ye be cefed / so that of you there shall not cease seruantes to beare wood / and to beare water for the house of my God.

They answered Josua and sayde: It was tolde thy seruantes / that the Lord thy God commaunded Moses his seruant / that he should geue you the whole land / and that he wolde be stoype all the inhabitants of the lude before you: therefore were we fore afrayd of oure lyces before you: a thus haue we done. An now we are in thy handes: left what thou thyntest good and i right to do vnto vs / that vs.

And he byd euen so vnto them / and they were them fro the chyliden of Israels handes / that they should not slay them. So vpon the same daye / Josua made the barriers of wood / and water beaters for the congregation / and for the aultare of the Lord: & vnto this daye / in the place that he shal doest.

Chap. X

¶ Han Adonisebed the kyng of Ierusalem / he that Josua had wonne / Haz / and Samid / which had done vnto Haz / and the kyng of iherusalem / as he byd vnto Jericho / a to the kyng thereof / I a what they of Hydon had made peace with Israel / a were come: vnto them / they were fore afrayd: for Hydon was a great cyty / as one of the kyngs cyties / and greater then Haz / and all the cytyes thereof were men of armes. Therefore sent he vnto Hoham the kyng of Hebron / a to Ditea kyng of Jarmuth / to Japhia the kyng of Kadis / and to Debir the kyng of Elgion / a caused to saye vnto them: Come vp vnto me / a helpe me / that we maye smyte Hydon: for they haue made peace with Josua / a the chyliden of Israel. Then came the fyue kynges of the Ammonites together / and wrote vp: the kyng of Ierusalem / the kyng of Hebron / the kyng of Jarmuth / the kyng of Kadis / the kyng of Elgion / with all theyr armyes / and layd siege vnto Hydon / and fought agaynst it.

¶ Wherby they of Hydon sent vnto Josua / at Gilgal / and caused to saye vnto him: Why haue we not thyne handes from vs / seruantes / come vp some vnto vs: vnto us and helpe vs / for al the kynges of the Ammonites that dwell vpon the euertaynes / are gathered together agaynst vs. Josua receiued vp from Gilgal / a cle the warriors / and al the men of armes with hym. And y Lord sayd vnto Josua. I scare Josua. a the not / for I haue geuen them in to thy hande. There shall no one of them be able to stande before the. I So Josua came suddenly vnto Josua / a them / for al that mighte was in by vpon from Gilgal. I And the Lord: & he caused them to be a frowd for Israel / a smote them with a great slaughter at Hydon / and they dreed them: theye waye downe to Beth Boon / and smote them vnto Ista and Alkeda.

¶ And when they fled before Ista / the waye downe to Bethoon / the Lord caused a great harte from heauen to fall vpon them / vnto Ista / so that they dreed / and many mo of them were of the harte / then the chyliden of Israel flew with the harte.

¶ Then spake Josua vnto the Lord: the same daye / that the Lord gaue ouer the Ammonites before the chyliden of Israel / I and sayd in the pockete of Israel: I amme / holde Est. Ista / still at Hydon / and thou Moone in the valley of Ailon.

Then the Sunne stode still and the Moone stode vpon the people had awaked them selfe on they enemies. Is not this wrytten in the booke of the rightuous? Thus the Sunne stode still in the myddes of heauen and descreed not to goe downe for the space of a whole day after. And there was no day like vnto this/ neither before nor after. When the Lord beraken vnto the voyce of one man/ for the Lord sought for Israel. And Josua came agayne to Gulgath to the rennes/ and all Israel with hym. So for the sune stode they were fled/ and had hyd them selfe in the caue at Malceda.

Then was it tolde Josua. We haue found the sune stode hydde in the caue at Malceda. Josua said. Nolte great stones the be fore the hole of the caue/ and setten there to kepe them.

So for you stande yett still/ bute solum after youe enemies/ a sune them behynde/ and leaue them not come in they cyties/ for the Lord your God hath deliuered them ne to your hande. And whē Josua and the chylde ren of Israel had ended thre great slaughter upon them/ so that they were brought to nought/ the remnant of them came into the strete cytye.

So all the people came agayne to the hoost vnto Josua to Malceda in peccer/ and no man vntill nowe his myge agaynst the chylde ren of Israel. Josua sayde. Open the mouth of the caue/ and bringe the sune fringes south vnto me. They byd so/ and broughte the sune fringes vnto hem out of the caue/ the fringes of Jerusalem/ the fringes of Hebron/ the fringes of Jerimoth/ the fringes of Lachis/ the fringes of Eglon.

Whā these sune fringes were broughte south vnto hym/ Josua called every man of Israel/ and sayd vnto the rylles of the men of warre that were with hym. Come south/ and tread vpon the neckes of these fringes with youre feet. And ther came south/ a treade vpon they neckes with theyr feet/ and Josua sayd vnto the chylde ren. Be not affrayed/ a feare not/ be sithinge a helde for thus shall the Lord be vnto all your enemies/ agaynst whē these fringes.

And Josua stode in the myge/ and purtyens to death/ and hanged them vpon sune trees. And they hanged yett vpon thre trees vntill the evening. But when the Sunne was gone downe/ he commaunded to take them of thre trees/ a he cast them in the caue/ wher they had hyd them selfe/ a thre for the hole of the caue they layed gytt stones/ which are they yett vnto this daye. The same yere went Josua. Malceda also/ and smote it with the edge of the sword/ and the fringes of es/ and Jerimoth/ and all the synles that were therein/ and leaue none remayne after that/ and vnto the fringes of Malceda/ so he byd vnto the fringes of Jerimoth.

The Josua and all Israel with hym departed fro Malceda vnto Lachis/ and foughte agaynst it. And the Lord gytt it with the fringes of es/ in the hande of Israel/ a sune it/ a the soules that were therein with the edge of the sword/ and leaue none remayne in/ a byd vnto the fringes thereof/ so he had done vnto the fringes of Jerimoth.

After warde went Josua and all Israel with hym from Lachis vnto Lachis/ and layed sune vnto it/ and foughte agaynst it. In the Lord deliuered Lachis also in the hande of Israel/ so that they wanne it vpon the second daye/ and smote it with the edge of the sword/ and all the soules that were therein/ according to all as he had done vnto Lachis. In the same yere Hozan/ the fringes of Geter came up to helpe Lachis. But Josua sune hym with his people/ till ther remayned not one.

And Josua went with all Israel from Lachis vnto Eglon/ and layed sune vnto it/ and foughte agaynst it/ and wanne in the same yere/ a sune it with the edge of the sword/ a wanned all the synles that were therein/ the same yere/ according vnto all as he had done vnto Lachis.

After that went Josua with all Israel from Eglon vnto Hebron/ and foughte agaynst it/ a wanne it/ and smote it with the edge of the sword/ and the fringes of it/ and all the cyties thereof/ and all the soules that were therein/ and he not one remayne/ according vnto all as he had done vnto Eglon/ and wanned it/ and all the soules that were therein.

Then anned Josua agayne with all Israel/ a warde Hebron/ and foughte agaynst it/ and wanne it with the fringes of it/ and all the cytes thereof/and smote them with the edge of the fword/and damned all the foules that were therein/and let not one remaine over. And so he had done unto Hebron altho they fynes/fo theyd be also unto Debir /and the fynes thereof.

Thus Jofua more all the lande upon the mountaynes/and toward the South/and in the lowe countie/and by the ryver a wech of their fynes/and let not one remaine over / a damned of that had Beth/ 1. 3. Lord God of Israel had commaunded. And Jofua smote them from Cadre Bernea onto Gagar/and all the lande of Gofen unto Gibeon/and toke all their fynes a wech theyr lande at one maner for the Lord God of Israel fought for Ifrael. And Jofua wente agayn with al Ifrael to the tentes unto Gilgal.

The XI. Chapter.

¶ When Jabin kynge of Afor herde this/ he fent unto Jabel the kynge of Madon/and to the kynge of Samour/and to the kynge of Adapha/ to the kynge that dwelt toward the North upon the mountaynes/ and in the playne on the South fide of Eucroth/ and in the lowe countie/and in the lowe fpace of Wech by the fe fide/and to the Canaanite toward the East/and Wiff/ to the Ammonite/ Ephraim/ Phereficio/ and Jebusite/ upon the mountaynes/and to the Genuite/ under mount Hermon/ in the lande of Mispa. These receivd out to all theyr armies/ a great people as many as the fand of the fe/ and exceeding many hofte and chariottes. All the fynes gathered them felve a wech/ and pushed together by the water of Merd/ to fight with Ifrael.

¶ And the Lord foyde unto Jofua: feare them not/ for I will morewe aboute this tyme next 3 febrer when all theye before the children of Ifrael/ thou shalt lince their hofte/ and burne their chariottes with fyre. ¶ And Jofua came foderly upon them/ and all the myn of weare with them by the water of Merd/ and fell upon them. And 3 Lord God of Israel did them into the hande of Ifrael/ a they smote them/ and theyd them vnto great Crydon/ and to the werte ryver/ and to 3 place of Mispa toward the West. In fton they vnto there remaind not one.

¶ Then dealt Jofua with them as the Lord had foyd vnto him/ and lained theyr hofte/ a bent theyr chariottes. And he turned backe at the fame tyme/ and wanne Beth/ a more the fynge of it to the fward/ fo. Beth was after tyme the heade cyte of all thefe fynge/ ayne. and fmore al the foules that were therein with the edge of the fword/ and damned a/ and let not thinge remaine that had Beth/ a damned of a wech theyr. All the cytes of these fynge/ ayne wanne Jofua alfo/ a more them with 3 edge of the fword/ and damned them/ according as Mofes the fervaunt of Deut. 35. c the Lord commaunded.

¶ Eowden the cytes that stode upon the hills/ did not the children of Ifrael burne with fyre/ but of a wech only did Jofua burne. ¶ And al the fpace of these cytes/ and the cauld by the children of Ifrael/ deale among them/ but fmore all the men with 3 edge of the fword/ till they had destroyed them/ and let nothing remaine that had Beth. So the Lord commaunded his kernaunt Mofes/ and as Mofes commaunded Jofua/ thus fo did Jofua/ fo that there was not henge vnto one of all that the Lord commaunded Mofes.

¶ So Jofua toke all this lande upon the mountaynes/ and all the fech/ a wech toward the South/ and at the leude of Gofen/ a/ 3 we countie/ and the playne welfer/ and the encirlyng of Ifrael with the valley welfer/ from the mountaynes that pertych the leude/ up toward Ser onto Haged/ in the playne of mount Ebanus/ beneath mount Hermon. All the fynes toke her/ and fmore them a pte them to death. ¶ Howbeit he warded a 3 froyd longe feften with these fynes.

¶ Ye was there not one cyte that ydded it of felte peccably vnto the children of Ifrael/ ¶ Excepte the Genuite/ which dwelt at Gif. ¶ And this was done fo of the Lord/ that they here was fo hardend/ fo come against the children of Ifrael with Genuit/ 3 they mighte be damned/ and no fience to be foyd vnto them/ but to be destroyed/ 1. the Lord Deut. 35. c. commaunded Mofes.

¶ In the fame tyme came Jofua/ and toke out the Canaanite from the mountaynes/ from Hebron/ from Debir/ from Anab/ 3 he curry

¶ And the tribe of the children of Gad as amonge they: inheritance gave Moſes / ſo that they: border was Jabaſai/ and al the cittyes in Gilcad/ and the halfe lande of the children of Ammon/ unto Aroer/ which lieth by the River ſynge of Heſdon/ and was by Jordan/ unto the edge of the ſee of Galiſarion/ this dividet Jordan Eaſtward. This is the inheritance of the children of Gad in they: inheritance/ citty halfe portion of the children of Maſſe after they: inheritance.

This is that Moſes ſaith out upon the rin / Horath / Arto / Cytye and theyr villeges.

 And in i red barnesse was Becharaba / Mibdin / Secheba / Hifben / and the salt one / and Engaddi / These are six cyties and theyr villages. But the Jebusites dwelt at Ierusalem and the children of Iuda could not thye the awaye. So the Jebusites remaine with the chydren of Iuda at Ierusalem vnto this daye.
 The XLVI Chapter.

H The lot fel vnto the children of Joseph from Jordan one / Gassil / Zebdo / vnto the water on the East syde of Iordan and the wilderness / that goeth vnto the Red se rowe the mountayne of Hebal / and cometh out from Bethel vnto Eno / and goeth throrowe the coast of Tra / Itacoth / and stretch vnto Westward vnto the east of Zaphon / to the border of the lower Bethon / and ento Gazer / and the ende thereof is the great fere / This the chydren of Joseph / Manasse / a Ephraim / dwelt to enhermanue.

The border of the children of Ephraim / so monge their limds of their inheritance / is the East / was / Itacoth / And vnto the upper Bethon / and goeth out Westward by Mameth / and asyth toward the Mount / there reacheth a compass to wards the East syde of the one / Thama / Solo / and goeth there shoure from the East vnto Zair / and cometh vnto from / Tanoba vnto Itacoth / and Maatatha / and cometh out / Jericho / and goeth out at Jordane / from / Tapuah goeth Westward vnto / Naal / and the outgynge of it is at the sic.

This is the inheritance of i tribe of the children of Ephraim amonge theyr synedee.
 And all the borders / cyties / with theyr villages.

you: that you the men one of eury tribe / I may sende them / and that they may get the sp / and go throughe the lande / as it descende ac cordinge to the enchauncement of / as come unto this.

So shall they laide in seuen partes. Ju das shall remaine upon his borders of the Southside: and the house of Joseph shall re maine upon his borders of the South partes: But he shall divide the lande in seuen partes: and theyge them unto me: then shall I cast the lot for you before the LoRde our God: for the Landes haue no portion amonge you. But the penitshade of the LoRde is they: enchaunce ment: As for Gad and Ruben: and the half tribe of Manasse: they haue receaved they: en chauncement beyonde Jordan: Eastward: / where Moyses the seruicant of the LoRde gave them.

Then the men gat up to go they: way:
And when they were come to go for to ve ssee the lande: Iosua commaunded them:
and saide: Ho youre waye and walk: throughe the lande: and vespere bet / and come againe unto me: that I may cast the lot for you be fore the LoRde at Silo. So they me departed: and wente throughe the lande: and vespere it in sion parre vpon a letter accordinge to the cy: / and came to Iosua in to the hoost at Silo. Then Iosua cast y: lot ether them at Silo before the LoRde: and there distributed the lande amonge the children of Israel: vnto e uery one his parte.

And the lot of the tribe of the children of Beniamin fell accordinge to they: Inheritance:
and the border of they: lot vnto out betwene the children of Juda: and the children of Jo seph. And their border was on y: Northquar ter of Jordan: and goth up from y: North side of Bethel: a cometh up to y: mountaine Westward: and goth out by y: wilderness of Bebaiaen: and goth from thence toward Lus: and by the South side of Lus: that is Bethel: and cometh vnto the North side by y: mountaine: whiche lyeth on the Southside of the lower Bethoron. Then com eth y: bounde: and feedeth a compass into y: Southwest quarter: from the north: that lyeth out against Bethoron toward the South: and goth out vnto Bethel: and thence to ward Bethel: a citye of the children of Iuda.

This is the Westside.

But the South border is from Bethel: Jehon north: and goth out toward y: West:
and cometh south vnto the water welle of Lepph: and goth vnto the y: edge of the mount: that lyeth before the palleye of y: forme of Ginnan: and goth vnto the north: y: vale ty of Ginnan: on the Southside of the Je busite: a cometh vnto the welle of the Ragel: a stretcheth from y: Northward: a cometh out vnto the North: and cometh south to y: heepe: that lyeth vnto the stone of Bochem: y: sonne of Ruben: and goth a longe: Beside the plain side: whiche lyeth Northward: and cometh vnto the plain side: and goth Beside Bethel: a cometh south toward the North: a his ende is at the North border of the salt sea vnto the edge of Jordan: Southward. This is the South border.

But Jordan shall be the ende of the East: quarter. This is the enchauncement of y: children of Beniamin: in they: borders: round about amonge they: Inheritance.

The cities of the tribe of y: children of Be niamin: amonge they: Inheritance: are these: Jeri cho: Bethel: Bagla: Linc: Regit: Beth Araba: Zemarane: Bethell: Quim: Haphor: Zephra: Ephar: Amnon: Zephra: Gabo: these are twelve cities: and their villages.

Gibeon: Rama: Beeroth: Eltho: Ephra ra: Moga: Kethem: Gezer: Bethel: Bethel: Bethel: Lepph: and the Jebusite: that is Jerusalem: Gibeon: Bethel: These are foure cities: and they: villages. This is the enchauncement of the children of Beniamin: in they: In heritance.

The XIX. Chapter.

Then fell the seconde lot of the tribe of the children of Simeon: accordinge to they: In heritance: / and they: enchauncement was amonge the enchauncement of the children of Juda. And they: enchauncement they: had Beth Saba: Ceba: Molada: Bezer: Zual: Baal: Aem: El: Holah: Bethul: Horma: Zi flag: Beth Mar: Kobah: Fozar: Sussa: Beth Lebaoth: and Saruden: These are thirteene cities: and they: villages: Ain: Rimon: Lo ther: Ahan: These are foure cities: and they:
villages.

villages. And all the villages that lie aboute the cincto vnto Balath/Bar Ramath toward the South. This is the enheritaunce of the tribe of the children of Simeon in their synredes for the enheritaunce of the children of Simeon/so order the portion of the children of Juda. So so muche as the enheritaunce of the children of Juda was so great for them/therefore embrethed the children of Simeon as muche their enheritaunce.

The fourth lot fell vpon the children of Iuda after they synredes. And the border of theyr enheritaunce was vnto Sand/sa goeth vpon Westward to Maraca/ and bordereth vpon Sabath/and reacheth vnto the ryuer Iza/floweth ouer againste Iafneam/and turneth from Sand Eastward vnto the border of Elyshethob/and cometh out vnto Sabath/and reacheth vpon Iapia/and from thence goeth vnto Westward shobow. Githar/Leper/and Githa Ragan/and cometh out towarde Nannu/ Ginebar/Barca/ a streetch a compass aboute from y North vnto North/and the goinge one of it is in the valley Zephath/El Bazah/Albady/Onu/ Zedeca/and B. hiehem. These are the cincto cytes and theyr villages. This is the enheritaunce of the children of Iudalon in they synredes/here are the cytes and villages.

The fourth lot fell vpon the children of Iasachar after they synredes/ and theyr border was Iefra/El Bessuloh/Sameu/ Gapharaim/Don/Anaharath/Koobith/Rifon/Abiz/Kereth/El Ganun/El Nhad/Barth/Parag/and bordereth vpon Thabor/Chazana/Barth/Simeon/and the ouergoinge of it was at Jordane. These are the cincto cytes and theyr villages. This is the enheritaunce of the tribe of the children of Iasachar in they synredes/cincto and villages.

The fifth lot fell vpon the tribe of the children of Asser/after they synredes. And theyr border was Kellath/Kah/Been/ Japhath/Alneclaph/Amad/Allefall/and bordereth on Carmil vnto the see/and on Sibos/El Libaid/sa turneth towarde the East vnto Beth Ragan/and bordereth on Zabulon/and on the alloue of Zephath/and towards Kithsyde of Beth Encl/and Negel/and cometh out vnto Zabulon the left syde of Ebron/Ker hob/Hamon a Cana/vnto great Sidd. And turneth towarde Nama/vnto the stronge cincto of Iou/and turneth towarde Kofsa/and goeth out vnto the see/after y incedine towarde Achib/Vmal/Thy:K/Rebob.

These are two and twentie cytes and theyr villages. This is the enheritaunce of the tribe of the children of Asser in they synredes/cincto and villages.

The sixth lot fell vpon the children of Neftalim in they synredes. And theyr border was from Kileph/Eion the way Saman/Abac/Necl/Zabnecl/vnto Lakum/and goeth out vnto Jordane/and turneth Westward to Zinorh/Tabos/and cometh out fro the cincto vnto Hufof/and bordereth on Zabulon towarde the South/and on Assir towarde the West/and on Iuda by Jordane towarde the West/and hath stronge cytes/Gimry/Karnath/Kakath/Chunarath/Barca/Kama/Kizon/Rebo/Edes/El Haze/Jecon/Neugal/El Haren/Barth/Inath/Barth/Samto. These are the synnec cincto and theyr villages. This is the enheritaunce of the tribe of the children of Neftalim in they synredes/cincto and villages.

The seventh lot fell vpon the tribe of the children of Dan after they synredes/and the border of theyr enheritaunce was Barca/El Baal/Trfauca/Seclabim/Zalon/Barth/Eion/Elbinara/El Front/Elrbe/El Gibeon/Baalath/Jeud/Bartharath/Barth/Kimon/El/Canfon/K. Kan/with the border by Zaph/and on the same greeth the border of the children of Dan out. And the children of Dan wente vp/and foughte againste El efen/and wanne a fineste it with the edge of the sword/ and toke it in possession/and dwelt therein/ and called it Beth Dan/after the name of theyr father. This is the enheritaunce of the tribe of the children of Dan in they synredes/cincto and villages.

And when the lande was all parted out to the borderers thereof/the children of Israel gaue Josua the sonne of Nun/an enheritaunce amonge them/ and accordinge to the com mandment of the Lord. They gaue him the cyte that he requyred/ namely Timnath Serah/vpon mount Ephraim/here builded Josua the cincto and dwelt therein.

Colou and the suburbs thereof / Orbar and the suburbs thereof / Ain and the suburbs thereof Jina and the suburbs thereof / Verb-Domes and the suburbs thereof / ruen nyne cyties of the two nybes.

But of the trybe of Ben Jamin they gave four cyties / Widen and the suburbs thereof / Waba and the suburbs thereof / Ana-bot and the suburbs thereof / Ainou and the suburbs thereof / so that all the cyties of the dystren of Jaran the pass were ihyrene with they: sithin bea.

The fyrtyedes of the oder distren of Rahab the Leuites had by they: lot four cyties of the trybe of Ephraim and they gave them the frye cytie of the deadslayn / Deben and the suburbs thereof upon mozt Ephraim / Gaser and the suburbs thereof / Sib-zman and the suburbs thereof / Eithoon a the suburbs thereof.

- ¶ Of the trybe of Dan four cyties / Elche a the suburbs thereof / Gibhon and the subur-bes thereof / Tulan and the suburbs thereof / Gash-Kunon and the suburbs thereof. Of the half trybe of Manasse two cyties / The-nadi and the suburbs thereof / Gash-Kunon and the suburbs thereof / so that all the cyties of the oder distren of the kyned of Rahab wecc an with the: suburbs.

Thus with the distren of Gerson amonge the fruyndes of the Leuites were given.

¶ Of the half trybe of Manasse two cyties/the frye cytie of the deadslayn / Golan in Basan and the suburbs thereof / Beestha and the suburbs thereof. Of the trybe of Issachar four cyties / Widen and the suburbs thereof / Rabach and the suburbs thereof / Jarmib and the suburbs thereof / Enginam and the suburbs thereof. Of the trybe of Asser four cyties / Misal / Abdou / Seltah / and Keboh with the suburbs thereof. Of the trybe of Naphtali the cyties of the frye cytie Redee for the deadslayn in Gahle / Sameth / Don / a Karthai with the suburbs thereof / so that all cyties of the trybe of Gersonites were ihyrene with they: suburbs.

- ¶ Thus the fruyndes of Miran the oder Leuites were given / Of the trybe of Sushon frye cyties / J:ked / Barbau / Sunnet and Nabal with the suburbs thereof. Of the trybe of Ruben four cyties / Weer / Jabaza / Bebonorb and Mesphaz with they: suburbs. Of the trybe of Gad four cyties / the frye cytie for the deadslayn / Kanonib in Gilead / Mahanaim / Heshou / and Jarser with they: suburbs / so that all the cyties of the dystren of Merai amonge they: fruyndes of the oder Leuites were iwyse. Thus all the cyties of the Leuites amonge the possition of the dystryct of Israel were cryth and forty with they: suburbs. And the cyties were so scale out / that every one had they: suburbs reside about / the one as the other.

Thus the Lorde gave the distren of Israel all the lande / whiche he had sworne vnto they: fathers to geue / a they rote possession of it / a they: ry: rym. And the Lorde gaue them rest before al those / were aboute them / lyke as he swore vnto they: fathers / and noue of they: enemyes stode agaynst them / but all they: enemyes behouered hem in to they: hande. And they myghte in anyng of al the good that the Lorde had promysed vnto the house of Israel / a rym curry why.

The XXII Chapter.

¶ Ben Josua called the Rubenites and J Gadites / and the half trybe of Manasse and sayd vnto them / Ye haue kept a l that Mose the seruaunt of the Lorde commaunded you / and haue hearkenid vnto my voyce in all that I haue commaunded you / Ye haue not forsaken your dyctren alonge tyece / you so this daye / and haue woyced vpon the rom maundement of the Lorde your God. For so much now as the Lorde your God hath brought your heylen in / rest / as he promysed them / turne you now / and go your waye to your cyties in to the lande of your possession / which Mose the seruaunt of the Lorde gave you beyonde Jordan.

Then saie they: vnto him / that ye haue comyng to the commaundement and lawe which Mose the seruaunt of the Lorde hath commaunded: That ye issue the Lorde your God / a rest in al his waye / a keepen his maundementes / and cleue vnto hym / a sent hym with al your hart / a with al your soule.
So I haue blessed them / a let them go. And they wente vnto they: cyties.

this voye/and to buyde on altare for sacrifice for burnt offering / and for any purgation / and for the altare of the Lord our God / that standeth before this habitation.

G But when Phineas the priest / the chiefe of the congregation / the puruee of Israel / whiche went with him / brede these wordes that the chyldren of Ruben / Gad and Manasse had spoken / they pleased them well. And Phineas the sonne of Eleazar the priest sayd vnto the chyldren of Ruben / Gad and Manasse. This voye we knowe that the Lordde is among you / that ye haue not trespassed agaynst the Lord in this vede. Now haue ye desyned the chyldren of Israel out of the bande of the Lord.

Then Phineas the sonne of Eleazar the priest / and the rulers turned out of the lande of Canaan / from the chyldren of Ruben / and Gad / vnto the lande of Canaan / to the chyldren of Israel / and brought them wyde agayn of the masse.

Then woe the chyldren of Israel well content with this voyage. And they prayed the God of Israel / and sayd nomore that they wold go vp agaynst them with an armye / to desioye the lande that the chyldren of Ruben and Gad dwelt in. And the chyldren of Ruben and Gad called the name of the altare: This altare / the witness / because vpon that the Lord is God.

The XXXIIII. Chapter.

I After a loutge season / when the Lord had broughte Israel to rest from all theye enemyes / wold aboute: and Joshua was now olde / and well streyten in age / he calld all Israel / and they Elders / heades / iudges / and officers / and sayd vnto them: I am olde / and well aged / and ye haue seue all that the Lord your God hath done vnto all these nacions in your sight. For the Lord your God hath sette hath foughte for you. Beholde / I haue parted amonge you the remannts of the nacions by lot / vnto euerye tribes his inheritance. For I haue rote out vnto the greas for the weake.

Jud. i

B And the Lord your God shall thrust them out before you / and he shall haue theye lande in possession / as the Lord your God hath promysed you. Be strange now therefore / ye wold obserue / and do all that is written in the booke of the lawe of Moses: For that ye men / shall not ahyde from it / neither to the right hande / and neither to the left: that ye come not vnto all the remannts of these nacions / whiche seue with you: And se / ye make no mencions / nor swear by the names of theye goddes / neither serue them / nor bowe your selves vnto them: But cleare vnto the Lord your God / as ye haue done vnto this daye: then shall the Lordd your God be great / and mightye nacions before you / like as there hath no man bene able to stande before you vnto this daye. One of you shall chace a thousande / for the Lordd your God fighteth for you: accordinge as he promysed you. Take with youe here therefore vnto your soules / that ye cleue the Lord your God.

But if ye turne backe / and cleue vnto these other nacions / a nake maerages with them / so that ye come amonge them / and theye amonge you: ye sure then shall the Lordd your God shall no moree byue oue all these nacions before you: / but theye shall be vnto you a snare and net / and pyccles in youe sydes / and shornes in youe eyes / vntill he haue destroyed you from the good lande / which the Lordd your God hath geuen you.

Beholde / this daye do I geue the traye of all the wealdes / ye shall haue moree then feunt of youe herde / and from all youe foules / that theye hath not fasted one wordde of all the good that the Lordd your God promysed you. Now lyke as all the goodde is come that the Lordd your God promysed you: / then is shall the Lordd your God haue destroyed you from this good lande / if ye the Lordd your God hath geuen you / if ye transgress / ye comannde of the Lordd your God: which he hath remannded you. And if ye go your way: and serue other goddes / a wold by them / then shall I wold of the Lordd your God: whiche he hath remannded you. And if ye go your way: and serue other goddes / a wold by them / then shall I wold of the Lordd your God: whiche he hath remannded you.

The XXXIII. Chapter.

J Joshua gathered all the iudges of Israel / and he wente vnto them / and calld the Elders of Israel / the heades / iudges / officers. And

And when they were come before God / he said vnto all the people: Thus saith the Lord the God of Israel: Your fathers dwelt a foreigne beyonde the water / Abraham and Laban / with Carah thy father / and serued other goddes. Then toke I your father Abraham beyonde the water / and caused him to walke in the lande of Canaan / and multiplied his kids / and gaue hym Isaac / and vnto Isaac I gaue Jacob and Esau / I gaue Esau a mountein in Seir to possesse. As for Jacob and his children / they went downe in to Egypte.

Then sent I Moses and Aaron / and plagued Egypte as I haue done amonge them.
 Ther after I brought I you and your fathers out of Egypte. And when ye came to the sea and the Egyptians folowed vpon you / sa-thero with charrettes and horsemen vnto the sea / then cryed they vnto the Lord / which put a vnderstanding betwene you and the Egyptians / and brought the sea vpon them / and ouerwhelmed them: And your eyes haue seen what I did to the Egyptians / and ye were in the wilderness a long season.

And I brought you in to the lande of the Am-monites / which dwelt beyonde Iordane / when they fought agaynst you / I deliuered them in to your hands: that ye myght haue they: continue in possession / and I bestroed them before you. Then Balac the sonne of Bephor / the kynge of the Moabites gaue hym vp / a soughe agaynst Israel: and he sent / and bad call Balaam / the sonne of Beor: to curse you / neuerthelesse / I would not heare him / but I blessed you and enlarged you out of his hands.

And when ye went ouer Iordane / a came vnto Jericho / the captains of Jericho fought agaynst you / the Ammonites / Moabites / Ca-nanites / Hittites / Gurgasites / Hittites / and Jebusites / whom I / I deliuered them in to your hande. And I sent hornetes before you / which droue them out before you / namely the two kynge of the Ammonites: not that I did they stragles / nor that were thy home. And I haue giuen you a lande / whereupon ye bestowed no labour / and cyties which ye haue not builded / that ye myght dwell therein / and ye myghte care of the vniuersaltes and olyuetrees / which ye: haue not plantid. Feare the Lord now therefore / and serue hym perfectly / and in the truth / there go the goddess / wher ye are / saith I serued beyond the water and in Egypte / and serue ye the Lord.

But if ye saye: we serue the Lord / when those you this daye worship ye will saue: the God whom your fathers serued beyonde the water / or the goddess of the Ammonites / in whose lade ye dwell. As for me / I desire house / we will serue the Lord. Then answered the people and sayd: God sayeth / that we shoulde forsake the Lord / and serue other goddes: for the Lord our God brought vs and our fathers out of the lande of Egypte / from the house of bondage / and hee side great tokens before our eyes / and performed vs all the waye that we went / and amonge all the nations / whom we traueled by / and the Lord / he hath out before vs all the people of the Ammonites that dwell in the lande.
 Therefore will we also serue the Lord: for he is our God.

Josua sayd vnto the people: Ye can not serue the Lord: for he is an holy God / wher ye and gyltes / which spareth not your transgressions and synnes. But if ye forsake the Lord / and serue a strange God / when shall the Lord iure hym / said he to you well / and consume you / after he hath done you good.
 The people sayd vnto Josua: not for bin we will serue the Lord. Then sayd Josua vnto the people: Ye are witness / ouer your selves / that ye haue chosen you the Lord / to serue hym. And they sayd: Yee. Then put awaye frō you / sayd he / the strange goddes that are amonge you / and encluse you here vnto the Lord / the God of Israel. And if people said vnto Josua: We will serue the Lord: our God / and he obserueth vnto his voyce. So Josua / made a conuenant with the people the same day / and layd statutes and lawes before them as he had.

And Josua wrote this acte in the booke of the lawe of God / and toke a great stone / and set it vp there vnder an Olive / which was in the Sanctuary of the Lord / and gyd vnto all the people: Behold / this stone shall be witness ouer you. For he hath herde all the wordes of the Lord / which he hath spokin vnto vs / and shall be a witness ouer you: that ye serue not your God. So Josua let the people go his therof. And the Lord was with Judah so that he conquered the mountaynes: but there was dwelers in the valley: could he not quere them: and they had yon charites. And occidynge as Moses had sayd: they gave Heban unto Gilead: which house one the sonnes of Esau. And he sent the chyldren of Ben Jamin thow not out the Jebusites / the dwelers of Jamin: but the Jebusites dwelt amonge the chyldren of Ben Jamin at Jeru

E The chyldren of Joseph went also vnto Bethell: and the Lozde was with them. And the house of Joseph spred out Bethell: which as yet tyme was called Luz: and the watchmen sawe a man gyng out of the citty: and sayde vnto hym: Wherw he wher we may come in to the citty: for we wil therw mercy vpon the. And when he had shewed them wher they myght come in to the citty: they limed the citty to the edge of the foreward:
but they let the man go: and all his frendes.

Ch. II. Chapter.
But there came a messenger of the Lord from Gilgall vnto Bethon: and sayde: I haue carryd you vp herth out of Egypt:
and brought you in to the lande that I sware vnto your fathers: and sayde: I will in due tyme breake my covenenants to you: that ye shall make no covenenants with the inhabytors of this lande: but breake vnto they: utterance: utterance: ye haue not hearkned vnto my voyce: Wherfor haue ye done this: Then sayd I mo: ouer: I will not breake them out be fore you: that they maye de a fall vnto you: and they: goddes a snare. And when the messenger of the Lord had spoken these wordes vnto all the chyldren of Israel: the peo palme trees. And the children of Israel serued Eglon the King of the Moabites egyptene yeares. Then cryed they vnto the Lozde. And the Lozde rayged them vp a sauour: namely: Elhad the sonne of Gera/the sonne of Teruu/whych was a man that might do no thing: with his right hande.

And when the children of Israel sinte by him vnto Eglon/the Kinge of the Moabites/ Elhad made him at two edged Dagger of a spaine length/and gyded it vnder his garment/upon his right tise/ and brought in the pascall vnto Eglon/the Kinge of Moabites. So for Eglon he was a very fat man.

And when he had deliuered the pascall/ he let the people go that had caried the pascall/ & he hymselfe mined backe from the Idols of Gilgal/ and confesed to saye thus vnto the Kinge: I haue a secretie thinge to tell the O Kinge. And he commaunded to kepe silence/ and all they that stode aboute him/ wente out from him.

And Elhad came in vnto him/ & he set in a sword sentur parer in his backe for hym selfe alone. And Elhad said: I haue haue what to saye vnto the of God. The of he vp from his seat. Then Elhad put forth his left hande/ and toke the Dagger from his righte thye/ & thrust it into his belly/ so that the blicke went in also after the blade/ and the serclosed the blicke: he wente in: the Dagger out of his backe/ and the slythyns repaired from hym. But Elhad cutt hym out at the backe doore/ & put in the soie after hym/ and looked it.

Now when he was gone/ his seruantes came in/ and serue that the bore of the soime parer was closed/ and they saide: peradventure he is gone to the priuie in the filed for myr parer.

But when they had wayted so longe till they were a shamed/ for no man opened the parer there/ they toke the keye/ and opened it. Wholden then they ebery loode vpon the earth. So for Elhad he was gotten away/ whyt he made so lunge tarrange/ and he wente ouer by the Idole/ and conne his way vnto Strab.

And when he came in/ the blicke the romper vpon inuente phisams/ and the children of Israel wente with him from the mount and he before them/ and he said vnto them: for looke me/ for the Lozde hath deliuered the Moabites your enemyes into your hande. And they seked with hym/ and wanted the strey of Jordan: that goeth toward Moab/ and suffred no man to go ouer/ and at the same tyme they slewe of the Moabites vpon a ten thousande men/ & nobles and men of armes/ so that there escaped not one. Thus were the Moabites brought vnder the hande of the chyldren of Israel at that tyme/ and the lande was in reste fourte soie yeares.

Afterward was Egarat the sonne of Iud. v. s. Anath. whych slew sixe hundreth Philistines with a carter gad/ & deliuered Israel also.

And there came an angell of the Lord/a far him Doune vnto an Ofe at Appha/which belonged vnto Joas/the father of the Iffraites/and his sonne Gebeon was there: by the waye: in the same that he sayde: I will awaye the face of the Midianites.

¶ Then appeared vnto hym the angell of the Lord/and sayde vnto hym: The Lord doth the thus myghte gyant. But Gebeon sayde vnto hym: Sir: if the Lord be with vs: wherfor is all this that happened vnto vs: And wher are all the wonders which our fathers tolde vs/and sayd: The Lord doth thus vnto the of Egypte: But now hath the Lord forsaken vs/and deliuered vs into the bande of the Midianites.

The Lord turned hym vnto him/a said: Wher way in this thy strength/ thou shalt deliuer Iffraele out of the bande of the Midianites: I haue sent y. But he said: My Lord wher withall shall I deliuer Iffraele: Be-holde my handes: the smallest in Iffraelle: and I am fleest in my fathers house: The Lord sayde vnto him: I will be with the/so that thou shalt smite the Midianites: euen as that stode by hym: Will ye stryue for Baale: Will ye deliuer him: He that stryue for him: shall dye: this mornynge. If he be God/let him avenge hym selfe: ceane if his altiare is broken: From that daye forth was he called: Terabaal/ because it was sayde: Let Baale avenge him selfe: that his altiare was broken.

came agayne from the battayl/out of J. East he toke a lad from the men of Enoch / and examined hym / which wrote him up the names of the rulers of Enoch / & they censed / censed the score and seueren men.

And he came to the men of Enoch / and S. said: Behold here is Jebea and Salmanan / concerning whom ye laughed me to scorn / and said: Are the hands of Jebea and Salmanan in thy hands already / that we must give bread unto thy men which are weary? And he toke the sidco of the eye / and shouen out of the wilderness / and shewes / and caused the men of Enoch to be come thence with. And the tower Penuel shal be down / and steeve the men of the cite.

K. xij. d

And he sayd vnto Jebea and Salmanan: What manner of men were they / whence ye steeve at Enoch? They sayd: They were euen like the and goodly men / as if they had bin a Kinges children. He sayd: They were my brethren / euen my mothers sonnes. As truly as the Lorde Delech / if ye had luten them hys / I woulde not slaye you.

And he said vnto his fyfthene four Jephther: Stande up and slaye them. Stande the laste four not our his steeve / for he was afayed / for so much so he was yet but a led. Jebea and Salmanan sayd: Stande thou up / and slaye vs / for such as he man to steeve to also his steeve. So Wedon arose / and steeve Jebea / and Salmanan / and toke the ornaments that were aboute they camels neckes.

Then said certayne in Issaell vnto Wedon: He thou led aucte washon and thy sonne / and thy sonnes sonne / for so much so thou hast deliued vs from the hande of Medanites. Decher helffe / Wedon sayde vnto them: I will not be laide ouer you / steeve they shall my sonne be laide ouer you / but Lorde shal be laide ouer you.

Wedon sayd vnto them: One thyng I desire of you. Every man geuene certayne that he hath spoyled. (For in so much as the men were Issaellites / they had carrynges.) They saye: Them wyl we geue the. And they spied out a cloth / and euery man cast the carrynges thereon that he had spoyled. And the golden carrynges whch he requered / had in weyght / a thousand and seuen hundred / whch eles of golde / beside the spanges / and theynes / scarlet raynuet / which the fynges of the Medanites dyd weare / and beside the new haundes of they camels. And Wedon made an ephod therof / and set it in his eye at Bepta. And al Issaell went there / a rebouyng Gen. xij. d after it / a returned to an occasyon of sallinge and xx. d vnto Wedon and his boue.

Thus were Medanites broughte doune before the children of Issaell / and lyfte vp they heads / now that the laide was in it / for naye year / so longe as Wedon lyued.

And Abimelech the sonne of Joas wente a dwelle in his house. And Wedon had thre iii. Ke. x. s score and ten sonnes / which were come out of his wyfe / for he had many wyfes. And his concubine which he had at Enoch / bare him a sonne also / whome he called Abimelech. And Wedon / some of Joas dyd in a good age / and was buried at Bepta / in the sepulchre of the father Joas / the father of the Leuites.

But when Wedon was dead / the children of Issaell turned backe / & went a rebouyng after Basan / a miede a conuenient to Basan / that he shoulde be they God. And the childre of Issaell thought not on Lorde their God / which had deliued them from the hande of they enemyes rounde aboute / and they beswed not mercy vnto the house of Abimelech Wedon / accordinge to all the good that he had done vnto Issaell.

The .IX. Chapter.

Abimelech the sonne of Jebebaal / wente vnto Enoch to his mothers brethren / and spake vnto them / and to all the kynred of his mothers fathers house / and sayd: I praye you speake in the carce of all / that Enoch What is better for you / that the score and ten men / all children of Abimelech shoulde be laide ouer you / & one man shoulde be laide ouer you. Ke. ii. d also that I am your bone and your fleche.

Then spake his mother to the children all this wordes for hym / in the carce of all the men at Enoch. And they were entised to Abimelech / for they thoughte Leio our brethren / and gaue him the score and ten synners out of the house of Basan. And with them Abimelech byed men that were vagaboundes / and of lycht creature / whiche

B When this was tolde Joram/ he went and stode vpon the topp of mount Gersin/ and lyst vp his voyce/cried and sayd: Heare me ye men of Sichem/that God maye heare you also. The trees wente to anoynte a kynge ouer them/ as I sayd vnto the Olyue tree: But thou art kynge. But the Olyue tree cursed swerch the: Shall I go a leaue my fatnesse (which hath God a man comende in me) a go to be pist vp aboute the trees: Then said the trees vnto the fygge tree: Come thou and be kynge ouer vs. But the fygge tree sayd vnto them: Shall I leaue my sweetnesse and my good frute / and go to be pist vp aboute the trees: Then sayd the trees vnto the vyne: Come thou and be our kynge. But the vyne saide vnto them: Shall I leaue my sweet wyne/which reioyseth God and men/ and go to be pist vp aboute the trees: Then sayd all the trees vnto the thorn: Wylth: Come thou and be kynge ouer vs. And the thorn thus said vnto the trees: If it be true/ that ye anoynte me to be kynge: since you then come and put your mist vnto my shadowe. If no/ then ga fyre out of the thorn: Wylth: I consume the & the trees of Libanus.

E If ye haue done right now and iustly/ I ye haue made Abimelech to be kynge: and if ye haue done vnto Jerubbaal a eo his house/ and haue done vnto him as he deserued vnto you: Wylth: I wene my father sought for your sake/ and leaped his lyfe/ to deliuer you out of the Midianites hande: tuz ye you/ which are ryfen vp this daye against my fathers house/ and haue rayn his children the seue persons and set vpon one stone / and haue made you a kynge: Couen Abimelech the sonne of his hande/ vnto ouer the men of Sichem/ for so much as he is your brother.

If ye haue done right now and iustly to Jerubbaal a his house this daye/ then reuocce ouer Abimelech/ and let him reuocce ouer you.

If no/ then go fyre from Abimelech/ and consume the men of Sichem / and the house of Millo: And fyre ga out also from the inen of Sichem/ a from the house of Millo/ a consume Abimelech. And Joram: whan he had spoken ouer this/ Hedde a gar him out of the waye/ a wente vnto Bet/ a dwelt there / because of his brother Abimelech.

Now whan Abimelech had raygned thre yearre ouer Israel/ God sent an euel in rynde betwene Abimelech and the inen of Sichem/ for the men of Sichem despised Abimelech/ a refused the wynges vnto the farnes of Jerubbaal/ and theye blynde / and layed it apon Abimelech theye brother whiche slewe them/ and vpon the men of Sichem that theye gathered his hande there/ that he myght laye his brother.

And the men of Sichem set an hynde watch vpon the toppes of the ieruzalem/ a spyed al them that walked nye them by 3 waye/ and it was tolde Abimelech. But there came Gaal the sonne of Ubed and his brethren / a entered into Sichem/ a id the men of Sichem put theye trust in him/ and wente out into the felde / and gathered theye wyngardes / and pressed them/ and made a haufe / and wente into theye gods house/ and had eat a dynner/ and cursed Abimelech.

And Gaal the sonne of Ubed sayd: Who is Abimelech/ and what is Sichem that we should serue hym: To be na the sonne of Jerubbaal/ and hath set Schal his seruant ouer the men of Sichem: the father of Sichem: Wherefore should we set in him: Wold God the people were vnder my hande/ I might put downe Abimelech.

And it was tolde Abimelech in creace thine hood/ and depare for Schal the chief ruler of the cite/ whan he herde the wyrdes of Gaal the sonne of Ubed. he was wrathfully displeasid/ a sent messesge secretly to Abimelech / and caused to saue vnto him: Debold/ Gaal the sonne of Ubed and his brethren are come to Sichem/ and make the cyne to be against the.

The .X. Chapter.

S Ephraim a Gilead was a valiant Man of armes / but an hallothe chyld.
Whiche began Zephibah. But when the wyse had borne chyldren vnto Gilcad / and the same wyse chyldren were wryghten / they thought ouer Zephibah / and sayde vnto hym: Thou shalt not be beyen our fathers house for thou art another wymanes sonne. Ther sted be from his brethren / and dwell in the lande of Lab. I And thar rested vnto byn recounte / and went out with hym. And after a certayne tyme sought the chyldren of Ammon vnto Israel.

Then wold the chyldren of Ammon fight thyn with Israel / but elders went from Wia sonne. Take heed therefore / that thou vnto no wyne: ne sounge vyntle / and that thou eat no vncleane thyng / for thou shalt conceiue / and beare a sonne / a vpon whose heade thou shalt come no rasour: for the chyldre shalbe a Nazarene of God / euen from his motheres wombe / and shall begynne to be lyuer Israel out of the handes of the Philistines.

Then came the woman and tolde her husband / and sayde: There came a man of God vnto me / and besyde my selfe was to loke vpon as an anngell of God / vey reayble / so that I feared hym not wher he came / and wher he wold enoyther talke he me his name.
But he sayd vnto me: Behold / v thou shalt be conceiue and beare a sonne: vnto no wyne Luce: therefore ne sounge vyntle / and eate no uncleane thyng: for he chyldre shalbe called a Nazarene of God / eue fro his motheres wombe vnto his deathe.

Then Manoah prayed the Lorde / a sayd: Oh Lorde / let the man of God whome thou hast sent / come to us agayne / that he maye enform us: v what we shal do vnto the chyldre whiche shalbe borne. And God heide the voyce of Manoah / and the anngell of God came to his wyfe agayne. Euen she shal in the selfe / and her husbande. Manoah was not with her. Then ranne she in all the hast / and tolde her husbande / and sayd vnto hym: Beh-hold / the man whome thou appeard vnto me / that came to me is here.

Manoah gat hym vp / and wente after his wyfe / and came to the man / and sayd vnto hym: Verily thou the man the spake in the reuerent / he sayd: Yee. And Manoah sayde wher it cometh to passe: that thou hast sayd wher

wher shall he maner and route of the chyld: The angell of the Lord sayd vnto Manoah: He shall kepe hym from all that I tolde the woman: he shall not eate that which cometh of the yur / and shall syncke no wyne nor strange dryncke / a rare no vncleane thyng: a all that I haue commaunded her / shall be kepe.

Manoah sayde vnto the angell of the Lord: let vs holde the here: (I praye the) we will prepare a hydde for the. Neuertheless the angell of the Lorde answered Manoah: I thought thou wouldest kepe me here: yett will I not eat of thy bread. But if thou wilt make a burnt offering vnto the Lord: thou mayest offer it: (for Manoah wyl nat that it was an angell of the Lord.) And Manoah sayd vnto the angell of the Lorde. What is thy name / that we may praye the: when it cometh vnto vs: (for thou hast sayde):
But the angell of the Lord sayde vnto hym:

Why askest thou after my name / which is wonderfull:

Then toke Manoah a hyd / and a meat offering: and layd it vpon a roffe vnto the Lorde: which both the wonderd him selfe: But Manoah and his wyfe beheld it. And when the flame wente up from the aultare forwarde heauen / the angell of the Lorde ascended vp in the flame of the aultare.
When Manoah and his wyfe sawe that they fell vnto the earth vpon theyr faces. And the angell of the Lorde appeared nomore vnto Manoah a his wyfe. Then knewe Ma-noah that it was an angell of the Lorde: as he sayd vnto his wyfe: We must dye the next day: because we haue sene God. But his wyfe answered hym: If the Lorde wolde haue slayne vs: he had not receaued a burnt offering: and a meat offering of our handes: neither had he shewed vs all these thynges:
nor lett we haue such as is now come to passe.

And the woman broughed forth a sonne:
and called his name Samson. And the chyld grew: and the Lorde blessed him. And the space of 3 Lorde beganne to be with hym in the house of Dan: wherene Samson a Ephraim.
The XIII. Chapter.

Samson wente vnto Timnath: and there he sawe a woman amonge the daughter of the Philistines. And when he came up / he tolde his father and his mother: and sayde: I haue sene a woman amonge the daughters of the Philistines: I praye you geue me the same to wyfe. His father and his mother sayd vnto hym: Is there not a woman amonge the daughters of thy brethren: and in all thy people / but thou must geue a wyfe amonge the Philistines: which are vncircumcised?

Samson sayde vnto his father: Geue me this woman: for she pleased mine eyes. But his father and his mother knewe not it: it came of the Lorde: and that he sought an occasion against the Philistines. For the Philistines reyned ouer Israhel at that same tyme. So Samson wente vnto the woman: and with her he dwelt.

And when they came to the vineyardes of B Timnath: wher he dwelt: there came a lyon roaring vnto him. And the spere of the Lorde came vpon hym: and he reuice hym in pieces: euen as a rydde is parced asunder: and yer had he nothyng eate all his dayes:
and he tolde it not vnto his father: and his mother.

Nowe when he came vnto the woman: he spake with the woman / and she pleased Samson: as before. And after certayne dayes he came againe vnto Timnath: wher he receaued her: and wente out of 3 wayes / that he might see the dead carcas of the Lyon: and beholde them: the Lyon carcas there was a swarme of bees / a honie: and he toke of it in his hande: and he drate ther of by the waye: and wente vnto his father: and to his mother: and gaue them to eate also. But he tolde them not that he had taken the honie out of the Lyons carcas.

And when his father came vnto the woman / Samson made a feast ther: as the yonge men vsed to do. And when they saw hym / they gaue hym thyr companyons to be with hym. Samson sayde vnto them: I will expresse a dark sentence vnto you: if ye spoude me the same with in thre seue dayes of the feast: I will geue you thyr thirtie and thyrte change of garment. But if ye can not spoude it: the shall ye geue me thyr thirtie thirtie: and thyrte change of garment.
And they sayd vnto hym: We wyl for thy ryde: let vs heare it. He sayd vnto them:

hauē I slawe a thousand men. And when he had sayd that he calld these bone out of his hand and cauld thi place Ramath Lechi. But when he was foue a thy: he called vpon the Lord and sayd: Such great heales hall thou geue by the hande of thy seruants; but now muell I wy a thyself; and if in not hide of the vncle I receiued. Then God opened a gromer in the cheke bone; so that water went out: a when he thanke his spate came again; and he was refreshed. Therefor vnto his daye it is sayd the well of the cheke bone; of hym that made intercession. And he reigned thirtie yere in the tyme of the Philistines twentye yere.

The. XLV. Chapter.

2 Samson was in the cave of Gath; and there he was in Gath; and laye with her. Then was it sayd vnto the Dalila: Samson is come hither. And I wy come passd hym about; and I wold laye waye for hym secretly; / and I wold all the night in the gate of the cnyce; and all that night they helde them still; / I sayd: Whyde / I knowe when it is high; we wyll slaye hym. But Samson lay vnto midnyght; then toke he at mydnyght; and toke bolde on both the Sythi postes of the gate of the cnyce; with both the postes; and hys feete were made in the barres; / and layd them vpon his shoulders; and bare the top to the toppes of the iudges ouer agaynst Bethon.

B There was he fillen to the loue of a woman; by the birth of Sorde; whose name was Dalila; vnto whom the prynce of the Philistines came vnto; / I sayd vnto her: Durethade hym; and I wy be thy; / he hath such great strenght; and how we may ouercome hym; / that we myght byre hym; and subdue hym; / so wyll we geue the euery man a fil; and all the strengthes. And Dalila sayde vnto Samson: I praye the tell me; when thy great strenght is; and how thou myghtest be bounde to be subdued. Samson sayde vnto her: If I were bounde with seven ropes of fresh fenewool; which are not yet dyed vp; I should be weak; and as another man. Then the prynce of the Philistines brought vp vnto her seven new ropes; which were not yet dyed vp; / and she bounde hym therewith. / But there was a waye layd for hym besyde her; in the chamber; and she sayd vnto hym: The Philistines vpon the Samson; / thou thyselfe hadde the ropes; in mynder; / then as a newydd thede bealech; / and I wysh I had; / the bane of the tye. / And it was not known vnto hym his strenght was.

Then sayde Dalila vnto Samson: her C heart thou shalt be gyrd; / in; / and I shouldde with me; / tell me yet; / what wyddall myll I thou be bounde; / he answered her: / If they bounde me with seven cardes; / when I wy labour; / that I called vnto: / I should be subdued; / and as another man. / Then toke Dalila new ropes; and bounde hym with all; / and sayde: The Philistines vnto the Samson; / but there was waye layd for hym; in the chamber. / And he bare them; in; / and he was; / as he had been; a thede.

Dalila sayde vnto hym: Yet hast thou by gyrd me; / and I shouldde with me; / Dilline thou; / what wyddall myll I thou be bounde; / he answered her: / I thou playest; / I wysh I shouldde be bounde; / in; / a fil; / a fastness; / the; / in; / a; / I should be weak. / And she sayd vnto hym: The Philistines vnto the; / Samson; / but he was; / out; / of; / his; / strength; / and thou; / on; / the; / played; / there; / loke; / a; / with; / the; / tye; / of; / the; / fil.

Then sayd she vnto hym: How canst thou saye; / that; / thou; / hast; / me; / when; / can; / thyne; / bet; / to; / not; / recouer; / me; / This; / tyme; / hath; / thou; / vnto; / me; / and; / I; / can; / the; / me; / when; / by; / my; / great; / strenght; / is; / So; / when; / the; / was; / in; / my; / way; / in; / pome; / upon; / hym; / with; / her; / wold; / a; / a; / the; / not; / let; / hym; / be; / cast; / / his; / soule; / was; / a; / pite; / euen; / vnto; / the; / earth; / and; / he; / shewd; / her; / his; / whole; / here; / and; / sayd; / vnto; / her: / There; / can; / be; / no; / more; / of; / me; / for; / I; / am; / a; / vnto; / the; / Lord; / from; / my; / mothers; / womb; / If; / I; / were; / shauen; / my; / strenght; / shouldde; / repaete; / from; / me; / so; / that; / I; / shouldde; / be; / weak; / and; / as; / all; / other; / men. / Nowe; / when; / Dalila; / saw; / that; / he; / had; / opened; / all; / his; / here; / vnto; / her; / she; / fell; / and; / called; / for; / the; / prynce; / of; / the; / Philistines; / and; / sayde; / Come; / ye; / once; / vnto; / for; / he; / hath; / opened; / his; / whole; / here; / vnto; / me.

Then came the prynce of the Philistines; / vnto; / her; / and; / brought; / her; / vnto; / him; / with; / them; / in; / they; / handes; / and; / she; / made; / hym; / to; / sitte; / vpon; / her; / lappe; / a; / called; / one; / which; / about; / of; / the;

seven heere lockes of his heade. And she be-ganne to weep hym. Then was his strength departed from hym. And she sayd vnto hym: The Philistines vpon the Samson. How rehan he awoke out of his slepe / he thought I will go forth as I haue done afore tyme / a casinge selfe / I knewe not that the Lord was departed from hym. But the Philistines toke hym / and put out his eyes / and biazing he by Dome to Gath / and bounde him with scire and made hym to grinde in the ppyson. But the beere of his heade beganne to growe againe wheret it was shaven of.

- ¶ When the princes of the Philistines were gathered together to make a great sacrifice vnto Dagon they: God / and to be ioyful they sayde: Our God hath vntured Samson our enemye in to our hande. & fewe fewe when the people sawe hym they pearfed they: God / and sayde: Our God hath vntured in to our han-de our enemye / that hath restored our lande / a fewe many of vs. Howe rehan they: here was ioyfull they sayde: See vs rehan Samson / that he maye make some passyme before vs. Then sethed they: Samson ouer of the ppyson / and he made passyme before them. And they set hym betwene two pylers. But Samson sayd vnto the lad that led hym by the hande: Let me touch the pylers where vpon the house stande / that I maye leane there vnto. As for the house it was full of men and women. All the princes of the Philistines were there also and vpon the toppe were about a thowansome men and women / whiche behelde what pas-syme Samson made.

- ¶ But Samson called vpon the Lord / and sayde: O Lord: Let me / styrke vpon me / and strenght me but this once O God: I beseeche thee that for both myne eyes I maye aueenge me on the Philistines. And hee ke hold of the two myghy pylers / that the house stode vpon / and was holden by the one in his right hande / and the other in his lefte / a lad: My soule be with the Philistines / a be do-wed by myselfe myghtis. Then set he the house vpon the princes / and vpon all the people that were therein / so that there were mo of / slayn / whiche stode in his death the be slay while he lyned. Then came his brethren younge and old by a fathers house and toke hym / and carryed hym vp / and buryed hym in the graue of his father Manoah / betwene Darga and Ellbaall. He buriede / I feele twentye y. are.

The XVII. Chapter.

¶ There was a man vpon mount Ephraim / a named Micha / whiche sayd to his mother: The thowfande and hundred shilings goe whiche thou hast taken vnto the yreine and spoken of before myne eares / behold the same money is by me / I haue taken it vnto me. Then sayde his mother: The blessing of the Lord haue thou my sonne. So he gaue his mother the thowfande and hundred shillings / and she sayde: My sonne is ioyful whiche goe agayne. And his mother sayd: That money haue I sanctified vnto / the Lord with my hande for my sonne / to make a molten Image: therefore I gaue it the agayne: Thuerbest: / he vntured the money agayne vnto his mother.

Then toke his mother two hundred shillings / and put them forth to the goldsmith whiche made a molten Image that was afterward in Michas house. In this the man Micha had a gods house / a made an outsidy: cere a Dole / a filled the houses of one of his sonnes / that he myghte be his priest. In this tyme was there no hygin in Israel / and euery man did the chynge that was myghte in his owne eye. There was a younge man of Beth-leem Iuda / among the synners of Iuda / and he was a Leuite / and was a stranger there.
The same tyme one of the cytye of Bethleem Iuda / to walke whether he coulde.

And when he came vp to the mounte Ephraim vnto the house of Micha / to go on his iourney: Micha ased hym: whiche comest thou: He answered hym: I am a Leuite of Bethleem Iuda / am a stranger here: Where I come Micha sayde vnto hym: Tary with me / thou shalt be my father and my priest: I will giue the euery yeare ten shillings / a thy appoy-nted tyme / a meat a drynke: and the Leuite reioice out. And the Leuite agreed to abyde in the mans house: he held the yonge man / as one of his owne sonnes. And Micha filled the Leuite house that he myghte be his priest / and so he reioice in Michas house. And Micha sayde I am sice the Lord be with me good / in whiche I haue a Leuite to my priest.

The XVIII. Chapter.

And that time was there no king in Israel. And the tribe of the Simeon sought the an inheritance to dwell in / for unto that tyme there was no inheritance fallen vnto they among the tribe of Israel. And the children of Dan sent out of theys kynrede foue captaynes / whiche were men of armes. From Jarga and Esbal / to spyre and scarde out the lande. And they sayde vnto them: Go youre wayes / and scarde out the lande. And they came vp to mouete Ephraim into the house of Michas / and taried there all night. And while they were there the Michas household / they knewe the voyce of the yong man the Leuite / a synde vnto him. Who brought the hysker. What meanest thou here; a why toldest thou come hither.

He answered / then: Thus and thus hath Michas deue vnto me / and hath byred me to be his priest. They sayde vnto him: O woe as God / what wee maue peccauce whether oure journey which we go / shal prosper wel or no. The priest answered them: Go youre waye in peace / vnto the country that ye go to before the Lord. Then the fyue men wente theys way / and came vnto Ram / and saw that the people which was therein / were huremen as the Soudanous are / and catchiffe / and that there was no law in the lande to vexe them / a were saffes from the Soudanous / and had nothing to do with any man.

And they came to theys children to Jarga and Esbal / and theys children sayde vnto them: How is it with youe? They sayde: Thus / let vs go vp vnto them / for we haue kyne the lande / that is a very good lande: makest buyll thesofe / and be not slack to go / that ye maye come to take possession of the lande. When ye come / ye shall come to a carelesse people / and the lande is ryde: for God hath bespued that place in youre hande / there nothing watech of all that is vpon earth.

Then wente there thence out of the kynreds of Dan / from Jarga and Esbal / fyue hundred men ready weaponed to the Gattayl / and wente vp / and pitched at Ram with Jacarim in Juda: therefore called they thesame place the boole of Dan / vnto this daye / which is be beynde Ram with Jacarim.

And from thence: they went vp vnto moite

Ephraim / and came to the house of Michas. Then answered the fyue men that wente out to spyre the lande of Ram / and sayd vnto theys brethren: A woe ye nor that in theys houses there is an ourtbody coze / Idoles / and molten ymagos: Woe maye ye soke what ye haue to do. They departed thence / and came to the house of the yong man the Leuite in Michas house / and saluted him friendly. But the fyue hundred men which were of the chyldren of Dan / stode ready bermedd by the gate. And the fyue men that were gone out to spyre the lande went vp / and came thither / and toke the ymage / the ourtbody coze / and the molten Idole. In the meane while stode the priest at the gate with the fyue hundred ready armed.

Now when these were come into Michas house / and toke the ymage / the ourtbody coze / and the molten Idole / the priest sayde vnto them: What voyce? They answered hym: Seke the peace / and laye thine hande vpon thy mouth / and go with vs / that we maye see our face / and peace: For the place for the to be pacif in one mans house / them amonge a whole trybe and kynred in Israel. This pleased the priest well / and he toke both the ourtbody coze / and the Idole / and the ymage / and came in amonge the people. And when they turned them and sawe thence / they sente theys children / and came / and had peace / and theyng as they had before them.

When they were now come saffe from the house of Michas / the men that were in Michas house / gathered them together by Michas house / and solumed the chyldren of Dan: and cryed vpon theys chyldren of Dan. They turned theys faces aboute / a sayde vnto Michas: What sayest thou / that thou makest such a cryng: He answered: Ye haue talk away my goddes / and the priest / and are goyngge your waye / and what haue I bebyrd? What is here? And yet ye saye vnto me: What sayest thou? But the chyldren of Dan sayd vnto him: Let not thy voyce be heard amonge vs / that some wofull men / truste not at thy / and so thy soule / and the soule of thy house be destroyed. So the chyldren of Dan wente on their waye. And Michas / when he sawe that they were / so strong / for hym / tumbled backe.

side mount Ephraim/whiche I am / a wome unto Deborah Iudah a new I go unto the house of the Lord/and name wil barbaaome.
We haue feared a prouidence for one offof a sicab a wome for me and thy handmaid/and for the young men which in woth thy ser-uants: that we wouite no longer.

J The olde man sayde: Deceet woth the whaifouer thou willest: thou findest it woth me/only say therein the sicre almyghty. And he brought hym into his house/ and gaue the assaigmenter/ and they washed theyr feet/ and dyd eate and drynt. And when they were was now wofull/ the men of the cyncr/ the children of Belus came/ and compass-ed the house rounde aboute/ and cuthed at the doer/ and sayde vnto the olde man / which was the good man of the house: Bynge out the man which is come into thy house / that we may knowe him.

Gen. p. 18 I The good man of the house wente forth to them/ and sayde vnto them: Oh no my Brethren / do not so wretchedly / confideuaght this man come into my house: Oh do not iudge sely. Beholde / I haue a daughter yet a virgin/ and this man hath a concubine/whose wofull Bangeteith vnto you/ that ye may humble them: and do woth the as ye late: But do not sicke sely vnto this man. Receyue lesse/ the man wold not haue vnto him.
Then saide the man his concubine/ a brought her forth vnto them: and they saue her/ and deuils hauncillly woth her all y night vntill the morninge. And when y morninge came on/ they let her go.

S Then came the woman early in the morninge/ and fell downe at the doer of the mans house/ that her loide woe in / and laye there till it was lighte. Then when her loide rose vp in the morninge/ and opened the doer of the house/ and wente forth to go on his iourney/beholde/ his concubine laye at the doer of the house/ and her hande a upon the threshold.
He sayde vnto her: stande vp/ see ye no. Ne-uertheless/ he gaue hym no answer. Then sahe he her vp/ upon his asse/ gaue hym vp/ and wente vnto his place.

Reg. 11 Now whiche came hem/ he seke a sword/and bride his concubine/ and cut her woth the sword/ and all vnto ransle peccer/ and sent them vnto all the coastes of Israel. Whofouer saueu/ sayde: Eude a thinge hath not bene vnto me/ for keene the syne that the children of Israel separed out of the lande of Egypt/vnto this daye. Now/ so concerninge this/take your aduise/ and gaue your counsel/and stwe it forth.

The XX. Chapter.

Then wente the children of Israel out / a gathered a congregation together as one man/ from Dan vntill Berseba/ and led the lance of Gabaah vnto the Lord in Mis-pa/ and there came together of all the matters of the people/ a of all the tribes of Israel / into the congregation of the people of God/ foure hundred thousand foremen that durc out y sweard. But the children of Ben Jamin beris/howe that the children of Israel were gone vp vnto Mispa. And the children of Israel saide: Tell vs howe happened this euill?

Then answered the cyncr/ the housband of the woman that wofull man/ saide: I came to Gabaah in Ben Jamin woth my concubine/ so as y there all myght/ then the cyncr-smye of Gabaah get them vp against me / and compassed me aboute in the banke by myght/and thought to slay me/ and beyled my concubine/ so that she cryed: then wote I my concubine/ and cut her in peccer/ and sent the peccer vnto my cyncr/ of the inheritance of Israel: for they haue done an abomination and sely in Israel. Beholde/ here are ye dys-dome of Jisrahaduse you well/ and take this matter in hande.

So all the people gett they vp as one ma / and sayde: men shall go into his man / or repate to his house/ but this wyl we do now/ against Gabaah/ for we cast her/ and take ten more of an hundred/ and a hundred of a thousand/ and a thousand of ten thousand/out of all the tribes of Israel/ that they may take sode for the people/ to come and do woth in bea Ben Jamin / accordinge to their sely/whid they haue done in Israel. Thus all the men of Israel/ sounge confidetrice/ gathered them selfe to gether as one man vnto the cyncr/ and the cybe of Israel/ sent men vnto all the tribes of Ben Jamin / and seuld to saye vnto them: What manner of wyce Jof kidness/ is this/ that is done amonge you?

¶ J. J. J.

Belouer here therefore the men/the children of Belial at Gibeath/that we maye put them to death/and so awaye the euill out of Israell.
Neuertheless / the children of Ben Jamin wolde not followe the voice of their brethren/children of Israell/that gathered the felow out of the countie unto Gibeath/ to go forth in battal against the children of Israell.

And the same day were three hundred of the children of Ben Jamin/out of the countie and twentie thousand men/that were the swearde beside the city of Gibeath/of whome there were tolde seven hundred chosen men . And amonge al these people there were chosen out seven hundred men/which used not the right hande but the left / and yet with the stroke could they touch an hee/and not misse . But the men of Israell/beside the of Ben Jamin/were numbered foure hundred thousande/whiche were the swearde / a were all men of armie . And the children of Israell arose/and wente up to the house of God/ in Siloh/and arde at God/and sayde: Wha shal goe up for us to bryng the battal with the children of Ben Jamin: The Lord sayde: Juda shal begynne.

So the children of Israell gat the up in the mornynge/and pushed out against Gibeath/and every man of Israell wente out to fight with Ben Jamin/and set them selues in araye to fight against Gibeath. Then set the children of Ben Jamin out of Gibeath / and strowe the same waye amonge Israell two and twenty thousande to the grounde.

But the people of the men of Israell conforted them selues/and made them redy to fight yet more in the same place/after they had prepared them selues the daye afore.
And the children of Israell wente up / and wept before the Lord onnyl the euenynge/and arde at the Lord/and sayde: Shall we go any more to fight with our brethren the children of Ben Jamin: The Lord sayde: Goe up unto them. And when the children of Israell gat them up to the children of Ben Jamin on the nexte daye/ the Ben Jamin fell out of Gibeath against the same daye/and slawe yettye eight thousande of the children of Israell to the grounde/whiche all was the swearde.

Then wente all the children of Israell up/and all the people / and came to the house of God/and wept/and stode there before the Lord/and said that daye onnyl the euenynge/and offered burnyng offerynges and chancellorynges before the Lord. And the children of Israell arde at the Lord/ at the Arke of the counteunte of God was there at that tyme/and Phineas the sonne of Eleazar/ the sonne of Aaron/ stode before him at the same tyme/and they sayde: Shall we go forth any more to fight against our brethren the children of Ben Jamin/on shall we leaue of: The Lord sayde: Goe up into mount Sialur/ the one to your hande.

And the children of Israell set a pituy J warth against Gibeath rounde about / and so Jo the children of Israell wente up to the children of Ben Jamin on the thirde daye / and set them selues in araye against Gibeath/ as the other two tymes afore. Then came the children of Ben Jamin out against the people/and brake out of the cite/and beganne to slawe everyne wounded of the people/ as the other two tymes afore. At the side vpon two streets: wherof one gaue toward Bethel/ the other vnto Gilead vpon a thirde men in Israell. Then thought the childre of Ben Jamin: They are smitten before vs as afore. But the children of Israell sayde: It is so they / we maye moueth them out of the countie the bye streete.

Then all the men of Israell gat the up fro their place/and prepared the felow vnto Ba-al Hamar. And the hinder warth of Israell broke out of their place/ fro the caue of Gaba/and came vnto Gibeath / twentie thousande chosen men out of all Israell/ so that it was a foure battal: but they knewe not that the mill shoulde happen vnto the. Thus the Lord smote Ben Jamin before the children of Israell/ so that the same daye the children of Israell destroyed him and twentie thousande an hundred men in Ben Jamin/ whiche all were the swearde.

For when the children of Ben Jamin sawe that they were smitten/ the men of Israell went the contrary waye to the. So they retulde to the warth/ whiche they had set by Gibeath. And the warth made payll also / and brake forth vnto Gibeath

Abdoe there before vpon it and smote all the eye with the edge of the sword. They were appoyned betwene them selves / the men of Israel and the hinder ward / to fall vpon the wiche sword / than the hande of the eye with the sword / the men of Israel turned them in the battayle / and Ben Jamin began to singe / they wounded in Israel vpon a thynge man and thought / they are stryemen before vs / like as in the battail afore / then beganne there a piller of smoke to arise vpon the eye. And Ben Jamin looked by ynde the / and behelde the flame of the fire wente vpon the heauit. And the men of Israel turned them / and were fearece vpon the men of Ben Jamin / for they sawe that he coulde worke hap vnto them.

¶ And they smite them before the men of Israel in the waye to the wilderness / but the banck followed vpon them. And them of the eye destroyed they amonge them. And they compassed Ben Jamin rounde aboute / a folowed vpon them vnto Memud / and trode them downe yf afore Gibea Kaswad. And there fell of Ben Jamin eyghthe thousande men / which were all men of armes.

When the remnant of Ben Jamin sawe that they wended them / and fled toward the wilderness vnto the stony rocke of Rimon. But in the same strete they steme fure thousande men / and folowed vpon the vnto Gedon / and steme two thousande of them / and so there fell the same. Rey of Ben Jamin fure and reuicy thousande men / whiche were the sword / and were all men of armes. Onely five hundred men turned backe / and fled towarde y wilderness vnto the stony rocke of Rimon / and abode in the rocke of Rimon fourte monethes. And y men of Israel came againe to the childe of Ben Jamin / and smite them that were in the eye with the edge of the sword / with men and cattell / and all that were founde / and whateuer was founde in the cite / they cast into the fyre.

The XXI. Chapter.

¶ The men of Israel had sowne at Mispah and sard: To man shall geue his daughter to the Ben Jamin to wyfe. And the peopple came to the house of God in Silo: a abode there before God vntil the evening: a lyst vpon they voyce / and wepte for / and sayde: O Lord God of Israel / wherfore is this come to passe in Israel this daye: But in the morninge the people gat them vp early / and builded there an altare / and offered burnt offerings: and shant cost / in ynges.

And the childe of Israel sayde: Where is there any man of the tribes of Israel / that is not come vp with the congregation vnto the Lord: for there was a great asse made / that who so came not to Mispah vnto the Lord / shoulde dye the death. And the childe of Israel was fery for Ben Jamin their brother / and said: This daye is there one tribe lesse in Israel. How wil we do that the remnant may haue wyfe: for we haue sowne by the Lord: whas we wil not geue them wyfe of our daughter. And this said: Where is there any man of the tribes of Israel / that is not come vp to the Lord vnto Mispah: And beholde there was not one man of the eyghthe of Zabes in Gilead.

Then sent the congregation twelfe thousande men of armes / by the lande commaunded them / an sayd: O your waye and smyte y concyua of Zabes in Gilead with y sword / the woman also and the childe / vnto: so that ye do after this maner. ¶ O whiche ye summe all them that are moles / and all the woman y haue lye with wyfe. And anon ge y concyua of Zabes in Gilead they founde fourte hundred yamsels / which were virgins / and had lye with women / those they brought in to the host vnto Silo / whiche lye in the lande of Canaan.

Then sent the whole congregation / and came to talke with the childe of Ben Jamin / which were in the stony rocke of Rimon / and called vnto them friendly. So the childe of Ben Jamin came againe at the same tyme / and they gaue them women which they had of the women of Zabes in Gilead / and founde no moe after that maner. Then were the people fery for Ben Jamin / that the Lord had made a gappe in the tribes of Israel. And y Elders of the congregation sayd: What wil we do / that the remnant may haue wyfe also: for the women in Ben Jamin are destroyed / and they sayd: The children are of them.

them of Ben Jamin that are escaped / must needs remayne / that there be not a ryde destroyed out of Israel: and we can not geue them our daughters to wyues: for the chylidren of Israel haue swome and sayde: cursed be he that geueth a wyfe to the Ben Jamin.

And they sayde: Beholde / there is a yearly full of the Lord at Silo: which lieth on the Westside of the Gods house / on the Eastside of the street: as a man goeth from Bethel vnto Sichem / and lieth on the Southside of Lebanon. And they commaunded the chylidren of Ben Jamin / and sayde: Go your waye / and wayte in the vnyardes. And when ye see that the daughter of Silo go forth by companyes to Daunce: geue you out of the vnyardes / and eury man take hym a wyfe of the daughters of Silo / and go youre waye into the lande of Ben Jamin. As for theyr father and brethren / when they come to laue with vs: we will saye vnto them: Be favourable to them / for they haue not taken them in Battayll: but ye gaue them no vtter them by tyme / and it is your fault.

The chylidren of Ben Jamin vnderstande / and accordinge to theyr number take them wyues from the Daunce / whome they caught by violence / and receiue theyr waye / and vnder in theyr vtter inheritance: and buylded cyties / and dwelte therein. The chylidren of Israel also gaue them vp from thence at that tyme: tyme / eury one to his wyfe / and so he departed / and departed thence eury man to his owne inheritance. Thereafter tyme was there no synge in Israel / and eury man vnder the thyng that was ryght in his owne eyes.

The boke of Ruth.

The first Chapter.

In the tyme whan Iudges ruled / there was a verbe in the lande. And there went a man from Bechem in Iuda / to take his iourney into the lande of the Moabites / with his wife and two sonnes / which man was called Elimelech / and his wife Naama / and his sonnes Mahlon / and Chilion / and the other Elion: the three were Ephraimites of Bechem Iuda. And when they came into the lande of the Moabites / they dwelt there. And Elimelech Naams husband dyed / and she was left behynde with her two sonnes / which were Moabitish wyues: the one was called Orpa / the other Ruth. And when they had dwelt there ten yeres / they dyed / both Mahlon and Chilion / so that the woman remayned desolate of both her sonnes / and her husbande.

Then gat she her vp with both her sonnes wyues / and receiue agayne out of the lande of the Moabites / for she had her be in the lande of the Moabites / that the Lord had visited her people / and geuen them bread and floure: departed from the place where she was / and both her sonnes wyues with her. And so they went by the way to come agayne into the land of Iuda: she sayd vnto her sonnes wyues: Whose waye will ye take / wherof ye will saye: We will go with the man that we maye haue a house. The Lord shew mercy vpon you / as ye haue done on them that are dead / and on me. The Lord graunte you that ye maye fynde a husbande for you in her husbandes house / whome ye shall see / and she kissed them.

Then lieth they vp theyr voyce / and wept / and sayde vnto her: We will go with the man to thy people. But Naama sayde: Turn agayne my daughter / why wouldest ye go with me? How can I haue chylidren any more in my body?

And though I should saye/ I hope this night to take an housbande/ a no dunge forth growen up/ for ye shoulde be to olde/ so that ye could haue no housbandes. Ho my yougher reue/ becof me I say for you/ for the hande of the Lo. d is gone forth ouer me.

Then saye they vp they voyce/ a wept yet more/ and Depressed her mother in lawe / a turned backe againe/ due Ruth abode still by her. Heuere the lesse/ she said: Behold/ thy sister in lawe is turned back vnto her people / a to be God/ turn thou again also after thy sister in lawe Ruth answered: Speake not co me ther cof/ I shoulde for sake the / a mine becke wilt I go also / and loke wher thou shyddest ther wilt I abide also: By people to my people / and by God to my God. Loke wher thou dyest/ thence wilt I dye/ and tuff there wilt I also be buried. The Lo. d be to this a ther vnto me/ death only shall separate vs.

¶ Now when she sawe that she wassted fast ly mynded to go with her/ she spake woorde to ha ther of. So they went on both together/ till they came vnto Bethleem. And wha they were come into Bethleem/ the whole co-mune was moued about them/ and sayde: Is not this Naomi? Heuere the lesse/ she sayde vnto them: call me not Naomi/ but Mara: for the almighte hath made me very soye. I depested full/ due the Lo. d he hath brought me home agayne emptye. Why call ye me then Naomi? whan the Lo. d hath brought me home/ and the Almighty hath made me soye?

It was aboute the tyme of the begyn-nyng of the Barly harvest/ wha Naomi and her daughters Ruth the Moabysse/ came agayne from the lande of the Moabites vnto Bethleem. There was a kynsman also of the friends of Elimelech/ whose name was Booz/whose name was Booz/ whiche was an hon-nest man.

The II Chapter.

¶ And Ruth the Moabysse saide vnto Naomi: Let me go into the fildes/ and gar-ther eyes of come after him/ in whose sight I shall synde fauoure. She sayde vnto her: Go thy way my yougher. She went out/ a came and gathered after the reapers in the fildes.

And it fortuned that the same felde was the and certayne of Booz/ whose name was the friend of Elimelech/ a behold/ Booz came fro Bethleem/and sayde vnto the reapers: The Lo. d be with you. They answered: The Lo. d bless the. And Booz sayde vnto his yonge men/which had the ouersight of the reapers. Whose damsell is this? The yonge man that was sitting a ner the reapers/ answered and sayde: This is the damsell of the Moabysse/ whiche came a-gayne with Naome from the lande of the Moabites. And she sayde: Let me plucke vnto and gather: I pray the. He went the sheues after the reapers/ and she was the come / and hath stonde here ever since the morninge / a whan a little while she wold haue bin gone heme agayne.

Then said Booz vnto Ruth: Hearest thou my yougher? Thou shalt not go vpon any others mans lands to gather/ and goe away from hence/ but tary with my damselle / and solke wher they reape in the fildes/ go thou after them: for I haue commanded my ser-uantes that no man touch the. And if thou be a thyrist/ go thy waye to the well a drinke/wher my seruantes drinke. Then set the vp bet see / and bend her selfe vnto the carth/ and said vnto him: How haue I solde this fauoure in thy sight / that thou woldest know me/ whiche any eie a stranger?

Booz answered and sayde vnto her: It is tolde me also/ wher thou hast bene vnto thy mother in lawe after thy housbandes death / how that thou hast left thy father and thy mother/ a thy name continue / and art come to a people/ whome thou hast not knowen before. The Lo. d recompence the thy dunge/ a thy rewarde be perfect in the Lo. d God of Israel/ vnto whome thou art come to put the trust vnto his winges. She sayde let me finde fauoure. He: Besoie thine eyes/for thou hast comforted me / a spoken friendly vnto thy hand/ made whiche I can not yet like one of thy handmaidens.

Booz sayde vnto her: Whan it is re-tyng tyme/ come hither/ and eate of the bread//
and

and byppis they ma fell in the wyneger. And shee farthe Doune besyde the resapers. And he fer parched some besyde her/and shee byd eate/ and was iustlyfyed/and left ouer. And when shee rose to garber/ Boos commaunded his seruantes/ and said: Let her garber seruen the sheeces also/and do her no dishonour: a call of the sheeces vnto her/and lett her that shee maye garber it vp/and se that no man reppoue her for it.

So shee gathered in the filde vntil euen/ a shee byd shafe out what shee had gathered/and it was almost an Eppa of Barley: a shee rose it vp/and came into the cite/and shewed her moother in law what shee had gathered. Shee rose forth also/ and gaue her of that whiche was left/wherof shee was satisfied. Then said her moother in lawe vnto her: Blessinge haue the man that hath knowen the/ wher thou hast gathered/and laboured this daye.

¶ Thee tolde her moother in lawe by whome shee had laboured/and saide: The mans name by whome I haue wroughte to daye/ is Boos. Naem said vnto her: Daughter in lawe: The blessing of the Lord haue he/so: he hath not left of to be incredul vnto the hymnge/ and to y head. And Naem sayde vnto her: The same man foloweth vnto vs/and is our nye kynsman. Ruth the Moabitt said: Hee said moe comes vnto me. Thou shalt restore vnto my seruantes/tyll they haue in aine an ende of all my hurtell. Naem said vnto Ruth her Daughters in lawe: It is better my Daughters than thou go forth with his seruantes/ my man restorand y in another feld. Thus shee kepte hee selfe with Boos seruantes/ so that shee gathered vntill the Barly harvest/and the wheate harvest. & our/and came agayne to her moother in lawe.

The III. Chapter.

¶ Said Naem her moother in lawe saide vnto her: My Daughters/ I wil prouide thee for the/that thou mayest prospere. Boos our kynsman by whome seruantes thou hast bene/ called vp Barly nowe this nyght in his beine. Barly thy selfe there/ and I will do/ anointe the/and put on thy clothes/ and go Doune vnto the Barly/so that no man knoweth/ till they haue all euen and drouen.

When he layeth him Doune to slepe/ then mark the place wher shee hath Doune/ a come shee/ and to take vp the coveringe: at his feet/ a laye the Doune/ so shall hee tell the/ what thou shalt do. Shee said vnto her: wherfor thou sayest vnto me/ I wil do it.

¶ Shee went Doune to the Barly/ and byd of as her moother in lawe had commaunded her. And when Boos had eaten and drouen/ his beere was mery/ and he came and layed him Doune besyde a heape of sheeces. And shee came secretly/ and toke vp the coveringe at his feet/ a layed her Doune. Nowe when it was mydnyght/ man was afrayed/ and groved aboute him/and he tolde/ a woman laye at his feet. And he said: Who arte thou? Shee answered: I am Ruth thy handmaidens/ speake thy wynges ouer thy handmaidens/ for thou art the negre kynsman.

¶ He saide: The Lord do Blessinge haue thyour ny Daughter. Thou hast bene a better mercy herefor/ then I shoulde haue had: I care not now my Daughters: All that thou hast sayde/ and I do for the/ for the cye of my people knoweth that thou art a veruous woman. Trueth is nowe/ that I am a nye kynsman/ but there is one nyght. I Tarye thou al in nyght. To morowe if hee take the well/ of hee/ hee nor to take the/ when will I take the/ my selfe/ as truely as the Lord lyueth. Slepe thou tyll thy anowynge. And hee slepte at his feet vntill the anowynge. And shee rose vp: as was one coulede knowe another. And shee thought: thou y no man knowe now y there hath come a woman into the cite/ and shee saide: Rede me the dole/ that thou hast on the/ and holde it forth/ and shee held it forth. And shee dyd mecte her five measures of Barly/ a layd it vpon her/ and shee went in to the cite/ and came to her moother in lawe/ which said: How is it with the ny Daughters? And shee tolde her all that the man had bene vnto her/ a saide: These five measures of Barly gaue me/ for hee saide: Thou shalt not come empty to thy moother in lawe. Shee saide: Wode my Daughters/ tyll thou se what the maner myl prouide to for the man/ will noe case/ tyll hee thynge it to an ende this daye.

The III. Chapter.

Some reade
the/and put on
the.

Boos wente vp to the gate / and sat hym Doune there: and beholde / when the nye fyngman wente by / Boos spake vnto hym and sayde: Come and sette the vome here / and called hym by his name. And he came and sat hym Doune: and he toke reme of the Elders of the cytye: and sayd: Eye you Doune here.
 And they laze the vome. Then sayde he to the nye fyngman: Naemi / whiche is come a-gayne from the lande of the Moabites / offer-eth to sell þe peece of lande / that was oure doothers Elimelech / therfore thoughte I to shewe it before thyn eares / and to tell the: If thou wilt redeeme it / then bye it before the cytyens / and before the Elders of my people: but if thou wilt not redeeme it / then tell me þ I may knowe: for there is no nye fyngman excepte thou / and I receiue it.

He sayde: I will redeeme it. Boos sayde: In the hande that thou byest the lande / of the banes of Naemi / thou must take Ruth also the Moabisse / the wyfe of thy dead: that thou mayst carie vp a man to the dead in his inheritance: Then sayde he: I can not redeme it / lest I happye destroye myne owne enheritance. Redeeme thou that I shoulde redeme / for I can not redeeme it. But this was an olde custome in Israell / concerninge the redemyng and chaungyng of the almarters / myght be stable / the one parte of his shute / and gaue it vnto the othere: that was the custymy in Israell.

And the nye fyngman sayd vnto Boos Eye than it / and he put of his shoe. And Boos sayd vnto the Elders / and to all the people: Ye are mynesse / this daye / I haue boughte out of the hande of Naemi / all that belongeth to Elimelech / and all that was Chithos: a Ma-habite. And Ruth the Moabisse / Ma-habite wyfe / take I to wyfe / that I maye carie vp a name vnto the dead in his inheritance: and that his name be not tored out from amonge his brethren / and out of the gate of his place: Of this as yett mynesse. And all the people that was in the gate with the Elders / sayde: We are mynesse. The Lord make the woman that cometh in to thy house / as Rachel and Lea: / which bothe both haue bysided vp the house of Israell: that they may be an ensamble of vertue in Ephrata / and haue an honorable name in Beribem. And thy house be as the house of Phares / / whose name was vnto Iuda. Wherof the scribe / that the Loide shall geue the of this daye.

So Boos toke Ruth / and she became his wyfe. And when he laye with her / the Lord graunted her that she conceiued / and bore a sonne. Then sayde the woman vnto Naemi: Praise be the Lord / which hath not suffered a fyngman to cease from the at this time / that his name maye conuinc in Israell: he shall restore thy lyfe agayne / and prouide for thyne age. For yowre sonnes wyfe / which hath loued / by hath borne him / that is better vnto the / then seven sonnes.

And Naemi toke the chyld / and laye it vpo her lappes / and began to the nose of it / and ber seyghboours gaue by a name and sayde: There is a childe borne vnto Naemi / and they called his name Obed. The same is the father of Isai / whiche is the father of Dauid. This is the generation of Phares / / Phares begat / Esaiom / Esaiom begat Iam / Iam begat Amnadaab / Amnadaab begat Naason / Naason begat Salmon / Salmon begat Boos / Boos dr gaue Obed / Obed dr gaue Isai / Isai begate Dauid.

 cause the Loide had closed her wombe: thus was the entry yea: when they went up to the house of the Loide: / a thus she proued her.
 So she wept and had eate nothinge. But Eli cana her hous band saide vnto her: Wherefore wepest thou? And why artest thou nure: And what for is thyne heart so greued? Am not I better vnto the then eu sonnes?

B Then stode Hanna vp / when she had eaten a breken at Silo. Duek she the priest for vpon a stole by the poste of the temple of the Loide. And she was sil benynges in her heart/and prayed vnto the Loide / a wept / a vowed a vowe / and said: O Loide Zabaath / if thou

Neuertheless the chyld was yet but yonge.
 And they flew a bullocke / a broughte the chyld vnto Eli. And he sayd: O my loide / as truly as thy soule leueth in me / I am in the wombe that stode here by the / and made intercession vnto the Loide / whi I prayed for this chyld.
 Now hath the Loide graunted me my pray-

And when the people came in to the host / the Eldero of Israel sayd: Wherfore hath the Lo:de calld vs to be smitten this daye before the Philistines? Let vs take vnto vs the Ark of the Lo:de: for we haue comen from Silo: and let it come among vs / that it may helpe vs from the bande of our enemies. And the people sent vnto Silo / and caused to fetch thence the Ark of the conuenaunt of the Lo:de Sabaoth / wherby they vowe the Oe-rthimo. And with the Ark of the conuenaunt of God there were the two sonnes of Eli / Ophni and Phineas.

And when the Ark of the conuenaunt of the Lo:de came in to the host / all Israel shouted with a great haunce / so that the earth sounded withall. But when the Philistines heard it / they said: What meaneth this? For the Philistines sayd: What meaneth this of such great shouting in the towne of Silo?
And when they perceived that the Ark of the Lo:de was come in to the host / they were afraid / and sayd: God is come in to the host. And they sayd moreover: We vnto vs for it hath not bene thus aforetyme. We vnto vs. Who will deliuer vs from the bande of these heere goddes? These are the goddes that sinned in Egypt with all maner of plagues in the wilderness. Be stronge now in manly ye Philistines / these ye serue not the Hebrewes / for they haue serued you.
Be manly and fight.

Ethen fought the Philistines / and Israel was smitten / and euery one fled vnto his owne tent / and there was a very great slaughter / so that thence fell of Israel thretye thousande.

four men. And the Ark of God was taken / And the two sonnes of Eli / Ophni and Phineas died.

Then ranne there one off Ben Jamin out of the fore front of the battayll / and came vnto Silo the same daye / and had his clothes rent / and had earth vpon his heade / And when he came in / he fell vpon the seate / but he might lose towarde the waye / for his brete was face full aboute the Ark of God.
And when the man came in to the citty / he tolde it forth / and all the citty cryed.
And when Eli heard the noyse of the cerryge / he heard: What noyse of businesse is this? The man came hastily / and tolde this. So for Eli he was foure score and cyghtene yeare olde / In his eyes were tymes. The man sayde vnto Eli: I come / and am full of this daye out of the host. He sayde: How is it thus?
The man answered the rynging: by nyght and sayde: Israel is fled before the Philistines / and a great slaughter hath there ben amonge the people / and thy two sonnes Ophni and Phineas are died / and the Ark of God is taken.
When he had made mention of the Ark of God / he fel downe backward from the seate by the gate / and brake his necke and dyed: for he was olde / and an heauy man. He iudged Israel fourtye yeares. The wife of him some Phineas was with chyld / and shoulde shortly haue ben deliuered: when she heard the rynging of the Ark of God was taken / and that her brother in lawe and her bodye bande were dead / she bowed his selfe a traupled: for her payne came vpon her. And when she was now at the poynt of death / the women that shode by her / sayd: I fear not / for thou hast a yonge sonne.
But she gaue no answer / methet she regarded it / and she called
th. chyld Zabab / and sayd: The glorie is gone from Israel / because the Ark of God was taken awaye / and her brother in lawe and her bodye bande. And she sayd moreouer: The glorie is gone from Israel / for the Ark of God is taken awaye.

and see it beside Dagon. And when they of Ashod rose vp early on the morow/they founde Dagon lying on his face vpon the carth/beside the Arke of the Lord. But they rose vp Dagon: and sech in agayne in his place. Cleuerhels/when they rose vp early on the next morow/they found Dagon lying on his face vpon the carth before the Arke of the Lord: but his heade a both his handes betwixt of vpon the thresholde /so that the blecke laye there onely. Therfore the priestes of Dagon: and al they that go in to his house: made not vpon the thresholde of Dagon at Ashod: vnto this daye.

B But the harte of the Lord was heavy vpon them of Ashod: and destroyed them: and smote Ashod: and al the bodie thereof in certaine places. When the men of Ashod sawe that they were so plagued: they sayde: It ce not the Arke of the God of Israel stay with vs: for his hande is to hard vpon vs: and vpon oure God Dagon. And they sent forth: and gathered all the pyntees of the Physitians vnto them: and sayde: What shall we do with the Arke of the God of Israel: Then answered they of Beth: Let the Arke of the God of Israel be borne aboue. And they carried the Arke of the God of Israel rounde aboute.

C But when they had it aboute: there was a very greace sume: in the eyne: there was the harte of the Lord: and smote the people of the eyne: from the smallest vnto the greatest: and destroyed them in the secret places. Then sent they the Arke of the Lord vnto Kirion. But when the Arke of the Lord came vnto Kirion: they of Kirion cryed: They haue caused the Arke of God aboute vnto me: to slaye me and my people.

D Then sente they forth: and gathered all the pyntees of the Physitians together: and sayd: Sende awaye the Arke of the God of Israel agayne vnto the place: that it slaye not me: my people: for there is a very greate ruinaure with the dead in all the eyne: and the hande of God is to seece. And the people that theyd not: were smitten in secret places: so that the neyke of the eyne went vp vnto heaunt.

E Thus was the Arke of the Lord: in the hande of the Physitians four monethes. And the Physitians called they: priestes: and sought saye: and sayd: What shal we do with the Arke of the Lord: There vs: wherby shall we sende it vnto his place? They sayde: If ye wil sende awaye the Arke of the God of Israel: finde it not awaye empty: but gene a trespassse offering: so shall ye be made whole: and ye shall knowe why his hande vs pained not from you.

They sayde: What is the trespassse offeringe: that we shall geue hym? They answered: five mans hynder parties of golde: and five golden neset: accordyng to the nombre of the five pyntees of the Physitians. So theye had bene: one manes of plague vppon you all: and vpon your pyntees. Therefore thus ye make your hynder parties of one (sayd shon) and youre neset: whiche bene destroyed your lande: that ye maye geue the God of Israel the honoure: for aduenure his hande shal be the lyghter vpon you: and vpon youre God: and vpon youre lande. Why had it ye youre herte as the Egyptians: and Pharaon hardened they: hert: When he seered his selfe vpon them: he had not they: let them be: and pante to go they: awaye.

Go to now: then for: a make a trespassed offeringe: and take two nyrtle tyne: vppon the which they neuer came yoke: a ycefe them: to the cete: a lethe: calfe: carrye bynde the at home: a safe ye the Arke of the Lord: and laye it vpon the cete: and the wele of golde: that ye geue hym for a trespassse offeringe: put in a cofte by side: and sente awaye: and let it go. And loke well if ye go the waye of becomen coall Beth Semea: when hath be done vs all this great euill: If no: then shal ye knowe that his hande hath not touchid vs: but that is happened vnto vs by chance.

The men of Beth: and rose theye: and theye theye: and yoked them to cete: and hild theye: calfe: at home: and layed the Arke of the Lord: vpon the cete: and the cofte with the golden myre: and with the Images of they: ysaie. And the tyne went straight waye vnto Beth Semea: vpon one by side: and wente out beaynyng: and turned nythe to the ryght hande: not to the left. And the pyntees pynces of the Philistynes weete after them vnto the coaste of Beth Semes.

The Beth Semites were euen reauynge youne theyr wheat barnes in the valley / and spye by theyr eyes / sawe the Arcke / a reioyced to see the crite came in to the felde of Josia the Beth Semite / a there it stode still. And there was a great stone / a they clawe the ymerbe of the carie / and offered the fyne vnto the Lord for a burnt offering.

But the Leuite rote youne the Arcke of the Lord / and the coffer that was by it / when the Arcke of golde were / and sette them vpon the great stone. The men of Beth Semes offered burnt offerings / or a other offerings also vnto the Lord the same waye. And when the fyne pynces of the Philistynes had sene / they departed agayn / the same waye toward Efron.

These are the golden discos / that the Philistynes offered for a trespass offering vnto the Lord: Ifod one: Gasa one: Iseralon one: Gath one: and Ebron one: and golden mye: according to the number of al the cyties of the Philistynes and of the fyne pynces / from the walled cyty vnto the village / a vnto the greete playne felde / where vpon they set the Arcke of the Lord / which was vnto this daye vpon the selde of Josia the Beth Semite.

And certayne of Beth Semes were slayne / because they had sene the Arcke of the Lord / and because theyre thousande and seuen ty men of the people. Then moured the people / because the Lord had done so greete a slaughter in the people. And the men of Beth Semes sayde: Who may stande before the Lord so baly a God? And to whome shal he go from vs? And they sent messengers to the inhabitants of Bynath Jearam / sayenge: The Philistynes haue brought the Arcke of God agayne / come youne and sith it vp vnto you.

Ch. VII. Chapter.

So the kynge of Bynath Jearam came youne / and fetched the Arcke of the Lord / and brought it in to the house of Aminadab Gibeon / and they offered it there for his sonne / that he myghte kepe the Arcke. And sith that waye that the Arcke of the Lord abode at Bynath Jearam / the kynge extended forth / so longe vnto came to euen the year: a all the house of Israel wept after the Lord.

So Samuel sayd vnto al the house of Israel: If ye turne withall youne hert vnto the Lord / then put a way from youe before goddes and Tydors / and direct youre hert vnto the Lord / and I sene byre only / so shal he deliuer you out of the hande of the Philistynes. Then the chyldren of Israel put away Baalim and Astartis from among them / and serued the Lord ouerly.

Samuel sayde: Warre all Israel together vnto Mizpa / that I maye praye for you vnto the Lord. And they came together vnto Mizpa / and there they were / and poured it out before the Lord / and fasted the same daye / and there they sayde: We haue sinned vnto the Lord. So Samuel iudged the chyldren of Israel at Mizpa.

But when the Philistynes herd: that the chyldren of Israel were come together vnto Mizpa / the pynces of the Philistynes wente up agaynll Israel. When the chyldren of Israel herd that they were afraid of the Dytalystes / and sayde vnto Samuel: Ceasse not to crye vnto the Lord our God for vs: but he maye helpe vs out of the hande of the Philistynes. Samuel roke a sacrifice / and offered it vnto the Lord / and the Lord was heard for Israel / and the Lord herde hym.

And whyle Samuel was of offeringe the burnt sacrifice / the Philistynes came to fight agaynst Israel. But the Lord thouded a thunder vpon the Philistynes the same daye / and discomfited them / so that they were fynyen before Israel. Then wente the men of Israel forth / and chaced by Philistynes / and smote them vnto the wylde. The crite of Semes / and sem / betwene Mizpa and Gidon / and calld it the 7 Pillers Regid. a stone and garde: Because that the Lord was a helpe vs. Thos were 7 Philistynes brought youne / and came youne within the border of Israel. And the hande of the Lord was agaynll the Philistynes as longe as Samuel liued.

So Israel gat the cytyes agayne / that the Philistynes had conquered from Efron. A. Reg. iij. a vnto Gath / with the border: i. Reg. i. i. i. a becaule gone out of oure walked / a cle haue we no gyfte to blyng the men of God: what haue we? The child answered againe a sayde: Beholde: I haue y^e fourth part of a silver shele by me: he saide wil we geue the man of God / that he mighte shew vs oure waye.

B Cōformite in Israel: when a man cometh to y^e cōmityll at the Lord: he sayde: Come: let vs go to the Strete: for they that now are called prophets: were called Seiers afore tyme: Saul sayde vnto his childre: Thou hast well spoken: come let vs go. And when they went into the cyne where the man of God was: a came vp vnto the cyne: they founde demelle / which were gone forth to drawe water: vnto them they sayde: Is he Seier here? They answered: he and said: Yee: Beholde: he is there: in the bush: for he came into y^e cyne this yere: because the people haue a sacrifice to do to Baie in the byc place. What ye comen in the cūtye: shal fynde hym: soe he go vp to the byc place: for to caue: for the people wyl not caue: yll he come. For he shall blesse the offeringe: Then shall they eate: that are called. Therefore go youre waye vp: for euen now shal ye fynde hym.

C And when they came vp to the cyne / and were enen in the myddes of y^e cyne / beholde: Samuel came forth in they: way: and wolde go vp to the byc place. ¶ Eue the Lord had opened Samuels eare the voye afore: so: ouer Saul came and saide: To now aboute this cyne well I fynde a man vnto the oute of the laude of Ben Jamin: him shalt thou enquire to be pyne ouer my people of Israel: that he maye: Reigne my people from the boade of the Dynasties: for I haue loked vpon my people: and they crye so come before me. ¶ Now when Samuell behelde Saul: the Lord answered hym: lo: this is the man of whome I tolde the: that he should reigne ouer my people.

Then came Saul vnto Samuell vnder the grece: and sayd: tell me: (I praye the) where is the Seiers house? Samuell answered Saul / and sayde: I am the Seier. Go vp before me vnto the byc place: for ye shall eate with me to day: / to morrowe will I let the go: and all that is in thyn chere: will I sell the: and as for the asse: which were left the Daies ago: care not thou for them: for they are founde: And to whome shall belonge all that is pleasaunt in Israel? Saul hit not be longing vnto the: and to all thy fathers house? Saul answered: Am not I a sonne of Terminus: / and of the smallest tribe: and my fenced Subi. 7. c. is the least amonge all the Tribes of Israell? ¶ The sayde of Ben Jamin: Why speakest thou so: then vnto me: Samuel toke Saul and his childre: and brought them into y^e parlet where they shoud eate: and fatter them aboute those that were called: / of whome there were aboute a thynne menc. And Samuel said vnto the colt: geue me the porcion that I gaue the: / a Pad the kope it by the. Then the colt rote vp a shoulde: and bare it forth: and set it before Saul. And Samuel sayde: Beholde: this is left: laye it before the: and eate: for: it was kept for the agastie this cyne: when I called the people. Thne vsd Saul eate with Samuel the same daye.

And when they were gone: he came from the byc place: vnto the cyne: he tolde with Saul in the December. And they roie vp early on the next daye. And when the morning sprang: cooke: Semid called Saul in the December: and sayde: Thy sister: I maye sende y^e thy waye. And Saul gaue: an vnto and they both wente forth together: he vnto Samuel. And when they came vnto the ende of y^e cyne: Samuel sayd vnto Saul: Speake vnto the child: that he go on forth before vs: our stande aboute: till now: what I maye shewe the what God hath sayde.

The X. Chapter.

Then take Samuil a glasse of oyle: and I loked vpon his heade: / a kyssed hym: / 1. Ne. 11. c. and sayde: Seyst thou that the Lord: do hath a myght: to be the prince ouer this en: Deut. 17. c. heronunc: What thou geest now: fro me: thou shalt fynde two men besyde: Achis: Ge. 11. v. d. graue: in the east of Ben J: min at Seid: / which shall set vnto the: The asse: are leid: / whome thou wrenest to sike: and beholde: thy father hath put the asse out of his mynde: / a taketh thou ght for the: and sayth: What shal I do for my forne.

And when thou geest on forth from thence: thou shalt come to the Ofe of Thebes: / where shall the: ena fynde the: which go vp vnto God.

their hand. After that shall thou come to the hill of God/ where the Philistines wait: so and when thou comest thence into the eynde there shal meete a company of prophetes/ ad-miringe youne from the hye place/ and before them a Paltrey/ a tabret/ a pipe and a harp/as they the selfe prophesyng. And the spere of the Lorde shall come upon the / and thou shalt prophete with the/ and shalt be chaunged into another man.

¶ When these tofens come now onto the/taken vs whatsoeuer cometh vnto thine hande: for God is with the. Thou shalt go vnto the hill vnto Gilgal: Beholde / this the waye. I come beuote vnto the/ that thou marst offer burnt offerings and thank offerings.

¶ Seven dayes shalt thou tarry till I come to the / and shewe the what thou shouldest doe. And when hee touched his shoulder to go from Samuel/ he was chaunged him another here/ and all these tofens come the same waye.

¶ And when they came vnto the hill/ be-holde/ there met he him a company of prophetes/and the spere of God came vpon him/ so that he prophesied amonge them.

¶ And when they which were by him sawe him that he prophesied with the prophetes/they sayde all amonge them selfes: What is happened vnto the sonne of Cis? In Saul also amonge the prophetes: And one that was there answered and saide: What is they: sa-ther? Here of came he prouerbe: In Saul also amonge the prophetes: And what he had left of prophesyng/ he came vnto the hill.

¶ Saul also sayde vnto him and to his childen: What hee wente ye? They answered: To see the asse. And when we sawe that they were awaye/ we came vnto Samuel.
Then sayd Saul vnto Elime/ what sayde Samuel vnto you? Saul answered his onder: the tolde vs that the asse was founde.
But of the Fryngdome he tolde him nothinge what Samuel had said.

¶ Samuel called the people together vnto the Lorde to Mizpa/ and spake vnto the children of Israhel: Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israhel: I thought Israhel out of Egypte/ and deliueed you from the hande of Egyptyans/ and from the hande of all fryng-domes that opposed you: But now haue ye refused your God/ which hath helpeed you out of all youre fortowes and troubles/ and ye haue said vnto him: Wee a frange our vs. Will stande ye now before the Lorde/ accordinge to your tricke and kynredes.

¶ Now when Samuel hadde thought forth Iesuall the tribes of Israhel/ the tribe of Ben Iamin was taken. And when he had helpeed forth the tribe of Ben Iamin with his hundred / y hundred of Man was taken/ and Saul the sonne of Cis was taken. And they sought him/ but they founde him not.

¶ Then asked they further at the Lorde whether hee wene for to come thither. The Lorde answered: Beholde/ he hath hyd himselfe amonge the vessels. Then ranne they thither/ a sought him: And when hee shode amonge the people/ hee was by them by y heade then all the people. And Samuel said vnto all the people: There seye him whom the Lorde hath chosen/ for in all the people there is none like him.
Then gaue al y people a shoute/ and said: God saue the new Fryng.

¶ Samuel tolde the people al the wordes of the Fryngdome/ and wrote them in a booke/ and layed it before the Lorde. And Samuel let all the people go euery one to his owne house.
And Saul wene home also vnto Gibea/ and there mette with him one parte of the boole/whose heres God had touchet. But the children of Bethel saide: What shall this folowe helpe vs / and despised him/ and thought he not present. But he made him as though hee were there.

The XL Chapter.

¶ Now was the Ammonite warre vpon a layd yete vnto Iabes in Gilead. And all the Iud-men of Iabes sayd vnto Nabas: Beat one with vs and we will serue the. But Nabas Ammonite answered them: I will make a conuauant with you on this condicon/ that I maye thrust out al our eight eyes / y put you to shame amonge al Israhel. Then sayde al the elders of Iabes vnto him: Gent vs for we haue respicid/ that we maye seeke in saungre

saungers into al the coastes of Israel: If there be no saviour for me wil go forth unto the.

B So the messengers came unto Gibeon of Saul and spake thus before the eares of the people. Then all the people lyke up theyr voice and wepte. And behold Saul came after this open out the fild and sayde: What akeith the people that they wepte? So they tolde him the carande of the men of Jabron. Then came the spirit of God upon him: when he had herde these wordes and his wrath was kindled: and he toke a couple of oxen and therewith he smote them in to all the coastes of Israel by the messengers: sayinge: Whereforer goeth not forth after Saul and Semuill? his open halbe thus heale with all.

C Then fell the feare of the Lorde upon the people: so that they went forth lyke as one man: And they were tolde at Bethel and of the children of Israel there were that hideth themselves in the crouches of the children of Juda. And they spake unto the messengers that were come: Save us into the men of Jabes in Gilead: To morrowe shall ye haue helpe: when the sunne is at the whorset. When the messengers came and tolde this to the men of Jabes they were glad. And the men of Jabes sayde: To morrowe will we come forth unto you: that we maye be unto you what soeuer it pleaseth you. And on the next morrowe Saul sent the people in the perre: and came into the heell aboute the maninge watch: and smote the Ammonites: if there was at the whorset. So for those that remained they were so feared: that two of them shod not together.

Ag 37: Then said the people unto Semuill: Where are they that sayd: I should be Saul against our ver: Shall we here find man that we maye put them to death. But Saul said: There shal no man be this daye: for to daye hath the Lorde gotten health in Israel. Semuill sayd unto the people: Sometime we go unto Gilgal and thence the Kingdome thers. Then went all the people unto Gilgal: where they made Saul Kinge before the Lorde at Gilgal and offered thank offerings before the Lorde. And Saul with all the men of Israel stood there greatly.

The XII. Chapter.

Saul had kind unto four women: all that ye said unto me: and haue made a kynge before you. And now let them goeth your kynge before you. So for me I am wepen eide a great deerd: and my soules are with you: and I haue gone before you for my poult up unto this daye. Behold here am I: as I am against me before the Lorde and his enoynt: if I haue taken any mans eye: or affe: if I haue done any man violence: or wronge: if I haue oppressed any man: and if I haue received a gyfte of any mans hand: and kept it secretly: I will restore it you agayne.

They sayde: Thou hast done us neither violence nor wronge: neither oppressed nor taken ought of any mans hand. He sayde: The Lorde be mynnesse against you: and so he his enoynt the daye: that ye haue founde nothinge in my hande. They sayde: Yea: they shal be mynnesse. And Semuill sayde unto the people: The Lorde whiche made Moses and Aaron: and brought your fathers out of the lende of Egypte: here present. Stande forth now therfor: that I may iudge you: if you the Lorde ouer the righteousness of the Lorde: which he hath done for you and your fathers.

When Jacob was come into Egypte: Gen. 31. a your fathers cryed unto the Lorde: And he sent Moses and Aaron to bringe your fathers out of Egypte: and to call them for to dwell in this land.

But when they forger the Lorde: Jud. 11. a God he sold them vnder the power of Chisra the captayne at Habor: and vnder the power of Habbibines: and vnder the power of the kynge of the Moabites: which sought against them. But they cryed unto the Lorde: and sayde: We haue sinned in that we haue forsaken the Lorde: and serued Baalim: and Ashtaroth. But now rediret us from the hand of our enemies: and we will serue the. Then Judie. 11. a the Lorde sent Jerubbaal: Eder: and Jephthah: and Semuill: and deliuered you from your enemyes round aboute: and causid you to dwell safe.

But when ye saue that the Chas: the kynge of the children of Ammon: came against you:

1. Ke. viij. a I ye sayde vnto me: Wot thou/But a fyinge shal raygne ouer vs where/as not wylshandurge your God was your fyinge. Now/there haue ye done: thus/and whome ye haue chosen/and bestred: for la the Lord hath set a fyinge ouer you. If ye shal feare the Lord/enom / a serue hym/and heken vnto his voyce/and be not vsabed into the mouth of the Lord:/tho shal both ye and your fyinge that raygneth ouer you/followe the Lord your God. But if ye beken not vnto the voyce of the Lord:/tho be sbedient vnto his mouth/then shal the hande of the Lord be against you/and against your father.

Send forth now also/and beholde this great thynges that the Lord shall do before your eyes. Is it not now the wear harness? Yet will I call vpon the Lord/so that he shall cause it to thunder and rayne: that ye shal knowe and se the great euill/ which ye haue done in this sight of the Lord: in that ye haue bestred to haue a fyinge.

ij. K. xviij. f And whan Samuel called vpon the Lord/ the Lord caused it to thonde and rayne the same daye.

Then all the people feared the Lord / a Samuel greatly/and they sayde al vnto Samuel: Diste thou vnto the Lord thy God for thy seruantes/that the ye no: for thyde our synne: we haue done thus euill also/ that we haue bestred vnto vs a fyinge. Samuel sayde vnto all the people: feare not/ ye haue done all this euill in dede. Neuertheless/ I bepare not becke from the Lord/ but serue the Lord with all your heerte/ and go not a fide after vanite: for it profiteth you nothing/ and can not helpe you in so much as it is a due a

Ex. xxxij. b wayne thyng. If the Lord shal not forsake his people/ because of his great names sake/ the Lord hath begun to make you a people vnto hym selfe. But God foehd/ that I shoulde synne so vnto the Lord/ to cause from praiing for you/ and from teaching you the good and righteous waye. Feare ye the Lord therefore/ and serue hym saythfully with all your heerte: for ye haue sene howe great thynges he doth vnto you. But if ye byd wyckedy/ with ye and your fyinge shall pertybe.

The XIII. Chapter.

Saul had ben fyinge one ycare/ and wha he had raygned ouer Israel two ycare/ he chose hym thre thousand men out of Israels: whose hande were with Saul/ a Michmas/ vpon the mount of Berhel / a one thousande with Jonathan / a Gibea of Ben Jamin. To the other people / he let the go euery one vnto his tent. But Jonathan smote the Philistines in theyr omne ward/ which was as Gibea. That came to the Philistines care. And Saul caused to blowe the trumpets in all the lande/ and to saye: Let vs returne home. And all Israel berde saye: Saul hath synne the Philistines watch for Israel stande before the Philistines. And all the people cryed after Saul at Gilgal.

Then the Philistines gathered them selfe together to fight with Israel/ thre thousande charrettes/ thre thousande bowmen/ and other people besides/ in number as the sande by the seethanland wete vp/ and pitched at Michmas on the Eastside of Berbanon. When the men of Israel saw that misfortune laye vpon the necke of them: for the people was come therto/ they erop into euice and vnto into rockes/ and holes/ and wells. But the Hebrews wente ouer Tothane into the lande of Ged and Gilead. As for Saul he was yet at Gilgal/ and all the people were synne becke after him: they rard be sette byes/ and wynges: the rym appointed at Samuel. And whan Samuel came vnto Saul at Gilgal/ the people were scattered abioade from hym. Then sayde Saul: Bring me by thre burntoffering/ and thre burnt offeringes: and he offered a burntoffering. Then whan he had made an ende of the burntoffering/ behold/ Samuel came. Then wente Saul fast to meete hym/ to be myghte salued hym.

But Samuel said: What haste thou vnto? Saul answered: I sawe that the people was scattered abioade fro me/ and thou canst not in this season/ and the Philistines were gathered together at Michmas. Then said Samuel: That the Philistines come downe in me vnto Gilgal/ and I haue not beought the face of the Lord: and so I boldened my selfe and offered a burntoffering.

Samuel sayde vnto Saul: Thou hast done.

Some falsly sayd not kept the commaunders of the Lord by God which he commanded the. For if thou haddest not done this he had prospered thy kyngdom upon Israel for ever: but now shalt not thy kyngdom continue. The Lord hath sought him out a man after his owne heart: but hath the Lord commanded to be pynned out his people: that hast not kept that the Lord commanded the. And Samuel arose: a went up from Gilgal vnto Gibeon Beniamin.

And Saul numbered the people that was founde with him: upon a six hundred men.
Saul and his sonnes Jonathan: and the people that was with he staryed at Gibeon Beniamin: but the Philistines hadde pitched they: round about Michmas. And out of the host of the Philistines thre wente the ban-der of sinen to destruction: in ended the waye towards Ephraim to the launde of Sual: another mead to wards the waye of Berthon: the thirde mead towards the waye that reacheth to the valleye of Seboim: vnto the waldernesse.

But there was not a fynch founde in all the lande of Israel: for the Philistines thought: The Hebrews might haplye make swerde and speere. And all Israel were sayne to go vnto the Philistines: when any man had a plowshare: a mattocke: an axe: or a she-to: or a pitch: and the edges of the plowshare: and mattocke: and fork: and axes were laboured: and 3 pointed flint. Now when the bare of the barnel came: there was neither swerd nor speere founde in the hande of all the people that was with Saul and Jonathan: but for Saul and Jonathan his sonne: there was somewhat founde. And the Philistines went out by Michmas.

The XIII Chapter.

It continued at the same tyme that Jona-thas sayde vnto his lad / which was his weapen bearer: Come we go out to the Philistines watch that is set about / and be told not his father. Saul dwelt at the ende of Gi-beon a Pongranate tree: which was in the suburbs. And the people that were by him: were upon a six hundred men. And Jo-his the sonne of Achish the brother of Achibed: the sonne of Phincaos: the sonne of Achif priest of the Lord: at Silo / byd weare the Jonathan was gone.

Betweene the passages / when Jonathan soughte to go out vnto the Philistines watch: there were two by rocke: the one on the one side: the other on the other: the one was called Beleg: the other Semo: And the one laye on the North side towards Michmas: and the other on the South side towards Gibeon. And Jonathan sayde vnto his weapen bearer: Come let vs go out to the watch of these two circuncydes: peradventure the Lord shall weeke with vs. For it is no hard matter for the Lord to helpe by many of thy ser. The answercd hym his weapen bearer: O what is in thine heart: go in thy weate: behold / I am with thee: as much as thine heart will.

Jonathan said: Will thyn / when we are gone out to the men / and come within the sight of them: if they say: Stande still: will we come to you: then will we slaine still in our place: a not go vp to the: but if they say: come vp to we: we will go vp to them: then hath the Lord deliuered them into oure hande: and thou shalt be a token for vs. Now when they came both in the sight of the Philistines watch the Philistines sayde: See / the Hebrews are gone out of their holes: that they wece crept Judith. 10. 11. And the men in the watch answered
b. Jonathan and his weapen bearer: and sayde: Come up to vs: and we will reach you what matter is. Then said Jonathan to his weapen bearer: Come vp after me / the Lord hath deliuered them into Israels hande. And Jona-thas damme vp with hande and feet: and his weapen bearer after him. And Jonathan smote them downe before him: and his weapen bearer slawe behinde hym / so that the first slaughter that Jonathan and his weapen bearer did: was upon a ronne in cirtain in the length of half an arke of labe: which a part of euen mysse in one pace.

And there came a fearfullnesse: and flight in the host upon the side: and amonge all the people of the watch: and upon the restroiers there came a fearfullnesse: and flight / so that the watch was in a rumoure: and there came a flight vnto God: and Sauls watchmen at Gibeon: but Samuel saw that the multitude ¶ Par. 27. 5 was agaynst another/and there was a very great rumoure.

The Hebrews also that were with J Philistines afore/and had gone vp with them in the hoste on every side/soynd them selves vnto J Israel/which were with Saul and Jonathas. And al the men of J Israel/ which had byd them helpe vpon the mount of Ephraim/when they herde J the Philistines fled/soynd after them in the battayll. Thus the Lord helped J Israel at that tyme/and the batteill lasted vnto Bethauen.

1. Re. x. 11

¶ And when the men of J Israel came forth/Saul charged al the people the same daie and said: Cursed be every man/whi ch eateth bread vntill euen/that I maye avenge me on myne enemies. Then all the people tasted no bread. And al J people of J lande came into J wood. But there laye many vpon the flode/and whi J people came into the wood/beholde/ J hony flowed/But no man put it in his mouth/whi he had the people were afrayed/because of J godde. So for Jonathas he had not herd/that his father had charged the people/and he put forth his staffe/ J he had in his hande/and bypped the cude side in the hony combe/and turned his hande in his mouth/and his eyes were li ghted.

Then answered one of the people/ a sayd: Thy father hath charged the people/and said: Cursed be every man that eateth/ whi he had the people were li ghted. Then sayd Jonathas: My father hath troubled the lande: He saw lyghte myne eyes/and become sicke/cause J hath tasted a lytle of this hony. If the people the day had eaten of the spales of theyr euens/that they founde/ the laughter should haue bene greater against J Philistines. For in that they the Philistines/ a same daye fro J Hebrons vnto Bathan/ and J people were very weery.

And the people turned to J spiritus/ a toke J speere and ozen/ and callis/ and sterte them vpon the earth/and dyd eate them with the Lord's floure. Then was it tolde Saul/ Beholde/ the people synne against the Lord/ in that they eate floure. He sayde: Ye haue done euell/whi I tolde me no w a great stone. And Saul sayde a saye vnto them: that every one dyng me his eye/ and his shep/and slay them here/that ye maye eat/ and not to synne against J Lord with eating of floure. Then thought al the people eury one his eye with his hande the same nyght/ and slew them there. And Saul thydd an annture vnto the Lord. This is the style culture that he builded vnto the Lord.

And Saul said: Let vs go downe after the Philistines by nyght/ a spoyle them with cleare morning/that we let none escape. They answered: Do what soeuer pleasest J. But a pricke sayd: Let vs go here here vnto God. And Saul ayed at God: What J go downe/ a here after the Philistines/ and will they avenge them into J Israels hande: Vntill we lesse/ he answered him not at that tyme.

Then said Saul: Let al J armye of J people come hither/ a make search a lein wood in this synne at this tyme. For as truly as God the sencer of J Israel liueth/ a though it be in my sonne Jonathas/ he shall byr. And no man answered him of all the people. And he said vnto al J Israel: Be ye on be one syde/ J and my sonne Jonathas will be on this syde. The people saide vnto Saul: Do as it pleaseth the. And Saul saide vnto the Lord the God of J Israel: Do thou that is right. The was Jonathas a Saul said: But the people wente forth. Saul sayde: Cast the lot ouer my and my sonne Jonathas. So Jonathas was taken. And Saul sayd vnto Jonathas: Tell me what hast thou done. Jonathas tolde him/ and said: I tasted a lytle hony of the staffe that J had in my hande/ and beholde/ must J J be thy sonne. Then saide Saul: God

De this a thac unto me/ Jonathan thou must bycbe deary.

G But y people said unto Saul: Shoulde Jonathan be? hat hath thou so great healtb in Israel this nyght? God fo: bid. Wo truly as the Lord I saye/ here shall not one here of his heade fall upon the earth/ for with God hath he wrought this miracle. So the people be lyured Jonathan/ that he byed not. Then went Saul wth from the Philistines: and the Philistines wente unto theyr place.

But when Saul had conquered the kyngdom ouer Israel/ he soughte agaynst all his enemyes rounde aboute/ agaynst the Moabites / agaynst the children of Ammon/ agaynst the Edomites/ agaynst the kyng of Zebou/ a-gaynst the Philistines: and wher so euer he attacked him/ he got the victorye. And he made
m. 11. c. an host/ and smote the Amalechites/ and he lyured Israel from the hande of all those that spred them.

Saul had thise sonnes: Jonathan/ Amur/and Nochisai. And they were the names of his two daughters: The firste/ Micah: and the youngest/ Michal. And Sauls wyfe was called Abinocham/ the daughter of Abinab. And his chiefe captiues name was
x. 11. a. Abia/ the sonne of Ner/ Sauls vnder. 1 Cio was the father of Saul. But Ner the father of Abia was the sonne of Abul.

There was a nyght/ soe they were agaynst Philistines/ as longe as Saul lyued. And wher Saul saw a man that was stronge and mercifull for the warre/ he toke him to him.

Th. X. V. Chapter.

1 Samuel sayd unto Saul: 1 The Lord hath sent me to anoynt the/ soe to be kyng ouer his people of Israel: Heere nowe chese fore the voyce of the word of the Lord. 2 Thus stode the Lord Sabaoth: 3 I haue remembered what Amalek dyd vnto Israel/and howe he layeth waye for hym in the mid waye/ when he wente out of Egipte. 4 So the waye nowe shal I/ and smite the Amalechites / and take them with all that they haue/ a spare hym not: but slaye both man and woman/ children and suckynges/ oxen and shepe/camel/ and asse. 5 Saul commaunded the people the same/ and numbered them at Tabor. two hundred thysande/ foreemen/ and ten thousand men of Iuda.

2 And when Saul came to the crye of the Amalechites/ he sit a hundred watch by the ryue/ and saide vnto the Amite: 3 Whye haue ye departed/ and goe downe from the Amalechites/ that I saynter you not with them/for ye shal receiue mercy vnto all the children of Israel/ when they departed out of the egipte. 4 So the Amite gaue them awaye frid among the Amalechites.

5 Then smote Saul the Amalechites from Beula vnto Sur/ which lieth ouer agaynst Egipte. 6 And toke Agag the kyng of the Amalechites/ and banded all the people with the edge of the sword: 7 Heuer the shepe/ Saul and the people spared/ Agag/ and the shepe/ a oxen that were good/ and fat/ and the lambs/ and all that was good/ and wolde not burne: the rest he toke/ what was foule and nothing worth/that they burned.

8 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Samuel/ and sayde: 9 Repentest thou? 10 I made Saul kyng/ soe he hath turned hym selfe backe from me/ and not consecrated my word. 11 Therfore was Samuel angry/ and cryed vnto the Lord/ all that nyght. 12 And Samuell gat hym vp early/ that he might see Saul in the morninge. 13 And he wolde hunt that Saul was come/ vnto Carnell/ and see hym vp a pylle/ and was gone aboute/ and came downe to Bithlam.

14 Now when Samuel came to Saul/ Saul sayde vnto hym: 15 Blessed be thou vnto the Lord. 16 I haue performed the worde of the Lord. 17 Samuel aunswere d: 18 What crye is this then of shepe in nyghte care/ and the crye of oxe which I heare.

19 Saul saide: 20 They haue broughte them from the Amalechites: 21 for the people spared the best shepe and oxen/ for the offeringe of the Lord thy God/ the other haue we burned.
22 Heuer the shepe/ Samuel aunswere d: 23 Saul saide: 24 What the Lord hath sayde vnto me this nyght/ he sayde: 25 Say on/ Samuell sayde: 26 When thou wast but small in thyne own eye/ wast thou not the heade amonge the rybes of Israel/ and the Lord anoynted the to be kyng ouer Israel. 27 And the Lord sent the waye/ and sayde: Gathe waye/ a battayle/ smite the Amalechites/

early in the morninge and at euen/and stode thre score nye.

C For saye vnto Sauld his sonne Take this Ephe of fenceze for thy brethren/and these ten loques of breade/and runne to the hoost vnto thy brethren/and these ten new cheke/and brynge them to the captayne/and loke how thy brethren be: whether uo go well with them or no/and take what they byd the.
But Saul and they/and al the men of Israell were in the Gile valley/and soughte agaynst the Philistyne.

This Sauld gat hym vp early in the monyng/and committed the shepe to the keeper/and toke his brethren/wente his waye/as Jesai continued hym/and came to the tent-and the hoost was gone forþ / and had pu-ged it selfe/ and cryed in the battayl: For Israell bet set them selfe in array/and the Philistyne were agaynst theyr hoost in theyr array also.

Then left Sauld the vessel that he bare in the toppe of the staffe/and came to the hoost/and wente in/and saluted his brethren. And whyle he was yett tallynge with the beholds/then came vnto the stout helde man / whose name was Goliath/the Philistyne of Gath/out of the Philistyne hoost/and spake like so aforsaid/and Sauld heede it. But euery man in Israell when he sawe the man/stepped from hym/and was for afeard of hym.

And euery man in Israell sayde: Hauye sewe the man commynge vp heere? For he come vp þer to speake w/daynously vnto Israell. And whosoeuer smyeth hym/hym will the hynge make ryth/and geue hym his goun/and make his fathers house free in Israell.

S Then sayd Sauld vnto the men that stode by hym: What shalbe done to the man that smyeth this Philistyne/a turned this theme awaye from Israell: for what so be this Philistyne this vncircumcised: that defyeth the hoost of the lorde gods? Then the people toke hym as aforesaid. Thus shal it be done vnto the man that smyeth hym. And whab his greatest wyrd be done him/ take with the net/and was byrde with agaynst Sauld/ a sayde: Wherefore arte thou come hynce/and why hast thou left a fewe shepe in thy wyrdness?

I knowe thy presumption/nessi wel ynough/and the wickednesse of thine heart/so thou ar come: Hauene to the battail. Sauld answered sayde: What haue I done vnto me? Is there not an occasion? And he turned hym selfe from hym vnto another/ and spake accordynge as he had sayde before. Then the people awynsted hym lyke as aforesaid.

And when the herd the wordis whiche Sauld sayd/they toke them in the presence of Sauld/a he caused hym to be freched. And Sauld sayde vnto Saul: Let no mans hand be encouraged/because of hym. Thy seruant shall go/and fight with the Philistyne. Whiche sayde Sauld vnto Sauld: Thou art not able to go agaynst this Philistyne to fight with hym/for thou art but a chyld: but this is a warre from his youth vp.

Sauld sayd vnto Saul: Thy seruant shall do his fathers shepe/and there came a Lyon/nd a Beere / and carryed awaye a shepe from the flocke/then wente I forth after hym / a smyte hym/a deliuered it out of his mouth. And I dyd rehan he wold haue bene vpon me / I toke hym by his heede/and smote hym/and slew hym. So thy seruant smote boith the Lyon/a the Beere. Therfore shal this Philistyne this vncircumcised be taken as one of the: for he hath defyed the hoost of the lorde gods. And Sauld sayde: The Lorde hath deliuered me from the Lyon and the Beere/shal deliuer me also from this Philistyne.

And Sauld vnto Sauld: Wo thy wage/ the Lorde be with the. And Sauld toke the sword and his dardes/ and set an helme of sickle vpon his heede/and put an habirgon vpon hym. And Sauld sayde hym I sweare aboute his dardes/and by gyfte to geue for he had neuer dyd nyd to it aforesaid. Then sayde Sauld vnto Sauld: I can not geue þat for I bene not ben ryth to it/and so be leyd it from hym/and toke his staffe in his hande and shok synel/lyghte stones out of the rutter/and put them in the shepe herdes bagges/whiche he had by hym/and toke a stang in his hande/and set hym to the Philistyne. And the Philistyne wente forth/a gat byrde to Sauld/and his wizenbeereer dyd for him.

David sett to the wal. Neuertheless David turned him selfe way from hym. And Saul was aſwaid of David: for the Loide was with him/ & departed from Saul. Then Saul put hym from hym/ and se hym to be pnyce out a thousande man/ and he went out end in bisafe the people. And David be haid hym selfe wysly in al his voyages/ & the Loide was with hym.

S From when Saul knew that he was so pceedinge wyse/ he stode in feare of hym. But all Israel and Iuda loued David/ for he was our aid in before them. And Saul sayd vnto David: Beholde my greates daughter Michol I Re. i. h. c. 10 b I will I geue che to wyse/ be strong now/ and gouerne the warres of che Loide. For Saul thought my hande that not be vppon hym/ but the hande of the Pphyltyns. Neuertheless/ David answered Saul. Who am I/ and what is my life/ and the hynd of my father in Israel/ but I should marry the kynges daughter.

E But when the tyme came that Merob che daughter of Saul shoulde haue been geuen vnto David/ she was geuen vnto Achishe Melohathite to wyse. Neuertheless/ Michol Sauls daughter loued David. When this was tolde Saul/ the matter pleased hym wel/ and he said: I will geue hym her/ but she may be a snare vnto hym/ and that che hande of the Pphyltyns may rour vpon hym/ and he sayd vnto David: This day shoulde thou be my daughteres doufhande che seconde tyme. And Saul spak vnto his seruantes: Talle with David secretly and saye: Beholde/ she kynges hand pleasure in the land at his seruantes loue the/ marry thou therefore che kynges daughter.

J And Sauls seruantes spake these wordes in the care of David. But David sayde: Think ye it but a small matter to marry the kynges daughter? As for me/ I am but a poore simple man. And Sauls seruantes tolde hym agayne/ & sayd: Such wordes hath David spoken. Saul said: Then fore ye vnto David: The kynges desireth no dowre/ but onely and hinde/ ch suffynes of the Pphyltyns/ that vnguarante may be taken of the kynges enemyes. Howden/ Saul thought to cause David be slayne by the hande of the Pphylltnes. Then his seruantes tolde David these wordes/ and David was content with the matter to marry the kynges daughter.

And after a fewe dayes David gachyn vpp/ & a wente with his men/ and smote two hundred mea among the Pphyltyns. And David brought chey: so suffynce/ and made the number just/ vnto the kyng/ that he might marry the kynges daughter. Then Saul gave hym his daughter Michol to wyse. And Saul sawe a pteuent that the Loide was w David. And Michol Sauls daughter loued hym. Then was Saul the more aſwaid/ & became his enemye as longe as he lyeth. And in han the pnyces of Pphyltyns wente forth. David heard hym selfe more wysly che al the seruantes of Saul in they: ouergoyng. so that his name was in great reputation.

The XIX. Chapter.

Saul spak to Jonathan his sonne/ and to al his seruantes/ that they shoulde kill David. Neuertheless/ Jonathan his souner. Michol of Saul loued David exceedingly/ and tolde hym/ and sayd: Saul my father goeth about to slay the. Kepe the therefore. I praye the in the mountyngland abyde in secret/ & hyde the. But I will go forth/ & stande before my father in the felde/ where thou art/ & will speake of the vnto my father/ and whatsoeuer I se/ I shal byng the wordes.

And Jonathan reported the best of David vnto Saul his father/ & so vnto hym: Wher not I kynges hymne a gaynst his seruants/ for he hath not found agaynst the/ & his voyng is very necessary for che/ & the que his hysen due Iube it. hande also/ and smote the Pphyltyns/ and the Loide byd a great health vnto al Israel. his seruantes. he that was/ and removed therof. Wherefore David shoulde agaynst innocent blood/ that thou wouldest kill Saul without a cause? Then he send Saul vnto the peere of Jonathan/ and freare: Truly as the Loide lyeth he shal not dye. Then Jonathan called David/ and tolde hym all these wordes/ and brought hym ce Saul/ so that he was in presence lyke as afore tyme.

But there cross a banay agayne/ and David wente forth/ and sought agaynst the Pphyltyns/ and smote a greates slaughter/ so that chey they fled before hym: And they left the cud of the sword: upon Saul/ and upon his household/ and a souldier was his guide. But Saul played upon the instrument with his hande. And Saul thought to it his iudgement: to lycke Saul fall to the wall. And when he was asyde from Saul/ in the watchynge sence in the wall. And Saul fled/ and escaped that nyght.

¶ When this thing was done/ Saul sent his messengers to Sauls house/ that they should laye waye for hym/ and kill hym in the mornyng. ¶ Michal Sauide wyse tolde hym this/and sayde: If thou saue not thy soule this nyght/ thou shalt dye to morow. The King shal be wryth wyne: shal hee be wryth/ so that hee will be wryth/ fled/ and escaped. And Michal toke an ymage/ and layed it in the bed/ and layd a goatie skynne at the heade of it/ and so hee was wryth. ¶ Then Saul sent his messengers to fetch David. But the sayde: He is fled. ¶ Michal sayde: Saul sent his messengers to slay David/ and sayde: By hym go to: to wryth the bedde/ that he maye be slaine.

¶ When this messengers came: they behelde the ymage laye in the bed/ and a goatie the felde. And they wente out both in to the felde. And Jonathan sayd vnto Dauid.

Loide God of Israel. If I perceiue by my sighte to moue/ or in the thyd day/ that it good wth Dauid/ and sende not vnto the/ a steeke the before thyne eares/ then let the Loide do thise/ a that vnto Jonathan. But if my father be in euil against it. I will be wth it for thyne eares also/ and let the go/ that thou mayst seepe in peace.

And the Loide be wth the/ as he hath bene wth my father. If I do it not/ then do thou no mercy of the Loide on me/ whyle I lym/ no/ nor whan I dye/ a plecke thy mercy from my house for euer. And whyle the Loide rove on the cittyens of Dauid/ euery one of the lad/ then let Dauid rote out Jonathan also wth his house/ a be Loide requyte it of the ha. i. de of Dauid a cittyen.

And Jonathan proceeded further/ a swore vnto Dauid/ the lovd hym fa wel/ for he lovd hym as his owne soule/ and Jonathan sayd vnto hym. To moue wth new Moone/ and thou shalt be eved as ice/ for eche shall die wher e thou wast/ wth come to sy. But on the thy. de. daye come thoue sone / and go in to the place wher thou byddest the on the woe. day. a set the boone by the stone of Bethel. Then wyl I shot the arrowes on that hyde/ as thouge I moude shote a mark/ and beholde/ I wyl sende the boxe/ a saye vnto hym. Go see the arrowes. If I saye now vnto the lad/ Lay the arrowes by thy betwix d behynd the fetch them/ then come thou/ for it is peace/ and there is no perell/ as truly the Loide sayeth. But if I saye vnto the lad/ Beholde the arrowes bye yonderwarde before the/ then go thou thy way/ for the Loide hath let the go. ¶ So for that whiche thou and I haue spoken together/ the Loide is betwix me and the for euer.

Dauid heb hymselfe in the felde. And whan the newe Moone came/ the kynge sat hym doune at the table to eate. Whan the kynge had set hym doune in his place as he was wonte/ by the wall/ Jonathan stode vp / but wher sat him doune beside Saul. And Dauid was mysed in his place. And Saul spake nothing that daye/ for he thought. There is some backe spended vnto hym/ that he is not cleane. On the seconde daye of the newe Moone/ when Dauid was mysed in his place. Saul sayde vnto Jonathan a his sounne. Wherefore is not the sounne of Ihu come to the table/ neyther yesterday nor to daye?

Jonathan answered Saul. He prayed me that he myghte go vnto Berleim/ a said. Let me go/ for our kynge hath a sacrifice to do in the cyne/ and my brother hath sitte for me hym selfe. If I haue founde fauour in thy sighte/ I will go/ and se my brethren/ there fore to be not com to the kynge table. Then was the kynge wroth at Jonathan/ and sayde vnto hym. Thou wyldest a vnkyng. I know how that thou best doest in the sonne of Ihu/ to the shame of thy kelse/ and of thy shamefull mother. For as long as the sonne of Ihu lyueth vpon earth/ neyther thou nor thy kynge dome thal prospere. Sende now thy for/ and cause hym to be syched vnto me/ for he is a kynnyng chylde of death.

Jonathan answered his father Saul and sayde vnto hym. Wherefore shal he dye? What hath he done? The spoe Saul the iudgyce at hym/ that he mighte smyte hym. This perceiued Jonathan that his father was wrothly determined to kyll Dauid/ and he cose vp from the table in a wofull displeasur/ and vnto eate no bread the saun seconde daye of the newe Moone/ for he was wroth because of Dauid/ that his father had done hym such vnkyng.

On the moore wente Jonathan soun in to the felde/ at the tyme appointed of Dauid/ a lyke boye went hym/ and said vnto the boye. Runne hie/ ke me the arrowes whiche I shote. Whan the boye ranne/ he shote an arrowe ouer hym. And whan the boye came to the place/ a by the Jonathan had shote the arrowe/ Jonathan cryed after hym/ an sayd. The arrowe hath yonderwarde before the. And he cryd after hym agayne/ half the/ and stande not still. Then the boye gathered vp Jonathan arrowe/ and brought them to his Loide. And the boye knewe nothing/ only Jonathan a Dauid knewe of the matter.

Then Jonathan gaue his boye his weapons/ and sayde vnto hym. Go thy way/ and eary them in to the cyne. And whan the boye was gone/ Dauid arose from the place/ a warte.

Then gaue they them vp / and wente then he was vnto Ephraim before Saul. But Sauid gaue his name there in the wilderness of Maon / euen in the felde of the right hande of the wilderness. Now when Saul wente thither with his men to seke hym / it was tolde Sauid / and he gaue hym thowre to the rocke / and abode in the wilder-ness of Maon. Then Saul herde that / he followed after Sauid in the wilderness of Maon. And Saul with his men wente on the one side of the hill. Sauid with his men on the other syde of the hill. But when Sauid made hastie to escepe from Saul / Saul with his men compassed aboute Sauid and his men / but he myghte not sehem. I Heruiselesse / iheruise came a messenger vnto Saul / and sayde: I Mele hath and come / for the Philistines are fallen into the lande. Then Saul turned hym from chasinge of Sauid / and wente against the Philistines. Therefore in the place called f Gide Malabech. And Sauid wente vp from thence / and abode in the castlell at Gide Gadbi.

Thy. X. III. Chapter.

Now when Saul came againe from the f Philistines / it was tolde hym: Beholde / Sauid is in the wilderness of Gide Gadbi.
 And Saul toke this shewlinge of his men out of Israel / and went to seke Sauid with his men upon the stony rockes of the wyde gorges. And wha he came to the stony rockes by the waye / there was a crier and Saul wente to cover his face. But Sauid a his man To reuer ser Sauid wech in the caue.

Then sayde Sauid to his man vnto him: Lo: / is no Sauid he is in the wyde / of the Lo: De: by the waye of God hath saide vnto the: Beholde / I will giue thee thyng conuentynto thy hande: that thou mayest his sweard about him: And Dauid gereth his sweard about him also / and there came vp after him vpon a foure hundredth men: His two hundredth remayned with the stuffe.

Euerthelesse / one of the younge men calde Abigail / Abial's wyfe / and sayde: Beholde / Dauid seme messaungers ouer of the wilderness: to blisse our lord. Worrisshandings / he was scarce upon them / and yet haue they ben very proficable men vnto vs / and haue done vs no dishonour / and we wanted none of the number so longe as we walked with them / whan we were in the feilde: But they haue ben sitty walle day and nyght / as longe as we kepte the speere by them: Take hede now therefore / and like wel what thou doest / for there is surely a myffourne at hande agaynst euer lord: and agaynst of his house. And he is a man of Bethel: to whome woman shalde saye any thinge.

R: p: b Then Abigail made hayste / and toke two hundredth looues of bread / and two bottles of wyne / and fyue sheepe ready byghte / and fyue measures of symmentye / and an hundredth trayles of rayffyns / and two hundredth trayles of ygges / and layed them vpon asses / and sayde to her younge ma: Go ye your waye before me: beholde / I wyl come after. And she tolde Abial her housbande nothing therof: And as she rode vpon the asse / and wente vnto in the shadowe of the hyl / beholde / Dauid and his men mete her vnto / so that she came vpon them.

S But Dauid sayde: Well shall that this man hadde in the wilderness / haue I receyue for myghtyngs that he receyued neyther of all that he had / and he rewardeth me euill for good. God be to his aid / and yet more vnto the enemyes of Dauid / as yet to morowe in the morninge I leaue this man / of all that he hath / so much as tene that maketh warr so gentill the wall. Now whan Abigail sawe Dauid / the lighte vnto in the asse / and she the hyl / and fell vpon her face before Dauid / and worshipped hym in the grounde / and fell at his feet / and sayde: O my lord / see this trespass: the myste / allec by handmaiden spake: to save thyne carca / and heare the wredes of thy handmaiden: For no my lord for his here agaynst the Abial / the man of Bethel / for he is a soule / accordinge as his name is called:

his name is saule / as sell sines is to him. So for me thy handmaiden / I sawe not my lordes younge men / whome thou byddest sende.

But now my lordes / as truly as the Lord heareth / and as truly as thy soule heareth / the Lord hath kepte the backe: that thou shouldest not come agaynst Dauid / and he hath deliuered thyne hande.

Thynce entyce he now as Abial / and so be thy shal wolde my lord euill. Here is the blessing: that thy handmaiden hath thoughte my lordes / take vnto gene ye vnto the yunge men: whan theye vnder my lordes / for a sure house that the Lord make vnto my lordes / whiche syghte: the syghinge of the Lord / and no euill shal be founde in all thy lyfe longe. And if any man thyse vp to proficure / and to lay waye for thy soule: then shal I feole of my lordes / the bounde in the hand of the yunge men with the Lord thy God. But the soule of thine enemyes shal be turned backe with the syngre. Whan the Lord the herofore doth all this good for my lordes / which be hath promysed the: a edincoudech fo to be a Duke ouer Israel / then shall it be no storminge blocke / no occasyon of falling vnto my lordes: her / that thou hast: the God Dauid with out a cause / and auenged the selfe / then shall the Lord do good vnto my lordes: and thou shalt thinke vpon thy handmaiden.

Then sayde Dauid vnto Abigail: Blessyd be the Lord God of Israel / whiche hath sente the to me: me thy a daye: and blessed be thy speach / and blessed be thou: which haste kepte me backe this daye: that I am not come agaynst Dauid / to auenge me with myne owne hande. Verely / as truly as the Lord the God of Israel heareth / whiche hath byndeth me that I shoulde do no euill: If thou haddest not mete me in all the byrste / I shal be gentill the wall. Now whan Abial sawe Dauid / the lighte vnto in the asse / and she the hyl / and fell vpon her face before Dauid / and worshipped hym in the grounde / and fell at his feet / and sayde: O my lord / see this trespass: the myste / allec by handmaiden spake: to save thyne carca / and heare the wredes of thy handmaiden: For no my lord for his here agaynst the Abial / the man of Bethel / for he is a soule / accordinge as his name is called:

But whan Abigail came vnto Abial / beholde / he had prepared a feell in his house / like a syngre / saule / and his here was myrty / for he was very drunken. And she tolde him in which way she should find all her great things clearly in morning. But when it was day and the voice was come from Abal / his wife tolde him these things.

Then was his hearte made in his body / so that he became euen as a stone / and ouer ten daies she / the Lord smote him so that he dyed.
Whilſt David heard that Abal was dead / he said: Blessed be the Lord which hath avenge d my rebuke on Abal / as he hath rewarded me from euil. And the Lord hath reward ed Abal likewise: upon his heade.

And David sent and caused to talke with Abigail / he sayde: talke to my wife. And when Dauides seruantes came: vnto Abi gail vnto Canaan / they spake vnto her / and saide: David hath sent vs vnto the / that he may take her to wife. She rose vp / and was shipped upon her face vnto the carth / and saide: Behold / here is thy handmaid / that the maye be frailer vnto the seruantes of my lord / and so waile: they: see. And Abi gail made hayle and gather vp / and rode vpon an asse / and hure maydenes that were vnder her / and wente after Dauides messen gers / and became his wife. Dauid take Abi gail of Israhel also / and they both became his wives. But Saul gaue Michal his daugh ter / the wife of David vnto Phal / the sonne of Laish of Gath.

The XXVI Chapter.

A Boy of Siph came to Saul vnto G beth / and sayde: Is not David hys vpon the hill of Achis / which he hath ouer against the wilderness? Then Saul gat him reyn and wente downe to the wilderness of Siph / and there he gathered men of Israhel with him / so that David in the wilderness of Siph and pitched vpon the hill of Achis / which he by the waye before the wilderness. But Da uid remayned in the wilderness / and when he sawe / Saul came after him into the wil derness / he sent out spies / and knew of a sure tye that he was come in vnto.

And David gat him vp / and came to the place where Saul had pitched his campe / and sawe the place where Saul laye with his chei f captayne. Thier the sonne of Uci: for Saul laye in the tent / and the heefe aboute him.

Then answered David / and sayde vnto Sa ul: Behold the speere and the bowe of Saul of Israhel: which are of Saul: and will go vnto my hand: for Saul is the heefe of Achis saide: I will go vnto my hand.

So David and Achis came: so people in the nyght season / and beholde: Saul laye and slepe in the tent / and his speere stak in the ground at his heade. But Achis and his peo ple laye rounde aboute him. Then sayde Abi gail vnto David: God hath sleight hys ene mye at thyn hand: this daye. Therefore will I nowe thrust him throug once with the speere euen into the ground: so that he haue ynough of it. Achis: lesse / David sayde vnto Abi gail: sleepe thou / for who will laye hande vpon the souerayn of the Lord / and remain vnto thy. David saide: nax: coner: So trulye as the Lordd speach / if the Lordd hym selfe sweete him / or: except his yde come that he: he: for that he go into the: barrell and pe ryth: the Lordd: let it be: farr: from me: that I should laye my hande on the: Lordd: a noyned. Take the speere: and therefore: as a brade / and the cup of reare: and let vs go.

So David toke the speere / and the cup of wa ter at Sauls heade / and they went thur wey.
And there was no man that sawe it / and pre caud / in any other waye: / But they slepe: re uery one: for there was a veype stirr fallen vpon them from the Lordd.

Now when David was come oute on the other syde / he stode vpon the topp of the mount: a farr of / so that there was a wyde space betwene them / and cryed vpon the pro phete / and vpon Achis the sonne of Achis / and saide: Hearest thou not Achis? And Achis answered and said: Who art thou heere? saide: I am the synger. And David saide vnto Achis: Art thou not a mee? And reuer se to there: so that thou art in Israhel. Why hast thou not then kepte thye Lordd the synger for there is one of the people come into the roye: thye Lordd the synger. It is not well that thou hast done. So: vnto as the Lordd ly with / ye are the children of vnto: / Brank: ye of warre: And he brought them downe / and beholds they were feared upon al the ground: canne and drinking / sleeping holy Vapors were making more there: because of the great spoiles that they had taken out of the lande of the Philistines and of Iuda.

B And David smote them from the morow all the euen against the next daye: so they escaped none: excepte foure hundred yong men: which robd upon camels: and fled. So David rescued all that the Amalekites had taken: and his reioyces / and there missed nothing: neyther smal nor great: neyther sonnes nor daughters: nor spoiles: and whatsoeuer they had take. David thought all againe. And David reke the shepse of en: and youre the carrel before him: And they saide: This is Davids spoyle.

And when David came to the two hundred men: which had ben slowe to followe after David: / and abode at the river of Besor: they went forth to meete David: and the people that was with him. / And David came to the people: and salued them friendly.

E Then answered sude men as were euil: and beliall men (amonge them that had gone with David) and sayde: Whyge they wente not with vs: they shal haue none of the spoyle that we haue rescued: but let every man take his wyfe and chyldren: / and be gone.

Then saide David: Ye shall not do so (my brethren) wher that whiche the Lorde hath graunt vs: and hath preferred vs: and deliuered these men of warre: which were come against vs: into our handes. Who shoulde euen vnto you becom? Lyke as the portion vs of them that wente downe to the battail: so shal the portion be of them also that abode with the stuffe: and shall be diuided a lyke.

F From that tyme forth hath this bene an ordinance: and lawe in Israel vnto this daye. And when David came to Sydalag: he sent of the spoyle unto the Elders in Iuda his neyghbours: as I saide. Beholds: there haue ye ben dissynge out of the spoyle of the enemies of the Lorde: namely vnto them of Beibul: vnto them at Ramath in the South: vnto them at Ziph: vnto them at Troer: vnto them at Siphmoth: vnto them at Eschmah: vnto the at Nachal: vnto them in the cync of the Gerahim: vnto them in the cync of the Be nitim: vnto them at Gethaim: vnto them at Borsaim: vnto them at Achish: vnto them at the broom: and so al the places wher David had walked with his men.

The XXXI. Chapter.

QUERE: The Philistines fought against Israhel: and fell thence of Israel: before I Dauid: Philistines: and fell thence thence upon the mount of Gilboa: And the Philistines were set upon Saul and his sonnes: and flew Gatharbae: and Imunabab: and Malchijah: the sonnes of Saul: And the battail was sore against Saul: and the archers fell vpon hym with bowes: and he was sore wounded of the archers.

Then saide Saul to his weapenbearer: I praye ouerthy sweade: / and thus it came to passe: that the weapenbearer could not slaye me: and make a laughing stocke of me. Neuerthelless: his weapenbearer would not: for he was sore afrayed. Then toke Saul the swerde: and sel theron. Now when his weapenbearer sawe that Saul was dead: he fel also vpon his swerde: and dyed with hym. Thus dyed Saul and his three sonnes: / a his weapenbearer: and all his men to gether the same daye.

When the men of Israel: which were beyonde the valley: / a beyonde Iordan: sawe that the men of Israhel were fled: and y Saul and his sonnes were dead: they left the cync and fled also. Then came the Philistines and vnde them.

1 On the nexte daye came the Philistines to spoyle the launc: and founde Saul and his three sonnes vpon mount Gilboa: and front of his head: and toke of his harness: and flou it into the lande of the Philistines: rounde aboute: to be ween in the boule of they: Toole: and amonge the people: and laied his harness in the boule of Ishboreth: but his bodye they they vpon the wall of Bethsan.

Wherby of Iobab in Gilboa: heede what the Philistines had done vnto Saul: they gaue them vp: as many as were men of armes: / a vented the night: and toke the bodye of Saul: and the bodye of his sonnes: from the wall of Bethsan: brought them to Jabes: / a by the

See the death of Saul whan David was come agayne from the slaug-

had remained two dayes at Siclag beholde/ on the thyde daye there came a man out of Sauls hooste / with his clothes rent/ and earth vpon his heade. And whan he came vnto David / he fell downe to the grounde/ and worshipped. David sayd vnto hym: Whence comest thou? He sayd vnto hym: Out of the hoost of Israel om J sled.
David sayd vnto hym: Tell me/ what is the matter? He sayd: the people is fled from the baner/ and many of the people are falle: Ies/and Saul also is dead and his sonne Jona-thas. David sayd vnto the yonge man that brought hym this word: How knowest thou that? Saul a Jonathan his sonne are dead: The yonge man that tolde hym this/ sayde: I came by chance vnto manner of Siboa/ and beholde/Saul leaned vpon his speare / and the charrewheel and bowmen followed haede after hym:
and he turned bein aboute/ and sawe me/ and called me. And J sayde: Here am I. And he sayde to me: What are thou? I said vnto him: I am an Amalechite. And he sayd vnto me:
Come to me / and I will mee/ for anguy the hath gotten holde of me: for my life is vee wolle with me. The slepe I to him a slewe hym/for I knowe well that he coulde not lye after his fall. And I toke the crowne from his heade/ and the armet/ from his arm: and bair brought it here vnto the my lorde. Then toke David holde of his clothes/ and rente a-Kest of them / and so yed al the men that were with hym/ and mourned/ and wepte/ and fasted vnto the euen. ouer Saul and Jonathan his sonne/ and ouer the people of the Lord/ and ouer the house of Israel/ because they were fallen from the swerde.

And David sayd to the yonge man that brought hym word: What art thou? He sayd: I am the sonne of a straungte an Amalechite.
David sayd: How happened it? thou wast not afrayed to laye thine hande vpon the Lords anoynted/ to destroy hym? And J-Kest. c
David sayd vnto one of his yoge men: Come hyther/ and slaye hym. And he sware by m that he yed. Then sayd David vnto hym: Thy bloude be vpon thyne owne heade. For thy mouth hath spoken agaynst by selfe and

The 11. Chapter.

After this deed Saul rested at the Lord: and said: Shall I go up in to one of the cyties of Iuda? And the Lord sayde unto him: Go up. Saul sayde: Whyther? He sayde. Unto Hebron. So Saul wente thither: it was two wykes/ When was the Istraclites a brigall Nadab wife of Carmel. And Saul brought vp the men that were with hym also/ every one with his household/ a they were in the cyties of Hebron. And the men of Iuda came / and there they annoyed Saul/ Fynde ouer the house of Iuda.

And when was told Saul/ that they of Iudaa in Gilead had buried Saul/ he sent messengers unto them sayinge: Blessed be ye of the Lord: because ye have done this mercy upon your Lord Saul/ and have buried hym: The Lord therefore shewe mercy now/ and be mercifull unto you. And because ye have done this/ I also will do you good. Let your hands now therefore be comforted / as he yet stonke: for though Saul your lorde be dead/ yet hath the house of Iuda annouced me to be kynge ouer them.

But Abner the sonne of Ner/ whiche was Sauls chiefe capteyne/ toke Ithobal the sonne of Saul/ and brought hym thowme the hood/ and made hym kynge ouer Gilead/ Issachar/ Iesseell/ Ephraim/ Ben Jamin/ a ouer all Istraell. And Ithobal the sonne of Saul was foureye yere olde/ when he was made kynge of Istraell/ and he reigned two yeres. But the house of Iuda helde with Dauid: The yere that Dauid was kynge at Hebron ouer the house of Iuda/ was seuen yere and fixe monethes longe.

And Abner the sonne of Ner wente forth with the seruantes of Ithobal/ the sonne of Saul/ son of the best into Gibeon: And Joab the sonne of Seruia wente forth with Dauid seruantes / and they met together by the poynt of Gibeon/ a they laye on the one syde of the pole/ the other on the other syde. And Abner sayde vnto Joab: Let the younge men sit them vp/ a playe before vs. Joab sayde: Let them aryse. Then get they them vp/ and they in number twelfe of Ben Jamin/ on Ithobals side/ Sauls sonnes syde/ and twelfe of Dauids seruantes. And every one gat another by the heade/ a thrust his sword in his syde/ and set together: thatfow in the place called Gilbath Gazarim/ (that is the felde of the Worthies) whiche is at Gibeon.

And there crose a fort backe battayle the same daye. But Abner and the men of Ithobal were put to flight/ of Dauid seruantes. The sonnes of Seruia were thire/ Joab/ Abisai/ a Ishai. So for Abisai he was light of feet/ as a Roa in the felde/ a followed after Abner/ and turned aroo as by the waye/ he gyrd his hande not to the left/ from Abner. Then Abner turned hym aroo/ and sayde: Art thou Abisai? He sayde: Yee. Abner sayd vnto hym: Go thy waye/ syther to thy gyght hande: or to the left/ and get the one of the younge men / a take his harness/ from hym. Abner bidde/ Ishai/ Abisai wolde not leaue of from hym. Then sayde Abner agayne to Abisai: Get the waye fro me/ why wilt thou that I smyte the to the grounde/ and howe haec I lyfe by my face/ agaynst thy brother Joab? Howe wylde he wold not go his waye.

Then Abner thrust hym in with a speere into his belly/ so that his speere went out behynde hym. And there he fel/ and dead before hym/ a who so came to the place whiche Abisai laye dead/ shode styll thare. But Joab a Abisai followed vpon Abner / with the Seruantes wente vnto. And wher they cameto the byl of Amma/ whiche lyeth by son Gad/ by the waye to the wydecesseth of Gibeon/ the chyldren of Ben Jamin gathered the silles together/ and bynde Abner/ and gadered to a mill/ and stode vpon the toppes of an hill.

And Abner called vnto Joab/ a sayde: What doest thou now/ that thou wilt be byrce at the last? Howe longe wilt thou be on thou say vnto I people ple / they traue of fro they diethe. Zanarban sayde: As truly as God liueth / if thou haddest sayd thus to day in / among my people had crossed eny one from his brother. And Joab tolde the tromps / a all the people stode still / as he tolde them vpon / Israel / neyther foughe they any more.

And wher and his men wente all the same nyght our the plaine silde / and passed ouer Zaidane / and walked thowre all Buthon / a came to the tents. Joab turned hym from Abner / and gathered all the people together.
And of Dauides seruantes there mysd nyne ten men / a / Asahel. But Dauides seruantes had smytten sa amonge Ben Jamin / and the min of Abner / that the hindrich a the fore men were dead. And they toke vp Asahel and buryed hym in his fathers grave at Bethlhem. And Joab with his men wente at that nyght and at the break of the daye they raue vnto Hebron.

The III. Chapter.

And there was a greate banayll betwene the house of Saul and the house of Da uid. But Dauid wente and succceed / and the house of Saul wente and mysdied. And vnto Dauid were chyldren borne at Hebron.

His first borne sonne Amnon of Ahinoam the Israhelisse / the seconde Chisba of Adep zaib / the wyfe of Nabal of Carmel / the thide Asahel the sonne of Naaaba / the daughter of Thabai / the sonne of Gessur / the four th Adonia the sonne of Hagith / the fyfth Sa phana the sonne of Adrail / the sixte Ierichem of the Egia Dauides wyfe. These were borne vnto Dauid at Hebron.

Now when it was warre betwene the house of Saul and the house of Dauid. Ab ner strenght Dauids house. And Saul had had a concubyn / whose name was Rishpa the daughter of Aia. And Joseph sayde vnto Abner: Wherefore liest thou with my fathers concubyn?

Then was Abner very wroth at these wordes of Joseph / and sayde: An I a dogge habe then / that I agaynst Iuda do mercy vnto the house of Saul thy father / a vnto his herthen and kynfolk. a haue not deliuered take: God do Abner this a that / if I do not:

For the Lord hath sworne vnto Dauid / that / I. K. x. r. f. the kyngdome may be delect from the house and of of Saul / a the seat of Dauid set vpon ouer Is rahel and Iuda / from Dan vnto Berseba. Agayn / it sholde be not a sworne him one word agayn / he feared hym so.

And Abner sent messaungers vnto Da uid saying: Whose is the faulte? And sayde: Make thy conuenaunt with me. Beholde / my hande shalbe with the / a thou turne all Israel vnto the.

He sayde: Well / I will make a conue naunt with the. But one thyng I desire of the / that thou se not my face / except thou first bynge my Michal Dauids daughter / whom thou commist to se my face. Dauid sent messaungers also vnto Joseph / that the sonne of Saul saying: I Geue me thy wyfe Michal / whom I married with an hundred she fynnes of the Philistynes. Joseph sent / a caused for to take her from the man / I. K. xxv. g the sonne of Laio. And her husbande went with her / and toke her bynde her vnto Ba huzym. Then sayde Abner vnto hym: Turne backe agayne / and go thy waye. And he tur ned backe agayne.

And Abner talked with the Elders in Israel / and sayde: Your myndes haue dre ft afor tyme and longe ago vpon Dauid / that he might be kynge a uer you. So it now therefor / for the Lorde hath sayde of Da uid: I will deliuer my people of Israel by the hande of Dauid my seruant / from the hande of the Philistines / and fro the hande of they enemyes.

Abner spake also before the eeres of Ben Jamin / and wente to speake before the eeres of Dauid at Hebron / that all Israel a the whole house of Ben Jamin was conuente with all now when Abner came to Hebron vnto Da uid / a twenty men with hym / Dauid made them a feast. And Abner sayde vnto Dauid: I will get me vp / and go gather all Israel together to my lorde the kyng / a that they may make a conuenaunt with the / that thou mayest be kyng at thy soules desire.

So Dauid let Abner go from hym in peace. And beholde: Dauides seruants and Joab came from the mt of Gera / a brought a great

a great spoyle with them. And Abner was not now with David at Hebron: so he had sent him from hym / so that he was gone his way in peace.

E But when Iobab a all the host with hym was come he was told by hym that Abner the sonne of Ner came to the kynge / a how he had sent hym from hym / so that he was gone his way in peace. Then wente Iobab in to the kynge and sayde: What hast thou done? Behold / Abner came to the / why hast thou sent hym from the / because he is gone his way? Answerst Iobab to the kynge: the sonne of Ner: so he came to the to deceaue the / he myght knowe thy antigynge and ingoyng / and to spyde out al that thou dost: And when Iobab went out from David / he sent messengers after Abner / to fetch him agayne from Bebarsa / and David hinc was not thereof. Now when Abner came agayne unto Hebron / Iobab broughe hym in to the myddes vnder the gate / to talke

Judic. i. c. with hym secretly / and Iobab hym there in to telly that he dyed / because of his brother 4. Nig. 4. c. 2. Iobabs bloude.

F When David was of it thereafter he said: I am ungly / and so is my kyngdom for: eue by this the Lord: concerninge the bloude of Abner the sonne of Ner: because the heade of Iobab fall in / and upon al his fathers house. In the house of Iobab there cease not one to haue a ceryng / I send a hystory / and to go vpon a staffe / and sell thowm the swerde / a ro haue secrettes of the dead. Thus Iobab and his brother Abisai flew Abner / because he had slaine they: brother Iobab in the battayll at Gibeon.

David sayd vnto Iobab / and to all the people that he was with hym: Kert your clothes / a gyde sackcloth aboute you / and make lamen / as you for Abner. And the kynge wente a fter the heare. And when they buryd Abner at Hebron / the kynge lyft up his voyce / a wept beside Abners graue / and al the people wept also.

G And the kynge mournd for Abner / a said: Abner is not dead as a foull dyed. Thy handes were a nor bound / thy fete were not byed with fetters / thou art fallen as a man full of before weyled with yste. Then al the people be weyled hym yet more.

Now wha al the people came in to eat with David / whyle it was yet bye Daye / David swaue / and sayd: God do this and that vnto me / If I wast cythe chace / or onghchels as the the Caine go vnto. And all the people hinc in / and it pleased them well al that the kynge byd in the sight of all the people. And al the people and al Israel percaued the same Daye / that he came not to the kynge / that Abner the sonne of Ner was slayn. And the kynge said vnto his seruantes: Knowe ye noe that this Daye a pynted a great man to fall in Israel? So for me / I am yet but tendis and anoynded kynge. But the men / the chyldren of Israhel were to hard for me. The Lord requymer pence hym that both tweluen / and ynge / to his weyled him.

The III. Chapter.

Han Sauls sonne berbe Abner was dead at Hebron / his bandes were scild / and al Israel was sey. Wher hecc were two men captaynes ouer the soulyers vnder the sonne of Saul: the one was called Becorath / the other Ishobabsonnes of Rimoth the Beccorath / of the chyldre of Ben Jamin: for Becorath was counsed also in Ben Jamin. And the Becorathes were fled vnto Gethaim / and were strangers there vnto this Daye. Ionaibas also the sonne of Saul / had a sonne which was lame on his fete / and was fye yere olde / when the raiment of Saul and Jonathas came from Iseell. And his noefe lyft hym / and fled. And whyle he madt hayll and fled / he fel and was lame: And his name was I Nephosoth.

Then wente the sonnes of Rimoth they Ber Beroth / Kehob and Boshana / and came to the house of Ithobab / in the brar of the Daye / and he laye upon his bed at the poone day. And they came in to the house to sech wheate / and thurst hym in to be belly / a get them awaye far when they come in to the haule / he laye beside his hid in his chaumbis / and they slayn hym so that / and smote of his hande / a tof his hede / and departed by the waye of the place seke all that myght / and broughe the hede of Ithobab to David vnto Hebron / and sayd vnto the kynge: Behold / here is the hede of Ithobab / the sonne of Saul thyne enemye / which layd waite for thy soule.
Tha

This daye hath the Lorde auenged my lord the kyng of Saul and his seede.

E Then answered Dauid vnto Rehob and Benaia his brethren the sonnes of Rimmon that Berechiah said: As truly as the Lorde I speake which hath deliuered my soule out of al trouble: I Ioke hym that brought me worde and said: Saul is dead: and the thought he had been a good messenger: and as Shelah I put hym to death: vnto whome I should haue giuen a reward for his message. And these vngodly persons haue slayne a righteous man in his stone house vpon his bed. Yet shalt thou not I requyre his bloude of your hands: and take you awaye from the earth: And Dauid commaunded his yonge men / which shew them / and smote of theyr handes a sear and hangd them vp by the poole at Hebron.
But the head of Ithobech cutt theyr / and buried it in Abinoz graue at Hebron.

The V. Chapter.

I And all the trybes of Israel came to Da-uid vnto Hebron / and said: Behold / we are thy bone and thy fleche: And aforetyme when Saul was kyng ouer vs: thou leddest Israel out and in: So the Lorde hath sayde: Thou shalt kepe my people of Israel. And all the Elders of Israel came to the kyng vnto Hebron. And kyng Dauid made a connesaunt with them at Hebron before the Lorde.
And they anoynted Dauid to be kyng ouer Israel. Thyrty yeare old was Dauid when he was made kyng: and reigned sonerage seuen monethes ouer Iuda: but at Ierusalem he reigned the an thyrty yeares ouer all Israel and Iuda.

143a.

B And the kyng went with his men to Ierusalem agaynst the Philistines / which dwelle in the lande. Heuerthelesse / they sayde vnto Dauid: I thou shalt noe come thither: / but the bynde and lamie shall byrte the waye.
(They thought plainely: that Dauid shoulde not come thither.) Howbeit / Dauid wane the earrell of Zion / which is the cite of Dauid. The Lorde sayd the same daye: Who soeuer sweareth the Philistines / and prayned the preauention the lamie and the bynde: which the Jebu-sitis Dauids soule hateth. Pecc of cometh the power be: / Then no bynde nor lamie come in to the house. So Dauid dwelt in the castell / and called it the cite of Dauid. And Sa-uid buylded rounde aboute first Wallis and within. And Dauid greete / and the Lorde the God Zababoth was with hym.

I And Hiram the kyng of Tyre sente messengers vnto Dauid / and Cedre trees for walles / and Carpinies / and Nations to buyde Dauid an house. And Dauid wote that the Lorde had confirmed hym kyng ouer Israel / and exalted his kyngdome for his people of Israel sake. And Dauid toke yet more wyfes / and concubynes at Ierusalem: after he was come from Hebron / and there were yet mo sonnes and daughteris borne vnto hym: And these are the names of them that were borne vnto hym at Ierusalem: Shamma / Sobab / Nathana / Salomon / Idobar / Elishe / Aphyg / Zaphia / Elisama / Eliabar / Eliphaz.

And whate the Philistines byrde that Sa-uid was anoynted kyng ouer Israel / they went vp all to sette Dauid. Wha Dauid perceaued that he wote come in to a castell. But the Philistines came / and scattered them selfes beneath in the valleye of Rephaim. And Sa-uid arode at the Lorde / and sayde: Shall I go vp agaynst the Philistines: and wyl thou de-liuer them in to my hande: The Lorde sayde vnto Dauid: Go vp: / I wyl deliuer the Philistines in to thy hande.

And Dauid came vnto Baal Praxim / and smote them there: and sayde: The Lorde hath decaydeth myne enemies / as the waters parte asunder: therefore is this same place called Baal Praxim. And they left theyr magazines there: but Dauid and his men carryd thene away.

Heuerthelesse / the Philistines went vp agayn / and scattered themselves beneath in the valleye of Rephaim. And Dauid arode at the Lorde. The Lorde sayde: Thou shalt go vp / but compassethem behynde: that I may be vpon them ouer agaynst the peccetors: and when thou byrrell vnto the toppes of the peccetres: / I will founde of the goinge: for the Lorde is the Lorde gone forth before the / so I may the host of the Philistines. Dauid did as the Lorde commaunded him: and smote the Philistines from Gibeon / till he comest vnto Gazer.

 Aminadab vnder the new cart. And when they brought it with the Arke seth the bouke of Aminadab / whiche dwelt at Gibeā: thio went before the Arke: and Sane / and al the bouke of Israell played before the Lord: vnder of instrumentes of p̄uie tree / with harpes / and psalteries / and tabornes / and bel-leas / and cyrnals.

B † And when they came to the burnefoure i. De. 4. i. b of Nabon / vsa / he scrided out his hande / and held the Arke of God: for the oxen went out asyde. Then wore the wear of the Lord scrided the Lord: the same daye / and sayde: How shal this Arke of ¶ Lord come into me: And he wold not let it be brought so hur into t̄ryne of Sane / but caused it be brought in to the house of Obed Edom the Gharite.

 And when the Arke of the Lord had cen-nured this moneth in the house of Obed Edom the Gharite / the Lord blessed him in all his house.

C And it was tolde hyng Sane / that the Lord had blessed the house of Obed Edom / and all that he had because of the Arke of
 i. Pa. xij. b God: † Then writhe he a scrided up the Arke of God out of the house Obed Edom / in to the cyte of Sane with ioye. And when they were goun the steppes in with the Arke of the Lord: they offered an oxe and a fat shepe.
 And Sane / danced with all his might before the Lord: / and was gydded with an
 o. u. e. body: of of hymen. And Sane with all Israell brought up the Arke of the Lord with tabornes and trompettes.

And when the Arke of the Lord came in to the cyte of Sane / Michol the daughter of Saul loke out at a wyndow: / a same hyng Sane leaping: and spynnyng: a same cyng before the Lord / and wept hym in her heart. † But when they brought in the Arke of the Lord: they set it in her place in the nyghbor of the Taberacle / whiche Sane had pitched for it. And Sane offered burnofferynges and thank offerynges before the Lord. And when Sane had made an ende of offerynges / he blessed the people in the name of the Lord Zabaoth / and deale out vnto all the people: / a to the multitude of Israell / both to men and woman / vnto eury one a rafe of bread / and a peece of fleshe / and a mure of p̄turyng. Then wente all the people they: waye eury one vnto his house.

When Sane came agayne to bless his E house: Michol the daughter of Saul wente fo: th to meet hym / and sayde: How thou hast the feyght of Israell ben to daye / whiche hath encounterd hym selfe before the mayden of his seruaunte / yste / as the rascall peple shouuer hym selfe. But Sane sayde vnto Michol: I wyl playe before the Lord / whiche hath chosen me afore by father / and afore all his house / because he hath commaunded me to be a p̄uie: ouer the people of the Lord: euen ouer Israell / and yet wyl I be after the fo: and wyl I be lowen in myne owne sight: and in the mayden wherof I haue spoken / wyl I be honoured. So for Michol the daughter of Saul: she had no chyld vnto the daye of her death.

The VII. Chapter.

NO W when the hyng / cam his house / a ¶ the Lord had gūen hym rest from all t̄ his enemyes on eury syde: he sayde vnto the Diopete Nabab: Bholde / I dwell in a house of Lebe: / a the Arke of God I dwell in a house of eurynges Nabab sayde vnto the hyng: Wo thy woy: / a what feyght thou hast in thy heart: that wo: for the Lord is with the. But the same night came the word of the Lord vnto Nabab / and sayd: Go and speake to my seruaunt Sane. Thus sayeth the Lord: Chale

Shalt thou buyde me an house to dwell in? I haue dwelt in no house since the daye I brought the chyldren of Israel out of Egypte vnto this daye / but haue walked in the tabernacle and habitation / wherbyfor I went with the chyldren of Israel. And I cene speake to any of thynges of Israel: wher I commaunded to kepe my people of Israel / and sayde: Wherfore do ye not buyde me an house of Cedar woodet.

B So shalt thou speake now vnto my seruante Dauid. Thus sayeth the Lorde Zabaorb: Ag 11 I toke thee from the pasture whan thou wast chyldre the shepe / that thou shouldst be the pynne euer my people of Israel / and haue bene with the wherbyfor thou wast well / I toke out all thine enemies before the / I haue made the a greate name / accordyng to the name of the greate natioun canth. And for my people of Israel I will appoynt a place / and I will plant them that they may remayne there no more to be annoynd / a that the chyldren of wyrdnesse oppresse them no more / lyke as afore / and sinte the tyme that I ordeyned iudges ouer my people of Israel. And I will geue the rest from all thine enemies. And the Lorde sheweth the / that the Lorde wyl make the a house.

C Now wher the tyme is fulfilled that thou shalt slepe with thy fathers / I wil after I raise vp thyne sde / wherbyshal come of thy bodye: he shall sayngome wyl I stablyshe the shall buyde an house for my name / and I will stablyshe the seat of his kyngdom for euer. I will be his father / and he shall be my soane.

D Whan be woth a resposse / I will requyre hym with the oddes of iustice / and with the plaguons of the chyldren of men: But my mercy shall not be withdrawen frd hym / as I haue withdrawen it from Saul / whome I haue taken awaye before the. So for thy house and thy kyngdom: as that be stablyshed for euer before the / and thy seat shall endure fast for euermore.

Whan Nathan had tolde all these wordes / and all this vision vnto Dauid: synging Dauid came and sat hym downe before the Lorde / and sayde: O Lorde God wdo ouer I: and where is my house / that thou hast brought me thus farre: This O Lorde God hast thou thought to hylt also: wher hast spoken of the house of thy seruante for longe tyme to come. O Lorde God is that the lawe of iustice.

And wher shall Dauid speake vnto the: Thou knowest thy seruante O Lorde God: for thy wordes sake / and accordyng to thy heete hast thou done all these greate thynges / that thou myghtest shewe them vnto thy seruants. Therefore art thou greatly magnified. O Lorde God: for there is none lyke the: and there is no God but thou / accordyng vnto all that we haue herd with our eares. I for: whereto there a people god canth as thy people of Israel: for whose sake went God to deliuer hym a people / and to make hym like a name / and to do therein sde greate and terrible thynges in thy lande before thy people / whome thou hast deliuered vnto thy selfe from Egypte / from the people and from they: Godde. And thy people of Israel hall thou prepared the to be a people vnto thyne owne sde for euer / and thou O Lorde cene become thy God.

E Stablyshe now the worde therefore for euer. O Lorde God: wherby thou hast spoken ouer thy seruants and ouer his house / and do accordyng as thou hast sayde. So shall thy name be great for euer / so that it shall be sayde: The Lorde Zabaorb is the God of Israel / and the house of thy seruants Dauid shall be made sure before the. For that Lorde Zabaorb / thou God of Israel hast opened the care of thy seruants: and sayde: I wyl buyde the an house. Therefore hath thy seruants souer has here to praye this prayer vnto the: Now O Lorde God: about thy selfe art God: and thy wordes shall be true. Thou hast spoken sde good ouer thy seruants. Begynne now therefore and bless thy seruants house / that maye be before thy face for the Lorde God wherby cene selfe hast spoken: as with thy blessing shall thy seruants house be blessed for euer.

The VIII Chapter.

It was fortunnd after this that David Zabaorb the Physlynes / a dyconified the / i. Pac xix. d and toke the byddell of bondage out of the Physlynes handes. The sinner the Nabab the sinner also to the grounde / so that he brought awaye parce of theynto Dath / and let out parce David and Mephiboseth. The 11. booke of Samuel.

lyne Thus the Moabites were subdued vnto Dauid so that they brought hym gyftes.

Dauid sinned Gadad the sonne of Nebod kyng of Soba when he wente to sech his poore egypte at the water of Upha-tes. And of them toke Dauid a thousand and seuen hundred best of men and reuentye thousande sheepe men / and lained all the chariots / sawe an hundred which he kepte behynde.

But the Syrians came from Damascus to helpe Gadad the kyng of Soba. And Dauid sinned two and reuentye thousand men of the Syrians / and laped people vnto Demasus in Syria.

Thus was Syria subdued vnto Dauid so that they brought hym gyftes: for the Lord helped Dauid wher soeuer he wente. And Dauid toke the sheldes of gold which Gadad the syer seruantes had / a brought the to Jerusalem. And fro Bethshai a Beothai the carres of Gadad the syer toke Dauid very much of off.

B When the kyng of Gernah herde that Dauid had synen all the power of Ga-dad the syer his sonne Josam vnto Dauid to synne hym friendly / a to blisse hym / because he had foughten with Gadad the syer and synen hym: for that had warre th Gadad the syer / and had ieruels with hym of silver / of gold / and of brass which kyng Dauid halowed also vnto the Lord: with the silver a golde which he sanctified vnto the Lord so at the seuered theyd he subdued fro Syria fro Moab fro the dyrd: of Amud / from the Philistines / from Danel / from the spoyle of Gadad the syer sonne of Nebod kyng of Soba.

righteousness vnto all the people. For he sinned of Syria / he was captayne ouer the host of Gogbar the sonne of Thulud was Chamberler. And he sinned of Achib / a Thulud the sonne of Thulud was puerke. Serua was ouer the Egiptians and Phycians. And the doges / the names of Dauid were / of puerke.

The IX. Chapter.

And Dauid sayde Remaunce there yet any Man of Dauid house / that I maye do meecy vpon hym for Jonathas sake? There was a seruante of Dauid house / named I Siba / whome they called vnto Dauid / a the kyng sarde vnto hym: Art thou Siba? He sayde: Yee the seruante the kyng saye: Is there yet any man of Dauid house / that I maye do the mercy of God vpon hym? Siba sayde vnto the kyng: There is yet a sonne of Jonathas laine on his fete. The kyng sayde vnto hym: Where is he? Siba sayde vnto the kyng: He holdeth he is at Ladober in the house of Maschur the sonne of Amud. Then saide the kyng Dauid the kyng / and caused for to sech hym from Ladober / out of the house of Maschur the sonne of Amud.

Now when Mephiboseth the sonne of Jonathas the sonne of Dauid came vnto Dauid he fell vpon his fete / a was prynced hym.
Dauid sayde Mephiboseth. He sayde: Here am I thy seruante. Dauid sayde vnto hym: fear not / for I will do mercy vpon the / for thy father Jonathas sake / and will restore vnto the all the laude of thy father Dauid: In which shall eate hee breade vnto my table.
He was shipped and said: Who am I thy seruante / that thou wilt see the to a brede dogge as I am?

Then the kyng called Siba the seruante of Dauid and sayde vnto hym: All that hath belonged vnto Dauid and to all his house / hath I geuen to thy lordes sonne. Tyl his laude for hym therefore / thou and thy children and seruantes / and byrgen / whome I maye be brede for thy lordes sonne / and that he maye enioye it: But Mephiboseth the kynges sonne shall eate breade vnto my table. Siba had syene sonnes and reuentye thoussandes. And Siba sayde vnto the kyng: See thyng vnto all as my lord: the kyng had commended his seruantes / sech his seruante do. And let Mephiboseth Dauid / eate at my table as one of the kynges sonnes thyldren. And Mephiboseth had a yong sonne / whose name was Mibai. But all the kynges sonnes / whiche were / seued Mephiboseth. So for Mephiboseth hym selfe he dwelt at Jerusalem: for he dyd eate vnto

The X. Chapter.

And he returned after this that the kyng of the children of Ammon dyed/and his sonne Hanun was kyng in his steade. Then saide David: I will do mercy vpon Hanun the sonne of Nabaa: as his father dyd mercy vpon me. And so he sent / and comforted him by his seruantes vpon his fathers deat. And when Dauides seruantes came into the lande of the children of Ammon / the neghe men of the children of Ammon sayd vnto Hanun they saide: Thinkest thou us so for the honour of thy father in thy fight/that Dauid hath sent comforters vnto the? Sub we will not send his seruantes vnto the: (Thinkest thou) so to spee and search out the eyne and to ouerthrowe us?

Thinke Hanun the seruantes of Dauid / and byd thau of the one halfe of theyr buides/and cut of the halfe of theyr garment / a man by the gyrdle/and so let them go.
When this was tolde Dauid/ he sent to mee the: for the use were put to great shame. And the kyng raised to laye vnto the: Thyde at Jericho: yll your buidies be growen/ and the corn agayne.

When the children of Ammon sawe þ they synked in the fight of Dauid / they sent and byed the Siruans of þ house of Ri hob / and the Siruans of Soba / euen twentye thou sande foue men/ and fro the kyng of Ma cha a thousand man/ and fro Slibod twise thousand men. When Dauid herd that/ he sent Joab with all the back of the men of warre. And the children of Ammon wente forth/ and prepared the selfes to the battell for the inuentione of the gure. But the Siruans of Soba/ of Ri hob/ of Slibod and of Macha were alone in the fild.

When Joab sawe that the battell was set vpon him before and behinde / he chose of all the best younge men in Israel/ and prepared the selfe against the Siruans. And the residue of the people put he vnder the hande of his brother Abisai/ that he might prepare hym a gainst the children of Ammon. And saide: If the Siruans be to mightie for me helpe thou me: but if the children of Ammon be to mightie for the: I that helpe the. Take a good cou rage vnto the / and let vs be stronge for our people/ for the crye of our Gode: neuer the lesse the Lord do what pleaseth him.

And Joab gaue him forth with the people that was a with hym/ to fight against þ Siru ans: they fled before him. And wha þ chil dren of Ammon sawe þ the Siruans fled/ they fled also before Abisai/ and wente into the cy te. So Joab turned agayne fro the children of Ammon/ & come to Jerusalem. And when the Siruans sawe that they were smitten before Israel/ they came to gythe.

And Hadaad Esfer sente and thought out the Siruans beyonde the water/ and charged theyr power in / and Sobah the chiefe cap tayne of Hadaad Esfer wente by son the: I wha this was tolde Dauid/ he gathered of Israel together/ and wente ouer Jordan/ and came to Helai/ and the Siruans prepared the selfe against Dauid to fight with hym: howe beit the Siruans fled before Israel. And Sa uid slew of the Siruans seven hundred char rettes/ and fourtye the: fande he: men / and Sobah the chiefe captayne fante he: also / so that he dyed there. What the kyng: e which were vnder Hadaad Esfer sawen/ that they were smitten before Israel / they made peace with Israel/ and were subdued vnto the: And the Siruans were charyed to helpe the children of Ammon any more.

The XI. Chapter.

And when the yere came aboute what and sente Joab and his seruans: es with hym/and al Israel/ to destroye the children of Am mon/ and to laye siege vnto Rabbai/ but Dauid abode at Jerusalem.

And aboute the twentye de it furnished that Dauid arose fro his resting place/ and wente vp to the topp of the hynges palace/ and fro the topp he sawe a woman t wasshinge her selfe/ and þ woman was of a very feyre bewy.
And Dauid sente a caused to see what wo man y was/ and saide: Is not that Bethsabe þ daughter of Elias/ the wyfe of Oras þ Ae nented againe vnto her house. And the woman was with child/and sent/and caused to tell Dauid and say: I am with child. Dauid sent vnto Joab saying: Send me Urias the Gethite. And Joab sent Urias vnto Dauid. And when Urias came to him. Dauid asked him if hee were well with Joab/and with the people/and with the battail.

And Dauid said vnto Urias: Go vnto mine thy house/and wash thy feet. And when Urias wente out of the Kinges palaye: A fangie greife folowed him. And Urias layed him vnto a step before the fhynges paloye gate/ where all his lodges seruantes say: a wente not vnto mine into his house. When word came to Dauid: Urias is not gone vnto his house. Dauid sayde vnto him: Camelst thou not ouer? he said: Why wente I thou not vnto mine into thy house? Urias saide vnto Dauid: The Ark and Israels Iuda shyde in it. And hee said my loibe / and my lodges seruantes lyde in the felde/and shall I go to my house to eate and drinke/and to lye with my wyfe: As truly as thou hast / and as truly as thy soule lyueth/ I wyl not do this thyng. Dauid sayde to Urias: Shyde here then to daye/ to morow wyl I let the go. So Urias abode at Ierusalem the same daye / and he nyght also. And Dauid called him to eate and drinke. So hee byn/and made him dronken. And at euen he wente to laye him vnto a step vpon his couche with his lodges seruantes/ and wente not vnto his house.

On the morow wrote Dauid a letter vnto Joab / a letter by Urias. After this manner wrote he in the letter: See Urias in the forest parte of the Battail/ a turne you skynde him/ he maye be slaine. Nowe when Joab layd sege to the cite/ he set Urias in a place/ where he knewe the myghtiest men of armes were. And when the men of the cite fell out/ and fought: agaynst Joab/ there felde many of the people of Dauids seruantes. And Urias the Gethite dyed also.

Then sent Joab/and caused to red the King all the matter/ concerninge the Battail/ and recounted the messenger/ and saide: When thou hast tolde the Kinge all the matter/ concerninge the Battail/ a list that he is woody/ and yf the Kinge see vnto the: Whereof came ye so nye the cite with the Battail? Knowe ye not how they wyl to shute from the walles? Who shote? Whym dede the sonne of Iechabab? Shd not a woman cast a peece of a myllstone vpon him for the wall/ so that he dyed at Iherob? Why came ye so nye the wall? He shal theu say: Thy seruantes Urias the Gethite to dead also.

The messenger wente his waye / a came and tolde Dauid also gether / wherefore Joab had sent him. And the messenger saide vnto Dauid: The men perswaped agaynst vs/ and fell out vnto vs into the felde: and we were vpon the harde at the fore of the porte. And the archer shot from the wall vpon thy seruantes/ and shote certayne of the fhynges seruantes: and thy seruante Urias the Gethite so dead also.

Dauid sayde vnto the messenger: Thus shal thou saye vnto Joab: Let not that vexe the for the sweate/ consumed no wome/ now another. Go soch with the Battail agaynst the cite/ that thou mayest deliuer it/ and consume the mee. And when Urias wyl be dead: that Urias was dead/ he mourned for hee beaufhande. But when he had made an ende of mourninge. Dauid sent/ a caused her to be fetched vnto his palaye/ and he became his wyfe/ a bare him a sonne. The name of this childe is Dauid dyd displice the Lord.

The XXI. Chapter.

Went the Lord sent Nathan vnto Dauid. When he came to him/ he tolde him: There were two men in one cite/ one rich/ the othe poore. The rich man had very many shepe and oxen: But the poore man had nothinge save onely lyke shepe/ which he had bought/ and boughte it/ so that it grew up with him and his children to gether. It dyd come of his sheede/ and drinke of his cuppe/ and slept in his lappe/ and he kept it as his daughter. But when thier came a stranger vnto thier cite/ maye be spared to take of his owne shepe and oxen/ to prepare ought for the stranger that was come vnto him/ and toke the poore mans shepe/ and prepared it for the man that was come vnto him.

Then was Dauid wroth with greacie displeasure agaynst that man / and sayde vnto Nathan: Is truly so the Lord lyueth / the man man that hath done this is a schuler of death.

 ¶ The shepe also shal be made good foure fold/because he hath done such a ryinge/and not spared it.

¶ Then sayd Nathan vnto Dauid: Thou art such the man. Thus sayth the Lorde the God of Israel: I haue enoynded thee to be kyng ouer Israel/and bestowed the one of the bande of Samil/and haue geuen the thy lordes house/and his wyfe into thy lappe/and the house of Israel and Iuda haue I geuen thee: and yet that he so hylt: I wyl yet do vnto thee: and for that also. Wherefore hast thou when despised the wyde of the Lorde/so do such euill in his syght? Vnto the Achitue hast thou slayne the swearde: His wyfe hast thou taken in to thy wyfe / thus hym hast thou sleiged with the swearde of the chyldren of Ammon.

¶ Now therefore shall not the swearde departe frō my house for euer/ because thou hast despised me/and taken the wyfe of the Achitue/so be thy wyfe. Thus sayeth the Lorde: Beholde: I I wyl raise vp euell of thine owne house / and wyl take thy wyfe before thine eyes/and wil geue them vnto thy neyghboure/so that he shal lye with thy wyfe: by Sunne lighte for thou hast done a fe-cerity: thus I wyl do this in the sight of all Israel/and by Sunne lighte.

¶ Then saide Dauid vnto Nathan: I haue sinned vnto the Lord: Nathan said vnto Da-uid: So hath the Lord also taken away thy sinne/ thou shalt not dye: But for so much as thou hast done this deede/ haste caused the enemies of the Lorde to blaspheme/ the some thereof is thine vnto the thil daye the deare. And Nathan went home. As for the child which vnto wyfe bare vnto Dauid/ the Lorde smote it so that it was dead firste.

¶ And Dauid besought God for the child and fasted/and went in / and laye all nyght vpon the earth. Then rose the Ladies of his house/and wold haue taken him vp fro the ground: neuertheless/ he wold not/ neyther wold be care with them. Vpon the fourth daye the child dyed. And Dauid seruaunt daueste not of him: that the child was dead/ for they thought: Beholde/ when the child was yet aliue/ we spake vnto him/ as he berened not so oure voyce / How much more shall greue him/ we saye: the child is dead: And Dauid saide: that his seruaunt made a whispering together/and perceaued that the child was dead/ as said vnto his seruaunt: So the child dead: They sayde: Yee. Then cast Dauid vp from the earth/ and walde hym selfe/ and anoynded hym/ and put on other garmentes/and went in to the house of the Lorde/ and worshipped.

¶ And when he came agayne/ he came maunded to set his head before hym/ and to praye.
 Then sayde his seruaunt vnto hym: What manner of thyng is this that thou doest: What the child was alyue/ thou fastedst and wept: but now that it is dead/ thou standest vp and eatest: He sayde: I fasted/ and wepte for the child/ whā it was yet alyue/ for I thought: What knowest/ peraduenture the Lorde may be gracious vnto me/ that the child may lyue: I But now that it is dead/ wherefore should I fast: Can I agayne? I shal go vnto us/ what shall not come agayne vnto me. And when Dauid had comforted Berisabe his wyfe/ he went in vnto her/ a lay with her. And she bare a sonne/ whome he called Salomon. And the Lorde loued him.
 And he put hym vnder the charge of Nathan the prophete/ which called hym Iedibia because of the Lorde.

¶ So Joab fought agaynst Rabba of the chyldren of Ammon/ and wonne the kynges eye/ and sente messengers vnto Dauid/and caused to say vnto him: I haue foughte agaynst Rabba/ and haue wonne the water eye/ also/ Gather thou therefore the residue of the people together/ and leaue it to the eye and woman/ that I wyne it not/ I haue the name thereof. So Dauid gathered all the people together/ and wente/ a foughte agaynst Rabba/ and wonne it/ and took they nyne creone from his heade/ which in wyght had a talent of golde/ and precious stones/and was set vpon Dauides heade/ and very muche pleasured he one of the eye. So for the people that was thym/ he broughte them forth/ and loved them vnto yon/ saued and he fed/ and wedded of yon/ and buened them in tyle onens. Thus dyd he vnto all the eyres of the chyldren of Ammon.
 Then

Then returned David and all the people vnto Ierusalem againe.

The XIII. Chapter.

AND it is founde after this / that Absalom the sonne of David had a faire sister / whose name was Thamar / a Amnon the sonne of David loued her. And Amnon was an great combaunce / in so much that he was cut sicke because of Thamar his sister. For she was a virgin / a Amnon thought it should be hard for him to do any thinge vnto her. But Am-non had a friende / whose name was Jonadab / sonne of Sima Davids brother. And this same Jondab was a very wise ma / which said vnto him: Why arte thou so sicke / thou finges some thinge to saye to her? Whereof thou wilt not tel me? Then said Amnon vnto him: I loue Thamar my brother Absaloms sister exceedyngly.

Jondab said vnto him: I saye I haue vnto thy bedde / and make the sicke. And when thy sister cometh to loke how thou dost / saye vnto him: Oh let my sister Thamar come / I shal make thee a meace of meate before me / that I maye see it / as care of her had.
So Amnon layd him vnto her / and made hym sicke. Now when hislinge came into loke how he was. Amnon saide vnto the kynge: Oh let my sister Thamar come / and make me a spynninge of two / and that I maye eat it of her had. The Kinge said vnto Thamar: Go into thy brother Ammons house / and make him a meace of meate. Thamar went vnto her brother Ammons house / but he laye in his bed. And she toke floure / and mixe it / and dyghte thereof his eyes / and made him a spyninge. And she toke the meace of meate / and poued it out before him: but he wolde not eat.

And Amnon said: Put forth euery man fro me. And euery man wente forth fro him. The said Amnon vnto Thamar: Bring me that meace of meate into my chamber / I maye eat it of the hande. The toke Thamar the spyninge that he had made / and brought it vnto Amnon her brother into the chamber.

And when she thought it vnto him that he mighte care for toke holde of her / and sayde vnto her: Come my sister / ye with me. Whereof she / she saide: Wha my brother / forces me not / so do they nei in Israd / do not thou such foly. Whereof she said: I go with my shame and thou shalt be as one of the vnyuersite / Israel. But speake vnto the kynge / he shall not withholde me from the.

So when he wolde not heren vnto her / and overcame her / and forced her / and laye with her. And Amnon hated her exceedingly / after this / that he barred was greater / the the loue was before. And Amnon said vnto her: Up and get the hence.

She saide vnto him: This euil that thou doest / shall not be / as greater / the the other that thou hast done vnto me. Whereof she / she barred not vnto her / but called his boye that serued him / and saide: Put awaye this woman fro me / and locke the doore after her. And she had a party garment on: for such garmentes were the kynge's daughters / whiche they were virgins.

And when his seruante had put her forth / and locke the doore after her / Thamar strowed ashes vpon her heade / and cutt the party garment which she had vpon her / and layd her hande vpon her heade / and wente on and cryed. And her brother Absalom saide vnto her: Hach thy brother Amnon thus with the?
Now holde thy peace my sister / in this doore thou / and take not the matrice so to her.

So Thamar remained a widow in her brother Absaloms house. And when hislinge was in herde of all this / he was very sorry. So Absalom / he spake neyther vnto nor good to Amnon / but Absalom had Amnon / because he had forced his sister Thamar.

After two yeares had Absalom the prynce / at Basa / which lieth by Iherusalem.
And Absalom called all the kynge's children / and came to the kynge / and sayde: Behold / thy seruante hath the pryncypales / let it please the kynge / that thy seruante / do with thy seruante. But the kynge sayd vnto Absalom: Thy my sonne / do not all go / lest / we be to the grounde vnto the.

And he wolde neede haue had hym to go home / but he wolde not / but blessed hym. Absalom saide: What any brother Amnon go with vs there? The kinge saide vnto him: Whereof shalt he go with the? This was Absaloms improuise vpon him / that he let Amnon go all the kynges chyliden go with hym.

But Absalom commaunded his yonge men/and sayd: Take heed when Ammon is merry with vs: for I saye vnto you: Smyte Ammon/and slaye hym. that ye be not afraid: for I haue commaunded you to be stronge/and plague the men. So Absalom yonge men byd vnto Ammon as Absalom had commaunded them. Then stode all the kynges chyliden vp/and every one gat him vp vpon his mule/and fled. And whyle they were yet on theyr wayes/their rourme came to kyng David: that Absalom had slayne all the kynges chyliden/so that nae one of them was left.

¶ Then stode the kyng vp/and wrote his letters/and layd hym downe vpon the earth/and all his seruantes that stode aboute hym/renne theyr glorye. Then auisede Ionadab the sennet of Chetho Dauid's brother/sayd: Let not my lord be charyke that al yonge men the kynges chyliden are dead/ but that Ammon is dead only: for Absalom hath kept it in hymselfe/ since I saye ybet he forced his sister Chether. Therfore let not my lord be charyke/ rather so to heere/ that al the kynges chyliden shoulde be dead/ but that Ammon is dead onely.

¶ As for Absalom he fled. As the yonge man that kept the watch/stept vp his eye/and looked: and beholde/ a great people came in the waye one after another by the hyl side. Then sayde Ionadab vnto the kyng: Beholde/ the kynges chyliden come. Euen as thy seruant sayd: so it is happened. And when he had ended his self kyng/ the kynges chyliden came/and left their royer and weprie.

The kyng and all his seruantes weprie also very sore. But Absalom fled/ and rener vnto Chetho the sennet of Amnon/ and kyng of Chetho. So for David/ he mourned for his sennet every daye. Where Absalom was fled/ and gon vnto Gethur/ he was there thre years. And kyng David ceassed from goyng out agaynst Absalom/ for he had comforted hym selfe our Ammon that he was dead.

The XLIII Chapter.

¶ Then the sennet of Betho/ persecuted that the kynges hart was agaynst Absalom/ and sent vnto Chetho/ and caused to sende from thence a prudent woman/ and saide vnto her-

Make lamentacion/ and weare mourninge garmentes/ and anoynt the noz with oyle: but kyng thy selfe in a woman/ which mouerced howe ouer a dead/ and thou shalt go into the kyng/ and speake so/ and so vnto hym. And Ioad tolde her what she shoulde saye.

And when the woman of Chetho wolde speake with the kyng/ she fell vpon her face to the grounde/ and mooshipped/ and sayde: Helpe me O kyng. The kynges said vnto her: What oylest thou? She sayde: I am a widow/ a woman that mouerced/ and my husband is dead. And thy hand maydyn had some sennet/ which stroue together in the silde/ and whyle that was nonen to parte them asunder/ the one smote the other/ and slawe hym.

And beholde/ the whole hired vs/ ashyt vp agaynst thy hand mayden/ and say: I desiret hym/ which hath smiten his brother/ that we maye kil him/ for I soule of his brother/ whom he hath slayne/ and that we maye vedyfy the herte also. And thus are they mynded to put out my sparke/ which yet is left/ that the shoulde no name/ nei any thinge els remaine ouer vnto my house/ vnto certayn.

The kyng said vnto the woman/ go thy waye hence/ I wil geue a commode/ sennet for the. And the woman of Chetho sayd vnto the kyng: The trespasserke vpon me/ is dead the kyng/ and vpon my fathers house: but the kyng/ and his kin be vngilty. The kyng saide: He that speaketh agaynst the/ byng him vnto me/ so that he touch the woman. She saide: Let the kyng/ thinke vpon the Lord his God/ that there be no so many as negroes of sloude to destroye/ and that they byng not my sennet to noughe. He saide: I do trust so the Lord/ lyveth/ there shal not one heer of thy sennet fall vpon the earth. And the woman said: Let thy hand mayden speake sennet/ that to my lord the kyng: He said: speake on. The woman said: Woe forst best thou be used/ such a thing agaynst the people of God? And here happencyt it that the kyng speakeh/ such to make hym selfe gilty/ and causeth not his outlawe to be thought agaynt/ for he all byr the debar/ and so the water that synkech into the earth/ which is not reddy vp. And God will not take away the life/ but beribne hymselfe/ that euen the verye outlawe be not rickent.

C Thus an I come alſo to ſpeake this to my loide the King in the preſence of the people. For thy handmaid thought: I will ſpeake to the King: yet abundance he ſhall doo that his handmaid ſayerh/for he ſhall heare his handmaidens/to deliuer me from the bande of all them that would keſtred me with my ſonne from the inheritance of God. And thy handmaid thought/the word of my loide ſ King ſhalbe as a meate ſtrifff/for my loide ſ King to as an angell of Gods/fo that he can heare good and euill/therfore ſhall the Lord be thy God ſe with the.

The King answered and ſaide vnto the woman: Hepe nothing from me that I ſaye the. The woman ſayde: Let my loide the King ſpeake on. The King ſayde: Is not the bande of Ioab with thee in all this? The woman answered a ſaide: As truly as thy ſoule liueth/ My loide O King/there to do woman/ſerue the at the righte bande not at the lefte/ſerue as my loide the King hath ſaid: for thy ſeruaunt Ioab hath commaunded me / and he himſelfe hath taughte thy handmaid at theſe waies/ſo I ſhoulde turne this matter of this ſuſtion/this hath Ioab thy ſeruaunt done. But my loide is wiſe/as the wiſdom of an angell of Gods/fo that he knoweth all thynges vpon earth.

E Then ſaid the King vnto Ioab: Beholde/I haue done this: go thy way therefore/a diſcharge the child: Abſalom againe.

Then fell Ioab vpon his face vnto the ground/and worſhipped/aſhanted i ſinger/ and ſaide: This daye hath thy ſeruaunt percaue that I haue founde grace in thy ſight my loide the King/in that the Kinge hath as his ſeruaunt hath ſaid. So Ioab gat him vp/ and went vnto Geſur/a thoughte Abſalom to Jeruſalem. But the Kinge ſaid: Let him go againe into his houſe/a not ſe my face. Thus Abſalom came againe to his houſe/and ſawe not the Kinge face.

But in all Iſraell there was not ſo farre/ and ſo mannyous goodly a man as Abſalom. From the ſole of his ſote vnto the toppe of his heade/there was not one ſtreyme in him. And vnto his heade were rounded/ that was commonly every yeare/ for it was to heavy for hym/ſo that it muſt needs haue ben rounded. The beere of his heade weyde i was hundrede Sicles after the Kinge weyght. And vnto Abſalom there were borne the ſonnes aome ſouther/ whoſe name was Thamar/ and he was a woman of ſure be wyer: So Abſalom abode two yeare at Jeruſalem/ and ſaw not the Kinge face.

And Abſalom ſent for Ioab/that he might ſend him to the King. And he would not come to him. But he ſent ſeconde tymes/ yet wolde he not come. Then ſaid he vnto his ſeruaunts: Yet knowe Ioaabs part of laude that ſerue by myne/and he hath harſlye theron/ ſo youre waye therof and ſer ſpe upon it. So Abſalom ſeruaunts ſer ſpūt vpon Ioabbs part of laude.

Then Ioab gat hym vp/and came to Abſalom into the houſe/ and ſaide vnto hym: Wherefore haue thy ſeruaunts ſer ſpūt vpon my part of laude? Abſalom ſaide vnto Ioab: Behold/I ſent for the/and cauſed to ſaye vnto the: Come hither/that I maye ſende the to the Kinge/and to ſaye: Wherefore came I ſid Geſur? It were better for me that I were there yet. Let me therefore ſe the Kinge face. But if there be any treſpaſſe in me / then put me to death. And Ioab went into the Kinge/ and tolde him. And he called Abſalom to come into the Kinge/and he worſhipped vpon his face to the grounde before the Kinge. And the Kinge kyſſed Abſalom.

The Xv. Chapter.

After this/it fortuned that Abſalom I cauſed to prepare him kiſſe charettes/a i a ſiſ houſes/and ſixe men which were his ſore men. And Abſalom gat him vp alwaie early in the morninge/and ſtoode in the waye by the ſete/and whany man had a inarce/ which ſhoulde come to the Kinge/for iudgement. Abſalom called hym vnto him a ſaid: Of what cum art thou? If he ſaid then: Thy ſeruaunt is of one of the mybes of Iſrael/then ſaid Abſalom vnto him: Beholde/this matter is right and plun: but there is no man appointed the of the Kinge to heare the.

And Abſalom ſaide: O who ſerred me to be iudge in the laude/that every man which hath a plea or matter to do in the laue/ might come to neer/that I my ſelfe helpe him to right. And with his cote rent/and earth upon his heade.

 And Dauid saide vnto him: If thou go with me/ thou shalt be chargeable vnto me: But if thou goest againe into the citie/and sellest vnto Abisai: I am thy seruant. O Hinge/ eue so I was thy saluare/ seruant/ so and I now be thy seruant: then shalt thou bring Jerophai the counsaill to nought. So is Sadoe and Abisai that spelleth with the / and al that thou hearest out of the fingers house/ tel it vnto Sadoe and Abisai: they will speake. Behold/their two finnes are wryth them: Abimae is sonne of Sadoe/ and Ionia is the sonne of Abisai: by them mayest thou sende worde wher thou hearest. So Chisai Dauides frende came into the citie: And Abisai came w/ Jerusalem.

The XVI. Chapter.

And whi Dauid was gone a hyle by fro the toppe of the mounte: he holde/ Siba is seruant of Iaphobabai met him with a couple of askes filled/ wher on were two hundret loaves of bread/ and hundred fyftee of refines/ and an hundred fyftee fraises of fygges/ and a bottle of wyne. Then saide the kinge vnto Siba: Whar wilt thou do here with? Siba saide: The asses shall be for the fingers houshold to ryde vpon/ and the loaves and fygges for your men to eat/ and the wyne shall be for them to drinke whan they are weery in the wilderness. The kinge saide: Where is thy lordes sonne? Siba saide vnto the kinge: Be-holde/ he abideth at Jerusalem/ for he saide: To daye shall the house of Israel restore my father in good vnto me. The Hinge saide vnto Siba: Behold/ al that I spake/ he hath done: and he hath done with reuerence. Lec

But Abisai the sonne of Neru Ja saide vnto the Hinge: Shall this good dogge curse his lden of Neru Ja/ what haue I to do with you?

 Let him curse/ for the Lord hath com-now: Why dost thou so?

And Dauid saide vnto Abisai and to all his seruantes: Beholde/ my sonne whiche came of my body/ I seeth after my life/ borne much more the sonne of Neru Ja: Let him curse on/ for the Lord hath commaunded him: I peradventure the Lord shall chuse mine vnto Abisai: Whi saue the Hinge/ God saue the kinge.

Abisai saide vnto Chisai: Is this thy mercy vnto thy frende? Whar art thou not gone wryth thy frende? Chisai saide vnto Abisai: Not so/ he loke vpon the Lord do whome shoulde I strue? Shoulde I not strue before his sonne? Let he as I beur strue in the presence of thy father/ so will I be strued before the also.

And Abisai saide vnto Jerophai: Wretched is your counsaill whar ye shall do: Jerophai saide vnto Abisai: Wo lye with thy father concubines/ whome he bare left/ to kepe the house/ so shall all Israel heare that thou hast made thy father to sinke/ and the hande of al them that are wryth the/ shall be holden. He made thy auncle vnto Abisai/ and vpon the vnto him: Thus hath Achisophel spoke: Wyl thou now / shall we do it or no.

Then sayd Chusai vnto Absalom: This is a good counsayll: Achisophel hath geuen a thyng tyme. And Chusai sayde in answer: Thou knowest thy father well / a his man / that they are strange / and of a treachyul stom: et / they are as a Bere that is robbed of her yengeones in the felde. Thy father also is a man of warre/and will not be iuged with the people.

Behold he hath now peraduenturid byd him self in some caue/ in some place. If he came to passe then / that it chaunted euell at his feet/and then shoulde come a rumoure and saye: There is a slaughter done in the people that followe Absalom: then shoulde every man be discouraged/ and he is a valiant / and hath a harte lyke a Lyon: for al Israel knoweth that thy father is strong / and that all they whiche be with him / are myghty men.

But this is my counsayll / that thou gather together all Israel from Dan vnto Betsaba/in number as the sande of the see / and go thou thyne owne persiane among them: then will I set fall vpon him in what place we fynde him / and wyl ouerwhelme him euen as the delue scilich vpon the carth / so that we shall not leaue one of him / and of all his men. But wylde refuse in to a tyme / when shall all Israel castroape about the saint crosse / and haue it in to the crosse / so that there shall not one stone of it be founde.

Then sayd Absalom and every man in Israel. The counsayll of Chusai the Brachic is better then Achisophels counsayll.

¶ But the Loide brought it so to pass / that the good counsayll of Achisophel was hindred / that the Loide myght bringe euell vpon Absalom.

¶ And Chusai sayde vnto Sabac a Thia-el that the pistles: Thus and thus hath Achisophel counsayll Absalom and the Elders in Israel: but so and so haue I counsayll.
 Sende now therfore in al the parts/ and tell Dauid/ and saye: Abide not all nyght in the plaines side of the iudemen: slyde gett out/that the kinge be not walowd vp / and all the people that is with hym. So for Jonathas and Themas / they slyde by the welde of Ke-gell / and a Banell wente thither and solde them. They wente on they way / and tolde kyng Dauid / for they durst not be sent to conuincio the kyng.

Behold some them / and tolde Absalom.
 Heuerehel: they wente on they way / and came to a mans house at Babuin / whiche had a welle in his court / a thyn white yonge in to it. And the woman toke / and spred a yerning ouer the welles mouth / and shrowde firmenye come thereon / that it was not perceiued. Now when Absaloms struans came to the woman in to house / she said: Where is Themas / and Jonathas? The woman said vnto them: They are gone once by the water.

¶ And when they sought and founde them not / they went agayne to Ierusalem. And when they were gone / they dunnid vp one of the welle and / sente they way / and tolde Dauid the kyng. and sayd vnto Dauid: Get thy up / and go sone out the water / as thou and thus hath Achisophel geue / as fast agaynst you.

Then Dauid gett him up / and all the people that was with him / and passed ouer Ierdane ryll it was there morning. And there was not one that be wente ouer Iordan.

¶ When Achisophel sawe that his counsayll went not forth / he slyde his self / gett him up and went home in to his crosse / and let his house

runne now/and byng the fyngre woide/ that the Loꝛd had gomen hym righte from the bande of his enemyes. But Iobab sayde vnto hym: Thou shalt byng no good rydynges to daye/ another daye shalt thou byng him woide/ and not to daye/ for the fyngre point is dead/ But vnto Chusi sayde Iobab: Go thou thy waye/and tell the fyngre what thou hast seene. And Chusi shꝛd his obediencer vnto Iobab / and ranne. Ahimaas the sonne of Sadoc sayde agayne vnto Iobab: What/ and I ranne also? Iobab sayde: What wyle thou rine my sonne? Come byether / thou shalt bryng no good rydynges. He answeredi: What and I ranne yet. He sayde vnto hym: Runne thy waye thou. So Ahimaas ranne the straight waye/ and came before Chusi.

E So for Dauid / he sat betwene the two gates. And the watchman went vp to the toppes of the poile upon the wall / a lyfte vp his eyes/ and saw a man runnyng alowr / and cryed: and tolde the fyngre. The fyngre sayde: If he be alone / then is there good rydynges in his mouth. And as the same wente it came forth/ the watchman sawe another man runnyng/ and cryed in the porte / and sayde: Beholde/ there runneth a man alone. The fyngre sayde: If soune is a good messaunger also. The watchman sayde: If it the runnyng of the spycil / so we were the runnyng of Ahimaas the sonne of Sadoc. And the fyngre sayde: He is a good man/ and byngyth good rydynges. Ahimaas cryed / and sayde vnto the fyngre: Peace/ and washipped before the fyngre upon his face to the grounde/ and sayde: Disayed be the Loꝛde thy God/ which hath gemen ouer the men that lyfe vp theyr handes agaynst my loide the fyngre.

F The fyngre sayde: Goeth it well with the yonge man Ishalom? Ahimaas sayde: I saw a grate rypoure/ when Iobab the fyngre forswaunt sente me thy seruante / and I wore not what it was. The fyngre sayde: Go about and stande there. And he went about and stode there. Beholde/ when came Chusi and sayde: I byngye good rydynges my loide the fyngre. The Loꝛde hath executed righte for the this daye/ from the bande of al them that rose vp agaynst the. But the fyngre sayde vnto Chusi: Goeth it well with the yonge man Ishalom?

Chusi sayde: Euen so go it with all the enemyes of my loide the fyngre/ and with all them that crye vp agaynst the Loꝛde/ and as it goeth with the yonge man. Then was the fyngre forswaul/ a wente vp to the parke upon the gate and wepte/ and as he wente he sayde thus: O my sonne Ishalom my sonne/ my sonne Ishalom/ wolde God that I shoulde see for the. O Ishalom my sonne/ my sonne.

The. XIX. Chapter.

And it was tolde Iobab: Beholde/ the fyngre is awepeth and mourneth for Ishalom. And so out of the vicerys of that daye there came a mournyng amongst all the people. For the people had herde the same daye / that the fyngre toke an heuyl/ because of his sonne. And the people stait a waye the same daye / so that they came not in to the cyte / as a people that is pure to soune / pyeish themselves awaye / when they are fled in a bestrag. So for the fyngre he had conered his face/ and cryed loude/ and sayde: O my sonne Ishalom/ Ishalom my sonne/ my sonne.

But Iobab rane vp to the fyngre/ to the house/ and sayde: This daye shall thou shamed all thy seruantes / whiche haue deliqued thy soule the daye/ and the soules of thy sonnes/ of thy Daughters/ of thy wyfes/ and of thy concubynes / in that thou loitest the that hate the/ and bewest those that loue the. For to daye thou bewest thy kiste that thou carest not for the spyantes and seruantes. For I perceaue this daye / that if Ishalom onely were alyne/ and we all dead this daye/ thou woldst thynke it were well.

Goeth it well with the fyngre/ and go south/ and speake lowrlyngly vnto thy seruantes. For I sweare vnto the by the Loꝛde / if thou go not south/ there shall not be lesse the one man this night/ who shalbe worse vnto the / then all the end that happened the/ since thy yomb vp thy rbert. Then the fyngre gar hym vp/ and sa in the gate. And it was sayd vnto all the people: Beholde/ the fyngre steyth in the gate. Then came al the people before the fyngre. But Iobab was fled curre one vnto his tent.

And al the people stroue in all the trybes of Israell / and sayde: The fyngre deliqued no from the bande of our enemyes / a saued us from the bande of the Philistynes/and wee sayne to flye out of the lande for: Absalom. So Absalom whonke we haue annoynd ouer vs / is dead in the banayll. Why are ye so slowe / that ye fetch not a kyng agayne.

The kyng sent vnto Sadoe and Abia that the prieltes / and caused to say vnto them: Speake to the Elders of Iuda / and say: Why will ye be the last to fetch the kyng agayne vnto his house? For the sayinge of all Israel was come before the kyng in to his house / ye are my brether / my bone and my fleshe. Wherefore will ye then be the laste to byngge the kyng agayne? And saye vnto Amasa: Trennd thou my bone and my fleshe? God do this and that vnto me / if thou shalt not be the chiefe captayne before me in Iobabs steade as long as thou liuest.

And he bowed the hert of all the men of Iuda as o mynne. And they sent vnto the kyng: Come agayne / thou and all thy seruantes. So the kyng came agayne. And when he came vnto Iordane / the men of Iuda were come vnto Gulgai / for to go vnto me to the kyng / that they might byngge the kyng ouer Iordane.

¶ And Semer the sonne of Geora the sonne of Zenun / whiche dwelt at Bebrum / made bayll / and wente vnto the men of Iuda to meete kyng Dauid / and there were with hym a thousand men of Be-

¶ Semer also the seruante of the house of Saul / was his syster sonne / and wente seruantes gaie them these: Iordane beset: the kyng / and passed ouer the ferye / that they might bring ouer the kynges householde / and to hym in pleasure.

¶ But Semer the sonne of Geora fel vnto the kyng / whiche passed ouer Iordane / and sayde vnto the kyng: O my lord / laye not the trespecte vnto my charge / and thinke not vpon it / for my seruante begeth the / in the daye when my lord the kyng wente out of Jerusalem: and let not the kyng take it to hert / for my seruante knoweth that he hath sinned. And beholde / this daye am I come the first amonge at the house of Ioseph / for to go vnto me to meete my lord the kyng.

¶ Neuertheless / Absai the sonne of Zeeu / a sinner was / and sayde: And should not Semer be the first / for the kyng he hath cursed the annoynd of the Lorde: But Dauid sayde: What haue I to do with you ye children of Semer? / that ye will become Sathan vnto me / this daye? Shoulde any man be this daye in Israel? Thinkest thou that I knowe not / that I am become kyng ouer Israel this daye? And the kyng sayde vnto Semer: Thou shalt not dye. And the kyng sware vnto hym.

¶ Mephiboseth the sonne of Saul came vnto me to meete the kyng. And he had not made cleen his feet / nor cōbbed his beede / neyther had he washed his clothes from the daye that the kyng was gone awaye / vntill the daye that he came agayne in peace. Now when he came to Jerusalem to meete the kyng / the kyng said vnto him: Mephiboseth / wherefore wastest thou not with me? And he sayde: My lord / O kyng / my seruants haue dealt wrongfully to me / for I seruaunt I bought: I will sadden an esse and ride therto / and go vnto the kyng / for thy seruant is lame / and he hath accused thy seruant before my lord the kyng.

¶ But my lord the kyng is an Angel of God / and thou mayest do what thou pleasest thy. For all my fathers house was full of the kyng / but people of death beset my lord the kyng. And yett hast thou set thy seruant amonge them / to eate at thy table. What other synne haue I / that I shoulde crye any more vnto the kyng? The kyng sayde vnto hym: What speakest thou yet more of thy matter? I haue sayde: Thou and Eriabare the lande betwixt you. Mephiboseth sayde vnto the kyng: Let hym take it all in as muche as my lord the kyng is come home in peace.

¶ And Barsillay the Gileadite came vnto me from Roglim / and broughte the kyng ouer Iordane / that he might conuere hym in Iordane. And Barsillay was very olde / so good as foure score year: olde / the same had pord / wyded the kyng of foode / while he was at Nobahaim / for he was a very noble man. And the kyng sayde vnto Barsillay: Thou shalt go ouer with me / I will take care for the with myne owne selfe at Jerusalem. But Barsillay sayde vnto the kyng: What haue I yet to say / that I shoulde go vnto Jerusalem with the kyng? Thus daye am I foure score year olde. How shoulde I knowe what able vnto my lord: he sayde: the kyng: thy seruaunt shall go a lytle with the kyng ouer Iordane. Why wilt thou kyng recompence me after this maner? Let thy seruante turue backe agayne: what I may see in my eyne: because my father and my mother graue. Behold: there is thy seruaunt Chimcan: let him go ouer with my lord: he sayde: / and do vnto him what pleaseth the.

G The kyng sayde: Chimcan shall go ouer with me: / and I will do for hym what lykest the: and whatsoeuer thou desirest of me: that will I do for the also. And when all the people was gone ouer Iordane / and the kyng lyfelyke: the kyng Kysid Barsillay and blef-sid hym: and be turned vnto his place. And the kyng: pessed ouer vnto Gulgath: and Chimcan wente with hym. And all the people of Iuda broughte the kyng ouer: howbeit there was but halfe of the people of Israel there.

And behold: then came all the men of Israel vnto the kyng: and sayd vnto hym: Why haue our brethren the men of Iuda stolen the kyng / and haue conueyed the kyng and his householde ouer Iordane: and al Ioudas men with hym: The answered they of Iuda vnto the men of Israel: The kyng is of our myn-de: why are ye angry: therefore? Whyke yet we haue receaued any fode or gyfte of the kyng: This answered they of Israel vnto them of Iuda: and sayde: We haue ten tymes more with the kyng: and with Dauid then thou: why shall thou regard me the? so lightly / what oures were not the first to serue the kyng agayne? But they of Iuda spake ha-

Ch. XX Chapter.

A Hire was a famous ma of Bethel there: whose name was Seba the sonne of Bichu: a man of Ierem: which blew the tra-pe: and sayde: The De haue no poyson in Do-rid: not in her iuanec: in the sonne of Ihu: let every one see hym in his tyme O Israel.
They sell carye in in Israel from Dauid: and followed Seba the sonne of Bichu. But the men of Iuda cleued vnto the kyng from Iordane vnto Ierusalem: When Da-uid came home to Ierusalem: he toke the cencount bynes / C T whom he had leste to kepe the house: and put them in a hold: to be kept and made prison for them: but he laye not with them / and so were they shut vp vnto their death: and lyued weddowes.

And the kyng sayde vnto Amasa: Call me of the men of Iuda together agaynst the threde wyge / and be thou here: gether also.
And Amasa wrote to call Iuda together. And he was slacke to come at the tyme which he had appointed hym. And Dauid sayd vnto Abisai: Now shall Seba the sonne of Bichu do vs more harme then Absalom: Let thou thy loide seruaunt / and followe vpon hym:
that he fynde not some strange cytus for him:
and so scape out of our syght. Then wente Iudas men for to seeke hym: a the Chibthians and Plethians: and all the myghty men: and they wente out of Ierusalem to followe vpon Seba the sonne of Bichu.

But when they were by the great stone at Gheca: Amasa came before them. So for Iudas / he was gyded about his stature whych he had on: and vpon it he had a sword gyded / whiche hangyd by his thye in the sheeth / and wente castly ouer in / and fell from hym. And Iudas saide vnto Amasa: Dia-ce be with the my brother. And Iudas toke Amasa by the heerde with his ryghte hande to kysse hym. And Amasa toke no heed vnto the sword in Iudas hande: / and he thus Iudas. c hym the word in to the belly: that his bowels ranne out vpon the earth: and he thus: at hime nomas. c. And so he dyed.

Iudas and his brother Abisai followed vpon Seba the sonne of Bichu. And one of Iudas seruauntes stode by hym / and sayde What is to be this that wold be agaynst Iudas to please Dauid: and so be with Dauid in Iudas steade? So for Amasa: he laye rolled in the blood in the myddes of the strete. But when one sawe that all the people stode there: they he remoued Amasa from the steade to the side: and cast a cloth vpon hym: for so muche as he sawe: that whosoever came by hym: stode byllow: when he was put out of the way: many men wente after Iudas / so followe vpon Iuda the sonne of Bichu.

And wrote thoro' all the rydes of Iſrael vnto Abiſech Maacha/ and all the beſt choſen men gathered themſelves together / and ſolowed after hym / and came and beſeged hym at Abiſech Maacha / and made a bank aboute the cyrie hede vnto the wall. And all the people that was with Joab layd to theyr ordinarie/ and wold haue caſt downe the wall.

They cryed there a wyſe woman out of the cyrie: Heare / heare / ſaye vnto Joab that he come herber / I wyl ſpeake with hym. And when he came to her: the woman ſayde: Art thou Joab? He ſayde: Yee. She ſayde vnto hym: Heare the wordes of thy handmayden. He ſayde: I heare. She ſayde: The common ſayinge was ſometime: Whoſe wyſe/ let him be: as at Abiſech ſo came it to a good ende. This is the noble and ſyſhyfull cyrie in Iſrael/ and wilt thou deſtroye the cyrie and the mother in Iſrael? Why wilt thou ſwaiove: vpon the endeſſaunce of the Lorde.

Joab answered and ſayde: That he ſarre/ ſhe ſarre fro me/ I ſhoulde ſwaiove vpon and deſtroye. The matter is not ſo/ but a certayne man of might Ephraim/ named Zeba / ſonne of Biſai/ hath lyte vpon hym ſelfe againſt kynge Dauid/ deſpyringe hym onely/ and I wil departe from the cyrie. The woman ſayde vnto Joab: Beholde / his hede ſhal be caſt vnto the ouer the wall. And the woman came in to all the people with her wyſdome. And they ſmote of the hede of Zeba the ſonne of Biſai: / and caſt it vnto Joab. Then blewe he the trump / and they departed from the cyrie / eury one vnto his reue. But Joab came agayne to Jeruſalem vnto the kynge.

¶ Joab was captiue ouer all the hoſt of Iſrael: Brnais the ſonne of Zouada was ouer the Chethians and Pethians: Aboram was reue: gatherer of Zoſaphar the ſonne of Abihud was le hannerler: Sena was the ſcribe: Seder and Abia: har were the priſtes: Iſra also the ſonne was Dauids piſter.

The XXX. Chapter.
There was a Verbe alſo in Dauids tyme three yeres together. And Dauid fought the ſce of the Lorde. And the Lorde ſayde: Becauſe of Saul/ and becauſe of that booldy houſe hold: / that he ſeure the Gibeonites.

¶ Re. xij. d

Then the kynge cauſed ſo: to call the Gibeonites/ and ſpoke vnto them. (As for the Gibeonites / they were not of the chylden of Iſrael/ but a remaile of the Ammonites: betweene the chylden of Iſrael had frome vnto them/ and Saul fought ſo to ſmyte them in his gelauiſe/ ſee the chyldes of Iſrael and Zouada.) Then ſayde Dauid to the Gibeonites: What ſhal I do vnto you / a wherewith ſhall I make the attonement/ that ye maye bleſſe / the enchaunce of the Lorde? The Gibeonites ſayde vnto hym: There is not for golde and ſiluer that we haue to do with Saul and his houſe: neyther haue we oughte to do ſo to ſlaye any man in Iſrael.

He ſayde: What ſaye ye then/ that I ſhall do vnto you? They ſayde vnto the kynge: We are that hath deſtroyed vs/ and broughte us to noughte/ ſhande we deſtroye/ that noyngre be lefte hym in all the co:ſtes of Iſrael. Let there be giuen vs ſeuen men of his ſonnes/ that we maye hange them vpon the Lorde at Gibea of Saul the doſen of the Lorde. The kynge ſayde: I wyl geue them. Howben/ the kynge ſpared Nephthoth the ſonne of Jonathas the ſonne of Saul / becauſe of the oath of the Lorde: that was betwene them: namely betwene Dauid and Jonathas the ſonne of Saul. But the two ſonnes of Riſpa / the daughter of Aia/ whar the bab borne vnto Saul Armony and Nephthoth / and the ſyn ſonnes of Michol / daughter of Saul/ whom he bar vnto Adriel the ſonne of Kep Barſillai the Maſaborite/ ſed the kynge take/ and gaue them in to the hades of the Gibeonites/ whch hanged them vpon the moit beſore the Lorde.

So theſe ſeuen fell at one tyme / and dyed in the tyme of the fiſt haruel when the barly haruel begynneth. Then reke Riſpachs daughter of Aia a ſack cloth/ and ſped it vpon the rocke in the begynninge of the battell/ til the water ſrom the heauen diopped vpon the / and ſuffered not the ſoole of the heau to riſe vpon them in the daye tyme/ neyther the wyde becauſe of the ſhde on the night ſeaſon. And it was tolde Dauid whar Riſpa the daughter of Aia Sauls concubine had done.

And Dauid wrote and toke the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathas his ſonne frome

from the circling of Iabes in Gilead/whiche they had ſlolen from the ſtrete at Beſhams/ where the Philistynes had hanged the/wharpe as the Philistynes had ſmyten Saul upon mount Gilboa/ & broughte the up from thence/ and gathered them together with the bones of the war were haged. And the bones of Saul and his ſonne Ionathas buried they in the lande of Beniamin / beſide the grave of his father Eſai. And they ſpke all theſe thinge had commanded: So after this was God at one with the lande.

But there aroſe warre agayne of the Philistynes agaynſt Iſrael. And Dauid wente downe and his ſiruaunts with hym/ & foughte agaynſt the Philistynes. And Dauid was weery / and Iſay of Iſrael/ whiche was one of the children of Kapha/ and the weyghte of his ſpore was the C. weighte of blaſſe/ & had a new hat made upon hym. I thoughte to ſmyce Dauid. I was ceſſe/ I ſaw the ſonne of Zerubabel ſpede hym / and ſinore the Philistyne to death. Then ſawre Dauid men onto him/ and ſayde. Thou ſhalt not moie go forth with us into the warre/ that the lantern in Iſrael be not put out.

And there aroſe yet warre at Nob with the Philistyne. Then Iſthanan the ſonne of Jaere Origin a Beſtlemeite ſmyce Goliath the Goliath/ whiche had a ſpore/ whiche ſpore was like a weccene honye.

And there aroſe yet warre at Gath where there was a contentious man/ whiche had ſix fingers on his handes / and ſix toes on his feet/ that is foure and twenty in the number/ and he was borne alſo of Kapha. And when he ſpake wyppreſſfully unto Iſrael/ Ionathas the ſonne of Simca Dauides brother ſmyce hym: Theſe foure were borne unto Kapha at Gath/ and fell they into the hande of Dauid a of his ſiruauntes.

The XXII. Chapter.
¶ And Dauid ſpake the wordes of this ſonge before the Lord/ what ſay me as the Lord had deliuered hym from the hande of all his enemyes/ and from the hande of Saul and he ſayde.

The Lord is my ſtony rocke/ my caſtell/ my ſaluer.

God is my ſtrength/ in hym wil I put my truſt/ my ſhyde/ and the home of my ſaluacon/ my defence/ my refuge/ my ſaluacon/ thou ſhalt helpe me from mine enemyes.

I wil call upon the Lord with playſt/ I ſhall be ſhal I be deliuered from mine enemyes.

For the ſouowes of death compaſſed me / in the brooke of Death made me a prey.

The paynes of hell came about me/ and the ſnares of death had ouertaken me.

When I was in trouble/ I called upon the Lord/ yet/ euen my God called I upon/ a ſo he heide my voyce from his holy temple/ and my complaine came into his eare.

The earth trembled and quaked/ the foundations of the heauen ſhake/ a ſhake/ because he was weary.

Smoke wente up from his noſe/ and conſurmyng ſpawes of his mouth/ ſeale were kindled there of.

He bowed the heuens and came downe/ it was darke under his feet.

He ſate upon a Cherub and ſyde by/ & appeared upon the ſethers of the wynde.

He made Barneſſe his paylyon rounde aboute hym / the ſe water in the cloudes of the ayre.

In the brightneſſe of hyin were the ſyccoles kyndled.

The Lord ſhendered from heauen / & the dyell put forth his voyce.

He ſhot his arrowes/ and ſeatered them/ he lightened and diſcoſſered them.

The pouring out of the ſe were ſence/ and the foundacion of the earth were diſcoſſered at the wyndyng of the Lord/ & at the breath of the ſpore of his wrath.

He ſente Dauid from above/ and receiued me/ and drew me out of many waters.

He deliuered me ſee my ſtrong enemyes/ from them I ſaved me/ for they were to my ghyt for me.

They overtoke me in the tyme of my trouble/ but the Lord was my ſaluacon.

He broughte me forth into liberty/ he deliuered me/ becauſe he had a chaunce vnto me.

The Lord ſhall extende me vnto my Roma. ¶ C. iij. righte

I wyll followe vpon myne enemyes; a velleoye them; I wyll not turne backe agayn; tyl I haue brought them to nought.

I wyll consume them; a I shewe them howe comyng; they come not vnto they shall find vnder my fete.

Thou hast garded my wey strengith to the battayll; a I will subdued them widdome that rose vp agaynst me.

Thou hast made myne enemyes to tume theyr backes vpon me; that I myght destroye them that haue me.

They shall crye; but there shall be no Saueour; yee; euen vnto the Lord; but hee aunswerech them not.

I wyll beate them as a snail as the duste vpon the cart; euen as the clere of the strettes wyll I make them thyme; a I spiede them out abroade.

But me shalt thou deliure from the strettynges of the people; and shalt kepe me to be the heede of the Geyben; I people whome I haue not knowen shall serue me.

The straunge chyldren haue deuoyed me; at the bearynge of the cart shall they berken vnto me.

The strange chyldren are wasen olde; and G are thou vpon thyr persons.

The Lord is our God; and blessed be my God; a magnified be the strengith of my health.

God sayth that I be auyged; and subdued the people vnto me.

He bringeth me out fro myne enemyes; a from them that ryse vp agaynst me; shall I be clyme me; and from the cruell men shall thou deliure me.

For this cause wyll I geue thankes vnto Roma; the amonge the Geyben; and syng prayses vnto thy name.

Which hath great health for his kynge; and sheweth to cry vnto Dauid his annoynd; a to his fide for aremore.

The XXXiii. Chapter.

These are the last wordes of Dauid; O: I And the sonne of Isai sayde; the man that was set vp to be annoynd of the God of Jacob; and a pleasaunt byer of foure geas of Isaiell; sayde; The speake of the Lord hath spoken by me; and the vnto myne; that is; is done throum my nunge. He sayde; The God of Isaiell hath spoken vnto me; the strengith of Isaiell; the gouernour amonge men; the righteous gouernour; in the feare of God. To the lyght is on the morninge; when the Sunne cryeth; so that for the brightnesse thereof no cloud remayneth; and as the gentle doleth vpon the earth; thowen the saynt; euen so shall my dome be with God.

For hee hath made an interluyng; com; & Rist uenauant; with me; well appoynd; our cury syde wichey a cleane roid out as f thomnes/ which men take not in theyr handes. And they thet couch them/ shal destroy the wery yans and spacces/ and in the fyre shal they be burnt/ that they maye be broughte to nought.

B These are the names of Dauid's wourbes: Zadaiam the sonne of Bachinoni/ the chiefest amonge: thet/ which lyfe up his speare/a fower cygh hundred as one iunc.

Affer bym was Elcasar the sonne of Dodi the sonne of Abobai/ amonge the chy. wourbes with Dauid/ when they spake dyspyfully to the Philistines/ and were gathered together to the Gattail/ and the men of Isacal went up.
Then shode be up and smote the Pphyltines/yll his hande was so weery that he recepled with the swerde. And the Lo: de gaue a grec weery: as he same tyme/ so the rde people turned affter him to speyle. Affter hant was Samma the sonne of Age the Kocane.
When the Philistines had gathered them selfes in a copany/ in the same place there was a peece of lande full of small corne/ and f people shode before the Philistines/ then shode be in the mydde of the grece of lande/ and Rehured it/ a smote the Philistines. And God gaue a great victory.

E And the chey principal amonge thyrte/came young in the bestt vnto Dauid/ into the caue of Adullaim. And the host of f Philistines laye in f valley of Nephtaim: But Da-uid was at the same tyme in the castell/ and the Philistines people lay at Bethleem. And Da-uid was wofy: and said: Wolde God that four men wolde fydre me a vyntle of water out of f wellle at Bethleem vnder f gate. The br: k f the wourbes into the host of the Philistines/ a vyntle of the water out of the wellle at Bethleem vnder the gate/ and carried it/ a broughte it vnto Dauid: in thretee. he wold a fad: The Lo: d let this be farre fro me/ that I shoude do it. For it not the cloudes of the may that couered theyr leues/ and wrenie theyr bay: And he wold not thynke it. Thus did the chey wourbes.

E Zadai the brother of Joab the sonne Jcodai was one also of the chy. extreme: thet.

He lyfe up his speare and smote the hundred/ and was an auncient amonge thyr/and the noblest amonge thyr/ and was theyr ruler. But he came not vnto f by: t And Benata the sonne of Joisada/ the sonne of Ithai a man of great aces/ of Cabziel smote two neyghe gnaunces of the Moabites/ and wret downe a gyre a Lyon at a wellle in the swete vonne. He smote also a fayre goodly ma of Egypte/ which had a speare in his hande. Wile he wente downe to hym with a staffe/ and wile he spere out of the Eppycyans hande/ by violence/ a fower hym was his owne preyce.
Thus dyd Benata the sonne of Joisada/ and was a famous man amonge the wourbes/ a more honorable then f thyr/ that he came not vnto the chy. And Dauid made bym of his sect/ a counsaill.

Ababel the brother of Joab is amonge the chy: wilem his vnkle sonne at Bethleem, adde vnto this people an hundred sinca as much as tis now / by my loide kinge may his cruell lust theron. But why harsh my loide kinge desire to this thinge? Neuertheless: the kinges wode persuaded a gaignst Joab / and the captaynes of the hoost.

So Joab and the captaynes of the hoost wente forth from the kinge / to numbre the people of Israel / and passed ouer Iordan / & pitched at Iordan / at the ryghte hande of the ryne / whiche lyeth in the ryuer of Gad / and at Iazer / & came to Gilead / in a lowe countree of Hebris / and came vnto Dan Jaan / and aboute Sidon / and came to the stronge citie of Tyrus / and all the cyties of the Heures and Canaanites / & came forth to the South parte of Iuda vnto Bersaba / & went round aboute that countree / and after nyne monethes and twenty dayes they came to Jerusalem. And Joab departed vnto the kinge the summe of the people that was numbred. And in Israel there were thyghte hundred thousand stronge men / that dwelt out the sterarde: & in Iuda fyue hundred thousande men. And after that y people was numbred / Dauides herte smote byn selfe. And Dauid sayde vnto the Loide: I haue synned foie / that I haue done this. And now Loide take awaye the trespass of thy seruauant. For I haue done very vnwysely.

And when Dauid rose vp in h morninge / the worde of the Loide came vnto the prophet Gad / Dauid seer / and sayde: Go and speake vnto Dauid. Thus sayeth the Loide: I bringe the this thynges / chose the one of them / but I maye do it vnto the. Gad came vnto Dauid / and tolde him / and sayde vnto hym: Wyle thou that seven yere deeth shall come in to thy lande: Or that thou seyn to fyve yere thyne aduersaries this manethes / and they to persecute thee in the land: Take aduersement therfore / & se what answer I shall bringe agayne vnto hym that sent me.

Dauid sayde vnto Gad: I am in extreme trouble. Neuertheless: (if it maye be) let me rather fall into h handes of the Loide (for his mercie is grete: I wil not sal into the handes of men.

So the Loide sent pestilence into Is rael from the morow vnto the nyne appointed / so that there dyed of the people from Dan vnto Bersaba / this space and ten thousande ouer Jerusalem to Bersaboye: the Loide repented ouer the euill / and said vnto the aungel: It is ynough / holde now thy hande. The aungel of the Loide was byside the Barne of Irafna the Jebustite. But when Dauid sawe the aungel that smote the people / he said vnto the Loide: Beholde: I see I that haue synned / I haue done h trespass: As for these shepe / what haue they done? Oh let thy hande be agaynst me / and agaynst my fathers house.

And Gad came to Dauid at the same tyme and said vnto him: Go vp and set vp an altare vnto the Loide in the Barne of Irafna the Jebustite. So Dauid wente vp as Gad sayde / and as the Loide had commaunded. And when Irafna lokted aboute hym / he sawe the kinge with his seruauants goinge vnto hym / and he was shipped upon his face to the grounde / and sayde: Wherefore cometh my loide kinge vnto his seruauant? Dauid said: To bye the barne of the / and to buyde an altare vnto h Loide / that the plague maye cease from the people.

But Irafna sayde vnto Dauid: Let my loide the kinge take it / and offre what please hym. Behold: there is an ox: for a burnt offeringe / and sheddes / and barnesse of oxen to the wood. All this gaue Irafna vnto the kinge. And Irafna sayde vnto the kinge: The Loide thy God make h accepteed vnto hym. Neuertheless: h kinge said vnto Irafna: Nof so / but I wyl fynde h for as muche as tis worth. For I wyl not offre burnt offeringe vnto the Loide / of that which I haue for nougth. So Dauid bought h barnes and the ox: for fyfye sheeles of silver / & buyde an altare thre vnto the Loide / and offered burnt offeringes and thanke offeringes. And the Loide was mercifull vnto lande / and the plague ceased from the people of Israel.

The ende of the seconde boke of the kinges boke of Samuel.

The thyrd booke of the kynges.

The first Chapter.

And when kynge David was olde and wellstraken in age/ he coude not be waerme / though he was couered wth clothes. Then said his seruauntes vnto hym : Let vs see a yonge damsel/ a virgin for our loide kynge/ to stand before the kynge/ and to nourishe hym/ and to slepe in his armes / as to waerme our loide the kynge. And they sought a yonge damsel in all the coastes of Iherusalem/ founde Absag of Sunem/ a brought her vnto the kynge. And she was a very fayre damsel/ and nourished the kynge/ and fedded hym. Howbeit the kynge knewe her not.

Adonias the sonne of Hagith lyft up him selfe / and sayde: I wyll be kynge. And he perswaded hym charrettes and horsemen / and squire men to be renues on foote before him. And his father reioyced him not therfore / for he was to faste: Wherefore dost thou do this? And he was a man of a very fayre beery / he had begotten hym nexte after Absalom. And his matre slove by Iob the sonne of Seruza / and by Abiarhae the priest which helped Adonias. But Saboe the priest / a Benaiia the sonne of Joiada / a Nathan the prophet / and Seremiel and Ken / and David Worthies were not with Adonias.

And when Adonias offered sheepe a oxen and fat cald besides the founte of Sobeleth / which is by the wellle of Rogel/ he called all his brethren the kynges sonnes / and all the men of Iuda the kynges seruauntes. But the prophet Nathan and Benaiia / and the worthies / and his brother Salomon called he not. Then sayde Nathan vnto Beresba Salomons mother: Hast thou not heard that Adonias is kynge / and our loide David knoweth not thereof? Come now therefore / I will geue thee counsaill / if thou mayest disperce thy soule / and the soule of thy sonne Salomon. Come now and go into the kynge David and say vnto hym: Hast nas thou my laide the kynge serone and sayde vnto thy handmayden: Salomon thy sonne shall be kynge after me / and he shall sit upon my seat: Why is then Adonias made kynge? Beholde / why thou art yet there / and talkest with the kynge / I wil come in after the / and sell forth thy sale. And Beresba wente to the kynge in to the chaumbre: and the kynge was very olde. And Absag of Sunem scruted the kynge. And Beresba bowed her selfe a wrothipped the kynge.

The kynge sayde: What wille thou? She sayd vnto hym: My loide / thou hast sworn vnto thy handmayden by the Loide thy God: Thy sonne Salomon shalbe kynge after me / and sit upon my seat. But now loide Adonias is kynge / a my loide the kynge knoweth it not. He hath offered oxen and fat carrell / and many sheepe / and hath called the kynges sonnes / and Abiarhae the priest / and Iob the chiefe captayne. But thy seruaunte Salomon hath he not hidden. Wherefore / if thou my loide art kynge / shewst eyes of all Israel lobe vpon the / that thou shouldst see them who shal sit upon the seat of my loide the kynge after the. And when my loide the kynge slepeth with his fathers / then shall I and my sonne Salomon be sayne to be kynges.

But while she yet spake to the kynge / the prophet Nathan came / and she tolde the kynge: Beholde / there is the prophet Nathan. And when he came in before the kynge / he waskipped the kynge vpon his face to the ground / and sayde: My loide the kynge / shall thou sayde: Adonias shalbe kynge after me / and sit vpon my seat: for he is gone doune this day / a offered oxen / and fat carrell / and many sheepe / and hath called all the kynges sonnes / and the captaynes / and the priest Abiarhae. And beholde / they eat a venke before hym / and seye: God save the kynge Adonias. But me thy seruaunte / and Saboe the priest / and Benaiia the sonne of Joiada / and thy seruaunte Salomon hath he not called. Hark my loide the kynge / commaunded this / and not certified his seruaunte / why shal sit vpon the seat of my loide the kynge after hym.

The kynge answered and saide: Cal Bethsabe vnto me. And she came in before the kynge/ and whan she stode before the kynge/the kynge swaie/and saide: Is truly as the Lorde sayeth/which hath vilyured my soule out of trouble? I wil go vnto the thio daye/ such as I swaie vnto the by the Lorde the God of Israel/ that Salomon by sonne shal be king after me/ and he shal sy upon my seate in my steade.

Then Bethsabe sawed her selfe with her face to the grounde/ & thanked the kynge/ and sayde: God saue my loude kynge Dauid for evermore. And the kynge saide: Cal me the priest Sadac/ and the prophet Nathan/ And Benai the sonne of Joisada.

¶ And when they came in before the kynge/ the kynge sayde vnto them: Take your loodes for iourneys with you/ and let my sonne Salomon upon my mule/ and carge him vnto Gezion/ and let Sadac & the prophet Nathan anointe hym thence/ to be kynge ouer Israel/ and blame the troupe and saie: God saue king Salomon/ and go ye vpon after him. And whan he cometh/ he shal sye upon my seate/ and be kynge in my stead: for I haue oidecyned hym to be prince ouer Israel and Juda. Then answered Benai the sonne of Joisada vnto the kynge and saide: Amen. The Lorde God of israyl/ he the kynge sayeth/ thus also to the Lorde hath ben with my loude the kynge/ so be he with Salomon also/ that his seate in age be greater then the seate of any lord kynge Dauid.

Then wente they vnto the priest Sadac/ and the prophet Nathan/ and Benai the sonne of Joisada/ and the Ebrethians and Plethians/ and let Salomon upon kynge Dauides mule/ and brought him to Gezion. And Sadac the priest toke the oyle borne out of the Tabernacle/ and anoynted Salomon. And they blew the troupe/ and all the people saide: God saue kynge Salomon.

¶ And all the people went vpon after him/ and the people pyed with all the pypes/ and was very ioyfull/ so that the carth range of the noyse of them. And Adonias herd it/ and all they whom he had called/ which were with hym/ and they had new caren. And whan Joab herde the noyse of the troupe/ he saide: What meaneth this noyse of the cite/ and this busynesse? But while he yet spake/ he holde/ Joisada thas the sonne of Abiarhar the priest came.

And Adonias saide: Come in/ so they are a valaunte man/ and bringest good rydinge. Joisada answered and saide vnto Adonias: Alas/ our loude kynge Dauid hath made Salomon kynge/ and hath sent with him Sadac the priest/ and the prophet Nathan/ and Benai the sonne of Joisada/ and the Ebrethians and Plethians/ & they haue set him upon the kyngees mule: & Sadac the priest with the prophet Nathan hath anoynted him kynge at Gezion/ and from thence are they gone vpon to roye/ that the cite rangeth withall: that is the noyse that ye haue herd.

Salomon also syneth upon the kyngees Gezion/ and the kyngees seruantes are gone in to wyse the good lucke vnto our loude kynge Dauid/ and haue said: Thy God make Salomon a greater name then thy name/ and make his seate greater then thy seate. And they haue wysed the kynge good lucke vpon the God. Wherevnto the kynge hath said thus: Dreyed be the Lorde God of Israel/ which thus way hath made one to sy vpon my seate/ that myne eyes haue seene it.

Then were they afraide/ and that then vpon all that were called by Adonias/ and so they departed every man his waye. But Adonias was afraide of Salomon/ and gat him vp/ and wente his waye/ and toke holde of the barnes of the aulacre. And it was tolde Salomon: Beholde/ Adonias searcheth kynge Salomon/ and beholde/ he searcheth holde of the barnes of the aulacre/ and sayeth: Let kynge Salomon sweare vnto me this daye/ that he shall not slaye his seruants with the sword. Serlomon sayde: If he wyl be anythynge/ with here shall nor one here fall from byn/ vpon the carth/ durst there be such founde in hym/ he shall dye. And kynge Salomon sent/ and caught hym to be seched/ from the aulacre. And whan he came/ he fell vnto the kynge Salomon/ But Salomon sayde vnto hym: What waye in to thy house.

The .ii. Chapter.

¶ And whan the tyne came that Dauid shoulde dye/ he commaunded Salomon his sonne & saide: I go the waye of all flesh/ I will ¶ Then sent Salomon Benasa the sonne of Iosada/and sayde: Go slaye hym. And when Benasa came to the Tabernacle of the Lord he sayde vnto hym: Thus sayeth the kyng: Come forth. He sayde: and / I will bye here.

 And Benasa tolde this vnto the kyng agayne/and sayde: Thus hath Iob spoken/and thus hath he answered me.

¶ The kyng saide vnto him: Do as he hath spoken/and slaye him/and bury him / & thou mayst put for me and my fathers house / & the kyng: This is a good meaninge / as my loue: the kyng hath sayde/ so shall thy ser-uants be. So Semai dwelt at Jerusalem longe season. But after the yeare it fortun-ed that two seruantes ranne awaye from Semai vnto Iob: the sone of Mada/ the kyng of Gath.

¶ And it was tolde Semai: & he helde / thy seruantes are at Gath. Then Semai gat him vp/ sabled his ass/ and went vnto Gath to Iob/ for to seke his seruantes. And whi-he came thither / he brought his seruantes from Gath.

¶ And it was tolde Salomon / that Semai ¶ went from Jerusalem vnto Gath / and was the Lord / and commaundment that I commaunded thee.

¶ And the kyng saide vnto Semai: Thou rememberest al the wickednesse/ which thy father knoweth / if thou hiddest vnto my father Da-uid. The Lord hath cerpedened / & thy wyefednesse vpo thy heade. And kyng Salomon is blessed / & the kyng of Dauid shalbe sabled before / & the Lord for cure. And / & kyng commaunded Benasa / the sonne of Iosada/ that he smoe him / that he byed. And the kyngdome was stablished by Salomons hand.

The III. Chapter.

¶ And Salomon made marriage with Phao-¶ Pharao the kyng of Egypte / & tole Pharaos daughter / and brought her into the cite of Dauid / & he had sinned his house / and the Lordes house / and the walles rounde about Jerusalem. But the people offered yet vpon the hye places / for as yet there was no house builded vnto the name of the Lord vnto / thyme. But Salomon loued the Lord / and walked after the ordinance of Dauid his father: excepte onely that he offered and burnt incense vpon hye places.

¶ And the kyng winter vnto Gibion to

 ¶ By

by a dream in the nyght/ and God saide/ Ie what I shal geue the. Salomon saide: Thou hast done great mercy vnto my father/ And thy seruants/ Like as he walked before the in scrupulousse/ and right iustnesse/ and in a new herre with the/ and this greate mercy haile thou layd vp for hym/ and geuen hym a sonne to stee upon his face as it is now cometo passe.

B Now Lorde my God/ thou hast made the seruants kyng in my fathers Hauide stude: As for me / I am but a small yonge man/ knowinge nyther my outgoynge no in goynge. And thy seruants amonge þe peo ple whom thou hast chosen which is so great/that no man can number them/ nor be scrute them for mynitude. Gue thy seruants therefore an ebedowne ther/ that he maye iudge the people/ and vnderstande what is good & bad/ for who is able to iudge this thy mighty people?

This pleased the Lorde well/ that Salo mon asid such a petition. And God sayd vnto hym: For so much as thou hast this/ and desiredst longe lyfe/ in thy ryche/ in thy the rule of thine enemies/ But vnderstan ding to heare iudgements/ behold/ there fore thou I vnto accordinge to thy wordes. I be holde/ I haue geuen the an heert of wysedome and vnderstandinge/ so that such one as thou art/ hath not been before the/ nyther shall lyc vp after the.

And the other thou hast not prayed for/ haue I geuen the also/ namely/ ryche and honour/so that amonge the kynges in thy tyme there is not suche one as thou. And if thou wylt walk in my wayes/ so that thou fepe myne aduinaunces and lawes / I as I saide thy father hath walked/ then wyl I geue the a longe lyfe.

B And when Salomon awaked / beholde/a dreame was Salomon kyng ouer all Is rael/ and sod before the Ake of the Lorde/ con uersant/ and offered burneofferynges/ and thankofferynges/ and made a great feast vnto his seruants.

In the same tyme came there two harlottes vnto the kyng/ on stode by fore hym. And the one woman sayde: Oh my lorde / I and this woman dwelle in one house/ and I was deli uered of a childe in the house with her/ and on the thyrde daye after that I was deliuered/the was deliuered of a childe also. And we were together / so that there was no straun ger with us in the house / but we two: and this womans soune dyed in the nyght / for she smote hym in the flap/ and she rose vp in the nyght/ and toke my sonne / for my syde (whiche the handmaiden stole) and layd it in her arme / and her dead sonne layd the in myn arme. And when I rose vp in the mo nyng to geue my sonne sucke/ beholde/ he was dead. But in the morninge I looked vnto upon hym/ and beholde/ it was not my sonne/where in I had borne.

The other woman saide: Not so my sonne lyeth/ and thy sonne is dead. But she sayde Not so/ thy sonne is dead/ and my sonne ly ueth. And thus spake they before the kyng.
 And the kyng saide: This woman sayth: my sonne lyeth/ and thy sonne is dead. You der woman sayth: Not so/ thy sonne is dead/and my sonne lyeth. And this kyng sayde: I sech me a sword. And when the sword was brought before the kyng/ the kyng saide: Dure the hyngr childe in two partes / and geue this woman the one halfe / and yonde woman the other halfe.

Then sayde the woman whose sonne is used/ vnto the kyng: For her morthe here was kyndled with pyre ouer her sonne. Oh my lord/ geue her the childe/ a lyffe. It is not
 he. But the other saide: Let it neither be myne no thine. But let it be parted. Then answered the kyng/ and said: Gue this woman the hyngr childe / and slay it not/ for this is his mother.
 And all Israll herde of this iudgement/ that the kyng had geuen/ and they feared the kyng/for they sawe that the wysdom of God was in hym to fepe iudgement.

The IIII. Chapter.

Bus was Salomon kyng ouer all Is rael/ and these were his prynces: Adaria the sonne of Adode the puell: Eliphath/ and Abi/ In the sonnes of Sisa/ were prynces: Jo saphat the sonne of Ahud/ was chanceryll: Echnai the sonne of Iolade was the chiefe captiue: Sadoe and Abiathar were prync es: These the sonne of Harith was ouer offiours: Sotud the sonne of Marth / prync thy father: and wyl dwell amonge the chyldren of Iseack: and wyl not forsake my people of Iseack.

C Thus Salomon buylded the haufe: and sy-nysed it: a buylded the walkes on the insyde with Cedar ymber from the grounde of the haufe: vnder the rose: and fylde it with ymber on the insyde: and overlayed the flore of the haufe with boards of Dyne tre.

And behynde in the haufe he buylded a wall of Cedar ymber twenty cubites longe/from the flore to the rose. In theen buylded he the quece for the moost holy: but the haufe of the temple before the quece was foure cubi-tes large: on the insyde was the whole hense of Cedar with wythen kneppis and flouces/so that there was no stone seen. As for the quece: she prepared it on the insyde of the haufe but: that is the cyghe mentis was a haufe synysed as it shoulde be: so that they were ten yeare a buyldynge of it.

D And Salomon euersayed the haufe on insyde with pure golde: in boz barres of golde before the quece: which he had overlayed with golde: so that the whole haufe was layed ouer with golde. And all the cultare also before the quece overlayed he with golde.

¶ 10. xxx. b

¶ He made also in the quece two Cherubims of cubites hys of Olyne tre: One wyng of syche of the Cherubims had syue cubites/so that from the edge of his one wyng to the edge of his other wyng there were ten cubites.
Liken so both the other Cherubims cubites also: and both the Cherubims were of one measure and of one quantite: so that eyther of heris was ten cubites hys. And he pume the Cherubims within the haufe. And the Cherubims spied forth they: wynges: so that the wyng of the one touchid the one wal: the other Cherubims wyng touchid the other wall. But in the myddes of the haufe the one wyng touchid another. And he overlayed the Cherubims with golde.

E And on all the wall of the haufe rounde about heris: he made carues: which were of Cherubims: and of palmes: and of Lilys: and of flowers: and he overlayed he also with golde plates. And as the entrance of the quece: he made it two bozes of olme tre/with syue squared postes: and caused carued woke to be made thereof with Cherubims/palmes: and flouces: and euersayed them with places of golde. So made he also at the entrance of the temple: four squared postes of Olyne tre: and two bozes of Dyne tre: so that eyther boze had two sydes: twoe one haue wyng to another: and made carued woke thereof: palmes: and flouces: wyth so it was appoynted.

And he buylded a course also within: with the rowes of set stone: and with one course of plyne Cedar ymber.

In the fourth yeare in the Moneth of Aprill was the foundation of the Lozdes haufe layed: and in the Eleuth yeare in the moneth But: that is the cyghe mentis was a haufe
synysed as it shoulde be: so that they were ten yeare a buyldynge of it.

The. VI. Chapter.

B In Salomon was a buyldynge his owne haufe thirene yeare: and synysed it: namely: he buylded an haufe of the wood of Libanus: an haufe: thire cubites longe: syue cubi-tes wyde: a thire cubites hys: for a square red with rowes of pylles: and with carued Ceders. And therease above fyre he also with Cedar wood: vpon the syue and foure pylles: for a new had syue pylles: so that the flore ouer the pylles: one wyng one against another: so that euery space demyng the pyl-lers was one one against another: four square red with the pylles.

And he made a porche with pylles: which was syue cubites longe: and thire cubites broad: and yet a porche before it with pylles a with a greut poste. He made a porche also vnto the syngis seat: which was the iudgment was set: and made it to be the porche of iudgment: a syue cubites hys: and Cedar from the por-che: vnto the parment: a square: a his owne beuse: wherein he dwel: in sybare court: made betwene the haufe: in the porche of the other.
And hys vnto the par: he made he a haufe: for Bpharao daughter: in whome Salomon had taken to wyfe.

And the se were costly stones: he made after the measure: but with stones on every side:
of the grounde into the rofe. As for the foundation they were collye and greate stones / ten and eight cubites great / and collye fre stones thereon accordyng to the measure / and Ceders. But the greate court rounde aboute had the rames of fre stones / and one rowe of playne Ceders: Euen so also the court by the house of the Lord within / and the porch by the house.

And kynge Salomon sent to senfon / 1000. t. of Tyre a weddow sonne of the 1000. 4. man of Tyre / whiche was a cunninge man in metall / full of wysedome / wnderstandyng and knowlege to worke al maner of metal worke.
 1000. 11. When he came to King Salomon / he made al 1000. 11. the worke / a made two brisen pylers / each 1000. 11. of threightyne cubites hych / a threide of f. f.
 1000. 11. cubites was the measur / aboute both the pylers: a he made two knoppes of brasse molten / to sit aboute upon the pylers: a euery knoppe was fyue cubites hych: and on euery knoppe aboute upon the pylers seven wythou ropes lyke cherynes. And vpon euery knoppe he made two rowes of Dymgranates / rounde aboute in the roape / wherwith the knoppe was covered.
 And the knoppes were lyke Rosen befor the poiche / foure cubites greate. And the Dymgranates in the rowes rounde aboute were two handreit above and beneath vpon the roape / whiche were rounde aboute the thre fynes of the knoppe / on euery knoppe vpon both the pylers.

And he set vpon the pylers before the poiche of the temple. And that whiche he set on the right hande / called he Jakin / and that whiche he set on the left hande / called he Boin. And so stode it aboute vpon the pylers euen lyke Rosen. Thus was the worke of the pylers syn thise.

And he made a molten lauer / ten cubi 1000. 11. tes wyde from the one syde to the other / rounde 1000. 11. aboute / and fyue cubites hych / and a thede of threightyne cubites longe was the measure rounde aboute: and about the same lauer / was ten cubites wyde / there were knoppes on the edge thereof rounde aboute the lauer.
 Two rowes were there of the knoppes molten with the lauer.

And a stode vpon twelve bullockes / wherof the were thre: a towarde the North / the to warde the West / the towarde the South / and the towarde the East / the lauer aboute thereof so that al they bynder partes were within vnder the lauer / wherof the threightyne was an handreit: a the edge of it was lyke the edge of a cuppe / and as a rounde roste / and it containe ned two thousande of Barres.

And he made ten brisen feete / euery one was a cubi 1000. 11. tes longe and wyde: and thre 1000. 11. wyne meassure of fyue cubites hych. The feate was made so / that he 1000. 11. had fyue of the fyue between the ledges. And on the fyue 1000. 11. between the ledges there were 1000. 11. wyde / Bullockes / 1000. 11. For a Cherubyns. And on the ledges whiche 1000. 11. were aboute and beneath the 1000. 11. Lyons and Bullockes 1000. 11. were the fyue meassure 1000. 11. they were ten 1000. 11. Vnderwarden. And euery 1000. 11. had foure brisen 1000. 11. wheels with brisen 1000. 11. apertures. And vpon 1000. 11. the foure corners there 1000. 11. were pyppes / rounde 1000. 11. euery one ouer agaynst 1000. 11. another / vnder 1000. 11. the feete.

And the soles vpon the stoles was a cubite hych and rounde / a cubite and a halfe wyde: a on the stoles there were knoppes in folde / th were foure squared and not rounde. The foure wheels stode betwix the stoles / and the apertures of the wheels were hard on the face. Euery whele was a cubite and a halfe hych / a they were twelve lyke farris wheels. And they apertures / spoked as they / and the nauell stokes were all in steen.
 And the foure pyppes vpon the foure corners of euery feate were hard on the face.

And on the soles aboute vpon the stales a cubite and a halfe rounde aboute / there were ledges and fyues hard on the stales. And on the place of the same fyues and ledges / he caused to carue Cherubyns / Lyons / and palmes trees / one by another rounde aboute thereon.
 After this maner made he ten molten feete / one maner of measure / and wyde / as the feete was in all.

And he made ten coppir 1000. 11. feete / so that 1000. 11. they were foure cubites greate / a vpon euery feate was a stalle. And fyue 1000. 11. stales set by the 1000. 11. right syde of the 1000. 11. house: and the 1000. 11. other fyue on 1000. 11. the left syde.
 But the lance set
 he before on the right hande towarde the South.

And Piram made pottes
 also / and stoles

acle a basins / and so finished he all the worke that hyng Salomon caused to be made in the house of the Lord: namely the two pyl-lers / and twelve knoppes about upon the two pyllers / and the two wyshen ropes to couer the two rounde knoppes upon the pyl-lers. And the four hundred Pomgranates on the two wyshen ropes / euer two couers of Pomgran-ates vnto euery rope to couer the two rounde knoppes upon the pyl-lers. And the ten scales / and ten ketles of silver / and the lauer / a riewell Bullockes vnder the lauer. And the pottes / spounes / and basens. And all the ornaments which Hiram made vnto hyng Salomon for the house of the Lord were of pure metal.
In the fourth of Jordans / caused the hyng them to be molten in thre carb beruene Succoth and Zairban. And Salomon let all the apparell be vntwessed / because that it was so so much

¶ Moconer / Salomon made of the apparell that belongeth vnto the house of the Lord: namely a golden altare / a golden table that the shewbread laye on / syue candlestickes on the right hande / and syue candlestickes on the lefte (before the quere) of pure golde / with flowers / lampes / and six scores of gold thers / that percochargers helme spones / and six scores of pure golde. And the helms of the doores on the in-syde of the house in the most holy / and in the doore of the house of the temple of the Lord were of gold.

¶ His all the worke that hyng Salomon made in the house of the Lord / was finished. ¶ And Salomon brought in that his father Dauid had sanctified of siluer / and gold a ornaments / and layd it amongst the treasures of the house of the Lord.

The VIII. Chapter.

¶ Para. 2. a

¶ Then gathered hyng Salomon all the elders in Israel together / all the rulers of the tribes / and princes of the fathers / armonge the dytyens of Israel vnto Jerusalem / to bringe up the Arke of the conuenant of the Lord / our of the cyte of Dauid / that is Zion. And that is censed vnto hyng Salomon / all the men of Israel / at the feast in the

And when all the Elders of Israel came / the priests toke the Arke of the Lord / and brought it up / and the Tabernacle of witness / and all the ornaments of the Sanctuary that were in the Tabernacle. ¶ This day the priests and the Laues. And hyng Salomon and all the congregation of Israel that were gathered vnto hym / went with hym before the Arke / and offered burnt and bullock sacris / so many that they could not be numbrich nor told.

¶ So the priests brought the Arke of the Lord / and conuenant / vnto his place / that is in the quere of the house in the most holy vnder the wynges of the Cherubynes / for the Cherubynes spread out they wynges in place where the Arke stode / and couered the Arke and the staires therof from above. And the flaues were so long that the knoppes of them were sine from the Sanctuary before the quere / but on the outsyde were they not sine / for they were there vnto this day.

¶ And in the Arke there was no chyng / but only the two tables of stone / which Moyses had layed them at Horeb / when the Lord made a conuenant with the chyldren of Israel / what tyme as they were departed out of the lande of Egypt.

¶ When the priests went out of the Sanctuary / a cloud covered the house of the Lord / so that the priests coulde not stand / and made the effie for the clouds. For the voice of the Lord spake the Lord God hence. ¶ When sayde Salomon: ¶ The Lord God is her because he dwelleth in a dark cloud. ¶ I haue builded an house / to be an habitation vnto the:

the hyng turned his face / and blessed all the congregation of Israel. And all the congreged of Israel stode and he sayde:

¶ Praised be the Lord God of Israel / which promysed by his mouth vnto my father Dauid and by his hande hath fulfilled it / as he sayd: ¶ I censed the King that I brought my people of Israel out of Egypt / haue I chosen no cyte / nor place amonge all the tribes of Israel / to builde a house / for my name / nor city be there.
¶ But I haue chosen to be ouer my people of Israel.

¶ And in this day my father Dauid was in deed to builde an house vnto the name of the Lord God of Israel. ¶ When he sayde: ¶ the Lord

thou art as long as they lye in the lande / whiche thou hast giuen vnto our fathers.

2 And when any stranger / that is not of thy people of Israel commeth out of a farre countrie for thy names sake / (for they shall heare thy great name / and of thy mighty hande / and of thy outstretched arme / and cometh to make his prayer in the house / I haue thou built in heauen / euen in the seat of thy dwelling / and do all for the which that stranger telleth vnto the / that all the nations vpon earth may knowe thy name / and that they may feare the / so thy people of Israel doe: and that they may knowe / howe that thou haue the which I haue builded / so named after thy name.

3 When thy people go forth to the battell agaynst theyr enemies / the way that thou shalt sende them / I and shall praye vnto the Lorde toward the way of the eye which thou hast chosen / and toward the heire that I haue builded vnto thy name: heare thou then theyr prayer and pencyon in heauen / and execute iudgement for them.

4 When thy synne agaynst the Lord there in nouait that synne not. I thou be wroth and deliuer the vnto theyr enemies / so that they eary their awaye captiue vnto that enemies lande: farre or nye / and if they cometh to them selves in the lande wher they are captiue / and turne / and make they: intercession vnto the in the lande of they: captiue / and say: We haue sinned / and done amysse / and haue ben wickedly / so forgiue vnto the with al thy: mercie / and with all thy: soule in the lande of they: enemies / which led them awaye captiue / and make theyr prayer vnto the to wache the way of theyr land / that thou hast giuen to they: fathers / euen toward the eye which thou hast chosen / and toward the house that I haue builded vnto thy name: then heare thou theyr prayer and iupplication in heauen / from the seat of thy dwelling / and execute iudgement for them / and be merciful vnto thy people that haue sinned agaynst the / and woe all them that haue transgressed agaynst the / and graunt them mercy in the sight of heau: / which led them awaye captiue / so that theyr enemies may be merciful vnto them: for they are thy people / a thyne enchaunce / whom thou broughtest out of Egypte / from the non fouaice: that thyne eyes may be open vnto the pencyon of thy seruants / and of thy people of Israel / that thou mayest heare them in all theyr prayes / for the which they shall call vpon the I for thou Lorde Lorde hast sende them out to be an enchaunce vnto theyr selfe / from amonge all the nations vpon earth / and so theyng as thou saydest by Moyses thy seruants / when thou broughtest oure fathers out of Egypte.

5 And when Salomon had ended all this prayer and pencyon before the Lorde / he rose vp from the anleaze of the Lorde / and kete of from the kinge and holdyng out of his hande toward the heauen / and sode a blessed all the congregation of Israel with loude voyce / and sayde: Passed be the Lorde which hath giuen rest vnto his people / accordyng as he said. There hath not one synned of all his good wordes / which he spake by his seruants Moyses. The Lorde our God be with vs / so he hath ben with our fathers / and forsake vs not / neyther with drawe his hande from vs: but home oure heire vnto byn that we maye walke in all his wayes / and kepe his commandementes / ordinaunces / and lawes / which he commaunded our fathers. And these wordes wher with I haue made my pencyon before the Lorde / come nye vnto the Lorde our God day and nyght: that he maye execute iudgement for his seruants / and for his people of Israel / eury one at his myght / that all nations vpon earth maye knowe that the Lorde is God / and that there is none other. And let your heire be perfect with the Lorde our God / so welle in his statutes / and to kepe his commandementes / as it is this daye.

And the kyng with all Israel his people offered sacrifice before the Lorde. And Salomon offered thank offerings / (whiche he offered vnto the Lorde) two and twenty thousand oxen / and an hundred and twenty thousand shepe. So the kyng and al the chyldeyn of Israel dede the house of the Lorde. The same daye byd the kyng dedicate the middelmost court / which was before the house of the Lorde: that he might there performe the burne offeringes / meane offerings geo/ and the fat of the thankofferynges: for the daisyn aulcare that shold defoie the Lord/ was to hys for the burnrofferynges / incens offerynges/ and for the fat of the thankofferynges.

R. vii. c. And at the same tyme made Salomon a stempynge feast / and all Israell a great congreagation with hym/ from the border of Germain vnto the ryuer of Egypte / before the Lord our God / seuen dayes/ and yet seuen dayes / that were fouente dayes. And on the eghti daye he let the people go. And they blessed the hynge / and went onto theye tenues reioyngs and with a mery herte / because of all he good that the Lord had done vnto Dauid his seruauit / and to his people of Israel.

The IX. Chapter.

R. viii. c. And when Salomon had fynnyshed the wyrdynge of the house of the Lord / and the kynges house / and all that his desire and pleasure was to make / the Lord appeared vnto hym in the seconde tyme / I euen so he appeared vnto hym at Gibeon. And the Lord sayd vnto hym: I haue herd thy prayer and prayer / and what thou hast made before me / and haue sanctified this house / which thou hast buydd that I may see my name there for euer / and mine eyes and my hert shall be there alway. And if thou walke before me / as thy father Dauid walked / with a perfecte and true hert / so that thou do al that I haue commaunded the / and kepe mynt ordinaunces and lawes: then wyll I stablish the seat of thy kyngdom ouer Israel for euer / accordinge as I promised thy father Dauid / and sayd: R. viii. c. Thou shalt not want a man from the seat of Israel.

B. But if ye turne backe from me / ye and yorre chyldren / and kepe not my commaundementes and ordinaunces / which I haue layed before you / but go and serue other goddes / and worshippe them / then wyll I rote Israel out of the lande that I haue given them. And I haue sayd that I haue halowed vnto my name / wyll I put away from my face. And Israel shall decrete a bywode and shall amyg al nacions / and so shall this be house: so that every one that goth by / shal be astonned / & make an blessing and saye: Wherefore hath the Lord done thus vnto this lande / and to this house? Then shall it be aunswered: because they forsake the Lord their God / which brought theyr fathers out of the lande of Egypte / and haue receaued other goddes / and worshippd them / so that theye haue sinned them. Therefore hath the Lord brought all this vnto you them.

¶ Now when thirety yeres were ended / wherein Salomon buydd the two houses / the Lordes house / and the kynges house / I where vnto Hiram / the kyng of Tyre / he brought Salomons Cedar trees / a Pyne trece / and gold after al his desire: then gaue Hynge Salomon vnto Hiram thirety tyres in the counte of Gable. And Hiram departed from Tyre / vnto the cytes which Salomon had gyuen hym / and they pleased hym not / and he sayd: What maner of cytes are these / my dyotter / wher thou hast gyuen me? And he called them the cytes of Laban vnto this daye. And Hiram sent vnto the kyng fyve leat hundredth weyght of gold. And he sent to Hiram me of the trece / wher Hynge Salomon refyd to the buydyng of the house of the Lord / and his owne house / and Millo / and the walle of Jerusalem / and Gazon / and Migiddo / and Gazer.

¶ For Pharaos the kyng of Egypte came vnto / and manne Gazer / and dyent vnto hys / and serue the Cananites that dwelt in the cytes / and gaue it for a gyfte vnto his daughter Salomons wyfe. So Salomon buydd the fer / and the lower Berthon / and Baclah / Thamar / in the wysdom / and the lande / and all the cytes of the counte houses / that Salomon had / and al the cytes of the charrettes / and all the cytes of the hoysmen / and wher as pleased hynce buydd at Jerusalem in Libanus / and in every counte of his dominion.

¶ And all the rem name of the people of the Ammonites / Sechites / Phelices / Kenites / and Jebusites / which were out of the chylde of Israel / that chylde wher they leste behynde them in the lande / whome the chylde of Israel coude not vnto the chylde / those they Salomon make tributaries vnto this daye.

¶ But of the chylde of Israel he made no bondmen / but let them be men of wored golde/and all the wiske in the house of the wood of Libanus were of pure golde: for siluer was not regarded in Salomons tyme.

¶ For the Kinges shippes that sailed upon the sea with the shippe of Tyram came once in the yere/ & brought golde/ siluer/ and Iury: Opes and Perles.

¶ Thus was Kinge Salomon greater in riches and wisdom: then all the Kinges up-pon earth: And all the world desired to se Salomon: that they might heare the wisdom which God gaue him in his heart. And they brought hym yearly euery man his present/vessels of siluer and golde/ rayment and harness: spices/ horses/ and mulke. ¶ And Salomon brought charrettes & horsemen together/so that he had a thousand and four hundred charrettes/ a thousand and four hundred horsemen: and that he put in the charret tires/ and with the hinges of I. rusalem.

And the King brought it to passe/ that there was no more siluer at Ierusalem as of times and so many Chero as there were wold spenned in the valley. And Salomons horses were brought out of Egypt/ and from Arie: for the Kinges mardauces fetched them fro Aria for mony. And a chariot came up out of Egypt for six hundred shyles of siluer/ a n horse for an hundred shyles. ¶ Thus were they brought all vnto all the Kinges of the Habice/ and in the Kinges of Syria by their handes.

The XI. Chapter.

¶ The first King Salomon had many out-landish women: Pharaons daughter/and woman of Moab/ of Ammon/ of Edom/of Syria/ and of Bethleem of those nations/that the Lordes sake of vnto the children of Israel: ¶ To nerye vnto them/ and let not them come vnto you: they shall surely bow vnto their heates after their goddes: vnto these did Salomon encline with affection. And he had seven hundred woman to wite/ a the hundred countie/ and his wifes turned his heart asid. And when he was now olde/his wifes bowed his heart after strange gods/so that his heart was not whole vnto the Lord his God/ as was the heart of Dauid
his father.

¶ So Salomon walked after Ashtaroth the god of the Sidonians/ after Moloch the abominacion of the Ammonites. And Salomon did that which displeaseth the Lord/and soled not the Lord in the vision of his father Dauid. ¶ Then builded Salomon a high place vnto Chemosh the abominacion of the Moabites/ vpon the mount lych before Ierusalem/ and vnto Moloch the abominacion of the Ammonites.

¶ Thus did Salomon for all his vngodly wises/ which diene nature/ and offend against godde. ¶ But the Lord was wroth at Salomon/ because his heart was turned asidde from the Lord his God of Israel/ which had two tymes appeared vnto him/ and commanded him that he should not wale after other goddes: and yet kept he not that the Lord commanded him. ¶ Therefore saith the Lord vnto Salomon: for so much as this is done vnto the land/ I will not kepe my conuenant/ and myne ordinaunce/ which I commanded thy father: yet I also pleache thy kingdome from thee/ and giue it vnto thy seruaunt: ¶ Neuertheless/ in thy tyme will I not do so for thy father Dauid sake/ ¶ But from the hande of thy soune will I pleache it from thee: ¶ I will not pleache the Kingdome from a waye. ¶ One tyme will I geue vnto thy sonne/for he and my seruantes shall/ and for Ieru-salem sake which I haue said.

¶ And the Lord rayd vp an aduersary vnto Salomon/ seuen habad the Edomite of the Kinges sed: which was in Edom. For when Dauid was in Edom/ he had the chiefe captiue wente vnto him/ & slayned him/ more all the males in Edom. ¶ For Iobab remained there/ for he was a man of Ierusalem/ he had retired out of them/ when that were in Edom.
¶ Then had habad a certain man of the Edomites wnto him/ of his fathers seruantes.
¶ So for habad/ he was a strong man.

¶ And they gat them vnto Midian/ and came vnto Paran/ and took men with them out of Paran/ and came into Egypt/ vnto Pharaos the Kinge of Egypt: which gaue him on horse and chariot/ vnto the armye/ & gaue him a centrie. And habad founde great fauour in the sight of Pharaos/ so that he gaue hym to wite/ cutt his sister of his owne wyfe/ & haphtics/ Queen. And the pherico lyster bare hym Genubah his sonne/a Char-pences noybed hym up in Ppharao house/in so much that Genubah was in Ppharao house among Ppharao children.

¶ Now when Hadad berde in Egypte & Da-uid was full on slepe th his fathers/and that Joab the chiefe captaine was dead/he sayde unto Ppharao/Let me go into my owne Ppha-rao side vnto him: What lackest thou to me/that thou wylte go into thy contrie? He saide: Nothing:but yettel me go.

¶ God sayd hym up another aduersary also/one Kezon the sone of El Hadad/which fled from his lorde Hadad w^{ch} for the kyng of Ieroboam and gathered men agaynst hym/a was a captaine of the men of warre when Dauid slawe them/and they wener into Damascus and dwelt there/and raygned at Damascus/and he was Israels aduersary as long as Salomon liued: This is the harme that Hadad suffred: therefore had he euil wil at Israel/and was kyng ouer Siria.

¶ Moreover Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat an Ephraite of Sareda Salomons seruaut/and his mothers name was Feruga /a we-do we saye up his hande also agaynst the kyng.
When Salomon buyled the Molle he shut vp a gappe in the cyne of Dauid his father. And Ieroboam was a man of armes. And when Salomon sawe that it was a meece yonge ma/he set hym ouer al the buerthens of the house of Ioseph.

¶ But at the same tyme it fortuneth/that Ieroboam wente out from Ierusalem / and the prophet Ahias of Silo found him by the way/he had a new clothe vpon him/ and they two were alone in the felde. And Ahias toke holte of the new clothe he had on/a reue the same into twelfe peces/ and saide vnto Ieroboam: Take thou ten peces vnto the.

¶ For thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel: Behold/curst thus wil I rent the kyngdome from the hande of Salomon/a wyl geue the ten rebe. One rebe shal be haue for my ser-uaut Dauid sake/and because of the cyne of Ierusalem/ whiche I haue chosen out of al the rybes of Israel: for they haue forsaken me/and worshipped Ashtaroth the god of the Sidonians/El hamos the god of the Moabites /and Maloche the god of the children of Ammon/and haue not walked in my wayes/to fulfill my pleasure/ mine ordinances and lawes/as hath Dauid his father.

¶ Wherewith standinge / I wyl not take the whole kyngdome from out of his hande/ but will reue thym a pynce: as long as he lyueth for: my seruaut Dauid sake/whome I hath chosen / whiche kepte my commaundementes and ordinances. I from out of the hande of Ieroboam his sonne wyl I take the kyngdome/ and wil geue ten rebes vnto the/ and one vnto his sonne/ that Dauid my seruante maye alwaye haue a lanternne before me in my cyne of Ieru-salem/ whiche I haue chosen/ that I maye see my name there. Else soe wyl I take the name to raygne ouer all that chyne heretofore/ whiche thou haste by kyng ouer Israel. If thou so loves me all that I commaund the/ and walke in my wayes / and fulfill my pleasure to kepe myne ordinances and commaundementes/as hath my seruante Dauid/then wyl I be with the/ and I will geue thee a sure house / as I buyled vnto Dauid/ and wyl geue Israel out of the hande/ and therewith wyl I subdue the sede of Dauid/ but not for euermore. But Salomon soughte to kill Ieroboam. Then Ieroboam gat him vp/ and fled in to Egypte to Sisak kyng of Egypte/ and remained in Egypte vntill Salomon dyed.

¶ What more there is to saye of Salomon/and all that he did / and his wisedomes/ we wryte in the Cronicles of Salomon. The tyme that Salomon was kyng at Ierusalem ouer al Israels forty yeres, and Salomon slepe in his fathers/a was buried in the cyne of Dauid his father / and Ieroboam his sonne was kyng in his steade.

The XII Chapter.

¶ And the Nobes wente vnto Sidem/ for all Israel was come vnto Sidem to make a partye. And when Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat berde that he shal be was yet in Eg-ypte/ whether he was fled for Salomon/ he came agayne out of Egypte. And they sent for him/ and called him. And Ieroboam went at the congregation of Israel/ came and spake to Roboam/ thus he sayeth: make our spake to harde/ therefore make thou now the harde bondage/ and the sore yocke lighter/ for he laied vpon vs/ and we wil submitte our selues vnto
the.

the. He sayde vnto the: Go your waye vnto y^e rynde vayne/ and then come to me again. And the people wente theyr waye.

And Roboā the kynge haddea counsaill with the Elders that stode before Salomon his father whyle he lyued / and sayde: What is your counsaill that we may geue this people an answerce? They sayde vnto hym: If thou do this people a pleasur to vayne/ and followe theyr mynde/ and heare them/ and geue the good wordes/ then shal they be obedient vnto the as long as thou lyuest. Heuerebelesse/ he forsoke y^e counsaill that the Elders had geuen hym/ and aske counsaill at the yonge men/ to which were growen vp with him/ and stode before hym.

B And he said vnto the: What is your counsaill that we may answerce this people / which haue saide vnto me: I feare the yocke lyghter than thy father hath layd vpon vs. And the yonge men that were growen vp with him/ said vnto hym: Where as y^e people haue sayde vnto the: Thy father hath made our yocke to sore/ make thou it easer for vs. Thus shalt thou say vnto the: My litle yonger shalbe thic for then my fathers loynes.

Now my father layd a sore yocke vppon you/ but I wyl laye litle thereon. My father correcte you with scourges / but I wyl nourture you with scorpions.

So vpon the rynde way came Jeroboā to all the people vnto Roboā/ so the kyng had appointed a fado/ come to me agayne on the rynde waye.

And the kynge gaue the people an harde rough answerce/ and forsoke y^e counsaill that the Elders had geuen him/ and talked with them after the counsaill of the yonge men/ a sayde: My father made your yocke sore/ but I wyl make it yett sorer vpon you. My father correcte you with scourges / but I wyl nourture you with scorpions. Thus the kyng folowed not the peoples mynde/ for he was turned so from the Lozde/ that he mighte stablish his word: To whiche he spake by Abias of Silo vnto Jeroboā the sonne of Nebai.

149. 11.

E But when al Israel sawe that the kyng wold no cheare the/ the people gaue the kyng an answerce/ and said: What purpose haue we the in Dauid/ or euer haue we in y^e sonne of Dauid? But the to the kynges of Israel. Loke thou now to thy house thou Dauid. So Israel went vnto the kynges: 1. cccc. As for Roboā/ he raygned but ouer the children of Israel/ which dwelt in the cytie of Iuda. And King Roboā sent thither Iddo/ the renegat pater/ and all Israel stonch hym to deathe. But kyng Roboā strengethed himselfe / and gat hym vp in a charrice to Byscopia Jerusalem. Thus departed Israel from the house of Dauid vnto this daye.

Now when all Israel heerde that Jeroboā was come agayne/ they sent for to cal him to y^e whole congregacion / and made hym kyng ouer al Israel. And nomā folowed the house of Dauid/ save onely the tribbe of Iuda. 1. And 4. Par. 11. 4. when Roboam came to Jerusalem at y^e house of Iuda a the tabe of Ben Jamin / euen an hundredth and foure score thousande chosen men of armes gathered the selles together to fight aganst the house of Israel/ and to bring the kyngdome agayne to Roboam the sonne of Salomon.

But the worde of God came to Semerai y^e men of Gad/ and saide: Speake thou to Roboam the sonne of Salomon kyng of Iuda / and to all the other people of Israhel say: Thus sayeth the Lozde: Ye shal not go vp/ and fighte aganst your brethren the children of Israel. For euery man go home agayne/ for this is my wyde. And they berkened vnto the worde of the Lozde / and turned backe to go theyr waye/ as the Lozde sayde. But Roboā builded Sichem vpon mounte Ephraim / and dwelle there/ and departed thence / a builded y^e Denud.

3. 1. 14. 8.

Jeroboā thought in his heart: The kyngdome shal fall agayne now vnto the house of Dauid/ if this people go vp to offre on the hill of the oddes house at Jerusalem/ and so shall the berre of this people turne to israhel. So heide Roboā kyng of Iuda/ and then shal ther laye me / and fall agayne to Roboā kyng of Iuda. And the kyng helde a counsaill / and made two golde Calces / and sayde vnto them: Thus so muche as you go to offer to Jerusalem/ Behold / therc 1/2. 1/2. be to the kyng of Israel / which shal bringe the out of Egypte. And the one shal be at Bethel / and and the other set he in Bethel. And this dede turned to synne / for the people wente before the one vnto Bethel.

Item. 14
14. 1. 2.
He made an house also in the hie place / and made priestes of the finest in the people / which were not of the children of Levi. And vpon the syxtenth day of the eyght moneth he made an holie daye / like as the solemne feast in Iuda / and offered vpon the altare. Thus dyd he at Bethel in doyng sacrifice vnto his calves which he had made / and at Bethel he ordeyned the priestes of the hie place that he had made / and offered vp on the altare / which he had made. At Bethel he synned the first day of the eyght moneth / which he ordeyned of his owne here. And he made his children of Israel an holy daye / a weare vp to the altare to becomme synners.

Ch. XIII. Chapter.

1. 1.
And Behold / there came a man of God from Iuda / sheweth the woode of the Lorde vnto Bethel / and Jeroboam flede by the altare to becomme synner. And he cryed agaynst the altare / shewing the woode of the Lorde / and sayde: O altare / altare / thus vnto the house of Dauid a sonne / Josias by name / which on the thirde parte of the hie place / that becomme synner: vpon the same daye token shall be burnt on. And he gaue a wonder token the same daye and saide: Thus is the token that the Lorde hath spoken in Bethel / the altare that thou / and the asses that are thereon / shall be poured out.

But when the kynge heede the woode of his man of God / there cryed agaynst the altare at Bethel / he stretched out his hande by the altare / and saide: Lay hande on him. And his hande that he stretched out agaynst him / was there / and he coulde not drawe it vnto him agayne. And his altare was rui / and the asses were poured out from the altare / according to the wonder token that he man of God had giuen by the woode of the Lorde.

B And the kynge answered / and said to the man of God: O man of God / I praye the face of the Lorde thy God / and make intercession for me / that I maye haue my hande restored vnto my agayne. Then prayed the man of God vnto the face of the Lorde. And the kinges hande was restored him agayne / and became as it was afore. And the kynge saide vnto the man of God: Come home with me and dine / and I will giue thee a reward.

But the man of God said vnto the kynge: If thou gauest me halfe thy house / I will not come with thee: for in this place wil I neither eate bread / nor drinke water. For thus am I commaunded / and thus is it sayde vnto me by the woode of the Lorde: Thou shalt eate no bread / nor drinke no water / neyther returne the waye that thou wilst.

And he departed another waye / and returned not agayne the waye that he came to Bethel. But at Bethel there stode an elde priest / vnto whom his sonnes came / a tolde him of the woode that the man of God had done that daye at Bethel / and the woode that he had spoken vnto the kynge. And these father sayde vnto his children: Which waye is the waye that the man of God was gone / which came from Iuda. He saide vnto his sonnes: I will not asse. And when they had sadded him the asse / he rode theron / and wente after the man of God / and founde him sitting vnder an Olive tree / and said vnto him: Art thou the man of God that came from Iuda? He saide: Yee.

He saide vnto him: Come home with me / and eate bread. He saide: I maye not turne backe with thee / and come with the waye that thou hast eate bread / nor drinke water with the in this place: for it is spoken vnto me by the woode of the Lorde: Thou shalt neither eate bread / nor yet drinke water / neyther shalt thou go agayne by the waye which thou wentest. He saide vnto him: I will sitte am a prophete as well as thou / and an aungel hath spoken with me by the woode of the Lorde / and saide: Bynge him agayne with thee / that he maye eate bread / and drinke water. But he led vnto him / and brought him agayne / so that he did eate bread / and drinke water in the house.

And when they sat at the table / the woode of the Lorde came to the prophete that he had brought him agayne / and cryed vnto the man which was come from Iuda / and said: Thus saith the Lorde: Because thou hast bene disobedient vnto the mouth of the Lorde / and haste not kepe the commaundement that the LoRD thy God commaunded the. But hast thou eaten bread/ and hast cast bread/ and hast eaten waiccin in place wherof he sayd vnto the: Thou shalt neither eat bread nor drynke wine/ therefore shall nor thy bodye come into thy further greuice.

And when he had eaten bread and drynken/ the Assc was saddled vnto the prophete/ whome he had brought agayne. And when he was gone/ a Lyon founde him by the waye and slew hym/ and his bodye was cast in the waye. And the Assc stode by hym/ and she Lyon stode by the bodye. And when men wente by/ they sawe the bodye cast in the waye/ and the Lyon standinge besyde the bodye/ and they came and wold to in the eyre/ wherof the elde prophete wroote.

¶ When the prophete whiche had brought hym agayne/ heard that he sayde: It is the man of God/ that hath bene disobedient vnto the commaundement of the LoRD/ therefore hath the LoRD deliuered him vnto the Lyon/ which hath rent hym/ and slayd hym/ according to the word that the LoRD spake vnto him. And he sayd vnto his sonnes: Saddle me the Assc. And when they had saddled it/ he went/ and founde his bodye cast in the waye/ and the Assc and the Lyon standinge besyde the bodye. The Lyon had eaten nothinge of the bodye/ muche he had eaten the Assc. Then toke the prophete the dead carcase of the man of God/ and layd it vpon the Assc/ and broughte agayne to the eyre of the elde prophete/ to moue it/ and to burye hym.

¶ And he layd the carcase in his owne grave/ as they mourued for hym: Alas my brother. And when they had buried hym/ he sayd vnto his sonnes: When I dye/ burye me in the grave wherof the man of God is buried/ and lay my bodye besyde his bones. ¶ For I shall come to possesse that he cryed vnto whom I wroote of the LoRD/ against the altar at Bethel/ against all the house of the hye places/ which are in the eyres of Samaria.

¶ Comben/ after this acte had not Ieroboam come from his enill waye/ but was peruerse and made puelle of the hye places/ euen of the smalleste of the people. Lette he wote it pleased him/ his hande to be filled/ and he was full of the hye places. And thus turned to synne vnto the house of Ieroboam/ to bestroge hym/ and to dringe hym to naught from of the earth.

The XIII. Chapter.

¶ At the same tyme was Abia the sonne of Ieroboam sick/ and Ieroboam sayde vnto his wyfe: Wet the vp/ and bysynne the/ so that noman perceaue that thou art. Ieroboam wyfe/ so wente into Silo/ to the prophete Abias/ whiche prouised me in the past that I should be kinge ouer the people/ and take with the ten leaues of bread and cakes/ and a cuppe with honey/ and go to hym/ that he maye tell the howe thou shalt go with the child. And Ieroboams wyfe dyd so/ and gat her vp/ and wente vnto Silo/ and came into the house of Abias. But Abias could not see/ for his eyes were dymme for age. Vnto whiche/ the LoRD said vnto Abias: Behold/ Ieroboams wyfe cometh to thee a maier/ as the foxe is for the figge. Speake then therefore vnto her thus/ and thus. Now when she came in/ she shewed her selfe streunge. But when Abias heard the noyse of her feete/ yonge in as the wyfe. he said: Come in thou wyfe of Ieroboam. Why shewest thou thy selfe so feaung? I am sent vnto thee an haire newe feaung.

¶ So they waye and tell Ieroboam: Thus sayeth the LoRD God of Israel: ¶ I haue made thee kinge ouer the people/ and set thee to be prince ouer my people of Israel/ and thou hast rent the kyngdome from the house of Dauid/ and given it to me. But thou hast not bene as my seruants Dauid/ which kept my commaundementes/ and walked after me to all his dayes/ so that he dyd onlye the thinge I was right in my sighte/ and thou hast done worse than al they that haue bene before the: thou hast gone by waye/ and made the other geddes/ a molten ymage/ to prouoke me to wrath/ as hast thou done behind thy backe.

¶ Behold/ therefore wil I bringe in sorrowe vpon the house of Ieroboam/ and will reuenge me from Ieroboams tenne/ in that they shall take water against the well/ the pynson/ and forsaken in Israel/ and the possession of the house of Ieroboam/ wil I strepe out/ as thou hast strepe out/ til he be dead/ and thou shalt be naught. ¶ Lette that I saye of Ieroboam/ in the eyre/the dogges shal eate him ap. But yin ike bych in the felde shal y foolen of the eye eate up for the Loide whi ipok u.

¶ E Go up to the top / and go home / and when thy fre enter into the eye / the chylde shal dye. And all Israell shal scowle hym / and burye him. For he only of Jeroboam shal come to the graue. Because there is some good sounde in him. For the Loide God of Israell in Jeroboams house. ¶ But y Loide shall raise him up a kyng ouer Israell which shall rote out the house of Jeroboam in that daye. And whas it / that is now in hande all readye. And the Loide shall smyte Israel / yste as a reede is moued in the water: and shall rote out Israell from his good lode / that he gaue vnto their fathers / and shall scatter them beyonde the water / because they haue made they groves to provoke y Loide vnto warre. And Israell shalbe geuen auer because of the synne of Jeroboam / which had synned hym selfe / and made Israell to synne.

¶ 4. Ki. 10. a And Jeroboams wyfe gat her up / went her waye / and came into Thirza. And when she came vpon the threshold of the house / the chylde dyed / and they buried hym / and al Israel lamented vpon for him / accordinge to the wyde of the Loide / which he spake by his seruante Abia the prophete. ¶ Wher more there is to say of Jeroboam / how he fought and raygned / shalbe / is written in the Cronicles of the Kynges of Israell. The name that Jeroboam raygned was two and twen-tyete yere. And he slepe with his fathers. And Abiab his sonne was kyng in his steade.

¶ 4. Par. 13. c Jeroboam the sonne of Salomo was kyng in Iuda. ¶ One and foueryete yere olde was Jeroboam when he was made kyng / and seuentyete yere raygned be at Ierusal / in the eynde that the Loide had chosen out a all y rynde of Israell / to set his name there. His mothers name was Thama an Ammony-tyte. And Iuda dyd that which displeasid y Loide / and provoked hym to indignacion more thal that they fathers had done with they synna which they dyd / for they lye-wese bylded them bye places / pylers / and groves vpon eurye bye hill / and amongst all grene trees. There were whoremongers also in the lande / and they dyd all the abhomin-acions of y Gythen / whome the Loide thow out of the chylde of Israell.

¶ 2 But in the fyfthe yere of kyng Jeroboam wente Sach the kyng of Egyppt against Ierusalem / and toke the treasurie out of the house of the Loide / and ouer of the kynges house / and al that mighte be gotten / and toke all the sheldes of golde / which Salomo had made to be made. In steade wherof the kyng Jeroboam caused for to make sheldes of siluer and comited them vnto the handes of the chiefe foremen / which kepte th: vnto of the chiefe house. And as ofi as the kynge wente vnto the house of the Loide / the foremen bare them / and thoughte them againe into the sa-temms chamber.

¶ 4. Par. 13. d What more there is to saye of Jeroboam / and all that he dyd / shalbe: is written in the Cronicles of the Kynges of Iuda. But be-twene Jeroboam and Jeroboam there was warre so longe as they liued. And Jeroboam slepe with his fathers / and was buried with his fathers in y cene of Dauid. And his mothers name was Thama an Ammony-tyte. And his sonne Abia was kyng in his steade.
 The XV. Chapter.

¶ 4. Par. 13. e In the eighteenth yere of kyng Jeroboam was the sonne of Nabat was Abia kyng in Iuda / and raygned the yere at Ierusalem / his mothers name was Maachab / sou-ghter of Abisalon / and he walked in all the synnes of his fathers / which he had done before hym / and his deere was not proficte with the Loide his God / as was the perr of Da-uid his father. ¶ For because of Dauids iustice / did the Loide his God geue him a lantern at Ierusalem / so that he could his sonne after hym / and manteyned him at Ierusalem / because Dauid dyd thi things that was righte in the sighte of the Loide / and departed not from all that he commaunded him so longe as he liued / saininge in the manner with vnto the Gythen. ¶ But there was warre betwene Jeroboam and Jeroboam / as longe as he liued.

¶ 4. Par. 13. f What more there is to saye of Abia and all that he dyd / shalbe / is written in the Cronicles of the Kynges of Iuda. There was warre also betwene Abiam and Jeroboam.
 And Abiam slepe with his fathers / and they buried

Buried him in the cync of Dauid. And Asa 134 b his sonne was kynge in his steade. In the threintye yere of kynge Zeroboa ouer Israel: which Asa kynge in Iuda/and reigned one and fowertye yere at Ierusalem. His graundemothers name was Macha the daughter of Abisalon. And Asa did that which was right in the sighte of the Lord: as he did his father Dauid. And he remoued the wyche 135 a mages out of the lande/and put boune all the Idole that his father had made. And put his mother also from the ministrans/that she made vnto the Idole: as he had done. And Asa reioyd bet the wyche/and bene-136 a fit in the shode of Edon: but the hie place put he not downe. Yet was the beere of Asa perfect with the Lord: as long as he ly-ued. And the siluer and golde/and vessel that his father had halowed/and such as was sanctified vnto the house of the Lord: that brought he in. And there was warre betwe-137 a n Asa and Baasa the kynge of Israel/ as long as they liued.

¶ Baasa the kynge of Israel went vp 138 a against Iuda/and buried Rama/that nama should go out and in of Asas syde to the kynge of Iuda. Then roke Asa the siluer and gold that was left in the treasure of the house of the Lord: and in the treasure of the kynge 139 a house/ and deliuered it vnto his seruantes hande/ and sent vnto Adnadab the sonne of the Arabian the sonne of Hefson kynge of Shear/ which dwel at Samson/ as he say vnto him: There is a conuynant betwene me and thou/ and betwene my father a thy father: therefore sende I the a present of siluer a golde/ b thou shouldst be: as the conuynant which thou hast wryt Baasa the kynge of Israel/that he may departe fro me.

Adnadab agreed vnto kynge Asa/ and sent his captiues against the cync of Israel/and smote Iion and Gan/ and Abel Beth-Macha/ all Cincers with the whole lide of Nephtali. Whan Baasa heide that he 140 a was of them buildinge Rama/ as wente against vnto
 the 34.

¶ Kynge Asa caused it to be proclaimed in al Iu-da: There may no man be crypted. And they toke away the stones and mber fro Rama/wherwith Baasa had builded. And hwy the builded Geba Be Zaimin/ as Mispa therwith.

 What me: there is no saye of Asa and of al his power/ and al that he did/ as of the cync which he builded/ scholde be written in the Cronicles of the kynge of Iuda/ as kynge he in his olde age he was wiscard in his seie. And Asa slepe with his father/ and was buried with his father in the cync of Dauid his father. And Zosaphathis sonne was kynge in Iuda his steade.

¶ But Nadab the sonne of Zeroboa was 141 a kynge of Israel in the seidre yere of Asa kynge of Iuda/ and reigned ouer Israel two yeres a yd euil in the sighte of the Lord/ as walked in the way of his father/ and in his synnes wherwith he made Israel to synne. Zobab Baasa the sonne of Abia of the house of Isachar conspired against him/ and smote hym at Gibbethon/ which was in the Dyblissines/ by 142 a Nadab and al Israel layd seige to Gibbethon.
 So Baasa slewe hym in the thide yere of Asa kynge of Iuda/ as was kynge in his steade.
 ¶ Now whan he was kynge/ he smote all the 143 a house of Zeroboa/ alie noynges of Zeroboa remaine that had birth/ till he had destroyed it according to the word of the Lord which he spake by his seruante Abia of Seilo/because of Zeroboas synnes/ whiche he did/and made Israel to synne with all/ euen with the proud kynge wherwith he displaced the Lord God of Israel.

¶ What more there is to saye of Nadab/ and 144 a all that he dyd/ scholde be written in the Cronicles of the kynge of Israel/ as there was warre betwene Asa and Baasa the kynge of Israel/ as long as they liued.

In the thide yere of Asa kynge of Iu-da/ was Baasa the sonne of Abia kynge ouer 145 a all Israel the 34 yere/ as I wrote yere/ a yd that which was euil in the sighte of the Lord/ and walked in the way of Zeroboa/ as his synnes/ wherwith he made Israel to synne.

¶ Neuerthelesse/ the wordes of the Lord came vnto Zebub the sonne of Hami against Baasa/and his father/ for so much as I lysed the euil of thy dust/ and made the prince ouer my people of Israel/ and thou wast in me the waye of Zeroboa/ and makest my people of Israel 146 a for too synne/ so prouoke me vnto warre therwith: theye graunce/ scholde/ therfore wyl

wyl I take a way the posterite of Baasa / a the posterite of his house / and wyl sae thyn house euen as the house of Iacobom / sonne of Uadab. The char of Baasa / bych in h cyne / the Dogges / shall deuoure him / and wha so byng of him dwelth in the saba / the sooles of the ayre / shal eate him vp.

Wha more there is to say of Baasa / and what he dyd / and of his power / behold / it is written in the Cronicles of the kynges of Israel. And Baasa slept with his fathers / and was buried at Thiza / and his sone Ela was king in his steade. And the word of the Lord came by the prophet Jehu the sonne of Hanani ouer Baasa / and ouer his house / and against al the mell that he byd in the syghet of the Lord / to prouoke bym with thowt / so that he was the worker of his handes / so that he became as the house of Iacobom / and because he slew / this man.

14. Re. 14. b

In the six and twentieth year of the kyng of Iuda / was Ela the sone of Baasa / a kyng ouer Israel at Thiza / 120. years. Heurthelss / his seruauit Simi / the pynapal man ouer the halfe of the charretes / conspyred against him. So for Ela / he was at Thiza / thank / and was dwelken in the house of Baasa / the ruler of Thiza / and Simi came in / and strake him in the sizen / and twentieth year of Iuda / kyng of Iuda / and was kyng in his steade. And wha he was king / and far upon his sarge / smote al the house of Baasa / and left not so much / as one to make water against the wall / his sloude aunterge also / and his frades. Thus dyd Simi / destroye al the house of Baasa / accordinge to the word of the Lord / which he spake ouer Baasa / by the prophet Jehu / because of all the synnes of Baasa / and of Ela his sone / which they dyd / and made Israel / to synne / to prouoke the Lord / God of Israel / onto wrath / for thowt / their vanities. What more there is to saye of Ela / and wha he dyd / behold / it is written in the Cronicles of the kynges of Israel.

14. Re. 14. b

In the seven and twentieth year of the kyng of Iuda / was Samas / kyng seven daies at Thiza / and the people laye before Gubberchon of the Philistines. But what the people in the hoaste / heide saye / that Simi had conspyred / and slayne the kyng / then all Israel the same daye / made Simi / the chiefe captaine / kyng / ouer al in the doost / And Simi / went / and all Israel / with hym / from Gubberchon / a layed sige / onto Thiza. But when Simi / sawe / that the cyne / should be / wanne / he wente into the palace in the kynges house / and stene / it with the kynges house / a kynd / because of his synnes / which he had committed / in that he dyd / euel in the sight of the Lord / and walked in the waye of Iacob / and in his synnes / which he dyd / where wyl he made / Israel / to synne.

What more there is to saye of Simi / and how he conspyred / behold / it is written in the Cronicles of the kynges of Israel. The same tyme / were the people / divided in two parties / the one parte / helde / with Thibni / the souner of Gumarh / that they mighte / part / bym / kynges / the other halfe / helde / with Anu. But the people / that helde / with Anu / were / nighthen / then the people / which helde / with Thibni / the souner of Gumarh. And Thibni / dyd / and Anu / was kyng.

In the one and thirtieth year of the kyng of Iuda / was Anu / kyng / ouer Israel / 54. years / and raygned / at Thiza / six years. He thoughte / the moou of Samaria / of Samer / for two hundred / weight of siluer / and buyed / upon the mount / a called / Samer / which he builded / after the name of Samer / the owner of the moor of Samaria. And Anu / dyd / that which was / euel in the sight of the Lord / and was worse / then al / they / that were / before him / and walked in al the wayes of Iacob / the souner of Uadab / and in his synnes / where wyl he made / Israel / to synne / so that they / walked / the Lord of Israel / very / much in thyn vanities. What more there is to saye of Anu / and all that he dyd / and his power / that he exercised / in helde / it is written in the Cronicles of the kynges of Israel. And Anu / slept / with his fathers / and was buried in Samaria / and Zabab / his sone / was kyng / in his steade.

In the eighth and thirtieth year of the kyng of Iuda / was Zabab / the souner of Anu / kyng / ouer Israel / and raygned / ouer Israel / at Samaria / two and twentieth years / and dyd / euel in the sight of the Lord / more then althey that were before him. And he regretted him a small matter to walke in the symnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat: I and Ioseph the daughter of Ish Baal kynge of Sidon to wyfe: and wente a seruaunt Baal and wooshypped him. And vnto Baal he set vp an altare in Baals house: which he buylded him in Samaria: and made a greout: so that Ishab had more to please the God of Iracl vnto now: then all the kynges that were before hym in Iracl.

At the same tyme yd Heell of Bethell buylded Jeroboam: I To coll hym his first sonne Abiram: that he layed the foundation: and his yongest sonne Tegub: that he set vp the pouice: accordyng to the word of the Lord:
whiche he spake by Iosua the sonne of Nun.
The XVII. Chapter.

¶ Elish the Deuote / one of the inhabyters of Gilead: sayd vnto Ishab: I To truly as the Lord God of Iracl sayeth: whose ser-uaunt I am: theer shall neyther rayne nor dew come this yere: excepte I speake it.

And the word of the Lord came vnto hym: and sayde: Wei the herce: and turne the ward the East: and hyde the ryuer Crub: whiche is ouer agaynst Iordane: and thou shalt synke of the ryuer: And I haue commanded the auens: chaerthey shall fide: thereby repaired: and vnto accordyng to the word of the Lord: and went his way: and sat hym downe by the ryuer Crub: whiche is ouer agaynst Iordane. And the rauens brought him bread and flesch in the moynyng: and in the euenyng: and he dranke of the ryuer.

And it fortuned after certayne dayes: that the ryuer was dryed vp: for there was no raue in the lande. Then came the word of the Lord vnto hym: and sayde: Get thee vp: I go vnto Saraim: which lieth by Sidon: for thert haue I commaned a wedow to make pouice for J.

¶ And he gat him vp: and wente vnto Saraim: And when he came to the gate of the citty: beholde: the wedowe was there: a gardened sytewe. And he called her: and sayde: Get me a hysle water in a vessill: that I may drinke. And as she was goyng to fetch it: he cryed vnto her: and sayd: Bring me a messell of bread also in thyne hande. She sayde: To truly as the Lord thy God sayeth: I haue no bread: but my handfull of flour in a purcher: and a curesse oyle in a cruise: a beholde: I haue gathered vp one or two sytewe: and will go and prepare it for me: my sonnie:

that we maye eate and bye.

¶ Elish sayde vnto her: Feare not: go thy way: a do as thou hast sayd: get make first a messell of breade the cruf: a sytewe: it is one souer: and afterwarde shalt thou make it for the and thy sonne. For thus sayeth the Lord God of Iracl: The meell in the purcher shall not be spence: and the oyle in the cruise shall not fayll: vntill the daye that the Lord God shall raise for to rayn vpon earth. She wente and dyd as Elish sayd. And he dyd ear: and she also:
and her house a certayne season. The need in the pouice was not mynyshed: and the oyle in the cruise fayled not: accordyng to the word of the Lord: whiche he spake by Elish.

¶ And after these actes: the sonne of the wyfe of the house was speke: and his synelnesse was so exceedyng: for he that were remayned no breath in hym. And he sayd vnto Elish: What haue I to do with the: / thou man of God: Ar thou come in vnto me: that my syn-ne shoulde be kept: or remembred: and that my sonne shoulde be slayne: He sayd vnto her: Goue me thy sonne. And he toke hym from her lappe: a cryed hym vp in to the chamber where he dyd hisse dyed: and layd hym vpon his bed: and called vpon the Lord: a sayde: O Lord my God hast thou sale so euel with the wedow: with whome I dwell: that thou woldest slay her sonne: I And he layd stretched out hymselfe ouer the chyld: the xij. d mes: and called vpon the Lord: and sayde: Heel: please O Lord my God: set the soule of this chyld a come agayne in to hym. And the Lord herde the voyce of Elish: And the soule of the childe came agayne in to hym: and he cured.
And Elish toke the chyld: brought him vnto from the chamber in to the house: and they weerd hym vnto his mother: and sayde: Be-holde: thy sonne lyueth. And the woman sayd vnto Elish: Vnto know I that thou art a man of God: and that the word of the Lord is in thy mouth of a certyn. F

The XVIII. Chapter.

¶ After a longe season came the word of the Lord vnto Elish in the thirde yere and said: † Go thy waye / and shew thy selfe vnto Ahab / that I may cause it: so to cayne vpon carth. And Eliab went to shewe hym selfe vnto Ahab. But there was a greate desert in Sainarie. And Ahab called Abdias his chiefe officer. And for Abdias he feared the Lorde greatly: for when Iesabel coted out the prophets of the Lorde / Abdias toke an C. prophets / and hid them in caves / here by ffray / and there by ffray / and prouided for them with bread and water. Ahab now saide vnto Abdias: Go thoue in the lande / vnto all the welles of water and riuers / if happily we maye finde hay / to saue the horses and mules / that of the cattel perishe not. And they passed them selfes in to the lande / to go thowout. Ahab departed in one waye alone / and Abdias the other waye alone.

Now when Abdias was on the waye / Eliab met him. And when he sawe him / he fell downe vpon his face / and saide: Let not thou my lord Eliab. He saide: yee / go thy waye / and tell thy lorde: beholde / Eliab is nere. But he saide: What haue I offuded / if thou wilt deliuer thy seruants in to the handes of Ahab / that he maye slaye me: As truly as the

B Lorde thy God liueth / there is no people nor Kingdome. But my lord hath sent thee to see the. And when they said: He is not here / he toke an oath of the same Kingdome a maner / that they had not founde the. And now thou sayest: Go tell thy lorde: beholde / Eliab is here. Now if I were gone from the / the spete of the Lorde should take the way / I can not tell whither: and if I then came and tolde Ahab / and founde the not / he should slaye me: But thy seruants searche the Lorde from his youth up. For it is not ben tolde any lorde what I did / when Iesabel slew the prophets of the Lorde: how that I had an hundred of the Lordes prophets / here by ffray / and there by ffray in re caves / and prouided for them with bread and water: And thou sayest now: Go thy waye / and respect thy lorde / Eliab is here: that he maye slaye me. Eliab saide: As truly as the Lorde Sabaoth liueth / before we come I stande / I will shewe my selfe vnto him: thus they saie. Then wente Abdias to meete Ahab / and tolde him. Ahab wente so to meete Eliab.

And when Ahab sawe Eliab / Ahab said unto him: Art thou he that troublest Israel: He saide: I trouble not Israel: I but it is thou a thy father a house / because ge haue / for sake the commaundementes of the Lorde / and walke after Baal. Go to / sende forth now a garner in all Israel together vnto mount Carmel / and the four hundred and fiftie prophets of Baal / and the four hundred prophets of the groue / which care of Iesabels table. So Ahab sente vnto all the children of Israel / a gathered the prophets together vnto mount Carmel.

Then slepe Eliab vnto all the peopl and C. sayde: How longe haue ye on both the sides: If the Lorde be God / then walke after him: but if Baal be he / then followe him. Then said Eliab vnto the people: I only am left a prophete of the Lorde: but Baals prophets are four hundred and fiftie men. Come ye now two bullocks / and let them chuse one bullock / and let me be: and laye downe upon the wood / and put no fire thowon: so will I take the other bullock / and laye him upon the wood: and put no fire thowon also: call ye then vpon the name of your god / and I will call vpon the name of the Lorde: Let which God now answereth with fire / let the same be God. And all the people answered and sayde: That is ryght. And Eliab layd vnto Baals prophets: Chuse ye one bullocke / and do ye first / I will seee many: and call ye vpon the name of your god / and laye no fire thowon.

And they toke the bullocke which he gaue: and them / and prepared it / and called vpon the name of Baal from the morning vnto the noone day: as saide: O Baal heare vs: But there was neither voyce nor answer. And they dopped about the aultare / as they erst was to do. Now when it was noone day / Eliab motted them / and sayd: Crye lorde / for he is a god / speak wth me: he is mustyng: but haue some what to do: or is gone some iourney / or haply he slepeth / so that he wolde be waked vp. And they cryed lorde / and prouided them selfes with knyues / and boikes / as they erst maner was. Till the bloude followed. But when the noone daye was past / they propheted vnto the same that the errar offering should be offred: and there was neither voyce / nor answer.

Then sayd Eliah vnto all the people: Come hyther all ye people vnto me. And when all the people came to hym/the cypressede tree aultare of the Lozde that was brokene / was sette ierke stones / as ordynynge of the numbre of the mybes of the chyldren of Jacob / vnto whom the woide of the Lozde spake a saide

¶ The name shall be Israel / and of the stones shal be buylded an aultare in the name of the Lozde / & made a pye round aboute the aultare / & sette two stoueces in the corne lande / and prepared the wood / and he tved the bullocke in peeces / and layed hym vpon the woode / and said:

E Now four pittchers full of water / and poure it vpon the burnt offeringe / and vpon the wood. And he sayd: Do it the thide tyme. And they dyd it the thide tyme. And the water ranne aboute the aultare / and the pye was full of water also.

And when the tyme was to offer the meat offeringe: Eliah spake forth / and sayde: O Lozde God of Abraham / of Isaac / and of Israel / let it be knowne this day / that thou art God in Israel / and I thy seruante / and that I haue done all this: as ordynynge vnto thy woide. Heare me O Lozde / O heare me: that this people may knowe how that thou art the Lozde God / that thou mayst afferre id wa be reue ider: bettes. ¶ Then fell vnto the fire of the Lozde / and consumed the burnt offeringe / the wood / the stones / and the earth / and stred vp the water that was in the pye. When all the people sawe that / they fell vpon their faces / and sayde: The Lozde is God / the Lozde is God. Eliah sayd vnto them:

¶ They handes vpon Baal prophetes / that none of the escape. And they rote them. And Eliah brought them vnto the brooke Cisbon / and strew them thence.

¶ And Eliah sayde vnto Abah: Go vp / eat and drynke / for it soundeth as though it would raine. And when Abah went vp to eate a mynne: Eliah ascended vp to the toppe of Carml / and betred byrnyllish vnto the earth / and put his heade betwene his knees / and said vnto his lad: Go up / and loke toward the see. He went vp and loked / and said: There is no bouge. He said: Go againe seven tymes. And at the seventh tyme he sayd: Beholde / there goeth up a lyle cloude out of the see / & styke a mans hande. He said: Wasp / and saye vnto Abah: Bynde thy charyttee / and go vnto the rayne ouercaste the no. And as a man coulde turne hym / the heauen was blacke with cloude / and wнды / they came a great raine. But Abah rode his waye / and departed vnto Israel. And the hande of the Lozde came vpon Eliah / and he gyded his loynes / and ranne before Abah / & he came vnto Israel.

The XIX. Chapter.

When Abah was in Israel / all that Eliah had done / and how he had slayne all Baal prophetes with the swerde. Then sent Israhel a messenger vnto Eliah / sayinge: The goddes do this and that vnto me / y / I to none other aboute this tyme / make not thy soule as one of these. Then was he answered / and gat hym vp / and went where he wolde / & a came vnto Beersaba in Juda / and left his lab there. But he him self wente a daye iourney in to the wyldernesse / and came in / & sat him vnder a Juniper tree / and wysshed vnto his soule that he myght dye / and sayd: ¶ It is now ynough Lozde / take my soule / for I am no better then my fathers. And he layd him vnto the ground / and stred vnder the Juniper tree.

¶ And beholde / the anngell couched him / and sayd vnto hym: Stande vp / and eat. And he loked aboute hym / and beholde / at his heade there was a bread baken on the toles / and a cruse with water. And when he had eaten a mynne / he layd him vnto the ground / and stred.

¶ And the anngell of the Lozde came agayne the seconde tyme / and touched him / and sayd: Stande vp / and eat / for thou hast a great waye to go. And he arose / and dyd eate and drinke / and wente on his waye: the strength of that meate / & fourty dayes and fourty nyghtes / he came vnto Horeb the mount of God. ¶ And there he came to a cave / & abode there all Manasse nyghte. And beholde / the woide of the Lozde came to him / and said vnto him: What dost thou here Eliah? He sayde: I haue ben zelous for the Lozde God Sabaoth / for the chyldren of Israel haue forsaken thy commandment / and broken vnto thyne aultares / & I am left onely / and they sate to take away my life. He saide Go forth / and stande vpon the mount before the Lorde. And beholde / the Lorde wente out / and a great myghty wende / which he rue the mountaine / and beate the harte / for ne came before the Lorde: but the Lorde was not in the wende. After the wende came there an earthquake: but the Lorde was not in the earthquake.

¶ And after the earthquakes there came a fyre but the Lorde was not in the fyre. And after the fyre came there a styf soue byffing.
When Eliah herbe that / he couer'd his face with his clothe / and wene forth / and stode in the douer of the caue. And behold / there came a voyce vnto hym / a saide: What hast thou here to do Eliah.

¶ He saide: I feare thy seruantes / for the Lorde God Sabaoth: I for thy chylden of Israel haue forsaken thy tabernacles / broken douere thine altars / slaine thy prophets with swerde / and I only am left / a chere site to take away my life. But the Lorde said vnto hym: Go thy waye agayne thow the wyrdnesse vnto

Samson / and go in / and anointe Hysael kinge ouer Siria / * and Jehu the sonne of Nemsi kinge ouer Israel / and Elsisus the sonne of Saphar of Abel Nebola so be prophet in thy feare. And it shall come to passe / that who so escapeth thy swerde of Hysael / Jehu shall slaye him: and who so escapeth the swerde of Jehu / Elsisus shall slaye hym.

¶ And I will reserue vnto me. viij. M. men in Israel: namely all the knees which haue not bowed the selfe vnto Baal / and every mouth that hath not kyssed hym.

¶ And he departed thence / and founde Elisus the sonne of Saphar / plowynge with twelve yoke of oxen before hym / and he hym selfe was amonge the twelue. And Eliah wente vnto hym / and cast his clothe vpon hym. And he lefte the oxen / and ranne after Eliah / and said: I let me kiss my father and my mother / and so will I folowe the. And he said vnto hym: Go thy waye and conu agayne for I haue somwhat to do with the. And he came again from hym: and it was yoke of oxen / and offered it / and stode the selfe with the wode of the oxen place / and gaue it vnto the people to eat: and gaue hym vp / and folowed Eliah / and mansted vnto hym.

¶ Epi. XX. Chapter.

¶ And Benadab the kyng of Siria gaue a wyrd al his power / and there were two and thyrtye. Fynges with hym / and boyses and chariotes / and he went vp / and laste sigoned Samaria / and fought agaynst it. And he hit the messaugers vnto Achab the kyng of Israel in the cyty / and caused to sary vnto hym: Thus sayeth Benadab: He ys slaine and thy golde is none: and the wyse and thy dyff chylden are myne also. The kyng of Israel answer'd / and sayd: My lord / O fynges / as thou hast sayd / I am thyne / and all that I haue.

¶ And the messaugers came agayne / and sayd: Thus sayeth Benadab: I go muche as I haue bene vnto the / saynge: Thy slaine and thy golde / thy wyse and thy chylden shalt thou gaue me / so mouer aboute this tyme will I sende my seruantes vnto the / that they maye katche chyne hoise / and the hoise of thy subiectes: wote what place / in thyng: thou hast / that shall they take in they: handes / a caryt a waye. So the kyng of Israel kild al the Elderes of the land / and sayd: Make well and se what myschefe this man shalde: He sent vnto me for my wyse and chylden / for fleace and golde / and I haue not sayd him wate. Then sayd all the Elders / and all the people vnto hym: Thou shalt not conserue me: agree vnto hym. And he spake vnto Benadab messaugers. Sey vnto my lord the kyng: Al the thynges wherfor thou thyddest sende vnto me / by seruantes / at the first / wold I haue bene barthles an I not do. And the messaugers wente / and told this agayne.
Then hit Benadab vnto hym saynge: The goddes do this and that vnto me / yf the dyff of Samaria shalbe ynough / for I am one of my people to buynt me an handfull thereof.
But the kyng of Israel answer'd / and sayd Tell him: Let it not him that punysh on the necessite make his doost / yf he him that hath purit of. When Benadab herbe that / Cuen as he was then fyght with the Fynges in the pa-uyson / he said vnto his seruantes: See your selfe in araye. And they set the selfe in araye agaynst the cyty.

¶ And beholde / there came a prophete vnto Achab

Luc. x. f

Asah the kyng of Israel/a sayd. Thus sayeth the Lord: Asai thou sente all this great multitude: Whylt/ thou saye wilt I deliuer the in to thy handes/ that thou shalt knowe howe that I am I the Lord. Asah sayd. By whom? He sayd: Thus sayeth the Lord: I am by the yonge men of the rulers of the lande. He sayd: Who shall order the battayle? He sayd: Thou. Then mustered he the yonge men of the rulers of the lande/ and there were two hundred and thre and thirtie of the/ and after them mustered he of the whole people of all the children of Israel/ sume thousand men/ as they were cut in the moone daye. As for Benadad/ he chaunge and receiued himselfe in the paragon with the two and thirtie kynges/ which were come to kelye him. And the yonge men of the rulers of the lande wente forth first.

Benadad sent forth/ and they brought him word/ and sayde: here come men out of Samaria. He sayd: Take them alyue/ whither they be come/ forth for peace/ or for warre. But when the lande rulers yonge men were gone forth/ and the hostis behynd them/ every one smote him that came in his waye. And the Syrians fled/ and Israel followed after them. And Benadad/ a kyng of Syria escaped with horses and bowemen. And the kyng of Israel went forth/ and smote horses and charrettes/ and dyd a great slaughter on the Syrians.

Then came there a prophet vnto the kyng of Israel/ and sayd vnto him: Wo thy wyfe/ and strength the/ and take heed/ and loke well wher thou goest: for within the yere is about the kyng of Syria that I come up agaynst the. For the kyng of the Syrians seruantes sayd vnto him: They goddes are goddes of the mountaynes/ therefore haue they gotten the wyte.

But let vs fyght with them on the playne/ and thou shalt see that we shall ouercome the. So he put away the kynges euy one from his place/ and set bulkes in theyr scabbes/ and appointed the eu bo: so was that/ which thou hast said/ and horses and charrettes as the other were/ and let vs fyght agaynst them in the playne/ and thou shalt see that we shall haue the victory. He consented vnto theys wordes/ and dyd so.

Nowe when the yere was gone aboute/

Benadad appointed the Syrians/ and wente up towards Zephel/ to fyght agaynst Israel/ and the children of Israel mustered/ and prepared them selves with wyddes/ and wente nixte them/ and pushed theyr tentes ouer agaynst them/ yett two hyle flockes of goates/ but the lande was full of the Syrians.

And there came a man of God/ and sayde vnto the kyng of Israel: Thus sayeth the Lord: because the Syrians haue said/ that the Lord is a God of the mountaynes/ and not a God of the valles/ therefore haue I given all this great heape in to thy handes/ that thou may knowe howe that I am the Lord. And they pushed theyr tentes eght ouer agaynst them seven dayes. But upon the seventh daye they wete together in the battayle/ and the children of Israel smote of the Syrians an hundred thousand foote men in one daye/ and the remnaunt fled to Zephel in the eyne/ a the wall fell vpon the other seven and threty thousand men. And Benadad fled also vnto the eyne in a hyle chamber.

Then sayd his seruantes vnto him: Beholde/ we haue herde that the kynges of the house of Israel are mercifull kynges. Let vs therefore put sackcloth about our loynes/ and haltes about our neckes/ and go forth to the kyng of Israel/ peradventure he shall let thy soule lyue.

And they put sackcloth about theyr loynes/ and haltes about theyr neckes/ and came to the kyng of Israel/ and sayd: Benadad thy seruant sayeth vnto thee: O let my soule lyue. He sayd: If he be yett alyue/ he is my brother. And the men toke him shortly at his wydes/ & expounded it for them selfe a sad. Yett Benadad wote thy brother. He sayd: Come and bring hym. Then went Benadad forth vnto hym/ as he caused hym to sit vpon the charret/ a sadyde vnto hym: The crye that my father tolde/ is to thy father will I geue the agayne. And made thou strectes for thy selfe at Samaria/ so my father did/ or Samaria/ so will I let the go in a bonde of peace. And he made a conuenaunce with hym/ and let him go.

Then spake there a man amonge the children of the Prophets vnto his neyghbour/ by the worde of the Lord: I pcare in synne me. But he refused to synne by me. Then sayde saphar the kyng of Iuda boune to the kyng of Israel. And the kyng of Israel sayde vnto h^e a forsworne: I knowe ye not. The kyng of Iuda sayde vnto h^e and take it not one of the hande of the kynges of Siria. And he sayde vnto Josaphat: Why shouldest thou saye vnto me to the banysse vnto Ramoth in Siria: Josaphat sayde vnto the kynges of Siria: I will be as thou/my people as thy people/ and my wives as thy wives. And Josaphat sayde vnto the kynges of Israel: I see this is the base at the worde of the Lorde. Then the kynges of Israel gathered together the prophete and set a tree/ aboute a^r four hundred men/ and sayd: In Regard vnto them: Shall I go vnto Ramoth in Siria to fight/ or shall I let it alone. They sayde: Go vp. The Lorde shall deliuer it in to the kynges hande. But Josaphat sayde: Is there not one prophete here more of the Lorde/ wher maye we see at hym.

The kyng of Israel sayde vnto Josaphat: Here is yett a man/ one Mithaas the sonne of Iedaia/ whome we maye see of the Lorde: but I haue him/ for the prophete is me no good/ but euill. Josaphat sayde: Let not the kyng see so. Then called the kyng of Israel a chamberlayne/ and sayde: Bynge her some Mithaas the sonne of Iedaia. And he sayde for the kyng of Israel/ a Josaphat the kyng of Iuda they saye/ ether of them upon his face/ arayed in theyr garmentes/ in the place at the vone of the porte of Samaria/ and all the prophetes propheted beside them. And Obede was the sonne of Enaia had made hym honore of yon / and sayde: Thus sayeth the Lorde: With these shall thou pish at the Siria/ till thou bynge them to nougth. And all the prophetes propheted by themselves/ and sayde: Go vp vnto Ramoth in Siria/ thou shalt prosper/ right well/ and the Lorde shall deliuer it into the kynges hande. And the messenger that wente to call Mithaas sayde vnto hym: Hold. The wordes of the prophete is with one eccorde good beside the kynges/ as theyr wyde sheweth/ as theyr wyde/ and speake thou good also.

Mithaas sayde: As truly as the Lorde liueth/ as he wher the Lorde sayeth vnto me/ that wyll I speake.

And vpon he came to the kyng/ the kyng sayde

And ouer Josaphat spake the Lorde also/ and sayd: I The dogges shall deuoure Josaphat in the felde of Israel. Who so of Iuda bynch in the cync / him shall the dogges eate vp/ and who so bynch in the felde / the foules vnder the heauen shall eate hym op. So cleane it felde to do my thefe in the sight of the Lorde hath no man ben / as I said: for his scheld hath so discaued hym/ and he maketh hymself a great abominacion/ that he goeth ether to Iedaia / according vnto all as dyd the Amoitites/ that whome the Lorde spyled because of the dyddien of Israel.

But vpon Josaphat herd these wordes/ he rent his clothes / and puce sackcloth on his body/ and fasted / and slepte in sackcloth / and wente aboute hangynge vnto his heade. And the worde of the Lorde came to Iehab the Chetuius / and sayde: Hast thou not seene how I Iuda humbled hym kille before me/ for so muche no as he humbled hym selfe in my sight/ I wyll not bynge that plague vnto he/ wher bynch by his sonnes lyfe/ wyll I bynge mynstrance vpon his house.

The XXII. Chapter.

It shal there passed ouer thre yeres / that wher was no warre betwene the Siria and Israel. But in the thirde yere wet Josaphat sayde vnto hym: Micheas shall we go vnto Ramoth in Gilead to fighte / or shall we let it alone? He said vnto him: Yet go vp / thou shalt see: for right well / the Lord shall geue vnto the kynges hande. But the kyng sayd vnto him agayne: I charge thee that thou face none other charge vnto me but I truerly / in the name of the Lord. He sayd: I sawe all Israel scattered abroad upon the neyghbouring: the people that haue no shepherd. And the Lord sayde: Haue these no leader? Let every one minne home agayne in peace. Then sayd the kyng of Israel vnto Iosaphat: Toldst thou me that he wolde prophete me no good, but euill?

¶ He sayde: Heare now therefore the word of the Lord. I sawe the Lord sit upon his seat, and all the host of heauen / standing by him at his right hande, and at his lefte. And the Lord sayde: Who will weare a shewe to go vp / and fall at Ramoth in Gilead. And one sayde this / another that. Then went they forth a space / and stode before the Lord: and sayde: I will weare him. The Lord sayde vnto hym: What meanest thou? He sayd vnto hym: I will go forth / and be a false spete in the mouth of all his prophetes. He sayde: Thou shalt weare hym / and shalt be able to go forth and so. He holde now / the Lord hath geuen a false spete in the mouth of all these the prophetes, and the Lord hath spoken in all our eies. Then slepe forth Sedechian the sonne of Anania / and smote Micheas vpon the cheeke / and sayde: What is the spete of the Lord departed fro me / to speake with thee? Micheas sayde: Beholde / thou shalt see in the daye / when thou shalt go from one chamber to another to hyde thee.

¶ The kyng of Israel sayde: Take Micheas / and let hym remaine with Amos the ruler of his eynde / and with Joas the kynges sonne / and saye: Thus sayeth the kyng: Due this man in prison / and fede hym with bicade and water of trouble / till I come agayne in peace. Micheas sayde: If thou comest agayne in peace / thou shalt not see the Lord spoken of to me. And he sayde: Heke to all ye people. So the kyng of Israel and Iosaphat the kyng of Iuda went vp vnto Ramoth in Gilead. And the kyng of Israel sayde vnto Iosaphat: I haunge thy clothes / and come in to the battayl in chyne aray. The kyng of Israel changed his clothes also / and wente in to the battayl. But the kyng of Suda commaunded the rulers of his charrettes / of whom there were two and therty / and sayde: Ye shall fighte with me agaynst the small no greue / but each agaynst the kyng of Israel. And when the rulers of the charrettes sawe Iosaphat / they thought it had bene the kyng of Israel / and fell vpon hym with fyngyng. But Iosaphat cryed: So when the rulers of the charrettes sawe that it was not the kyng of Israel / they turned backe from hym.

A certayne man bended his bowe beede / and shot the kyng of Israel betwene the armes and the longes. And he sayd vnto his charretmen: I haue the hande / and carry me out of the host / for I am wounded. And the battayl was sore the same daye. And the kyng stode vpon the charret agaynst the Syrians / and vied in the cunnynge / and the bloude ranne from the wounde in to the myddes of the charrettes. And when the Sunne wente downe / there was a piclamente made in the host / and sayde: Let vs see the kyng in to his eyne / and to his countre. Thus the kyng vied / and was brought vnto Samaria / and they buried hym in Samaria. And when they washed the charret in the pelt of Samaria / the dogges leyde his bloude / but the badones washed hym / and coudyng to the word of the Lord which he spake.

Wherfore theeto to saye of Achab / and all that he had / and of the many house which he buylde / he builde it in to written in the cronicles of the kynges of Israel. So Achab slepe with his fathers / and his sonne Achabias was kyng in his steade.

And Iosaphat the sonne of Iasa was kyng ouer Iuda in the fourth yere of Achab kyng of Israel / and was fyue and therty yere olde when he was made kyng / and reigned fyue and twenty yere at Ierusalem. His mayther was the wyf of Achab the daughter of Ethub / and he walked in all the waye of his father Iasa / and departed not therfro. And in the daye which was written in the sight of the Lord / yet was he not cleare the hie place and the people offered and burnt incense yett upon the hie places / and he had peace wryth the kynge of Israel.

¶ What more there is to saye of Iosaphat a the iugite that he exercised / and howe he sought / beheld / or wrytten in the Cronicles of the kynge of Iuda. The put out of the lande also the rethorungers that yett were left / wchich remained ouer in the tyme of his father Asa / and at tyme there were no kynge in Edom. And Iosaphat had caused to make shippes vpon the se / wchich shoulde go to serue golden in Ophir. Vnder they reente no / for they were broken of Gezon Gibee. The that tyme / saide I Abasia the sonne of Achab vnto Iosaphat. Let my seruantes passe wryth thy seruantes in the shippes. But Iosaphat wolde it not. And Iosaphat slepe wryth his father / and was buried wryth his fathers in the cync of Beud. And Iosias sonne was kynge in his steede.

The ende of the thyrde booke of the kynges as the Lxxviii. reuen / the Beduoc call it the fyfth of the kynges.

The fourth booke of the kynges.

The first Chapter.

¶ Asa the sonne of Achab was kynge ouer Israel at Samaria / in the seuenth years of Iosaphat kynge of Iuda / and reigned ouer Israel two yeres / and dyd that which was curll in the sight of the Lord / and walkt in the waye of his father / of his mothee / and in the waye of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebot / wchich made Israel for to synne. And serued Baal / wchich was worshipped him / and dyckalesed the Lord God of Israel / in as his father dyd. The

¶ And Abasia fill sheweth the grate in his chaumber at Samaria / and was dead slycke / and sent messungers / and saide vnto them: So youc me waye / and ore counsaill at Belesobub the god of Ieron / whether I shal reuocur from his synne or not. But the aungel of the Lord said vnto Eliah the Tysing: Dp / a go meete the messungers of the kynge of Samaria / and saye vnto the: Is there no God in Israel / that ye go to aserounsaill at the god of Ieron. Therfore thye seyth the Lord: Thou shalt not come from the bed wheron thou slest / but shalt dye the deeth.

¶ And Eliah wente his waye. And when the messungers come to Iosias againe / he said I Abasia vnto them: Why come ye againe? They saide vnto him: There came y man in our waye / and saide vnto vs: Go againe vnto the kynge that he had sent you / and saye vnto him: Thus seyth the Lord: Is there no God in Israel / that thou sendest to aserounsaill at Belesobub the god of Ieron? Therfor thou shalt not come from the bed wheron thou slest / but shalt dye the deeth. He saide vnto the: What name of man was it that mete you? A seydre shew vnto you: They saide vnto him: He had a rough synne vpon hym / and a lecherer Man. It a gyrdle aboute his loynes. He saide: It is Eliah the Tysing.

¶ The four vnto hym a captayne ouer fyfetye / wryth the same fyfetye. And when he came I c. xliiii. vnto hym / beholde / he sat aboue vpon the mount. He saide vnto hym: Thou man of Gods kynge seyth: Thou shalt come vnto Iosias / and answered the captayne ouer fyfetye / and saide vnto him: If I be a man of God / the fyre shall come downe from heauen / and consume the and the fyfetye. Then fell there fyre Luc. ii. f from heauen / and consumed hym and his fyfetye. And agayne he sent another captayne ouer fyfetye vnto him / wryth his fyfetye / wchich answered / and saide vnto him: Thou man of God / thus I verth the kynge: Come vnto me in all the hast. Eliah answered / and saide: If I be a man of God / the fyre shall come downe from heauen / and consume the and the fyfetye. Then fell the fyre of God from heauen / and consumed hym / and his fyfetye. Agayne he sent another captayne ouer fyfetye / wryth his fyfetye.

Now when he came to hym / he needed so Eliah / and besought him / and said vnto him: Thou man of God / let my soule / a the soules of thy seruantes / these thyfrye / be somewhat worke in thy sight. Behold / he fyre / sil boune from beauen / and hath consumed the first two captaynes our fyfye with their fyfrye: But now let my soule be somewhat worke in thy sight. Then saide the aungel of the Lord vnto Eliah: Go thoue with him / and seare him not. And he gat him vp / and wente / vnto the hill / vnto the synge.

And he sayde vnto hym: Thus sayed the Lord: Because thou hast sente four meffaigners / and caused to see counsaill at Bethel: the god of thefrye / as though there were no God in Israel: as: counsaill at his word / theofore shall thoue necome frid the bed where thou hast layed thy / but shall thefrye & death. So he dyed according to the word of the Lord / which Eliah saide. And Joram (his brother) was kinge in his stede in the seconde year of Joram the sonne of Iosaphat laige of Iuda: for he had no sonne.

The 11.

What moire there is to saye of I. Ohoas / he byd. Beholde / it is wynter in the Craycles of the kynges of Israel.

The 11. Chapter.

When the Lord was minded to take vp Eliah in the tempest / Eliah and Elifusa went frid Gilgal. And Eliah said to Elifusa: Eare thou here / I praye the / the Lord hath sent me vnto Bethel. But Elifusa saide: As truly as the Lord liueth / and as truly as thy soule lyueth / I will not forsake the. And when they came / vnto Bethel / the peophetes children that were at Bethel / wente forth to Elifusa / and saide vnto him: Knowest thou not / that the Lord will see thefrye to be awaye from thy head / this daye: He sayde: I knowe it well / holde ye close vnto me.

And Eliah saide vnto him: Elifusa eare thou here / I praye the / the Lord hath sent me vnto Jericho. Neuerthelesse / he saide: As truly as the Lord liueth / and as truly as thy soule liueth / I will not forsake the.

When they came vnto Jericho / the peophetes children which were at Jericho / wente forth to Elifusa / and sayd vnto him: Knowest thou not / that the Lord will take thy loide awaye from thy head this daye: He sayde: I knowe it well / holde ye close vnto me. And Eliah saide vnto him: I praye the / thefrye to be / for the Lord hath sent me vnto thefrye. And he sayde: As truly as the Lord liueth / and as truly as thy soule lyueth / I will not forsake the. And they wente forth together. But thefrye men of the peophetes children wente forth / and stode ouer agaynst them asfure of: But they both stode vpon Jericho. Then toke Eliah his clothe / and wrapped it together / and smote the water / which becaide it selfe on both thefryes / so that they wente drye / shode thefrye. And when they were come ouer / Eliah saide vnto Elifusa: Thefrye what I shall doe / before I be taken awaye from the Elifusa saide: That thy spere maye be vpon me to speake thefrye / as much.

He saide: thou hast desired an hard thing / I neuer thefrye / thou shalt see when I am taken awaye frid thefrye / thou shalt see: If no / then shall it not be. And as they were goinge together / and called / there came a fyre chariit with horses of fyre / a parted thefrye asfure. And so wente Eliah vp to beauen: in thefrye. But Elifusa saide: I eare: My father / my father / where man of Iudaa / his brother / and he saw him no moire.

And he retholde of his clothes / and rent thefrye in two peces / a rose vp. Eliah clothe that was fallen frid him / a turned backe / a stode by the shore of Jordan / and toke the same clothe of Eliah which was fallen from him / a smote it in the water / a sayde: Where is now / the Lord God of Eliah: And he smote it in to the water / and then parted it asfure on both / thefryes / and Elifusa wente thowre.

And when the peophetes children / which were at Jericho ouer agaynst him / saue him / they saide: The spere of Eliah resteth vpon Elifusa / and so they wente forth to meete him / and woishyppid him to the ground / a saide vnto him: Beholde here / art fyfye valiant men amonge thefrye / vnto us / for them go and see thefrye / per aduenture / the spere of the Lord hath taken hym / and cast hym vpon some mountayne / or in some valleye. But he saide: Ande them not. Neuerthelesse / they bespayed him / it be was an harme / and sayde: Let them go. And they sent fyfye men / which sought fought him the dayes: but they founde him not/ & came again vnto him. And he abode at Jericho/ & said vnto them: Told ye not I saye to ye (shalt ye not go): And the ml of the ciur said vnto Elifrus: Beholde/there is good bredd/ langle in this ciur/ & my loide sayth/ but the water is eack/ and the lande vnfructfull.

E He sayde: Byngte me hider a new vessel/ and put salt in it. And they broughte it hym. Then wente he forth vnto the well of water/ and cast y salt therein/ & sayde: Thus sayeth the Lord: I haue heald this water: from henceforth shall there no dearth nor vnfructfulness come of it. So the water was heald into this waye/ according to the woide of Elifrus which he spake.

And he wente vp towards Beihell. And as he was goinge up by y waye/ there came hite Boyes out of the ciur/ & nicked him/ and said: Come vp here thou balde heade. Come vp here thou balde heade. And he named him aboute. And when he sawe them/ he curst them in the name of the Lord. Then came there two Beeres out of the wood/ and sente two and fourte of the children. From thence wente he vp vnto mounte Carmel/ & steepe as turned he backe/ from Samaria.

The III. Chapter.

In Diam the sonne of Achab was kyng: & Shur Israel at Samaria/ in the cyghenth yere of Iosaphat kyng of Iuda/ and reygned twelife yeres/ and he/ that which was curst in the sygh of the Lord: bus not as his father a morther/ for he putte awaye y pillars of Baal/ which his father caused to make. Nevertheless/ he cleid vnto the synnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Elieba/ which made Israel to sinne/ & hepared nother of them.

Also the kyng of the Moabites had many theps/ and payed tribute vnto the kyng of Israel with the woolf of an hundred thousand lambe/ and ofen hundred thousande rammes. In the vntan Achab was dede/ the kyng of the Moabites sell a waye from the kyng of Israel. In the same tyme wente kyng Joasim from Samaria/ and mustered all Israel/ and sent vnto Iosaphat kyng of Iuda/ sayinge: The kyng of the Moabites is fallen awaye fro me/ come thou with me to fighte agaynste the Moabites. He sayde: I will come vp/ I am curen as thou/ & he. xxij. a and my people as thy people/ and my hoise as thy hoise. And he/ & more ouer: Which was shal we go vp: He sayde: By the waye is the wilderness of Edom.

So the kyng of Israel/ the kyng of Iuda/ and the kyng of Edom wente forth. And when they had gone seuen dayes iourney as bouste/ the host and the cattell that were amonge them had no water. Then sayde the kyng of Israel: Alas/ the Lord hath called these three kynges/ so beluee the mothe bandes of the Moabites. But Iosaphat said: In here no prophete of the Lord/ that we shal more see counsaill of the Lord by him: The answered one of y kyng of Israel/ scruantes/ and sayde: Here is Elifrus the sonne of Saphar/ which poured water vpon Elah handes. Iosaphat sayde: Byr woide of the Lord/ & so went hym. So the kyng of Israel/ and Iosaphat/ and the kyng of Edom aboute vnto him.

But Elifrus sayde vnto the kyng of Israel: What halt thou to do with me/ go to the prophetes of thy father/ and to thy mother prophetes. The kyng of Israel sayde vnto hym: No/ for the Lord hath called these three kynges/ so beluee the mothe bandes of the Moabites. Elifrus sayde: As truly as the Lord Iobotht hym/ before whom I stande/ I regard not Iosaphat kyng of Iuda/ I wolde not regard the/ nor sitte ought by the. So byngte he now a minstrel. And wha the minstrel played vpon the instrument/ & hode of the Lord came apd hym. And he said: Thus sayeth the Lord: make pynce by this thack/ for thus sayeth the Lord: Ye shal se myrther mynde not cayne/ for the water is full of water/ that ye a yore house/ & in your cattell may hyme. Ie/ and thar is a small thinge in the sygh of the Lord. And the Moabites shal be deliurynge your handes/ so thar ye shal mynne all the stronge ciites/ and all the chosen cytes/ and shall sell them all the good trees/ and steepe/ all the wellis of water/ and all the good sides shall ye nite waste with stones.

On the morow/ when he meate to fighte in the field/ beholde/ there came water the waye from Edom/ and filled the lande with water.

ter. But when the Moabites herbe / that the Kynges came to fight agaiſt them / they called all the haecſſed men / and they rulers / and ſtoode on the border. And when they roſe early in the morning / and the Sunne wente vp upon the water / the Moabites ſtraughte the water ouer againſt them to be curd as rind as clowde / and they ſaide : It is clowde / the Kynges haue deſtroyed them ſelſe with the ſwarde / and one hath ſtrauen another.
Now Moab getteth vp to the ſpoiles. But when they came to the tentes of Iſrad / the Iſraelites gott vp and ſmote the Moabites / and they fled before them.

¶ Their rebelleſſe they came in / and ſmote Moab / and ſate downe the ciues / and every one call his ſonne vpp all good ſeldes / & made them full / and ſtopped al the wellles of water / and filled them al the good trees / tyll there remayned but the ſtones of the City wall / and they coppaſſed them about with ſtynges / and ſmote them.

But when the Kyng of the Moabites ſaw the battal was ſo ſtronger for him / he toke to him ſeuen hundred men / which were the ſwarde / to ſal upon the kyng of Iſrad. neuer the leſſe / they were not able. Then toke he his firſt ſonne / which ſhould haue ben kyng in his ſtead / and offered him for a burnt offering vpp the wall. Then came there a great warth ouer Iſrad / that they departed from him / & turned again into their lande.

The IIII. Chapter.

¶ And there appeared a woman among the wifes of the prophete children unto Eli-ſeus / and ſayde : Thy ſeruaunt my hauſbande is dead / and thou knoweſt that thy ſeruaunt feared the Lord. Now remember the man that he was better ones / and wyl take awaye both my children to be bonde ſeruautes.
Eliſeus ſayde vnto her : What ſhall I do for the? Call me / what haſt thou in the houſe?
She ſayde : Thy hand mayden hath nothing in the houſe but a pittes wath orle. He ſayde : What by mee / ſorrow without of all thy neighboures empty veſſels / and that not a
ſ. we / and go in and ſhut the doore behynde the wath thy ſonnes / and poure of it out all the veſſels / and when thou haſt ſpilled them / deſtroy them ſo : ſh.

She wente / and ſhoute the doore vnto her with her ſonnes / which though her the orle ſels / and ſo the poure in. And when ſhe weſſels were full / ſhe ſayde vnto her ſonnes : Bring me yet one veſſell more here. The ſlode the orle ſh. And ſhe ſtoode / and tolde the man of God.
He ſayde : Go thy waye / ſell the orle / a ſonne the credmour : but ſeue thou and thy ſonnes of it : ſh. ſh.

¶ And it ſortuned at this ſame tyme / that Eli-ſeus wente vnto Simeon / and there was a yonge woman / which badde him to eate with her / and as he paſſed oſt thowen that way / he went in vnto her / and did care with her. And ſhe ſaid to her houſhold : Behold / I perceiue that this is an holy ind of God / which good ſucc thowen this waye / let vs make him a lictle ſhalber of ſorbes / and ſo a Bedia tabila ſhould a candleſtycke therein / that wha he cometh vnto to vs / he maye reſt in it.

¶ And it ſortuned vpon a tyme that he came in / and layd hym downe in the chamber / a ſlepe there. And he ſayde vnto Gehaſi his ſhade : Call this woman of Simeon. And when he had called her / ſhe ſtoode before him.
He ſayde vnto him : Speake thou vnto her / ſh. ſh. / thou haſt miniſtred vnto vs in all theſe thynges / what ſhall I do for the? Call thou any maner to be ſpoken for vnto the kyng / or for the queene / ſapayne of the booke.
She ſayde : I dwell amonge my people. He ſayde : What haſt thou then to do? Gehaſi ſayde : Alas / ſhe hath no ſonne / and her hauſbande is olde. He ſayde : Call her. And when he called her / ſhe ſlode at the doore. And he ſayde : I thought this tyme / if the fruite ſh. ſh.
ſh. / thou ſh. ſh. embrace a ſonne / She ſayde : Alas / no maner / thou man of God / ſh. ſh. / not thy hand mayden. And the woman come / and ſh. ſh. ſonnes about the ſame tyme / when the fruite coulde lue / accordinge as Eli-ſeus had ſayde vnto her.

¶ But when the childes was growne / ſhe nouriſhed that he went forth to his father vnto ſhe ſh. ſh. / and ſaid vnto his father : O my head / my head. He ſayde vnto his ſeruaunt.
Bring him vnto his mother. And he toke him / and brought him to his mother : and ſhe ſet him vpon her lappe vntill the noone day /
and

and then he dyd. And she went vp/and leyd hym vpo the bryd of the man of God/and but she doze/and wroote forth/and called her hous bande/and sayd vnto hym: Sende me one of the seruantes/and an ass: I wyll go quickly vnto the man of God/and come agayne. He sayde: Why wyl thou go vnto hym? To daye it is nyghte/ther moone/ner Sabbath. She sayde: Well. And she labled the casse/and sayde to the sounge man / Syue forth/and kepe me not backe with thynges/and so a 3 bryd the-

So she went/and came to the man of God sawe hie othe agaynst hym/ he sayde vnto his chyld: Gehasi: Beholde/ the Sunamosse is thine/ runne now and mete be/and ore her ift go well with her/and beehous bande and her sinne. He sayde: Well. But when she came to the man of God vpon the mounte/ she hidde hym by his feet. And Gehasi slepe w betw pnt hee away. But the man of God said: Let her alone/for hit soule is in huanitee/and the Lord hath bid reserue/and us shewed it me. He sayde: When I desyred a soune of my loude? Sayd I not/ther thou shouldst not moete me.

He sayde vnto Gehasi: Grede vp thy loyngs/and take my staffe in thy hande/ a go thy nyge. If any man salute the/ salute hym not: as if any man salute the/ salute hym not: and laye thou my staffe vpo the chyldes face. Eue the chyldes mother sayde: Is truly so? The Lord hurth/and as truly so thy soule hutch/ I wyll not leaue the. He sayd he vp/ a went after her. So: Gehasi/ he went before them/and laied his staffe vpon the chyldes face/ but thence was nyghte noyde not syngng. And he reed agayne to meete hym/and stered hym/and sayde: The chyld is not rysen vp.

And when Elisus came in to the houses/ braked/ the chyld laye dead vpon his bed. And he wente in/ a/ but the doze on the doth/ and made his prayer vnto the Lord/ a/ went vp/ and 7 layd hym selfe vpon the chyld/ and laied his mouth vpon the chyldes mouth / a/ bidd vpon his eyes/ and his handes vpon bid hande/ a/ so he staid bynselfe forth vpon hym/ so thence the chyldes body was waiue. And he cald vp/ and went in to the house/ and baba and thursh / and wene vp/ and laied hym selfe a long vpon hym. Then ryfed the chyld seuen tymes/ and after ward the chyld opened his eyes. And he cryed vpon Gehasi and sayd: Call the Sunamosse. And when he had calld her/ she came in vnto hym. He sayd: Take thine thy sonne. Then came she/ a/ sell at his price/ a/ wo thyppd vnto the greoude and toke her soune/ and wente forth.

But when Elisus came agayne vnto Beth gal/ there was a verth in the lande. And the Prophete sayden vnto Beth gal/ and he sayde vnto his seruants: Ert on a greete pot/ and make portage for the dyblen of the Prophete. Then wente there one in to the felde to gather herbes/ a/ found a cucumbers stalk and gatherd waid cucumbers thap of his costell. And when he came he chopped seuen for portage to the pome/ for they knewe it not. And they poured a forth for the men to eate/ a/ when they dyd eate of the portage/ they cryed and said: O thou man of God/ see this in the poe for they might not eate it. Then the staffe he sayde: Bynge ned by hit/ and hit put in the poe/ and sayde: Poure it out for the poe/ chaet thy maye eate/ And then was not in biten in the poe.

There came a man from Beth Salts/ and broughte the men of God beade of the first frutes/ in manye measure/ each leaue/ and newe come in his garmente. Eue he sayde: What it was the people/ that they maye eate. His minister sayde: It was that I gite an hundred Job vij. 4 men of thine. He sayd: What vnto the people/ that they maye eate. So: thus sayeth the Lord: Thy staffe eate/ a/ thence leste our. And he set before the/ so that they dyd eate/ and they leste quet/ according to the word of the Lord.

The V. Chapter.

Ny Aman the chiefe captayn of the kynge of Syria/ was an excellent man in a fight of his leide / and me the first by / Ceter/ he was bym the Lord gote death vnto Syria/ and he was a myghte man/ but a leper. And there had men of warre fallen out of Syria/ a/ caried away a lute/ vnto our of the lande of Israell/ the same was in seruice with Damame/ wylf / a/ sayde vnto her mistress: O ther my mistress were with the prophete of Samaria/ he wold heale hym of the leprose.

The VI. Chapter.

And the chyldeyn of the prophets saide vnto Elihu: Beholde/ the place where we dwell before the/ is so narrow for vs/ let vs go vnto Jordan/ and I wery one furdre symber there/that we may there dryd vs a place to dwell in. He saide: Go youre waye. And one saide: Wo is then/and come with thy seruauntes. He saide: I wil go with you. And he wente with them. And when they came to Jordan/they hewed doune symber. And as one was fellyng a doune a tree/ he fion fel into the water/ and he cryed and saide: Alas my lorde/ and it is bowed. But he man of God saide: Where fill it in? And when he strewed hym in the place/ he crie doune a strike/and thus it is there. Then swaine the fion-And he sayde: Take it vp. So he put fourth his hand/ and toke it.

B And the kyng of Siria warred against Israel/ and toke counsaill at his seruauntes/ and saide: There and there wil we lye. But the men of God sent to the kynges of Israel/ sayinge: Beware that thou go not vnto spales/ for the Sirians rest there. So the kyng of Israel sent vnto the place where of the man of God tolde him/ and kepte it/ as he belde watch there: a nd that no one o wisse wyle.

Then was the kyng of Sirians herre eured therfor/ and called his seruauntes/ and sayde vnto them: Wyl ye not tell me/ which of our men is fled vnto the kynges of Israel?
Then sayde one of his seruauntes: Woe so my lorde. O kyng/ thus Elihu the prophete in Israel telleth the kynges of Israel all that thou speakest in thy chamber where thou lyste.

He sayde: Go youre waye then/ and lobe where he is/ that I maye sende/ and cause him to be seiched. And they shewed him and sayde: Beholde/ he is at Dorthen. Then sent he thither hisse and charrettes/ and a great power. And when they came thither/ by night/ they compassed the cyte aboute. And the minister of the man of God arose early to get hym vp. And as he went forthe/ he holde/there lay an hoole of a man about the tyme with hisse and charrettes.

Then sayde his chyde vnto hym: Alas for howe wylle now be? He saide: I feare d not/ for there are mo of the that are with vs/ b-then of those that are with them. And Elihu prayed/ and sayde: Lorde open his eyes/that he maye se. Then the Lorde opened the chylde eyes/ that he sawe/ and beholde/ the meane was full of fyre hisse and charrettes rourke about Elihu. And when they came doun vnto hym/ Elihu made his praye/and sayde: Lorde synge this people with blindnesse. And he smote them with syndeness/ accordinge to the word of Elihu. Gen. 37 And Elihu saide vnto them: This is not I wote not the cyte/ howe me? I wyl synge you so the man whom ye se. And he brou-ghte them vnto Samaria.

And when they came to Samaria. Elihu us sayd Lorde open the meane eyes/ that they maye se. And the Lorde opened they eyes/that they sawe/ and beholde/ they were in the myddes of Samaria. And when the kyng of Israel sawe them/ he sayde vnto Elihu: My father shal I smite them? He saide: Thou shalt not smite them. Loke whome thou wrest with thy sword/ a bowe/ synge thof. Set hisse and water before them/ if they maye care and vnto land let them departe vnto they lorde. The was there a great synge/ peace.
And when they had cast a bowken/ he let the go to departe vnto they lord. In that tyme fourth came the men of warre of the Sirians nowe: in to the lande of Israel.

After this it fortuneth/ that Dnabab the kyng of Siria gathered al his hoost/ and wreup and layde siege vnto Samaria/ and there was a greates death at Samaria. But they layde siege to the cyte so longe/ till an offe-heade was wouth foure foure seluer pyns/ and the fourth parte of a lb. of vnto vnto a Cab is a worth fyve shylers pena. And when the kyng certayne of Israel wente vnto the wall/ a woman needles-cryed vnto him/ and saide: Helpe me my lord O kyng. He saide: If the Lorde helpe/ I not wher-

to her with ſhal I helpe thee with the ſame as with the mynſtriffes: And the kyng ſaid vnto to hir: What eſtch thee? She ſayd: This woman ſayd vnto me: Gueſt vs thy ſonne / that we may care him to morow ſhal we care: my ſonne: We toob my ſonne / and haue caren him / and I ſaid vnto her on the next day: Gueſt me by ſonne / and let vs care him / ſhal ſhe: hath hee him awaye.

E When the kyng herde the womans worde / he ſette his clothes / whyle he was goyng to the wall: Then ſaw e a l people that he had a ſackcloth vnder vpo his body. And he ſaid: Whod do this and that vnto me? the heade of Eliſeas the ſonne of Opharſhal this way ſtande vpon him: As for Eliſeas / he ſat in his houſe / and the Elders ſaſy him: And he ſent an man before him / ſut as: uer the meſſaunge came to him / he ſaid vnto the Elders: Haue ye noſtice how this thilde of mirrhuſe hath ſent by her to take away my head? Caſt hee / whan the meſſaunger cometh / that ye ſhall doe: and hold him at the doore. Beholde / the noyſe of his lordes ſire ſoloweth him. Whyle he was thus talking with the / beholde / the meſſaunger came to him / and ſayd: Beholde / this cuell cometh of the Lorde: and what more ſhal I ſeſe of the Lorde:

The VII. Chapter.

E Eliſeas ſayd: Heare the word of I Lord.
Thus ſayeth the Lorde: To morow aboute this tyme ſhal a buſſhel of fyne meede be ſelde for ſyre ſick / and two buſſhels of bar-leye for one ſyell / vnder the poote of Samaria.
Then a Nynght / vpon whaſe hande the kyng leaned / ſaw ſiſwered the ma of God / and ſaid: And though the Lorde made wyndowes in heauen / ſo we could ſuch a thyng come to poſſeſt he ſayd: Beholde / thou ſhalt ſe us ſh thine eyes / and ſhalt not care thereof.

And there were ſoure ſperous men at the doore before the poote / and one ſaid vnto another: Why tarye we here whyle we ſyet though we thought to come into the cyye / yet is there ſerch in the cyye / and there ſhould we haue ſayde to the. And yf we tary here we muſt dye alſo. Let vs go now / a ſtrey vnto the hooff of the Syrians: If they let vs ſtrey / we ſhal lyue: if they laſe vs / then are we dead.
And ſo they gat them vp early / ſo comy vnto the hooff of the Syrians. And whan they came to the vnter moſt ende of the tenies / beholde / there was no body.

I for the Lorde had made the Syrians to heare a noyſe of hoſtes / ſharrenes / and of a myghty great hooff / ſo that they ſaid out to another amonge them ſelves: Beholde / the kyng of Iſraell hath byed the kynges of the Hebruthes / and the kyng of the Egiptians againg vs / to come vpon vs. And they gat them vp / and fled early in the nyght / and left theyr houbtes / and hoſtes / and aſſes in the tenies as they ſtode / a ſled cuntry ma wherby myght ſaue his life.

Now whan the lepers came to the place of the tenies / they went into the cenes / and did care and ſynke / and toke ſilver / golde / and ramme / and wente and hyd it: and came againe / and entred into another tenie / and toke therout a wenteard hid it. But one of the ſaid vnto a nother: Let vs not do thus / this day is a day of good noyſes. If we ſepe this ſiluer / and alſo lght mourning / our reſpoſſe will be ſoud our Let vs go now therfore: we may come and all in vnto the kynges hooff.

And whan they came / they cryd at the poote of the caue / and tolde them / and ſaid: We came to the tenies of the Syrians / and behold / therout comen there / neyther yet any mans noyſe / ſut hoſtes / a ſilue ſounde / a the ſouches as they ſtande. Then cryed a ponce a ſolde it within in the kynges hooff. And the kyng aroſe in the nyght / and ſaid vnto his ſeruauntes: I wil tell you how the Syrianys deale with vs: they knowe that we ſuffer him-ger / a are gone out of the tenies to hide them ſelves in y ſeld / a ſynke thus: whan they go out of the cene / we wil take them aſyne / and come into the cene. Then aſynwered one of his ſeruauntes / and ſaid: Let vs take the ſyue hoſtes that remaine / whiche yet are lefte in the cene: beholde / theſe are lefte them of all the multitude in Iſraell / whiche is deſtroyed. Let vs ſend theſe and ſe theyr toke theyr two ſharrentes with the hoſtes. And the kyng ſent them vnto the tenies of the Syrians / and ſaid: Go your waye and ſo.

And whan they wente after them vnto Jordan / beholde / the waye laye full of gal-limes and veſſels / whiche the Syrians had left cast from them/ while they made haist. And when they in Spain were come agayne / a told the kynge / the people were furth and spoiled the tenec of the Spane. And a busshel of fyre inel was solde for a sheyl / and two busshel of barley for a sheyl also / T accordyng to the word of the Lorde. But the kynge ap-pointyd the knyght Copd whose hande he leaned. To be at the gate/ and the people trode upon him/ so that he dyed / euen as the man of God sayd/ when the kynge came home vnto him. And it came to passe euen as the man of God tolde the kynge/ when he sayd : To morrowe about this tyme that two busshel of barley shold be sold for one sheyl / and a busshel of fyre inel for one sheyl vnder the gate at Samaria. And the knyght answered the man of God / a sayde : Behold / though the Lorde made vs myndes in beauen/ how coulde such a thynge come to passe : Where thesse he said : Beholde / with thine eyes shalt thou see / and shalt not see therof. And euen so fortunyd it vnto him / so the people trode vpo him in the gate/ that he dyed.

The VIII. Chapter.

In Eliseus spake vnto the woman / whose son he had restored vnto lyfe agayne / and sayd : Get the vp / a go with thine household / and be a stranger in reberc thou canst for the Lorde shall call for a veyth / which shall come in to the lande seuen yeare longe. The woman get her vp/ and dyd so the man of God sayd / and went with her household / a was a stranger in the lande of the Philistines seuen yeare.
 But when the seuen yeares were ended / the woman came agayne out of the Philistines lande / and went south to crye vpon the kynge for her house and lands. The kynge spake vnto Gehazi the seruaunt of the man of God / and sayd : Tell me all the great actes that Eli-sus hath done. And replye he was tellinge the kynge how that he had made one that was dead / to lyue / beholde / the woman / whose sonne he had caused to reuyn / a came euen in the same season / and cryed vnto the kynge for her house / and lands. The kynge sayde Gehazi : My lorde / O kynge this same is the woman / and this is her sonne / whom Eliseus restored vnto lyfe agayne. And the kynge asyd the woman / and she tolde him. Then the kynge bery-ucred her a chamber / ayne / and sayde : Restore her agayne / what is her / and of the increase of the lande / forre the tyme that she is for the lande vntill now.

T And Eliseus came to Damascos / and benaded the kynge of Syria / layd sycke. And it was tolde him / and sayde : The man of God is come by this. Then sayde the kynge vnto Basail : Take gylde with the / and go meete the man of God / and see counsayll at the Lorde by hym / and saye : Maye I receiue from this sycke ness : Basail wente for to meete hym / and toke euardes with hym / and of al the goodes at Damascos / so much as fourtye Canella myght beare. And when he came he stode before him / and sayd : Thy sonne Benadad kynge of Syria hath sent me vnto the sayng : May I receiue from this sycke ness.

Eliseus sayd vnto hym : Go thy waye and tell hym / Thou shalt recouer. But the Lorde had shewed me that he shal see the death.
 And the man of God toke carefullly / and made a troublous countenance / and wepte.
 Then sayde Basail : Wherefore wepest my lorde : He sayde : I know what euil thou shalt do vnto the chyldren of Israel. Thou shalt burne theyr stronge cyties with fyre / and slaye theyr young men with the sword / and kill theyr young chyldren / and rypp up theyr women with chybre.

Basail sayde : How shal the seruants of Rogge / that he should do such a great thing : Eliseus sayde : The Lorde hath shewed me / that thou shalt be kynge of Syria. And he wente his waye from Eliseus / and came to his lorde / which sayde vnto hym : What sayde Eliseus vnto the : He sayd : He tolde me : Thou shalt recouer. But on the next daye he toke the bed coueryng / and dyed in it / water / a spyt is ouer him / and he died / a Basail was kynge in his steade.

In the fifth yeare of Joiam the sonne of Zabab kynge of Israel / was Joiam the sonne of Josaphat kynge of Iuda. T Two and thirtie y. Da. p. 111 a name had wounded him / when he sought with Gahal the kynge of the Simeon.

E And Jechu sayde: If it be youre mynde/there shall no man scape out of the cync / to go and tell it at Ierusal. And he rode / and departed unto Ierusalem: For he laye there / and O-hoshias the kynge of Iuda was come doune co-wyshe Josiam. But the watchman that stode upon the tower at Ierusal. sawe the company of Jechu coming: and sayde: It is a company. The sayde Josi: Take a charret / and sende to meete the: and say: Is he peacet? And the charret came to meete the: and sayde: Thus sayeth the kynge: Is it peacet? Jechu sayde: What hast thou to do with peacet? name the behynde me.
The watchman tolde it / a sub: The messenger is come unto the: and cometh not againe.
Then sent he an order charretman / which whā he came to them / sayde: Thus sayeth the kynge: Is it peacet? Jechu sayde: What hast thou to do with peacet? Turne the behynde me.

E And the watchman tolde it / and sayde: He is come to them / and cometh not againe / and the goinge is as it were the goinge of Jechu the sonne of Nimsi: for he bymeth on as he were madde. Then saide Josiam: Binde the charret fast. And they bounde the charret / and so they wente forth: Josiam the kynge of Ieru-salem / and Oshias the kynge of Iuda / every one upon his charret / to meete Jechu. And they founde him upon the feld of Naboth the Ieru-salem: And whā Josiam sawe Jechu / he said: Jechu / is it peacet? But he said: What peacet?
The whodman and wyrdshere of thy no-the Ierusalem is now in come to an ende.

Then turned Josiam his hande / and fled / and saide vnto Oshias: There is treason O-shias. But Jechu toke his bowe / a shot Josi-am betwene the armes / thae the arrowe wete throue his herte / and he fel bounc in his charret. And Jechu sayde vnto Bihelai the lyght: Take with thee hym in the peece of land of Naboth the Ierusalem: for I remember the sence thou dost shew me in a charret after that he had slain / that the Lorde wold belye the heavy burden upon him: J holden / sayd of the Lorde: I will recompence the the blouds of Naboth / is of his children / cuen in this peece of land. Take hym now / and cast hym in to that peece of land: / accordinge to the woode of the Londe.

¶ Whā Oshias the kynge of Iuda sawe / that he fled by the way unto the garde house.
And Jechu folowed after hym / and commaunded to synge hym also upon his charret in the goinge: so towarde the / whiche lyeth by Jehlamath he fled vnto the / dyed there. And his seruantes caught him to be caried to Ierusal / and there they buried him in his owne graue with his fathers / in the cync of Sion. Oshias raigned ouer Iuda in the eleuenth yere of Josiam the sonne of Achab.
And whā Jechu came to Ierusal / and Jechu had beeth the coloure of his face / and decered her head / and loked out at the wyndow.
And whā Jechu came vnder the gate / he sayde: Prospered Symm well that slew his lord.

And he lyfte up his face to the wyndow / and sayde: Who is with me? Then turned the two at the chambrelaine vnto him. He sayde: Cast her downe headlinge: And they cast her downe headlinge: / for that he waild the hoses were spunkid with her blouds / and she was rotten vnder sette. And whā he came in / and had ascir a brook / he said: Kofe up-pon yonder cursed womā / and bury her: / for she is a kyngees daughter. Vnto the / whā they wete in to bury her / they founde nothing of her / but the ful / and the fire / and the pal-mes of her hande. And they came againe and brought him worde. He sayde: This is cuen that the Lorde spake by his seruans: I shal the the / and saide: In the feld of Ier-usal shall the dogges cate Iesabels fleshe. So the dead carcase of Iesabel became men as donge in the fild of Ierusal / so that man could not saye: This is Iesabel.

The X. Chapter.

¶ Achab had thre score and ten sonnes at Samar. And Jechu wrote letters / and sent to Samaria / vnto the rulers of the cync of Ierusal / vnto the elders / a to Ihab cousyns: sayng: these wordes: Whā this letter cometh vnto you / with whom are your loides sonnes / charretes / horses / the cync / and vnto the / whā they be / a to Ihab cousyns / and they your loides forme / sit him upon his fathers steir / a sythe for youre loide house.

And whereloffe / they were for afayed / and fayed: B. holdes two kynges were not able to ftande before hym / how will we then endure?
 And they that were ouer the houfe and ouer the ceteru / and the Elders and two or three vnto Jehu faying: We are thy feruantes / as we will do al that thou faffest vnto vs: We will make no man fynde / do thou what pleafeth the.
 Then wrote he the feconde letter vnto them with this wordes: If ye be myne / and hecken vnto my voyce / then take the heades of the me four lordes / fonnes / and bringe my them to moiton by this tyme vnto Iefead.

B The Kynges fonnes were chie feore men a / the chiefe men of the cyte brought them vp: Now when this letter came / they toke the kynges fonnes / and fleye them euen chie feore nu / and ten / a layd they heades in bulferes and fent them to hyne vnto Iefrael. And when the meffenger came / and tolde hym and fayed: They haue brought the heades of the kynges chyldren / he fayed: Laye them vpon two heapes a / of douer / of pome ryll to moiton.

And on the moiton when he went forth / he ftoode / and fayed vnto all the people: The ye ryghteous: Behold / I haue made an appoynt ment agaynft my kynde / and floyne him / who hath floyne all thefe then: Vnderftode ye now thefe / that there is not fallen vpon the earth one worde of the Lorde / which he fpake a gainft the houfe of Achab: and the Lorde Eliah. So Jehu fmoke al the re / naunt of the houfe of Achab at Iefrael / al his great men / his fyn / folles / and his puffed / yf there was not one lefte euer / and he gat him vp / wene his way / and came to Samaria.

C By the waye there was a fhepherdes houfe / where Jehu foynde the brethern of Whofias kyng of Iuda / and fayed: Whence are ye?
 They fayed: We are Whofias brethern / and ac goringe vnto me to falue the kynges chyldren / and the quenes chyldren. He fayed: Take them alyue. And they toke them alyue / and ftoore them by the welles fyde at the fhepherdes houfe / men two and fortye next / and let not one of them remayne.

And what he went from thence / he foynde Jonadab the foune of Nebad / whom he him / and fluted him. And he fayed vnto hym: So thine heart ryghte / as myne heart is with thine heart: Jonadab fayed: See. If he fo / fawde he then geue me thy hande. And he gaue hym his hande. And fo he raued him to fyf he fide him in the chare / and fayed: Come with me / and I will take for the Lorde. And they caryed him with him vpon his chare.

 And what he came to Samaria / he fmoke all that remayned of Achab at Samaria / wyl he had deftroied him / according to the word of the Lorde / which he fpoke vnto Eliah.

And Jehu gathered all the people to gather / and fayed vnto the: Achab dyd Baal but lytle feruice / Jehu wyl ferue him better. Cal vnto me now / thefe are all Baals propheetes / all his feruantes / and all his puffed / there be none wanting: for I haue a great facrifice to do vnto Baal. Whofouer is myffed / fal not lyue. But Jehu dyd it craftely / that he myght deftroie al the myffers of Baal. And Jehu fayed: Catenus the fraft vnto Baal / and pro fayed: And Jehu fuit in al Iefrael / and caufed al Baals myffers to come / fo / that there was no man left behynd / which came not and they came in to Baals houfe: fo that the houfe of Baal was full from one corner to another.

Then fayed he vnto him that had the rule of the chare: Bringt forth rayment for al Baals myffers. And he brought forth the rayment.
 And Jehu went in to Baals houfe with Jo nadab the foune of Nebad / a / fayed vnto Baals myffers: Stand / a / that there be not here among you any myffers of the Lorde / but onely Baals myffers.

And when they came in to offre facrifice and burnt offeringe / Jehu appoynted him foure feore men with him / and fayed: If any of thefe me / kere / whom I deluyr vnder your handes / the I fhall the fame mans foule beft his foule. Now when he had made an ende of the burnt offeringe. Jehu fayed vnto the: Catenus a fuyghre: Go in / and fmyce every manke noman go forth. And they fmyce the wyl the edge of the fwordes. And the feore men and fuyghres there then: away / and wente vnto the cyne of Baals houfe / and brought forth the pyllere in the houfe of Baal and bent it / and brake doune Baals pyllere with the houfe of Baal / a / made a preynt houfe therof vnto the daye. Thus Jehu difroyed Baal

Baal out of Israel. But Jehu leste not off his 10. synne of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabath (which caused Israel to synne) namely / from the golden calves at Bethel and at Dan. And the Lorde sayde vnto Jehu: Because thou hast ben myn eye to do that which was right in my sight / a hast done vnto Achabs house 15. all that was in my derre / Therefore shall thy children sit vpon the seat of Israel vnto the fourth generation.

¶ Neerthelesse / Jehu was not diligene to walke in the lawes of the Lorde God of Is-20. rael with all his heart: he leste not off from the synne of Jeroboam / which made Israel to synne. At the same tyme beganne the Lorde 25. to be greued at Israel. For Basafl smotherde in all the borders of Israel fro Jordane East ward / and all the lande: Gilead of the Gaddres / Rubinicos / and Manassisa / from Sa-30. rator that is vpon the ryuce by Teno / and Galilee / and Basan.

What more therre is to saye of Jehu / and all that he dyd / and all his powce / beholde in 35. the booke of the Cronicles of the Kynges of Israel. And Jehu fill on slepe with his father and they buried him in Samaria. And Zoo-ba his sonne was kynge in his steade. The 40. tyme that Jehu raygned ouer Israel / is eght and twenty yecares at Samaria.

The XI. Chapter.

¶ The thirde booke of Oholias / vnto 5. the firste that his sonne was dead / her re / a distrowed all the kynges. But Zoo-ba / kynge Zouams daughter the syster of O-10. holias / was the sonne of Oholias / and slau him away with his noyse in the chumber / from amonge the kynges chylde which 15. he sleight / and he hid him from Achas / so that he was not slayn: And he was byd with him in the house of the Lorde six yecares. But Achas was queene in the lande.

¶ Neerthelisse / in the seventh yecare sent 20. Zouada / and toke the rulers ouer hundredes with the captiues and foote men / and carried them to come to byn in to the house of the Lorde: and made a conuenant with them / 25. and he: an oth of them in the house of the Lorde / and strowed them the kynges sonne / and commaunded them / and sayd: This is it that ye shal do: One shalde pacc of you / whiche enter on the Sabbath / shall kepe the watch in the kynges house / a one shal pacc shalbe at the poynt of the gate / and eue this pacc shalbe at the poynt / which is behynde the poynt men / and ye shall kepe the watch at the house of 5. Massa.ouer the poynt of you all that go of in the Sabbath / shall kepe the watch in the house 10. of the Lorde aboute the kyng / and eue one with his weapon in his hand: and whoso ever cometh within the wall / he shal 15. be slayn: so that ye be with the kyng / when he goth out and in.

¶ And the rulers ouer the hundredes dyd all that 20. as Zouada the puyss had commaunded them / and toke vnto them theyr men / which entred vpon the Sabbath / with those that reme of on the Sabbath / and came to Zouada the puyss.
 And the puyss gaue the captiues for to a 25. sylde / which had diu fuge handis / and were in the house of the Lorde. And the foote men stode aboute the kyng / euey one with his weapon in his hande / from the corner 30. of the left syde of the house / vnto the corner of the left syde / euen vnto the entrance and to the house. And he brought forth the kynges sonne / and set a crowne vpon his head / and he 35. was sette / and made hym kynge / they were de-glad / and clapped theyr handes together / and sayde: God save the kyng.

¶ And when Achas hadde the maye of the him: and Iosabab the sonne of Somer/ his seruante wrote hym to deary: and he was buried with his fathers in the cyme of Dauid. And Amasias his sonne was kynge in his steade.

The XIII. Chapter.

In the thirde and twentieth yeare of Iosabab the sonne of Obosias kynge of Iuda/ was Iosabab the sonne of Zebub kynge ouer Iudaa at Samaria / thirteenth yeare: and byd the which was euell in the sight of the Lorde/ and was led after the synnes of Zerobabab the sone of Uria: which caused Iudaa to synne/ and left not of from them. And the wrath of the Lorde was kindred vpon Israel/ and he deliuered them apace vnder the hande of Hasak kynge of Sy: a / and vnder the hande of Benadab the sonne of Hasak/ as oungs as they lured.

And Iosabab besoughte the face of the Lorde. And the Lorde herde hym / for he conyced the mystryes of Israel/ how he kynge of Syria oppressed them. And the Lorde gaue Israel a sauour / which broughte them out of the power of the Syrians / so that the chyldeyn of Israel dwelt in theyr tentes / lyke as a fore tyme.

B Yet they were not of from the synnes of the house of Zerobabab / which caused Iudaa to synne: but walked in them. The groue at Samaria stode still also. For of the peop of Iosabab / it was no mo left but fiftyn hoisines / in Samaria / and ten thousande foreyners: for the kynge of Syria had destroyed them / and made them as the dust in the barme.

What more there is to saye of Iosabab / and all that he dyd / and his power / behold it is written in the Cronicles of the kyngees of Israel. And Iosabab fell on slepe with his father / and was buried in Samaria: and Iosabab his sone was kynge in his steade.

C In the thirte and thirteenth yeare of Iosabab kynge of Iuda / was Iosabab the sonne of Iosabab / kynge ouer Israel: a / Samaria thirte yeare. And he dyd that which was euell in the sight of the Lorde / and departed not from all the synnes of Zerobabab the sone of Uria: which caused Iudaa to synne: but walked in them. What more there is to saye of Iosabab / and what he dyd / and his power / how he soughte with Amasias kynge of Iuda / he holde it is written in the Cronicles of the kyngees of Israel. And Iosabab fell on slepe with his father / and Iosabab his sone was kynge in his steade. And Iosabab was buried at Samaria with the kyngees of Israel.

As for Elifus he fell to a sickeynesse: whereof he dyed. And Iosabab kynge of Israel / she dounce vnto him / and wepte for him / and said: My father / my father / he was a iust man of Israel / and his hoisines Elifus layd vnto him. Take the bowe and the arrowes. And when he had taken the bowe and the arrowes / he said vnto the kynge of Israel: Denge the bowe with eue hande. And he bent it with his hande. And Elifus layd his hande vpon the kyngees hande / and said. Open the wounde towards the East. And he opened it. And Elifus said: Ohu. And he shot. He sayde: One arrowe of saluacion against the Syrians: a thou shalt synne the Syrians at Ephraim / till they be broughte to nought.

And he sayde: Take the arrowes. And when he had taken the bowe / he said vnto the kynge of Israel: Smyte the earth. And he smote the earth: a stode still. Then was the man of God wept at him / and sayde: I Iosabab haddest thou synne / as thou synnest / thou shalt not beare synne: the Syrians / till thou haddest broughte them vnto nought. But now shall thou synne them this tyme.

What Elifus was dead / he buried the men of Iudaa of the Maabites / fell in to the lande / the same yeare. And it foretold that they buried a certayne man. But what they sawe the man of Iudaa: they cast the man to Elifus graue. And when he was therein / a touchd Elifus. Then fflyd bones / he cryed / and stode vpon his feete.

So Hasak the kynge of Syria oppressed Israel / as Iosabab lured. But the Lorde was gracious vnto them / and had mercy vpon them / and named them to them for his clemencye sake with Shababab / Iudaa / and Jacob / and wolde not destroye them / till they were broughte out from his piteynesse vnto this houre.

And Hasak the kynge of Syria dyed / and Benadab his sone was kynge in his steade. But Iosabab turned backe / and toke out of the

The XIII. Chapter.

In the seconde yere of Joas the sonne of Joabao kyng of Iffrael/ was Amasias the sonne of Joas kyng of Iuda made kyng:

4 Pa 370 a
 I ffyue and twentye yere olde was he when he was made kyng/ and reygned nyne and twentye yere at Ierusalem. His moirde name was Joabao of Ierusalem. And he dyd that which was right in the sighte of the Lordde: yecno! as his father Dauid/ buteuen as his father Joas dyd/ so did he also: for he bye places thre or ym downe/ but the people offered and bent inceder yett up the hie places. Now when he had gotten the power of the kingdome/ he smote his sicuncnes/ Turkish had smite the hie his father: durch dydden of his deod the kyng saw he nos: according to that which is wryt in y booke of y lawe of Moyses/wher the Lordd hath commaunded and saide:

 There was thowfande of the Edemite smote he also in the selvalley/ and wanne Selam bar-cell/ and called it Iachrell vnto this daye.
 4 Pa 370 c
 Then sente Amasias messagers vnto Joas the sonne of Joabao the sonne of Iebu kyng of Israel/ sayinge: Come hither see us se one another. But Joas the kyng of Israel sent vnto Amasias the kyng of Iuda/ sayinge:

 wexen proud. Take the praye/ and byde at benie. Why stryest thou for myffonne/ that thou mayest fall/ and Iuda with the? Howebeit/ Amasias consuted no.

Then wente Joas the kyng of Iffrael vnto and they lew one another/ he and Amasias the kyng of Iuda at Beth Sennis which lyeth in Iuda. But Iuda was synner befoe Israel/ so that every one fled in to his counte-

And Joas the kyng of Iffrael seke Amasias the kyng of Iuda/ the sonne of Joas/ foun-dyd of Obosai at Beth Sennis/ and came to Jerusalem/ and brast downe the wal of Jerusalem/ from the poynt of Ephraim vnto the co-ner poynt/ vnto som hundreth cubyte leughe/and toke al the golde/ and siluer/ and manernes that were founde in the house of the Lordd/and in the recessuris of the kynges house/ and the chyldre also to pldge/ as he parted agayne to Samaria.

What more therre is to saye of Joas/ what he dyd/ and of his power/ and how he fought with Amasias the kyng of Iuda/ beholde it is wryten in the Cronicles of the kynges of Iffrael. And Joas fell on slepe with his fathers/ and was buryed at Samaria/ the kynges of Iffrael. And Zecobias his sonne was kyng in his steade.

But Amasias the sonne of Joas kyng of Iuda/ dyd after the deach of Joas the sonne of Joabao kyng of Iffrael/ ffyfftye yere.
 What more therre is to saye of Amasias/ is wryten in the Cronicles of the kynges of Iuda.
 And they cospired agaynst him at Jerusalen/ but he fled vnto Lechis. And they sent after him vnto Lechis/ and slew hym thre/and they broughte hys corpse/ as he was buryed at Ierusalem with his fatheres in the cytye of Dauid. And all the people of Iuda toke Amasias in his sixtyth yere/ and made hym kyng in sted of Amasias his father. He buylde thre Eloy/ and broughte it agayne vnto Iuda/ after that the kyng was fall in slepe with his fatheres.

In the ffyftiend yere of Amasias the sonne of Joas kyng of Iuda/ was Zecobias the sonne of Joas kyng ouer Iffrael at Samaria/ one and fortye yere. And he dyd that which was euill in the sighte of the Lordd/and departed not from all the synnes of Zecobias the sonne of Iffrael/ which caused Iffrael to synne.

But the beryers of Iffrael broughte begonne some Semah vnto the she that lyeth in the plaine fildes/ accordeing to the wordes of the Lordde God of Iffrael/ which he dyde by his ffyrcunt/ I Jomoe the sonne of Ambar/ the prophete/ which was * of Galil Ephraim.
 Soe the Lordd cospired y miserable affliccion of Israel/dovek euen they which were one up and desaias were away/a sheeibre was na helper in Israel. And the Lord said now that he wold destroye the name of Israel fro euer/and euen. And he helped them by Jeroboam the sonne of Joas.

What more there is to saye of Jeroboam/ and all that he dyd/and of his power/ how he soughte and how he soughte Samoson and Hinnah agayne unto Juda in Israel/ beholde/ it is written in the Cronicles of the kynge of Israel. And Jeroboam fell on slepe with his father/ with the kynge of Israel. And Zacharie his sonne was kynge in his steade.

The. XV. Chapter.

In the thien and twyneth yeare of Jeroboam kynge of Israel sayned Asarias as the sonne of Amasias king of Juda: and was thirtene yeare olde when he was made kynge: and raygned two and thirtie yeare at Jerusalem. His mothers name was Zecharia of Jerusalem. And he dyd right in the sight of the Lord: accordinge to all as dyd Amasias his father/ savinge that they put not downe the hie places. For the people dyd sacrifice/ and burnt offerece upon the hie places. Therefore the Lord smote the kynge of Asarias. He departed not from the synne of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat: which caused Israel for to synne. And Sellum the sonne of Zabab conspired against hym/ and smote him/ and was kynge in his steade.

What more there is to saye of Asarias/ and all that he dyd/ beholde/ it is written in the Cronicles of the kynge of Juda. And Asarias fel on slepe with his father/ as was sayed with his father in the cyte of David/ and Jotham his sonne was kynge in his steade.

In the eight and thirtenth yeare of Asarias kynge of Juda/ was Zacharias the sonne of Jeroboam kynge over Israel at Samaria six monethes. And he led that which was set in the sight of the Lord: euen as his father dyd. He departed not from the synne of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat: which caused Israel for to synne. And Sellum the sonne of Zabab conspired against hym/ and smote him/ and was kynge in his steade.

What more there is to saye of Zacharias/ beholde/ it is written in the Cronicles of the kynge of Israel. And this is what the Lord sayd unto Jehu: The children shall sit upon the throne of Israel/ until the daye that I will raise up another kinge to sit there.

Sellum the sonne of Zabab sayned in the nyne and thirtenth yeare of Asarias kynge of Juda/ and raygned one moneth at read Ushe Samaria. For Manabem the sonne of Gadi wrote up from Thirza/ and came to Samaria/ and smote Sellum the sonne of Zabab at Samaria/ and slawe hym/ and was kynge in his steade.

What more there is to saye of Sellum/ and his sedicion/ whiche he stered up/ beholde/ it is written in the Cronicles of the kynge of Israel. At that tyme came dyd Manabem synge Lips/ and al that were there/ and the castles thereof from Thirza/ because they wold not let him in/ and smote al theyr wombe with child/ and eyer them up.

In the nyne and thirtenth yeare of Asarias the kynge of Juda/ beganne Manabem the sonne of Gadi to raygne over Israel ten yeares at Samaria/ and dyd that which was set in the sight of the Lord. As longe as he luyed/ departed he not from the synne of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat/ which caused Israel for to synne. And Phul the kynge of Assiria came into the lande. And Manabem gave unto Phul a thousand talentes of siluer to holde with hym/ and to confirme him in the kyngdome. And Manabem receyved up a tax in Israel upon the ryndell/ thysse tydes of siluer upon every inant/ to give vnto the kynge of Assiria. So the synge of Assiria wrote home agayne/ and taried not in the lande.

What more there is to saye of Manabem/ and all that he dyd/ beholde/ it is written in the Cronicles of the kynge of Israel. And Manabem fel on slepe with his father. And Ditsabias his sonne was kynge in his steade.

In the thirtenth yeare of Asarias kynge of Juda/ beganne Peccabias the sonne of Manabem to raygne over Israel at Samaria vnto thirtie yeare/ and dyd that which was set in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from came from Damascus.

And when the kyng came from Damascus on a fawre che aultare he offered therof and gyfyde his burntofferings and meatofferings upon it and poured his burntofferings thereon and caused the cloude of the sacrificeffing which he offered to be sprentid upon the aultare. But the heaven aultare that stode before the Lord put he away / so that it stode not before the aultare and the house of the Lord / but set it in the corner on the Northsyde of the aultare.

And when the kyng commaunded Davas the priest and scribe: Upon that great aultare shalt thou fynde the burntofferings in the morning and the meatofferings in the evening: and the kynges burntofferings of his meatofferings: and the burntofferings of al the people in the land: wher they: meatofferings and burntofferings. And all the cloude of the burntofferings: and all the cloude of the other offeringes shalke thou sprentid thereon: but with the chosen aultare will I deuyf what I can. Was the priest wh had receyvinge as Davas the kyng commaunded hym.

Le. vii.

And kyng Davas shalke he: one the sydes of the steare / and put awaye the fentell from aboute / and toke the lance from the stein bulwicks that were there wider / and sett upon the pavement of stone. And the pulpyer of the Sabbath / whiche they had buylded on the house: and the entry of the kynges house: were he awaye / and he left of the Lord / for the kyng of Assira sake.

What meane there is to saye of Davas / what he whold holden is written in the Cronicle of the kynges of Juda. And Davas sel on slepe with his father / as was buryed with his fathers in the cite of Samid. And Lechias his sonne was kyng in his steade.

The XVII. Chapter.

In the twelfth yere of Davas / the kyng of Juda / wher gann Oseas the sonne of Elia / as sayne our Israel at Samaria nyne yere / and whid that which was written in the syde of the Lord: but not as the kynges of Israel / were before hym. To trasle hym whid Salmanafor the kyng of Assira come wpon. And Oseas was subiect unto hym: and gave him tributes. But whid kyng of Assira perceaved that Oseas had conspired / as sent into saungers to take the kyng of Egipt / as perced not to come yearly to the kyng of the Assira: he beseyged him and put him in prison. And the kyng of Assira wrote vpon into all the lande / and to Samaria: and layed siege vnto it the yere. And in the nyntenth yere of Oseas whid the kyng of Assira wyane Samaria: and beseyged it: as he layed vnto Assira / and set the at Hazach and at Gabai by the water / Gofan / and in the cite of the Medoa.

For when the children of Israel synned agaynst the Lord: they God / that broughte them out of the lande of Egipt / from the hande of Pharaos kyng of Egipt: and refused other goddes: and walked after the counseil of the Egipten: whome the Lord had buyen out before the children of Israel: as the kynges of Israel: and punished the Lord: they God: and whid secretly / things that were not right in the syght of the Lord: they God: namely in that they buylded them bys places in all cyties: both in castles and stronge cyties / and set vpon pylles and grooves upon all byc hylles / and amongst all grene trees: and bene in a que: there in all the byc places: as was whid the Egipten: whome the Lord had cast out before the / as wroughte thinges: wher whid they provoked the Lord: vnto wrath / and struck the foles: wher of the Lord sayd vnto them: Ye shall not do such thinges.

Yet they despyd his commaundmentes: and his iouenances: which he made with theyr fathers: and his testimones: which he witnessid among them: as walked in the: vnto vnto vnto: as he came wayne followinge the Egipten: wher they were rounde about the / as they whome the Lord had commaunded them: they that they should not do as they did. Neuer theleffe they forsake all the commaundementes of the Lord their God/and made them two molten calves and grooves / and worshipped at the hauf of beauen/and feared Baal/and because they sinned and boughten to go thowen the fire/and melted with forphryco

De. xviii. 2

Then was the Lozde very wroth at He-rail/and put them away from his presence/so that there remained no more/ but only the tribe of Judah. Neether byd Judah the obmaundementes of the Lozde they God/but walked after the customes of Israel/ which they byd. Therefore byd the Lozde cast away all the side of Israel/ a troubled them/ and de-lyered them into the handes of the spayles/till he had talt them out of his presence: for Israel was deuyded from the house of Sauid.
And they made them a kynge/ one Jeroboam the sone of Nebat/ which turned Israel backe from the Lozde / and caused them to synne so foie. Thus walkt the children of Israel in all the synnes of Jeroboam / wherby he had doni/ they departed not from them/ vntill the Lozde put Israel out of his presence/ according as he had spoken by all his seruante the prophetes. So Israel was carryed away out of their owne lande as Assna vnto this daye.

Jer. 17. 4

i. Esd. 10. 6

The kynge of Assria caused men to come from Babylon/ from Eutha/ from Ass/ from Bemah/ and Sepharuam/ and caused them to inhabite the cyties in Samaria/ in steade of the children of Israel. And they toke possession of Samaria/ and dwelt in the same cy-ties. But when they beganne to dwell there/and feared not the Lozde / the Lord sente Lions amonge the/ which slew the. And they caused it to be sayd vnto the kyng of Assria: The Hevryns whom thou hast broughte he-ther/ and caused them to inhabite the cyties of Samaria/ hitore not the lawe of the God of the lande: Therefore hath he sent Lyons amonge them/ and behold/ they slaye them/ because they knowe not the ordinance of the God of the lande.

The kynge of Assria commaunded and sayde: Whyge herbe one of the priestes that were carryed away from thence/ and let him goe thyther and dwell there / and teach them the ordynaunce of the God of the lande. The came one of the priestes / which were carryed awaye from Samaria / and dwelt at Bethel/ and taughte them how they should feare the Lozde. But euery people made their goddies/ and put them in the houses vpon the hyle places / which the Samaritans had made/ vnto people in their cyties wher they dwelt. They of Babylon made Sodorah/ Be-nosch. They of Eub made Etergil. They of Bemah made Assna. They of Ass made Abebas and Tharphal. They of Sepharcuam burnt they: sinned vnto Adiameth and Zamaeth the goddesses of thyn of Sepharuum.

And whyle they feared the Lord/ they made questes in the hyle places of the lowell amonge them/ and put them in the house of the hyle places: Thus they feared the Lord / a fewed the goddesses also/ according to the custome of euery nation/ wher they were broughte. And vnto this daye / do they aske the olde custome/ so that they yet feare the Lozde / not yett theye owne ordinaun-ces and lawes/ after the law and commaundementes that the Lozde commaunded the children of Jacobs/ vnto whome he gaue the lawe of Israel/ and made a commaunty with the and commaunded the/ and said: I fear the other goddesses/ a worshippinge them not / a seru-them not / and aske not vnto them: But the Lozde which broughte you out of the lande of Egypta / with great power/ and omstra-ced ayme/ theye feare/ him worshippinge a vnto to him to sacrifice: and the statutes/ ordinaun-ces / lawes and commaundementes / which he hath caused to be written vnto you / those he thay yett feare/ that he alwaye be ther after / and feare none other goddess. And feiger not the commaunty which he hath made with you/lest you feare other goddess. Thus saie the Lozde your God / ye shal deliuer you from all your enmyes. Neuer theleffe theye wld not hve ken/ but did after thyr olde custome.

Thus the Hevryns feared the Lozde/and fewed the/ Idols also/ and so byd they chylde and chylde chylde iskyest.

I came up hither without the Lorde to destroy these cyties: The Lorde hath commanded me: Go up into that lande and de-stroye it.

E Then saide Eliachim the sonne of Belshia/and Sobna/ and Iosh vnto the chiefe Butler: Speake to thy seruantes in the Syriano language/ for we wnderstande it/ and speake not vnto vs in the Jewes speche before the eares of the people that are vpon the wall.
Nevertheless/ the chiefe Butler said vnto the:
Hath my lord then sent me vnto thy tobe/or to the/ to speake these wordes? Yet/ euen vnto to the men/ which sit vpon the wall that they may eate theyr owne brygge/ and drinke their owne skale with you. So the chiefe Butler stode and cryed with loude voyce/ in the Jewano language/ and said: Heare the word of the great Kyng/ the King of Assyria: Thus saith the Kyng: Receiue Iechias because you / for he is not labe to deliuer you fro my hande/and let not Iechias make you to trust in the Lorde/ sayinge: The Lorde shall deliuer vs/ and this cytye shall not be geuen in to the handes of the Kyng of Assyria. Solow no cye Iechias/ for thus sayeth the Kyng of Assyria.

So me the blessinge/ and come forth vnto me/ so shall euery man eate of his vyne/ and of his fyngre tree/ and drinke of his well/ tyl I come my selfe and fetch you into a lande/which is lyke your owne lande/ wherein is oyle/ wyneye/ bicabe / wyneyardes / oyle trees/oyle/ and honys/ so that ye lyue/ and not dye.
Solow no cye Iechias/ for he receaueth you whan he sayeth: The Lord shall deliuer vs.
Hauie the goddesses of the Cheryten deliuered euery one his lande from the hande of the Kyng of Assyria? Where are the goddesses of Hemath and Arphad? Where are the goddedes of Sepharaim Hena and Iua? Where were deliuered Samaria from my hande?
Where is there one god among the goddesses of all landes/ which hath deliuered his lande fro my hande/ when the Lord shoulde deliuer Ierusalem fro my hande.

So for the people they held theyr peaci/ a gauc bym no ayn/ were: for the kynges had commanded and sayd: Amittre him dooing.
Then came Eliachim the sonne of Belshia the steward/ and Sobna the scribe/ and Iosh the sonne of Assaph the secretary vnto Iechias/ with rente clothes/ and tolde bym the wordes of the Butler.

The XI. Chapter.

So Pan Iechias the kyng berde the/ and reue his dothes/ a put on a sacke cloth/ a went into the house of the Lorde/ and sent Eliachim the steward. And Sobna the scribe with the elde/ puerles / clothed in sacke cloth/vnto the prophete Esay the sonne of Amos/and they sayde vnto hym: Thus saith Iechias: He is a boye of trouble/ and of mysaunce and blasphemie. The children are come to the kyng/ and there is no strength in the belyucred of them. If haply the Lord thy God will heare the wordis of the chiefe Butler/whome his tobe the kyng of Assyria hath sent to blaspheme the kynges: God and his wyllye hym with such wordes as the Lorde thy God hath bred: therefore lyffe thou vp thy prayer for the remanent/ whiche ar left behinde.

And whan kyng Iechias seruantes came to Esay/ Esay said vnto them: Speake thus vnto your lord: Thus saith the Lord: fear not thou the wordes that thou haste herde/ wherewith the kyng of Assyria ser-uantes haue blasphemed me. Behold/ I wil put him in another mynde/ so that he shall heare rynges/ and go a game into his owne countre/ and in his owne lande: wil I cause him to sal honore the streete.

And whan the chiefe Butler came againe/ he founde the kyng of Assyria a syghing against Lybna: for he had herd that he was departed from Lachis. And he berde of Tharacha the kinge of the Moabys: Beholde/ he is gone forth to syght with the. He is ruened he be-cast/ and sent messaungers to Iechias/ and counsed to sac vnto hym: Eate thus vnto Iechias the kyng of Iuda: Let not thy God be caused the/ on whome thou trustest/ and sayest: Ierusalem shall not be geuen into the hande of the kyng of Assyria. Beholde/ thou hast berde what the kynges of Assyria haue done vnto all landes/ a how they damned them/ a stale thou be deliuered: Hauie the goddesses of the Cheryten deliuered them/ whom my ser-uantes destroyed/ as Wofan/ Sarai / Kefep/
and

and the children of Eden which were as The lestar. Where is the kyng of Semarh the kyng of Tybbad and the kyng of the epte Sipharum/Gemal and Juar

¶ And when Ezechias had receaved the letters of the missaungers and had red the he went up to the house of the Lord and layed them aboade before the Lord and made his prayer before the Lord and sayd O Lord God of Israel/ thou that sitest upon the Cherubyn/ thou onely art God amonge all the kyngdomes of the earth/ thou hast made heauen and earth. And thine eynes are O Lord/ and heare: open thine eyes/and beholde/ and heare the wordes of Semnachs: which hath syn charyer to blasphem-me the kyng of God. It is true (O Lord) that the kynges of Assyria haue destroyed the heiden and their lande with the swordes/and haue cast their goddes in the fyre: for they were noe goddes: but the worke of mens handes/ woodes and stoncs/ therefore haue they destroyed it. But now O Lord helpe thou me out of this bande/ that all the kyngdomes vpon earth may knowe that thou Lord art God alone.

¶ Then sent Esay the sonne of Amos vnto Ezechias sayinge: Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel: Whence as thou hast made thy prayer vnto me/ concerning Semnachs the kyng of Assyria/ I haue heard it. This is that the Lord hath spoken agaynst him.
Scharh besyde the/ and meked the O vi-gin thou daughter Zion: be thy self in his bede at the O daughter Ierusalem. Whome ¶ But haste thou not herde how that I haue done this longe ago/ and haue prepared it fro the beginninge: Now haue I caused it for to come/ that contraryous stronge cynic/ myght fall into a wastle heap of ste-nes/ and they that dwell therein/ shall be sayit and fearefull/ and ashaamed/ I and shall be as the grasse vpon the felde/ and as the grene herbe/ and haue vpon the haustroppis/ that withered afore it be growen vpon. I knowe thy habitacion/ thy out and in goynges/ and that thou ragest agaynst me. For so muche as thou ragest agaynst me/ and sayng thy pre-sumpcion is come vpon to myne eares/ therfore will I put a ringe in thy nose/ and a dibble bit in thy lippes/ and will bringe the again/ vnto the same waye thou camest.

¶ And let this be a token vnto the O Ezechias. In this yere eate that which is fallen.
In the seconde yere such as groweth of it it selfe: In the thyrde yere sowe a capse/ and plante vnyngardes/ and eate the fruite thereof.
And the daughter Iuda which is escaped and remaineth/ shall from heere forth take rote branch/ and beare frute aboade. For the remnant that go forth from Ierusalem/ a they that are escaped/ shall go out from mount Sion. The gelousy of the Lord Saboth shall bring this to passe.

¶ Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God concerning the kyng of the Assyriars: He shal not come into this cite/ and shal shoue no arrow therin/ neither shal theye come any sorde before it/ neyther shall he bygger any banke about it/ but shal go agayn the waye that he came/ and shal not come into this cite/ sayeth the Lord: and I will defende this cite/ to helpe it for myne owne sake/ and for my seruauncs souldes sake.

¶ And in the same myght went the aungel of the Lord/ and smote in the host of the Assi-ans/ and hūshed and slew a fourtye thousand men. And when they gaue them vp in the mornynge/ behold al lye full of dead carcases.
¶ So Semnachs kyng of Assyria stode vpon and departed/ remitted/ and abode at Hama-uc. And so he was slayd in the booke of Ierem-ias: he god/ his owne sonnes Darnalesch and Saccar slew him with the sword/ and shed into the land of Ieraz. And Sarrabon his sonne was kyng in his steade.

The

The XX. Chapter.

AND that tyme was Ezechias dead syde. And the prophet Esay sonne of Amos came to him/and said vnto him: Thus sayeth the Lord: See thyne house in order/as thou shalt be/and not lye. And he turned his face to the wall/and prayed vnto the Lord/and sayde: Remember O Lorde/that I haue walked synfully before the/and with a perfect heart/and haue done that which is good in thy sight. And Ezechias wepte sore. But when Esay was not gone out of halfe the cytie/ the voice of the Lord came to him and sayde: Turne backe/ and tell Ezechias the punice of my people: Thus sayeth the Lorde God of israhel sayd: I haue deuide thy prayer/ and considered thy teares. Beholde/ I will heale the. On the rynde thou shalt thou go vp into the haufe of the Lord/ and syfene yeares will I haue vnto thy lye/ and will befyer the/ and the cyte from the finge of Assur/ and this cyte will I defende for myne awne sake/ and for my seruaut Dauides sake. And Esay sayde/ thusge herber a quantite of syfene. And when they brought them/ they layed them vpon the foye/ and it was healeth.

Ezechias saide vnto Esay: Why is the token/ that the Lord will heale me/ and that I shal go vp into the house of the Lorde on the rynde/ that Esay saide: This token shalt thou haue of the Lord/ that the Lord shal do according as he hath saide: Shal the shadowe go ten degrees forward/ or shal it turne ten degrees backward? Ezechias saide: It is an easy thinge for the shadowe to go ten degrees backward/ that is not my mynde/ but that it go ten degrees backward. Then he ceyed the prophete Esay vnto the Lorde/ that the shadowe wold backe ten degrees in Achas house/ which he was descended of.

In the same tyme Merobach Balob the sonne of Baadan kynge of Babylon sent letters and presentes vnto Ezechias/ for he had hearde that Ezechias had ben syke. And Ezechias charged with them/ and shewed them at the house of frounce/ the siluer/ gold/ speere/ and the best of sicke/ and the haufe of ordinaunce/ and all that was founde in his treasures. There was nothinge in his house/ and in all his Dominion/ but Ezechias shewed them.

Then came Esay the prophete vnto kynge Ezechias/ and saide vnto him: What haue these men sayde/ and whence came they vnto the? Ezechias saide: They came to me out of a strange countrey/ from Babylon/ the sayde: What haue they sene in thy house? Ezechias saide: They haue sene al that is in my house/ there is nothinge in my treasures/ but I haue shewed it them. Then saide Esay vnto Ezechias: Heare the worde of the Lorde: Beholde/ the name cometh that it shalde carryed away and vnto Babylon/ and whatsoever thy fathers haue layed vpon this dyer/ and there shall nothinge be left/ sayeth the Lord: Yet/ and the children which come of the/ whome thou shalt begite/ shalde taken away to be chandlers lames in the kynge of Babilons palace. Ezechias saide vnto Esay: It is good that Lord hath spoken. And he sayde mooure/ that there be peace yet/ and sayfulness in my tyme.

What more there is to saye of Ezechias/ all his power/ and what he dyd/ and of the pool and water conduite/ whereby he conued water into the cyte/ beholde/ it is written in the Cronicles of the kynge of Iuda. And Ezechias fell on slepe with his fathers/ and Manasse his sonne was king in his steede. The XXI. Chapter.

Manassee was in the yere elde when J was and syfye yere at Jerusalem. His mothers name was Sephy. He had wyfe wherich was called in the gyfte of the Lord/ and he was the abhominacions of God. In the tyme the Lord expellid before the children of Iuda/ and theyd forward/ and theyd vnto the bye places/ which his father Ezechias had destroyed/ and sit vpon Baals altare/ or a maner grouce/ as I had the kynge of Israil dyd/ and was shipped all the booff of heauen/ and serued them. And sayldo Taulance in the Lorde a house/ where of the Lord saide: I will sit my name at Jerusalem. And in this the courtes of the house of the Lord buylded by aultare/ and all the hauff of heauen. And I caused his sonne to go thowow the sye/ and regarded Gybes crynges/ and tofene/ and he matured synthynges/ and exponiers of wylfons/ as much dyd he of this/ which was uel in the syght of the Lorde that he prouoc ed bym vnto war.

B A geue Iddo also which he had made for by in the house / wherof the Lorde said vnto Dauid and to Salomon his sonne: In this house stand at Jerusalem (which I haue chosen out of all kyngdomes of Israel) wyl I set my name for euer / and wyl not cause the site of Israel to be remoued any more from the lade which I gaue onto theyr fathers / yee / so that they obserue / and do accordinge vnto all that I haue charged them / and after all the lowe that my seruantes Moyses commaunded the Hebrewe the lesse they wolde not becke / but Moyses becaued them / so that they dyd worke then the Hebrewe whom the Lorde respic-tid before the chyldren of Israel.

This spake the Lorde by his seruantes the prophetes / a sayd: Because that Manasse the kyng of Iuda hath done these abhorminacions / which are worse then all the abhorminacions that the Amonites haue done / which were before the / and hath caused Iuda esse to sinne agaynst they God: therefore thus

saith the Lorde God of Israel: I whilde I wyl bringe such a plague vpon Jerusalem I wyl that whosoeuer heareth w both his eares / shall shewe / and ouer Jerusalem wyl I stretch forth the lynce of Samara / and the weyght of the house of Iddah / and wyl wepe out Jerusalem / euen as one wepeth a plauer / and I wyl ouercome it. And the remanens of myne embracement wyl I cast out / a scaw-er the abowd / and wyl vlytut them in to the handes of theyr enemyes / so be spoyled a rtine of all theyr enemyes: because they haue done that which is euell in my syght / a haue I prouocid me vnto wrath / hence I saye that I drought theyr fathers out of Egipte / now saye I Manasse also shal exceede much in euill behaue / so longe wyl Jerusalem be fill on euery syde / bys byd synnes wherwith he caused Iuda to synne / so that they dyd that which was euell in the syght of the Lorde.

What more there is to say of Manasse / and all that he dyd / and his synnes whiche he committid behalde / it is wryten in the Cronicles of the Kynges of Iuda. And Manasse fell on slep with his fathers / and was buryed in the garden besyde his house / namely / in the garden of Usa: and Amon his sonne was kyng in his stead.

Two and twenty year olde was Amon if he whan he was made kyng / a he raygned two year at Jerusalem. His mothers name was Mesum (the cheche daughter of Barua of Zarbabe) he dyd euell in the syght of the Lorde / as Manasse his father had done / and walked in all the way which his father walked / a serued the Idols which his father had serued / and worshipped them / and forsote the Lorde the God of his fathers / and walked not in the waye of the Lorde.

And his seruantes conspyred agaynst Amon / and stwe the kyng in his house. But the people of the lande stwe all thin that had conspyred agaynst kyng Amon. And the prople of the lande made Josias his soune kyng in his stead. As for other thinges that Amon dyd / or holdeth / they are wryten in the Cron-icles of the Kynges of Iuda. And he was buryed in his graue in Usas garden. And Josias his soune was kyng in his stead.

The XXXI Chapter.

So was t was eight year olde whan he was made kyng / and raygned one and thretyny year at Jerusalem. His mothers name a was Jedida the daughter of Baia of Bas-sath / and dyd that which was ryght in the syght of the Lorde / and walked in all the way of Dauid his father / a turned not asyde / neyther to the ryght / a bande / nor to the left.

And in the eightieth yere of kyng Josias the kyngs sene Captan the sonne of Usa his the sonne of Mesulam the scribe / in to the house of the Lorde / and sayd: Go thy way thou thye part / that the money that is brought vnto the house of the Lorde (which the res-pitable lepers haue gathered of the people) maye be payed vnto theyr em / that they maye geue it to the woollmen which are appoynted in the house of the Lorde / and to geue it vnto the labourers in the house / a they maye repayre the decaye in the house / namely / vnto the carpenters / and buylders / and masons / a to the that theye synde / and hie / stone for the repoynting of the house: but so that theye be no accomptes taken of the / concerninge the money that is vnder theyr hande / but that they deale wrythall vpon credence.

B And Helchias the hye priest sayd vnto Saphan the scribe: I haue founde the booke of the lawe in the house of the Lorde. And Helchias gaue the booke vnto Saphan / that he mighte reade it. And Saphan the scribe bare it vnto the kyng / and brought hyme wordes agayne / and saide: Thy seruantes haue gathered together the money that was founde in the house: / a haue desyered it vnto the weste men: which are appoynted in the house of the Lorde. And Saphan the scribe tolde the kyng: and sayde: Helchias the hye priest hath desyered the booke: / and Saphan red it before the kyng.

But when the kyng herde the wordes of the booke of the lawe: he rent his clothes. And the kyng commaunded Helchias the priest: and Ahiam the sonne of Saphan: and Ichon the sonne of Inhania: / and Saphan the scribe: / a this is the wyse counsailler the Lorde for me / for the people: and for all Iuda / concauntyng the wordes of this booke shaw founde: for greuous is the wrath of the Lorde: that is kyndled ouer vs: / because ouer fathers haue not hearkened vnto the wordes of this booke: / so do all thar in vs: which are vnto vs this day.

Then went Helchias the hye priest: / a Ahiam the sonne of Saphan: / and Ihsaia vnto Iuda: he prophesyed the wordes of Isaia / the sonne of Amos: / the sonne of Baran: the kepe of the chaldeans: the dyde at Ierusalem in the second yere: / as they spake vnto har. And she said vnto them: Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israhel: Tell the man that hat you vnto me. Thus sayth the Lorde: Beholde: I will bunge euill vpon this place: / and the inhabitants thereof: / men all the wordes of the lawe which the kyng hath caused to be red: / because they haue forsaken me: / and diem in mee: vnto other gods: / so proude me ouer reward with all the wyse of their wyde. This is for my wrath kyndled agaynst the cytye: / and shall not be quenched.

But tell the vnto the kyng of Iuda: which hath sent you: / a councounsailler: as the Lorde: Thus sayth the Lorde: God of Israhel: he is: if he come herte: / so he departed from the word: / so which thou hast herd: / and hath bin called: the Lorde: / so he are vnto

I haue spoken agaynst this place: / and the inhabitants thereof: / (home that they shall become a very desolacion: and wast) / and hast rente thy clothes: / a wept before me: / I haue herd it: sayth the Lorde: Therefore will I gather the vnto thy fathers: / so that thou shalt be put vnto thy graue in peace: / and thy name shall not be called: euill: that I will bunge vpon this place. And they brought the kyng wordes agayne.

The XXIII Chapter.

Said the kyng sent forth: / and all the Elders: / which were in Iuda: / and Ierusalem: / so that they should come to him: / and the kyng wente up in to the house of the Lorde: / and all the men of Iuda: / and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem: with hym: the priestes: / and prophetes: / a all the people: both small and great: / and all the wordes of the booke of the concauntyng that was founde in the house of the Lorde: / were red in thys: / acco. And the kyng stode vpon a pylle: / and made a concauntyng before the Lorde: / that they should walke after the Lorde: / and to kepe his commaundmentes: / and iustices: / and ordinaunces: with all theys herte: / and with all theyr soule: / that they should set vp the word: / of the concauntyng: / which are written in this booke. And all the people cried: / in to the concauntyng.

And the kyng commaunded Helchias the hye priest: / and the priestes of the seconde course: / the keepers of the tresholde: / that they should put out of the temple: / all the vessels: / which were made for Baal: / and for the grouse: / and for all the host of heauen: / and he burnt them vnto Ierusalem: / in the valley of Ecion: / and the duste of them was carryd vnto Babel.

And he purdome the Remurims: / whome the kynges of Iuda had founde: / so buent in: / and cecre vpon the hye place: / in the cytye of Iuda: / and aboute Ierusalem. Lequire drome: / also the that burnt in mee: vnto Baal: / the Shil: / the Moloch: / and the twelfe idoles: / and to all the host of heauen: / and the grone cause to be carryd from the house of the Lorde: / out of Ierusalem: / in to the valley of Ecion: / and burnt it: / and cast the duste vpon the graue of the concauntyng people. And he brake downe: / the which: / was hors: / and was: / were by the beuse of the Lorde: / wher in the wom: / in: /

† In his tyme went Pharaos Necho the kynge of Egypte up against the kynge of Assiria by the water Euphrates. But kynge Josias went agaynst hym and dyed at Megiddo/whan he had sente hym. And his seruantes caried hym dead from Megiddo / and brought hym to Jerusalem / and buryed hym in his graue. / And the people of the land toke of Joabab the sonne of Josias / and anoynted hym kynge in his fathers steade.

¶ The and thertye yere olde was Joabab whan he was made kynge / and reigned thie monethes at Jerusalem. His mothers name was Hamatal / the daughter of Jeremia of Libna. And he dyd that which was euill in the sight of the Lorde / euen as his fathers had done. But Pharaos Necho toke hym prisoner at Melbaha in the lande of Hamath / that he shoulde not reigne at Jerusalem: and rayed a targe upon the lande / an hundred cartelies of siluer / and one talent of golde. And Pharaos Necho made Eliachim the sonne of Josias king in his fathers steade / and turned his name Joachim. / But Joabab reke he / a daughter him in to Egypte where he dyed. And Joachim gauit the siluer and golde vnto Pharaos / yet reke he the lande that he myghte geue the siluer / according to Pharaos commaundement. Every one amonge the people of the lande sayd he after his aduylt in siluer and golde / a greit vnto Pharaos. Syce and thertye yere olde was Joachim whan he was made kynge / and reigned eleuen yeres at Jerusalem. His mothers name was Sedida the daughter of Debaia of Rama / and he dyd euill in the sighte of the Lorde / euen as his fathers had done.

The XXXIII. Chapter.

¶ In the tyme came up Nabuchodonosor the kynge of Babilon / and Joachim was in subiection vnto hym this yere. And he wened becke / and rebelled agaynst hym. And the Lorde sente nen of water vpon hym out of Chalde / out of Sien / out of Moab / and fro amonge the dytyens of Ammon / and cused the so to come in to Iuda / to destroye it according to the woide of the Lord / which he spak by his seruantes the prophetes. It founde euill so vnto Iuda / according to the woide of the Lorde / that he wolde purche awaye fro his presence / because of the synnes of Moab / which he dyd / and because of the innocer bloude that he shed. And he synned Jerusalem with innocer bloude / therefore wolde not the Lorde be reconcyled.

¶ What more therto in tyme of Joachim / and Babilon / all that he dyd / behaldden in wynter in the last nyghte of the kynge of Iuda. And Joachim fel on slepe with his fathers. And Joachim the sonne was kynge in his stead. And the kynge of Egypte came north out of his lande for the kynge of Babilon had conquered all that was the kynge of Egypte / from the ryuer of Egypte vnto the water Euphrates. Eghtere yere olde was Joachim whan he was made kynge / a reigned thie monethes at Jerusalem. His mothers name was Nebulbaha the daughter of Elnathan of Jerusalem. And he dyd euill in the sighte of the Lorde / euen as his father had done.

¶ In the same tyme went the seruantes of Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babilon vnto Jerusalem / and came vpon the citty / with a nauence of water. And whan Nabuchodonosor and his seruantes came to the citty / they layd siege vnto it. But Joachim the kynge of Iuda wente south to the kynge of Babilon with his mother / with his seruantes / with his rulers and chamberlaynes. And the kynge of Babilon receaued hym in the eighth yere of his captiue.

¶ And he toke south from thence all the treasures in the house of the Lorde / and in the kinges house / and brake all the golde vessels that Salomon the kynge of Israel had made in the house of the Lorde / according as the Lorde had saide / and caried awaye all Jerusalem / all the rulers / all the myghty men / euen thousande prisoners / and all the captiues / and all the sinners / and left none behinde / but the poore people of the lande.

¶ And he caried Joachim awaye vnto Babilon / a the kynge's mother / the kinges myghty men / and his chamberlaynes / and the myghty men of his lande led he awaye prisoners / some from Jerusalem vnto Babilon / and some charyntes of the best men / and a thousande captiues / and synners / and all the strong men of water. And the kynge of Babilon brought hym awaye captiue vnto Babilon.

¶ And

1 And the kynge of Babylon made Matania his vncle kynge in his stead / and turned his name Zedechias.

4 And after twenty yere olde was Zedechias / when he was made kynge / and raygned eleven yere at Jerusalem. His mothers name was Shithai the daughter of Teruua of Libna. And he had tweluen the syghte of the Lorde / euen as Ioaquim had: for thus sayned it vnto Jerusalem and Jude: howe the wrath of the Lorde / shall he had cast them out fro his presence. And Zedechias fell awaye from the kynge of Babylon.

The. XXV. Chapter.

1 And it fortuned / that / in the nyenth yere of his raygne / upon the tenth daye of the tenth moneth / Nabuchodonosor the kynge of Babilon came with all his power agaynst Jerusalem. And they layed siege vnto it / a buylde stronge holdro rounde aboute it. This was the cytye besyged vnto the twelfth yere of the kynge Zedechias. But on the nyenth daye of the fourth moneth was there hunger so stryde in the cytye / that the people of the lande had no kynge to eat. And the cytye was broken open / and all the men of warre fled in the night by the waye of the porte betwene the two walles / which goeth to the kynge garden. But the Caldees laye aboute the cytye. And Zedechias fled by the waye to the playne side. Nevertheless / the power of the Caldees folowed after the kynge / and toke him in the playne side of Zedechias: and all the men of warre that were with hym / were scattered abroad from hym. And they toke the kynge / and led hym vp to the kynge of Babylon vnto Reklartha. And he gaue iudgement vpon hym. And they slew Zedechias theyden before his eyes / and put ouer Zedechias eyes / bounde hym with chaynes / and carryed hym vnto Babilon.

2 Upon the seuenth daye of the fifth moneth / that is the nyenth yere of Nabuchodonosor the kynge of Babylon / came Nabufardan the cheefe captayne / the kynge of Babylons first / vnto vnto Jerusalem / and burne the house of the Lorde / and the kynge house / and the house at Jerusalem / and all the greater house burne he with fyre. And all the power of the Caldees / which was with the cheefe captayn / brake downe the walles rounde aboute

Jerusalem. As for the people that yet were left in the cytye / and were fallen vnto the kynge of Babilon / and the other that remayne people / Nabufardan the cheefe captayne carryed them awaye. And of the poorest people byd the cheefe captayne take in the lands to be wyngardens and plowmen.

But the brasse pillars in the house of the Lorde / and the frames / and the brasse lance that was in the house of the Lorde / byd the Caldees brake downe / and carryed the metall vnto Babilon. And the portes / houses / cellars / houses / and all the brasse vessel that was occupied in the stryce / carryed they awaye. And the cheefe captayne toke awaye the vessels and beles / that were of golde and silver / and pillars one luter / and the leares that Salomon had made for the house of the Lorde. The metall of all these ornaments coude not be weyged. The kynge rounde bye was one pyller / and the knoppe thereon was of brasse / also / and the rubies therean the rape a the Daignation upon the knoppe rounde aboute were all of brasse. After the same maner was the other pyller also with the rape.

And the cheefe captayne toke Searia the eldest of the first course / a Sophony the eldest of the second course / and the boie Sepho / and one chambrelayne out of the cytye / which was oppoynd ouer the men of warre: and they men that were cuer before the kynge / which were foude in the cytye: and Sopher the captayne / which caught the people of the lande to fyght: / and the seuen men of the people of the lande / that were founde in the cytye: thes byd Nabufardan the cheefe captayne take / a brought them vnto the kynge of Babilon vnto Reklartha. And the kynge of Babilon slew the at Reklartha in the lade of Hemath. Thus was Juda caryed awaye out of his lande.

But ouer the remnaue of the peoplen the lande of Juda / whome Nabuchodonosor the kynge of Babylon lefte bynden / the Cheefe Captayne the sonne of Thicam the sonne of Saphan. Now what all the captaynes of the southerne / and the men here / that the kynge of Babylon had made Godolias governour / they came to Godolias vnto Jerusaleme. Wher they founde the sonne of Itai / whome they called Hanni the sonne of Carca / and Searia the Mesphar.

sonne of Eandomech the Metopbanic / a Ierusalemite the sonne of Machari with thre men. And Godaliah wente vnto them / and to their men / and sayde vnto them : I feare not ye the officers of the Caldees / for ye in the lande / and submitte your selfe vnto the kynge of Babilonia / and ye shall prosper. But in the seuenth moneth came Simai the sonne of Maibanus the sonne of Usilama / (of the kynge of Tyre) and ten men with hym / and seue Godolico / and the Tewes and Caldees that were with hym at Usilpa. Then all the people gat the word / and small and great / and the captaynes of the booke / and came in to Egypte / for they were afraied of the Caldees.

Iere. li.

¶ Toward the seuen and thirtieth year after that Joachim the kyng of Iuda was carryed away on the seuen and twentieth day of the month / Leuincroded the kyng of Babilon in the fiftie year of his reygne / lift vp the head of Joachim the kyng of Iuda out of prison / and spake loungly vnto hym / and he shewd abone the troncs of the kynges that were with hym at Babilon / and changed the clothes of his captiue. And he vndercarde alway before hym as long as he lyued. And he appoynted hym his portion / which was euer greden him dayly of the kyng / as long as he lyued.

The children of Eshai his brother were: U-his first sonne / Zusa the seconde / Epele the thirde. The children of Uam were valeumme / a coulde handle bowes / a had many sons / a sonnes sonnes an hundred / a fynde. Al-these are of the children of Ben Jamin.

The .X. Chapter.

S All of Israell were numbered / and be-yngelde / they are wysen in the boke of the kynges of Israel and Juda / and now are they caryd awaye unto Babylon for they synne / when they had stode dwelt in theyr possessions and cytes / namely Jirail / the kyngdome / Leuies / and Kerchim. But at Jerusalem dwelle: rayne of the children of Juba / sonne of the children of Ben Jamin / sonne of the children of Ephraim and of Manasse: Namely of the children of Dabre the sonne of Juba / was Diba / the sonne of Amud /

And the Archers came upon him/so that he was wounded of the archers The said Saul vnto his weapenbearers. I sawe our thy forehead / and thus it rebotom me/ that these mercumised come not/and deale shamefully with me. Neuerthelesse/ his weapenbearers would not/ for he was sore frayed. Then rofe Saul his forehead/ and fell thereon When his weapenbearers sawe that Saul was dead / he fel vpon his forehead also/ and dyed.

Thus dyed Saul and his three sonnes/ and all his household together. And when the men of Israel which were in the valley/ sawe that Saul and his sonnes were dead / they left theyr cities and fled: and the Philistines came and dwelt therein.

1. Ke. xiii. b

¶ On the morrow rane the Philistines to spoyle the layne/ and founde Saul and his sonnes leinge vpon mount Gilboa/ a striped their out/ a toke his head/ a his harness/ and sent it aboue into the land of the Philistines/ and caused it to be strowed before they: Idols and the people. And his weapen layd they in the boule of theyr gods/ a stakc vpon his head vpon the house of Daggon.

¶ Thus dyed Saul in his trespass which he committed against the Lorde/ because he kepte not the woide of the Lorde: and because he ased counsil at the feythisayer / and ased not at the Lorde/ therefore slew he him/ and turned the kyngdome vnto Dauid.

The XII. Chapter.

1. Kg. v. a

¶ Now all Israel reioiced to Dauid vnto the vntion/ and said: The hold/ we are thy bone and thy flesh. And afore tyme when Saul raygned thou leddest Israel out and in. So the Lorde thy God barly sayd vnto the: Thou shalt fepe my people of Israel / a thou shalt be the prince ouer my people of Israel. And all the Elders of Israel came to the kyng vnto Hebron. And Dauid made a conuenant with them at Hebron before the Lorde. And they anoynted Dauid to be kyng ouer Israel/ according to the woide of the Lorde. 1. Ke. vi. 1.

¶ And Dauid and Israel wente vnto Jerusalem/ that is Iebusai/ as the Iebusites dwelt in the lande. And the caryes of Iebus said vnto Dauid: Thou shalt not come in hither. Howbeit/ Dauid wanne the castell of Zion/ which is the cite of Dauid. And Dauid sayd: I rethosouer synicity the Iebusites first. I shall be a greece and captayne. Then Iob the sonne of Terua climmed vp hylle / and was made captayne. So Dauid dwelt in the castell/ therof was it called the cite of Dauid. And he builded the cirt rounde aboute / fro the hills south on euery side. As for the remnaite of the cite Iob builded it / and repared it. And Dauid wente forth and grewe/ and the Lorde Iabaoth was with him.

¶ These are the chief amonge: the myghty men of Dauid/ which valew valiantly with him in his kyngdome with all Israel/ to make him kyng/ according to the woide of the Lorde ouer Israel. And this is the nombre of Dauids myghty men: Iesababam the sonne of Hachmoni the chiefest amonge thynne/ he lyft vp his spere/ and smote thie hundredth at one name.

¶ Istarhim was Eleazar the sonne of Do- do the Ithobite/ and he was amonge the the myghty. This man was with Dauid when they blasphemed / a the Philistines had gathered themselves thet to the barrail. And neuer there was there a pece of lade full of dais / and the people fled before the Philistines. And they stode in the middes of the lande/ and rescued it/ and smote the Philistines. And the Lorde gaue a greete breith.

¶ And the of the chiefest amonge thy wate / vnto the reede vnto Dauid into the cause of the of Ibuliam Bar the Philistines hooff lay in the valley of Rephaim. So for Dauid he was in the castell. And the Philistines people were therein at Bribchem. And Dauid was deffrous/ and sayd: O that some wold gaue me to thynge of the water out of the well at Bribchem vnder the gate. Then I shal drake those that in the Philistines hooff/ and due of the water out of the well at Bribchem vnder the gate/ and carrye it/ and bringe it vnto Dauid. Neuerthelesse wold not Iunke it/ but pour red it unto the Lord/and sayde God let this be sarr frome/that I shoulde doe it /a dunke the bloude of this me in the parrell of theys lyfe: for with the pecc of theys lyfe haue they doughte it therefor wolde he not vyfne it. Thus dyd the thie Wothyes.

Abisa the brather of Joab/he was the churff amonge the. And he lyre vp his speare and smote the thie hdderb. And he was famous amange the /and before the thirde trowe honorable thei: the rowe /ys came he not vnto the thie.

D T Benaiia the sonne of Joiada the sonne of Ishal of Cabseel/ was a man of great accorde. He smote two Lyons of the Moabites. And he wente vnto a smort a Lyon in the myddes of a wellle in the tyme of snowe. He sinned a man of Egipt also/whiche was fyue eithre tye greare of stature/ and had in his hande a speare lyke a weaure lorne. Yet wai he doune to hym with a sicke/ and toke the speare out of his hande/ a flew: him with his owne speare. Thus dyd Benaiia the sonne of Joiada/ a was a famous man amonge the Wothyes /and mooste auncient amonge thysye. But vnto the thie came he not. Howbeit/ Dauid made hym of his feteece cains/yll.

The valeaunt Wothyes are these: Ashill the brather of Joab/Elhanan his vnckle sone of Berthems/ Samoth the Haradite / Beleg the Pelonite/ Ira the sonne of Ekas the Cherone. Abiahe the Anathothite / Sibeai the Hushithite. Alai the Adobite / Matheras the Hephane: Beled the sonne of Baraa / Heliybanit / Irbai the sone of Ribai of Giberat the chyldren of Ben Jamin/ Benaiia / Dargabonite/ Hura of the brok of Gaas / Abiel the Anathothite/ Amia the Dabrumite/ Elshai the Saabamit. The chyldren of Basan the Wisomite/ Bonabas the sone of Sags the Haaunit/ Alaiin the sonne of Sagar the Haaunit / Elphal the sone of De / Hephert the Madabratite/ Abia the Pelonite/ Bezro of Carmell / Klaiat the sonne of Abai/ Jod the brather of Harhan/ Madegar the sanne of Hagni / Seleg the Amimonue / Haberau the Errothue / weapendeater of Joab the sonne of Jeremia/ Ira the Jeronite/ Waied the Jeronite/ Klai the Hethite/ Sabad the sonne of Abai/ Abina the sone of Sise/ the Rubenite/a captayne of the Rubenites/ and thire were thysye vnder hym: Bani the sonne of Naashe/ Josaphar the Naithonit/ Nisa / Nabarathie/ Sama and Saul the sonnes of Hootha be Aracure/ Ichai the sonne of Simir/ Juba his brather the Elythite/ Eliel the Maabennue/ Zerhai and Josua the sonnes of Elho Naas/ Ichmas the Moabite / Elul / Obed/ Naasiel of Moabias.

The. XIII. Chapter.

T Hese also came to Dauid vnto Sidlag/ T Urban he was yett kypis syde deaste of I. r. r. r. r. Saul the sonne of Cis. And they were lykewise amonge the Wothys that belord in the battayl/ and could handle bowes with both theys handes/ and coude cast stones/ a stout arrowe with the bowe.

Of Saule chyldren which were of Ben Jamin the chieffest thysie and Joas the chyldren of Samas the Gibeathite. Jersiel and Delet the chyldren of Amansai/ Bracha and Jehu the Anathothite / Jeshiaa the Gibeonite/ valeaunt amonge thysie and ouer thysye/ Jeremia/ Jabsiel/ Zohab / Josabab the Gederathite/ Elcusai/ Jerimoth/ Belsai/ Samaria/ Saphoea the Anaphite/ Elfana/ Jeshua/ Hared/ Joser/ Jabsam the Corahite/ Joas and Sabadia the chyldren of Jeroham of Gad.

Of the Gaddites reposed there vnto Dauid to the castell in the wylderneffe / i. iij. thysye Wothyes and men of armes/ whiche hande led speares and stredges/ and had sacres like Lyons/ and were as wyffe as the Kooe vpon the mountaynes. The first Hefer/ the seconde Obadia / the thirde Klai / the fourth Masmana/ the fyft Jeremia/ the sise Arbai/ the seuenth Eliel the eghit Jobanna/ the nynth Elshad/ the tenth Jeremia / the iij. thysye Masabanai. These were of the chyldre of Gad / bradee in the boot/ / yeast ouer an hundred/ and the greaist ouer a thousand. These are they/ whiche in the first moneth were ouer Joabada when it was full on both the floute/ / that all the valleye were euen both towarde the West and towarde the West.

There came of the chyldren of Ben Jamin also/ and of Juda onto the castell of Dauid. But Dauid wente forth onca i. iij. / and auerced and said onto the: If ye come in peace/and to helpe int/ my bertie shalbe with you.

 Buysye came vpon Beccare/ and to be myne aduersarye / where as there is yett nothin egypt in me / the God of oure fathers loke vpon it/ and redurke it kenerlye/ for the spere ended Amasa the captayne amonge / thys ye / and he sayde / We are thynne O Dauid/and halde with the thou sonne of Ihu Dauid/prate be with the / peace be with thy helpe / for thy God helpe the. Then Dauid recea ned them / and made them captaynes ouer the men of warre.

¶ And of Manasse there fell certeyne into Dauid/ when he came to the battayl with the Philistynes agaynst Saul / and helped them ¶ Kc. xxx. a not / for the pntes of the Philistynes coun stoyled to let him go for the / and sayde / If he fell vnto the lorde Dauid / is myght east vs our nectes. / How when he departed vnto /

¶ Kc. xxx. c Sic clegh there fell vnto hym of Manasse / Dna / Josabab / Zeduel / Michael / Josabab / Elhu / Siluab / brades ouer thousandes in Manasse.
 And they helped Dauid agaynst the men of warre / for they were all valiant Worthies/and were the captaynes ouer the hoost. And eury wy came there some to Dauid to helpe hym / yf there was a grece hoost as an hoost of God.

¶ And this is the nombre of the heades har nessed vnto the warre / which came to Dauid vnto Hebron / for to turne the kyngdom of Saul vnto hym / accordyng to the woode of the Lorde.

¶ Of the chyldren of Iuda / whiche haded spea cce and force / were six thousand / and eght hundred ready harnessed vnto warre.
 Of the chyldren of Simeon noble men of ar mes for the battaile / seven thousande and one hundred. Of the chyldren of Leui four thou sand and six hundred. And Jojada the pnce among the of Iaren with the thousand and seven hundred. Sadoc the yonge valcunt nia of armes with his fathers hous / two and certeyn rylers. Of the chyldren of Ben Jar min Sauls brother / three thousande / for vnto that tyme hadde many of them yett with the hoost of Saul.

¶ Of the chyldren of Ephraim / certeyn thou sande and eght hundred valcunt men of ar mes / as famous as the hoost of thee fathers.

¶ Of half tribe of Manasse / certeyn thou sande / named by name to come and make De uid fyng. Of the chyldren of Iehochab / which were men of vnderstanding / whan theye ac quired to knowe what Israel shoulde do / theye hundred captaynes / and all theye brethren fo lowed theye word. Of Zabulon / such as were forth in the hoost to the warre / ready with all maner of weapons for the battayl / yf theye saide / theye of one mynde to kepe them / sil kes in orde.

¶ Of Nephtali / a thousand captaynes / and 2 with them suche as haunted the lorde / and sprate seven and thynne thousand. Of Dan ready harnessed to the battayl / egypte and certeyn thousande and six hundred. Of Assur / such as were forth in the hoost / ready harnessed to the battayl / fourty thousande. From drynde Jordan / of the Rubenites / Gadites and the half tribe of Manasse / with all maner of weapons to the battal / an hundred and certeyn thousande.

¶ All these men of warre / ready harnessed / in the battayl / came with a whole hert vnto Hebron / to make Dauid fyng ouer all Israe el. And all Israel besyde were of one hert / Dauid shoulde be made fyng. And there was theye with Dauid the daye of certeyn aduise fyng / for theye brethren had prepared for the.
 And such certeyn hours as were aboute them vnto Iehochab / Zabiel and / Nephtali / dought bread vpon asses / camels / mules and oxen / to carrie all / fynges / casens / myne / oyle / wax / theye very many / for there was ioye in Is rael.

The XIII. Chapter.

¶ And Dauid helde a counsaill with the cap tayne ouer thousandes / and ouer hun / dredes / and with all the pntes and saide vnto all the congregacion of Israel / If it lye yett / and yf it be of the Lorde our God / let vs sende forth on euery syde to oure other brethren in all the contris of Israel / and to the pntes & cities in the eyres where they haue sub urbes / that they maye be gathered together vnto vs / a let vs see / what the oue God agane vnto vs / for by Sauls tyme we ased after it.
 The sende / whole congregacion / that the same shoulde be done / for it pleased all the people well.
 So Dauid gathered all Israel together fro Epte

Shor of Egypt: yill a man come vnto Semarho to seche the Arke of God from Amarah Tearam. And Dauid went vp with all Israel to Amarah Tearam / which lieth in Iuda to bringe forth the Arke of God: the Lord that steyth vpon the Cherubyns / where the name is named: and they caused the Arke of God to be carryed vpon a new cart from the house of Abinabab.

¶ And his brethren were the cart. As for Dauid and all Israel / they played with all their strength before God with songes / with harpes / with psalteries / with tabernes / withymbales and trompes.

But when they came to the barene flood of Ebron / vs stretched out his hande to holde the Arke: for the oxen went out of syde. Then was the warsh of the Lord seene ouer vs: and smote hym / because he stretched out his hande to the Arke: so that he dyed there before God. Then was Dauid sayd / because the Lord had made vs a rente vpon vs: and called the place Pithy vs: vnto this day. And Dauid stode in face of God the same day and sayde: How shall I bringe the Arke of God vnto me? The soie wolde he receiue the Arke of God: but carried vnto hym in to the cytye of Dauid / but carried it in to the house of Obedi-Edom: the Gathite. So the Arke of God abode with Obedi-Edom in his house the monethes. And the Lord blessed Obedi-Edoms house and all that he had.

The. XV. Chapter.

¶ And it came the synge of Tyre sent messengers vnto Dauid and Ledo: rymbre / and masons and carpenters / to buyde hym an house. And Dauid perceaued that the Lord had confirmed him synge ouer Israel: for his kyngeom encreased for his people of Israel sake. And Dauid toke yet mo wyke at Jerusalem / and begat yet mo sounes and doughters. And the names of the that were borne vnto hym at Jerusalem are these: Samma / Sabab / Arban / Salomon / Ichebar / Elisua / Elphat / Uloga / Ataphet / Zaphia / Elisamma / Baal / Zade / Eliphale.

¶ And when the Philistines heere that Dauid was anoynted synge ouer all Israel: they went vp all to seke Dauid. Wha Dauid herde that he wente forth agaynst them. And the Philistines came / and scattered themselves beneth in the valley of Keppaim. And Dauid asked counsaile of God: and sayde: Shall I go vp agaynst the Philistines? and wylt thou deliuer the in to my hande? The Lord seide vnto hym: Go vp / I wyl deliuer the in to thy hande. And wha they were gone vp to Baal Paraim / Dauid smote the host. And Dauid sayde: God hath deuyded my gentryes thorow my hande / euen as the waite parteth a sunder: that soe called they the place Baal Paraim. And there left they the gods: when I commaunded Dauid to buene the with sye.

¶ But the Philistines gat them thither as they gaue / and scattered them selfe beneth in the valley. And Dauid asked counsaile of God agayne. And God sayde vnto hym: Thou shalt not go vp behinde them: but turne thy front the: that thou mayest come vpon thei / ouer agaynst the Detresses. So whate thou shalt shoute vpon the Detresses: the noyse of the gongyls: go thou forth then eue the battayl: for God is gone forth then: for: e he to synie the host of the Philistines. And Dauid byd as God commaunded hym: and they smote the host of the Philistines from Gibeon south vnto Gaser. And Dauid's name was noyed on in all landes. And the Lord caused the feare of hym to come vpon all the Reythen.

The. XVI. Chapter.

¶ And he buyded hym houses in the cytye of Ierusalem: and made ready a place for the Arke of God / and pitched a Tabernacle for it. The tyme sayde Dauid: The Arke of God is not to be docten: but onely of the Leuites: for the hath the Lord chosen to beare the Arke of the Lord: and to minister vnto him for euer. Therefore gathered Dauid all Israel together vnto Jerusalem: to buyde vp the Arke of the Lord vnto the place which he had prepared for it.

And Dauid brought the chyldren of Israhel and the Leuites together. Of the chyldren of Bazar: thral the chiefe with his brethren / an c. and twentye. Of the chyldren of Merari: Isua the chiefe with his brethren: two hundred and twentye. Of the chyldren of Gerson: Isid the chiefe with his brethren: an. c. and thysyete. Of the chyldren of Eliphaz: Soma the chiefe with his brethren: two hundred: th.

Of the children of Hiron & Eliel the chiefe / with his brethren / foure score. Of the children of Ofiel: Aminadab the chiefe / with his brethren / an hundred and twelfe.

B And Dauid called Badao and Abiathar & puffes and the Leuites / namely Oziel / Asa-Joel / Semaias / Eliel / Aminadab / and sayde vnto the: Ye see the benedice of the fathers amonge the Leuites / sanctifie youre selves therefore and youre brethren / ther ye may dyngge vp the Ark of the Lorde God of Israel / to the place that I haue prepared for it. I for afoure vnto ye were not there / the Lorde our God made a rent amonge vs / because we sought hym not / as we shoulde haue done.

So the puffed and the Leuites halowed themselves / that they might dyngge vp the Ark of the Lorde God of Israel. And the children of Leui bare the Ark of God the Lord vppon their shouldeis with the staves therof / as Moses commaunded accordyng to the worde of the Lorde.

And Dauid spake vnto the rulers of the Le-uites / that they should ordeyne some of their brethren to be syngers with psalteries / harpes and lorde instruments / and Cyntales / so syng lorde with vs.

E Then the Leuites appoynted Heman the sonne of Joel: and of his brethren / Assaph the sonne of Barachias: of the children of Me-ranai: they brethren / Esham the sonne of Usasia: and with them they brethren of the seconde course / namely Zacharias / Zaeziel / Be-niamoth / Zebiel / Dnni / Ehab / Benai-/ Masstai / Maithuria / Eliphelca / Masnea / Obededom / Zuel / the doctores: for Hem-/ Assaph / and Esham were syngers with tra-sen belles makinge a loude noise: but Zacharias / Zaeziel / Beniamoth / Zebiel / Dnni / Ehab / Masstai and Benaias with psalteries to Alamoth / Zuel / Eliphca / Masnea / Obededom / Zuel and Assaph with harpes to syng alone the on bye. Chemania the ruler of the Leuites was the master of musike to teache them so to syng: for he was a man of vnderstandinge.

And Barchias and Eleazar were the doct-ters of the Ark. By: Zacharias / Josephus / Nathanai / Insiel / Zacharias / Benaias / Ele-for the puffed / blewe the ropes / before the Ark of God. And Obededom and Jehaias were docters of the Ark.

So Dauid and the Elders of Israel acaptaynes ouer thousandes / wente vp to sech the Ark of the conuauant of the Lorde out of the banke of Obededom with ioye. And when God had helped the Leuites that bare the Ark of the Lorde conuauant / there were offred foure bullockes and sixten rammes. And Dauid had a lyncen garment vpon hym / and so had all the Leuites that bare the Ark / and the syngers / and Chemania the master of Mus-sick with the syngers. Dauid had an oyle bodye care of hymen vpon hym also.

Thus all Israel brought vp the Ark of the conuauant of the Lorde with myrre / with ropes / tabrettes / loude Cyntales / with psalteries and harpes. I Now when the Ark of the conuauant of the Lorde came to the cyne of Dauid / Micholl the daughter of Saul forst out at a window: and when she sawe syng Dauid Dauid syng and play-ng / she despised hym in her heart.

The XVII. Chapter.

D Dauid & when they brought in the Ark of the Lorde / they set in the Tabernacle / that Da-uid had preched forie / a sedit burniofferynges and thankeofferynges before God. And when Dauid had ended the burniofferynges and thankeofferynges / he blessed the people in the name of the Lorde / and distributed vnto every man in Israel / both vnto man and woman / a cake of bread / and a peece of flesch / and a peece of portage.

And he appoynted before the Ark of the Lorde certayne Leuites to minister / that they shoulde geue praye / thanke and songes vnto the Lorde God of Israel / namely / Ze-saph the first / Zacharias the seconde / Zuel / Semiamoth / Zebiel / Maithuria / Ehab / Be-nias / Obededom / and Zebiel / with psalteries and harpes. But Assaph with loude cynta-les / Benias and Zebiel the puffed with trabence / alwaye before the Ark of the con-uauant of God.

At the same tyme ordeyned Dauid first of all / to geue thankes vnto the Lord by Assaph and his brethren.

I To geue thankes vnto the Lorde / call vpon his name / tell the people what thyng he hath be hath done.

Let your voices be as him: praise him / as let your tallings be of his wondrous woordes.
Goe his holy name a good repouce: let the heart of them reioyce: that fele the Lorde.

O fele the Lorde and his strength: fele his force for euermore.

Remede his maruylous woordes that he hath done: his wonders: and the iudgements reioyce of his nighbour.

Ye fele of Israel his seruante / ye chylidren of Jacob his chesen.

Be ioice the Lorde our God: his iudgements reioyce are in all landes.

Be myndfull euer of his conuincement: what he hath commaunded in to a thousand generations.

Which he made with Abisai: and his son vnto Isaac.

And confirmed the same vnto Jacob for a perpetual lawe: and to Israel for an euerlasting conuincement.

And sayde: Vnto the wyll I geue the lande of Canaan: the inheryence of youre enheritaunce.

When they were yet but small and fewe in numbre: and straungers in the same lande.

And they wente from one nation to another: and from one realme to another people.

He suffered none to hurt them: and re-proued euen hynges for thys sake.

Touch not myne anoynted: and do my prophecies no haecne.

W sing: vnto the Lorde: let all the earth be iudged of his saluacion from daye to daye.

Declare his holynes amonge the Hebreys: and his wondrous woikes amonge the people.

For the Lorde is great: and can not only be praised: and is more to be had in awe then all goddes.

In for all the goddes of the Hebreys they are but Idols: but is the Lorde that made the brautes.

Chaires: gawinge and worshippe are before him: strength and ioyce is in his place.

Ascribe vnto the Lorde ye hymnes of nacione: ascribe vnto the Lorde worshippe and strength.

Ascribe vnto the Lorde the honoure of his name: byngs presentes and come before him:

and worshippe the Lorde in the beautye of his holynes.

Let the whole earth stande in awe of him: he hath made the compass of the world so fast:
that it can not be moued.

Let the heauens reioyce: and let the earth be glad: and let it be tolde amonge the Hebreys:
that the Lorde raggeth.

Let the see make a noise: and the fulnesse thereof let the selde be reioyfull: and all that there reioyce.

Let al trees in the wood leape for ioy: because the Lorde: for he commaundeth to iudge the earth.

O geue thanks vnto the Lorde: for he is gracious: and his mercy endureth for euer.

And saye: Helpe vs O God our Saucour: and graue vs together: and dislure vs from the Hebreys: that we maye geue thanks vnto thy holy name: and syng praises vnto the in thy Psalmes.

Praised be the Lord God of Israel from euerlastyng: to euerlastyng: and let all the people say: Amen. And praise ye vnto the Lorde.

So he left Assaph and his brethren there before the Arke of the conuincement of the Lord: to minister alway before the Arke: eue-ry day his daye worke.

But Obed Edom and his brethren: cygh and the seie: and Obed Edom the sonne of Jeduthun: and Bessa-ra be doctores: / And Sadob the prest: and his brethren the prestes: left hi before the baubacion of the Lorde: vpon the hye place at Gibcon: to offer burn sacrifices daily vnto the Lorde: vpon the autere of burn offeringe in the morninge and in the euenyng: as it is wynt in the 7. l. of the Lorde: which he commaunded vnto Israel.

And with them Beman and Jeduthun: and the othere docten:
which were named by name to geue thanks vnto the Lorde: because his mercy endureth for euer. And with them Beman and Jeduthun to streke vpon the tabrettes and Sym-bales: and the musickall instrumentes of God.

As for the chylidren of Jeduthun: he made the
doctores.

So all the people disparted: eue-ry one to his house. And Dauid returned also to bless his house.

As for the chylidren of Jeduthun: he made the
doctores.

So all the people disparted: eue-ry one to his house. And Dauid returned also to bless his house.

As for the chylidren of Jeduthun: he made the
doctores.

So all the people disparted: eue-ry one to his house. And Dauid returned also to bless his house.

1 Kc. vii. 2

And it fortuned that when David dwelt in this house / he sayde vnto y^e prophet Nathan. Behold / I dwell in a house of Cedar / & the Ark of the conuincments of the Lord is amonge the curtaynes.

Nathan sayd vnto David: Whatsoeuer is in thine heart / that do: for God is with the. And the same nyght came the word of God vnto Nathan / and sayde: Go & speake to David my seruant: Thus sayeth the Lord: Thou shalt not buyde me an house to be an habitation. For I haue dwelt in no house since the daye that I haue broughte forth the children of Israel vnto this day: But where the Tabernacle and habitation both ben / there haue I ben / wheresoeuer I haue walked in all Israel. Speake I euer to any of the iudges in Israel / whome I commaunded to kepe my people / and sayde: Wherefore do ye not buyde me an house of Cedar timber?

B So shalt thou speake now vnto my seruant David: Thus sayeth the Lord Sabaoth: I toke the fro the pasture behind the shepe / that thou shouldest be the prynce ouer my people: and haue bin with the wheresoeuer thou wentest / and haue rooted out all thine enemies before / & I haue made the a name / accordinge to the name of the great men that are vpon earth. And as for ny people of Israel / I will appoynt them a place / and will plante them / that they may dwell there / and nomore to be remoued. And the dydmen of wickednesse shall appresse the / nomore / hke as asenatymus / when I commaunded the iudges ouer ny people of Israel. And I will subdue all thine enemies / and do declare vnto the that y^e Lord will buyde the an house.

When the daye is fully shewed that thou departest hence / with thy father / I will after the rayse vp thy sene / which shall be euen one of thy sones: he kyngdome will I stablish / that he shall buyde me an house / & I will make his seate sure for euer. I will be thy father / and he shall be my sene. And I will not withdrawe my mercy fro hym / as I haue withdrawn it from hym that was before the: But I will be hym in my house / and in my kyngdome for euer: so that his seate shall be sure for euermore.

And when Nathan had spoken vnto Da-

uid / accordinge vnto all these wordes / and as his vision / singe David came and sat him doune before the Lord / and said: O Lord God who art I? & what is my house / that thou hast broughte me thus farre? And this O Lord God / hast thou thought yet to hke / or buxst spoken of thy seruantes / how yet longe for to come. And thou Lord God hast lofed doune vnto me from aboue / euen as one man loketh vpon another. What more shall David saye vnto the / that thou bringest thy seruants vnto such honoure? Thou knowest thy seruants O Lord / for thy seruants a sal / and accordinge to thy herte hast thou done all these great thynges / that thou myghtest shewe all great thynges vnto thy seruants. Lord: there is none on hke / & there is no God but thou / of whome we haue herde with our eares. And where is there a people vpon earth as thy people of Israel / where God wret to deliuer hym a people / & to make himselfe a name thowm great and terrible thynges / to call out the Kings then before thy people / whome thou hast deliuerd out of Egypte? And the people of Israel hast thou made thy people for euer / and thou Lord art become thye God.

Now Lord: let the worde be verified for euer / that thou hast spoken ouer thy seruants and ouer his house / and do as thou hast spoken: and let thy name endure and be magnified for euer / that it maye be sayd. The Lord Sabaoth the God of Israel is the God in Israel / and that the house of thy seruants David may be stablished before / for thou Lord hast opened the care of thy seruants / that thou wilt buyde him an house. Therefore hard thy seruants founde comforte / do make his prayer before the. Now Lord / thou art God / a halle praisede such good vnto thy seruants. Begyn now to blisse the house of thy seruants / that it maye be euermore before the: for loke what thou blestest O Lord / that same is blisset for euer.

The XIX Chapter.

After this smote David the Philistines / & he and reke Gath and the villages thereof out of the hande of the Philistines. He smote the Ulabites / & the Gittites / so that the Ulabites were subdued vnto David / and gaue him tribute. He smote Gath /

Esfer also the kynge of Zoba in Armarh/wcha by wme to set up his power by the water Euphrates.

And Dauid roke fro hym a thousand char-rettes/steuen thousande housmen/and trettyn thousande footmen. And Dauid lomed all the charrettes/and keppe an hundred char-rettes our. And the Syrijs came from Damascus to helpe Hadad Esfer the kynge of Zoba.
Howbeit/ Dauid smote two a rowntie thousande of the same Syrians/ and layed men of warre at Damascus in Syria/ that the Syrians were subdued vnto Dauid / a brought hym tribute. For the Lorde helped Dauid/wher he fouer he went.

B And Dauid cut the shylde of gold & Ha-dad Esfer seruauinco had/ a brought them to Jerusalem. And out of Terebah a Chun the cnyce of Hadad Esfer/ roke Dauid very much brasse/ & wher of Salomon made the brasse lauer/ and piller/ and basin vessels.

C And when Thogu the kynge of Bemat herde that Dauid had synken all the power of Hadad Esfer/ he sent his sonne Hadasaam vnto kynge Dauid to salute hym / and blesse hym/ because he had foughten with Hadad-Esfer/ and smitten hym/ for Thogu had warre with Hadad Esfer. And al the same vessels of golde/ siluer/ and of brasse/ byd kynge Dauid consecrate vnto the Lorde/ with the siluer and golde that he had taken from the Gerbenians/ from the Edomites/ Moabites/ Am-monites/ Philistines and Amalechites.

C And Abisai the sonne of Ner/ he smote a cxxxij thousande of the Edomites in the sib valley/ a layed men of warre in Edomca/so that all the Edomites were subdued vnto Dauid/ for the Lorde helped Dauid / where fouer he wente.

Thus Dauid raygned ouer all Israel/ and erected iudgements and ryghtheines vnto all his people. Zoab the sonne of Ner/ was captayne ouer the host. Zophar the sonne of Ahilud was chauncer. Sadac the sonne of Achis/ and Ameldec the sonne of Abia-har/ were prynces. Samsa was scribe. Beneai the sonne of Joiada was ouer the Cretians and Plethians. And Dauids sonnes were chiefe of the kynge hande.

The XX. Chapter.

And after this dyed Nabab the kynge A of the chylden of Ammon/ and his sonne q. Reg. 4 was kynge in his steade. Then sayde Dauid: I will do meeie vpon Hanun the sonne of Nabab/ for his father did meeie vnto me: and he sent messaungers to comfort him ouer his father. And when Dauides seruantes came vnto the lande of the chylden of Ammon vnto Hanun to comfort hym/ the prynces of the chy-lden of Ammon sayd vnto Hanun: Thinke thou that Dauid honoureth thy father in thy sight/ that he hath sented foote vnto thee/ & his seruantes are come vnto thee/ to searche a ouertheawe/ and to spye out the lande. Then toke Hanun the seruantes of Dauid / a shoue-red them/ and cut the halfe of theyr garteries off euery by the loynes/ a so let them go. And they went they waye: and sent men to tell Dauid.
Newerthelesse/ he sent to meete them/ for they were put to great shame/ and the kynge sayd: Ahyr at Terebah/ till your beedes be growe/and then come agayne.

When the chylden of Ammon sawe that they synked in the sight of Dauid / both Hanun and the chylden of Ammon sent a thousande talents of siluer/ a hye charrettes and housmen out of Mesopotamia / and out of Maacha/ and out of Zoba: and hied two and ahynde thousande charrettes/ and the kynge of Maacha with his people/ which came a pi-shed theyr tentes before Moaba. And the chy-lden of Ammon gathered the seltes together one of theyr cnyces/ and came to the battell.
Wha Dauid herde that he sent Zoab the her with all the host of the men of armes. And the chylden of Ammon were gone forth/ and prepared them seltes to the battell before the gare of the cnye. But the kynge that were came/ keppe them asyde in the sibe.

Now when Zoab sawe that the battell was agaynst him/ both before and behynd/ he chose of al the best yong men in Israel/ and prepared him selfe agaynst the Syrians. As for the residue of the people/ he put them ou-der the hande of Dothan his brother/ that they shoulde prepare the seltes agaynst the chylden of Ammon/ and he sayde: If the Syrians be to myghty for me/ helpe thou me/ but if the chy-lden of Ammon be to strong for thee/ I shall helpe the: take a good courage vnto the/ and let vs quyte our selves manly / for our people and for the yeece of our God: neuertheless / the Lord do what pleaseth hym. And Joab made him forth with his people that was with him / to fight agaynst the Syrians: and they fled before hym. And when the chyldren of Ammon sawe that the Syrians fled / they fled also before Absai his brother / and came in to the cyrie. And Joab came to Jerusalem.

But when the Syrians sawe that they were smitten before Israel / they sent messengers / and brought forth the Syrians / which were beyond the river. And Sophach the chiefe captayne of Hadad Eser went before them.
When this was tolde David / he gathered all Israel together / and went ouer Jordan. And when he came at Bethel / set the battayll ana raye agaynst the. And David prepared him selfe to the battail agaynst the Syrians / as they sought with him / but the Syrians fled before Israel. And David slew of the Syrians seuen thousand charrettes / and fourtye thousand foote me. And Sophach the chiefe captayne lewe he also. And when Hadad Eser seruaunt sawe that they were smitten before Israel / he made peace with David and his seruaunt. And the Syrians would helpe the chyldren of Ammon no more.

The. XXI. Chapter.

I And when the yere came about / that hym as the kynge vs to go forth / Joab brought in the power of the host / and destroyed the lande of the chyldren of Ammon / and came alayed sege vnto Rabba. But David chode at Jerusalem. And Joab smote Rabba / and broke it downe. And David toke there kynge circuncion his heade / and soude the weight of a talent of golde theron / and preyed hones. And it was set vpon Davids heade. And very much spoyle caried he out of the cyrie. As for the people that were therein / he brought in the forth / and parted them in sunder with sawes / and hokes / and beynde of yds. Thus dyd Da-uid vnto all the cyries of the chyldren of Ammon. And David departed agayne / with the people vnto Jerusalem.

But there were arose there warre at Waser Ne. 33 e with the Philistines. Then Sicheai the Susathite smote Sibai a Ghyte was one of the chyl- dren of Kephai / and he subdued hym. And there arose warre agayne with the Philistines. Then Elhanan the sonne of Jaui smote Lahmi the brother of Goliath the Ghyte / whose speare staffe was like a weaues loome.

Afterward was there a battayll at Gathy where there was a man of a great stature / that had sixe syngers a fute beate: which made seure and rewey. And he was borne also of Kapha / and spake dyspretyll vnto Israel. But Jonathas the soune of Simca Davids brother slew him. These were the chylde of Kapha at Gath / and fell thowen the hande of David / and of his seruantes.

The. XXII. Chapter.

I And sarhan stode agaynst Israel / and ten-32 10
thousand David to number Israel. And Da-uid said vnto Joab and the rulers of the people: Go your waye / and numbere Israel from Bersaba vnto Dan / as by gage me the num-bre of them / that I may knowe it. Joab sayd: The Lo:rd make his people an hundredth yee-mes mo the they are now. But my lorde O kyng / are they not all in y lodes seruaunt?
Why doth my lorde thesye the cyrie? Wherfore shal there a trespass come vpon Israel?

Neuertheless / the kynge would be perswaded agaynst Joab. And Joab wente forth / and walked thowen all Israel / a came to Jerusalem / and deluyced vnto David the numbre of the people that was tolde. And of all Israel there were a thousand nines a thousand / and an hundredth thousand men / that dwere out of the secounde of Juda four hundredth thousande / and seuen thousand in the which dwere out the streade. As for Leui and Ben Jamin / he numbered the not amonge theses / for the kinges word: e was abominable vnto Jeab.

But this displeasid God ryght foer by smote Israel. And David sayd vnto God: I haue sinned greuously / that I haue done this:
But now take away the trespass of thy ser-uaunt: for I haue done very mysse. And the Lo:rd spake vnto David Davids Ser-uaunt / and sayd: Go forcht to Gad / as I saye: Thus sayeth the Lo:rd: Thine thynge laye I besought the: the one of them / that I more do it vnto the. And when Gad came to David / he spake vnto hym: Thus sayeth the Lo:rd: Thek the cyrie the yere darthe: the mo-33 e arche

ricbes to flye the four thyne aduersaryes / and before the swerde of thynne enemyes / that it maye succrate the: as the wyre the swerde of the Lord / and pestilence in the lande / that the aungel of the Lord maye bestoie in all the coasts of Israel. Nowe what aunswere I shall geue unto hym that sente me.

said

Dauid sayde vnto Gad: I am in greare troublers yett will I rather fall into the hande of the Lord: for his mercy is exceedinge great: and I will not fall in to the handes of men.

Then byd the Lord: cause pestilence to come vnto Israel / so that there fell of Israel thre score and ten thousande men. And God sent the aungel to Jerusalem for to bestroie it. And euen in the destructione the Lord consydered: and he repented of the euell / and sayde vnto the aungel the bestroie: It is enough: holde nowr thy hande.

The aungel of the Lord stode beside the burne of Arnan the Jebusite. And Dauid lyft vp his eyes: and sawe the aungel of the Lord standinge betwene heauen a carth / and a naked swerde in his hande / stretched out ouer Jerusalem. Then Dauid and the clero beinge clothed with sackcloth / fell vpon theyr faces. And Dauid sayd vnto God: Am not I he that caused I people to be numbered: I am he that hath synned and done euell: so fit: these theye: what haue they done? Lord my God: let thynne hande be against me / and against my fathers house: and not against thy people to plague them.

And the aungel sayde vnto Gad: that he shoulde speake vnto Dauid: / Dauid shoulde go vp / kee vp an altiare in the burne of Ar-nan the Jebusite. So Dauid went vp accord-yng to the worde of Gad / which he spake in the name of the Lord. But when Arnan turned him / and sawe the aungel: a hee forre fennes much hym: theye hyd them selves: for Arnan reboldeed where.

Nowe when Dauid came to Arnan / Arnan liked and was aware of Dauid: / and went forth out of the burne / and worshipped Dauid wth his face to the grounde. And Dauid said vnto Arnan: Weine ine to myne in the burne: / to byde an altiare vnto the Lord theam: for I ful money shalt thou geue me: that I plague maye cease from the people.

But Arnan sayde vnto Dauid: Take it vnto the: and let my lord the syngre do as it pleaseth hym. Beholde: that offer geue I for a burnt offering: at this syngre leades for wood: and wher for the meate offering: I geue it all. Menechethse / the syngre sayde vnto Ar-nan: What? But for the full money wyl I bye in: for that which is thynne wyll not I take for the Lord: and offer a burnt offeringe for nought.

So Dauid gaue Arnan for the roume fise hundred sicles of golde in weyght.
And there be, sith Dauid an altiare vnto the Lord: and offered burnt offerings: and thank offerings. And when he called vpon the Lord: he heede hym thowore the sye from heauen vpon the altiare of the burnt offringe. And the Lord sayde vnto the aungel that he shoulde pue his swerde into his scabb.

At the same tyme when Dauid sawe that the Lord had hade an vpon weom: Hee of Arnan the Jebusite: he byd sette it there. for the habitarion of the Lord: / In whiche Moses had made in the wyld: and the ii. Para: i. a altiare of burnt offerings: was at the same in the hye place at Gibeon. But Dauid could not goe thither to see God thowore: / for he feared the swerde of the Lord: the aungel. And Dauid sayde: Here shalbe the house of God: the Lord: and this the altiare of burnt off-ringes for Israel.

The XXXIIII Chapter.

Whe Dauid commaunded to gather together the strangers that were in the lande of Israel: and appoynted mens to beow stone for the buildinge of the house of God. And Dauid prepared much more for mayles in the voies of the portes: / for such things as were to be nayled to gether: / so much as for the it was not to be weyde: a Cedre trees innum-berles: for they of Tydon: and Tyre broughte Dauid much Cedre timber. For Dauid boughe grete Solomon my synne is but a daye and sender: But the house that shalbe builde vnto the Lord: shalbe graut: that his name and praise may be called in all landes: of the wyld I proude for him. So Dauid made grete prouision before his deaith.

B And he called Salomon his sonne / a com maunded hym to buyde the house off Lord God of Israel / and sayde vnto hym: My 4. Ki. vii. a sonne / I was myned to buyde an house vnto the name of the Lord my God / but the wode of the Lord came vnto me / and said:
17. Reg. v. a Thou hast (said) made floude / and stryken many bazayles / therefore shalt thou not buyde an house vnto my name / for as much as thou hast (said) so much floude vpon the earth be foie me. Beholde / the sonne which shal be boine vnto the / shal be a quyet man: and I wyl cause hym to be in rest from all his ene-myes on euery syde / for his name shal be Salomon: for I wyl geue peace and rest vpon Israel as long as he lyueth. He shal buyde an house vnto my name. He shal be my sonne / and I wyl be his father. And I wyl starkly be the steate of his kyngdome vpon Israel for euer.

E Now my sonne / the Lord shal be with thee / and thou shalt prosper / that thou mayest buyde an house vnto the Lord thy God / 17. Re. ii. b according as he hath spoken of the. The Lord also shal graue the wysedome and vnderstandynge / and shal counteyne Israel vnto thee / that thou mayest kepe the lawe of the Lord thy God. But then shalt thou prosper / if thou take heed to do after the admaunces and lawes / which the Lord commaun-17. Reg. ii. a ded vnto vs Israel. Be strange / a take good courage vnto the / spare not / and be not fayntheard. Beholde / I haue in my pauer prouided for the house of the Lord / an hundred thousand talents of gold. And a thousande tymes a thousand talents of siluer / a thass / and yon withoute number: for there is so much of it.

And mynder and stone haue I prepared / thou mayest get moiche cof. Thou hast many workemen also / masons a carpenters in stone and mynder / and all maner of men that haue vnderstandynge / in all worke of golde / siluer / brasse / and yon withoute number. Yet get the wp and be voynges / and the Lord shal be with thee.

And David commaunded al the rulers of Israel / to helpe Salomon his sonne / a sayde: 17. Is not the Lord e your God with you / and hath giuen you rest on euery syde: So he hath vsyured the inhabitants of the lande into your handes / and the lande is subdued before the Lord and before his people. Gaue ouer your herte now therefore and your soule as ife / the Lord your God / and get you wp / and buyde a sanctuary vnto the Lord God / that the Tike of the cornuaine of the Lord / and the holy vessels of golde / may be brynged into the house / which shal be builded vnto the name of the Lord. So David made Salomon his sonne kynge ouer Israel / when he hym selfe was olde / and had lyeued ynough.

The XXXIII. Chapter.

Now David gathered all the rulers in Israel together / and the prestes / and Leuites / a number the Leuites from thre years old a boue. And the number of them / which were strongemen / from heade to head / was eyste and threty thousand / of whom there were foure and twenty thousand / which dyd thee diligencie in the worke ouer the house of the Lord / and sixe thousand officers a Iudages / and foure thousand porters / and foure thousand synge playes ouer / a Lord with instrumentes / which he had made to synge psalme withall.

And David made the ordinaunce among the chyldren of Leui / namely among Gersson / Bahath and Merai. The Gersomites were: Ladan and Simi. The chyldren of Ladan were the first / Jisiel / Serban / and Zodi thuse thee.

The chyldren of Simi were: Salomith / Basiel and Hasan / thee thee these were the chefe amonge the fathers of Ladan. Thee also were the chyldren of Simi: Zabab / Sina / Zus and Bria / thee foure were Simi's chyldren also. Zabab was the first / Bina the seconde. As for Zus and Bria / they had not many chyldre / that for were they counted but for ome fathers house.

The chyldren of Bahath were: Amram / man of God were named amonge the trybes of Iſraell. ¶ The children of Moſes were Gerson/and Eliezer.

The children of Gerson/the fyſt was Bebul. The children of Eliezer/the fyſt was Kechab: and Eliezer had none other children. But the children of Kechab were many thereouer. The children of Iezhar were: Salami the fyſt/ Amaria the ſeconde/ Iabaſiel the thyrde/ and Zaccanean the fourth. The children of Oſiel were: Miſcha the fyſt/and Zeſia the ſeconde.

¶ The children of Merari were: Mabel and Muſi. The children of Mabel were: Eleazar and Eſo. And Eleazar dyed/ and had no ſonnes but ſounghters. And the children of Eſo they: Beſethen: ofe them. The children of Merari were: Mabel/ Eder and Jeremoch/ theſe thre. Theſe are the children of Leuie amonge thyr fathers houſes/ and the chyff of the fathers/ which were counted after the number of the names heade by heade: whiche executed the worke of the officers in the houſe of the Lord/ from thyrre yeare olde and aboue. ſo Dauid ſayde: The Lord God of Iſraell hath gotten his people/ and ſhall dwell at Jeruſalem for euer.

¶ Amonge the Leuies alſo were the children of Levi numbered from thyrre yeare olde and aboue: that they neede not to heare the habitation with all the deſſes of theyr office/ but accordinge to the laſt wyde of Dauid/ that they ſhould ſtande vnder the bande of the children of Aaron to miniſter in the houſe of the Lord. In the court/ and to the chyffes/ and for purſeyge/ and to all maner of ſanctification/ and to every worke of the office in the houſe of God. And ſo for the weatid/ for the ſyne flour/ for the meat offering/ for the vngloubded waſers/ for the paine/ for the fryenge/ and ſo for all maner of weyghte and meaſure. And in the moyngge ſo ſtande ſo to graue thair ſoules/ and to praye the Lord/ and in the cunying Iſraell. And vpon all Sabbathes/ Newmones/ and feaſtes to offre all the burnt offerings vnto the Lord/ accordinge to the number and oide/ alwaies before the Lord: to waite vpon the Tabernacle of witneſſe and of the Sanctuary/ and vpon theyr brethren the children of Aaron/ to miniſter in the houſe of the Lord.

The XXV. Chapter.

¶ This was the ordinaunce of the children of Aaron. The children of Aaron were: Leui. ſ. a. Nadab/ Abihu/ Eleazar and Ithamar. But Nadab and Abihu dyed before they fathers/ and had no children. And Eleazar and Ithamar were prieſtes. And Dauid oided them after this maner: Sador out of the children of Eleazar/ and Abimelech out of the children of Ithamar/ accordinge to their number and office. And there were no chyff ſtronge men founde amonge the children of Eleazar/ then the children of Ithamar. And he oydred them after this maner: namely/ ſpene out of the children of Eleazar/ to be rulers througout their fathers houſe/ a cygher the children of Ithamar/ to ſeeke out their fathers houſe. He wether he oydred them by lot/ becauſe that both the p. p. n. all of the children of Eleazar and Ithamar were in the Sanctuary/ and chyff before God. And he ſcribe Semei the ſonne of Nethaneel the ſonne of the Leuies/ wrote the v. before the kinge/ a before the euners/ and before Sador the prieſt/ a before Abimelech the ſone of Abiſhar/ and before the thirde of the fathers amonge the prieſtes and Leuies: namely ouer fathers houſe for Eleazar/ and the chyff for Ithamar.

And the freſt lot fell vpon Joabab/ the ſeconde vpon Ithamar/ the thirde vpon Sarim/ the fourth vpon Ecorin/ the fiſth vpon Melchior/ the ſixte vpon Melchior/ the ſeuenth vpon Saloz/ the cygher vpon Abia/ the nygth vpon Zeſia/ the tenth vpon Ophania/ the eleuenth vpon Iſaſib/ the twelth vpon Iſaſim/ the thirteenth vpon Iſaſim/ the fourteenth vpon Iſaſim/ the fyfteenth vpon Bilga/ the ſixteenth vpon Immer/ the ſeuenth vpon Beſu/ the cyghteenth vpon Sapirz/ the nygteenth vpon Peſabab/ the twentieth vpon Zebeſel/ the one and twentieth vpon Iſaſim/ the twa and twentieth vpon Samull/ the thre and twentieth vpon Saloz/ the foure and twentieth vpon Maſia. This is theyr couſe after theyr offices to go into the houſe of the Lord/ accordinge to thyr maner vnder their father Aaron/ ſo the Lord God of Iſraell commanded him.

The. XXIX Chapter.

2 David Saund gathered unto Jerusalem at the rulers of Israel/namely the princes of the trybes/the rulers over the countes which wayed upon the kynge/the captaynes our thonsandes a our hundredes/the rulers over the gooddes and canell of the kynge and of his sonnes/with the chamberlaynes/warriors a valaunt men. And David the kynge stode up upon his fute and sayde: Here are my brethren and my people: I was minded to builde an house/where the Ark of the covenant of the Lorde shoulde rest/and a for telloe for the sac of oure God/and purpovid my selfe for to sayde. But God sayd unto me: Thou shalt not builde en house unto my name/for thou art a man of warr/a hatt shed blood.

3 Now hath the Lorde God of Israel chosin me out of all my fathers house/that I shoulde be kynge over Israel for ever: for thou shalt be chosin to be the prince/and in the house of Juda amonge my father chuldren shalt be had plasure unto me/to make my kynge over al Israel/and amonge al my forenes: for the Lorde hath given me many sounes. he hath chosin Salomon my sonne/ to sit upon the seate of the kingdome of Lorde over Israel/and hath saide unto me: Salomon thy sonne shall buyde me an house and my courtes: for I haue chosin him to be my sonne. And I wyl be his father/and wil stablish his kingdome for ever: if he be constant to do after my commaundmentes a lawes/ as it is thys waye. Now in the feygh of all Israel the congregacion of the Lorde/a in the care of our God/that ye observe a fite all the commaundmentes of J Lord your God/ that ye maye possesse this good lande/ a that ye and your chuldren maye have the enheritaunce thereof for ever.

And thou my sonne Salomon/ know thou the God of thy father/and serve hym with all thy heart/and with all the desyre of thy soule: for the Lorde seeth thy hart/a and understandeth all thyoughes a ymaginacions. If thou fite hym/ thou shalt synne him: but if thou forsake hym/ he shal refuse the for ever. Take hede now/ for the Lorde hath chosin the to buyde an house to be the Sanctuarye/ be stronge/and make it.

And David gave Salomon his sonne a patronne of the Porche/a of his house/a of the celler and parkes a ynnner chamber/a of the house of the Mercy/a of all that he had in his mynde/namely of the centre of the Lorde house/and of al that occur/a round aboute the treasure in the house of God/a of the treasure of such thinges as were beloved/ of the obsequences of the priestes/a a curtee/a of all the busynesse of the officers in the house of the Lorde.

God gave he him/ after the gold weight for all manner of vessels of every officiant all silver ornaments after the weight/ for all manner of vessel of every officie/ and weight for the golden candlestickes a golden lampes/ for every candlesticke and his lampes his weighte. Likewise for the silver candlestickes gave he the weight for the candlestickes a his lampes according as was required for every candlesticke. He gave golde also for the tabernacle of the shewbread: for every table his weighte. and silver likewise for the silver table. And pure golde for the shewbread/ Bakers

E And a patrone of the shacet of the golden Chubbins/ that they myghte spede out them selfes/ vnto eury arte of the conuauant of the Lord. Which is giuen me in wyngge of the bande of the Lord/ to make me vnderstande at the wittes of the patrone.

And Dauid sayde vnto Salomon his sonne: Be thou manly a stronge/ and make us feare nar/ a be it for synnereth: H Lord God my God shalbe he with the/ a shal not with drawe his hande/ nor sayle the/ yll thou haue finishyd eury worke for his seruice in the house of the Lord/ wholde the courses of the pierces and Leuies to all the offices in the house of God/ are with the in eury worke/ and are wylling/ and haue wysdomme to all the office: so haue the pierces and al the people for eury thing: that thou hast to do.

The XXX Chapter.

And King Dauid sayde vnto all the congregation: God hath chosen Salomon one of his sonnes/ which is yet young a tender. But the worke is greater/ for it is not a mans palace/ but the Lord Gods. Yet haue I after all myne hadyne prepared vnto the house of God/ golde for the vessels of golde/ siluer for them of siluer/ brass for them of brass/ iron for them of iron/ wood for them of wood/ Ony stones/ sei Rubies/ a stones of diuers coloures/ and al precious stones/ and Marbriances in multitude. Besides this/ for the good wyll that I haue to the house of God/ I haue of myne owne proper good the 11. talents of golde of Opphe/ a seven 11. talents of pure siluer/ whiche I gaue vnto the holy house of God/ beside al that I haue prepared/ to ouerlaye the walles of the house/ wher the same which ought to be of golde/ may be of golde: a that is which ought to be of siluer/ may be of siluer: for al manner of worke by the bonde of the craftesmen. And who is now for wylling/ to fyll his hande this daye vnto the Lord?

B Then were the princes of the fathers/ the princes of the tribes of Israel/ the capaynes ouer thousande/ and ouer hundreth/ the rulers auec the synges/ dysstrore the wyllinge/ a gaue to the ministracion in the bouce of God syue thousande talentes of golde/ a ten thousande guldens/ a ten thousande talentes of siluer/ a threene thousande talentes of brass/ a hundred thousande talentes of iron. And by whomesort was somthe stonca/ they gaue them to the measure of the bouce of the Lord/ vnto the bande of Jehidai the Gersonite.

And the people were glad that they were for wyllinge/ for they gaue it with a good will/ euen with all theyr berie. Vnto the Lord. And Dauid also for syng restored greatly/ a prayed God/ and saide before the whole congregation: Dreyd the Lord O Lord God of Israel our father/ vnto the longest waye sloupe and power/ glory/ vnto us a thankes for all that is in heauen and earth/ to thyne: thyne is the syngdome/ a thou art craied above al prynces. Thyne are thyne and domyn before the/ thou raynest ouer al/ in thy hande consisteth power/ a might/ in thy hande it is to make eury man grate and strong.

Now thanke we the oure God/ a praye for name of thy glory: for who am I? What is my people/ that we should be able with a fre wyll to offre/ as this is done/ for of the comend al/ a of thy hande haue we grauen it be: I for we are but pilgrims/ a a stranger/ as thou the/ a were al our father. * Durr lyte upon earth to as a shadowe/ a here is no abynginge. O Lord our God/ all this aboute daunceth that we haue prepared to blynde the an house vnto thy name/ canne of thy hande/ as thine also gethrr. I knowe my God/ that thou tryest the hart/ and that wysauyng/ a to acceptable vnto the/ thou haue I giuen all this with an vnfaynid berie/ euen with a good wyll/ and now haue I had ioy to se thy people/ which here are present/ to offer with a fre wyll vnto the. O Lord God of oure fathers: Abaam/ Isaac/ and Israel/ kepe thou curme: such purposes a thoughtes in the berres of thy people/ a prepare thou thei berres vnto the. And graunt my sonne Salomons a speker here/ that he maye kepe thy comendamentes/ thy rethmones/ a thy lawes/ that he maye do all/ a blynde thou place which I haue prepared.

And Dauid sayde vnto the whole congregation: O praye the Lorde your God. And all the congregation prayed the Lord God of theyr fathers/and bowed the kisse/a worshipped the Lorde/ and the the kyng/ and offered sacrifices vnto the Lorde. And on the next mornynge offered they burnt offerynges/a M. bullockes/a M. rammes/a M. lambes with theyr diuelt offerynges/ and plentifully offered they amonge all Israel. And they had care and drynke the same daye before the Lorde with greatesoyles/a mase Salomon the sonne of Dauid kyng the second tyme/and appointed him to be the prince for the Lorde/ and Sadoc to be priest.

¶ Thus sae Salomon vpon the state of the Lorde/a kyng in his fathers steade/a prospered. And all Israel obeyed hym/and all the rulers and mighty men/ and all kyng Dauides chyldren subynitted the selue vnto kyng Salomon. And the Lorde made Salomon excellent and great in the syght of all Israel/ and gaue him such a glorious kyngdome/as none had before him ouer Israel.

So had Dauid the sone of Isai/now bene kyng ouer all Israel. And the tynce that he was kyng ouer Israel/ 40 souery yeares: He Rehoi raygned be seuen yeares/ and at Jerusalem the rest of his tynce/ and dyed in a good age full of dayes/ restes and honoure. And Salomon his sonne was kyng in his steade.

These actes of kyng Dauid/ both the first and laste/ be behelde/ they are wyrtten amonge the actes of Samucl the Sejer/ and amonge the actes of the prophete Nathan/ and amonge the actes of Gad the Sejer/ with all his kyngdome/ poweres/ and tynces/ which pass vnder him/ both vpon Israel and vpon all the kyngdomes of the earth.

The secōd boke of the Cronicles / or ther wyse called Paralipomenon.

The first Chapter.

¶ And Salomon the sonne of Dauid was stablished in his kyngdome/ and the Lorde his God was to him/ and made him greatesoyles. And Salomon spake vnto all Israel to the captaynes ouer the souldanes and ouer hundredes/ to the Judges/ and to all the prynces in Israel/ a to the chiefeest fathers/ so that they wente/ Salomon and the whole congregacion with hym/ vnto the hie place which was at Gidea: for there was the Tabernacle/ of wyrtnesse of God/ which Mosse the seruaunt of the Lorde had made in the wilderness: for Dauid had brought vp the Tabernacle of God from Birnath Jearam/ when he had prepared for it: for he had prised a tent for it at Jerusalem. As for the basen altare/ which Bezalel the sone of Uri the sone of Bue had made/ it was there before the habitation of the Lorde/ and Salomon and the congregacion sought God. And Salomon offered a thousand burnt offerynges vpon the basen altare before the Lorde/ that stode before the Tabernacle of wyrtnesse.

In the same nyght appeared God vnto Salomon/ and sayde vnto hym: The what shall I geue thee? And Salomon sayde vnto God: Thou hast done great mercy vnto my father Dauid/ and hast made me kyng in his steade. Now Lorde God/ let the wyse that thou hast promysed vnto my father Dauid/ be verified/ for thou hast made me kyng ouer a people/ which is as many in numbre as the dust vpon the earth. Graunte me wysdome therefore/ and knowlege/ that I maye go out in it before this people: for who is able to iudge the great people of thyngt?

17. Ke. iij. b. † Then sayde God vnto Salomon: for so muche as thou art so ioynded / and haste not desyred ryche nor good / nor honour / nor the soules of thyne enemyes / nor longe lyfe / but hast requyred wyssdome a knowlege to iudge my people / ouer whome I haue made I Kinge: Wyssdome therefore and knowlege be geuen the. Moreover / reuerce and good / and honour wyl I geue the / so that suche one as thou shalst not bene before the amonge the Kinges / neyther shalbe after the.

17. Ke. iij. c. a 10. c. c. ¶ So came Salomon from the hie place (which was at Gibeon) vnto Ierusalem from the Tabernacle of witness / and raigned ouer Israel. † And Salomon gathered him charrettes and horsens / so that he had a thousande and foure hundred charrettes / a twelfe thousande horsmen: and those appointed he to be in the charres ones / and with the kynge at Ierusalem. And the kynge brought it so to passe / that therc was as muche syluer and gold at Ierusalem as stones: and as many Cedres / as the Molberry trees / that are in the valleye. And there were horses brought vnto Salomon out of Egypte / in the Kinges marchantes scides the frs Keus for money. And they came vp / and brought out of Egypte a charrete for six hundred syluer pene / and an horse for an hundred and fifty. Thus brought they also vnto all the kynge of the Redyces / and to the Kinges of the Syriaes.

The ii. Chapter.

17. Ke. iij. a. 4. Reg. v. c. ¶ And Salomon thought to builde an house vnto the name of the Lorde / as an house for his kynghome: a tolde ouer the score and ten thousande men to beare burthens / a foure score thousande that beere tynder vpon the mount / and the thousande and sixe hundred officers ouer them. † And Salomon sent vnto Huram the kynge of Tyre / sayinge: As thou dydest with my father / and kinddest hym Cedar trees / to builde an house for to dwell in / euen so do thou with me also. † Beholde / I will builde an house vnto the name of the Lorde my God / so sancte it / so that burne good incense before hym / and alwaye to prepare the shewbread / and burne offerings in the morninge / and in the eveninge / in the Sabbarbes and new Moones / and solempne seasons of the Lorde our God euer more for Israel.

And the praye that I will buyde / shall be great: for our God is greater the of goddis. But who is able to buyde hym an house / for heauen and the beauties of all heuens may not compare the hym. Who can I then / that I should buyde hym an house? But only for this intent to burne incense before hym.

Sende me now therefore a wyse man to walke with golde / syluer / bisse / iron / stein / purple / yalowe / sike / a such one as can graue caused worke / with the wyse men that are with me in Tyre / and Ierusalem / whome my father Dauid adynged. And sende me tynder of Cedre / pynne tree and costly wood from Libanus: for I knowe that thy seruantes can be tynder vnto Libanus. And whold any seruantes shalbe with thy seruantes / to prepare me much tynder: for the house that I will buyde / shalbe great and maruolous goodly.

¶ And beholde / I will geue vnto the carpenters thy seruantes / which beere the tymber / twenty thousande quarters of beaten wheat / and twenty thousande quarters of barley / a twenty thousande baires of wyne / and twenty thousande baires of oyle.

Then sayde Huram the kynge of Tyre by returnyng / and sente it vnto Salomon: Because the Lorde loueth his people / therefore hath he made it to be kynge ouer the. And Huram sayd moreover: Praise be the Lorde God of Israel / which made heauy and earth / as he hath geuen kynge Dauid a wyse and prudent sone / and such one as hath vnderstandyng to buyde an house vnto the Lorde / as an house for his realme. Therefore sende I now a wyse man that hath vnderstandinge / I euen Huram Thi (which is the sone of the woman of the daughter of Dan / a hie father was of Tyre / which can worke in golde / syluer / bisse / iron / stone / ymber / stein / yalowe / sike / lyncen / purple / and to carue all maner of thynges / as to make what mannyng thynges so euer is geuen hym / with thy wyse men / and with the wyse men of my lorde kynge Dauid thy father. And now let my lorde sende the what hark / oyle and wyne vnto his seruantes / accordinge as he hath sayde / so wylle we beere the tynder vpon Libanus / as muche as thou wyldest.

and it / and will buyng it by stones in the see unto Japho from whence thou must buyng it up to Jerusalem.

And Salomon numbered all the straungers in the lande of Idd / accordinge to the number whan Dauid his father numbered them / and there were founde an hundred and fiftie thousande / the thousande and fiftie hundred.
And of f siluer he made thre thousande beakers of burninc / and foure thousande thousande / and set it upon the mounte / and thre thousande and fiftie hundred workers / which bilde the people at theyr worke.

The III. Chapter.

I HSD ¹ Salomon beganne to buyld the house of the Lord at Jerusalem upon the mounte Moriae / that was the mounte vnto Dauid his father / which Dauid had prepared for the comyn upon the come floode of Ieneue the Iordane. In the seconde daye the seconde mo-neth / in the fourth yere of his regn he be-ganne he to buyld. And so layed Salomon the foundation to buyld the house of God first the lengthe thre thousande cubites / the bredth twenty cubites / and the payde by fower / wyd-nesse of the house was twenty cubites longe / but the height was an hundred and twentye / and he ouerlaid it ou the insyde with pure golde.

But the great house syled he with Dynere and ouerlaid it with the best golde / and made paines rres / and rhinewerke there in / and ouerlaid the house with precious stones to be myne. As for f golde / it was golde of Pithum. And the balke / and postes aboue and the wallis and the deces of it ouerlaid he with golde / he caused Cherubins to be carued on the wallis.

He made also the house of the most holy / whos length was twenty cubites / accordinge to the wydnesse of the house / the bredth of it was twenty cubites likewise / he ouerlaid it with the best golde by fure hundred talentes. And fainctes he gaue fiftie selces of golde in weight / and ouerlaid the decum-bent with golde. He made also in the house of the most holy / two Cherubins of carued worke and ouerlaid them with golde / the length on the wynges of the Cherubins was twenty cubites / so that ou wyngs had fyue cubites.

and touched the wall of the house / and the other wyng had fyue cubites also / and tou-chyd the wyng of the other Cherub.

There so had one wyng of the other Cherub fyue cubites likewise / touched the wall of the house / and his other wyng had fyue cubites also / and touched the wyng of the other Cherub / so that the wynges of the Cherubins were shewd out twenty cubites wyde.
And they stode upon theyr feet / and theyr face was turned toward the house.

He made a wayle also of salome sylke / searlet / purple and kermes / and made Cheru-bins thereon. And before the house he made two pylers / and threty cubites longe / and the toppen aboue theyr / fyue cubites.
And he made rhinewerke / and the queit / and pueris aboue vpon the pylers / and made an hundred Dongranates / and put them on the wynges worke. And he set vp the pylers before the temple / the one on the right hande and the other on the left / and that on the right hande called he Jachim / and that on the left hande called he Boaz.

The IIII. Chapter.

He made a brasen altare also / twenty cubes longe / and twenty cubites broode / a ten cubites hie. And he made a inold lauer ten cubites wyde / from the one syde to the other rounde aboue / and fyue cubites hie. And a necessite of chynce cubites might comprehend it aboue. And ymagis of bullocks were vnder it. And aboue the lauer / which was ten cu-bites wyde / there were two cowes of fynespes that were molde withall.

There so vpon the bullocks / the wynges were turned toward the North / the toward the West / the toward the South / and the toward the East / and the lauer aboue vpon the / all they hynder partes were on the insyde.
The heighte of it was an hande bredth / and the edge of it was like the edge of a cuppe / as as a floured rose. And it comeynd the rhousaude dance.

And he made ten fensels / wherof he set fyue on the right hande / and fyue on the left / to washe on them / so that theynges as beloged to the burne offeringe / that they myghte wash them therein / but the lauer / made he / for the priests to washe in.

B Ten golden candlestickes made he also so they ought to be / and set them in the temple: three on the right hande / and foure on the left. And made ten tables / and set the in the temple: five on the right hande / and five on the left. And made an hundred basins of golde. He made a coure hynderyk for the priestes / as a great court / and dore in the court / as ouerlaped the dore with hyffe. And the lauer set he on the right syde toward the South east. And Hyam made caillbous / shoules and balses.

So Hyam finished the worke which he made for kynge Salomon in the house of God: namely the two pylers with the roundels and knappes aboue upon both the pylers / as both the wythen ropes to couer both the roundels of the knappes aboue upon the pylers / and foure hundred Pomgranates on both the wythen ropes / two ropes of Pomgranates on euery rope / to couer the roundels of knappes that were aboue upon the pylers.

C He made the stoles also and the kercles upon the stoles / and a lauer / as twelf bulleches there vnder. And pottes / shoules / shoules / as all they: vessels made Hyam / as of pure metall: so kynge Salomon vnto the house of the Lord. In the east of Iordan / dyd the king cause them to be made in thise earth betwene Sichem and Zardaba.

And Salomon made all these vessels which were so many / that the weight of the metall was not to be sought out. And Salomon made all the ornaments for the house of God: namely the golden altare / the tables / and the shewbread thereon / the candlestickes with theyr lampes of pure golde / to burne before the quere according to the maner: and the shoures / and the lampes / and the snuffers were of golde / and all these were of pure golde.

And the Fynec / basens / spoons and pottes / were of pure golde. And the intrance a hundred within vnto the Most holy / and the dore of the house of the temple were of golde. This was all the worke finished which Salomon made in the house of the Lord.

Chap. V. Chapter.

D When Salomon brought in all that his father Dauid had sacrificed / namely / silver and golde / and all maner of ornaments / and layed the in the treasures of the house of God. Then gathered Salomon all the Elders in Israel together / all the heades of the tribes / princes of the fathers amonge the chyldren of Israel vnto Ierusalem / to bring vp the Arke of the conuenant of the Lord out of the cytye of Soud / that is / Siou. And there resorted vnto the kynge all the men in Israel at the feast / that is / ten by seven month / and all the Elders in Israel came.

And the Leuites toke the Arke / as brought it vp with the tabernacle / and all the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle and the priestes and Leuites brought them vp. As for kynge Salomon / and all the congregation of Israel that was gathered vnto him before the Arke / they offered freke and oxen / so many / that no man coulde number nor reckon them.

This the priestes brought the Arke of the conuenant of the Lord vnto her place in the quere of the house / that is / in the Most holy vnder the wynges of the Cherubims / so that the Cherubims fixed ouer theyr wynges ouer the place of the Arke / and the Cherubims covered the Arke and the stoues that of from aboue. And the slaues that was gathered vnto hye / that were sent from the Arke before the quere / but on the outside were they not sent. And it was there vnto this day. And there was no byng in the Arke / as in the two tables / whiche Moses put therein at Horeb / when the Lord made a conuenant with the chyldren of Israel / when time as they were departed out of Egypte.

And when the priestes wente out of the Sanctuary / for all the priestes that were found / sanctified the selfe / because the conuente were not kepte. The Leuites with all those that were vnder Shaph / Heman / Jedithun / and theyr chyldren and brethren / began clothed in synners / songe with Cymbales / psalteries / harpes / and shode to warde the East parte of the altare / and an hundred and twentye priestes with them / which were with instruments. And it was / as if one dyd trope and singe / as though a voyce had bene heard of psalteries and organes / that is / vnto the Lord.

And when the voyce arose from the conuente / cymbales and other instruments of musick misel/ and from passinge the Lorde/ because his gracious/ and because his mercy endureth for euer) the house of the Lorde was filled on the inside with a cloude/ so that the priestes could not stande to mynster for the cloude/ for the glorie of the Lorde filled the house of God.

The VI. Chapter.

I Solon sayde: I Solomon: The Lorde sayde: that he wolde dwell in a darke cloude: I haue buylded an house to be an habitation vnto the Lord/ and a feat/ that thou mayest dwell there for euer. And the King turned his face/ and blessed all the congregation of Israel/ and he sayde: Praise be to the Lorde God of Israel/ which promised by his mouth vnto my father Dauid/ and with his hande hath fulfilled it/ when he sayde: I sence the time that I brought my people out of the lande of Egypt/ I haue buylded no cytye in all the myddes of Israel/ so buyld an house for my name to be there/ in which haue I chosen any man to be prince ouer my people of Israel. Thus Iesusaias haue I chosen for my name to be there: and Dauid haue I chosen to be prince ouer my people of Israel.

And when my father Dauid was minded to buyde an house vnto the name of the Lorde God of Israel/ the Lorde sayde vnto Dauid my father: I where as thou wast mynded to buyde an house vnto my name/ thou haste done well: so where/ thou shalt not buyde the house/ but thy sonne whiche shall come out of thy loynes/ shall buyde the house vnto my name.

Thus hath the Lorde now performed his word: as he hath spoken for I am come vp in my father Dauides steade/ as I sit vpon the feat of Israel/ euen as the Lorde sayde/ and haue buylded an house vnto the name of the Lorde God of Israel/ and in it haue I put the Ark/ wherein is the cauerment of the Lorde/ whiche he made with the chyldren of Israel.

And he stode before the altar: of the Lorde/ in the presence of the whole congregation of Israel/ and spake vnto his handes: for Salomon had made a bestiall pulpit/ as I set in the myddes of the court/ sine I indyte longe/ as I haue cōmited: and the saby to hy: vpon thys same stode he/ and fill thow vpon his knees/ in the presence of the whole congregation of Israel/ and helde out his handes toward heauen and sayde:

O Lorde God of Israel/ there is no God lyke the: neither in heauen nor vpon earth/ thou that kepest cōuenant and mercy for thy seruantes/ that walke before the with all thys daye. Thou haste kepte promise with my father Dauid thy seruant: With thy mouth thou saydest it/ as with thy hande hast thou fulfilled it/ so it is come to passe this daye. Now Lorde God of Israel/ make good vnto my father Dauid thy seruant/ that which thou hast promised him and sayd: Thou shalt not waite a man before me/ to sit vpon the feat of Israel: if thy chyldren kepe thy waye/ so that they walke in my lawe/ lyke as thou haste walkid before me. Now Lorde God of Israel/ let thy worde be verified/ which thou hast promised vnto Dauid thy seruant.

For whyndest thou that God in very dede dwelleth and ge men vpon earth? Behold: the heauen is the heauen of all heaues maye I saye. I do not coneyne the: how should the the house be made/ which I haue buylded: But turne the vnto the prayer of thy seruants/ and to his supplication. O Lorde my God/ thou maist heare thy thankes/ gauginge and prayes/ which thy seruants make/ before the/ so that thyne eyes be open ouer this house daye and nyght/ and ouer this place. wherein thou saydest/ thou woldst set thy name. That thou mayest heare the prayer/ whiche thy seruants shall make in this place. Heare now therefore the intercession of thy seruants/ as of thy people of Israel: whiche for thy sake theye do in this place/ heare thou it from the place of thy habitation/ in heauen: and when thou hearest/ be mercifull.

Whiche any man synneth against his neyghbour/ and an ooth be put vpon him/ which he ought to sweare/ and the ooth committed before thine altar in this house/ the heare thou in heauen/ and sit it thy seruants haue: thys/ so that thou rewarde the vngodly/ and recompens him how maye vpon his owne brem/ as to iustise the ryghteous/ and to geue him accordyng to his ryghteousnesse.

the sinne of thy people of Israel/and bunge them agayne into the lade/that thou hast geuen them and theys hereta.

¶ When the heauen is shut up / so that it rayne not / (soi so made as they haue synned against the Lord) and if they make theys prayer in this place/and knowlege thy name/and turne from theys synnes/when thou haste brought them lowe / heare thou them then in heauen/and be mercyfull vnto synne of thy seruantes/and of thy people of Israel / that thou wouldest teache the thy good waye when they shouldest walke/and let it rayne vpon thy lande/which thou haste geuen thy people to possesse.

When a deccaror pestilence/ or drouth / or our forefathers.

¶ And when any stronger / which is not of thy people of Israel / cometh out of a farr countrey because of thy great name / and rugh-to make his prayer in this house / heare thou him then from heauen / euen from the feat of thy habitation : and do all for the which that in theys synnes in the lade where they are captured / and so conuertye / and make theys intercession vnto the in the lande of theys cap-tivitye / and saye / We haue synned / a done amysse / and haue ben vngodly : and so rature them selfe vnto the with all theys herte / and with all cause they are psonce and make theys prayer towards the waye of theys owne lande / which thou hast geuen to theys fathers / and to wards the cytye which thou hast choosen / and towards the house that I haue builded vnto thy name: then heare thou theys prayer and supplicacon from heauen / euen from the feat of thy dwel-lyng / and helpe them to theys ryght / and be mercyfull vnto thy people that haue synned against the Lord thy God / let theye eyes not be open / and let theye eeres geue hede vnto prayer in this place. ¶ These were the wordes of the Lord vnto thy rystyng place / thou and the Lorde thy strength. ¶ Let thy iustice of the Lorde God be clothed with health / and let thy strength reioyce ouer this good. ¶ Lorde God / meane not awaye the face of theys any-

Dauid.

The VII. Chapter.

¶ When Salomon had ended his prayer / there fell a fire from heauen / and consumed the burnt offeringe and the other offeringes.
And the glory of the Lorde filled the house / so that the purfice could not go in to the house of the Lorde / whyle the glorye of the Lorde filled the Lorde's house. And all the chyldre of Israel sawe ite fyre fall downe / and the glorye of the Lorde ouer the house / and they fell on theys faces with theys faces to the ground vpon the pavement / and worshipped / a gaud spant.

thanked onto the Lorde / because he es greuous / a because his mercy endureth for ever. As for the kinge and all the people / they offered before the Lorde.

For kinge Salomon offered two and twenty thousand bullocks / one and hundred thousand and twenty thousand sheepe / and so both the kinge / and all the people dedicated the house of God.

B And the priests stood in theyr wardes / and the levites with the musicall instrumentes of the Lorde / which kinge David had caused to make for to give thanks unto the Lorde / because his mercy endureth for ever / with psalmes of David / how theyr hands. And the priests blew trumpets ouer agaynst them / and all Israel stood.

And Salomon bowed the middellmoost court / which was before the house of the Lorde / for there prepared be the burnes offeringes / and the face of the table offeringes. For the brazen altars that Salomon made / myght not comeyne all the burnes offeringes / and the fat.

C And at the same tyme helde Salomon a feast seven dayes longe / and all Israel with hym a very greete congregation / from Gemrah onto the ryuer of Egypte / and on the eighth daye helde be a consecration. For the dedication of the autere helde they seven dayes / and the feast seven dayes also.

But on the thie and twentieth daye of the month morche / the lewde people go vnto theyr tentes ioyfull and with merry deeres / because of all the good that the Lorde had done vnto David / vnto Salomon / and to his people of Israel.

E Thus finished Salomon the house of the Lorde / and the kinges house / and al that came in his hande to make in the house of the Lorde / in his owne house / prosperously. And the Lorde appeared vnto Salomon in the nyght season / and sayd vnto hym: I haue herde thy prayer / and chosen this place vnto my selfe for a house of sacrifice. Beholde / wher I shew the heauen / so that it canne not / as I commaunde the greynoppes to consume my fode / or cause a pellicane to come amonge my people / or humble my people / which is named after my name: and if they praye / and see my face / and turne from theyr euill wayes / the wil

I heare them from heauen / and will forgiue theyr synne / and heale theyr lande. So shall myne eyes now be open / a mine eares shalbe attuned vnto prayer in this place. Thus boue I now chosen this house / a sanctified it / that myne name maye be there for euery and myne eyes and myn heare shall alwaye be there.

And if thou walke before me / as thy father David walked / so that thou doo all that I commaunde the / and kepe myn ordinaunces and lawes / the will I stablye be thyng of thyngs dome / accordinge as I promised thy father David / and sayd. Thou shalt not want a man to be loude ouer Israel. But if ye turne backe / and forsake myne ordinaunces a commaundementes / which I haue layed before you / and so go youre wayes / a serue other goddes / and worship them / then wil I rote / as you Some one of my lande that I haue geuen you: a this house which I haue sanctified vnto my name / then wil I cast awaye out of my presence / and geue it ouer to be a bywoode a seldell among all nations. And every one that goeth by / shalbe ashamed at this byr house / and shall byste at / and saye. Wherfore hath the Lorde dealt thus with this lande / a with this house? Then shall he sayd: Leca because theyr house is forsake the Lorde God of theyr fathers / whiche he broughte them out of the lande of Egypte / and haue cleued vnto other goddes / and worshipped the / and serued them: therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

The VIII. Chapter.

And after twenty yeares / when Salomon builded the house of the Lorde / a his owne house / he builded the eyries also which Hieram gaue vnto Salomon / and caused the chyliden of Israel to dwell therein. And Salomon went vnto Gemrah / and made it stronger / and builded Chadmor in the wyldenesse / and al the contryes which be builded in Gemrah. He builded the upper and lower Bethon / by the wyll / for that they were stronge cities / with walles / towers / and dores / and Balath. And all the contryes which Salomon had / and all the contryes of the charrenes and of the basemen / and all that Salomon had lust to builde / both at Jerusalem and vpon Libanus / and in all the lande of his dominion.

B All the remnant of the people of the Hebrewes / Amouites / Pherezites / Heuites a Jebustites / which were not of the children of Israel / a they which rebeld they had left behinde them in the lande / whome the children of Israel had not vntely destroyed / those dyd Salomon make tributarie vnto this daye. As for the childen of Israel / Salomon made no bondage of them vnto his worke / but they were men of warre / and chiefe captaynes / and ouer his chariottes and horsemen. And the chiefe of kinge Salomons officers were two hundred and fifty / which ruled the people.

And Salomon caused Pharaos daughter to be fedged vpon one of the citty of Dauid / in to the house that he had builded for her. For he said / My wyfe shall not dwell in the house of Dauid kinge of Israel / for it is sanctified / in couynge at the Altar of the Lorde / so come into it.

E Then offered Salomon burnt offerings vnto the Lorde vpon the Lodes altare / which he had builded before the porch / euery one vpon his daye to offer after the commaundment of Moses / on the Sabbathes / new Moones / and at the appointed seasons of the yeece / vnto the thre yeres / namely in the feast of vnleued bread / in the feast of wexen / and in the feast of Tabernacles.

I And he set fyfteen in ordre to theyr ministracion / accordinge vnto Dauid hys father had appointed / and the Quene in theyr offices / so geue thanks / and to minister in the presence of the people / euery one vpon his daye. And the chiefepers in theyr courses / euery one at his doore / for sa had Dauid the man of God commaunded.

S And they departed not from the kinges commaundment ouer the pusses and Lutes in every matter / and in the treasure. Vnto was all Salomons byrnen / he made ready / fro the daye that he founded of the Lodes house was layed / vntill it was finished / so that the house of the Lorde was all prepared.

I Then went Salomon vnto Iezon Gebet / and vnto Elachy by the freshide in the lande of Edome. And he first sent him shipping by his seruantes / which had knowlege of the sea / and they went with Salomons seruantes vnto Ophir / and fetched fourty thence fourty hundred and fyfye talents of golde / and brought it vnto kinge Salomon.

The IX. Chapter.

When the Quene of Shece Irah / by herde / a by fame of Salomons / she came with a veyn a Regreare vnto Ierusalem / with camels & haire a Regreare / spices and golde / a precious stone. So proued Salomon with daris sentences. And when she came vnto Salomon / she spake vnto him all that she had deuyd in her mynde. And I Kinge told her all her matters / and Salomon had nothyng in secret / but he told it her.

And when the Quene of shec the Arabia saw the wysdomme of Salomon / and the house that he had builded / the meastro of his table / the dwellinge of his seruantes / the effeete of his mannyngs / and theyr garments / and his butlers / and theyr apparell / a his pacler when he went vp in to the house of the Lorde / she could no longer saye. And she sayde vnto the Kinge. It is true that I haue herde in my land of shec herieour / and of chy wysdomme / howbeit / I wold not beleue theyr wordes / till I came my selfe / and sawe it with myne eyes / and beholde / the half of thy great wysdomme hath not bene tolde me: there is more in thee then the same that I haue herde. Happy are thy men / and happy are theye thy seruantes / that alwaye stande before thee / and heare thy wysdomme. Prayed be the Lorde thy God / whiche had suche pleasure vnto thee / that he hath set thee vpon his heame to be kyng vnto the Lorde thy God. Because thy God looueth Israel / so set them vp for euer / therefore hath he ordeyned thee to be kyng ouer them / that thou shouldest mannyng iustice and equite.

And the gaine the kyng a hundred and twenty talents of golde / and very much spycery and precious stones. There were no mo such spices as herde / but the Quene of shec Arabia gaue vnto kyng Salomon. And he sent ramu seruantes / and the seruantes of Salomon / which brought golde fro Ophir / brought colly nyber also and precious stones.

And of the same colly nyber dyd Salomon cause to make flazers in the house of the Lorde / and in the kynges house / and harps and psalteries for the musiciens. There was no such nyber fene before in fynde of Iuda.

But King Salomon gau the Queens of riche Arabia all that she desired a croud/and muche more then she had thought vnto the King. And she returned/a & departed into her lande with her seruantes.

The golde that was brought vnto Salomon in one yeare/was sixe hundred and sixe a thre score tall into/ besides that the chappell and mans chaires thought. And all the Kinge of the Arabians/and the lordes in the lande thoughte gald a siluer vnto Salomon. Of the which Kinge Salomon made two hundred chappels of beaten golde/so that sixe hundred peeces of beaten golde came vpon one peare: a thre hundred thunders of beaten golde/so that the hundredth peeces of beaten golde came to one shylde: and the Kinge put them in the house of the wood of Libanus.

And the Kinge made a great seate of Iury/ and ouerlaid it with pure golde: a the seate had sixe steeppes/ and a foulsle of golde fastened vnto the seate/ and it had two hanging postes vpon each the sides of the seate/ a two Lyons stood beside the leaninge postes/ and there stode two Lyons vpon the sixe steeppes on both the sides. In all realmes hath not such one beate made.

And all Kinge Salomons drinkinge vessels were of golde/ and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Libanus/ were of pure golde: so siluer was refused nothing in Salomons tyme. For the Kinge steeppes write vpon the sixe with the seruantes of Baram/ and came a new in the place/ a thoughte gold/ siluer/ Iury/ Aps and Decofe.

Thus was Kinge Salomon greater then all the Kinge vpon earth/ in ryche a wysedome. And all the Kinge of the earth desired to se Salomons sawe/ a to heare his wysdom/ which God had giuen him in his heart. And they thoughte him greatly every man his wisdom: of siluer and gold/ raiment/ beastes/ speere/ bowes and mules.

And Salomon had foure thousand chariots/ a and welke thousande horsemen/ a put them in the cherecians/ and with the Kinge at Jerusalem. And he was lorde ouer all the Kinge from the water vnto the lande of the Philistines/ and to the west of Egypte. And the Kinge dwelt in so to pass/ that there was a muche siluer at Jerusalem as stones/ was many Ceders/ as there were Nobbery trees in the valley. And there were houses thoughte vnto hym out of Egypte/ and out of all countries.

What moue thersia to save of Salomon/ both of his first/ and of his last/ Scholde/ as he wryten in the Cronicles of the prophete Hierem/ and in the prophete of Micha of Solo/ and in the actes of Iacob the Syer against Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat. And Salomon raygned at Jerusalem ouer all Israel fouretye yeares. And Salomon fell on slepe with his father/ and was buried in the tyme of Dauid his father. And Roboam his sonne was Kinge in his stead.

The X. Chapter.

Roboam went vnto Sidon: so all Ise-rahel was come vnto Sidon/ to make hym Kinge. And when Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat had knowen that he was fled for Kinge Salomon/ he came againe out of Egypte. And they sent for him and called hym/ and Jeroboam came with all Israel/ a spake to Roboam/ and sayd: The father made our yocke greuous/ make thou lighter now the hard bondage of thy father/ a the heauy yocke he layed vpon vs/ a we wil submitte our selves vnto the. He saide vnto the: Come to me againe vnto the dayes. And the people went they way.

And Roboam the Kinge aged counsell at the Elders/ which had stande before Salomon his father while he liued/ he said: What is your counsell/ that I maye geue the people an answer? They spake vnto hym/ a sayde: If thou be luyng vnto this people/ a wale gentile with them/ againe them good wordes/ then shal they alwaye be obedient vnto the. Neuertheless/ he forsoke the counsell of the Elders/ & they had giuen him/ a toke counsell at the yong men/ which were growen vp to him/ a stode to foue him. And he said vnto the: What is your counsell/ that we maye answer the people/ which haue spokt vnto me/ a said: Make our yocke lighter/ that thy father layed vpon vs/ the yong men/ that were growen vp with him/ spake vnto hym/ a sayde: Thus shal thou saye vnto the people/ that haue talked with the and spoken: The yacke Koboam/Jeroboam. The 11. booke of the Cronicles.

¶ Come out yoek to heauy/make thou our yoek lighter. Thus spake thou vnto them: My lyke syn geuethalbe thicker thel my fathers topes. ¶ If my father had leyrd an heauy yoek vpon you/I wyl make your yoek the more. My father chastened you with scourges/that I wyl beate you with scourges.

¶ How when Jeroboam and al the people came to Koboam on the thyrde daye (accordeing as the kynge saide) Come to me againe on the thyrde daye/ the kynge gaue them vnharder answer. And Koboam the kynge forsoke the counsayl of the elders/and spake vnto them after the yong mans counsayl/and saide: If my father haue made your yoek to heauy/I wyl make it yett heavier. My father chastened you with scourges. But I wyl beate you with scourges. Thus the kynge followed not the peoples mynde: so he was vtterly determined of God/that the Lorde myght stablish his word/I which he spake by the hande of Salomon the sonne of Dauid. But when al Israel saue the benyngne wolde not consecrate vnto them/the people answered the kynge a saide: What poyson haue we then in Dauid/ wherby we are in the sonne of Israel? Let every man of Israel get him to his tenne. Like thou na wyl to thy house Dauid. And al Israel wote vnto they tenens/so that Koboam reigned but ouer the children of Israel that dwelt in the countrey of Juda. And Koboam the kynge sent forth Adoram the rentgatherer/that the children of Israel stoned him to deeth. And King Koboam strenged himselfe vpon his charyetes/ to the vnto Jerusalem. Thus sell Israel away from the house of Dauid vnto this daye.

¶ Ind when Koboam came to Jerusalem/ he gathered together the house of Juda and Beniamin/ C. c. lxx. an hundred and foure score thousand chosen men of armes) to fight against Israel/that they might bring the kyngdome agayne vnto Koboam. But the worde of the Lord came to Semaia the man of God/a saide: Speake to Koboam the sonne of Salomon kynge of Juda/a to al Israel that are in Juda a Beniamin/and saye thus sayeth the Lorde: Ye shall not go vp/ nor fighte agaynst your brethren: let every man go home agayne/for this is my wylde.

¶ They dyedent vnto I wades of the Lorde/ a wente not forth agaynst Jeroboam. ¶ So for Koboam he dwelt at Jerusalem/and thither he wyl the stronge tyme in Juda/ namely Bethelam: Euan/ Ekra/ Bethsur/ Sobob/ Abulla/ Beth/ Marsa/ Eph/ Thobaim/ Kadse/ Theka/ Zarega/ Salom/ and Herbon/ which were the fenced cityes in Juda and Beniamin. ¶ he made them stronge/and stypines them/ and procured them of vitayles/ oyle a wyne/ and in al cytes prepared he shildes and speares/and made them very stronge. And Juda and Beniamin were vnder him.

¶ The prestes and Leuites also came vnto him ouer al Israel/and from all the borders thereof. And leue their subuertes a possession/ and came to Juda vnto Jerusalem: for Jeroboam and his sonnes expelled them/that they should not execute the office of the priesthood vnto the Lorde. But for him selfe he founded prestes to the hye places/a to selde Bethel and caltes/which he caused to make. And vnter them came thers men ouer al the trybes of Israel/which gaue ouer they: heere to seke the Lorde God of Israel/ and came to Jerusalem for to offer vnto the Lorde God of they fathers. And so strenged they the kyngdome of Juda/ a maintained Koboam the sonne of Salomon the yere longe: for they walked in the waye of Dauid and Salomon the yeres.

¶ And Koboam toke Malcham the daughter of Jeremoth the sonne of Dauid to wyfe/ a Bethai a daughter of Eliab the sonne of Ihu/ which bare him the sonnes: Irua/ Se maria and Sabam. ¶ Ther her isse be Maacha the daughter of Abshalom/ which bare him Abia/ Thar/ Eisa/ a Seromuth. But Koboam loued Maacha the daughter of Abshalom better then all his wyues a concubines: for he had cyghene wyues a thei score concubines/ and thyr eight and threety sonnes/ and thei score daughters. And Koboam set Abia the sonne of Maacha to be heade and punce amonge his brethren: for he thought to make him kynge: for he was ryse/and more myghty then al his sonnes in al the countres of Juda and Beniamin/and in al the stronge cytes. And he gaue them plentyousnes of fode/and besyd many wyse.

The XII. Chapter.

2 When the Kingdome of Roboam was establiſhed, and ſtabliſhed, he ſoſe the ſlawe of the Lozde, and all Iſrael went bym. And in the ſyſth yeare of Roboam, wente Siſack the kynge of Egypt agaynſt Jeruſalem: for they had tranſgreſſed againſt the Lozde, with a thouſande and two hundred chariottes, and with thre ſcore thouſand hoſemen, and the people were innumerable that came with him out of Egypte, Libya, and Cushim, out of Ethiopia: he wonne the ſtronger cyties that were in Juda, and came to Jeruſalem.

Then came Semaias the prophet vnto Roboam, and the rulers of Juda (whiche were gathered together at Jeruſalem for Siſack) a ſayd vnto them: Thus ſayeth the Lozde: Ye haue left me, therefore haue I left you alſo in Siſacks hande. Then the rulers in Iſrael with the kynge ſubmitted them ſelues and ſub: the Lozde is righteous.

But when the Lozde ſawe that they humbled them ſelfe, the woide of the Lozde came to Semaias, and ſayde: They haue humbled them ſelues, therefore will I not deſtroye them: but I will giue them a litle helpe, cauiſe that my indignacion ſhal not vpon Jeruſalem by Siſack: for they ſhalbe ſubdued vnto him, that they maye knowe, what it is to ſerue me, and to ſerue the Kingdome of the woide.

2 Thus wente Siſack the kynge of Egypte vnto Jeruſalem, and toke the treaſure in the houſe of the Lozde, and the treaſure in the kynge's houſe, and carryed all awaye, and toke the ſhyldes of gold, that Salomon cauſed to make in Beeld, wherof kynge Roboam made ſhyldes of ſteele, and committed them vnto the chief ſeruauntes, which kepte the doore of the kynge's houſe. And as ſite as the kynge wente in to the houſe of the Lozde, the ſeruauntes came and bare them, and broughte them agayne into the ſacraments cheumber. And ſo fo muche as he ſubmytted hymſelfe, the woide of the Lozde turned from hym, ſo that all was not deſtroyed: for there was yet ſome good in Juda.

3 Thus was Roboam the kynge ſtabliſhed in Jeruſalem, and reigned. One and fouertye yeare alde was Roboam when he was made kynge, and raygne 9 ſcoretine yeare at Jeruſalem in the cytie, which the Lozde had choſen out of all ſeruo of Iſrael, to ſet his name there. His motheres name was Naama an Ammoniſſe: a he had euen, and prepared not his heart to ſerue the Lozde.

Theſe actes of Roboam, both fiſt and laſt, are written in the actes of Semaias the prophet, and of Iddo the ſeruy, and are north, and ſo are the warres that Roboam & Iſerobab had together as long as they liued. And Roboam fell on ſlope with his fathers, and was buried in the cytie of Dauid, in Abia his ſone was kynge in his ſteede.

The XIII. Chapter.

1 In the cytyenth yeare of kynge Ieroboam, was Abia kynge in Juda, and raygned 30. ye. and the yeare at Jeruſalem. His motheres name was Abiſha the daughter of Ori of Gibra. And there was warre betwene Abia and Ieroboam. And Abia prepared him ſelfe to the banayl with foure hundred thouſande ſtrange hoſemen of warre. But Ieroboam made himſelfe ready to fight agaynſt him with eght hundred thouſande hoſemen of ſtrength.

And Abia gat hym vp vpon the hill Zemaraim, which lyeth vpon mount Ephraim, and ſayde: Herken vnto me theu Ieroboam, and all Iſrael: knowe ye not that the Lozde God of Iſrael hath geuen Dauid the Kingdome of Iſrael for euer, vnto bym and to his ſonne with a cait conuynant: but Ieroboam the ſonne of Nebat, the ſeruaunt of Salomon Dauid's ſonne, gat him ap, and ſet awaye from his loide. And there reſorted vnto him magheboundes, a dyblen of Eriall, which haue ſtrengthed them ſelues agaynſt Roboam, the ſonne of Salomon, for Roboam was but yonge, and of a fearful heart, he coulde not reſiſt them.

Howe thynke ye to ſet your ſelfe agaynſt the Kingdome of the Lozde amonge the ſonne of Dauid: for ſo muche as there is ſo grates multitude of you, haue the golden calice that Ieroboam made you for godde: haue it, ye not ſpild the price of the Lozde, the children of Ieron, and the ſeruauntes, and haue made you piſſles of your owne, euen as the people people of the lande: / Whoseuer commeth to fill his bande with a yonge bullocke and seven rammes / shall beeste vnto them that are not godden.

But with vs is the Lorde our God / whome we forsake not: and the priestes that minister vnto the Lorde / the chyliden of Zaron and the Leuites in theyr busynesse / and every inonyng and every cunnyng synde they be burnt offeringes vnto the Lorde / and the seruentyce / and prepare the shewbrade vpon the pure table / and the goldenandelsthecke with his lampes / to be synnded every cunnynges: for we wayte vpon the Lorde our God.

Num 7. a

As for you / ye haue forsaken hym. Beholde / God is the captayne of oure hostis / and with vs are his priestes / and the blowing trompettes / to trompe agaynst you. Ye chyliden of Israel / synghe not agaynst the Lorde God of your fathers: for ye shall not prosper.

Neuertheless / Jeroboam made a preynto watch in every syde / to come vpon them by synde / so that they were before Juda / and the picture watche theynto. Now when Juda merned them / beholde / there was a battayle before them and behynde. Then cryed they vnto the Lorde / and the priestes trompetted with the trompettes / and when every man in Juda gaue a shoute / God plagued Jeroboam / a chyliden of Israel / and Juda. And the chyliden of Israel fled before Juda / a God gaue them in to theyr handes / for that Abia and his people vnto a greete slaughter vpon them / a there fell wounded of Israel six hundred thousande choson men.

Thus were the chyliden of Israel subdued at the tyme / but the chyliden of Juda were comforted / for they put theyr trust in the Lorde God of theyr fathers. And Abia followed vpon Jeroboam / a manne cnyne from bryn / Bethel with the villagees therof / Zefana with her villagees / and Ephraim with the villagees therof / so that Jeroboam came nomore to strengthe as long as Abia luyed. And the Lorde smote him that he dyed.

Now when Abia was strengthened / he took fourentie wyfes / and begat two a rousynnes and synne youngers. What more there is to saye of Abia / and of his wayes and his voynges / it is wyrtten in the storie of the prophet Iddo. And Abia followe slepe with his fathers / and they buried hym in the cnyne of Samaria / and Isa his sonne was kynge in his steade. In his tyme was the lande in rest ten yeres.

The XIII. Chapter.

As it is said that which was good and right in the syghs of the Lorde his God / and put awaye the straungit aultrars / a the byt places / and dale the pylfers / and hemed vnto the grouse / and sude onto Juda / that they should seke the Lorde God of theyr fathers: / a so after the law a commaundmentes. And the byt places and Zoob put be awaye out of all the cnyne of Juda / a the kyngdome had rest before him. And he synnded stronge cnytes in Juda / while the lande was in quietnes / a while there was no warre agaynst hym in thysame yeres: for the Lorde gaue him rest.

And he sayde vnto Juda: Let vs buyde by vp these cnytes / and sence them rounde about with walles and towres / with postes a barres / while the lide is yet with vs: for we haue foughte the Lorde our God / a he hath geuen vs rest in every syde. So they buyde / a it went prosperously with them. And Abia had an host of men / which bare sheldes / and speaces / one of Juda the lide: with thousande / and out of Ben Jamin two hundred a foure score thousande that bare sheldes / and coude stoue with bowes / a all these were nyghty stronge men.

But Gerah the Moian came out agaynst Ephraim with an host of a thousande wyces a thousande / and with the hundred charrettes / and came vnto Marisa. And Abia went forth agaynst hym. And they prepared the fyttes to the battail in the valley Sephora besyde Marisa. And Abia called vpon the Lorde his God / and said: Lorde / it is no difference / Iudith with thes helpe by seme of by many. Helpe / O Lorde our God / for our trust is in the / a in thy name are we come forth agaynst / it is multitude. Lorde our God / let nouan picuarle agaynst the.

And the Lorde smote the Moians before Abia a before Juda / so that they fled. And

B And the same tyme came Hanani the Oyer

But Asa was wroth at the Oyer/and put him in prison: for he murmured wth hym ouer this charge. And Asa oppressed certayne of the people at the same tyme.

¶ ec. xxxvii. b

E These actes of Asa both fyrste and last/ser bolde/they are wyrtten in the booke of the kyn ges of Iuda and Israel. And Asa was dys casse in his fate/ in the nyne and thyrtyeth yare of his raigne/and his sicknesse increas ed. Wherby soughte he the Lorde in his sicknesse/ but trusted vnto Physicians. Thus fell Asa on slepe with his fathers/ and vyed in the one and fortyeth yare of his raigne/and was buried in his owne sepulchre/ which he had caused to be grauen for himselfe in the citty of Sauid. And they layed hym vpon his bed/ which was fylled with sweete odours and all inuance of spyces/ (made after the Apocricas receit) and they made a very greate burnynge.

The XVII. Chapter.

And Josaphat his soune was kynge in his stead/ a wyse myghtye agaynst Israel.
And he put men of warre in all the stronge citties of Iuda/ and set officers in the lande of Iuda/ and in the citty of Ephraim/ which Asa his father had wonne. And the Lorde was with Josaphat: for he walked in the olde wayes of his father Sauid/ and soughte not Baalim/ but the God of his father/ a walk d in his commaundemens/ and not after the workes of Israel: therfore vyed the Lorde sta bly by the kynge in his hande. And all Iuda gaue ptesentes vnto Josaphat/ and he had greate ryche and worship. And wha his dette was couaged in the wayes of the Lorde he se pur vnto the hyer place and growe of Iuda.

In the thirde yare of his raigne sente he his pneses, Benhai, Obadja, Zacharias, Mes shanc and Muthas/ to teach in the citty of Iuda: and with them the Leuites: Semai/Iudithas/ Sibadai/ Asihil/ Sememacoth/Jonathan, Adonia/ Tobia/ and Tob Adonia/and with the priestes Elisama and Zor, And they taught in Iuda/ a had the boke of lawe of the Lorde with them/ and wrote as boune in all the citty of Iuda/ and taught the people.

And the feare of the Lorde came vpon all the kynge domes/ in the contrie that laye a boute Iuda/ so that they sought not agaynst Josaphat. And the Philistines thoughte pre sented and rebulc of slauer vnto Josaphat.
And the Arabians thoughte hym feuen thou sant and feuen hundred camels/ and feue ten thousand and feuen hundred beoatcs.
Thus increasd Josaphat/ and greate cure greater. And he builded castles and come towers in Iuda. And vyed muche in the citty of Iuda/ and had valeant and myghtynen at Jerusalem.

And this was the ordinaunce thowout the house of theyr fathers/ which were rulers ouer 7 thousande in Iuda: Adna a captaine/and with him were the hundred thousande myghte men. Ther vnto him was Joba nan the cheif/ and with hym were two hun dred and foure score thousande. Ther byn was Amasia the sonne of Sida/ the first wil linge of the Lorde/ and with byn were two hundred thousande valeant men. Of the chilren of Ben Zamin was Elada a myghte myghte man/ and with hym were two hundred thousande ready with bowes and shyllis.
There vnto hym was Josabad/ and with hym were an hundred and foure score thousande barriked men of warre. All these wayed vpon the kynge/ besides those that the kynge had layed in the stronge cittyes thowout all Iuda.

The XVIII. Chapter.

And Josaphat had greate ryche and wor ship/ and made frendd shyppe with A chab.

 chab. 1 And after t'ree yeeres wente he vnto Achab vnto Samaria. And Achab counsed many shepe and ogeu to be slaine for him/and so: the people that were with him. And he counsailed him to go vp vnto Ramoth in Gilead. And Achab the kynge of Israell sayde vnto Josaphat the kynge of Iuda: Go with me vnto Ramoth in Gilead. Et sayde vnto hym: I am as thou/and my people as thy people/we will go with the vnto the battayll.

But Josaphat sayd vnto the kynge of Israel: Let counsaill 3 praye the xpo saye at the woide of the Lorde. And the kynge of Istead gathered the prophetes together/cum foure hundred mens/and sayde vnto them: Shall we go to the battayll vnto Ramoth in Gilead/for shal I let it alone. They sayde: Go vp/God shal vsouer it into 3 kynge hande.
 But Josaphat sayde: Is there not yet one pro-phete of the Lorde here/that we maye aske at him? The king of Istead said vnto Josaphat: There is yet one man/at whome we maye aske at the Lorde/But I hate hym/so: he prophecyeth me no good/ but alwaye euell/namely Mithcaas the sonne of Iemla. Josaphat sayde: Let not the kynge saye so. And the king of Istead called one of his chamberlaynes/and sayde: Bynge hit/her some Mithcaas the sonne of Iemla.

2 And the kynge of Istead/and Josaphat the kynge of Iuda/sat cybe at thym upon his tent/arayd in they garmentes. Euen in the place at the doore of the porte of Samaria sat they/and all the prophetes prophesied before thym. And Sidaquis the sonne of Ena-na had made hym honore of frans/and sayde Thus sayeth the Lorde: With these shalte thou fyght at the Symons: yll thou bynge them to neyghbe. And all the prophetes prophesied lykewise/ and sayde: Go vp vnto Ramoth in Gilead/and thou shalt professe/and the Lorde shal vsouer it into the kynges hande.

And the messenger that wente to call Mithcaas/spake vnto hym/and sayde: Be-holde/the woide of the prophetes are with an accorde good before the kynge: let thy woide 3 praye the. Be as out of thera/and heark thou good also. But Mithcaas said: Lo truly as the Lorde hath sayde what my God sayeth vnto me/that will I speake. And whā he came to the kynge/the kynge sayde vnto hym: Mithcaas/shouldest we go vnto Ramoth in Gilead as the battayll/shouldest we let it alone? He sayde: Go vp and ye shall professe.

 Ic shalbe geuen yau in your handes. But the kynge sayde vnto hym: I charge the: yet again that thou telme nothinge but the wryth in 3 name of the Lorde.

Then sayde he: I sawe all Israell scattered & aboarde vpon the mountayne/as the shepe that haue no shepherde. And the Lorde sayde: Hauē these no lord: Let euery one turne home agayn in peace. Then sayde the kynge of Istead vnto Josaphat: Dyd not I tel the/that he wolde paythe me no good/ but euell.

And he sayde: Therefore hate ye the woide of the Lorde: I sawe the Lorde sy upon his seat/and all the hooste of heauen stan-dyng ar his ryghte hande and at his left.
 And the Lorde sayde: Who will deceaue Achab the kynge of Istead/ that he maye go vp and fall at Ramoth in Gilead? And whā one sayde thus/another so/thee came forth a spere/and stode before the Lorde/ and sayde: I will deceaue hym. The Lorde sayde vnto hym: Wherewith? He sayde: I will go forth/as be a falsse spere in the mouth of all the prophetes. And he sayde: Thou shalt deceaue hym/and shalt be able: go thy waye/and do so. Beholde now/the Lorde hath geuen a falsse spere in the mouth of all these thy prophetes/and the Lorde hath spoken enen agaynst the.

Then spake forth Sidaquis the sonne of Enana/and smote Mithcaas vpon the cheke/a saide: Which waye is the spere of the Lorde departed fro me/so speake thoue thet.
 Mithcaas sayde: Beholde/thou shalt see how thou comest vnto the ynnost chamber to hide the. But the kynge of Istead sayde: Let Mithcaas/and let hym remaine with Amos the ruler of the tene/and with Joas the sonne of Mithca/and saye: Thus sayeth the kynge One this man in pryson/and scde him with bread and water of streuble/rel I come agayn in peccce. Mithcaas sayde: This an committ a-gayne in peace/ then hath not the Lorde spoken thow to me. And he saide: Hearken to all ye people.

¶ So the kynge of Israel/and Josaphat the kynge of Iuda went vp vnto Ramoth in Gilead. And the kynge of Israel saide vnto Josaphat: Charge thy chariots/and come to the battail in thine array. And the kynge of Israel chaunged his arrayment/ and came into the battayll. But the kynge of Siria had commaunded the rulers of his charrettes. Ye shall fight against a small not great: but only against the kynge of Israel.

Now whiche rulers of the charrettes saw Josaphat/they thought: It is the kynge of Israel/and they wente aboute to fighte against hym. But Josaphat cryed/ and the Lorde helped him. And God turned their sight from vs: whiche the rulers of the charrettes sawe that it was not the kynge of Israel/ they turned backe from hym. But a certayne man bendes his bowe harde/ and shot the kynge of Israel betwene the mayne and the longes. This saide he vnto his charretman: Turne thine hande/ and carrie me out of the boosle/ for I am wounded. And the battail was fore the same daye. And the kynge of Israel stode vpon his charret against the Syrians vntill the eueninge/ as theyd when the Sunne wente downe.

The XX. Chapter.

¶ Josaphat the kynge of Iuda came home againe in peace vnto Ierusalem. And Jehu the sonne of Hanani the Seer wente forth to meete hym/ and saide vnto King Josaphat: Shaldest thou so helpe the vngodly/ and loue them that hate the Lorde? And for this cause is the wrath npon the from the Lorde: neuertheless/ there is some good founde in thee/ that thou haste put the groue out of the land/ and hast prepared thine hart to seke God. So Josaphat abode at Ierusalem.

¶ And he wente againe amonge the people/ from Bersa vnto a mount Ephraim/ and blessed them againe vnto the Lorde God of their fathers. And he set Judges thowout the land/ in all the stronge cities of Iuda/ and set citie in citie cyne. And saide vnto the iudges: Lete heere wha ye do: for ye see that it is the iudgment of man/ but of the Lorde/ and he is with you in iudgment: therefore let the feare of the Lorde be with you/ and beware/ and do it for with the Lorde our God there is no vniuersal excuse/ nor respect of persons/ nor no acceptinge of gifts.

And at Ierusalem vnto Josaphat otheye certayn of the Leuites and priestes/ and of the ancient fathers of Israel for the iudgment of the Lorde/ and vnto the matter of the law/ and caused them to dwell at Ierusalem/ and commaunded them/ and saide: Se that ye do thus in the feare of the Lorde/ in syphefulness/ and in a perfect heerte. In all causes that come vnto you from youre brethren/ which dwell in theyr cyties betwene shoude and shoude/ betwene lawe and commauntements/ betwene statutes and ordinaunces/ ye shall enquire them/ that they synne not against the Lorde/ and so the wrath to come vpon you and youre brethren. Do thus/ and ye shall not offend.

Beholde/ Amaria the prieste is chiefe ouer you in all causes of the Lorde: so is Sebacha the sonne of Inach/ prieste in the house of Iuda in all the kynges matters: Ye haue officers by the waye of the Lawe before you. Take a good courage vnto you/ and be vyinge/ and the Lorde shall be with the good.

The XX. Chapter.

¶ In this came the children of Moab/ and the children of Ammon/ and certayne of Ammon with them/ to fighte against Josaphat. And they came and toke Josaphat/ and saide: There commeth a greate multitude against the from Besonde the see of Chanaan: and beholde/ they are at Basemot Damar/ that is in Engaddi.

And Josaphat was affrayed/ and set his face to seke the Lorde/ and caused a fast to be proclaimed in all Iuda. And Iuda came together to seke the Lorde. And out of all the cyties of Iuda came they to seke the Lorde.

And Josaphat stode amonge the congregacion of Iuda and Ierusalem/ in the boule of the Lorde/ before the newe course/ and saide:

O Lorde God of our fathers/ art not thou God in heauen/ and hast Dominion in all the kyngdomes of the Earthen? And in thy hand to strength and power/ and there is no man that can withstande the. Hast not thou ouer God expelled the inhabytantes of this lande? for for thy people of Israel: and hast geueu vnto the scot of Zabiah thy louer for ier: so that they haue dwelt in it / and haue buylded the i

B Chancaury vnto thy name iherim / and sayd:

17 I fhere come any plague / sword / iudgement / pestilens: / or verth vpon vs: we will stand before thy house / euen before the / for thy name is in this house. And will cry vnto the in our trouble / and thou shalt heare / and shalt saue vs. Behold now / the chyldeyn of Amnon / of Moab / and they of mount Seir / vpon whom I thou woldst not suffice the chyldeyn of Egypt / but they were saynt to the lands of Egypt / but they were saynt to depart from the / and not to destroy them: a behold they beale contrary vnto vs / a count to shall vs out of the encheruemet / that thou hast geueu vs in possi: on our God / wile thou not iudge them: for in vs is no strength to withstand this greate multitude that cometh agaynst vs. We know not what we should do / but our eyes loke vnto the. And all Juda stode before the Lorde / wih they chyldeyn / wyfes and sonnes.

18 But vpon Iohasiel the sonne of Zacharias / the sonne of Benaiā / the sonne of Jehoi / the sonne of Mathania the kente of the chyldeyn of Iffaph / came the spere of the Lord in the myddes of the congregacion / and sayd: Woe beed all you Juda / and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem / a thou synge Iofaphat: Thus sayeth the Lorde vnto you: Be not ye afraid / nor feare ye this greate multitude: for it is not ye that fight / but God. To moou that ye go doune vnto the / that the rad see by the bial: And behalve they go up by Cis / and ye shal fynde the before the vnterence of Ieruel: for ye shal not fynde in this cause. Do ye but stepps forth / a stand / a fi the health of the Lord that is with you: feare not O Juda and Jerusalem / and be not afraid / to moue to go ye forth agaynst them / and the Lorde shall be with you.

Then Iofaphat bowed hymselfe with his face to the earth / and all Juda / and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell before the Lord / and were shoppid the Lorde. And the Leunes of the chyldeyn of the Sabathites / and of the chyldeyn of the Chancaury / loue to playe: the Lord God of Israel wih loue voyer on bye. And they are them vp early in the mornynge / and wente forth by the wyldernesse of Ekeba:

And when they were goynge out / Iofaphat stode / and sayd: Herth vnto me O Iudada / and ye indwellers of Ierusalem: Put your trust in the Lord your God / a ye shal be safe: and grai erdier vnto his prophets / and ye shall prosper. And he gaue counjoi vnto the people / and appointed the synge: on vnto the Lord / and then that gaui synge in the beweye of the holynes / to go before the harnessed men / and to saye: O gaue thankes vnto the Lord / for his mercye endureth for euer. And when they began to geue thanke / and pass / the Lorde caused the hinder wardes that was com agaynst Iuda / to come vpon the chyldeyn of Amnon / Moab / and they of mount Seir / and they smote the. Then stode the chyldeyn of Amnon and Moab agaynst them of mount Seir to damu them / and to destroy them. And when they had destroyed them of mount Seir / one helpe another to destroy them selfes also. And when Iuda came to Iffisa vnto the vnterence / they ruened the towards the multitudes / and beholds / the drab bodies laye vpon the earth / so that none was escaped.

And Iofaphat came with his people to deuyde the spoyle of them. And they founde amonge them so much goodes and iuyment: a peccious Ieruel / (which they take for them) that they coude not beare the. And the dayes were they deuydinge the spoyle / for it was so much. On the fourth daye came they together in the valley of blessing: for thece blessed they the Lord. Therefore is the place called the valley of blessing vnto this daye.

So eury man of Iuda and Ierusalem returned agayne / and Iofaphat bifore them / to go to Ierusalem with voye: for the Lorde had geuen them gladnesse on their ioyce. And they came in to Ierusalem with gladnesse and pompe: vnto the house of the Lorde. And there came a sure of God ouer all the kingdomes in the landes / when they herde that the Lord had fought agaynst the enemies of Israel. Thus was the Kingdome of Iofaphat in quietnes / a God gaue hym rest on eury syde.

And Iofaphat reigned ouer Iuda / and I was his sonne / and he was old 55 years old: he was 117 years old.

The. XXXI. Chapter.

And they of Jerusalem made Obosias his yongelle sonne kynge in his steade for the me of warre that came with the hoste of the Arabians / had slayne all the kynge / therefore raygned Obosias the sonne of Joram kynge of Juda. Two and forty yere olde was Obosias when he was made kynge / and raygned one yere at Jerusalem. His mothers name was Athalia daughter of Amn.
And he walked also in the wayes of the house of Achab: for his mother caused hym so that he was on godly. Therefore dyd he euell in the sight of the Lorde / euen as the house of Achab: for they were his counsaillers after his fathers deathe: to destroye him / and he walked after they counsaill.

And he went with Joram the sonne of Achab kynge of Israel to the battail vnto Ra-moth in Gilad / agaynst Hosai the kynge of Sira. But the Siraues smote Joram so that he turned backe to be healed at Isreal: for he had wounded that were given hym at Ra-moth when he fought with Hosai the kynge of Sira. And Ahasias the sonne of Jo-ram kynge of Juda wente doune to visite Jo-ram the sonne of Achab at Isreal / which laye sick: for it was ordeined of God vnto Obosias: that he shoulde come to Joram / and so to go forth with Joram agaynst Iehu the sonne of Nymfi / whom the Lorde had appointed to rote out the house of Achab.

Now when Iehu walde be auenged of the house of Achab / he founde certayne eunches of Juda / and the chyldren of Obosias be-which serued Obosias / and he slew them.
And he sought Obosias / and they ouer toke hym / when he had byd hym at Samaria: a he was broughte onto Iehu / which slew hym / and they buried hym: for they sayde: he is the sonne of Josaphat / which sought the Lorde with all his herte. And there was no man more of the house of Obosias that myght be kynge.

When Athalia the mother of Obosias sawe that her sonne was dead / she gat her vps and destroyed all the kynge's side in the house of Juda. But Zababeb the kynge's sister toke Iozab the sonne of Obosias and hald hym awaye from amonge the kynge's chyldren that were slayne / and put hym with his nook in a chamber. Thus Iozabach kynge Joram's daughtee the wyfe of Josada the prest byd hym from Athalia's chur he was moste layner for she was Obosias's sister. And he was byd with them in the house of God fyve yeres / so so much as Athalia was quene in the lande.

The. XXXII. Chapter.

When in the seuen yere was Josada bold: and toke the eulers our hidde: namely Ahasia the sonne of Jerobam / Amal the sonne of Iohanan / Asaria the sonne of Obed / Maaseu the sonne of Adaia / and Elisophar the sonne of Saphie with him / to conuerntaunt: they wente about in Juda / a disuyghed the Leuites together out of all the citty of Juda: in the chiefe fathers of Israel to come vnto Jerusalem. And all the congregation made a conuention with the kynge in the house of God / and he sayde vnto them: Beholde the kynge's sonne shall be kynge: euen as the Lorde spake / concerninge the chyldren of Dauid.

This is it therefore that ye shal do: The thyrde parte of you shal entre on Sabbath / shall be amonge the prestes and Leuites / which are doctores in the churche: and another thyrde parte in the kynge's house / and one thyrde parte at the foundamēt's pore. But all the people shall be in the courtes of the house of the Lorde: and that nonan go in to the house of the Lorde: excepte the prestes and Leuites that minister there: they shal go in: for they are holowd. And let all the people warte vnto the Lorde. And the Leuites shal get the vnto about the kynge: euery one with his weapen in his hand. And who so els goeth in to the house: let hym dye. And they shall with the kynge when he goeth out and in.

And the Leuites and al Juda dyd as Jo-sada the prest had commaunded: / and euery one toke his me the entred on the Sabbath / with those that wente on the Sabbath: for Josada the prest suffred not those two companies to parte asunder. And Josada the prest gaue the captiues our huntis speares and byldes: and King Dauid's weapens: which were in the house of God / after all the people enty one with his weapen in his hand: / from the ryght corner of the house / unto the left corner of the aultare / and to the houseward about the fynge. And they boughe forty fynge fyne / and set the crowne vpon his heub / and gaue D. u. v. s. d. hym the i. trynyng / a made hym fynge. And Joiada whis bysonnes anointed hym / and sayde: God saue the fynge.

¶ But when Athalia herde the noyse of the people that came together / and prayd fynge / she went forth to the people in to the house of the Lord / and Iosabab and deholthe / the fynge fynde in his place: at the inraunce / and the rulers and resperantes about the fynge: and all the people of the lande were glad / a blew the trumpets: there were fynge that could playe with all musycall instrumentes. But she rente her clothes / and sayd: Sedition / sedition. Neuer helde / Joiada fynge gat hym forty with the capcyans our hundada / a rulers of the hoost / and sayd vnto them: Whyge her foote betwene the walles / and whosoeuer followeth her shalbe slayne with the sword: for fynge had commaunded ha the shoulde not be slaine in the house of the Lord. And they layd han-den on her. And when she came at the inraunce of the house of the fynge house / they put her to death there.

¶ And Joiada made a conuenant betwene him and all the people / and the fynge / that they shoulde be the people of the Lord. The wite all the people in to the house of Baal / a destroyed it a blasfeme beung his aultares a ymagens / and stewe the Marbas pisse of Baal before the aultare.
And Joiada appointed fynge officers in fynge of the Lord amonge the pnyctes and Leui-tes / whom Dauid had ordeyned for fynge of the Lord / so offer burn sacrifices vnto the Lord: as it is written in the lawe of Moses / with ioye a songe made by Dauid. And the porters set he at the gates of house fynge of the Lord: that none shoulde entre whiche were desiled with any maner of thyng.

¶ And he toke the captaynes our hundada / and the myghty men and lordes of fynge / and all the people of the lande / a broughte the fynge oute from the house of the Lord: a broughte him thowen the byt poste of the fynge house / and caufed the fynge to lye vpon the scare rowall. And all the people of the lande were glad / a the cyne was at rest. But Athalia was slayne with the sword.

The. X. l. i. Chapter.

¶ Was twas four yere olde wha be was a made fynge / and ragged fourty yere at us Jerusalem. His mothers name was Zibca of Berseba. And Joas by that which was ryght in the fynge of the Lord: as long as Joiada the pnyct lured. And Joiada gaue him two wyfes / a he begat fynge a bounghter.
Afterward deuided Joas to rince fynge of the Lord / a gathered together fynge and Leuitee / a forde vnto the: Wo fynge vnto all the cyne of Iuda / a gather the money of all Israell / so repaue the house of your God yearly / and do it right fynge: but the Leuitee made no bail.

¶ Then the fynge called Joiada the pnyct / and said vnto him: Why Iosabab thou not vnto the Leuitee / that they bunge in from Iuda Jerusalem / the colleecon whiche Iosabab the seruaunt of the Lord appointed / to be gaue thored amonge Israel for the tabernacle of wytne: For that vngodly Athalia a her son-nes haue waysted the house of God: and all that was halowed for the house of the Lord / haue they destroyed on Baalim.

¶ Then commaunded fynge to make a chest to set it without at the inraunce of the house of the Lord: and caufed it to be pnyct in Iuda a Ierusalem / that they shoulde bunge in to the Lord: the colleecon whiche Iosabab the seruaunt of God appointed vnto Israel in the wythernesse. Then were all fynge and so were all the people / and broughte / and cast in to the chest: the money was full.

¶ And when the tyme was that the Leuitee shoulde bunge the: he set at the fynge commaun-dement / when they sawe fynge there was muche money spent: when came the fynge / fynge / and he that was appointed of the cheif pnyct a emptied the chest / and carryd it agamente his place. Thus byd they eury day / so that they gathered much money to gether. And the fynge and Joiada gaue it vnto the wite masters of the house of the Lord: and they byed mansons a capcyans to repaue the house of the Lord / and men that coulde worke in syon a bail: so repaue the house of the Lord.

¶ And the labourers wereought / so that the repayng in the worke were fynge: the they bands/ and they set the house of God in his beauty/ said made it stronge. And when they had performed this/ they broughte the residue of the money before the king and Joabab/ whereof there were made vessels for the house of the Lord/ vessels for the ministracion and burningsyringe/ sponges and ornaments of gold and silver. And they offered burningsyringes alway in the house of the Lord/ as long as Joabab liued.

And Joabab waied olde/ and had lyued longe ynough/ and dyed/ and was an hūdr̄th and thrytye yere olde when he dyed/ and they buried him in the cym̄ of Dauid/ amonge the kynge/ because he had done good vnto Israell/ and towarde God and his house. And after the death of Joabab/ came the ruler̄m̄ Juba/ and was shipped the kinge.

Then came the kinge vnto the. And they forsake the house of the Lord/ God of theyr fathers/ and serued the greuous and ymaginacions. There came the wrath of the Lord/ vpon Juba and Jerusalem/ because of this trespass of theye. Yet sent he prophetes vnto them/ that they shouldt returne vnto the Lord/ as they resplūded vnto them/ but they wold not heare.

And the spirit of God/ came vnto Jada/ the sonne of Joda the prest/ which spake vnto the people/ as sayd vnto the. Thus sayeth God/ Wherefore do ye transgress the commandments of the Lord/ which shall not be to your prosperite/ for ye haue forsaken the Lord/ therefore shall ye forsake you. Nevertheless they despised a gainst him/ as stoned him at Jerusaleme/ in the court of the house of the Lord. And Josa the kynge/ thought not on the mercy that Joabab his father had done for him/ but slew his sonne. Moreover standing/ when he dyed/ he said/ The Lord shall loke vpon/ and requere it.

And when the yere was gone about/ the power of the Syrians/ came out/ and came to Juba and Jerusalem/ and destroyed the rulers of the people/ and sent alib. spayles of the vnto the kinge at Damascus. For the power of the Syrians came but with a fewe yeres/ yea/ because they had forsaken the Lord/ God of theyr fathers. They executed iudgement also vpon Josa. And when they departed from him/ they left him in great sickness.

¶ Ueruerhelos / his seruantes conspyred agaynst him/ because of the bloude of the children of Joabab the prest/ and slew him vpon his bed/ and he dyed/ and they buried him in the cym̄ of Dauid/ but not amonge the sepulchres of the kynge. They that conspyred agaynst him/ were these/ Sabad the sonne of Simeath the Ammonitise/ and Josabab the sonne of Simeath the Moabitise. So for his sinne/ a the sunne that was gaured vnder him/ a the building of the house of God/ beholde/ they are written in the booke of the kynge. And Amasias his sonne was kinge in his steade.

The. XXV. Chapter.

¶ The. XXV. and twenty year olde was Amasias the. When he was made kinge/ and begannd. In the. xij. and twenty yere at Jerusalem. His moother his name was Joda of Jerusalem. And he dyed/ which was right in the sight of the Lord/ but not with a whole heart. Now when his kynngd was in strength/ he slew his seruantes which had slayned the kynge his father. But theye children slew heron/ for so it was written in the booke of the law of Moyses/ Where the Lord/ commaunde the land sayeth/ The fathers shall not dye for the children/ any the/ that the children dye for the fathers/ but euery one shall dye for his owne synne.

And Amasias bought Juba to gether/ and set them after the fathers houses/ after the cōlours euerthousand his a ouer hundred and age at Juba and Ber Janan/ and milled the first twenty yere olde a above/ and founde of the the hundred thousand chosen me/ which were able to go forth to the warre/ and carry speeres and thyldes. And one of Israel appointed he an hundred thousand stronge me of warre/ for an hundred talents of silver.

But there came a man of God vnto him/ and sayd/ O kynge/ Let not the booke of Israel come with thee/ for the Lord is not with Israel/ any the/ with al the children of Ephraim. For thou commest to the rety thy boldnes in the battayl/ God shall make the to fall before thym enemyes. For God hath power to helpe/ as to cause for to fall. Amasias sayd vnto the me of God/ What shall I do/ then with the hundred talents that I haue geuen the.

founders of Israel: The man of God sayde: The Lord hath yett more the thio to geue y. So Amasias separated out the men of warre/ which were conia to hym out of Ephraim/ that they shoulde departe vnto theyr place. The war. d theye wroth verye whore agaynst Iuda/ as theye were agayne vnto theyr place in wordfull suspicall. And Amasias strengthened himselfe / and carryed out his people / a wente forth into the salt valley / and smote ten thousande of the children of Ser.

And the children of Iuda take ten thousande of the ayne/ whome they brought vp to the toppo of a mountayne/ and cast the doune headlye downe from the toppo of the mount / so that theye all to burs in sunders. But the children of the men of warre / whome Amasias had sent awaye agayne/ that they shoulde not go to the battayl with his people. fell in to the eyes of Iuda / from Samaria vnto Beth-Horon / and smote the thousande men / and toke muche spoyle.

And when Amasias came againe from the slaughter of the Edomites / he broughte the goddes of children of Ser / a made them his goddes / a worshipped before them / and burnt in euill vnto them. The war. d was the Lord verye wroth at Amasias / and sent vnto him a prophete / which saide vnto hym: Why sekest thou the goddes of the people / which coulde not deuyce thee: for theye are thy hande. And when he talked with him / the singe said vnto him: Heare theye made the of the singe counsaill: Ceasse / why wilt thou be smite: Then the prophete ceased a sycle: I ptecaue that the Lord is minded to destroye the / because thou hast done this / and her finest not vnto my counsaill.

And Amasias the s King of Iuda toke cotfall / a sent vnto Joas the sonne of Iosabab the s King of Iehu King of Israel / saying: Come / let vs see one another. But Joas the s King of Israel sent vnto Amasias the King of Iuda / saying: The s barbanus in Libanus sent vnto the s Leuee in Libanus / saying: Ceut thy doghter vnto my sonne in wyfe. But a wyfde deaft in Libanus is not ouer the barhome / a rode it doune. Thou thynekest: Beholde / I haue smyren the Edomites / the force is thine beca p:oude to doall. Now byde at home: why shyt wylt thou after my sonne: / that thou mayest fall and Iuda with the.

Nevertheless Amasias consented not: for so was a broughte in passe of God / the s bye myghte be ginen in to the hande of the enemye / because theye fought the goddes of the Edomites. Then wente Joas the s King of Israel / and theye sawe one another / be a Amasias the King of Iuda / the s King of Israel / which layth in Iuda. But Iuda was smyren in by the s Israel / and theye fled euery one vnto his tent.

And Joas the s King of Israel toke Amasias the s King of Iuda / the sonne of Joas the sonne of Iosabab / at Beth-Semes / a broughte him to Ierusalem / and brake doune the wall of Ierusalem / from the porte of Ephraim vnto the rotter porte / euen foure hundred cubites longe / and toke with him all the golde / and siluer / and all the ornamentes that were soude in the house of God with Obed-Edom / and in the treasure in the s Kinges house / and the dystow to pledge vnto Samaria. And Amasias the sonne of Joas the s King of Iuda / layd after the death of Joas the sonne of Iosabab the s King of Israel sycene yeare.

What more there is to saye of Amasias / (both the first and last) beholde it is written in the booke of the s Kinges of Iuda and Israel. And from the sycene forth that Amasias departed from the Lord / theye cospied agaynst him at Ierusalem. But he fled into Lada. Then sent theye after him into Lada / and slawe hym there. And theye broughte him vpon hoyses / and buried him beside his father in the cyne of Iuda.

The. XXVI. Chapter.

Then t all the people of Iuda toke Osias / a was / which was sycene yeare olde / and I. n. made him King in stead of his father Amasias. Hee buried the s King / a broughte it agayne vnto Iuda / after that the s Kinge was fall in slepe with his father. The sycene yeare olde that was Osias / that he was made King / a reigned two and fifty yeare at Ierusalem. His mothers name was Isdalia of Ierusalem. And he dyd right in the sight of the Lord / as his father Amasias had done / and soughte God all the daye long. A Zacharias the s King / which layth in the visions of God: and as long as he soughte the Lord / God made him to prosper.

Soche wente forth / and soughte agaynst the Philistines /

Philiſtines / a blaſe doune / & waller of Gath / and the waller of Jabne / & the waller of Aſdod / and buſtyd cytes aboue Aſdod / and amonge the Philiſtines. For God helped hym agaynſt the Philiſtines / agaynſt the Arabiſ / agaynſt them of Gur Baal / and agaynſt the Ammonites. And the Ammonites gaue Oſias preſent / and his name came into Egypte for he was creadyng ſtronge. And Oſias buſtyd towres at Jeruſalem upon the corner ſtuer / and on the valley gate / and on other corners / & made them ſtronge. He buſtyd caſtles alſo in the wylderneſſe / & dryged many weller / for he had many cartel / both in the medowes and in the plance / houſbandmen alſo and wynegardener on the mountaine and on Carmel / for he deuyd in houſbandrye.

B And Oſias had an hoſt of men of warre gyngynge forth to the battail / which were numbred on the bande of Jere / the ſeybe and of Uſaia the officer / vnder the bande of Baanania the ſinger. And the numbere of the cheefe father / amonge the ſtronge men of warre / was two thouſande a ſyre hundreth. And vnder the hede of the hoſt the hūdrith / ſhouſande / and ſyren thouſand and ſyue hundreth men for the barnayll / in the ſtrength of an army / to helpe the kyng agaynſt the enemyes. And Oſias prepared for al the hoſt / ſhildes / ſpeares / helmettes / buſtillates / bowes / and ſtryngſtones. And at Jeruſalem he made iudiciouſe connyngly / to be upon the towres and in the pynnacles to ſhute arrowes and great ſtones. And the fame of hym come ſure abroade / becauſe he was ſpecially helpd / ſyll he became myſtrye.

C And when his power was great / his heart aroſe to his owne deſtruction / for he reſpaſſed agaynſt the Lord his God / and wente in to the temple of the Lord / to burne incenſe vpon the altare of incenſe. But Jariaſ / & preſt wite after hym / a ſoure cheefe priuiler of the Lord wryth hym / & caugeth me / a wylfulde kyng Oſias / a ſeruo vnto him : J beſegeth not vnto thine officer Oſias / to burne incenſe vnto the Lord / but vnto the priuiler beſtydeth / & caugeth vnto the buylten of Baron / which are halowd in to burne incenſe. Go forth out of the ſecondary / for thou eſt iudell / and it ſhalbe no worſhippe vnto thy before God the Lord.

And Oſias was wylful / and had a cenſure in his hede. And whyle he curmuried with the priuiler / the lepouſe ſprung out of his foule head in the preſence of the priuiler / in the houſe of the Lord before the altar of incenſe. And Baron the cheefe priuiler turned his hede towards hym / alſo did all the priuiler / & behold / he was lepore in his forehead. And they punyſhed hym out from thence. Yet he made haſt hym ſelfe to go forth / for his plague came from the Lord. Thus became Oſias the kyng a lepore vnto his hede / and dreid full of lepouſe in a ſtre houſe / for he was pur out of the houſe of the Lord. But Joram his ſonne had the ouerſyght of the kynges houſe / & iudged the people in the lande.

What more there is to ſay of Oſias / beſt ſyff and laſt / Let the ſonne of Amos bath wrytten. And Oſias fell on the wyll / his father / & they buryed hym with his father in the pece of groude beſyde the kynges ſpyll chure / for they ſayd / he iſleperous. And Joram his ſonne was ſyng in his ſteade.

The XXVII. Chapter.

Sothane I was ſyue a twenty yere olde / & urban he was made kyng / and raygned 14. re. 8 ſyrene yere at Jeruſale. His mothers name was Jeruſa the daughter of Sadac / and he dyd myſtrye in the ſyſtyle of the Lord / as dyd Oſias his father / ſaying that he went nor in to the temple of the Lord / and the people yet neared them ſelfe. He buylde the byc port of the houſe of the Lord / and on the wyll of Ophell buylde he much / & buylde the cytes vpon the mountaine of Iuda / and the towres buylde he heuſide and towres.

And he fought with the kyng of the dylde / of Ammon / and ouercome them / ſo that the dylten of Ammon gaue hym the ſame yere an hundred ſyrennes of ſhyler / ten thouſande quarters of wheate / and ten thouſende of barley. So much dyd the dylten of Ammon gaue hym alſo in the ſecond a thyrde yere. Thus became Jotham myſtrye / for he gydd his waye before the Lord his God.

What more there is to ſaye of Jotha / a all his wayes / and his way / beholde / is wrytten in the booke of the kynges of Iſraell / Jotha ſyue a twentye yere olde / was he wrytten he was made kyng / and raygned 11. yere at Jerusalem. And Jerham fell on slepe with his fathers/ and they buried him in the cyme of Saida/ and Achas his soune was kinge in hys steade.

The XXVIII. Chapter.

Affter that was twenty yere elde when he was made kyng/ a raygedd sycne yare at Jerusalem/ said dyd not that which was sayd in the syble of the Lozde/ as dyd Dauid his fecher/ but walked in the wayes of the kynges of Israel/ and made molten ymagez vnto Baalim/ and burnt incense in the valley of the chyldren of Bennad/ & a burnt his owne sonnes in the fyre after the abhominacion of the Hevethim/ reborned the Lozde expelled be fore the chyldren of Israel. And he dyd sacrifice/ and burnt incense upon the hys places/ upon the hilles/ and amonge all grece treecy.

Therfore dyd the Lozde his God deliue hym in to the hande of the kyng of Syria/ so that they smote hym/ and carryed aways a great multitude of his men prysoners/ and brought them to Damaſcon. He was gaine also vnder the bande of the kyng of Israel/ so that he dyd great slaughter vpon hym. For Peacah the sonne of Romiah smote in Iuda all hundredth a twenty thousande in one daye/ (which all were valiant men) euen because they had forsake the Lozde God of theyr fathers. And Sida a myghty man of Labiam floure/ Misia the kynges sonne/ and Afram the prince of the house/ and Elkana the next vnto the kyng. And the chyldre of Israel carryed of theyr bechian prysoners two hundred thousande women/ sonnes/ and daughters/ a toke a great spoyle from them/ and brought the spoyle vnto Samaria.

But euen there was there a prophete of the Lozde/ whose name was Obed/ which went out to meet the hostis that came to Samaria/ a safe vnto them. Behold/ because the Lozde God of your fathers is with at Iuda/ therefore hath he greuen them ouer in to your hands: but ye haue slayne them so abhominably/ that it is come vnto heauen. Nowe thinke ye to siddur the chyldren of Iuda and Jerusalem/ to be deliuered and bond mercies vnto you. In not this a respasse/ then why ye agaynst the Lozde your God: Forken now vnto me/ and sende the prysoners home agayne/ whom ye haue carryed away from your bechian: for the wrath of the Lozde is steeke ouer you.

Then gat vp certain of the chiefe of chylidren of Ephraim/ Shama the sonne of Jobanan/ Baruchas the sonne of Melissanorh/ Ezechias the sonne of Gallu/ and Amasa the sonne of Hadad/ agaynst the that came from Syria/ and said vnto them: Ye shall not bringe the prysoners in hether/ for youre myghte but to make vs to wepasse bysore the Lozde/ to make our synnes and offences grauer: for the respasse to much already/ and the wrath is steeke ouer Israel. So the hostis left prysoners/ and the spoyle before thurkers/ and before the whole congregation.

Then stode vp Jemai/ which now were receard by name/ and toke the prysoners/ and as many as were steeke and they them/ eloud they be the hostes/ a dected them/ a put liues vpon theyr heas/ and gaue the to care a diuice/ and anepnted the/ and carryed the vpon asses/ Cas many as were feble/ and brought them to Jericho to the Palme tree/ vnto theyr brethren/ a came again to Samaria. In the same yere sent kyng Achas vnto the kyng of Assyria/ that they shoulde helpe hym. And the Edommen came agayne/ and smote Iuda/ and carryed some waye captiue. The Philistines also fel in to the cines in the plaine/ and toward the South parte of Iuda/ and wanne Beth Echem/ Anolon/ Getheroth/ and Sedo with the villages therof/ Emma with villages therof/ a Gimsa with villages therof/ a dwelt them. For the Lozde subdued Iuda for Achas sake the kyng of Iuda/ because he made Iuda naked/ and rebelled agaynst the Lozde. And Eglathphalasser the kyng of Assur came agaynst him/ and besieged him/ a he was not myghty ynough for him.

For Achas spoyled the house of Lozde/ and the kynges house/ and of the rulers/ & to gaur vnto the kyng of Assur/ but he helped him not. Moreover kyng Achas respassed yet more agaynst the Lozde/ men in his trouble/ a dyd sacrifice vnto the goddesses of them of Samaria/ which had synnen hym/ a said: The goddesses of the kynges of Syria helpe the/ therefore will I offre vnto them/ that they may helpe me also/ when as the same yet were a fall vnto hym/ and to all Israel.

And Ihas gathered the vessels of his house of God together/and brake the vessels in the house of God/and thus the voices of his house of the Lord/and made him altars in all corners at Jerusalem/and euery where in the cytie of Iuda made he byc places to burn incense vnto other goddes/ & couel'd the Lord God of his father vnto wrath.

What more there is to say of him and of al his wayes/ both first and last/ beholde vnto myn in the booke of the kynge of Iuda a Iffra/ And Ihas fell on slepe with his fathers/ and they buried him in the cytie of Jerusalem: for they thought him not amonge the sepulchres of the kynge of Israel/ And Ihas had his soure was Iing in his seede.

The. XLX Chapter.

Iffthias was yere and twenty yere old when he was made kynge/ and reigned yere and twenty yeres at Jerusalem. His mothers name was Abia the daughter of Iechanic And he did such which was right in the sight of the Lord/ as his father Dauid.

He opened the doores of his house of the Lord in the first month of the first yere of his reigne/ & made the stonnes/ and brought in the pillars/ & the altars/ and gathered them together vnto the East street/ and said vnto them: Heken vnto my Iewes/ sanctifie your selves now/ for ye may halowe the house of the Lord God of your fathers/ and purifye vnto me out of the Sanctuary: for our fathers haue negligently done that which was euil in the sight of the Lord our God/ & a heauy fallen him. For they wanted they facis from the habitation of the Lord our God/ & turned theyr faces on us/ but the voices of the pacif/ and put out the lampes/ & burne no incense/ and offered no burnt offerings in the Sanctuary vnto the God of Israel.

Therefore is the wrath of the Lord come ouer Iuda and Jerusalem/ and he hath geuen them ouer to the scattered abroade/ & desolate a them byssed at/ as ye se with your eyes. For beholde/ euen for the same cause shal our fathers be borne the swaike/ our soumes/ & our daughters/ and wyces were carried away captyue. Now am I comyd to make a sonne maunt with the Lord God of Israel/ that he maye mene a weye from vnto his wrath and indignacion.

Now my sonnes/ be not ye in gyltenter: for I haue purged you to stande before him/ and to be his ministers/ and to burne incense vnto him.

Then cote the Levites: Nabath the sonne of Amasai/ and Iud the sonne of Afaris the chylden of the Babababites. Of the chylden of Merari: Cis the sonne of Abdi/ and Afana the sonne of Zebadai. Of the chylden of the Gersonnes: Ioad the sonne of Summa/ and Eden the sonne of Joab. And of the chylden of Elizaphan: Sunni and Iud. And of the chylden of Issachar: Zachary and Maithania. And of the chylden of Ezerai: Iehoi and Suma. And of the chylden of Jedihun: Sema and Vich.

And they gathered theyr brethren together/ and were sanctified/ and were in accordyng to the kynge/ and communicant the worde of the Lord/ to cleanse the house of the Lord/ and the pacif/ entered vnto in the house of the Lord/ to purifye/ and put out all the vncleannes that was founde in the temple of the Lord/ in the court of the Lordes house/ and the Levites toke it vp/ and carryed it out into the field Cedon. The first daye of the first month became this to sanctifie them selfe/ and on the eighth daye of the month went they vnto the porch of the Lord/ and halowed the house of the Lord/ & theyr voices/ and finished it on the thirteenth daye of the first month.

And they were in to the kynge Iechias a said: We haue cleansed the house of the Lord/ the altare of burnt offerings/ and all his vessels/ the table of the shewbread/ & al the apparell thereof/ and al the ornaments that Iing Ihas cast awaye when he was kynge/ what tyme so he transgressed/ that haue we prepared and halowed. Behold/ they are before the altare of the Lord.

Then the kynge Iechias gat him vp early/ and gathered together the Elders of the cytie/ & went vnto the house of the Lord/ and they brought seven bullocks/ & seven rammes/ & seven lambes/ and seuen he goates/ to be the framed offeringe/ for the Sanctuary/ & for Iuda. And he spake vnto the pacif/ the chylden of Ieron/ that they shoulde offre vpon the altare of the Lord.

So they slewe the bullockes / and the puffed roke the bloude / and spencled it vpon the altare: and slewe the rammes / and spen led the bloude vpon the altare: and slewe the lambes / and spencled the bloude vpon the altare: And the goates to the offeringes / brought they before the hynde and the core gregation / and layed theyr handes vpon the / and the puffed slewe them / and spencled theyr bloude vpon the altare to make amon ment for all Israel: for the hynde commaun ded to offer burnt sacrifices & hyndes for all Israel.

E And he set the Leuites in the house of the Lo: & with cymbales / psalteries and harpes / As David had commaunded / and Gad the hynde Boyer / and the prophet Isaihan: for was his commaundement of the Lo: by his prophete. And the Leuites sode with the musical instrumentes of David / and the puf fed with the trompettes. And Ezechias com maunded them to offer burnt sacrifices vpon the altare. And about the tyme that the burnt sacrifice beganne to be offered / the song of the Lo:de beganne also / and the trom pettes / and diverse instrumentes of sound the hynde of Israel / and all the congrega cion gaue prayse and thanke. And the song of the Musicians / and the blowing of the trompettes / ended all till the burnt offe ryng was finished.

Now when the burnt offering was per formed the hynde and all they that were by hym bowed theiir selves / and gaue prayse and thanke. And Ezechias the hynde with the rulers commaunded the Leuites to gaue the Lo:de with the songes of sound and Is saihan the Boy. And they gaue prayse till they were ioyfull / and they bowed them selves / and worshipped.

I And Ezechias answered and sayd: Now haue ye filled youre handes vnto the Lo: / slope for ye / and bringe further the sacrifices and thank offeringes / vnto the house of the Lo:de. And the congregation thought sa crifices and thank offeringes / and euery ma of a fre willinge hart brought burnt offer ings. And the number of the burnt offer ings that the congregation thought was the foote bullockes and seuen hundred rammes and two hundred lambes / and all these for the burnt offeringe vnto the Lo:de / and they sawnt six hundred bullockes / and the thousand shepe.

But the puffed were few / and could not please of the synners of all the burnt offe rynges / therefore toke they theyr portion the Leuites / till the worke was finished / yll the puffed were halowed / for the Leuites are easier to be halowed the the puffed / many of the burnt offeringes were with the fat of thank offeringes and burnt offeringes to the burnt sacrifice. Ehuo was the ministracion of the house of the Lo:de prepared. And E zechias reioyced with all the people / that they were prepared with God: for it was done righte hartily.

The XXX. Chapter.

And Ezechias sent into all Israel and Ju da / and wrote letters vnto Iehoiham / and Manasse / that they shoulde come to the house of the Lo:de at Jerusalem / to kepe Pas ster vnto the Lo:de God of Israel. And the hynde helde a counsaill with his rulers / and all the congregacion at Jerusalem / for to kepe Passouer in the seconde moneth: for as that tyme they could not kepe / because the puf fed were not sanctified ynough / and the peo ple were not yet come together at Jerusalem.
And it pleased the hynde well / and all the con gregacion / and they appointed it to be pro claymed thosoreuocall Ihesaill from Ber sabee vnto An / that they shoulde come to kepe Passouer vnto the Lo:de God of Israel: for they were not many that kepe it as it is written.

And the puffed wrote with the letters for the hande of the king and his rulers / to out all Israel and Juda / at the kinges com maundement / and sayde: Ye children of Ihesa ell / ouer you vnto the Lo:de God of Ier salem / Isaac and Jacob / and he hal tourned the / which are left ouer a monge you from the hande of the hynde of Iherusalem: and be not ye as youre fathers and brethren / which rebelled against the Lo:de God of Iherusalem: there / and he gaue them our into desolation as ye see youre selves. Be not ye hardhearted narrowe hearts / as youre fathers / but offer youre hande vnto the Lo:de / and come to the San ctuarie /

serue / whiche he hath sanctified for cuer / as saith the Lorde your God / and so shall the indignation of his wrath turne a waye from you. For if ye mine vnto the Lorde / he shall proue them and children. haue mercy on the sight of them / which holde them in captiuitie / that they may come agayne vnto this lande: for the Lorde your God is gracious and merciful / and shall not turne away his face from you / if ye conuert vnto him.

¶ And the postes were from one cytye to another / in the lande of Ephraim and Mnasse / vnto Sabulon. But they mocked them and laughed them to scorne. Yet were there some of Isser and Manasse / and of Sa-bulon / that submitted them selves / and came to Jerusalem. And the hande of God came into Iuda / so that he gaue them as one beere to vs after the commaundement of the kyng and the rulers / at the word of the Lorde.
And there came together vnto Jerusalem a greate people to kepe the feast of vnleueded bread / in the seconde moneth / a very greate congregation.

¶ And they gat them vp / and put daime the pauises that were at Jerusalem / and all the inocent put they away / and certifiu to strike Cedar / and stowe / Passouer on the fourth daye of the seconde moneth. And the prestes and the Leuites were absent / and halowed them selves / and broughte the burnsoffering to the house of the Lorde / and stode in theyr ordinarie / as it was ordeyned / after the lawe of Moyses the man of God. And the prestes spiculed the bloude frome the hande of the Leuites: for there were many in the congregation / whiche were not sanctified / therefore had the Leuites byll Passouer for them whiche were not clerfed / that they myght be sanctified vnto the Lorde.

¶ There were many people also of Ephraim / Mnasse / Issachar and Sabulon / whiche were not cleare / but theyd eate the Paske labe / nor as it is wyrtyn / for Eschias prayed for them / and sayd: The Lorde / which is gracious / shall be merciful vnto all them that pro-pate their betes vnto God / to kepe the Lorde God of theyr fathers / though they be not clefed after the holie purification. And the Lorde heerd Eschias / and heald the people. Thus the children of Israel that were founde at Jerusalem / kepe the feast of vnle-ueded bread seuen dayes with greake ioye.

And the Leuites and prestes played the Lorde euery daye: with the loud instruments of the Lorde. And Eschias spake hereto: vnto all the Leuites / which had god vs vnderstandyng in the Lorde / and they theyd eate the feast seuen dayes / and offered thankes offerynges / and gaue thanke vnto the Lorde God of theyr fathers.

¶ And all the congregation desired to kepe the feast per other seuen dayes / and so they helde it sothe seuen dayes also with ioye: For Eschias the kyng of Iuda gaue an heauy offeryng for the congregation / euen a thousande bullockes / and seuen thousand shepe.
But the rulers gaue an heauy offeringe for the congregation: euen a thousand bullockes / and ten thousand shepe. And many of the prestes sanctified them selves.

¶ And the wholie congregation of Iuda reioyced / the prestes and Leuites / and all the congregation came out of Israel: and the strangers that were come out of the lande of Israel / and they that dwelt in Iuda / and greake ioye was there at Jerusalem: for since the tyme of Salomon the sonne of Dauid the kyng of Israel / was there no such ioye at Jerusalem. And the prestes and Leuites stode vp and blessed the people / and they were with and theyr prayer came vnto his holy habita-cion in heauen.

The XXXI. Chapter.

¶ And when all this was finished / all the strangers that were founde in the cytye of Iuda / wente out / and brake the pylles / and burned daime the groues / and brake daime the bre places and altaires out of all Iuda / Ben Jamin / Ephraim and Mnasse / all they had destroyed them. And all the children of Israel wente agayne euery one to his possescion vnto theyr cytes.

¶ But Eschias for the prestes and Leuites in theyr ordinarie / euery one after his office / both the prestes and Leuites / for the burnsoffering and thanksoffering / to marshall to geue thankes and praise in the gate of the house of the Lorde. And the kyng gaue his portion of his substance for the burn-

burntofferinges in the morninge and eveninge/for the burnt offeringe as of the Sabbath/and of the new Moone/and of the feastes/As it is written in the law of the Lo:de.

And he spake vnto the people whiche dwelt at Jerusalem/that they shoulde geue portions vnto the priestes and Leuites/that they myghte the more stedfastly endure in the lawe of the Lo:de. And when the worde came forth/ the children of Israel gaue many fiftie thousand of come/wayne/oyle/pease/and all maner increase of the fildes/and broughte in much of all maner tythes. And the children of Israel and Iuda/whiche dwelt in the cryste of Iuda/through the tythes also of the cryste/and tythes of such thynges as were sanctified/ whiche they had halowed vnto the Lo:de theye God/and made here an heape/ and there an heape. In the cryste howe theye became theye laye vpon heapes/and in the fildes theye theye fynes.

And when Ezechias with the rulers were in/and sawe the heapes/ theye praised the Lo:de/and his people of Israel. And Ezechias coud the priestes and Leuites/ conteinynge the heapes. And Asa the prieste the chief in the house of Sadoe/sayde vnto him: Hence the tythe that theye beganne to bringe the heauyfferinges into the house of the Lo:de/we haue eare/and are sanctified/ and yet is there left ouer for the Lo:de hath blessed his people/ therefore is this heape left ouer. He commaunded the king/that theye should prepare chesles in the house of the Lo:de. And theye prepared them/and put in the heauyfferinges/a tythe/and that which was halowed sayefully.

And the onelys of the same had Chanania the Leuite/and Simeon his brother the scribe/and Ihiell/Asaia/Agathar/Asahel/Jerimoth/Isaiab/Elud/Jesmahai/Naath and Benai/whiche of the hande of Chanania a Simeon his brother/according to the commaundment of kynge Ezechias. But Asa was pyner in the house of God. And Coie the sonne of Semai the Leuite/the porter of the hall/gate was ouer the frowlyng gyttes of God/whiche was goun for heauyfferinge a vnto the Lo:de/and ouer the most holy. And vnder his hande were Iehon/Miniamin/Isaiu/Semai/Zimara and Sacharia in the cryste of the priestes upon euerye/that they shoulde geue vnto the priestes/according to theye courses/ to the least as to the greatest.

And vnto them that were counted for an children from the yere olde and aboute/ as amonge all them that were into the house of the Lo:de/ euery one vpon his dutye to haue a ffice in theye attendances after theye courses. And they that were referred for priestes in the house of theye father/and the Leuites from twentye yeres and aboue/in theye an endancece after theye courses. And they that were referred amonge theye children/ whole/sonnes/and daughteres amonge the whole congregation/ for that which was halowed/ sanctified theye vpon euerye/need. There were men also named by name amonge Iuda children the priestes/upon the tables of the furdres in all the cryste/that they shoulde geue portions vnto all the men children amonge the priestes/and to all them that were numbered amonge the Leuites.

Thus vnd Ezechias in all Iuda/ and vnd that which was good/ tythe and true in the fygge of the Lo:de his God. And in all the business that he toke in hande/concerning the frowce of the house of God/according to the lawe and commaundement/ to see his God/that did he with all his heare/and these fore prospered he well.

The XXXII. Chapter.

After these actes and faythfulness came Achas/whiche was the sonne of Iosias/ and came into Iuda/a synned before the frowce cryste/and sought to plucke them vnto him. And when Ezechias sawe that Semai/whiche came/and that his face shode fygge as garyst Jerusalem/ he deuyed with his rulers and myghte men/ to couer the water of the welles that were without the cite/ a theye helped him: and there gathered to gether a great people/and couered all the welles and water brokes in the myddis of the lende/ and sayd: Let the fygge of Achas fynd much water whan theye come. And hee made a couerage vnto hym/ and builded all the welles wher theye were in decaye/ and made to vnto
e. i. i. n.

the con/ond builded yett on othe/ wal without/ a strengthe/ Millio in fyne of Sauid. And natu/ must ordinaunce/ and byldes/ and sit captiues/ of warre ouer the people.

B And gathered them vnto him vpon the broadste/ by the gate of the ryne/ a spake heertly vnto them/ and sayde. Be stronge and bolde/ feare not/ and be not afrayed for the kynge of Assur/ nor all the multitude that is with hym/ for ther is no greater wyth vs then with hym. With him is o the/ fyne/ at me/ for with vs is the Lord oure God to helpe vs/ and to fight for vs. And the people truste vnto the wordes of Hecchias kynge of Iuda.

1319 Afterwoche sent Sennacherib the kynge of Assur his seruantes vnto Ierusalem (so he lere before Hecchias/ and all his hooll with hym) to Hecchias the kynge of Iuda/ and so all Iuda that was at Ierusalem/ saying. Thus sayth Sennacherib the kynge of Assur. Wherein put ye your truste/ the/ dyed in the sicged Ierusalem/ Hecchias beroueth you/ that he maye deliuer you vnto wech/ hunger and thyll/ and sayeth. The Lord oure God shal deliuer vs from the bande of the kynge of Assur. Soit not Hecchias/ that hath put a waye by his place/ and outlores/ and sayde vnto Iuda and Ierusalem. Before one outlare shal ye worthepp/ and thirre in/ nec therout.

C And he saye not whot I and my fathers haue done to all the people in the landes. Haue the goddes of the Herythen in the landes bene able to deliuer theyr contries/ from my hande/ What is he conge all the goddes of these Herythen/ whome my father damned/ that was able to deliuer his people from my hande/ that your God should be able to deliuer you from my hande. Therefore let not Hecchias now deceaue you/ and let him not perswade you any such thyng/ and deliue hym not. For if no god of all the Herythen and kyngdomes myght deliuer his people from my hande/ and from the bande of my piogeniours/ the shall not your goddes be able to deliuer you from my hande.

His seruantes also spake yett more agoinst the Lord God/ and against his seruante Hecchias. And he went o leine to blasphem the Lord God of Israel/ and spake of hym/and sayde. Lyke as the goddes of the Herythe in their landes haue not bene able to deliuer theyr people/ so my hande/ can so shall not the God of Hecchias deliuer his people from my hande.

And they cryed with loude voyce in the Ierusalem language vnto the people of Ierusalem that were vpon the wall/ to make them fearful/ as to be sayn the reb/ that they myght wyne the crite. And they spak agaynst the God of Ierusalem/ as agaynst the goddes of the nations vpon earth/ which were but the workes of mens handes.

But contrary wys/ the kynge Hecchias a the prophete Hecchias the sonne of Amos priest and cryed vnto heauen. And the Lord first an angel/ whiche destroyed all the myghty men of the host/ and the piynce/ and ruler in the reioce of the kynge of Assur/ so that he departed agayne with shame vnto his owne land. And when he wene into his goddes house/ theyr that came of his owne bodie/ saw him there with the sword. And the Lord helpe Hecchias/ and them of Ierusalem/ out of the bande of Sennacherib the kynge of Assur/ and of al other/ and maynteyne the from all on enery syde/ so that moys broughte presentes onto the Lord to Ierusalem/ and Jewels vnto Hecchias the kynge of Iuda. And afterwarde was he exalted in the sight of all Herythen.

At the same tyme was Hecchias dead sicke/ and he prayd onto the Lord whiche made him piene/ and gaue him o wonder tofen. But Hecchias reconperned not/ accubing/ as was giuen vnto hym/ for his bere was liste ad/ therefore came the wyth vpon hym/ and vpon Iuda and Ierusalem. There he lere/ Hecchias humbled hym selfe. Because his bere had bene exalted with them at Ierusalem/ therefore came not the wyth of the Lord vpon them/ whiche Hecchias spak.

And Hecchias had verry grea/ ryches and wothippe/ and made him reatifices of syluer/ golde/ pieneous stones/ spycous/ bylden/ and al maner costly vessell/ and counte hauses for the increare of coine/ wyne a oyle/ and stalle for all maner canell/ and soldes for the theppes/ and builded him ciues/ and had many canell of shepe a oxe/ for the Lord gaue hi verry much good.

3 It is the same Ezechias that covered the hie water conduyt in Sion/and conueyed it vnder on the Westsyde of the cyyte, of Dauid: for Ezechias prospered in all his workes. But w^{ch} the inuiciblez the she cheife of Babilon were sent vnto him / to aske question at hym: concerninge the widdertoken that had happened in the lande: God leue hym to be wppred: that it is myghte knowne whatsoeuer was in his herte.

What more there is to saye of Ezechias / a of his mercifullnes: behold: it is written in the vryson of the prophete: Lay the sonne of Amos: and in the booke of the ringes of Iuda and Istaad. And Ezechias fell on strepe with his shephers: and they duryed him ouer the sepulchres of the chyliden of Dauid: and I Zuba: and they of Ierusalem vnd him woussuppe in his death: and Manasse his sonne was lynge in his sleede.

The XXIII. Chapter.

1 Manasse was twelfe yeare olde when he was made kynge: and reigned fyur and fiftys yeare at Ierusalem / and vnd that whiche was euil in the sighte of the Loide: euen after the abhominacions of the Key: then/whom the Loide expelled before the chyliden of Istraell: and tuened backe: and builded the hie places / (which his father Ezechias had broken downe) and set vp altares vnto Baalim: and made groues / a woussypped all the hoost of heauen / and serued them. He builded altares also in the Loide's house: wherof the Loide had sayde: In Ierusalem shall my name be for euer. And vnto all the hoost of heauen builded he altares in Sion: and in the courtes in the house of the Loide. And in the valley of the sonne of Geon caused he his owne sonnes to go thowouer: he fyt: and chyst hayes: and is garded vnder crynyng: and wyndes / a founded fytshouers and spouanders of tolens: and vnd much that was euil in the sighte of the Loide: so pious he hert vnto wryth.

2 Carued ymages also and Idoles: which he caused to make: sit he vp in Gods house: wherof the Loide saide vnto Dauid: and to Salomon his sonne: In this house or Ierusalem which I haue chosen out of all the cyytes of Istraell: wyl I set my name for euer:

and wyl nemore let the face of Istraell remane from the lande: that I appoynted for theys fathers / a for as they obserue to do all that I haue commaunded them: in all the lawes / statutes and obseruances by Moyses. But Manasse deceaued Iuda and them of Ierusalem: so that they vnd wryth: then the Key: then/whom the Loide besyde the fowre the chyliden of Istraell. And the Loide spake vnto Manasse and his people / a they regarded it not.

Therefore vnd the Loide causid the rulers of the hoost of the kynge of Assur to come vpon them: which toke Manasse prisoner: with bondes: and bounde him with chaynes: and brought hym vnto Babilon. And when he was in trouble: he made intercessions before the Loide: chis God: and humbled himselfe greatly before the God of his fathers: a prayed: and besought hym. Then herde he his prayer: a brought hym agayne to Ierusalem to his kynge: dom: And Manasse knewe that the Loide is God.

Afterward he builded the innermost wall of the cyyte of Dauid: on the Westsyde of Sion: by the shoek: and as the intreaunce of the fytshoek: and counde aboute i Ophel: and made it very hie: and layed captaynes in the stronge cyytes of Iuda: and put away the strange goddes and Idoles out of the hoost of the Loide: and all the altars: which he had builded vpon the mount of the house of the Loide: and in Ierusalem: and caste them out of the cyyte: and builded the altars of the Loide: and offered slayne offerynges and thankes: keynynges: sberon: and commaunded Iuda: that they shoulde serue the Loide God of Istraell. Miraculous: though the people offered vnto the Loide: they: God: yet offered they vpon the hie places.

What more there is to saye of Manasse: a of his prayer to his God: and the wryth of the Scribes: that spake vnto hym in the name of the Loide God of Istraell: behold: they are among the actes of the Kinges of Istraell. And his prayer and intercession / a all his synns: a offences: a heretymes: when he builded the hie places: and groues: a fytshoek: a fowle: he humbled himselfe: he hold: they are wrytten among the actes of the Scribes. nasse fill on sleep with his father/and they buried him in his house. And And his sonne was Fyng in his feade.

Two and twenty yeres olde was Amon when he was made Fyng/and reigned two yeres at Jerusalem/and vnder his feigh the Lord/ as Manasse his father had done. Amon offered vnto all the Idols that his father Manasse had made/and serued them. Yet vnder not he humbled himselfe before the Lord/ as Manasse his father had suborned himselfe: but Amon trespassed cur more and more. And his seruantes conspired against hym/ & slew him in his house. Then smote the people in the lande all them that had conspired against Fyng Amon. And the people in the lande made Josias his sonne Fyng in his feade.

The XXXIII Chapter.

Josias was eight yeres olde when he was made Fyng/and reigned one and threty yeres at Jerusalem/ and vnder that was right in the feight of the Lord/ and walked in the wayes of Dauid his father/and turned not aside/ neither to the right hande nor to left. For in the eight yeres of his reigne when he was yet but a childe/ he beganne to seek the God of his father Dauid/ and in the twelfth yere beganne he to cleanse Iuda in Jerusalem from the hye places/ and groues/ and caried Idols/ and molten ymagines: and caused the altars of Baalim to be broken downe before him/ and the ymagines that were thereon to be broken. And the groues/ and caried Idols/ and molten ymagines he brake in pieces/ and made them to dust/ and scattered it vpon the graues of them that had offered vnto them. And the bones of the puccles that were vpon the altars/ and so clensed he Iuda and Jerusalem/ and in the cytye of Manasse/ Ephraim/ Simron/ and vnto Bethraim in their wilderness on every side. And when he had broken downe the altars/ and groues/ and smyren the Idols in pieces/ and broken downe all the ymagines in all the lande of Israel/ he came agayne to Jerusalem.

In the eighteenth yere of his reigne/ when he had clensed the lande/ and the house/ he sent Saphan the sonne of Azalia a Na-see the Shene of the cytye/ a Joah the sonne of Joahas the chancelier/ to repare the house of the Lord/ his God. And they came to Belchias the hye puccle/ & there was deliuered vnto them the money that was brought vnto the bank of God/ which the Levites (that kepe the threshold) had gathered of Manasse/ Ephraim/ and of all the tribes in Israel/ and of all Iuda a Beniamin/ and of the that dwelt at Jerusalem/ and they deliuered it vnto the handes of the workmen in the house of the Lord/ and gaue it vnto those that wrought in the house of the Lord/ where it was in decaye/ that they should repare it. And the same gaue it forth vnto the carpenters and builders/ to buye frestone and hewen timber for the balkes in the houses/ which the Fynges had destroyed. And the men laboured faithfully in the worke.

And ouer them were ordyned / Jahazabab and Uabai the Levites of the chyliden of Merari / Zachary and Mitham of the children of the Zababians/ to see the worke/ and they were all Levites that could play vpon instruments. But ouer them that were burthenes/ and furthered all maner of worke in all the officers/ there were fortye / officers and workers of the Levites. And wher they toke out the money that was brought vnto the house of the Lord/ Belchias the puccle founde the boke of the lawe of the Lord given by Moses. And Belchias aunswered/ and sayde vnto Saphan the scribe: I haue founde the boke of the lawe in the house of the Lord. And Belchias deliuered the boke vnto Saphan. And Saphan bare it vnto the Fyng/ and brought the Fyng/ and word agayne/ and sayde: All that was gauen vnto the handes of thy seruantes/ that make they: and the money that was founde in the house of the Lord/ haue they gathered to grides/ and deliuered it vnto the officers/ and to the workmen. And Saphan the scribe tolde the Fyng/ and sayde: Belchias the puccle hath deliuered me a boke.

And Saphan red therein before the Fyng/ And when the Fyng heede the wordes of the lawe/ he rent his clothes. And the Fyng commanded Belchias and Ahiam the sonne of Saphan/ and Iddon the sonne of Michas/ and and Saphan the scribe/and Afsa the kinges seruauit/and sayde: Wo youre voyce/ye coulsat at the Lorde for me/and for the remanant in Israel/and for Iuda/ concerninge these wordes of the booke that is founde. For gracie to the indignacion of the Lorde that is gone forth ouer vs/because oure fathers haue not kepte the wordes of the Lorde/ to do accordinge as it is written in this booke. Then witte Helchias with the other that were sent from the kynge vnto the prophetes Baldo/ rone wyke of Sellum the sonne of Theochar the sonne of Husai the keeper of the doores/ which dwelleth at Jerusalem on the other syde/ as they spake vnto her.

2 And she sayde vnto them: Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel: Let the man that sent you vnto me/ Thus sayeth the Lorde: Beholde/ I will bringe plagues vpon this place/ and the inhabitants hereof/ euen all the carkes whiche are written in the booke that was red before the kynge of Iuda: because they haue forsaken me/ and ditinced vnto other goddes/ to prouoke me with all the wordes of theyr bandes. And myne indignacion shal goe forth vpon this one/ shal not be quenched.

And after this maner shal ye saye vnto the kynge of Iuda/ that seneas ouer eue counteyll as the Lorde: Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel/ concerninge the wordes that thou hast herde. Because thine heere is maned/ and because thou hast humbled thyselfe in sight of God/ when thou briddest his wordes against this place/ and the inhabitants thereof/ and hast submitted thyselfe before me/ and releyst thy clothes/ and wepte before me/ therefore haue I herd thee/ sayeth the Lorde. Beholde/ I will gather the vnto thy fathers/ and thou shalt be layed in thy graue with peace/ so that thine eyes shal not see all the euill that I will bringe ouer this place/ and the inhabitants hereof/ And they thought the kynge wordes as true.

3 Then sent the kynge/ and caused all the Lorders in Iuda/ and Jerusalem to come together. And the kynge wente vp into the house of the Lorde/ and all the me of Iuda/ and the inhabitants of Jerusalem/ the priestes/ the Levites/ and all the peple/ both small and great/ and all the wordes in this booke of the conue-

nance that was founde in the house of the Lorde/ were red in theyr eares. And the kynge stode in his place/ and made a conuenaunce before the Lorde/ that they shoulde walke after the Lorde/ to kepe his commaundementes/ his restituciones/ and his statutes with all that ther herde/ and with all theyr soules/ to be according vnto all the wordes of the conuenaunce that were written in this booke.

And there stode all they that were founde at Jerusalem/ and in Ben Samin. And thynobabners of Jerusalem byd according to the conuenaunce of God/ the God of theyr fathers. And Josias put away all the abhominacions ouer all the landes that were the dystryctes of Israel/ and caused all them that were sold in Israel/ to serue the Lorde/ the kynge's God. So longe as Josias lyued/ he departed they not from the Lorde the God of theyr fathers.

The XXXV. Chapter.

1 Nowe Josias kyng Passouer vnto the Lorde at Jerusalem/ and stode the Passouer on the fourtyth daie of the first moneth/ and set the priestes in their offices/ and strengthened them to their ministracion in the house of the Lorde/ and sayde vnto the Levites that taught in all Israel/ and were sanctified vnto the Lorde: Put the holy arte in the house that Salomon the sonne of Dauid kyng of Israel byd build. Ye shal beate it in mine eyes vpon youre shouders. So that ye serue not the Lorde/ your God/ and his people of Israel/ and prepare the house of your fathers in your countrys/ as it was appoynted by Dauid the kynge of Israel/ and by Salomon his sonne/ and stande in the Sanctuary after the counse of the fathers houses/ amonge youe theren in the children of the people. And after the counse of the fathers houses amonge the Levites/ and Kyll Passouer/ senten all prepare youre shouders/ that they maye be accordinge to the wordes of the Lorde by the mouth of Josias.

And Josias gaue lambes/ and yonge kydes/ which were males/ to the beate offeringe for the comynyng/ Call to the Passouer for euerie one that was founde in the multitude therye/ thou sandes/ and the thousande/ and all of the kynges good. And his prynces/ theyr owne good wyl gaue to the beate offeringe for the people/and for the priestes and Leuites (namely Achisaius / Saphar and Iehuel / the puerces in the house of God amonge the priestes) for the Passouer / two thousande and sixe hundred: and this hundred open. But Chasnam / Senuas / Elabaneel and his brethren / Galsaba / Zeciel and Josabab the chiefe of the Leuites / gaue the Leuites to the heeres offering for the Passouer / fye thousande shepe / and sixe hundred open.

Thus was the Gods seruice prepared/and the priestes stode in theyr place / and the Leuites in theyr course / accordinge to the synges commaundement. And they killed the Passouer/and the priestes toke of theyr bandes / a spynchard: and the Leuites toke the synneces of them / a reioined the burnt offerings therefrom to geue it amonge the poysons of the fathers houses in the minuties of theyr conspicyon / and offer unto the Lord / as it is written in the booke of Neco / Leuites so dyd they with the open also. And they dressed the Passouer at the fyre: / accordinge to the lawe. And that whiche was halowed / dressed they in panes / ketels / and pannes / and made hauff for the commune people. After werde prepared they for them selues also / and for the priestes: for the priestes the dytyden of Aars were occupied in the burnt offerings / and so vntill the nyght. Therefore must the Leuites prepare for them selues / and for the priestes / the dytyden of Aaron.

And the syngers the childe of Asaph stode in theyr place / accordinge to the Gaude commaundement / and Asaph and Seman / and Jonhan the synges Boyer / and the porters at all the gates. And they departed not from theyr office: for the Leuites theyr burthen prepared for them. Thus was all the Gods seruice prepared the same daye / that the Passouer was kept / and the burnt offerings offered upon the altare of the Lord / accordinge to the commaundement of synges Josias.

So the childe of Israel that were at hade / kide Passouer at that tyme / and the feast of vntended bread / seven dayes. Since the tyme of Samucl the prophet / was no Passouer kept in Israel / yf the: and no synges in Israel had halden suche a Passouer as Josias dyd / and the priestes / Leuites / all Juda / and such as were founde of Israel / and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. In the cyghthieth yere of the reigne of Josias was this Passouer kepte.

After this / when Josias had prepared the house / Neco the synges of Egypte went up to fight agaynst Calcaias the kyng of the Chaldees. And Josias went forth agaynst hym. But he sent messagers vnto hym / sayinge: What haue I to do with the King of Juda? I am not come here agaynst the: but I synges agaynst another house: and God hath sayde that I shall make hauff. Ceasse fro God which is with me / that he dystrope the noi. Neuertheless / Josias turned not his face from him / but prepared hymselfe to fight with him / and herkened not vnto the wordes of Neco / out of the mouth of Gods / and came to fight with him vpon the playne besyde Magaddo. But the archers shot at him / Josias. And he felle sayd vnto his seruantes: Carry me away / for I am sore wounded. And his seruantes toke hym from the charett / and carryed hym vpon his second charett / and brought hym to Jerusalem. And he dyed / and was buryed amonge the sepulchres of his fathers.

And all Juda and Jerusalem mourned for Josias / and Jeremy bewailed Josias / and all the syngers men and women / spake they: lamentacions ouer Josias vnto this daye / and made a custome thereof vnto this daye. Behold it in remembrance amonge the lamentacions. What mancher there is / yf of Josias / and his mercy / accordinge to the scripture in the lawe of the Lord / and of his acts / (both fy:ll and last) behold it in us women in the booke of the synges of Israel and Juda.

The. XXXVI. Chapter.

After that the people of the lande toke Josias the sonne of Josias / and made him kyng in the thirtieth yere of his fathers reade at Jerusalem. The and he was thirtie yere old / when Josias was that he was made kyng / and reigned the moethes at Jerusalem. For the kyng of Egypte deposed hym at Jerusalem / and condemned the lande in an hundred talears of siluer / and our tasken of golde. And the synges of Egypte made Elusdam his brother kyng ouer Juda and Jerusalem / and named his name Joachin. But Neco the childe brother Josias / and carryed hym into Egypte.

fyne and tventye yeare olde was Joachin when he was made kynge/ and reigned eleven yeare at Ierusalem/ and dyd that which was euill in the sight of the Lord his God.

¶ And Nabuchodonosor the kynge of Babylon came vp agaynst hym/ and bounde hym with chaynes/ to carye hym vnto Babylon. And Nabuchodonosor broughte certayne vessels of the house of the Lord vnto Babylon/ and put them in his temple at Babilon. Was more there to the sight of Joachin/ a of his abominacions which he did/ a that were found in hym. beholde they are written in the booke of the kynge of Israel a Iuda. And Joachin bye sonne was byrte in his seade.

¶ Eght yeare olde was Joachim when he was made kynge/ and reigned the thirthe and ten dayes of Ierusalem/ a did that which was euill in the sight of the Lord. But when the yeare came about/ Nabuchodonosor sente this becke/ and caused him to be fettered vnto Babylon with the costly vessels and Jewels of the house of the Lord/ a nude Zedechias hys boiher kynge our Iuda a Ierusalem.

¶ One and tventye yeare olde was Zedechias when he was made kynge/ and reigned eleven yeare at Ierusalem/ and did that which was euill in the sight of the Lord his God/ and submitted nre himselfe before the face of the people of Ieremy/ which spak out of his mouth of the Lord. He fell awaye also from Nabuchodonosor the kynge of Babylon/ which he had taken an oath of hym by God/ and was stiffened/ and hardened hys heart/ that he should not conuerse vnto the Lord God of Israel. And all the chief amonge the priests/ and the people multiplied theyr synnes/ accordinge to all the abominacions of the heathen/ a defiled the house of the Lord/ which he had sanctified at Ierusalem.

¶ And the Lord God of theyr fathers sent vnto them early by his messengers/ for he spared his people and his habytacyon/ but they laughed & misseuerers of God to scorne/ and despysed his wordes/ and had his prophete reyn derision/ so longe till the indignacion of the Lord increasd ouer his people/ a there was no remedye of chynge. I for he broughte the kynge of the Caldces vpon them/ and caused for to slawe all theyr yonge men with the sword in the house of theyr Sanctuary/ and spared neither yonge man nor wryght/ which aged nor graundfather/ but gaue them all in to his hande. And all the vessels in the house of God/ greate and small/ the treasures of the house of the Lord/ and the treasures of the kynge and of his princes/ all this caused to be caryed vnto Babylon. And they burne the house of God/ and brake doune the wall of Ierusalem/ and all the palaces thereof burne they with fyre/ so that all the costly ornaments of it were destroyed.

¶ And he who escaped the sword/ him too theyd he away vnto Babylon/ and they became his seruantes/ and the seruantes of his synnes/ all the Persians had this Empire: that Ieremy might be performed/ a in vntill the lade had ynough of her Sabbathes: for all that tyme of the desolacion was in Sabbath/ vntill the seuenthy yeare was fulfilled.

¶ But in the first yeare of Cyrus the kynge of Persia/ that the word of the Lord spak out by the mouth of Ieremy might be fulfilled/ the Lord raised vnto the spere of Cyrus the kynge of Persia/ because that he was proclaymed that rownnt all his Empire/ and by wyntinge also kynge: Thus saye I vnto the kynge of Persia: The Lord God of heauen hath geuen nre all the kynghomes in the lande/ and hath confirmed me to byrde hym an house at Ierusalem in Iuda. Whoso euer now aminge you is of his people/ the Lord his God be with him/ and let hym go vp.

In the first yere of Cyrus kynge of Persia / (char the woode of the Lord / spoken / by the mouth of Jeremys myght be fulfilled) the Lord stered vp the spere of Cyrus kynge of Persia / he caused it to be proclaimed that rownde all his Empire / and by wysynge also saynge: Thus saith Cyrus the kynge of Persia: The Lord God of heauen hath gyven me all the kyngdomes in the lande / and hath commaunded me to build hym an house at Jerusalem in Juda. Whosoever now amonge you is of his people / the Lord his God be with hym / and let him go vnto Jerusalem in Juda / and builde the house of the Lord God of Israel. He is the God that is at Jerusalem. And whosoever conuenyent is in any maner of place / where he is a stranger: let he be thus of his place: helpe hym with silver and golde / with good and earnest willa good freewill / for the house of God at Jerusalem.

1774

Then gaue vp the principall fathers of Juda and Beniamin / and the pastores a Leuites / and all they which spere God had cayed to go vnto / and builde the house of the Lord at Jerusalem. And all they that were aboute the / strenghted theyr hande with vessels of silver and golde / with good and earnest / and Jewels / bysides that which they gaue of theyr owne freewill. And kynge Cyrus broughte forth the vessels of the Lordes house / which Nabuchodonosor had taken out of Jerusalem / and put in his gods house. But Cyrus kynge of Persia broughte in forth by Shibbada the treasurer / and numbered them vnto Despazae the prince of Juda. And this is the nombre of them: byrtes basens of golde / and a thousand basens of silver / and nyne and twenty kny-

 and twentye.

The Lemco: The chylde of Iesus a Cal-mel of the chylde of Jednae / fyve and seuentye. The senger: the chylde of Asaph / an hundred and dyghte and twentye. The chylde of the doctepere: the chylde of Salmon / the chylde of Ater / the chylde of Salmon / the chylde of Ater / the chylde of Sama / and the chylde of Sobai: altogether an hundred and nyne and thyrtye.

The Arabunio: The chylde of Ziba / the chylde of Asaph / the chylde of Tabar-oth / the chylde of Leuo / the chylde of Sheha / the chylde of Pabon / the chylde of Le-bana / the chylde of Hagabe / the chylde of Ater / the chylde of Hagab / the chylde of Sela / the chylde of Hanan / the chylde of Giddel / the chylde of Gubar / the chylde of Rezia / the chylde of Rezin / the chylde of Ueuba / the chylde of Gafan / the chylde of Ufa / the chylde of Passah / the chylde of Bessa / the chylde of Aina / the chylde of Neumio / the chylde of Uepuffim / the chil-dre of Bechur / the chylde of Sotupha / the chylde of Barbur / the chylde of Setelm / the chylde of Ulethira / the chylde of Barfa / the chylde of Barcom / the chylde of Wis-sea / the chylde of Chanah / the chylde of Hysch / the chylde of Parupha.

The chylde of Salomons seruantes: the chylde of Sotai / the chylde of Sop-phatib / the chylde of Paua / the chylde of of Iada / the chylde of Barcon / the chylde of Gadd / the chylde of Sephana / the chil-dre of Hamill / the chylde of Dogherth of Zebaim / the chylde of Ami. All the Arabu-nio and the chylde of Salomons seruantes were altogether / the hundred and two and twentye.

And these wente up also: Mithel / Melath / Thel / Haiso / Cherub / Addon and Immer.
 But they coude not shewe they fathers house nor they febe / whether they were of Israel. The chylde of Uelai / the chylde of Tobiae / the chylde of Ueoda / seze hundred and two and hys wyfe.

And of the chylde of the prestes. The chyldre of Sadaia / the chylde of Bac / the chyldre of Basilla / which take one of y^e dought-ters of Basilla the Ueladite to wyfe / and a childe was counted among the same names: the senger: the register of theyr byth / and founde none / therefore were they put from the prest-hode. And Zacharia sayde vnto them / that they shoulde not eate of the most holy / till they rose up a prest with the i^e llyght and perfectnesse.

The whole congregation as one man was two and fortye thousand / the hundred and thre saxe: besyde they seruantes a mynyon / of whom there were seue thousande / the hundred and seven and thyrtye.
 And they had two hundred senger men and women / seven hundred and sixe a thyrtye hoxes / two hundred and fyve and fortye y^e camels / and sixe thousand seven hundred and twentye oxen.

And certayne of the chief fathers / when they came to the house of the Lord: at Jerusalem / they were well mynede vnto the house of God: for they shoulde be set in his place and gaue after theyr abilitie vnto the restoure of the walke / one and thre score thousande guldens / and fyve thousande pounde of siluer / and an hundred prestes garmentes.
 So the prestes and the Levites / and certayne of the people / and the senger / and the porters / and the Arabunio dwelt in theyr cyties / and all Israel in theyr cyties.

And when the seventh moneth came / a the chyldren of Israel were now in theyr eyes the people came together even as one man unto Jerusalem And there stode up Jesa-sia the sonne of Josede & his brethren / puesies / and Zacobabel the sonne of Salubabel his brethren / and builded the altare of the God of Israel / to offer burnt-offerynges theron / as it is wyrted in the lawe of Moyses the man of God / and the altare set they up by salutes / so there was a fearfulness amonge thein / because of the nations that stode about the burnt-offerynges theron onto the Lord / in fuminge and of euen. And helde the fast of Tabernacles / as it is wyrted / as offered burnt-offerynges dayly after the number as ac-cordinge was / every daye his sacrifice. Afterward the dayly burnt-offerynges also / of the newe Moones and of all the feast dayes of the Lorde / that were lawed / and all in manner of freuyling offerynges / which they dyd of theyr owne fre will onto the Lorde.

B Upon the first daye of the seventh moneth beganne they to offer burnt-offerynges unto the Lorde. But the foundation of the temple of the Lorde was not yet layed. Nevertheless they gaue money unto the masons and carpenters / and mear and drynye and oyle unto them of Sidon and of Tice / to brunge the Cedre timber from Libanus by the way of Top-pata / accordinge to the edmandment of Cyrus the kynge of Persia.

In the seconde year of theyr cominge unto the house of God at Jerusalem in the second moneth / beganne Zacobabel the sonne of Salababel / and Jesua the sonne of Josede / and the remannd of theyr brethren the pueistes and Leuites / and all they that were come out of the captiue unto Jerusalem / and appointed the Leuites from thence / yere olde / and aboue / to see that the worke of the house of the Lorde wold forward. And Jesua stode with his son-nes and brethren / and Cadmiel with his son-nes / and the chyldren of Juda / to further the workmen of the house of God / namely the chyldren of Benadad with theyr chyldren and theyr brethren the Leuites.

C And when the buildere layed the founda-cyon of the temple of the Lorde / the pueistes stode in theyr array with trompettes. And the Leuites the chyldren of Zaphar with cymbales / to playe the Lorde / with the wyne of Dan / and bynge of Israel. And they sange together / gruyng; psalms and thankes onto the Lorde / because he is gracious / and because his mercy endureth for euer and Israel. And all the people shoud loude in praisinge the Lorde / because the foundacyon of the house of the Lorde was layed. There dwelless / many of the olde pueistes and Leuites and aunyent fatheres / which had sene the house as it is in his founda-cyon / and thus was now before theyr eyes / theyr loude. But many thought with theyr / sayes that the noyse gaue a great sounnd / so muche that the people could not knowe the sayful sounnd for the noyse of the trumpets in the people / for the people shoud loude / so that the noyse was a herbe farr off.

The III. Chapter.

When the aduersaries of Juda and Ben Jamin herde / that the chyldren of the captiue builded the temple unto the Lorde God of Israel / they came to the house of the principal fatheres / and said unto them: We wyl buye the with you / for we see the Lorde your God lyke as you do. And we haue done sacrifice unto him / since the tyme that Assarhadon the kynge of Babilon brought us up by-ther. But Zacobabel and Jesua and the other auntye fatheres of Israel answered them: It is not meete for us and you to builde the house of our God / but we wyl builde alone unto the Lorde God of Israel / as Cyrus the kynge of Persia hath commaunded us.

The the folk of the lande hindered the people of Juda / and made the afraid to buye the and byed counsaillers against them / and hindered theyr dayre as long as Cyrus the kynge of Persia luyed / vntill the tyme of Darius kynge of Persia. But when Darius was kynge / in the begynnyng of his dayre / wote theyr vnes by a complaynte against the of Juda and Jerusalem.

And in the tyme of Artaxerxes / to witte Besellam / Mithabary / and Label and the other of theyr counsaill / wote Artaxerxes the kynge of Persia. But the scripture of the letre was wyrted in the Syriack speche / and was interpreted in the language of the Syriack Richum the chaunceller / and Simsa / seer / wrote this letter agaynst Jerusalem to Zerubbabel the kynge.

We Rehum the chancellier / and Simai the scribe / and other of the counsaill of Sinal / of Apharsab / of Earplart / of Percha / of Teach / of Babylonia / of Susan / of Sepha / of Elzi / and other of the people / whom the great noble Zitiaphar brought ouer / as for in the cyne of Samaria / and other on this syde the water / and in Canaan. And this is the summe of the letter that they sent vnto kynge Zerubbabel.

¶ Thei sent vnto the men on this syde the water / and in Canaan. As is known vnto the kynge / that the Jewes which are come vp fro the 10 vnto Jerusalem in to that sedicious and wicked cite / buyld the same / and make up the walles of it / and bringe out of the foundation. As is knowne here therof vnto the kynge / that if the cyne be binded / the walle make vp agayne / the shal not they geue tribute / nor / and yeacly cofraime / and they desire shall be the kynge harme. But now that we all see therof / which destroyed the temple / we wold no longer see the kynge dishonour. Therefore sent we out / and caused the kynge to be certified therof: That it maye be sought in the Countie of thy poyntiuous / also shalbe thou finde in Israhel / and because that the cyne is sedicious and noysome vnto kynge and landes / and that they cause other also to rebell of olde / and for the same cause was the cyne destroyed. Therefore do we certifye the kynge / that if the cyne be binded / and the walles thereof made up / thou shalbe kepte no longer on this syde the water / by reason of it.

¶ Then sent the kynge an countreue vnto Rehum the chancellier / and Simai the scribe / and to the other of theyr counsaill that dwelt in Samaria / and vnto the other beyond the water / Peare and salutation. The letter which ye sent vnto vs / hath ben openly red before me / and I commaunded to make search: and was founde / that this cyne of olde hath made inuersione on agaynst kynge / and how that vncle and rebellion hath bene committed therin. There haue bene many kynge also at Jerusalem / which haue caged ouer all that is beyond the water / and toll / tribute and yearly assidue was geuen vnto them. So ye now after this commaundement / forsoke the same man / that the cyne be no buylded / till I haue geuen commaundement. Take heed now that ye be no negligent herein / lest the kynge haue harme there by reason.

¶ Now when kynge Zerubbabel the letter was red before Rehum the chancellier / and Simai the scribe / and theyr counsaill / they went vp in all the hoste to Jerusalem vnto the Jewes / and forsoke them with the arme a warre. He ceased the worke of the house of God at Jerusalem / and continued so vnto the seconde year of Darius kynge of Persia.

The V. Chapter.

¶ The prophetes / Haggai and Zachary / the sonne of Iddo / propheted vnto the Jewes that were in Iuda and Jerusalem / in the name of the God of Israhel. Thei say vnto Haggai / Soobabel the sonne of Salathiel / and Jusia the sonne of Josidac / and beganne to buyde the house of God at Jerusalem / and with the prophetes of God which strenghtid them. At the same tyme came to them Chasbna the debute on this syde the water / and Zethar of Rosen / and theyr counsaillers / and sayde thus vnto them: Why commaunded you to buyde this house / and to make up the walles thereof? Then tolde we them the name of the man that made this buildinge. But the eye of the Lord came vpon the Elders of the Jewes / that they were not inhibited / till the maner was brought before Darius / as till then came a writinge therof agayne.

¶ This is the summe of the letter that Chasbna the debute on this syde the water / a Zethar of Rosen / and theyr counsaillers of Zoharsab / which were on this syde the water / sent vnto kynge Darius. And these are the wordes that they sent vnto hym: Vnto Darius the kynge / all peace. As is known vnto the kynge / that we came in to Israhel in the hoste of the great God / which is buylded with all maner of stones / and baltes are layed in the walles / and the worke goeth fast forth / and prospereth in theyr harts. Neuertheless / we aske the Elders and sayde vnto them: Why hath commaunded you to buyde this house / to make up the walles thereof? We aske theyr names also / we myght certifye the / and haue written the names of the men that were theyr rulers.

But they answered vs with these wordes/ and sayde: We are reseruantes of the God of heauen and earth / and buyde the house that was buyde many yeares ago / which a greate syng of Israel buyde and set vp. Chapter 1. / when our forefathers prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath / the gaue them ouer in the hande of Nabuchodonosor the syng of Babylon the Caldee / which barte boune this house / & carryed the people awaye into Babylon.

Chapter 2. / In the first yere of Cyrus the syng of Babylon / the same kyng Cyrus commaunded to buyde this house of God: for the vissele of golde and the siluer in the house of God / which Nabuchodonosor toke out of the temple at Jerusalem / and drougnt them in to the temple at Babylon / those yd Cyrus the kyng cal: out of the temple at Babylon / and dispyred them vnto Chapter 3. by name: whome he made obscure / and sayde vnto hym: Take this vissele / go thy way and bunge them vnto the temple at Jerusalem / and let the house of God be buyde in his place. Then came the same Chapter 4. Selzbazur / & layde the foundation of the house of God at Jerusalem. Hence that name hath it ben in building / and yet is it not finished. If thou please the kyng now / let there be searche made in the kynges treasure house / which is at Babylon / whether we haue det kyng Cyrus commaundement / that the house of God at Jerusalem shoulde be buyde: and sende vs the kynges mynds / concerninge the same.

The VI. Chapter.

Chapter 5. / Ben Commmanded kyng Darius / that searche shoulde be made in the library of the kynges treasure house / which laye at Babilon. So at Egobailon is a castell that lyeth in the lande of the Medes / there was founde a booke / and in it was there an arte written after this maner: In the first yere of kyng Cyrus / commaunded the same kyng Cyrus to buyde the house of God at Jerusalem / in the place where the sacrifice is made / and to laye the foundation to beare the seate cubites heighe / and the seate stances bredth / and the walles of all manner of stances / a one walke of rumber / a the spaces shalbe garned of the kynges house. And the golden a silver vissele of the house of God which Nabuchodonosor toke out of the temple at Jerusalem / and drougnt vnto Babylon / shalbe restored agayne / that they maye be drougnt vnto the temple at Jerusalem in theyr place / in to the house of God.

See you saire first the rhy: foie / thou Tharban Schyrie beyonde the water / a Schyrie of Babilon / a your causefyers which are beyonde the water. Let the wyse in the house of God / that the Schyrie of the Jereus a theyr elders maye buyde the house of God in his place. I haue estimated also / what shalbe done to the Elders of Iuda / for the buildinge of the house of God / that there shall dysly gently be taken of the kynges goodes / euen of the retro. b. and the water / and giuen vnto the men / and that they be not hindered.

And they haue neede of alfen / landes or goates for the burnt offeringe vnto the God of heauen / where sacrifice is offer / after the custome of the priestes at Jerusalem / these shalbe giuen them daylye as is accustomed: and if that this be not done negligently / that they maye offer sweete favources vnto the God of heauen / and praye for the kynges life / and for his children. The commaundement haue I giuen. And what man sauer be that altereth this word: his eye shall a halfe be taken from his house / and set vp / and he shalbe hangd theron / and his house shalbe pyrfed for the dede doinge.

But the God that dwelleth in heauen / be stroke all kynges and people / that put to theyr handes altere / and to beake downe the house of God at Jerusalem. I Darius haue commaunded that this be diligentlye doie.

Then Tharban the Schyrie beyonde the water / and Schyrie of Babilon with their counteylers / to whose kyng Darius had sent / dyd they diligencia. And the Elders of the Jereus buyde / and they prospered thom the prosperenge of Agabus the prophet / and Zedane the sonne of Zederaud they buyde / and set vp the wyse / according to the commaundement of the God of Israel / and after the commaundement of Cyrus / Darius a Ariak: the kyng of Persia. And they persouined the house vnto the thre daye of the moneth Thar / that was the sixte yere of the reygne of kyng Darius.

¶ par. viij. a † And the chyliden of Israel / the priestes / the Leuites / and the other chyliden of the captiue helde the dedication of the house of God with ioye / and offered at the dedication of the house of God / an hundred calves / two hundred lambes / four hundred goates / and for the synofferynge for all Israel / twelue he goates / accordinge to the number of the tribes of Israel / and set the priestes in theyr courses / as the Leuites in theyr offices / to minister vnto God whiche is at Jerusalem / as it is written in the booke of I. Iosue.

And the chylidē of the captiue helde / Daſſeouer vpo the fourtenth daye of the first moneth / for the priestes and Leuites had purified themselves / so that they were all cleare as one man / and fylled Daſſeouer for all the chyliden of the captiue / and for theyr brether the priestes / and for themselves. And the chylidē of Israel which were come agayne out of captiuite / all such as had separated themselves / vnto them fro the synners of the Hevthe in the lande / so like the Lordē God of Israel / byd eate and helde the feast of vnleuend bread seuen dayes with ioye / for † Lord had made them glad / and turned the herte of the kynge of Persia vnto the / so that theyr handes were streight / in the worke of the house of God / which is the God of Israel.

The. VII. Chapter.

¶ Offier † thee aces in the saygne of Artaxerxes / thee wente vpo Babylon / Esdras the sonne of Secana / the sonne of Iſara / the sonne of Helchias / the sonne of Sellum / the sonne of Sabos / the sonne of Adob / the sonne of Amaria / the sonne of Iſara / the sonne of Utrauoth / the sonne of Serahie / the sonne of Nisi / the sonne of Buki / the sonne of Abiſue / the sonne of Phineas / the sonne of Eleasar / the sonne of Zarus the chiefe priest / which was a quicke scribe in the lawe of Moſes / which is the Lordē God of Israel byd greue. And the kynge gaue him all that he requyred / accordinge to the hande of † Lord his God vpon him.

¶ And there wente vpo certayne of the chylidē of Israel / and of the priestes / as of the Leuites / of the synners / of the pointes / and of the Gerthynims vnto Jerusalem / in the seventh yere of kynge Artaxerxes. And they came to Jerusalem in the sixth moneth / that is the seventh yere of the kynge. So vpon the first daye of the first moneth / they wente to go vpo the Babylon / and on the sixth daye of the sixth moneth came they to Jerusalem / accordinge to the good hande of God vpon hym / for Esdras prepared his herte to like the lawe of † Lord / and to do it / and to teache the precepte and gemment in Israel.

And this is the sume of the letter / that king D Artaxerxes gaue vnto Esdras the priest / the scribe / which was a teacher in the wordes of the Lawe / and of his statutes ouer Israel. Vnto Esdras the priest and scribe in the lawe of the God of heauen / peace and saluation. I haue commaunded that all theye / that be people of Israel / and of the priestes / and Leuites in my realme / which are minded of theyr owne good / will to go vpo to Jerusalem / that theye go with the chyliden of the kinge and of the laun lordes of the countrey / so vnto Iuda and Jerusalem / accordinge to the lawe of God / which is in thy hande / And that thou shouldest take with the silver and golde / which the kinge of the lande of his countrey geue of theyr owne good / will vnto the God of Israel / whiche haue duacion in at Jerusalem / and all the silver a golde that thou canst fynde in all the countrey of Babylon / with that the people and priestes geue of theyr owne good / will vnto the house of God at Jerusalem.

Take thou the same / and bye diligently with the same money / calves / lambes / goates / and mecofferynges and drynke offerynges / to be offered vpo the altars of the house of your God at Jerusalem. And loke what it is left by the and thy brether to do with the remnant of the money / do after the wyll of your God. And the vessels that are geuen the for the misstracion in the house of thy God / those desyre thou before God at Jerusalem.

And whosoever thynge more shalbe needfull for the house of thy God / which is necessary for the to spende / let the same be geuen out of the kynge chamber. I kynge Artaxerxes haue commaunded all the treasures beyonde the warre / that loke whosoouer Esdras the priest and scribe in the lawe of the God of heauen / requyreth of you / that ye fulfill the same diligently / vntill an hundred talents off siluer affluer / and fill an hundred quarters of wheat / and fill an hundred barres of wine / as an hundred barres of oyle / a full without measure. Whatsoever belongeth to the Lawe of the God of heauen / let the same be done in this gener for the house of the God of heauen / that there come no warre open the kinges realme and his children.

R And knowen be it vnto you / that ye shall haue no sroure to requyre easynge and rest / stand and heare rence vpd any of the priuies. Lettice / synners / postors / Nestymms a ministers in the house of the God. But thou Esdras / Cease the wisdom of thy God that is in thy hande / for the iudges and arbiters / to iudge all the people that is beyonde Iordane / euen all such as knowe the lawe of thy God / and them that knowe it not / whose iudges ye teach. And whatsoever wyl not vphelyntly fulfill the lawe of thy God / and the synge lawe / shal haue his iudgement for the side / whether it be vnto death / or be banished / or to be condemned in good / or to be put in prison.

Prayed be the Lorde God of oure fathers / whiche so hath inspired the synge here to garnish the house of God at Ierusalem / and hath enlarged his mercy vnto me in the iustice of the King / and his counsaillers / and before all the synge by estate. And I was confouled / accordinge to the banke of the Lord my God ouer me / and so gathered I the heabdes of Israel / gether / that they myghte go vp with me.

The VIII Chapter.

Where are the heabdes of their fathers that were named / whiche went vp with me from Babylon / what tyme as King Artaxerxes raygned / Of the children of Dineas / Gersom / of the children of Thomas / Samsi / of the children of Suid / Harues / of the children of Daroon / Sathary / and the men whiche I named with hym / and hundredth and fiftye / Of the children of Nabars / Noah / Eleonai / the sone of Oraba / and with hym two hundredth men children.

Of the children of Secharia / the sonne of Iehesil / and with hym three hundredth men children. Of the children of Adin / Med / the sonne of Jonathas / and with hym fifty men children. Of the children of Elam / Zefai the sonne of Araba / and with hym seuenie men children. Of the children of Secharia / Secharia the sonne of Mada / a with hym four score men children.

Of the children of Isak / Obadiah the sonne of Iehiel / and with hym two hundredth and cyghte men children. Of the children of Selomath / the sonne of Iosiphia / and with hym an hundredth and thre score men children.

Of the children of Oraba / Sathary the sone of Oraba / and with hym cyght and twenty men children. Of the children of Agab / Iohanan the yongest sonne / and with hym an hundredth and een men children. Of the last children of Adorneam / and these were they names / Siphales / Iuell / Semas / and with them the foure men children. Of the children of Esigemas / Oraba and Sabudiah with the seuen men children. And I gathered them together by the water that cometh toward Ierusalem / and there abode we thre dayes.

And when I loled among the people a I purste / I founde no Leuiteo there. Then sente I Eliezer / Ariel / Semas / Elnathan / Jorab / Elnathan / Natha / Sathary / a / Nesulem the rulers / and Jorab and Elnath / the teachers / and those sente I vnto Iddo the chiefe of the Cassip / that they shoulde seeke vnto mynistrs for the house of oure God / a I tolde them what they shoulde saye vnto Iddo and to his brethren the Hieronims at Caspasia.

And accordinge to the good banke of oure God upon vs / they brought vs a wise man from among the children of Iudaea / the sonne of Leui / the sonne of Iehiel / cazen Seresia with his sonnes and brethern / cyghte. And Satharia / and with hym Iesus / of the children of Merai / with his brethern and theys sonne / twenty. And of the Nestymms / whome Suid and the pryeres gaue to mynistr vnto the Lawe / two hundredth and twentye / called by names.

And euen there at the water be the Iherusalem / because I so saynge to the pryeres / that we myghte humble oure selfes before oure God / of the of hym a cyghte bye for vs / and oure children an all oure substanti. For I was ashamed to requyre of the King / for byre and heismen to helpe vs agaynste the enemye in the waye. For we had sayde vnto the kynge: The bande of oure God is for the best vpon all them that see hym/ and his violence and wrath vpon all them that forsake hym. So we fasted/ and soughte this at oure God/ and he berde vs.

- D And I toke out twelfe of the chiefe priestes/ Serubia and Sabasia/ and ten of their brethern with the/ and weyed them there the siluer a golde and vessels for the heaues offering vnto the house of our God/ wher the kynge/ and the lordes of his counsaill and princes/ and al Israel that were at hande/ had giuen to the heaues offering: and there weyed I them vnder their bande sixe hundred and fyftye talentes of siluer/ and in siluer vessel a hundred and thretye cuppes of golde of a thousande guldenes/ and two costly ornaments of good stiffe/ as cleare as golde/ and sayde vnto the: Ye are holy vnto the Lord: therefore are the vessels holy also/ as so is the siluer and golde that is giuen of a good wyll vnto the Lord: God of oure fathers: Watch ye therefore and kepe it/ as ye were at home before thiese priestes and Leuites/ and ancient fathers of Israel at Jerusalem in the chesnes of the house of the Lord. Then toke the priestes and Leuites the weyed siluer and golde and vessel/ to bringe it to Jerusalem vnto the house of oure God.

- E So we shake vp/ from the water of Athena on the twelfeth daye on the fyfth moneth/ to go vnto Jerusalem: and the bande of oure God was vpon vs/ and deliuered vs from the bande of the enemyes and praye waynges by the waye. And we came to Jerusalem/ and abode there thre dayes. But on the fourth daye was the siluer and golde/ and vessel weyed in the haufe of oure God vnder the bande of Mreemuth the sonne of Deas the priest/ and with hym Eleasar the sonne of Phineas/ and with them Iosabad the sonne of Iesias/ and Naor the sonne of Benai the Leuite/ according to the number a weighte of euery one. And the wayghe was all wrighten vp at the same tyme.

And the children of the captiuite/ whiche were comie out of babilon/ offered burntoffer rynges vnto the God of Israel: twelfe bullockes for al Israel/ sixe and nyntie rammes/ fowen and seyntie lambs/ and twelfe goates for a burnt offering/ all to the burnt offeringe of the Lord. And they deliuered the linge commision vnto the kynge officers/ and to the Sedyars on this syde the mayne. And they purmaned the people and the house of God.

The IX. Chapter.

When all this was persecuted/ the ruo Iero came to me/ and saide: The people of Israel/ and thie priestes/ and Leuites are not separated from the nacions in the lande/ as thou sayst: they abominacions/ namely of the Cananites/ Beribes/ Phereisites/ Jebusites/ Ammonites/ Moabites/ Egypcians/ and Amozes. For they haue taken the vices of the same/ and they sonne/ and haue mixt the holy seide with the nacions in the lande/ and the bande of the cullens and lordes of counsaill hath bene principal in this trespass.

When I berde this/ I rente my clothes a my rayments/ and plure out the heer of my heade/ and of my beerd/ and fast mourninge. And there resoued vnto me al such as feared the Lord God of Israel/ because of the grete transgression. And I sat mourning vntil the burninge sacrifice. And aboute the eveninge sacrifice I rose vp from my baynes/ and rente my clothes and my rayment/ and fell vpon my knees/ and spied out my handes vnto the Lord my God/ and sayde:

My God/ I am ashamed/ and darre not lift vp myne eyes vnto the my God: for our wyckednesse are growen ouer oure heade/ and oure trespasses are woxen great vnto the heauen. Since the tyme of our fathers haue we bene in grete trespass vnto this daye/ and because our trayel idelnesse: a haue we and oure kynge and priestes bene deliuered into the bande of the kynge of the nacions/ into the swordes/ into captiuite/ into spoyle/ and into confusion of face/ as it is come to passe this daye.

But now is there a lyfte and some graue ciuillnesse come from the Lord: oure God/ so that some of vs are escaped: that he may geue vs a wayen his holy place/ that our God maye lighte oure eyes/ and geue vs a

Let vs appoint our rulers therefore in all the congregation that all they which haue taken strange wyces in our ciues / maye come at the tyme appointed / and the Elders of every cite: and their iudges with theyr the wraith of our God: because of this matter be turned a waye from vs.

Then were appointed Jonathan the sone of Asabel and Iehusa the sonne of Cherua our this matter. And Nehusalem and Sabtha the Leuites helped them. And the children of the captiuitie were euent so. And Esdras the priest / and the seneiours fathers thorow the bank of theyr fathers / and all that were not remembered by name / separated themselves / and sae them betwene on the first daye of the tenth moneth / so graunte this matter. And on the firste daye of the firste moneth sought they the matour to conclusion / concerninge all the men that had taken straunge wyces.

¶ And amonge the children of the priestes / there were men founde that had taken straunge wyces / namely amonge the children of Iehusa the sonne of Josede and of his wyfe / Maesra / Elieser / Jacub and Godolia. And they gaue theyr handes there vpon / that they wolde put a waye theyr wyces: and for theyr trespass offeringe to geue a ramme for theyr trespass. Amonge the children of Immer / Hanani and Sabadua. Amonge the children of Harim: Maesra / Elia / Semara / Jehuell and Vria. Amonge the children of Parbur: Eluana / Maesra / Smael / Merbaeck / Josabab / and Eleasa. Amonge the Leuites / Josabab / Sime and Elia. He is that Elita / Dethabia / Juda and Eleasar. Amonge the singers / Eliahib. Amonge the porters / Sallum / Elclem / and Uri.

Of Israel. Amonge the children Darcoo / Rama / Ieha / Malcha / Neaman / Eleasar / Malcha / and Benais. Amonge the children of Elam / Marhanai / Zachary / Jehull / Abdu / Jeremah / and Elia. Amonge the children of Zebui / Elitocnai / Eliahib / Marhanai / Jeremah / Sabab / and Vria. Amonge the children of Bithai / Jobanai / Hanania / Sabai / and Abbai. Amonge the children of Bani / Mesullam / Malluch / Doia / Zafub / Scall and Jeremah. Amonge the children of Darhap / Maob / Abna / Ebel / Benais / Maesra / Marhanai / Bagecil / Benai / and Maesra. Amonge the children of Barim / Elieser / Ieha / Malcha / Semara / Dimcon / Bena / Jamun / Malluch / and Samaria. Amonge the children of Besum / Marhanai / Marchotha / Sabai / Eliphelet / Jeremah / Manasse and Sime. Amonge the children of Beni / Maedai / Amram / Buell / Benais / Bedai / Edoi / Vaa / Meremoh / Eliahib / Marhanai / Malcha / Jarfau / Daria / Benai / Sime / Selemas / Jarfau / Doia / Malcha / Sab / Sasa / Sarai / Sfarrell / Selemas / Sogmaria / Sallum / Amara / and Joseph. Amonge the children of Nebo / Tadi / Marhotha / Sabab / Sebina / Zedai / Jodi / and Benais. All these had taken straunge wyces. And amonge the same wyces there were some that had borne children.

The end of the first booke of Esdras.

The seconde booke of Esdras / other wyse called the booke of Nehemias.

The first Chapter.

These are the actes of the Nehemias the sonne of Bathasba. It fortuned in the moneth Tethien in the twentieth year: that I was in the castell at Susana

Sustaine Banishments of my brethren came with a caryng men of Iuda: and I aske them howe the Synce dyd that were deliuered and escaped from the captiuitie: and how it wente at Ierusalem. And they sayde vnto me: The remnant of the captiuitie are there in Iudee in great misfortune and rebuke. The walles of Ierusalem are broken downe: and the portes thereof are shent with fyre.

13 no 1

When I heerde these wordes: I fast me fourte and wept: and mourned two dayes: a fasted and prayed before the God of Israhel: a sayd: O Lord of heauen thou greates and terrible God: I thou that kepest conueruancie and mercy for them that loue the: and obserue thy commandementes: let thine earce mercie: let thine eyes be open: that thou mayest heere the prayer of thy seruantes: which I praye now before the daye and night: for the children of Israhel: thy seruantes: a knowledge the synnes of the children of Israhel: which we haue committed agaynst the.

13 no 17 a
13 no 17 b

And I and my fathers house haue synned also. We haue bene corrupt vnto they: in that we haue not kept the commandementes: statutes and lawes: whiche thoure commaundest thy seruant Moses. Yet call to remembrance: the worde that thou commaundest thy seruant Moses: a saydest: I I ye transgressors: when wil I faier you aboade amonge the nacione. But if ye turne vnto me: a I kepe my commandementes: and do them: though ye were cast vs vnto the uttermost part of heauen: yet wil I gather you from thence: a I bringe you from thence: euen vnto the place: that I haue chosen for my name to dwell there.

13 no 17 a

They are thy seruantes: a thy people: whome thou hast deliuered thow vnto thy greates power and myghtie hande. O Lord: let thine earce marke the prayer of thy seruante: and the prayer of thy seruantes: whose desire is to loue thy name: and let thy seruante prosper: the daye: and graunt hym mercy in the sight of his manse: I was the syngece bulwar.

Th. II. Chapter.

13 no 17 b

At the moneth I Iulian of the twentieth daye of the syngece: Arias se: whan the voyce vnto the syngece: I toke vp the wyne: a graue it vnto the syngece: a I was heauy in his presence. Then sayde the syngece vnto me: Why lokest thou so sadly: They arte not sicke: that is not the matter: I thin thou arte heauy hered. Neuertheless: I was sore afraid and sayde vnto the syngece: God saue the syngece: he focuer: shoulde I not loke sadly: the syngece of my fathers buriall: yett waistand the portes thereof are consumed with fyre. Then sayde the syngece vnto me: What is then thy request: The made I my prayer vnto the God of heauen: and said vnto the syngece: if it please the syngece: and if thy seruante be favoured in thy sight: I desire the stride me into Iuda vnto the syngece of my fathers buriall: that I may burye it.

And the syngece sayd vnto me: and so sayd the queene that sat by me: How longe shall thy iourney continue: a what wilt thou come agayne: And it pleased the syngece to finde me: a I set hym a steed: and said vnto the syngece: If it please the syngece: let hym geue me letters to the chieues beyonde the water: I haue made comysse me ouer: yet I come into Iuda: and letters vnto Iisaph: he be lorde of the syngece wood: that he maye geue me wood for beames to the gates of the palayce: which are hard on the house: and hard on the walles of the cytie: and for the house that I shall entre into. And the syngece gaue me accordingly to the good hande of God vnto me. And whan I came to the chieues: they orde the water: I gaue them the syngece letters. And the syngece sent captiues: and chasemen with me.

But whan Saneballath the Bononite: a Tebio the seruante of the Ammonites: herde that he graued them so: that at there was come a man which sought the wealth of the chyldre of Israhel. And whan I came to Ierusalem: a had bene there the syngece: I gat me vp in myghti season: a I came me with me: for I tolde no man what my God had graunt me in my herte to do at Ierusalem: a there was not one deall with me: thus it that I rode vnto popon. And I rode by nyght vnto the valleye point before the Dapods well: a to the Dounges point: and considered the walles of Ierusalem: that were broken downe: a the portes thereof consumed with the fyre. And I wente ouer vnto the wellpore: a to the syngece chasment: and there was no comysse for my deall: that it coulde go vnder me. Then wente I on in the nyghte.

myghte by the hok: fyd/a considered þ wold/ and turned backe/and came home agayne to the valley poit.

¶ And the rulers knew not whether I went/ or what I byd/a: but they had I not tolde the Jeros/a the priestes/ the counsailers/ and the rulers/ and the other that laboured in the worke/a I said unto them: Ye see the misery that we are in/ how Jerusalem lyeth wast/a/ how the gates thereof are burnt w/ freer come/ let us build up the walles of Jerusalem/ that we be not more a rebuke. And I tolde them of the good hande of my God which was upon me: And the kynge woides that he had spoken unto me. And they sayd: Then let us go: up. And we buylded/ and they handes were strengthened to good.

But when Sanballat the Ganaanite/ and Tobias the seruants of the Ammonites/ and Gesein the Arabia herde it/ they laughed w/ to scorn/a/ & sayd: v/a/ I sayd: What is this þ ye do? They fall aways agayne fro the kynge: Then answered I thens/a/ said: The God of heauen shall cause vs to prosper: for we bys seruants are not gotten vps/ and are buyldinge. As for you/ ye haue no poind nor right/ nor re meind/ in Jerusalem.

The III. Chapter.

¶ And Eliashib the hie prieste gate hym vp w/ me by the way: in the priestes/ a buylded the shep-gate. They halowed it/ and set vp the voice of it/ i/uen into the tower Nea halowd they i/ namely vnto the corner of Basanai. Next vnto him buylded the men of Jeros/a. And Beside him buylded Sachie the sonne of Imr. But the Synspore/ w/ the children of Gona/ buylded/ they covered it/ and set on the voice/ locke/ and barre/ of it. Next vnto him buylded Harum the sonne of Kosobema. But Malchia the sonne of Baerim/ and Bishub the sonne of Pahub/ w/ ad buylded the other pece/ a/ be so w/ Bishub the sonne of Kere/ vnto him buylded Gallum the sonne of Galabro the ruler of the halfe quarter of Jerusalem/ and his vouggers.

The valley gate buylded Hanum/ and the Cerecino of Sanab/. They buylded it/ and set on the voice/ locke/ and barre/ thereof/ and a thousand cubites on the wall/ vnto the voice/ gate: One the vantage/ buylded Malcha the sonne of Kicab/ the ruler of the fourth parte of the vntoyardes: He buylded it/ and set on the voice/ locke/ a barre/ thereof. But the widge/ buylded Gallum the sonne of Calbosi/ the ruler of the fourth parte of Mispa: He buylded it/ a/ covered it/ and set on the voice/ locke/ a barre/ thereof/ a the walle vnto the pole of Syle by the finger gate/ vnto the steepe/ that he goe downe from the cite of David. After him buylded Nehemias the sonne of Husbic/ the ruler of the halfe quarter of Berchur/ vnto the other syde/ vnto against the sepulchres of David/ a to the pole Asua/ and vnto the house of the mightie.

¶ After him buylded the Levites/ Ketum the sonne of Bani. Next vnto him buylded Galabro the ruler of the halfe quarter at Beglam the quarter. After him buylded they Bethien/ Denai the sonne of Kerabad/ the ruler of the halfe quarter of Regila. After him buylded Ise the sonne of Iesus the ruler of Mispa/ the other pece/ harde ouer against the harnesse corner. After him buylded Baruch the sonne of Sabai the other pece/ w/ hispally and colly/ from the corner vnto the voice/ locke/ of Meshisbeel the hie priest. After him buylded Melchior the sonne of Uria the sonne of of Sadoe the other peece from y^e house of Eliasiba house vnto the end of y^e house of Eliasiba. After him builded y^e p^riestes y^e me of y^e edme.

After him builded Ben Zamin a second ouer against y^e house. After y^e builded Sana y^e sonne of Macsaa y^e sonne of Anania next vnto his house. After him builded Emeu y^e sonne of Henadab the other peece from the house of Sana vnto y^e turninge and vnto the corner.

After him builded Palal the sonne of Osa/ouer against the corner a thirde tower/whiche lyeth out ouer from the kynges house/beside the court of the p^ryson. After him Pebaia the sonne of Darcoo. (As for the Ierusalemme they wreke in Ophel vnto the watergate toward the East where the ouer lyeth out.) After him builded thy of Theasa the other peece ouer against the greate tower that lyeth ouer ward of vnto the wal of Ophel.

¶ But from the boisegate forth builded the p^riestes/eaery one ouer against his house. After them builded Sadoe the sonne of Immer ouer against his house. After hym builded Oemia the sonne of Eschama the keeper of the Eastgate. After him builded Senama the sonne of Sekania/and Hanu the sonne of Zolaph y^e sonne of ocher peece. After him builded Melul-lam the sonne of Brechia ouer against his dwell. After him builded Malchia the goldesmithes sonne/onyl the house of the Ierusa-limum/and of the Marchauntes ouer against the counsaill gate/and w^{ch} the parker in the corner. And between the parker of the corner vnto the thep^regate builded the goldsmithes a the marchauntes.

The IIII. Chapter.

¶ When Sanchallat herde that we builded the walles he was wroth / a toke greate indignacion/and mocked the Jewes/and saide before his brethren/and myghty me of Samaria: What do the impotent Jewes? shal they be thus suffred? shal they offer? shal they performe it in one daye? shal they make the stoncs whole agayne? shal we be broken to dust/and burnt? And Tobias the Ammonite dressed him selfe/ and them build on / w^{ch} a fore god by the sal baserke boune they stony walles.
Hearc O thou our God/how we see? O y^epp seduce they thine vpo they: oune heads/that thou maist graue them ouer: n^o y^epp fyng in the lade of their captiuite. Couer not their wickednes/and put not out their synne from thy presence: for they haue p^roued the buildes. Yet builded we the walles / a Ioynd it whole together vnto the halfe bergh. And the people were wel minded to labour.

¶ But when Sanchallat/and Tobias/and the Arabians/and Ammonites/and Iudob-reos herde that the walles of Ierusalem were made vp/and that they had begonne to sloppe vp the gappe/they were very wroth/and despised al together/no come onb sighte againste Ierusalem/and to make an hinderaunce between Ierusalem/we made oure prayer vnto our God/and set watchmen vpon the walles daye and nyght ouer againste them. And Iudeus said: The strengthe of the beere is w^{ch} feble and there is so much dust / we are not able to bulde on the walles. And oure aduerfaries thought: They shal not ino we canner be / w^{ch} we come in the myddes amonge them / and slape them/and hinder the worke. But when the Jewes that dwelt beside them/came out of al the places where they dwelt aboute / a tolde us as good as ten mynes/then for I the people after their hundredes w^{ch} they: swares/and spares and he was bowch in the lowe places behind the walles / and loke / and gasse vp / and said vnto the chiefe men / rulers/and to the other people: We noc afraid of them / shalke vpon the greac Lord: whiche ought to be feared / a y^eght for you brethren/sonnes / daughteres / wyues / and houses. We utterly can / when oure enemies herde that we had gotten weade of / God broughte theys counsaill to naught / a we runned al agayne to the walles/eaery one vnto his labour. And fro that time forth it came to passe: that the halfe part of the yonger men v^{ch} the labour / a the other halfe part helde the spares / bydes/horne / a byshoppes / and the rulers stode be-hinde al the house of Iuda / w^{ch} builded on the walles / a bare buythens / from those that laded them. With one hand v^{ch} they the work and with the other held they the weape. And eaery one that builded / had his swerde / graded by his side / a so builded they. And the w^{ch} partes stode beside me.

¶ And I sayd vnto the p^rincipall men / and rulers / and to the other people: The worke is greac

great and large/and we are separated upon 7 walle one farrre from another. Loke in what place now ye heare the noyse of the trompe/Ex. 10. 1. cefoite ye hymne unto vs. Our God shall fright vs/and we wyl be labouringe in the woife. And the halfe parte of them helde the speere from the moonyngc fprynge/ tyl the starres came forth. And at the same tyme said I vnto the people: Every one abyde wth his seruaunt at Jerusalem/that in the nyght fear son we may geue a reuendauce to the watch of a lieth on the daye tyme. As for me and my brethren/ and my seruaunts/and the rest of the watch behinde me/ we put neuer of our clothes/ so much as to waite our selues.

The V Chapter.

¶ Und there acof a great complaint of the people/and of theyr wytes aganste they breth: the Jewes. And there were some that said: our sonnes and daughter are to many/let vs take care for them/ and care/ that we maye lyue. Some said: let vs set one lande/winyardes and howse to a pledge/ and take up come in the verty. But some saide: let vs bosome money of the fynyge vpon vsury for our lande and winyardes. Now are our bre thens bodies as our owne bodies/ and they chylidren as our chylidren: els shoulde we sub due our sonnes and daughter vnto bond age/ or some of oure daughter are subdued abray/ and no strengthe is there in our han des/ and other men shall haue oure landes a winyardes.

But when I herdethis complainte and such wordes/ and displeasid me for/ I aduised for in my mynde/ that I rebulid the coun sailers/ and the rulers/ and sayde vnto them: Sec. 10. 1. ¶ Wyl ye requere vsury one of another? And I thought a great congregation aganste the/and sayde vnto them: We (after ouce whyle) hane sought our brethren the Jewes/ which were sold vnto the Hethen. And wyl ye sell your brethren/ whome we haue sought vnto vs? Then held they their peace/ and coulde fynde nothing to saye.

¶ B And I sayde: It is not good that ye do.
Wyl ye not to walk in the feare of God/because of the rebulde of the Hethen ouce to them? And my brethren/ and my serua nts haue lent them money a come: but as for vsury/ let vs leaue it. Therfore the same daye se that ye restore them theyr landes agayne/theyr winyardes/ oylgardens/ and howses/and the hundredth parte of the mooney of the caine/ wync/ a yle ye haue wote of them.

Then sayde they: We wyl restore them agayne/a wyl require nothing of them/ a wyl be as thou hast spoken. And I called the pulcke/ a toke an oery of them/ that they shoulde do so.
And I shoke ny lappe/ a saide: God spake vnto every man after the same maner from his house and labour that many a synch not this word: euen ihu he be spoken out of his mouthe.
And all the congregation sayde: Amen/ and prayed the Lorde. And the people byd so.

¶ Und from the tyme forth that it was ede mited vnto me to be a debite in the lande of Iuda/ namely from the thirtieth yeare/ vnto the two and thirtieth yeare of fynyge Trauoy sea/ (that is verty yeare) I and my brethren lyued not of such sustenance as was geuen to a debite: for the olde debites that were be fore me/ had bene chargeable vnto the people/and had taken of them breade and wync/ and fourty syles of siluer. Yee/ and they serua nts had oppressed the people. But so byd not I/ and that because of the feare of God. I lar boured also in the woike vpon the walle/ and sought no lande. And al my seruants came therce together vnto the woife. Moreover therc were as ny table on hundredth and fiftie of the Jewes and rulers/ which came vnto me from amonge the Hethen that are about vs. And there was prey: euen/ barley an oyl/and fye: chofen shepe/ and gydes/ and eue one man daye a greue summe of wyne.
Yet requyred not I the fyninge of a debite: for the bondage was geuen vnto the peo ple. I thinke vpon me in y God vnto the best/ as accordinge to all that I haue done for this people.

The VI Chapter.

¶ And when Sanchallat/ Tobias and Go thens the Arabian/ and the otry of oure men/ so beyndes I had builded the walle/and that there were no gappe therein/(howbeit at the same tyme had I not ban ked the doore vpon the gate.) Sanchallat a Gouernour vnto me/ sayinge: Come and let vs waite together in the villages/ vpon the plane

plane of the eye One. Whereof I saye / they thought to do me euill. Whereof I saye / I sent messengers vnto thei sayinge / I haue a great busynesse to do / I can not come downe. Thei woulde haue stande still / if I were negligent / I came downe to you. Howbeit / they sent vnto me as good as four times after the same maner. And I gaue the same answer.

B Then sent Sanballat his seruant vnto me the fiftie thyme / with an open letter in his hande / wherein was written : Iesus tolde the Highpriest and Golin both sayde / that thou and the Jews thinke to rebelle for the which cause thou buildest the walles / and wilt be their kinge in these maneres / and hast ordeyned the prophetes to praide of the at Jerusalem / and to saye : He is kynge of Iuda.

Now shall this come to the kyngees eares : come now therefore / and let vs take our counsaile together. Whereof I saye vnto hym / sayinge : There is no such thyng done as thou sayest : thou hast sayned at our of thyme owne hart. For they were all mynded to make warre / and thoughte : They shall withstande theyr handes from the worke / that they shall not labour. Whereat I strengthened my harte the more.

C And I came vnto the house of Senaia / the sonne of Helai the sonne of Mithetabell / a he had shu hym selfe with him / and sayde : Let vs come together into the house of God / euen vnto the myddes of the temple / and spare the deces of the temple / for they will come to sleie thei / yea / euen in the nyght wyl they come to put the to death. But I sayd : Thououldeste such a man / I shouldeste such a man as I am go in to the temple to saue his lyfe : I wyl not go in.

For I perceyued / that God had not sent hym : For I sawe the prophete vpon me / neuer thei / Tobias and Sanballat had hired hym for money. Therefore toke he the money / that I shouldeste be asayed / and so to do and hymne / that they myght haue an euill report of me to blasphemie me. My God thynke thou vpon Tobias and Sanballat / accordyng vnto thei thei wordes / and of the prophete Hozaie / of the other prophetes / that wolde haue put me in feare.

B And the walles was synished on the fyeve and twentyth daye of the moneth / the xxv / on two and fiftye dayes. And when all our mynnes herde thereof / all the children that were about vs / were asayed / and they : courage were led thei / for they perceaued / that this worke came of God. And at the same tyme were there many of the chiefe of Iuda / who had letters went vnto Tobias / and from Tobias a vnto them / for there were many in Iuda that were sworne vnto hym / for he was the sonne in lawe of Saphania the sonne of Azub / and his sonne Saphania had the daughter of Misuliam the sonne of Barachia / and they spake good of hym in before me / and told him my wordes. And Tobias sent letters to put me in feare.

The VII. Chapter.

Now when we had builded the walles / I charged on the doores / and the porters / singers a Leuites were appointed. And I commaunded my brother Sanzian and Hanania the ruler of the palatye at Jerusalem / for he was a saythfull man / and feared God more then by many other / and I gaue vnto them : Let not the gares of Jerusalem be opened vntill the Sonne be vnto. And whyle they are yet standing in the watch / the doore shalbe shut and barred. And there were certayne cyrcles of Jerusalem appointed to be watchmen / every one in his watch / and about his house. So for the cyrcle it was large of cyrcle / and great / but the people were fewe therein / at the houses were not builded.

And my God gaue me in my hart / that I gathered together the principall men and the people to number thei / and I founde a register of thei number / which came vp after of xij. xlv. a the captiuitie / (whome Nabuchodonosor the kynge of Babilon had carryed awaye) and dwelt at Jerusalem and in Iuda / euery one vnto his cyrcle / and were com with Zorobabel / Jesua / Nehemias / Nisaias / Naaima / Nisaiemana / Nardabai / Bilan / Mispietib / Bigai / Ithum and Baena.

This is the nombre of the men of the people of Israell. The children of Paros were a thousande / an hundred a two a fiftie : the children of Sebania / the hundred a two a fiftie : the children of Zabai / five hundred a two and fifty : the children of Dohai / a thousande the children of Jesua and Joab / a thousande cyrcle hundred a eighty : the children of Ielam/ a thousand/ two hundred a four a fiftie: the children of Saisi/ eyght hundred: a fyve a fourty: the children of Socai/ seven hundred a the score: the children of Beai/ six hundred a eyght a forty: the children of Eban/ six hundred a eyght a twenty: the children of Agad/ a M. the hundred a two a twenty: the children of Admeiam/ six hundred a the score: the children of Biguai/ two thousand and seven and the score: the children of Zai/ six hundred a fyve and fiftie: the children of Ziter of the Gadois/ eyght and twenty.

And certayne of the auncient fathers gaue onto the worke. Esairfarba gaue to the treasure a thousande gulden / fifty basens / fyue hundred and thye: yuelles garnetes. And some of the chiefe fathers gaue vnto the treasure of the worke / twenty thousande gulden / two thousande a two hundred pounde of siluer. And the other people gaue twentye thousande gulden / and two thousande pounde of siluer / a seuen and the foure yuelles garnetes. And the priestes a two hundred the porters / the sing:ers / and the other of the people / gaue the thynnis / and all Israel dwelt in theyr cyties.

The VIII. Chapter.

¶ Now when the seventh moneth dwe nye / I found the chyldren of Israel were in theyr cyties / all the people gathered them selfis together as one man vpon the strete before the watergate / and sayde vnto Esdras the scribe / that he should seche the booke of the lawe of Moyses / which the Lorde commaunded Israel.

¶ And Esdras the priest brought the lawe before the congregation both of men and women / and of all that coule vnderstande it / vpon the first daye of the seventh moneth / and read therein in the strete thas before the watergate / fro the thye morninge vntill th noon daye / before men and women / and such as coule vnderstande it / and the carro of all the people receiued vnto the booke of the lawe. And Esdras the scribe stode vpon an hye pulpit of wood / wher they had made so: f pyntes / chynge / and beside him stode Marabba / Semia / Amas / Dina / Helchias / and Macseus on his ryght hande. And on his left hande stode Pedaias / Misael / Misaelchias / Pasum / Pasadas / Isachary and Mesillam.

¶ And Esdras opened the booke before all the people / so he stode aboue all the people. And wher he opened it / all the people stode vp. And Esdras prayed to the Lorde the great God. And all the people answered Amen / Amen / with theyr handes vp / and bowed the selues / as worshipped the Lorde with theyr sacro / to the ground. And Zivua / Bana / Serubus / Jammus / Zeb / Sabirba / Gobaia / Misael / Esira / A-saria / Zofabad / Sana / Dina and the Luites / caused the people to geue hede vnto the lawe / and the people stode in theyr place. And wher he read the booke of the lawe of God distinctly a playn / ly so that men vnderstode the thing that was read. And Helchias / which in Esairfarba / Esdras the priest and scribe / and the Luites / caused the people to take hede / sayde vnto all the people / This daye is holy vnto the Lorde your God / do not ye fete therefore / and wepe not. For all the people wept / wher they had the wordes of the lawe.

Therefore sayde he vnto they: Go your way / and eat the fat / and drinke the swete / and siud pare vnto them also that haue not prepared theyr selues: for it is a daye so holy vnto our Lorde / do not ye fete therefore / for the daye of the Lorde is your strength. And the Luites stylled all the people / and sayde: Holde your peace / for the daye is holy / wepe not ye your selues. And all the people went theyr waye to eat and drinke / and to sende pare vnto other / as to make great mirth / for they had vnderstande the wordes that were declared vnto them.

And on the next daye were gathered together the chiefe fathers amonge all the people / and the priestes and Luites / vnto Esdras the scribe / that he should reade them the wordes of the lawe. And they founde written in the lawe / I howe that the Lorde had commaunded by Moyses / that the chyldren of Israel shoulde dwell in baytes in the feast of the seventh moneth. And so they caused it to be declared / and proclaimed in all theyr cyties / and at Jerusalem saying: Go vpon the moate a feth / vlyne beauches / Dymbeauches / Myrbeauches / Palmbeauches / a baytes of theyr trees / to make boches as it is written.

And the people went vpon / and stred them / and made them boches / carrye ouer vpon the rofe of his house / and in theyr courtes / and in the courtes of the house of God / and in the strete by the Watergate / and in the strete by the Ephraims porte. And all the congregacion of them that were come againt out of the captiuitie / made boches / a duche thynn / so: siene the name of Josia the sune of Amin / vnto this daye / had nor the chyldren of Israel done / as there was very great gladnesse. And carrye daye from the first daye vnto the last / red he in the boke of the lawe of God. And seuen dayes he held theyr the fall / and on the eyght daye the gates were together / accordynge vnto the maner.

The IX. Chapter.

And the foure a twentyeth daye of the moneth berthe the chyldren of Israel together with sayntes and set clothes / and eath vpo them / and separated the seed of Israel from all the straunge chyldren / and stode and knowledgetheir synnes / and the wretchednesse of their fathers / and stode vpon their place / and reb in the boke of the lawe of the Lo:de their God saine tymes on the daye / as they knowledget / and worshipped the Lo:de their God foure tymes on the daye. And the Leuites stode on hye / namely Iesus / Bane / Cabniel / Sebana / Euni / Serchia / Beni / and Ebanan / as cryed loud vnto the Lo:de their God.

And the Leuites / Iesus / Cabniel / Bani / Hasabania / Serchia / Sobia / Sebama / Derhabia / sayde / Stande vp / prayse the Lo:de our God for euer / and let thankes be geuen vnto the name of thy glory / which excelleth all thankesgeyng and prayse. Lo:de / thou art almightie / hast made heauen / and the heauen of all heuens with all thei: host / the earth and all that therein is / the see and all that is therein / thou gauest life vnto all / and the host of heauen bore thei: selfe vnto the.

Exod. ii. b And hast considered the misery of oure fathers in Egipte / and herd thei: complainte by the read see / and stered toke and wondrous vpon Pharao / and on all his seruantes / and on all his people of his land / for thou knowest that they were persiuous and cruel agaynst them / and so madest thou

Some of the name as it is this daye. And the read read: them. they parted them in funder before them / so that they wente in thowen the aydes of the se daye theod: and they: persiuous therewith thou in to the depe as a ston / in the myghy wates / and leddest them on the daye tyme in a cloudy pylle / and on the night season in a pylle of fyre / so that they light in the waye that they wente.

Thou comest daunce also vpon mount E Sinai / and spakst vnto them from heauen / a gauest them ryghte iudgements / true lawes / good commaundements and statutes / and declared vnto them thy holy Sabbath / and commaunded them preceptes / ordinaunces and lawes / by Moses thy seruante: and I gauest them breade fyd becaus: that they were hungry / and broughte forth water for the out of the rocke / that they were thisty: / a piomy: / and said thei: that they should go in / and take possession of the land / wherou: thou haddest sware vpon thine hande for to geue them.

Whertheloffe / ou: fathers were proude and hardned / so that they folowed not thy commaundements / and refused to heare / and were not mynde full of the wordes that thou dyddest say: for them: but became obdinate and heady / in so much that they turned backe to they: chonage in they: disobedience. But thou my God for gauest / and wast gracious / mercifull / payent / and of great goodnesse / a forlovest them not. And though they made a molten calfe / (and sayde: This is thy God) that broughte the out of the land of Egipte) and dyd great blasphemies / yet forlovest thou them not in thei: wickednesse / accordynge to thy great mercy. And the cloudy pylle departed not from them on the daye tyme to lede them the waye / neyther the pylle of fyre in the night season / so that they light in the waye that they wente.

And thou gaust them thy good spirit to enforaine thei: / a witheldst not thy name from their mouth / and gaust them more than they were thisty. Fouertye years longe madest thou pousion for them in the wilderness / so that they wanted nothing: they: clothes were not olde / and they: feet were shod. And thou gauest thei: kingdoms and nations / and percedest thei: accordinge to they: poysons / so that they possided the lande of Egipte / the kyng of Egipte / and the lande of Og the kyng of Basan. And they: chylde: multiplied thou as the sterre of heauen / and broughtest thei: as to the lide wherof thou haddest habbist spoken vnto they: sarpere / that they shoulde goe in to stand haue ien possession.

 And the children wente in / and possessed the lande / a thou subducest beson the the inhabitants of the lande / euen the Canaanites / a gauest them in to their bondage / a their finges and the people of the lande / that they myghte do weryn them what they wolde. And they wode they strong eyes / and sat lande / and toke possession of houses that were full of almaner of goodes / wylles byggd out / vnynyardes / eygardens / a many frutefull trees: and they byd care and were fylled / a became fatte / and luyed in wealth thomr thy greate goodnesse.
 Neuertheless / they were disobedient / and rebellid a geynst the / and cast thy lawe behinde they backes / a / swere thy prophetes / whiche spoked them so earnestly / that they shoulde conuerse vnto the) and byd greate blasphemie.
 Therefore gauest thou them ouer in to the hande of theyr enemies that wred the.

¶ And in the nyne of theyr trouble they cryd vnto the / and thou bestidest them from bea-uen: and thoust thy greate meece thou gauest the sauoure / whiche helped the out of the hande of theyr enemyes. But when they came to rest / they turned backe againe to do euell before the / therefore lestest thou the in the hande of theyr ene-myes / so that they had the dominion ouer the.
 So they conuerted / and cried vnto the / a thou bestidest them from beauen / and many a tyme hast thou deliuered them / according to thy greate meece / and restidest vnto the / that they shoulde turne agayne vnto thy lawe.

¶ Notwithstandyng / they were proude / and behened not vnto thy commaundementes / but spred in thy lawes / (whiche a mā should do / a lye in the) a turned they shoulde awaye / and were styfnecked / a wolde not heare. And many yeres byddest thou sokeare them / and restidest vnto them shomr they spere / euen by the office of thy prophetes / and yet wolde they not heare. Therefore gauest thou them in to the hande of the nationes in the lande. But for thy greate meece sake / thou hast not vnto consumed them / neyther forsaken the: for thou art a gracious and mercifull God.

¶ Now our God / thou greate God / myghte be a vnto the / that kepest commaundmentes and meece / regardes not a lide all the trayayle that hast happened vnto vs / a our finges / pin-ces / pynckles / prophetes / sarpere / a al thy people / sence theryne of the finges of Assur vnto this daye. Thou art enygrous in all that thou hast brought vnto vs: for thou hast done a right.

 To for we / we haue bin enygroued / and our finge / pynces / pynckles and sarpere haue not done after thy lawe / nor regarded thy commaundementes / and thy earnest prophetes wherwith thou hast rebouid them / and hau not serued the in theyr kingdome / and in thy greate goodnes that thou gauest the / and in the large and plenteous lande / whiche thou gauest the to good / and are not conuerted from theyr wyched wayes. Behold e / therefore are we in bondage this day: / See / euen in the lade thou thou gauest vnto our sarpere / to enoye the frutes and goodes thereof / behold / there are we bondemen. And greate is the increase of us vnto finges / w home thou hast let ouer us / because of our synnes / and they haue dominion ouer ouer bodies and cattell / and we are in greate trouble.

¶ And in all this made we a sure commaund / and wrote it / and let oure prynces / Leuites a pnestes make it

The X Chapter.

The tyme of the seconde boke of Esther / otherwyse called the boke of Esther mas.

The first parte of the boke of Esther.

The first Chapter.

At the tyme of Ahasue rus which reigned from India vnto Ethiopia
ouer an hundred and se uen and twenty landes / what tyme as he sat on his kere royall / in the ca stel of Susan in the thirde yeare of his reygne / he made a feast vnto all his prynces and seruauntes / namely vnto to the mighty men of Persia and Media / to the egiptes and eulers of his countre / that he myght shewe the noble riebe of his kyng dome / the glorious worshippe of his great ness / many dayes longer / euen an hundred a four score dayes.

And when these dayes were cpyed / the kyng made a feast vnto all the people / he was in the castell of Susan / both vnto gytate and small town dayes long / in the court of the gar den by the kynges palayce / where there was whyer / read / and yalow clothes / fastned with coaches of spanyll / and scarlet in syluer ringes / vpon pylers of inaceble stoue.

The benches were of golde and siluer / made vpon a pavement of gres / whyer / sa lowe / and blacke marble. And the dyncke was caried in vessels of golde / and there was euer chaunge of vessel. And the kynges wyne was made accordinge to the powere of the kyng. And no man was appointed what he shoulde dynke / for the kyng had commaun ded as the officers of his hous / that eury one shoulde do as it liked hym. And the queene Vasthi made a feast also for the women in the palayce of Abasurus. And on the seventh daye when the kyng was merry of the wyne / he commaunded Methumam / Bisba / Bar bona / Bigtha / Abagtha / Serha / e barces / the seven chamberlaynes / that they shoulde serue in the presence of kyng Abasurus / to seide the queene Vasthi with the crowne cegall / that he myght shewe the people and prynto her suyrenesse / for she was thwyffull. But the queene Vasthi wolde not come at the kynges wynde by his chamberlaynes. Then was the kyng very wroth / and his indignacion knd led in hym.

And the kyng spake to the wyse men that had vnderstandinge in the ordinaunces of the lande / for theynges matters must be hand led before all sude as haue knowlege of the lawe and iudgement. And the nexte vnto him were Charsho / Serhae / Mithaba / Bar sho / Tares / Mafarna and Memuch / the se uen prynces of the Persians / and Medes / which sawe the kynges face / and sat aboute in the kyngdome / what lawe shoulde be serue vpon the queene Vasthi / because she dyd not accordinge to the wynde of the kyng by his chamberlaynes. Then saide Memuch the first the kyng and the prynter. The queene Vasthi hath not onely done euil against the kyng / but also against all the pryntes / and all the people in all the landes of kyng Abasue rus / for theye dete of the queene shall come as desaue vnto all women / so that they shal suffre their hous bandes before their eyes / and shal saye. The kyng Abasurus commaun ded Vasthi the queene to come before hym / but she wolde not. And so shal the pryntes 11

in Persia and Media saye bytwise vnto all the kynge's pynnes/ as they heare of this dede of the queene/ thus shall there arise despytefulnesse/ and wrath ynough. If it please the kynge/ let there go forth a kynghes commaundement from hym/ and let it be wyrtten accordyng to the lawes of the Persians and Medians/ and nos to be transgressed/ ther Vasilie come noiuos before kynge Abasurus/ and let the kynge geue the kynge vnto another that is thirer then he.

And that this wyrttinge of the kynge which shalbe made/ be published throuowout all his Emprre/ which is great/ that all wyse maye holde theyr houndes in honour/ both amonge great and small.

This pleased the kynge and the pynnes/ and the kynge by accordyng to the woide of Menudhan Then were there letters sente south into all the kynge's landes/ into euery lande accordyng to the wyrttinge thereof/ and to euery people after theyr language/ that euery man shoulde be loyd in his owne house. And this caused he to be spoken after the language of his people.

The .II. Chapter.

After these actes/ when the displeasure of the kynge Abasurus was layed/ he thought vpon Vasilie/ what she had done/ and what was concluded/ concerninge her. Then saide the kynge's seruantes: Let there be saye yonge virgins sought for the kynge/ and let the kynge appoynt ouerscees in all the landes of his Emprre/ that they maye bringe together all saye yonge virgins vnto the castel of Susan to the womens buydyng/ vnder the hande of Hegai the kynge's chaumberlaine/ that kepeth the women/ and let him geue them theyr apparel. And loke which damself pleasest the kynge/ let her be queene in Vasilie's steade. This pleased the kynge/ and he by so.

In the castel of Susan there was a Jewe/ whose name was Mardocheus/ the sonne of Jan/ the sonne of Sime/ the sonne of Cie/ the sonne of Jemini/ whiche was carryed awaye from Jerusalem/ when Iedonnes the king of Iuda was ledde awaye/ (whome Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babylon carryed awaye) and he was called Badaffac/ that is Esther/ his Brethren thought: as he had neither father nor mother/ and she was a saye and bewyful damself. And when her father and mother died/ Mardocheus receaued her as his owne daughter.

Now when the kynge's commaundement and commission was published/ and many damself were brought together vnto the castel of Susan/ vnder the hande of Hegai/ Esther was taken also vnto the kynge's house/ vnder the hande of Hegai the keeper of the women/ and the damself pleased hym/ and she founde grace in his syght. And he put her with the maidens in the best place of the womens buydyng. And Esther the woide it not vnto her people/ her kindred/ for Mardocheus had charged her/ that she shoulde not do it. And Mardocheus walke euery daye before the court of the womens buydyng/ that he myghte knowe howe Esther byd/ and what shoulde become of her.

And when the appoynted tyme of the kynge's damself came/ that she shoulde come to the kynge Abasurus/ after that she had bene twelfe monethes in the deckyng of the women/ for there deckyng must haue so much tyme/ namelye fixe monethes with Balme and Myre/ and fixe monethes with good spyes/ so were the women bewyfed. When wente there one damself vnto the kynge/ and what for she requyred/ that must be geuen her to go with her out of the womens buydyng vnto the kynge's palace. And when one came in the euenyng/ the same wente from hym to the mayore vnto the seconde house of women/ vnder the hande of Vasilie/ the kynge's chaumberlaine/ which kepeth the concubynes. And she must come vnto the kynge no more/ excepte it please the kynge/ and that he caused her to be called by name.

Now when the tyme came of Esther the daughter of Vasilie Mardocheus vnto/ (whome he had receaued as his owne daughter) she shoulde come to the king/ for desired her byng/ but what Hegai the kynge's chaumberlaine the keeper of the women saide.

And Esther founde fauour in the syght of all them that loke vpon her. And Esther was taken vnto kynge Abasurus vnto
the

the house royal / in the tenth month whiche is called Tebeth / in the seventh yeare of his reigne.

S And the kynge loued Esther above all the women / and she founde grace and mercy in his syghte before all the virgines: and he set the queenes crowne upon her heades: and made her queene in stead of Vasthi. And the kynge made a great feast vnto all his pynces and seruantes: whiche feast was because of Esther. And let the landes be in quietnes: and gaue royal wyfde.

And when the virgines were gathered together the seconde tyme / Mardocheus sat in the kyngees gate. And as yet had not Esther shewed her fynded and her people / accordinge as Mardocheus had shewen her: for Esther had after the wold of Mardocheus / lyfe as when he was her trower. At the same tyme whyle Mardocheus sat in the kyngees gate / two of the kyngees chaumberlaines / Eshban and Teres / which kepte the doore / were wroth / and sought to laye their handes on the kynge Abasuerus: wherof Mardocheus gat knowlege / a tolde it vnto queene Esther / and Esther certified the kynge thereof in Mardocheus name. And when inquisition was made: it was founde so. And they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the Cronicles before the kynge.

The III. Chapter.

After these actes vnd the kynge promoued Aman the sonne of Amadathai the Agagayon / and set hym by / and set his feete aboute all the pynces that were with hym. And all the kyngees seruantes / were in the gate / shewed they knew / a vnd reverence vnto Aman: for the kynge had so commaunded. But Mardocheus would not do the need / a worshipped hym not. Then the kyngees seruantes which were in the kyngees gate / sayde vnto Mardocheus: Wherof mannestest thou the kyngees commaundment? And what they speake thus sayde vnto hym / a he solde the not: they tolde him / that they might se whether Mardocheus wold wold endure: for he had tolde them that he was a Jewe. And when Aman sawe that Mardocheus would not / knee vnto him / mo worshipped him / he was full of indignacion / a thought that he should laye handes only on Mardo cheus / for they had shewed hym the people of Mardocheus. But he soughte to destroye the people of Mardocheus / a all the Jewes / that were in the whole Emperie of Babylonus.

In the first month / in the month Nisban / in the twelfth yeare of the kynge Abasuerus / was there occasion a oportunitie soughte by Aman / from one Dayer / a another / a from / some month vnto the twelfth month / that is in the month Tebet. And Aman sayde vnto the kynge Abasuerus: There is a people scattered abroad / and dispersed amongst all people in all the landes of thyne Emperie / and they have to contrarye vnto all / people / and they do not after the kyngees lawes / neyther is it / kyngees profyte to suffer them after this maner. This please the kynge / let byn wyte / that they may be destroyed / a so wyl I wote / youne / a some fawntes of siluer / under the handes of / workmen / to be thought in / to kyngees chaumber. Then tolde the kynge his kynge from his hande / and gaue vnto Aman the soune of Amadathai the Agagay the Jewes enemies / And the kynge sayde vnto Aman: Let the siluer be given the / and that people all / to do with all what pleaseth the.

Then were the kyngees serues called on the thirtieth daye of the first month / a there was written Caetero bynne as Aman commaunded vnto the kyngees pynces / and to the debites / euery where in the lande / and to the captaynes of euery people in the contrie on euery syde / accordinge to the wysynge of euery nation / and after they language in the name of the kynge Abasuerus / a sealed with the kyngees ringe. And the wysyngees were sent by postes in to all the kyngees landes / to rote out / to kill / and to destroye all Jewes both yonge / a olde / whiche a and women in one daye / namely vpon the thirtieth daye of the twelfth month / whiche is the month Tebet / and to speake they goodes.

This was the summe of the wysynge / that there should be a commaundment given in all landes / to be published vnto all people / that they should be ready agaynst the same daye. And the postes went in all the landes / accordinge to the kyngees commaundment. And in the castell of Cusan was the commaundment vnto / And the kynge a Aman sat and thanke. But the cyne of Susan was requiured.

The. llii. Chapter.

And when Harbodeus perceaued all that was done, he rente his clothes/and put on a sackcloth/and a shyre/and wente out into the nyddes of the cyne/and cried loude and lamentably/and came before the kynges gate: for there myght no man entrie within the kynges gate/wher he had a sackcloth on. And on all landes and places/as farre as the kynges wynde and commaundement extendeth/there was a great lamentacion amonge the Jewes/and many fasted/weeped/mourned/and late in sackcloth/and in ashes. So Esther Damisels/and her chawndrelaynes came and tolde it her. Then was the queene exceedingly aghored. And for first easment/wher Harbodeus should put them on/and laye the sackcloth from hym.

But Harbodeus wolde not take them. Then called Esther Harbach one of the kynges chawndrelaynes/whiche stode before her/and gaue hym a commaundement vnto Harbodeus/that he myght knowe what it was/and wherfore he dyd so. So Harbach wenth forth to Harbodeus vnto the streete of the cyne/whiche was before the kynges gate.

And when Harbodeus tolde hym of all that had befallen vnto hym/and of the summe of siluer that Aman had promysed to weye thowte in the kynges chawndrelaynes/because of the Jewes to destroye them/and he gaue him the copie of the commaundement/that was wysed at Susan to deliuer them/that he might shewe it vnto Esther/as to speake to her/and charge her/that she should go into the kyng/and make her prayer and supplicacion vnto him for her people.

And when Harbach came in/and tolde Esther the wordes of Harbodeus/Esther spake vnto Harbach/and commaunded hym to saye vnto Harbodeus: All the kynges seruantes/and the people in the landes of the kyng knowe/that whosoever commeth with in the court vnto the kyng/whiche he be man or woman/which is not called by the commaundement in that the same shall be immediatly/except the kyng helde out the golden ccepter vnto him/that he maye liue. To for me/I have not bene called to comen to the kyng now this thynke dayes.

And when Harbodeus was certifyed of Esthers wordes/Marobodeus had saye as gyven vnto Esther: Thyne not a sauariyne owne lyfe/whyle thou art in thy kynges house before at Jerusaleom/for if thou boldest thy peace at this tyme/then shall the Jewes haue help and theyerauerer out of another place/and thou and thy fatheres house shall be destroyed. And who knoweth wherfor thou art come to the kyngedome for this thyng sake? If a shir had bene Marobodeus this answered: Go thou thy waye then/and gather together all the Jewes that are founde at Susan/and fall ye for me/that ye eate not and burne not in this dayes/neither daye nor night. If and my Damisels will fall lyfe with/and so will I go into the kyng/contraire to the commaundement/I perish/I perish. So Marobodeus wente his waye/and dyd all that Esther had commaunded him.

The. V. Chapter.

And on the thirde daye put Esther on her royal apparel/and stode in the court of the kynges palayce/within ouer againste the kynges house. And the kyng sat vpon his royal seate in the kynges palayce ouer againste the doore of the house. And when the kyng sawe Esther the queene standyng in the court/the souerde graace in his syght. And the kyng helde out the golden ccepter in his hande to warder Esther. So Esther steepe forth/and touched the toppe of the ccepter. Then saide the kyng vnto her: What wyle thou euen Esther/and what requestest thou? for euen the halfe of the Emperre/and it shall be geuen thee. Esther saide: If it please the kyng/let I praye a Aman come this daye vnto the banke/that I haue prepared. The kyng saide: Cause Aman to make haste/that he maye do as Esther hath saide.

Now when the kyng and Aman came to the banke/that Esther had prepared/the kyng said vnto Esther why an he had dyonfen winc: Esther/what is thy petition? it shall be geuen thee. And what requestest thou? euen the halfe of the Emperre/it shall be done.

Then answered Esther and saide: My petition and request is/that I haue founde graue in the sight of the kynge / and it please the kynge to geue me my pencyon / and to fulfill my request / wher let I kynge and Aman came to the Banquet that I shal prepare for them / and so will I go to morowe as the kynge hath sayde.

Then wente Aman forth the same daye toyfull and merry in his mynde. And when he came to Mardochus in the kyngees gate / that he rode not up a steele before him / he was full of indignacion agaynst Mardochus. The wordes he restrained himselfe; and when he came home he sent a called for his frendes / a Seres his wyfe / a tolde them of the glorie of his ryche / a the multitude of his children altogether / how the kynge had promoted him so greatly / a how that he was taken about the pynces and seruantes of the kynge. Aman saide mouer. See a Esther the queene let no man come with I kynge vnto the Banquet that she hath prepared / except me / and to morowe I am bydden vnto her also with the kynge. But in all this am I not satisfied as longe as I see Mardochus the Jewe sitinge in the kyngees gate. Then sayde Seres his wyfe / a all his frendes vnto hym: Let them make a galow of fyne cubics here / and to morowe speake thou vnto the kynge / that Mardochus maye be hangd thereon / if thou comest merely with the kynge vnto the Banquet. Aman was wel contente therwith / and caused a galow to be prepared.

The VI. Chapter.

In the same nyght coude not the kynge sleepe / and he commaunded to bringe the Cronicles and storyes: which when they were red before the kynge / they happened on the place where it was written: how Mardochus had tolde that I kynge two chaunces of lynces: which were he that holdes soughe to laye handes on King Abasurus. And I kynge said: What wisshippe and good haue we done to Mardochus the Jewe? Then sayde the kyngees seruantes that mysliked vnto hym: There is no benefite done for hym. And the kynge sayde: Who is in the court? For Ama was gone into the court without / before the kyngees house / that he mighte speake vnto the kynge to hange Mardochus on the tree / that he had prepared for him. And the kyngees ser-uantes sayde vnto hym: Behold Aman standeth in the court. The kynge saide: Let him come in. And when Aman came in / the kynge sayde vnto hym: What shal be done vnto the man whome the kynge is dysposed to bringe vnto wisshippe? But Aman thoughte in his herte: Whome shoulde the kynge els be glad to bringe vnto wisshippe / but me? And Aman sayde vnto the kynge: Let the man vnto whome the kynge is dysposed to go wisshippe / be thoughte wyser / that he maye be arayed with the royall garmentes / whiche the kynge useth to weare: and the haire that the kynge useth vpon / and that the creun royall maye be set vpon his heade. And let this sayment and haire be deliuered vnder the hande of one of the kyngees pyncers / that he maye araye the man withall / whome the kynge is dysposed to honoure: a carrye hym vpon the horse that ow the steepe of the cyme / a cause it to be proclaymed before him: Euen shal it be done to euery man / whome the kynge is dysposed to honoure.

The kynge saide: Make hayres / a take Caos thou hast sayde. The sayment a the haire / and so cienst with Mardochus the Jewe that sitteth before the kyngees gate / and let nothinge sayle of al that thou hast spoken. Then toke Aman the sayment and the haire / and arayed hym / a broughte him on horse backe thow the steepe of the cyme / and proclaymed before him: Euen thus shall it be done vnto euery man whome the kynge is dysposed to honoure. And Mardochus came again to the kyngees gate / but Aman gat hym home in all the hayres / a tounyng with bareheade / a tolde Seres his wyfe / a all his frendes / euery thinge that had happened hym. Then sayde his wyfe: What a Seres his wyfe vnto hym: If it be Mardochus of the side of the Jewes / before whome thou hast begunne to fall / thou shalt do no thyng vnto hym / but thou shalt fall before hym. While they were yett all kynge with him / cause the kyngees chamberlaynes / a caused Aman to make hayres to come vnto the Banquet that Esther had prepared.

The VII. Chapter.

In the same nyght the kynge and Aman came to the Banquet that queene Esther had prepared: the kynge sayde vnto Esther on the seconde daye Waye when he had thought wyne: What is thy penion quene Esther? y it maye be geue thee? And what request thou? Yee/ere euen halfe of the Emperour/shal be done. Esther the quene answered a sad: If I have found grace in thy sighte/ O fyng/and if it please the fyng/then graunte me my life as my besynde/and my people for my penions sake: for we are solde to be destroyed/no be slaine/ and to perye. And wolde God we were solde to be sold to men and women/then wolde I holde my tongue/so shoulde not the enemye be so by to the fynges harme. The fyng Abasuerus spake and laide vnto quene Esther: What is he that? O: where is he the darre picture in his mynde to be sude a thyng after that innocet? Esther sayde: He encynyt a contrary to this wyshed Aman.

B As for Aman: he was exceedingly afeard before the fyng and the quene. And the fyng arose from the Banquet and from the wine in his displeasur/ and went into the palaye garden. And Aman slode vp/and besought quene Esther for his life: for he sawe that there was a misthallee prepared for hym of the fyng already.

And when the fyng came agayne out of the palaye garden into y parker/where they had eaten/Aman had laied him upon the bed that Esther lay upon. Then sayde the fyng: myll he force the quene also besyde me in the house? As soone as the woide wente out of the fynges mouth/they covered Amans face. And Arbana one of the chamberlaines that slode before the fyng/sayde: Beholde/there standeth a galowe in Amans house fyfte cubytes hie/ which he had made for Mardocheus that spake good for the kyng. The fyng sayde: Hang hym there. So they hanged Aman on the galowe that he had made for Mardocheus. Then was the kynges wrath stilled.

The. VIII. Chapter.

A Besyme waye Syd kyng Abasuerus geue the house of Aman the Jewes encynyt/ vnto quene Esther. And Mardocheus came before the fyng: so Esther tolde howe that he belonged vnto her. And the kyng put of his fyngers/ which he had taken from Aman/ and gaue it vnto Mardocheus. And Esther set Mardocheus ouer the house of Aman. And Esther spake yet more before the fyng/ and set vnto at his feet/ and besought hym/ that he wolde put awaye the wyshed name of Aman the Agagite/ and his wyse: that he had ymagined against the Jewes. And the fynge laide out the golden cuppe vnto Esther. Then arose Esther/ and slode before the fyng/ and sayde: If it please the fyng/ and if I have founde grace in thy sighte/ and if it be convenient for the fyng/ and if I be accepted in thy sighte/ then let it be wyttne/ that the letters of the wyse of Aman the sonne of Ammodath the Agagite/ maye be called agayne: which letters he wrote/ to destroye the Jewes in all the fynges landes. For howe can I see the euill that shall happen vnto my people/ and howe can I lode upon the destruction of mynued.

Then said the kyng Abasuerus vnto quene Esther/ and to Mardocheus the Jewe: Ye holde/ I have geuen Esther the house of Aman/ and han haue they hanged vpon a tree. Because he layed hande vpo the Jewes. Write ye now therof for y Jewes/ so it lyeth vpon in the fynges name/ and seal it with the fynges ringe. For the wynges that were wrytten in the fynges name/ a sealed with the fynges ringe/ shall no man vsualle. Then were the fynges scribes called at the same tyme in the thurde month/ that is the month of Sio Maye/ upon the thir and twentieth daye.

And it was wrytten Cas Mardocheus ed. & manded vnto the Jewes and to the pryntes/ to the Debates and representes in the landes from India vntill Ethiopia/ namely/ a hundred and seuen and twenty landes/ vnto euery one according to the wynges that were of vnto euery people after they: spide and to the Jewes/ according to the wynges & language.

And it was wrytten in the fynges Abasuerus name/ and sealed with the fynges ringe. And by posses that were vpon swyft yonge Mules/ sent he the wynges/ wherein the fyng geiuned the Jewes/ in what cytyes/ for they were/ to gather themselves together/ and to stande for they: lyf/ and for to eate out of the place/ and to destroye all the power of the people/ and wher they wolde trouble them/with

with children and women/and to spoyle their good upon one Daye in all the landes of King Abasuerus/ namely upon the thirteenth daye of the twelfth moneth/which is the moneth Adar.

- 2 The summe of the wytynges was / howe there was a commaundment geuen in all landes to be publishyd vnto all the people that the Jewes shoulde be ready agaynst that daye to avenge themselues on theyr enemyes. And the palles that rode vpon the mules / made hayll with all speede/ accordynge to the Kinges word: and the commaundment was obeyed in the castle of Susan.

As for Mardocheus / he wente out from the hynge in royall apparell of yallowe and white / and with a greate crowne of golde/ beynge arayeth with a garment of linnen or purple/ and the cittye of Susan reioyced and was glad: but vnto the Jewes there was come lyght a gladnesse/ and ioye and trustyng. And in all landes a ctyce/ into what places soeuer the Kinges woide a commaundment reachyd/ there was ioye/ myshap/ prosperite a good daye among the Jewes: in so maner that in many people in the lande became of the Jewes Belief: for the feare of the Jewes came vpon them.

The IX. Chapter.

- 2 IN the twelfth moneth / that is the month Adar/ vnto the thirteenth daye / which the hynge woide and commaundment had appoynted/ that it shoulde be done/ cuen vpon the same daye that the enemyes shoulde haue destroyed the Jewes to haue oppressed them/ it turned contrary wise: cuen that the Jewes shoulde subdue theyr enemyes. Then gathered the Jewes together in theyr cities within all the landes of hynge Abasuerus / to lay hande on such as woide do them euill / a no-man coulde withstande them: for the feare of them was come ouer all people. And all the rulers in the landes/ and princes and seruises/ and officers of the hynge pynored the Jewes: for the face of Mardocheus came vpon them. For Mardocheus was great in the hynge house/ and the repute of him was hofed in all landes/ howe he increased and grew.

Thus the Jewes smote all their enemyes with a sore slaughter/ and slewe a destroyed/and vnto after their wyll vnto such as were their aduersaries. And at the castle of Susan slewe the Jewes/ and destroyed thys hederic men/ and slewe Parsandatha/ Dalphon/ Aspata/ Dora/ Dabai/ Aridatha/ Darnastha/ Arissa/ Andra/ Vaisath/ and the ten sonnes of Aman/ the sonne of Amadathu/ the enemye of the Jewes: but on his goodes they layd no handes. At the same tyme was the hynge carnfyed of the number / of those that were slayn at the castle of Susan. And the hynge saide vnto quene Esther: The Jewes haue slayn and destroyed thre hundred men at the castle of Susan / and the ten sonnes of Amans/ What shal they do in the other landes of the hynge: What is thy pention / that maye be geuen the: and what requyre thou more to be done: Esther saide: If it please the hynge/ let hym suffer the Jewes to morowe also to do accordynge vnto this dayes commaundment/ that they maye hynge Amans ten sonnes vpon the tree. And the hynge charged to do so/ and the commaundment was obeyed at Susan/ and Amans ten sonnes were hanged. And the Jewes gathered them selfes together at Susan/ vpon the fourteenth daye of the month Adar/ and slewe thre hundred men at Susan/ but on theys goodes they layd no handes.

As for the other Jewes in the hynge landes/ they came to gether/ and shode for theyr lyfes/ and gat rest from theyr enemyes: a slewe of their enemyes thys a sturmy thousande/ hundred: they layd no handes on theyr goodes. This was done on the thirteenth daye of the month Adar/ and on the fourteenth daye of the same moneth rested they / which daye they oidernd to be a daye of feasting and gladnesse. But the Jewes at Susan were come together both on the thirteenth daye / on the fourteenth / and on the fiftenth daye they rested / and the same daye oidernd they to be a daye of feasting and gladnesse. And for the Jewes that dwelt in the villages/ and vncalled townes / oidernd the fourteenth daye of the month Adar/ to be a daye of feasting and gladnesse/ and one hute gyfetye vnto another.

And Mardocheus wrote these actes / and sente the wytynges vnto all the Jewes that were were in all the lande offying Abasuerus/both nye and farre/that they shoulde yearly receaue and holde the souerayn and syverny day of the moneth Adar/as the dayes wherein the Jewes came to rest from theyr enemyes / and as a moneth wherein theyr payne was turned to ioye/as theyr fortune in to prosperite: that they shoulde obserue the same as dayes of wealthe and gladnesse/and one to sende giftes vnto another/and to distribute vnto the poore.

And the Jewes receaued it that they had begunne to do / and that Mardocheus wrote vnto them: how that Aman the sonne of Mardochai the Agogite all the Jewes enemye/ had deuyed to destroye all the Jewes / and caused the lot to be cast for to pue the in feare/a co buyng the to a naughte: a how Esther went and spake to the kynge/that sheweth letters how theyr dede/whiche he ymagined agaynst the Jewes / might be turned vpon his owne heade/ and how he and his sonnes were hanged on the tree. for the which cause they called this day Purim after the name of the lot / accordyng to all the wydoes of this writing / a whiche they the selfes had sent / and whiche had happened vnto the.

¶ And the Jewes set it vp / and take it vpon them and ther selfe/ and vpon all suche as theyme themselves vnto the / that they wolde not mysse to obserue these two dayes yearly/according as they were written and appointed how that these dayes are not to be forgotten/ but to be kepte of chylders chyldren amonge all theyre in all landes and cyties. They are the dayes of Purim/whiche are not to be ouerslypt amonge the Jewes / and the remoual of them ought not to perishe from theyr side.

¶ And queene Esther the daughter of Abihail/a Mardocheus the Jewe/wrote with all auctorite/to confirme this seconde winninge of Purim / and sente the letters vnto all the Jewes in the hundredth and seuen and twety landes of the Empire of Abasuerus / with frendly a fayrshull wydoes / to confirme these dayes of Purim in theyr tyme appointed/ accordyng as Mardocheus the Jewe/a Esther the queene had ordeyned/declaringe the selfe as theyr vppon theyr soules/ and vpon theyr selfe had confirmed the actes of the fastynges of the dayes. And Esther commaunded to stablythe these actes of this Purim/and to wyte them in a booke.

The X. Chapter.

¶ And the king Abasuerus layed tribute vpon the lande/and vpon the Iles of the sea. As for all the wyse of his power and auctorite/as the greates worthyppe of Mardocheus/whiche the king gaue him/herbolde it to write vnto the Cronicles of the kynges of Media and Persia. for Mardocheus the Jewe was the seconde next vnto kynge Abasuerus/and greates amonge the Jewes / and accepted amonge the multitude of his brethren / as one that liked the wealthe of his people/a spake the beste for all his side.

The booke of Job.

The first Chapter.

¶ There was a man in the lande of Suda called Job: an innocēt and vertuous man / such one as feared God / and eschewed euill. This man had seuen sonnes/and three daughters.

¶ His substance was. vt. lii. shep. lii. Camelo. v. C. yocle of oxen. v. C. sheffio / and a very great housholde: so that he was one of the moost principall men amonge all them of the East contrie. His sonnes now went on euery mornyng and made banckettes one day in one house/ another day in another / a sent for them the selfe to eate and drynke with them. So when they had passed ouer the tyme of theyr bancketyng round about / Job sent for them/ and clenched them agayne / so that they vppon offered for euery one a burnt offering. for Job thought thus: peraduenture my sonnes haue done some offence / and haue ben vnthriftful to God in theys hertes. And thus dyd Job every daye.

Job. 1. 4. B Then upon a tyme/when the seruantes of God came and stode before the Lord/Sathan came also to auerage them. And the Lord sayde vnto Sathan: From whence comest thou? Sathan answered the Lord:/and sayde: I haue gone aboute the lande/and walked vpon it.

1. Pet. v. 6. Then sayde the Lord vnto Sathan: hast thou not considered my seruant Job/how that he is an innocent and vertuous man: such one as feareth God/a escheweth euill/and that there is none like hym in the lande. Sathan answered and sayd vnto the Lord: Doerth Job feare God for naught: hast thou not persecuted hym/his house/and all hys substance on euery side? hast thou not blessed the workers of his hande? Is not his possession increased in the lande: But laye thyne hande vpon hym, byn a lytle/cause ouer all that he hath/and I holde. He shall curse thee to thy face. And the Lord sayde vnto Sathan: all that he hath/be in thy power: onely vpon himselfe/see that thou laye not thyne hande. Then wente Sathan forth from the Lords presence.

E Then vpon a certayne daye/when hys sonnes and daughters were carynge/and duncyng wyne in theys eldres brothers house/there came a messenger vnto Job/and said: While the oxen were a plowynge/and the asses goynge in the pasture besyde them: the Sabaea came in violently/ and toke them all awaye: yee/ they haue slayne the seruantes with the sword/ and I onely ranne my waye/ to tell the.

And whyle he was yet speakynge/ there came another/ and sayde: The shepe of God is fallen from heauen/ it hath consumed/ and bene vpon all the shepe and seruantes: and I onely ranne my waye/ to tell the. In the meane season whyle he was yet speaking/ there came another/ and sayde: The camels made the arroyes/ and fell in vpon the camels/ which they haue caryed awaye: yee/ a slayne the seruantes with the sword: and I onely am gotten awaye/ to tell the.

D Whyle he was speaking/ there came yet another/ and sayde: Thy sonnes and daughters were carynge and duncyng wyne in theys eldres brothers house/ and so donly there came a mighty great wynd out of the South/ and smate the iij. corners of the house: whiche fell vpon thy chyldren/ so that they are dead: and I am gotten awaye alone/ to tell the.

Then Job stode vp/ and rent hys clothes/ shaued hys head/ and laye vpon the ground/ worshipped/ and sayde: I knowe I am dust and ashe: and where shall I be? Turne thyne eie agayne. The Lord gaue/ and the Lord hath taken awaye/ (The Lord gaue) hath bene his pleasure/ now beseech the name of the Lord. In all these thynges I did not offend/ nor murmured foolishly agaynst God.

The. ii. Chapter.

E Then happened also vpon a tyme/ that the iij. seruautes of God came and stode before Job: so the Lord/Sathan came also among thei/ and stode before him. And the Lord sayde vnto Sathan: From whence comest thou? Sathan answered/ and sayde: I haue gone about the lande/and walked vpon it.

Then sayde the Lord vnto Sathan: Hast thou not considered my seruant Job/how that he is an innocent a vertuous man/ such one as feareth God/and escheweth euill/a that there is none lyke hym in the lande: But thou moudeste agaynst hym/ to punissh hym: yet is it in wayne/ for he standeth still in his godlynesse.

Sathan answered the Lord/ and sayde: Swayne for swayne/ yee/ a man wil geue all that ever he hath for his life. But laye thyne hande vpon hym/ touche hym once vpon the ihebone and flesh/ and I hold/ he shall curse the to thy face. Then sayde the Lord vnto Sathan: there shall thou be in thy power/ but spare his life.

So wente Sathan forth from the Lords/ and smote Job with maruelous sores/ he laye vpon the sole of the foote vnto his crones/ so that he sat vpon the ground in the ashe/ and scraped of the citre of his sores with a porcedo.

Then sayde hys wyfe vnto hym: I curse thee yet continue in thy perfectnesse: curse God/ and dye. But Job sayde vnto her: Thou speakest lyke a foolish woman: Whyngre haue receaued prosperytie at the hande of God/ where wherefore shoulde we not be content with aduersite also: For all these thynges byd not Job synne with his lippen.

E Now when Jobs frendes herd of al the trouble: they happened onto him: there came the of the: every one fro his owne place: namely: Eliphaz the Themanite: Balda the Suhite: and Sophar the Naamathite.

For they were agreed together to come / to shew theyr compassion vpon hym / and to edifyte hym. So when they leste vp they crye a salte of theyr frowne hym in noe.

Then cryed they / and torpethen every one of them rente his clothes / and spundekd duste vpon theyr heades in the aye. They sat them doun by hym also vpon the grounde xij. dayes / and. viij. nyghtes. Neither was there any of them that spake one woide vnto hym / for they sawe that his payne was very greate.

The. III. Chapter.

A After this opened Job his mouth / and cursed his daye / and sayde: lost be that daye / wherein I was borne: and the night / in the which it was made: there is a man that is deceaued. The saine daye be turned to darkness / and not regarded of God from aboue: neither he spued vpon with light: but be couered with darkness / and the shadowe of death. Let the dymme cloude sel vpon in / and let it be lapped in with scowle. Let the darke storme ouercome that nyght / let it not be reuencd amogge the dayes of the yere: nor counted in the nonethes. Bespyed be the nyght / and discontinued: let them that curse the daye / gae it theyr curse also: euen those that be ready to raise vp Kenanah. Let the starres be dymme: thoue darkness of it. Let us loke for light: but let us see none: neither the rynging vp of the fawne mourning: because it saut not vpon the wombe that bare me / nor byd these sorrowes fro mine eye.

B Also why died I not in the byrthe: Why did not I perish: so fone as I came out of my mothers wombe: Why did they me vp theyr frende: Why gae they me suck with their breasts: Then shoulde I now haue been still: I shoulde haue slept: as Ben at rest: like as the firste a lorde of the carthe: whiche bounde them selfe speciall places: So the pynnes that haue great substance of golde / and theyr house full of siluer. O that I utterly had no bynging: or were as a thinge borne out of time: that vs put asid: whether as yonge chylidren: which neuer sawe the light. There cannt I welede escape from theyr synne: there such as are ouerlaboured: be at rest: there are those lysten out of which haue ben in prison: so that they heare none: the voyce of the oppressour. There are small and great: the bondeman: and he that is free from his master.

Wherefore to the light geurn / to him that is in misery: and life vnto them: that haue heavy beres: Whiche longe for death: and it cometh not: for if they might fynde their graue: they woude be in a very plous glad: as those that digge vp treasure. To the man whose warfare is byd / whiche God kepeth dactre from hym.

This is the cause: that I sythe before I ate: and my roarynges fell out like a water floude. For the thyng: that I feared is come vpon me: and the thyng: that I was afraid of: is happened vnto me. Was I not happye: Had I not quietnesse: Was I not in rest: And now cometh such misery vpon me.

The. IIII. Chapter.

When answered Eliphaz of Theman / and sayde vnto hym: If we degyne to commune with the / peradventure thou wilt be ynconfort: but who can withhold himselfe from speakinge. Beholde: thou hast ben a teacher of many: and hast confounde the weery hande.

Thy wordes haue set vp those that were fallen / thou hast refreshed the wacke frende. But now that plague is come vpo the: thou shuenest away / it wot us hard wounded thyselfe: thou art sayne hernd. For the now thy feare of God / thy selfe saluance / thy patience / and the perfectnesse of thy life. Considre: I pray the: who euer perished / byng an innocente: Or: whan were the godly destroyed: As for those that plowe in ykednesse: Cas I haue sene my selfe: / and fore me myselfe: they reape Cal. vj. of the same. For whan God bloweth vpo them: they perishe / and are destroyed: thou the bleste of his wrath. The roaryng of the Lyon: the crenng of the Lyonsse: and the terre of the Lyons whelpes are broken. The greate Lyon perissheth: because he can get no pray / and

D Not the lyfe of man vpon earth a very vayne thing: The way his dayes / as the dayes of an hyed seruaunt: For he is as a bond seruaunt despyeth the shadowe / as so he byching wolde same haue an ende of his woofe: Euen so haue I laboured whole monethes / and geue in vaine: And neary a carefull nyght haue I tolde. When I layed me downe to slepe / I sayde: O whan shall I ryse: I gaue / I longed sore for the myght. Euen I am full of offitour / yll wiche darke. My fleshe is sloated with wormes / shynnes and dust / my synne is wythred / and cropled together: I my dayes passe ouer most speedely / like a veecher can weete oue his worbbe / and are gone or I am aware. shall shall proue me a wicked doer: for I should be an innocēt/my conscience knoweth not/ yea I my self am weary of my life.

This one thing wil I say: I be distressed both the righteous and vngodly And though he shall be scourged with the scourge/ yet laugheth he at the punishment of the innocēt. As for the world/ he getteth it ouer in to the power of the wicked/ such as the colere be/ whereof all labors are full. So it is not so/ where is there any/ but he is to suffer one.

¶ Many dayes haue ben more swifte then a runner: they are gone soderly/ and haue sent no good thing. They are passed away as the spewe that be good vnder sayle/ as a Tangle that basketh to the piue. When I am purposed to forge my complaininge to chaunge my countenance/ and to comforte my self: when am I assured of all my weales/ for I know/ how I sauiours/ as an euil doer. If I be the wicked one/ why haue I laboured in vayne? Though I washed my self with snow water/ a madrinne hades neuer so cleane/ yet shouldst thou wipe me in the mire/ a mine of ore clothes should be defile me. For be that I muste geue answer vnto/ a wight whome I go to law in: is not a man as I am. Whether to there any dayes ma to repute both the parties/ or to lay his hande betwixt vs. Let him take his rod away from me/ see/ let him make me no more a fraud of him/ and then shall I answer him without any feare. For as long as I am in such fearfulnesse/ I can make no answer: And why he greueth my soul to hure.

The. X. Chapter.

¶ Zophar the Eliphazite/ now he will I put forth my wordes: I will speake out of the very heart of my soule/ as I will say vnto God: Do not condemne me/ but shew me the cause/ wherefore thou iudgest me on this manner. Thinkest thou it will done/ to oppresse me/ too easie me of/ (beinge a wight of thy hande) a to mainteine the countessill of the vngodly: Hast thou fleshy eyes/ or dost thou see as man seeth? Are thy eares as the eares of man/ and thy seeres as mans seeres: that thou makest thy inquisition for my wickednesse/ and searchest out my sinns: where as (nor without sinning) thou knowest that I am no wicked person/ and that there is no man able to debate me out of thine hand. Thy hande haue made me/ and fashioned me altogether round about/ wilt thou thin destroye me suddenly? Remember I beseeche thee/ how that thou inwardly of the moule of the earth/ and shalt bringe me to earth agayne.

Hast thou not milke me/ as it were milke: hast thou not cruddes like cheese? Thou hast couered me with skinne and hidest me in the marrow together with bones and sinewes. Thou hast granted me life/ and thou art good: and the diligent hidest that thou dost upon me/ hath preserved my spere.

Though thou hidest these things in thine heart/ yet am I sure/ that thou rememberst the all. Wherefore hiddest thou kept me/ when I sinned/ and hast not cleansed me from mine offences? If I do wickedly/ thou art me therefore: If I be righteous/ yet darre I not lye vp my head: so full am I of confusion/ and his mynne misery.

¶ Thou hastest me out/ bringe in beaues/ as it were a Lyon/ and troublest me out of measure. Thou bringest fresh wyndes as against me/ thy wrath increaseth thou upon me/ very many are the plagues/ that I am in. Wherefore hast thou brought me out of my mothers wombe? Where I had perished/ and that no eye had seene me. If they had carid me to my graue/ as soone as I was borne/ thin shouldst I be now/ as though I had neuer bene.

Shall not my throte be like some son to an ende? Shall hee the first me/ let me alone/ that I may ease my self a litle afore I go thither/ so because I shal not turne again: Namely/ to that land of darkenesse/ and shadow of death: yea in to that darke/ cloudy land and deadly shadow/ where as is no order/ but terrible feare as in the darkenesse.

The. XI. Chapter.

¶ Ben answered Sopha the Naamathite/ and saide: Should not be that makest many wordes/ be answered? Shouldst thou babble much/ be condemned thine? Should not geue care vnto thy onely? Thou wilt laugh at mee/ me to scorn/ as thal no body neede thee against. Wilt thou say vnto God: The thing hee I fate in hande/ no perfect/ as I am cleane in thy sight?  Wad ye kepe your tongue / wher ye might be taken for wyse men. Therfore heare my wodes / and ponder the sentence of my hyppes.

Will ye make aunswere for God woth lyce / and maintaine him wth deceite? Wd ye accepte th: persons of God / and increase for him? Shall that helpe you / when he calleth you to reckoning? Think ye to begyle him / as a man is begyled? Quisite you shall be /

 Holde your tungenow / and let me speake / for there is some thinge cometh into my minde.
 Wherefore do I feare my selfe in my teeth / and my soule in myne handes? Lo there is a number comforte not hope for me / if he will slay me. But if he shew and reprove myne misdoings and sinnes? Let me knowe my selfe penitens and offeener. Wherefore hidest thou the face / and holdest me for thine enemy?

 Whye thou the so cruel and extreme vnto a sheighe lease / and followe vpon the stubble?
 that thou ledest so that ply to my charge / and wilt vterely onde me? for the sinnee of my soule eater / and as a dothe that is moth eaten.

The XIII. Chapter.

W
 In this is borne of a woman / hard but I as short time to liue / and is full of vners miseries. He cometh vp / and fallth awaye like a floure. He sturth as it were a shadowe / and neare cometh in an estate.
 Thinkest thou it not well done to open thine eyes vpon such one / and to struge me before the in subyugment? Who can make v clean / that cometh of an vnclen thinge?
 No body. The daye of man are thine / the number of his moneths are knowne onely vnto the. Thou hast appointed him his boundes / he canne not go beyonde them.
 Go from him / that he maye rest a lile: on till his weie come / which he loatheth for like as an byrelange dooth.

For thou hast numbered all my goynges / yet be not thou to erre me vpon my finnes. E Thou hast scaled vpon mine offences / as it were

Thou persecutest against him / so that he passeth away as thou shalt see his estate / and putteth him from thee. Wherby his children come to weorshippe / or no / he canne not tell: And if they be men of lowe degree / he knoweth not. While he lyeth in his bed / he must haue traualle: and to wyle the soules in him / he must be in sorrowe.

The .XV. Chapter.

Then answered Elyphas the Themanite / and sayde: Shoulde a wise man goue syle an answer? / Can it were one that speaketh in the wynde / and full his stomack with anger? Thou reioicest with woordes that are not thyng worth: and speakest the thyng / which can do no good. As for blame / thou hast set it aside / els wooldst thou make for many woordes before God: but thy wyrdlesse teacheth thy mouth / and so thou hast chosen the a crosse ringe. Thine owne mouth condemnerth the land / nor I yet / thine owne lipps shalpe I an answer. Yet thou the frill man / that cure was borne: We wold thou made before the bylles: shall thou herde thy secret counsayl of God / that all wyrdome is to lyke for the? What knowest thou / that we knowe not? What understandest thou / that we can the same? With we are olde aged men / yett such as haue such longer then thy fathers.

Doest thou nomore regard the comfort of God: but thy wicked woordes will not suffre the. Why doest thou here made the so proud? Why standest thou so greatly in thine owne conceite? Where onto loke thine eyes / that thy minde is so pufft up against God / a litlest such woordes go out of thy mouth: What is a man / that he shoulde be cleane? What hath he / which is borne of a woman / whereby he might be knowe to be righteous? Whoulde he hath founde onsaufhfullnesse amonge his owne sanctunesse / the very beaunces are on cleane in his sight. How muche more thyn an abhominable and vyle man / which drunkenly wretchedlike trauelet / I will tell the heare me: I wyl herre the thyng / that I knowe: which wise men haue tolde / a hath not bene byd from their fathers: vnto whom only the laide was geuen / that no straunger shoulde come amonge them.

The wngodly despayreth all the dayes of his life / and the number of a tyrannous yearcs is vnknowe. A statefull founde is cur in his care / and when is peace / yett feareth he destruction: He beleueth neuer to be deliuered out of his fenesse: the sword is alwaye before his eyes. When he goeth forth to get his hyunge / he thynketh playnly / that the bare of backenesse is at hand: Soisw and carefulnesse make him afraid / and compasseth hym rounde aboute / lyke as it were a finge with his booll ready to the barrell. For he hath steeched out his hande against God / and armed himselfe against the Almightye. He sunneth proudly upon him / and with a stiff necke syngeth against him: wether can he receiue his face with samenesse / and maketh his body well hyunge. Therefore shall his byrdlesse be in desolate cynces / and in houses whiche woman inhabiteth / but are become heapes of stoncs.

He shal not be ryche / neyther shall his substance continue / nor encrease upon earth. He shall neuer come out of backenesse / the flame shall drye up his graunches / with the blaste of the mouth of God / that he be iden a waye. He wyl neyther applye himselfe to saythfullnesse / nor to ceterch / so for is he decreawd with vanitie.

He shall perthe as the cyme be wyne out / and his hande shall not be grene. He shal be the flacke of an enemye / grent from the veyneland / shall let his flour fall for the orlyue doct. For he congregation of Sporye is vnfructfull: and the sye shall consume the houses of such / as are greedy to receaue greuous. He conceaueh traualle / he stretcheth his myschaire / and his body bringeth forth the syle.

The .XV. Chapter.

Then answered and saide: I haue offrye. When hath such thyngis / Miserable greuous of comfort are ye / all the soule of you. Shall not thy vayne woordes come in to an end? Hast thou yet any more to saye? I coulde speake / as ye do also. But wolde God / that your soule were in my soules / and then shoulde I heape up woordes againste you / and shalpe my heade at you. I shoulde comforte you with my mouth / and releafe your payne.

payne with the taltynge of my lippen. But why shall I do it: for all my woides / my forswore will not cease: and though I holde my tongue / yet will I not departe frome. And now that I am full of payne / and all that I haue desired / whereof my wretchen heare wretchednesse / standeth vp a byssander to make me answer with lyes to my face. He is angry at me: he hateth me / and shall beare vpon me with his reb. Myne enemies shall rebidde vpon me with his eyes.

B They haue opened their mouthes wide vpon me / and smiten me vpon the cheeke despitely: they haue eased them selves: tho: vpon myne aduersitye. God hath giuen me ouer to the yngebly: / and delucted me into the handes of the wicked. I was sometime in wealth: but suddenly hath he slought me to naught. He hath taken me by the necke: he hath cast me / and set me / as it were a make for him to spue at. He hath compassed me round about with his furrowe: he hath rounded my loines / and not spared. My bowels hath he poured vpon the grounde. He hath giuen me one wound vpon another: / and is fallen vpon me like a grauener. I haue sowed a sackcloth vpon my Tunicke: / and lye with my strength in the dust.

C My seccis are swollen with weepinges / and myne eyes are wept by mine. Howebeit there is no wekednesse in my handes: / as saye I: / as yet I cleane. O carth: were not my slewe / and let my cryinge find no roume. For lo: my wretchednesse is in heauyn: / and he that knoweth me / is abomin in the byghie. My frendes laugh me to scorn: / but myne eye peareth out water vnto God. Though a body my ght pleure with God: / as one man doeth with another: yet the number of my yeeres are come: / and I must goe the way: / from whence I shall not returne againe.

The XVII. Chapter.

A D I shall saileth my voice: as sootens: / I am heard at brachen doore. I haue decaued no man: yet must myne eye continue in heauynesse. O deliure me / and set me by the way: that I may be able to thrust my handes vnto God: / though I will holden there: because from vnderstandinge: / therefore: shall they not be set vpon by. He prometh his frendes part of his good: / but his own childre spende it. He made me as it were a byweib of the common people: / I am his restinge place: among them. My conscience is in decay: for very anger: / and the murdres of my body are become like a shadowe. Verreuous men therefore shall not consider this: / and the innocens shall take part against the Spocrite.

B Everyghydeus will kepe his way: / and he that hath cleane handes: / will turne be stronger and stronger. Do for you: / turne you: / and get you hence: / for I can not see one wyse man amonge you. My dares are past: my thoughtes are vanished away: / whiche haue vexed myne heart: / changinge the nygher into day: / and the lycht into darthenesse. I bought I care not so much: / yet the graue is my house: / and I must make my bedde in the darcke. I call corruption my father: / and the womens call I my mother and my sylicke. What helpe hath then my longe sayynges: / O who will fulfill the charge: that I loke for: / All that I haue: shall goe vnto into the pye: / and lye with me in the dust.

The XVIII. Chapter.

W Hen answered Baldad the Subite: / And sayde: when will ye make an ende of your woides: / Make we: / and consider: we will speake also. Why therefore are we counted as heales: / and expued so vile in your sight: / Why distress thou thy selfe with anger: / What the earth be forsake: / for the stones come out of their place: / because of the: / Shall not the light of the yngebly be put out: / yet the flame of his fyre shall not be quenche. The lycht shall be darcke in his dwellinge: / and his candle shall be put out with him. His pictureous sayynges shall be kept in: / and his owne counsaill shall cast hym downe. For his feete shall be taken in the net: / and he shall walke in the snare. His fore shall be holden in the reappe: / and the chryste shall catch him. The snare is layd for him in the grounde: / and a pitfall in the way.

B Fearfulness shall make him afraid on every side: / that he shall not knowe: / where to get out. Hungor shall be his substaunce: / and myffortune shall haunge vpon him. He shall see his owne sinne: / yet / his owne armes shall be vnto: / because: a spyll bone of daub.

er him: so that if he flye the yon weapens/he shal be shot wyl the stile bowe. The arrow shal be taken furth/ and go ouer his backe / as a glissing forward: thowse wey bys gall/ seare shal come vpon him. There shall no varience be able to hyde hym. His vnbled eye shall cōsume him/ and like what remaineth in his haufste shal be destroyed. The beauen shal de clare his wretchednesse/ and the carthe shal aske pence against him. The substancer that he had in his house shalbe taken awaye/ and per turne hym backe: / He doeth as him listeth / and burcheth to passe what he will. He re-wardeth me into my dosome: / and many other thinges mo doeth he: / as he may by his power. This is the cause that I spenke as by presence: / so that when I consyde hym / I am afrayed of him. For in so much as he is God / he maketh my heart soft: / and seynge that he is Almightie: he purteth me in feace. Thus ca-not I get out of darkness: the cloude hath so couered my face.

It misseth in vpp hym/ and spareth hym not/ he maye not escape from the power thereof. Then clap men theyr handes at hym/ yea/ and reasse upon hym/ when they loke vpon hye place.

The. XXVIII. Chapter.

2 Here are places where syluer is moled/ and where golde is tryed: where yon is pygged oure of the grounde/ and stones resolu- ed to metall. The Barkeffs shall once come to an ende/ he can see foure the grounde of all thinges: the flouce/ the Barke/ and the hois- ible shadowe/ with the ryuer of water parneth he asunder/ the straight people that knoweth no good neygghbour/ heede: such are arcude/ vnmansly and boyssoude. He bringeth soude out of the earth. and that which is vnder/ co- sit meth be with sye. There is founde a place/ whose stones are cleane Saphyrs/ and where the cleares of the earth are golde. There is a wege also that the bydes knowe not/ that no wilius eye hath sene: wherein the proude and hyge minded walk not/ and where no Lyon cometh. There pyneth he his hande vpon the stony rockes/ and ouerthroweth the moun- tayne. Ryuers flowe out of the rockes/ and loke what is pleasaunt/ his eye seeth it. One of thoppes bringeth he great floudes together/ and the rhynges that is byd bringeth he to llyght. Howe cometh a man then by wys- dome: Where is the place that men fynde vnder standyng? Verely no man can tell howe worthye a thyng the is/ neyther is he found in the land of the livinge. The depe sayeth: It is no man. The se sayeth: He is not with me. He can not be gotten for the moost syre golde/ neyther maye fyre of her be bought with any money. No wodge of golde of O- pbyr/ no precious Onie stones/ no Saphyrs maye be compared vnto her. Neither golde/ nor Cellall/ neyther serec odoues/ nor golden plate. There is nothyng so worthye/ or so ex- cellent/ as once to be named vnto her: for per- fecte wysdome goeth fare beyonde them all. The Copas that cometh: us of Iude/ maye in no wyll be dyfined vnto her: yea/ no maner of apparell howe pleasaunt/ a saye: so sweete be.

From whence then cometh wysdome/ and where is the place of vnderstandyng? She is byd from the eyes of all men/ yea/ and from the sooles of the ayre. Destruction a deable saye we haue herd tell of her with our eares. But God seyth her way/ and knoweth her place. Soche beholder the endes of the world/ and lokeih vpon all thysion vnder the heauen. Was he weyed the wyndes/ and measured the wa- ues: when he set the raynein odds/ and gaue the neygghye floudes a lawe: Then byd he se her/ then declared he her prepared bece/ and knewe her. And vnto man he sayde: Be- holde/ to feare the Lord/ is wysdome: and to forsake euil/ no vnderstandyng.

The. XXIX. Chapter.

3 Job proceid/ and wente forth in his communication sayyng. What I were as I was in the monthes that are past/ and in the daies when God preferred me: when hyd myght shyned vpon my heade: when I wente after the same light and shyne/ as I was after the Barkeffs. As a stode with me/ what I was with me/ and had yongh: when God prospered my house/ when the Almyghty eye was with me: when my hande hold folkes stode about me/ when my wayes ranne ouce with butter/ and when the stony rockes gaue me ryuers of oyle: when I wente thowte the eye vnto the gaw/ and when they set me a shoyne in the street: when the yong men as sone as they sawe me/ byd them selles/ and shode up vnto me: when the pyne colde of theyr talles/ and layd theyr hande to theyr mouth: when the myghte kepte shy the: voyce/ and when their waggles cleued to the sofe of theyr mouthes. What all they that herd me/ called me happye: and when all that sawe me/ wysshed me good. For I deliuered the poore/ when he cryed/ and the fatherlesse that wanted helpe. He shoud haue ben lost/ gaue me a good word/ and the widowes here praised me. And why? I put vpon me ryghteousnes/ which euered me as a garment/ and equall was my croune. I was an eye vnto the blind/ and a fodee to the lame. I was a father vnto the poore/ and whā I knewe not her cause/ I soughte se out disre- gently.

died in my nest: & my dayes should haue ben so many as I hand of the see. for my soue was spred out by the waterside / & the stre lay vpon my soine. Myne honour increased more and more / and my bowe was ener the stronger in my hande. Vnto me men gaue care / me they regarded / and with silence they caried for my countayll. If I had spoken / they wold haue it nouit other waies: my wordes were so wel as ken amonge them. They waited for me / as the earely doerth for the raine: and gaped vpon me / as the graunde doeth to receaue the larece showes. When I laughed / they were well it was not earnest: and thys testimony of my countenance pleased them nothinge at all.
When I regarded vnto they waye / I was the chiefe / and set as a fynge amonge hye fer-uantes: & as one that reioysed such as be

The. XXX. Chapter.

S Or now they that are my iustoura / and younger then I haue me in derision: yet awt they / whose fathers I wold haue thought seeme to haue set with the Dogges of my cartel. The power and strengthe of they handes mighte do me no good: and as for they age it is spent and pass awaye withoute any payse.
For vey my sery a hunger: they wente aboute in the mysericorde like wiche as a begger / plucking vp herbes from amonge the duste:

past thou byddest set me on thy hegh / as it uen me a very sore fall. Sure I am / that thou wilt deliuer me vnto death: where as a lodgyng is prepared for all men lyuynge. Now wilt thou men to be violen vnto them / that are destroyed already: but where burne is there came darcknesse. My bones sceth them me: as take no rest / for the dayes of my trouble are come vpon me. Melly and lowly came I in / and without any displeasure. I stode vpon the congregacion / and communed with them. But now I am a companion of the goose / and a slowe of the strophe. My skin is turned to blacke / and my bones are burnt in heate: my harpe is turned to sawe / and my pipe to weepinge.

Or haue I sayde to the synell golde of alchoure: / or in my confidence: / Haue I rayced: / because my substaunce was grea: / and because my hande gave to mynch. / Did I euer greatly re-garde the cysynge of the Sunne: / Or had I benyed the God that is aboute: / I haue I euer reioyced at the buet of myne enemy: Or was I euer glad: / that any synne happed vnto hym: / Or was I euer sufficed my mouth to doe such a synne: / as to wyse the hincred: / For they of mine own bowshold saye: / so shall let us to haue one belly full of hys flesch: I haue not sufficed a straunge to lye with:

Or euer opened my doore vnto hym. / Haue I euer seene any wicked dede: / or to se howe I shamed my selfe before me: / Or any abhominacion: / that I was sayne bydore: / For if I had seene any greare vncleatue of people: Or if I had bene despyed of the synell: / Or then shoulde I haue bene afrayed. / Thus haue I quetly spent my lyfe: / and not gone out of the doer. / Or that I had one whiche wolde heare me. / Lo: / this is my cause. / Let the Al-myghty geue me an answer: / and let hym chaunge my contrary party: / for I will with a lybel.
Thee shall I take it vpon my shoulde: / and as a garlande aboute my brad. / I haue tolde the nombre of my goynnges: / and dyscreed then vnto hym as to a synce. / But if tse be that my lande crye agaynll me: / or that the so-uertes thereof make any complaine: / if I haue caused the freates thereof enoyed for: / or if I haue greued any of the plowmen: / Then let thylles growe in steade of my wheate: / and thoines for my barley.

reasonable aunswere to accompe him. How tured Eliu all they had ended, they commu-eation with Job for why: they were elder the he. So when Eliu the sonne of Barachel the Bustie saue / the thes the men were nor able to make Job an answer / he was mys-content: so he gaue aunswere himselfe / and sayde: I Consideringe that I am yonge / and not yett men of age / I was afraied / and durste not speere with my minde / for I thought thus within my selfe: It becometh olde men to speake / and the aged to teach wysdome. He-very nian / no doubt he hath a mynde / but it is the inspiration of the Almightye that geueh vnderstandyng. All men are not wys / neyther doth euery aged man vnderstande the thinge that is lawfull. Therefore will I speake also / So saee as I maye de berde / and will shewe you myne opinion. For when I had traped yll ye made an ende of youre talkyng / and berde youre wysdome / what argumetes ye made in youre communication: yett when I had diligently pondered what ye sayd / I found not one of you that made any good argumet agaynst Job: so that dyrectly could make aunswere vnto his wordes: lest ye shoulde praysse yourselues / to haue founde oure wysdome.

because it is God that hath call hym out / and hym anye bene / for they were so abashed / that they could not make aunswere nor speake oure wordes: durin so much as ye will not speake / standyng styll like olde men / and making no aunswere. I haue a good hope for my part to shappe hym an answer: and so shere hym my meanyng. For I am full of wordes: and the spere that is wythin me / espelleth me. Wholte / I am as the new wyne whiche hath no vent: and bursteth the new vessell in sinder. Therefore will I speake: that I maye haue vnto: I will open my lippes /

The. XXXIII. Chapter.
I Will retrace my wordes: O Job / and heken vnto all that I will saye: Be-holde / I wil open my mouthe / and my tynge shall speake out of my warce. My lippes shall oude my wordes: a ryght / and my lippes shall talke of pure wysdom: The spere of God hath made me / and the breath of the Almightye hath geue me my life. If thou canst / then geue me aunswere: pace thy selfe to stande before me face to face. Beholde / before God am I iust as thou for I am fithion: and made eures of thesame mould. Therefore thou needest not be afraied of me: neyther needest thou to feare: that my aouthere shalbe to heare of the howe shall thou speake in myne eares: and I haue herde the voyce of thy wordes: I am cleane wythout any faulde: I am innocet: and there is no wyckednesse in me. But lo / he hath pycked a quarell agaynst me / a taltch me for his enemye / The hath put my foote in the stocks / and lo-keth narrowly onto all my partes. Beholde / vnto these unreasonable wordes of thine: will I make aunswere.

Gen 44

Job 12. 1

Job 12. 1

Should God be reproued of man: Why doest thou that shewe agaynst him / because he geueh the no accomptes of all his bynges: For what God doth ouer comaunde a thing / there shoulde no man be wroth: / to search whether it be right. I Tu deames and vnto one of the myghty seasons: when slundering commeth vpon men / that they fall a slepe in their beddes: he roareth they in the caree / he infourmeth the / a the weth the playnly / he in-be / which wntid with man from euill: deli-uereh him from payne / kepeth his soule from distraction: and his lyfe from the stroke: he chastiseth hym with pynne / and bringeth hym to his ded: he layeth soue punishment vpon his bones: for that his lyfe maye awaye no becad / and his soule abhorret to eate any deuay meate: In so much: that his bodye is cleane consumed away: and his bones appea-re nomore. The soule draweth on to destruc-cion: and his lyfe to death. Now if there be an angel / one amonge a thousand: sent for to speake vnto man / and to shewe him the right waye: then is God mercifull vnto hym / and sayeth: He shalbe deliuered / that he fall not downe to destruction: for I am sufficiently re-couled. Than his flesh wch hath bene in misery and trouble: shalbe as it was in his youth: soue he submitt himselfe vnto God: he is gracious/a sheweth him his countenance loyfully / and correcteth man for his righte-ousnesse. Such a righteous hart is vnto men.

Therefore let a man confesse / and saye: I I offend / but he hath chastened a reformed me: I had enyghtenist / I was hellesse / he hath not receyued me there after. Yee he hath be-lieued my soule fro destruction / and my life / that it styeth light. Lo / thus reioiceth God alway with man / that he keepeth his soule fro perishing / and letteth him enioy the light of the liuing. Marke well (O Job) a heare me: holde the sil / vntil I haue spoken. But if thou hast any thing to saye / the answer me and speake: for thy answer pleasech me. If thou hast nor thinge / the heare me: and holde thy tunge: so shal I reache the wisdom.

The. XXXIiii. Chapene.

All this proceeded forth in his communica-cion / and sayde: Heare my woes: O ye wise men / hearken vnto myce that haue eno derstandinge. For lyke as the mouth sayeth the matters / so the care puaireth and discerneth the woes. It is for the iudgement / see we like our amide our selues / that we maye knowe what is I righte / And why? Job hath sayde: I am righteous / but God doeth me wrong.
I must needs be a lyar / though my cause be righte and iudicly am I plagued / where as I made no fault / where is thee such one as Job? / at thynekep vp from fulnesse a life water: whych goeth in the company of wicked doers / a walketh with vngodly men: For he sayeth: Though a man be good / yet he be naught before God. Therefore hearken vnto / ye that haue understandinge.

Because it is from God that he shoulde medle with wickednesse: and therefore it is from the al-myghty that he shoulde medle with vngodly dealinge: That be itewardship the workes of man / and causeth every man to finde accounting to his weare. For see it is that God is a vnderpynner of man wrongeously / and the iudgement of almyghty is not vngodly. Who ruleth the earth in his seade? Whom bernt hath he set to gouerne the whole world?
For whome hath he geue his bett / for is diaue his spire and breath vnto him? I will see he be alone together to naught / and all men shal turn again vnto earth. If thou now haue vnto derstandinge / heare what I say / and hearken ea the voyce of my wordes.

May he be made whole? / laireth no eight?
If thou were a very innocent man / shouldest thou then be punished? For he is euil the same / that knoweth the rebellious. Fugge / a sayeth to punice: Vngodly men are ye. The hart no respece vnto the personce of the lordy / and regardeh wroth: yche more than the poore.
For they be of the woike of his hande.

In the eveninge of an ere shall they be steyne / and at midnigght when they sleepe and the mysuise / wake / then shal they perishe / and be taken away without bandes. And why?
The eyes loke vpon the waye of man / and he steyth at his goinge. There is no darrence nor thycke shadow / that can hyde the nycted dece from him. For no man shalbe sufficed to go into iudgement with God.

Many once / innumerable doeth he pun-nish / and stretcheth other in theyr strakes. For he knoweth theyr euil and doeth wele: for therfore shall they be destroyed. They that were in the seade of Dece / shall lyte vnto godly men.
Therefore turned they backe rayrouously and en-saythfully from him / and wolde not create his weare. In so much that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to come vnto hym / a now he heareth the complaine of such as be in ne-cessite. If he deliuer and graunt pardon / wha will iudge or condemn? But if he bide away his countenance / who wyl turne it aboute game / whether it be to the people as to any man? For the wickednesse and synne of the prople / he maketh an Ipoete to raigne ouer the.
For so much the as I haue begon to talke of God / I wyl not hinder the. If I haue gaue any selles / enforne me. If I haue done myght ed the Lord sayyng: Wholde / I am to vile a person to answer thee / herfore wyl I laye my hande vpon my mouth. Once as wayle haue I spoken / thus I wyl say no more.

The XL Chapter.

Thou spake the Lord vnto Job oute of the storme / and saue: Wende vp thy loy nes like a man / and tel me the thinge that I wyl aske the. Wilt thou disdain my iudgement: Or wilt thou contempne me / that thou thy self inuaintest me made righteous. To thine arme then like the arme of God: Wlaleth thy voice suche a sounde as his doeth: Then arme thy self wih thine owne power / vpd becke then the rolye / as poure oute the indignaunt of thy wrath: that thou castest boune el the powder loke wel that thou make all such as be stub birent to aby: wende all thyngodly vnder thy feet / cast the downe in to the mee: and couer thou faces weth darknesse. Thou wyl I com fesse also / that thou owne thythe haide hath saue the.

Wholde the cruel deasse (whome I made weth the) which carreh haye as an eye: lo how stronge he is in his loynes / and what power he hath in the nauell of his Body. He stretch out his taryle like a Cedre tree / all his veynes are stiffe. His synnes are like pyces of masse his rygges bones are like flawes of yron. Syn whan God made him / he obeynd the wyrd drenesse for him / that the mountaines should brue him grass: where all the deasse of the felde take their pasture. He leryth amonge the redes in the mossie / the fenncow bide him weth theire shadowe / and the willowes of the brooke couer him rounde aboute. La / without any la bour might he drinke out the whole floude / the suppe of Ioudane without any trauaile. W the barre lay bend vpon him openly / and wnto take to catch him: Who barre put an hake thow weth he no fish / and laye a snare for him.

Darest thou drave out the conuall weth an angle / or binde his ruynges weth a snare: Canst thou put a ruyng in the nose of him / or bose his thowes wotho weth an aule: Wilt he make many sayes woides weth the / (thinkest thou) or flatter the: Wilt he make a conuall weth the: Or art thou able for to edpell him to the eadual firer: Wilt thou take thy pastime weth him as th a byde / or graue him vnto the maudens / that thy copanions maye bete him in pece / to be parted amonge the merchaunt men: Canst thou fylye the net weth his line / or the fish panner weth his baite Darest thou lay hande vpon him: It is bet ter for the to eddide what harme might hap pen theer thow weth / and not to touch him.
For whan thou thinkest to haue holden vpon him / he shal beggie the: Every man also that seeth him / shal goe back. And wether barre noure be so bold / as to catch him vp.

The XLV Chapter.

Whow able to stande before me: Or who hath geuen me any thinge / as hande / that I am bounde to rewarde him a gaine: All thinges vnder heauen are myne. I feare him not / whether he thurc / or / or speake saye. Wilt thou leryth him vp / and strepeth him out of his clothes / or: who secketh him by the sit of his duble: Who openeth the doore of his face: for he hath horrible treache rounde aboute.
His body is couered weth scales as it were weth shieldes / soe he in / strepeth weth respect to the. One is so wynd to another / that no eye can come in: Yet one hangeth so vpon ano ther / and strecte together / that they can not be sundered. His nesing is like a gylfstringe fine / and his eyes like the mounting fyne. Out of his mouth goe roches / and fyre shandens / out of his nothredes there goeth a smoke / like as out of an hore faryng poe. His breath ma keth the deasse burne / the flame goeth oute as his mouth. In his necke remaineth strength/and before his face sorrow is turned in gladnesse. The members of his body are ioyned to strait one to another / in cleue so fast together/that they can not be moued.

This heric is as hard as a stone/ as soft as the flitch that the hürnerman smiteth vpon.
Whan he goeth/ the mightiest of all are afraid / and the women weep: if he thame use the wordes/ there may neither spare nor kill place aduise him. He stretcheth as much by a strawe as by yean/ and as much by a romen locke as by metall. He starteth not awaie for him that bendeth the bowe/ and as for iungestones/ he careth as much for stable as for the.
He counteth the hürner no better the a strawe/he laugheth him to scorn that speaketh the space. He treadeth the gold in the myre like the sharpe postherdica. He maketh the depts so feeth and drye like a pot/ and feareth the sea together like an ornament: the waye is lighte a fir: him/ the depts is his walking place. Vpon earth is there no power like vnto his. for he is so made that he feareth not. If a man wil conside al his things/ thus same is a kinge ouer al the children of yude.

The XLII. Chapter.

Then Job answered the Lord / and saide: I knowe that thou hast power of all things/ and that there is no thought hid vnto the. For who can kepe his owne counsell so secret. But it shall be knowne: Therefore haue I spoken vnto thy seruenge these things are so by / and possit myne vnderstandinge.
Wherefore thou vnto me also/ and let me speake:
and thou wilt vnto the thinge that I will see.
I haue geuen diligent care vnto the/ and nowe I see the with myne eyes. Wherefore I geue myne owne selfe the blame/ and take repentaunce in the dust and asbes.

Howe vban the Lord had spoken these wordes vnto Job/ he sayde vnto Eliphaz the Themanite: I am displeasid with the/ and with two frendes/ for ye haue not spoken the thing that is right before me/ as ife as my seruant Job hath said. Therefore take yeuen vnto seven rammes/ and go to my seruant Job/toffer vp also for your selves a Burntoffering/and let my seruant Job praye for you. Ife will I accepte/ and not deal with you after your follynes/ in that ye haue not spoken the thinge which is right/ like as my seruant Job hath done.

So Eliphaz the Themanite/ Balbad the Subrite/ and Sophar the Naamathite wente their waye/ and byd accordinge as the Lord commaunded them: The Lord also accepted the person of Job/ and the Lord turned him vnto Job/ when he prayed for his frendes: I see/ the Lord geue Job rans as much as he had sowe.

And then came there vnto him al his Brethren/ al his sisters/ with al them that had become his acquaintance afore/ a great number with him in his house/ wondering at him/ confounding him ouer all the trouble/ the Lord had brought vpon him. Every man gaue him a shepe/ and a Jewell of golde.

And the Lord made Job rycher then he was before/ for he had said. I seeke vnto carnell/ as I seeke of oren/ and a little aske.
He had children also/ seven sonnes/ and three daughters. The first he called Saphir/ the seconde Pauerre/ the thirde All plentifulnesse.
In al the lande were none founde so goodly/ as the daughters of Job/ and theye sawcher grace the chereuaunce amonge their brethren. Afte-re this I heard Job si years/ so that he was his children/ and his children children vnto the fourth generation. And so he dyed/ beinge olde and of a perfecte age.

The Loide is iudge ouer the people / or iudge me then / (o Loide) according to my righte iustesse and innocency.

Wher let the wickednes of the vngodly come to an ende / but maintein the iust / thou iusteous God / that mist the very heres / and the reyns.

Why helpe cometh of God / which preseruetv them that art true of here.

135 b God is a righteous iudge / a God is our shearmange.

If men will not mine / he hath whet his sword: he hath bent his bow and made it ready.

He hath prepared by the weapons of death / and obeyned by arrows to destroye.

136 b He holdeth crawlers with my chief / he hath conceald unhappynesse / and thoughte for a lye.

137 c He hath grieved and sygged up a pye / but he shall fall himselfe into the pye that he hath made.

138 b For his unhappynesse shall come upon his own head / and his wickednesse shall fall upon his owne path.

As for me / I will give thanks vnto the Loide: for his righteousnesse sake / and will praise the name of Loide the most hys.

Then synners be / then oppresse they be / and casteth doune the poore with his authour.

So he saith in his heart: Curs / God hath forgotten; he hath turned away his face / so that he will seeue for in.

Why o Lorde God; lift vp thine hande; and suggest not the poore.

Wherefore shoulde the wycked Blaspheme God; and saie in his heart: Curs he ceareth not for eue.

Thou thou sayst for thou confyddest the mystery and for eue.

The poore geuech himselfe ouer into thy hande; a comitted him vnto the; for thou art the helpe of the friendlesse.

Breakethou the arme of the vngodly; a malicious; that thou y wretchednesse which he hath done; that he maye perishe.

The Lorde is kinge for euer; ye Synners shal perishe out of his lande.

Lorde; thou hearest the desirous longing of the poore; that heert is sure; that thine ear heareth his dreere.

Helpe the; fatherlesse and poore vnto their righte; that y vngodly be no more exalted vpon earth.

The XI. Psalm of Dauid.

I The Lord helpe/ for there is not one synner on euey fewe faithfull are there amonge the children of men.

Wary man telleth eyes to his neighbour/they do but flatter with their lippen/ and dissemble in their hearte.

O that the Lord wolde rote out all deceaful lippen/ and the tongue that speaketh proude thinges.

Which saye: Our tongue shoulde praise the we are they that ought to speak/ who to loue ouer us?

Now/ for the trouble sake of the oppressed/ and because of the complainte of the poore/I will open/ I will open the Lordes mouth/ I will helpe them/ and set them at rest.

The wordes of the Lord are pure wordes: run as the silver/ which from a arch is not melted/ purified/ as nitre in the fire.

Repe them thus: O Lord/ a pious we from this generation for a we.

And why: why vaine and ydelnesse getteth the ourshande amonge the children of men/ all are full of the vngodly.

The XII. Psalm of Dauid.

I How long wilt thou forget me O Lord for: how long wilt thou hide thy face from me.

Oh howe longe shall I seeke counsaill in my soules home longe shall I be so viced in my brethowen longe shall myne enemye triumphe ouer me.

Confidit/ and heare me/ O Lord/ my God: lighten myne eyes/ that I sleepe not in death.

Let myne enemye saye: I haue prayled against him: for: if I see euill done/ they that trauble me will receiue it.

But my truste is in thy mercy/ and my heart is ioyfull in thy saluacion. I will singe of the Lord/ that dealt with me lowlyly with me/ (For I will praise the name of the Lord the most high.)

The XIII. Psalm of Dauid.

Resoluita Babina saye in their hearts.
There is no God.

They are corrupted/ and become abhorri-nable in their voynges/ there is not one that doeth good.

The Lorde loke downe from heauen upon the children of men/ to se if there were any/ that wolde vnderstande and sike after God.

But they are all gone out of the way/ they are altogether become vnprofutable/ there is none that doeth goodnes/ nor one.

They throte to an open sepulcher/with their righte they haue discaued the portion of Apsos/ and in their lippen.

They mouthes full of cursynge and byenesse/ they sete are swifte to shedde bloude.

destruction and wrethednesse are in their wayes/ and the reage of peate haue they not knowne: there is no feare of God before their eyes.

Howe can they haue vnderstandynge that wolde myschaunce/ sayynge vp my people as it were bleasde/ and call not upon the Lord.

Therefore shall they be brought in great fear/for: God standeth by the generacion of the righteous.

To for you/ in haue made a mocke at the counsaill of the poore/ because he punisheth his trust in the Lord.

Oh howe the saluacion were giuen vnto Israel out of Sion: O that the Lord wolde deliuer his people out of captiuitie: Then shoulde Jacob reioyce/ and Israel shoulde be right glad.

Gorde/ who shall dwell in thy tabernacle: who shall rest vpon thy holy hille When he shall ledeth an vnconspicuous

The. XX. A Psalm of David.

A WORDS E / how sayfull is the hyng in thy strength? O how excedyng glad is he of thy saluacion.

Thou hast geurn hym bys herkeadefix / and hast not put hym from the request of his lyppe. Psal.

Psal. f For thou hast puenient hym with lyberall blessinges / and set a crowne of gold upon his heare.

Thou hast lye of the / and thou gaust hym a longe lyfe / euen for euer and euer.

His honore is greater in thy saluacion / glorye and greates woi: thyppre thou laye upon hym.

For thou shalt geue hym euerlastyng felicitie / and make hym glad with the ioye of thy contenance.

And why? because the hynge trusteth his trust in the Lorde / and in the mercy of the most by gbest shall be not mysary.

B Recall thine enemyes fele: thy hande / let thy ryghte hande fynde outt all them that hate the.

Thou shalt make the life a freewen in time of thy wraithe: the Lorde shall destroy them in bys displeasur / and the frax shall consume them.

Their frax shall be rote out of the earth / and theye sedt from amonge the chyldren of men.

For they intended myscheit against the / and imagined fudy deuices / as they were not able to perfourme.

Therefore shalt thou put them to flight / and with thy stem geas thou shalt make a eady thare awroo agaynst the faces of them.

Ye thoue soled / Lorde in thyme owne strength / to wyll we fringe and prays the power.

Deus deus meus respice.

The. XXI. A Psalm of David.

A WORDS E / O God / why haste thou forsaken me? the wordes of my complaine are before face to thy haire.

O my God / I crye in the day tyme / but thou hearest not: and in the nyght season also I take no riste.

Yet dwellest thou in the Sanctuary / o thou wofthyppre of Israel.

Our father a hopid in the / they trustid in the / and thou dwellest dwyner them.

They called upon the / and were helpeles: they pue theye trust in the / and were not founded.

But as for me / I am a wraime and no mans a very scoime of men / and the outcast of the people.

Al they that se me / laugh me to scorn: they spue out their thyppre / and shake their heade.

He trustid in God / ler hym deluyner hauer: ler him helpe him / if he wyll haue hym.

But thou arte he that toke me out of my mothers wombe: thou wastte my hope / when I dongh yett upon my mothers brest.

I haue bene lesse vnto the: euer since I was borne: thou arte my Wad / eue for my mothers wombe.

O / go not from me the: for trouble is hard at hande / and here is none to helpe me.

Grete bulles are come aboute me / fast en close me in euery syde.

They gaspe upon me with theye mouthes / as it were a ramping and roaring Lyon.

I am poured out like waxe: all my bones are out of ioynte: my heart in the middelt of my body is euent like melting waxe.

My strength is dried up like a possibled: my tung cleaued to my gannico: and thou haste brought me into the dust of death.

For dogges are come aboute me / be counsail of the wicked hath layed sigt against me.

They persued my bondes and my feet: I might haue tolde all my bueres: as for the / theye stode staring and lohing upon me.

They haue parted my garnitures among them / and cast lottes upon my r: sure.

Buode not thou farre from me / O Lorde / than art my succoure: shall the to helpe me.

Deluyner my soule fro the freard / in my drearing from the power of the dogge.

Save me from the Lyons mouth: and heare me / in among the hornes of the innocen.

For I declare thy name vnto my brethren / in the middelt of the congregacion: will I praise the.

O prayse the Lorde: ye that face byn: Magnific hym all ye side of Jacob / and let all thou art my God.

Mee me in thy handes: deliuer me from the handes of myne enemies: and frout them that persecute me.

Showe by someuay the light of thy counteyance: for thy name is holie.

Leet me not be confounded (O Lord): for I call vpon thee: let the enemye rather be put to confusion: and brought vnto the hill.

Leet thy lying lippe be put to silence: which cruellye & withoute cause / and withoute iustice speake

The Psalmes

2 Judge me O Lord my God according to thy righteousness: that they triumph not over me.

O let the not say in their hearts: where there is no God: for would we have it: O let them not say: we have overcome him.

Let the be put to confusion and shame: that rejoice at my trouble: let the be clothed with rebuke and dishonour: that boast them self against me.

Let them also be glad and rejoice: that favour my righteous dealing: & ye: let the say: alway blessed be the Lord: whose hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servants.

And so for my things / or shall talke of thy righteousness: and of thy prayer all the day long.

Dixi iniquitatem delinquam.

The XXXV. Psalm of David.

2 My heart sheweth me the wickedness of the ungodly: that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

For he hath dishonoured his face: so long as he has abominable synne be founde out.

His wordes of his mouth are wrought with craftnesse: and deceit: he will not be learned to do good.

Eccle. 11. b

He imagineth mischief upon his bed: he will come in no good way: nor refuse the thinge that is euill.

By mercy O Lord I reacheth unto the heauen: and thy saythfulness unto the cloudes.

2 Thy righteousness standeth like the strong mountaies: and thy judgement like the great heauens: thou Lord preferrest both men and beasts.

Eccle. 11. d

How precious is thy mercy O God: that the children of men may put their truste vnder the shadowe of thy winges.

They shall be sanctified with the plenteousnesse of thy house: and thou shalt geue them vnto of the ryuer of thy pleasures.

Iere. 17

For: with the is the well of life: and in thy lighte shall we feare.

O speake forth thy louinge kindnesse vnto the that knowe the: and thy righteousness vnto them that are true of heart.

O let not the feare of pride ouertake me / O let not the bands of the ungodlye cast me downe.

As for wicked doers they fall: they are cast downe: and are not able to stande.

Nota emulas in malignantiis.

The XXXVI. Psalm of David.

2 Rei nor thy selfe: as the ungodly / be not I thy bowe enuious against the true doer.

I for thy shall praise the true doer like the iust: thy grace: and be worshiped even as the great and mighty doer.

Put thou thy trust in the Lord: and be true: thy doer good: so shall thou dwell in the lande: and verely it shall feede the.

Delight thou in the Lord: and he shall geue the thy heart desire.

I Conuerse thy waye vnto the Lord: Dismiss thy hope in him: and he shall directe to passe.

Ye shall make thy righteousness as a cleare as the light: and thy iustice shall shine as the noone daye.

Hold the styl in the Lord: and abide patiently vpon him: but greue not thy selfe: as one that hath prospered: and lyeth in abominacion.

Leaue of thy wrath: let go thy displeasur: let not thy glory more the alle to do our.

For wicked doers shall be covered: but they that patiently abide the Lord: shall overcome the lande.

Chastise yet a litle the ungodly: and he shall be cleane gone: thou shalt loke after his place: and he shall be a waye.

But thou shalt see: that shall passe the earth: and shall have pleasure in our justice.

The ungodly shall waxe like the tuffe: and shall be broken vpon him with his tuffe.

But the Lord laugheth him so scorn: Dismiss for he feare that his waye is cominge.

The ungodly shall waxe out the sworde: and shall sende their bowe to the castle: and shall be idle: and shall be as they that are idle.

Trustworthy: their sworde shall go to the roue: their owne bowe: and their bowe shall be broken.

I shall thinke that the righteous hath / better then great riches of the ungodly.

ken / But the Lord vpholdeth the righteous.

E The Lord knoweth the wayes of the godly / and their enheritaunce shall endure for euer.

They shal not be confounded in the paroleus name / and in the voice of vther they shal haue piousg.

As for the vngodly they shal perishe: and whan the enemies of the Lord are in their strength / they shal consume: yea / euen as the smoke shal they consume away.

The vngodly boioweth and perishe not againe / but the righteous is mercifull and liberal.

Gude as he blessed of him / shal possesse the lande / and they whome he curseth / shal be tormented.

The Lord ouerth a good mans goyng / and hath pleasure in his war.

Though he fall he shall not be hurt / for the Lord vpholdeth hym with his hande.

I haue ben yong / and noue a m olde: yet same I neuer the righteous forsaken / nor hys kide as seke their kide.

The righteous is euer meeysfull / and tenderth gently / therefore shall hys kide be blessed.

Thy kide euil / a do the thinge that is good / so shalt thou diu for euer.

For the Lord loued the thinge that is right / he forsaketh not his iustice / but they shal be pitied for euermore: as for the side of the vngodly / shal be eate out.

Yea / the righteous shal possesse the lande / a vther therein for euer.

The mouthe of the righteous is openyd in wisdom / and his tongue talketh of iudgement.

The lawe of his God is in his herte / therefore shal not he footeleppe slide.

The vngodly seeth the righteous / and goeth aboute to slaye hym.

But the Lord wyll not leaue hym in his hande / nor condemne hym whan he is iudged.

Kepe thou in the Lord / and kepe his waye: and he shall so promote the thy. rthie thals haue the land by enheritaunce / and se whan the vngodly shal perishe.

I my selfe haue seene the vngodly in greute power / and flouynghe lyke a gaue bye: so: but whan I wrote by / so: he was gone: I laughte hym / but he coude no where be founde.

Kepe innocency / and take hede vna the stronge thaten ryght / for that shall dunge a man peate at the last.

Do for the iust sign / floure / they shal perishe together / and the vngodly shal be rone out at the last.

The helpe of the righteous cometh of the Lord / he is thair strengthe in the tyme of trouble.

The Lord shal stande by them / and saue them: he shall vrsuer them fro the vngodly / and helpe them / because they put theys truste in hym.

Domine me in hoco: no argumr.

The. XXXVII. Psalm of Dauid.

Woe me not to rebuke / of the Lord / in thine anger: Wh chasten me not in thy heavy displeasure.

For thy arrowes shere faste in me / and thy hand percuteth me sore.

There is no whole pacte in my body / because of thy displeasur: there is no rest in my bones / by reason of my sinne.

For my wickednesse are gone ouer my head / and are lyke a foxe ducten / so heauy for me to beare.

My woundes stincke / and are corrupt / they rom my souly bress.

I am thoughte into so greute trouble and mysery / that I go mourninge all the daye longe.

For my laines are cleue thred vp / and there is no whole pacte in my body.

I am sicke and sore smitten / I roare for the very disaunce: sic of my herte.

37. Ps. 2. b

Psal. 71. a

Job. 19. b

Psal. 147. b

I will preache of thy righteousnesse in the greate congregation: Lo/ I will not refraine my lippes o' Lorde/ and thou shalt knowest.

I do nothing thy righteousnesse in my heart/ my rasinge is of the truth/ and savinge health: I fepe not by louyng meecy and faythfulnesse Barke from the greate congregation.

Turne not about thy mercy fro me o' Lorde: But let thy louyng kindnesse and truth dwarne this my soule.

For innumerable troubles are come about me: my synnes haue take such hold upon me/that I am not able to loke vpon thee: they are more in number than the haire of my heade/ & my heart hath faile me.

O Lorde/ let it be thy pleasure to deli-uer me/ make haile (O Lorde) to helpe me.

Let them be ashamed and confounded/ that sitt aghast my soule/ o' Destroyer: let them fall that forward: let be put to confusyon/ that wisse me cruel.

Let them sore be thought to shame/ that crye out: our meate here there.

But let all those that see thee/ be ioyfull and glad in thy: and let all suche as deliue in thy saluacion/ saye alwaye: the Lorde de-ceyde.

As for me/ I am poore and in misery/ but the Lorde careth for me.

Thou art my helper and redemer/ make no longer iargen go/ my God.
Beatus qui inuoluitur super eum.

The XL. Psalm of Dauid.
Blessed be that confyeth in the poore: the Lorde shall deliuer him in the name of mercie.

The Lorde shall preferre him/ and kepe him alwaye: shall make him to prosper epon taryard/ and shall not deliues him into the will of his enemye.

The Lorde shall refecthe him/ when he troubled upon his bed: yet/ thou makest his bed in all his sickeynes.

I forde: Lorde be mercifull vnto me/heale my soule for I haue synned agaynst thee: Myne enemies for sake and vpon me: wha-shalt be thy/ and when shall his name crye thy:

Though he came into the world/ he shall be in his heart/ shapynge myschaunce vpon himselfe.

All they that hate me/ runne together agaynst me/ and ymagyne euill agaynst me.

They haue giuen a wycked sentence vpon me: when he lyeth/ he shall crye vpon no-more.

I see/ cum myne owne familiar frende/whome I trusted/ which did rate my brade/hath hys vp his heile agaynst me.

But be thou mercifull vnto me/ o' Lorde: deceyde thou me vpon/ and I shall requare them.

By this I knowe thou fauourablest me/that myne enemye shall not triumphe ouer me.

Thou haste holden me because of myne innocencye/ and set me before thy face for ouer.

Blessed be the Lorde God of Israell/ from hence forth/ and for euer more. Amen.

oke/ so longeth my soule after thee/ o' God.

My soule is a rhyt for God/ because I the louyng God: when shall I come/ and be holde the face of God?

Why are thou as my meate daye and night/ I shall crye vnto thee/ why art thou as now thy God?

How when I thynke there vpon/ I your i-gour my heart by my selfe/ for I wolde faine go hence with the multitude/ and passe ouer with the vnto the house of God/ in the voyce of praye/ and thanksgyunge/ amonge such as kepe holy daye.

Why are thou so full of heavynesse/ o' I

That we should not hyde them fro the children of the generacions to come / but to shewe the honoure of the Lord / who mighte a wonderfull wroth / that he hath done.

He made a conuenaunt with Jacob / and gaue Israel a lawe / i which he conuenauntded oure forefathers / to teache theyr children.

That their posterite myght knowe it / and the children which were yet vnborn.

To the intent that when they came vp / they might shewe their children the cause.

That they also mighte pue their trust in God / a not to forget what he had done / vnto the children of the remembraunce.

And not to be as the children of the fathers / a forwarde and ouerthrowne generacion / a generacion that see not their herie / a right / a whose frende was not true to ward God.

As the children of the Chanaan / which beinge barnished / and carryngs home / were sold them selfen / vnto the synne of Canaan.

They kepte not the conuenaunt of God / a wylde not walke in his lawe.

cloudes / and all the myghte shynow with a light of fyre.

He dede cleue the hard rockes in the wilderness / and gaue the drinke therof / as it had bene out of the great depth.

He broughte waters out of the stony cocke / so that they gushed oute lyke the ryuer.

Yet for all this they synned agaynst him / and prouoked the moost byss in the wilderness.

They tempted God in their hartes / and requered meate for their lust.

For they spake agaynst God and said: Yet God shall prepare a table in the wilderness / a nysse / shall he?

As he sence the stony cocke / that the many streames gushed out / and the streames flowed mychall / bur how can he geue drinke / a prouide fleshe for his people?

Wher the Lord herde this / he was wroth / so the fyre was kindled in Jacob / a heauy displeasure agaynst Israel.

Because they beleue not in God / and put not their trust in his helpe.

So he commaunded the cloudes aboute / and opened the store of heauen.

He rayned doune Manna upon them / and gaue them drinke from the rocke.

in vanitie / and suddenly were their yeeres gone.

When he sawe them / they fought him / and auerred them early a new God.

They fought then that God was their succour / and that he byc God was their redemer.

Nevertheless / they did but flatter him in their mouthes / and dissembled with him in their tongues.

For their heart was not whole with him / neither continued they in his conuenaunt.

But he was mercifull that he forgave their misdoes / and destroyed them not.

Yet many a time turned he his wrath away / as wold he not suffice his whole displeasure to arise.

It is to be considered that they were but flesh / as a wind that passeth awaye and cometh not againe.

O how oft haue they grieved him in the wilderness?

How many a time haue they prouoked him in the desert?

They turned backe / and tempted God / as moued the holy one in Israel.

They thought not of his hande / in the day when he deliuered them from the hande of the enemye.

Howe he had wrought his myracles in Egypte / and his wonders in the lande of Soun.

Howe he turned their waters into bloude / so that they mighte not drinke of the ryuers.

Howe he sent lict amonge them / to eat the flesh vp / and froggen to destroy them.

Howe he gaue them frutes vnto the cartoppell / and their labour vnto the greeshopper.

Howe he sette downe their vineyards with bayle stoues / and theye Mallicy reeue with the staffe.

Howe he smote their cattell with bayle stoues / and their flockes with hore shouber dailies.

Howe he kene upon them the furious flicke of his wrath anger and displeasure: as woulde and fallinge in of euil angels.

When he was aduoyce to his carefullnes dignation / and spared not theys soules from death / yet / and gaue their carrell ouer to the pestilence.

When he smote all the fysshborne in the gyra / the moos principall and mygnest in the dwellinges of Ham.

But as for his owne people / he led them forth like sheepe / and caried them in the wyldernes / as hea flocke.

He thoughte them ouer safely / that they shoulde not feare / and ouerbolded thus to nome with the ste.

He caried them vnto the borders of his Sanctuary: euen into this hill / whiche he purchased with his eighthande.

He vnd called oute the Children before the / caused their landes to be deuided amonge the for an heritage / and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tentes.

For all this they tempted and displeasid the moode bygh God / and lepe not his conuenaunt.

But turned they backe / and fell awaye lyke their forefathers / flayinge ashyde life a broken bow.

And so they grieved hym with theyr byc places / and prouoked hym with their ymas ges.

When God herde this / he was wroth / as wold foue displeasure of Israel.

So that he soughte the sabernacle in Sir Jer. vii. 8. as he caried his habitation wher in he dwelt as amonge men.

He deliuered theyr power into captiuitie / and theyr glorie into the enemyes hande.

He gaue his people ouer into the swordes / for he was wroth with his heritage.

The fyre consumed theyr ponge men / and theyr maydens were not giuen to marriage.

Their pusses were slayne with the swordes / and they were no wyddowes to make lamentacion.

So the Lorde swaled eo one oute of slepe / and lyke a gyuarre refreshed with wyne.

He smote his enemyes in the bynn / he der porere / and put them to a perpetuall thurce.

He refused the tabernacle of Joseph / and chose not the tribe of Ephraim.

Intercession: The choice the tribe of Judah / euen the hill of Zion which he loueth.

And there he builded his temple on hye / as layed the foundation of it like the grounde / so it mighte perpetually endure.

The choice Dauid also his seruants / a rose him a male from the shepefolde.

As he was followinge the yowes greare with yonges / he toke him / that he mighte see the Jacob his people / and Israel his inheritance.

So he led them with a faithfull and true heart / and ruled them with all the diligence of his power.

Deus uenerat gentes in heredatium nam.

The LXXVIII. A Psalm of Asaph.

The Altar / the Tabernacle are fallen into thine heresie / thy holy temple haue they defiled / and made Jerusalem an heape of stones.

The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen vnto the foules of the ayre / to be deuoured / and the fleshe of thy sanctes vnto the bestes of the laide.

Their bloods haue they shed like water on every syde of Ierusalem / and there was no man to burye them.

We are become an open shame vnto our enemies / a very scorn / and derisio vnto them / that are rounde aboute vs.

Lord how long wilt thou be angrye / shal thy gelousy burne like fyre for euer?

Thoue our thy indignation vnto the Heithen / that knowe the not / and vpon the Synagogs / that cal not vpon thy name.

For they haue deuoured Jacob / and layed wast his strength place.

Remember not oure alde synnes / but haue mercy vpon vs / and that some day for we are come to greate misery.

Help vs O God oure Saucour / for the glorye of thy name / to shew vs a waye / vnto sure synnes for thy names sake.

Wherefore shal the Heithen saye: where is nowe their God?

Let the vengeance of thy seruantes shoute that is shed / be openly shewed vnto the Synen in oure sight.

Let the foules fill synginge of the vnsynners come before the / and according vnto the power of thine arme / pteserue those that are appointed to the.

And for the blasphemy wherwith oure neighbours haue blasphemed the / reuolue them / O Lord / haue mercy vnto their besouie.

So we that be thy people / and shepe of thy pasture / shall geue the thanks for euer / and wil alwaye be thynging thy praise forth / more and more.

If the Loide had not helped me / my soule had almost bene put to silence.

When I sayde: my foot hath slipped thy mercy: Loide / helde me vp.

In the multitude of thy mercies that I had in my heere / thy compassions haue refreshed my soule.

Will thou haue any thinge to do with the sle of wickednesse / which vngratefully in belaueth?

They gather them together agaynst the soule of the righteous / and enuie the menoent shoude.

But the Loide is my refuge / my God is the strength of my confidence.

He shall redempce them they: wickednesse / and deliuey them in they: owne malite: yet / the Loide our God shall deliuey them.

saluation.

Let vs come before his presence with thank-singinge / and shewe our self glad in hym with Psalmes.

For the Loide is a greate God / a greate king: above all goddes.

In hyo hande are all the corner of the earth / and the strength of the world: he liues aliue.

There is his / so: he made it / and he hath des prepared the drye lande.

Cometee / let vs worshype and bowe downe oure selfe: let vs kneele before the Loide oure maker.

For he is oure God: so: he is / we are the people of his pasture / and the shepe of hyo hande.

To day if ye will heare hyo voyce / harden not youre heertes / as when ye prouoked in tyme of temptation in the wyldernesse.

Where youre fathers tempted nnt / proued smoke, / and my bones are burnt vp as it were a shepheard.

My herte is smyren vnto, / and wythe-red lyke grasse / so that I forget to eat my bread.

I feare the voyce of my growninge, / my boile wyl creak, / I feare due to my flesh.

I am become lyke a Pylstrine in the wydernesse, / and like an Owle in a broken wal.

I wakede an aerie as it were a Sparowe, strayinge alone vpon the house toppe.

Myne enemies reuyle me al the daye, / I they laugh me to scorn, / and are sworne together a gainst mee.

I eate asher with my bread, / and mingle my myne with wyppinge.

And that because of the indignation and wrath / for thou hast set vs vp / and cast me awaye.

My wayes are gone like a shadowe, / and I am wytheered lyke grasse.

But thou O Lord, / endurest for me,

A Benedic anima mea domino, domine Deus, The. CIII. Psalmes

Praise the Lord o my soule. O Lord my God / thou art become exceeding glorious / thou art clothed with mercy and honour.

Thou deckst thyselfe with light / so we are with a garment / thou spidest oute the heau-lyke a curtyne.

Thou boldest it aboute with waters / thou makst the cloudes thy charret / and goest vpon the wyndes of the wynde.

Thou makst thyne aungels spirytes / and thy ministres flammes of fyre.

Thou hast layd the earth vpon her foundacion / that it neuer moueth awaye nyne.

Thou courest with the depe hye ce-les / But at thy rebuke they stande aboute the hylls.

Thou rebukedst the hye / at the voyce of thy thonder they are afrayed.

Thou art the hylls fence closte / and the wellys bench in theyr place / whiche thou hast appointed for them.

Thou hast fet them theyr boundes / whiche they maye not passe / that theye ruene not againe to couer the earth.

Thou causst the welles to springe up amonge the valleyes / and the waters cunne amonge the hylls.

But all the bestes of the felde maye haue drinke / and that the wilde asse maye quenche theyr thurst.

Aboute vpon the hylls haue the foote of the ewe / theyr habitation / and singe amonge the biazinthes.

Thou warrest the hylls fram aboute / the earth is filled with the fruite of thy woles.

Thou bringest forth grass for the cattell / and greue herbe for chyldren of mee.

Thou bringest forth out of the earth twyne to make glad the herte of man / oyle to make hym a cheafull countenance / and bread to strengthe mans herte.

The trees of the Lord are full of sapper / euen the trees of Libanus whiche be bath planted.

There make the byrdes theyr nestes / and the fyre trees are a dwellinge for the stocke.

The hylls are a refuge for the wilde goate / and so are the stony rocks for the conue.

Thou hast appointed the Moone for certayne season / the Sunne knoweth his goinge vourne.

Thou makest darkness / that it maye be nyght / when all the bestes of the forest do moue.

Yea / and the yonge Lions which roare after the praye / and seek theyr meate at God.

But when the Sunne aryseth / they get them awaye together / and laye them vourne in theyr dens.

Then goeth man forth for his worke / and the herte of man is full of curynges.

O Lord / how manifeste are thy woles / right wysly hast thou made them / all / yet / the earth is full of chyldren.

So is the greate and wide see also / wherein are thynges crepynge innumerable / both small and greate bestes.

There go the shippes ouer / and there is that Lemathan / whom thou hast made / to take his passyng chourne.

They waste it vpon the / that thou myghtest geue them meate in the season.

When thou gausist them / they gather it / when thou openest thyne hand / they are fylled with good.

But when thou bydest thy face / they are fouled with filth / yf thou with drawe thy hand / theye dye / and are turned agayne to theyr duste.

Agayne / when thou censest thy deth /

He thought the fourth with silver and gold/ there was not one subtle person among their tribes.

Egypte was glad their departing/ for they were afraid of them.

He spied out a claude to be a covering/ a shy to gye light in the night season.

It sheweth these came qualko/ and he filled the world with the voice of heaven.

He opened the route of stone/ and the waters flowed out/ so that rivers ranne in the wilderness.

For why? he remembered his holy promise/ whyche he had made vnto Abrahā his seruante.

Thus he thought forth his people without/ and his chosen with chasteite.

And gaue the the landes of the Heathen/ whiche they toke the laboure of the people in possession.

That they might kepe his statute/ and obserue his lawes. Alleluia.

1. Confitemini domino quoniam bonus.

The CV. Psalm. Alleluia.

Where thanks onto the Lord/ for he is gracious/ and his mercy endureth for euer.

Who can expresse the noble artes of the Lord/ for he is faithfull at his promise?

Blessed are they that alway kepe iudgement and righteousnes.

Remember O Lord/ according to the fauour that thou bearest vnto thy people: o vnto vs with thy favouring hand.

That we might see the pleasure of thy chosen/ that we might reioyce in the gladnesse of thy people/ and geue thanks with thine enlargement.

We haue sinned with our fathers/ we haue done a misse/ we haue dearely trespassed.

O our fathers regarded not thy wonders in Egypt/ they kept not thy grate goodnesse in remembrance/ but were disobedient at the seruice at the dead see.

Thy uerballes/ he helped the for his names sake/ that he might make his power to be knowne.

Therfor he rebuked the dead see/ and it was duned/ so he led the thowse the kepte as in a wilderness.

Thus he saved them fro the hande of the hater/ and deliuered them fro the hande of the enemy.

As for those that troubled the/ the waters ouerwhelmed the/ there was not one of them left.

Then beloued they in his woide/ and they sought for him.

But within a while they forgot his woikes/ and wolde not abide his counsel.

It lust came vpon the in the wilderness/ thus it is so that they tempted God in the desert.

For he gaue the their desire/ and sente the ymough at their willen.

They angered Moses in the tentes/ and Zaron the sancte of the Lord.

So the earth opened and swallowed up Korah/ and covered the congregation of Abiram.

The syc was kindled in their company/ the flame burnt vp the vngodly.

They made a calse in Horeb/ a worship/ as they did in the molten ymage.

Thus they turned his glory into the similitude of a calse/ thus they bave.

They forgot God their Saualoure/ whiche had done so great things in Egypt.

Wonderous woikes in the land of Canaan/ fearful things in the dead see.

So he sayde he wolde haue destroyed the/ had not Moses his chosen stande before him in that gappo: to turne away his wrathful indignacion/ lest he should destroye them.

They/ they then ghe seasons of that pleaunt land/ and gauesno credence vnto his woide.

But murmured in their tentes/ and beloued not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

Then sayde he vnto his hande against the/ to ouerthowe the in the wilderness.

To cast out the side among nations/ and to scatter them in the landes.

They opened the siltis vnto Baal Peor/ thus they did the offeringes of the dead.

Thus they prouded him vnto anger with their owne inuencions/ and the plague was grate amonge them.

Then rode vnto Phineas and executed iustice/ and so the plague ceased.

And that was counted vnto hym for a righteousnes.

trouble/and he deliuered them out of theye distresse.

I The same his woide and heald them/and saued them fro destruction.

O that men wolde prayse the goodnesse of the Lord/and the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

I That they wolde offre vnto him the sacrifice of thankesgearing/ and let out his wonders with gladnesse.

They that go downe to be se in theye ptes/ and occupie them busynesse in great waters.

These men se the workes of the Lord/and his wonders in the depe.

I For at his woide/the storme winde cryeth/and lifteth vp the waves therof.

They are caried vp to the heauen/and downe againe to the depe/their soules miseth awaye in the trouble.

They trole to and fro/they seeke the hidden man/ and are at their wittes ende.

So they crye vnto the Lord/ in their trouble/and he deliuereth them out of theye distresse.

He maketh the storme to cease/so that the waves are still.

Then are they glad/because they be at rest/ and so he singeth the vnto the haueyn where they wolde be.

O that men wolde prayse the goodnesse of the Lord/and the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

That they wolde craie him in the congregacion of the people/and praise him in the score of the chere.

Which runneth the foudes in euerye lode/ and flieth vp the water springes.

A fruitfull lande maketh he barren/for the wickednesse of the that dwell therein.

Against he maketh the wilderness a springe of water/and water springes of a drye grounde.

That he setteth the hungry/that they maye build them a citie to dwell in.

That they maye sowe their grounde/ plante vineyardes/ to yelde them frutes of increase.

He directeth the/so that theye multiplye exceedingly/and suffere not their cattell to decrease.

What they are misynsed/and thoughte some shoulde opprression/whowere anye place outeable.

Though he suffere them to be cruellye treated whowere anye/so let the wandie oute of the waye in the wilderness.

Yet helpe he the poore oute of miserye at the last/and maketh him an householde lyke a flocke of shepe.

The righteous wyll confesse the/and reioyce: the mouth of all wickednesse shal be stopped.

Who so is wyse/and pondereth these thynges well/shal vnderstand the louinge synodrusse of the Lord.

Parasum cor meum deat, parasum cor meum, The. CVII. A Psalm of Dauid.

God/my heart is ready to synge and to dance prayse.

I woulde my glorye awake lute and harpe/ I my selfe wyl awake right earlye.

I wil geue thankes vnto the Lord/ as amonge the people/ I wil synge prayse vnto the amonge the righteous.

I for the greatnesse of thy mercie/so theye shal shew the thynges/and thy faithfullnesse reacheth vnto the cloudes.

Set vp thy selfe O God/aboue the heauens/ as thy glorye aboue al the earth.

That thy beloued maye be deliuered: hope them with thine righteousnesse/ and heare me.

I God hath spok in his Sanctuarye (which thinge conceyth me.)

I wyl crye the/ O God/and meete oute the valleyes of Sushere.

Salad is myne/Manasse is myne/ Ephraim is the strengthe of my heade/ Iuda is my captayne.

Now is my wastepone/ ouer Ebon/ wyl I strende out my shue/ Ophylsa shall be glad of me.

Who wyl ke me into the stronge trespas/ who wyl bunge me into Edom?

Shal not thou heare O God/ which haile cast vnto thy God/that wyl not forsake vnto our hostles.

O be thou ouer thyne in trouble/ for wyne is the helpe of man.

Thowere God we shall do greete increase/

The Psalms

I will thank the wyth an vnfaigned heart/because I am learned in the iudgements of thy righteousnesse.

I will kepe thy statutes/ & forsake not thy word.

Beth. 2

Where withall shall a sounge ma clefse thy wayer? When by ralyng himselfe after thy word.

With my whole hearte do I like the / O let me not goe wryng oute of thy commaunde-mentes.

2. ue. vi. b and xi. c

Thy wordes haue I had my chin my heart/that I shoulde not synne agaynst the Dayes be thou a Loide/ & teach me thy statutes.

With my lippes wyl I be ralyng oute all the iudgements of thy mouth.

I haue an greater desyre in the waye of thy testimonies/ as in all maner of ryche.

I will cecrete my selfe in thy commaundements / and haue respecte vnto thy forte-paites.

My desyre shall be in thy statutes / I wyl not forgette thy wordes.

Quint. 1

O do well vnto thy seruants / that I maye lyue and keep thy wordes.

Open thou myn eyes / and so shall I spie oute wondrous thynges in thy lawe.

Ec. liii. b
3. b. liii. b

I am a stranger vpon the earth / O hyde not thy commaundementes fro me.

My soule bicareth oute / for the very seruente desyre that I haue alwaye vnto thy iudgementes.

Thou that arte the proude / curst are they that departe from thy commaundementes.

O turne fro me shame and rebulke / for I kepe thy testimonies.

Distance also frs and speake agaynst me / but thy seruants be occupid in thy statutes.

In thy testimonies is my desyre / they are my counsaillers.

Saleth. 7

Psal. liii. c

My soule cleueth to the duste. O quaken thou me accordyng to thy word.

I forgette not my wayes / and thou bredest me / & teach me then thy statutes.

Mak not to understande the waye of thy commaundementes / and so thou I calle of thy wondrous wordes.

My soule murtherd awaye for very heauy nesse / so for me up accordyng vnto thy word.

Take fro me the waye of synng / & graunte me thy lawe.

I haue chosin the waye of truth / thy iudgements haue I layed before me.

I like vnto thy testimonies / a Loide con-founde me not.

I will runne the waye of thy commaunde-mentes / when thou hast comforted my herte.

St. 7

Teache me o Loide the waye of thy statutes / and I shall kepe it vnto the ende.

O graue me vnderstandinge and I shall kepe thy lawe / yee / I shall kepe it with my whole hearte.

Rebuke me in the path of thy commaunde-mentes / for that is my desyre.

Entyng myn herte vnto thy testimonies / and not to councitrousnisse.

O turne a waye myn eyes / lest / they be-holde vanyte / a quaken thou me in thy waye.

O stablyste thy word in my seruants / that I maye feare the.

Take awaye the rebulke / that I am afraid off / for thy iudgements are amiable.

Beholde my desyre is in thy commaunde-mentes / so quaken in myn thy righteousnesse.

Psalm. 7

Let thy louyng mercy come vnto me (o Loide) / and thy saluacion accordyng vnto thy word.

That I maye geue answer to vnto my blisphemyes / for my trust is in thy word.

O take not the word of truth vnto the out of my mouth / for my hope is in thy iudgementes.

So shall I alwaye kepe thy lawe / yee / for sure and true.

And I wyl walke as thy seruente / for I like thy commaundementes.

I wyl speake of thy testimonies / & not before finges / and wyl not be ashamed.

My desyre shall be in thy commaunde-mentes / which I loue.

My handes also wyl I lyfte vp vnto thy commaundementes / which I loue / and my wyllyng shall be of thy statutes.

Psalm. 7

O iij. sic

W O thinke vpd thy seruante as eoderninge thy woide / when thou hast caused me to put my trust.

For I was eoderned in my trouble / yet / thy woide quickeneth me

The proude haue me greatly in derision / yet I stande not I from thy lawe.

I remembre thy curesyngge iudgemente toe / Co Lord O and sin comforted.

I am homly afrayed for y vngodly / that for sake thy lawe.

Thy statutes are my songes in the house of my pylgrimage

I thinke vpon thy name Co Lord in the nyght season / and sepe thy lawe.

It is my reuente / for I sepe thy seruante demerito.

Ps. 119

Y Thou arte my portoy Co Lord I am purpose to sepe thy lawe.

I make mine humble pention in thy presence with my whole herte / so be mercifull vnto me according vnto thy woide.

I cal myne own wayes so remembraunce / and turne my feet in to thy rethinosnes.

I make hysle / and pteolige inat thy ryme to sepe thy commaundementes.

The congregeacions of the vngodly haue robbed me / but I for geue nor thy lawe.

Thine night stande I vp to geue thanke for vnto I for the iudgementes of thy ryghteousnes.

I am a companion of all the that feare the /
and sepe thy commaundementes.

The carpe Co Lord is full of thy mercy O teach me thy statutes.

Ps. 119

I O Lord / thou haste dealth frendlye with thy seruants / according vnto thy woide.

O teach me thyndesse / nourtonne and knowledge / for I beleue thy commaundementes.

Before I was troubled / I went wrong / but now I sepe thy woide.

Thou art good and frendly / O teach me thy statutes.

The proud synagyn lyce vpon me / but I sepe thy commaundementes with my whole herte.

There herte is as fat as buttone / but my deslyre is in thy lawe.

It is good for me / I haue bene in trouble / that I maye learne thy statutes.

The lawe of thy mouth is sweeter vnto me / then thousandes of golde and syluer.

Job. 23

Thy handes haue made me / a fashioned me / O geue me understandinge / that I maye learne thy commaundementes.

Gene. 1

They that feare the / they be glad when they seme / because I put my trust in thy woide.

I knowe Co Lord / that thy iudgementes are ryght / and that thou of verye faithfull ness / hast caused me to be troubled.

O let thy mercifull thyndesse be my comfort: accordinge to the promise that thou hast made vnto thy seruants.

O let thy louynge eyes come vnto me that I maye lyce / for thy lawe is my deliuer.

Let I proude be confounded / whiche hadde so falsly agaynst me.

But kepe such as feare the / and knowe thy testymones / be turned vnto me.

O let my herte be vnbefyled in thy statutes / that I be not ashamed.

Ps. 119

My soule longeth for thy saluacion / for: my trust is in thy woide.

Thy presence is lighte for thy woide / sayinge / O when wilt thou comforte me?

For I am become lyke a borrell in synoke / yet do not I forger thy statutes.

Howe many are the dayes of thy see: p^{sa} xxxiij. vnto: When wilt thou be aunged of mine aduersaryes?

The proude haue digged pitte: so: me / whiche arte not after thy lawe.

All thy commaundementes are true / they perferme me falsly: O be thou my helpe.

They haue almost made an ende of me vpon earth: but I for sake not thy commaundementes.

O quere I me after thy louynge kyndesse / and so shall I sepe the testymonyes of thy mouthe.

Lamed. 5

O Lord / thy woide endureth for euer in heauen.

Thy mercy also remaineth from one ge-neracion to another: thou hast layed the foundacion and sturde

Ps. 119

Thy woide endureth for euer

neracion to another: thou hast layed the foun-
dacion and sturde

Ps. 119

The Psalmes

dacion of the earth/and it abyeth.

They continue this daye according to thine ordinaunce/for all thynges serue the.

If my deliue were not in thy lawe/I shoulde perishe in my trouble.

I will neuer forget thy commandementes/for with them thou quickenest me.

I am thine/oh helpe me/for I feele thy commandementes.

The vngodly laye wayes for me to destroye me/for I confesse thy righteousness.

It is that all thynges come to an ende / but thy commandement is exceeding diuorde.

Item. v

¶ O what a loue haue I vnto thy lawe? all the daye longe is my talkinge of it.

Thou showest thy commaundment hast made me wiser then myne enemies/for it cureth me.

Deut. iiii. 4 ¶ I haue more vnderstanding then all my teachers/for thy testimonies are my studie.

Yea/ I am wiser then the aged/ for I feele thy commandementes.

I refrayne my feete from euery euil waye/ that I maye keepe thy wordes.

I thincke not from thy iudgementes/ for thou teachest me.

Eccl. vi. 11 ¶ O how sweete are thy wordes vnto my throte/ yee/ more then hony vnto my mouth.

Ps. xlviii. 1 ¶ Therefore thy commandementes I get vnderstandinge before hart I all false wayes.

Item. v

¶ Thy wordes is a lantern vnto my feete/ and a light vnto my pathes.

Ps. xlviii. 1 ¶ I haue freyne and am stedfastly purposed/ keepe the iudgementes of thy righteousnesse.

Ps. xlviii. 1 ¶ I am troubled about measure/ ouerthen me to Lorde/ according vnto thy wordes.

Let the freynofferinges of my mouth please thee/ (o Lorde) and teache me thy iudgementes.

Ps. lxxviii. 1 ¶ My soule is alwaye in thy hande/ yet do not forget thy lawe.

Job. i. 4. b ¶ The vngodly haue layed a snare for me/ but yet I straine not I from thy commandementes.

Ps. lxxviii. 1 ¶ Thy testimonies haue I cleymed as myne heritage for ever/ and why they are the very waye of my herte.

I applye myne herte to fulfill thy statutes alwaye/ vnto the ende.

Sanc. v

I haue the vngodly/ but thy lawe do I p love.

Thou arte my defence/ and thy lye/ my truste is in thy wordes.

Awaye from me wyndes/ I will keepe thy commandementes of my God.

O stablish the me according vnto thy wordes that I maye lye/ and let me not be disposyted of my hope.

Hold thou me vp / and I shalbe safe: yet I shall euer be talkinge of thy statutes.

Thou treadest doune all them that departe from thy statutes/ for they ynayn but deceate.

Thou puttest awaye all the vngodlye of the earth/ the thiefe/ therefore loue I thy testimonies.

My flesh trembleth for feare of thee / and I am affrayed of thy iudgementes.

Item. v

I reioyce with the thinge that is lawfull and I am affrayed of thy iudgementes.

I reioyce with the thinge that is lawfull and I reioyce/ O geue me not ouer vnto my oppositors.

But thou sweete for thy seruants to do hym good/ that the proude do me no wrong.

Myne eyes are wastyd awaye with teares/ for thy health/ and for thy wordes of thy righteousnesse.

O deale with thy seruants/ according vnto thy louynge in cress/ and teache me thy statutes.

I am thy seruants/ O graunte me vnderstandinge/ that I maye knowe thy testimonies.

It is tyme for thee (o Lorde) to laye to thine hande/ for they haue destroyed thy lawe.

For I loue thy commandementes above golde/ and precious stone.

Therefore holde I straightlye all thy commandementes/ and all false wayes I detestlye abhorre.

Ps. v

Thy testimonies are wonderfull/ therefore I detestlye abhorre.

Thy testimonies are wonderfull/ therefore I detestlye abhorre.

Thy testimonies are wonderfull/ therefore I detestlye abhorre.

Thy testimonies are wonderfull/ therefore I detestlye abhorre.

Thy testimonies are wonderfull/ therefore I detestlye abhorre.

● O deliuer me from the wrongeous healnges of me: / and so that I kepe thy commaundementes.

● O beth the lychte of thy countenance vnto thy seruante / and learne me thy statures.

● Myne eyes guffe out with water / because men kepe not thy lawe.

Verse 7

● Righteous art thou (O Lorde) and true is thy iudgement.

● The testimonie that thou haste commaunded: are exceeding righteous and true.

¶ My sicke hart euen consumed me / because myne enemies haue forgotten thy woordes.
Thy woerde is tryed to the veremoof / and thy seruante loueth it.

● I am final and of no reputation: yet do not I forget thy commaundementes.

● Thy righteousness is an euerlastinge righteousnesse: and thy lawe is true.

The CXXIII. Psalm.

Whē I rise I lift vp mine eyes / thū that I vnderstand in the heauens.

Beholde / euen as the eyes of seruantes ste vnto the handes of their masters / and as the eyes of a mayden waye vnto the banytes of her maister / euen so oure eyes waye vpon the Lordc our God/ for he haue mercy vpon vs.

Haue mercy vpon vs O Lord/ haue mercy vpon vs/ for we are vnto thy despised.

Quē soule is fylled with the scornfull reuerse of the welthy / and with the despitfull nesse of the proude.

Nisi quia dominus erat in nobis, dicarunt lial.

The CXXIII. Psalm of Dauid.

Whē I sawe the Lordc had not bene of oure syde / I knowe maie Israell saye / If the Lordc had not bene of oure syde/whā men rose vp agaynst vs.

They had swallowed vs vp quick / whā they were so worthfully displeasid at vs.

For the waters had shoundd vs / streames had gone oute oure soule.

The hope of oure of the proude had gone/ euen vnto oure soule.

He praised be the Lord/ whiche hath not geuen vs ouce for a pray vnto their teethe.

Quē soule rose escaped / euen as a shide out of the snare of the fouler/ the snare to shofen / I we are deliuered.

The CXXXIII. Psalm

Praise ye name of the Lord: praise it ye servants of the Lord.

Ye that stand in the house of the Lord in the courts of the house of our God.

O praise the Lord: for the Lord is gracious: he singe praise vnto his name / for it is lovely.

For by his name the Lord hath chosen Iac-ob: for his name / and Israel for his owne possession.

For I knowe that the Lord is great: and that our Lord is about all goddes.

Whatsoever the Lord pleaseth that doeth he in heauen and in earth: in the see and in all these places.

He singeth forth the cloudes from the endes of the world: he tuiceth the high mountains vnto raine: singinge the windes oute of their recesses.

Whiche smote the fysshborne of Egipte:
both of man and beast.

He hath sincke them and wonders into y middest of the Redd sea: and of Egipte: vpon Pharao and al his seruantes.

Whiche smote diuers nations: and slew mighty kinges.

Whon he singe of the Amorraes: / of y singe of Basan: and all the syngdomes of Canaan.

And gaue their lande for an heritage: for an heritage vnto Israel his people.

The name of the Lord endureth for euer: so doeth his memorial to Lord: from one generation to another.

For the Lord will avenge his people: and be gracious vnto his seruantes.

Do for the signages of the Heu: then they shall shew and guide: the worke of mens handes.

They haue mouthes: and speake not: eyes haue they: but they se not.

They haue eares: and yet they heare not:
neither is there any breath in their mouthes.

They shall make them: as theye vnto them:
and so are al they that put theye trust in them.

Praise the Lord ye house of Israel: praise the Lord ye house of Basan.

Praise the Lord ye house of Levi: ye that scare the Lord: praise the Lord.

O thou thanke the Lord: of all Landes: for his mercy endureth for euer.

Whiche onely doeth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for euer.

Whiche by his wisdom made the heauen:
for his mercy endureth for euer.

Whiche laudeth oute the earth about the waters: for his mercy endureth for euer.

Whiche hath made great lightes: for his mercy endureth for euer.

The Sunne to rule the day: for his mercy endureth for euer.

The Moone and the starres to gouerne the night: for his mercy endureth for euer.

Whiche smote Egipte with their fysshborne:
for his mercy endureth for euer.

And brought out Israel fro amonge the
for his mercy endureth for euer.

With a mighty hande and a stretched out arme: for his mercy endureth for euer.

Whiche deuided the Redd sea into partes: for his mercy endureth for euer.

And made Israel to go thow the middest of it: for his mercy endureth for euer.

Bur as for Pharao and his hostes: he cut them in them in the Redd sea: for his mercy endureth for euer.

Whiche led his people thow the wilderness: for his mercy endureth for euer.

Whiche smote great kinges: for his mercy endureth for euer.

Yee: and slew mighty kinges: for his mercy endureth for euer.

Whon king of y Amorraes: for his mercy
endureth for euer.

And O thou King of Basan: for his mercy
endureth for euer.

And gaue awaye their lande for an heritage: for his mercy endureth for euer.

weithy to depeyted: there is no ende of his greatnesse.

One generation shall praise thy workes vnto another / and declare thy power.

To for me I will be talke of thy won-derfull glorie / thy praise and wonderous workes.

So that men shall speake of the mighte of thy maruylous actes / and tel of thy great-nesse.

The memoriall of thy aboundaunt kin-desse shall be shewed / and me shall singe of thy righteousnesse.

xxxi The Lord is gracious and merciful / suffering and of great goodnesse.

The Lord is louinge vnto euery man / his mercy is ouer all his workes.

All thy workes praise the lo / and thy sauours geue thanks vnto the.

They haue the glory of thy kingdom / and talke of thy power.

That thy power / thy glorie and mighte of thy kingdom / mighte be knowne vnto men.

Thy kingdom is an euerlasting Kingdome: / thy dominion endureth for euer. Dan. vii f alage.

The Lord withholdeth al such as shoulde fall / and lifteth up al those that be done.
The eyes of al waite vpon the: and thou gre-nest the eare meane in due season.

Thou openest thine hande / and fillest all things liuing with plenteousnesse.

The Lord is righteous in al his waies / and holy in al his workes.

The Lord is nye vnto all them that call vpon him: yea, all suche as call vpon him faithfully.

He fulfilleth the desire of the that feare him / he heareth their crye / and helpeth them.

The Lord preferreth al that loue him / but feareth abroad al the ongodly.

My mouth shall praise the praise of the Lord. And let all flesh geue thanks vnto his holy name / for euer and euer.

Lauda anima mea dominam / laudabo.

Gloria. The CXLV. Psalm.

xxxii Praise the Lord O my soule: / while I live wil I praise the Lord: yea, as long as I haue any being / I wil singe praise vnto my God.

Thou puttest nosoure trust in princes / nor in child of man: for there is no helper in them.

For when the wrath of men is kindled against the: shall hee againe to his earth / and so al that thoughte perish.

Blessed is he that hath the God of Iac-ob for his helpe / and whose hope is in the Lord his God.

Which made heauen and earth / the sea and all that therein is / which keepeth his promise for euer.

Which helpeth them to might that suffer wronge / which feedeth the hungry.

The Lord deliuereth men out of prison / the Lord quicketh sighte to the blinde.

The Lord helpeth the vp that are fallen / the Lord leueth the righteous.

The Lord careth for the strangers / he defendeth the fatherlesse / and ydowes: as for the way of the ongodly / he turneth it upside downe.

The Lord thy God O Zion / is Kinge for euermore / and thy outcure all generationes.

Lauda Ierusalem dominum, lauda deum.
The. CXLVII. Psalm.

This Psalm do the Hebrewes ioyne vnto it that goeth before.

Worship the Lord o Ierusalem / prayse the God o Zion.
 For he maketh fast the barres of thy gates / and blesseth thy children within the.
 He maketh peace in thy borders / a stiller

 Laudate dominum de caelis, laudate eam.

Gallilia. The. CXLVIII. Psalm.
Worship the Lord of heauen / praise him in his heighte.
 Praise him al ye aungels of his / praise him al his boos.

Praise him Sonne and Moone / praise him al ye starres and light.
 Praise him al ye heauens / and ye wautes that be vnder the heauen.

Let them praise the name of the Lorde / for he commaundeth / and they were made.
 He hath made them stille for euer and euer:
 he hath gureth them a lawe which shal not be broken.

Kinges of the earth / and all people / princes and al iudges of the worlde.
 Yongemen and maidens / olde men and children: let them praise the name of the Lode / for his name onely is excellene / and his praisc aboue heauen and earth.

He exalteth the borne of his people / al his sauntes shal praise him: the children of Iseal / euen the people that seruet him. Gallilia.
Cantate domino canticum nouum, laus.

The. CXLIX. Psalm. Gallilia.
Sing vnto the Lorde a newe song: / let the congregation of sauntes praise him.

Esai. xl

Let Israel rejoice in him that made him / and let the children of Zion be ioyfull in their king.

Let them praise his name in the banets / let them syngie praises vnto him with tabiers they hard knowledge / and reuored not the fear of the Lord: but abhorred my counsell / and despised my counsell. Therefore shall they care the frutes of theyr owne waye and be filled with theyr owne counsell: for the turning awaye of the wyse / shall slaye the /

and the prosperite of soules shall be their owne destruction. ¶ But who so hartnely vnderstande well / shall safely / and haue ynough without any feare of euill.

The II. Chapter.

¶ My sonne / if thou wilt receiue my worde / and kepe my commaundementes by the which thou shalt maye beken vnto wysedome / applye thine here / and vnderstande dinge. For if thou earnest after wysedome / and callist for knowledge: if thou seest first as yet be an as yet in my / and vngest for bee as yet recei-ued. Then shalt thou vnderstande the feare of the Lord: and shalt finde the knowlege of God.
¶ For so the Lord that geueth wysedome / out of his mouth cometh knowledge and vnderstandinge. He preseruethe the welfare of the righteous / and defendeth them that walke innocently: he keepeth them in righte path / and preseruethe the waye of his sayntes. Then shalt thou vnderstande righte iustisse / and gentle and equite / see / and euery good path.
If wysedome encreaseth in thine heart / and thy soule desire in knowledge: then shall counsell preserue the / and vnderstandinge shall kepe the. ¶ Then thou mayest be deliuered from the euill woe / and from the man that speaketh frowde dedinges. Feare such as leaue the hyge strite / and walke in the waye of barnesse. Whiche thinge in doinge euill / and deliuere in woe thinge: whose wayes are crooked / and their pathes slaunderous.

¶ Then thou mayest be deliuered also / from the strange woman / and from her that is not her owne: which geueth sweete wordes / and sayeth she hath holde of her youth / a fogetteth the remembrance of her God. For her house is enuoyed vnto death / and her pathes vnto hel. All they that go in vnto her / come not again / neither take they holde of the waye of life.

¶ Then thou mayest walke in the good waye / and kepe the pathes of the righteous. For the iuste shall dwell in the lande / and the innocentes shall kepe them in it: but he vngodly shall be roued out of the lande / and the wicked vnto shall be taken out of it.

The III. Chapter.

¶ My sonne / if thou geuest my lawe / but seest thine here / kepe my commaundementes.
For they shall prolonge the dayes and yeres of thy life / and bringe the peace. Kepe thy and faithfulness: neuer go from the / binde them aboute thy necke / and write them in the rebles of thine heart. So shalt thou finde fauoure a good vnderstandinge in the sighte of God and men. Put thy trust in the Lord: with all thine heart / and leaue not vnto thine owne vnderstandinge. In all thy wayes haue respecte vnto him / and he shall direct thy goynge.
¶ It is not wysen thine owne counsell: / but feare the Lord: and departe from euill. Non-so shalt thy waye be whole / and thy doores stronge.

¶ Honour the Lord with thy substance / and with the fringes of all thine increas: / so shall thy barnes be filled with plenteousnesse / and thy presse shall store ouer with frete wyne. ¶ My sonne / disspere not the cha-steninge of the Lord: neither fainte when thou arte rebused of him. For whome the Lord leaue / he shall be chastenid: and yet de-liueth he in him / euen as a father in his owne sonne. Well to him that feareth the Lord: and openly vnderstandinge / for the getinge of it is better then any merchandise of gold / and the profit of it is better then silver. ¶ Wysedome is more worth then precious stones / and all the thinge that thou canst desire / are not to be compared vnto her.
Vpon her right hande is longe life / and vpon her left hande is ryche and honour.

¶ Her wayes are pleasaunt wayes / and all her pathes are peaceable. She is a tree of life to them that laye holde vpon her / and blessed are they that kepe her sayntes.

¶ With wysedome hath the Lord layd the foundacyon of the earth: / and thowme vnderstandinge lieth he stably / and the bounde-thowt hys wyse-
dome the despise becke re / and the cloudes drepp the dew. My sonne / let not the thinge part seeme thine eye / but feare my lawe and my counsell: fo shall it be life vnto thy soule/and grace vnto thy mouth.

Then shalt thou walke safely in thy waye/and thy foote shall not stumble. If thou sleepest/thou shalt not be afraied: but shalt take thy rest and sleepe securely. ¶ Thou shalt not neede to be afraied of any sodaine feare: neither for the violent rushing in of the vngodly when it commeth.

For the Lord shall be by thy che / and kepe thy foete that thou be not taken. Refuse not to do good vnto him that shoulde haue it: fo loqr as an thyng haunde is able to do it. Saye not eny to thy neyghboure: go thy waye / and come agaite: to morow wil I geue thee: when as thou hast neede to geue him. Intende no hurte vnto thy neyghboure / synge he hopeth to dwell in rest by the. Synge notely thyselfe vnto any man: when as he hath done the no harme.
¶ I folowe not a wycked man / and chuse none of hye waye: for the Lord chibbereth the frowarde: but hye secreet is amonge the righteous. The curse of the Lord is in the house of the vngodly: but he bleisseth the dwellinges of the righteous.

As for the foinefull: he shall lough them to kenne: but he shall geue grace vnto the lowly.
The wyse shall haue bountie in possesson: but foame is the promocioun that foules shal haue.

The IIII. Chapter.

Heare to ye chyldren: the fatherly reboution: and take good hede: that ye maye lea-uene wyddome. Yee: I shall geue you a good reuerde: if ye wyll not forsake my lewe. For when I my selfe was my fathers heere sonne:
and tenderly baloued of my mother: he taught me also: sayyng: Let thine heere receaue my wyddome: kepe my commaundementes: and thou shalt liue.

Get the wysdom: get the vnderstandinge/forget not the wordes of my counsell: and shunte not from them. For shee kepe her: and she shall preserue the: loue her: / and she shall kepe the. The chief pointe of wysdom is: that thou be willinge to optaine wysdom: and be-lieue all thy goodes to geet the vnderstandinge.
¶ Take miche of hie: / and she shall promoue thee. Yee: if thou embraicest her: she shall bunge the vnto honoure.

She shall make the a glorious head: and garme the with y crowne of glory. Haue my sonne: and receaue my wordes: that the yea-res of thy life maye be many. I will shewe the the waye of wysdome: and lede the in the righteous pathes. So that if thou gost thurth: there shall no strayntesse bynder the: and when thou runnest / thou shalt not fall. Take fast holde of doctrine: let her not go: ifeet her / for soe is thy life.

¶ Come not in the path of the vngodly: and walke not in the waye of the wicked.

Esquie it: and goe not therein: be part aside/and passe ouer by it. For they canioen slepe: except they haue fy: st done some myschieties: thee take they any rest: except they haue first done some harme. For they are the heede of wyckednesse: and wante the reyne of cobdry.
The path of the righteous: hym: th: no y: high: / and is euer brighte and brighte vnto the perfecte daye. But the way of the vngodly is as the darkenesse: wherein men fall as they be ware.

My sonne: marke my wordes: / as an ende thine care vnto my sayynges: / Let thine not departe from thine eyes: kepe the euen in the myddell of thine herte. For theye aclyse vnto all those that find them: a health vnto all thie bodies. Kepe thine heere wyth all diligencie: for cher vpon hangeth lyfe. Put away from the a froward mouth: / and let the lippe of sclauder be farre from the. Let thine eyes be holde the thynge that is righthe: and let thine eyelidde take strayghte thie.

¶ Donce the path of thy fere: fo shall all thy wayes be sure. ¶ Tyme not asidde: neither to the righthe: nor the leste: but wyshholde thy and fere from euill.

The V. Chapter.

My sonne: geue hede vnto my wysdome: / and bare thine care vnto my pudente: / that thou mayest regarde good counsell: and that thy loppes maye kepte measure. ¶ For the tippe of an barke: are a droppinge downe ebe: and her thore is fother then wyll. But at the last she is as a burre: as woman: as a barpe as a wydd goodd stercard. See seie go downe to deathe: and her stieppes pearse thine vnto to hel. Oberegardist not the path of lyfe: / fo vnstedfast are her wayes: that thou canst not knowe them. Heare me therefore to my sonne woman / he is a foule / and buyeth his life to destruction. He getteth his self also shame and dishonour / such as shall never be pur-out. For the glory and wealth of the man will not be increased / no / though thou wol-dest offre hym great gyfts to make amends des / he will not receive them.

The VII. Chapter.

Wisdom keep my words / and laye up my commaundementes by the. Keep my commaundementes and my lawe / euen as the apple of thyne eye / and thou shalt lyue. Wynde them upon thy fingers / and wryte them in the table of thyne herte.

Ps. 119

ad. 1

Wise wnde wisdom: thou art my sister / and call under standinge thy first woman: that the night she be sion the strange woman / and for the hailo which giueth sweete wor-des. For all of the widowe of my house I lofed thow art the allace / and beheld the simple people: and a strange other yonge falles / I spied one yonge soule gaying ouer the street / by the corner in the waye towarde the hailottes house in the wayshyte of the cue-nunge / whan it beganne now to be myght and darke. And behalde / there meete byn a woman in an haerlotice apparell / a decaar-ful woman and an vnstedfast woman: whose feet could not abyde in the house / now so she without / now in the streete lurketh in every toynce. She caught the yong man / kysed him / and was not ashamed / sayinge: I had a man to paye / and this heere I perswaine it. Ther fore came I forth to meete the / that I myght ste thy face / and so I haue founde the. I haue dectee my bedde with couerynge and clothes of Egypte. My bedd haue I made to smell of Myrrour / Aloes / and Cinamon. Come let vs lye together / and take ouer pleasure tyll it be daye lichte.

Ps. 119

For the good man is not at home / he is gone farre of. He hath taken the bagge of money which him whoso can tel whan he commeth home: it byn with many sweete wodes the ouercame him / a with her flatteringe lyppes the wanne him.

Immediately be followeth her / as it were an eye led to the slaughter. And lyke as it were to the stockes / where scules are punyshed / so longe tyll she hath wounded his lyuer with her darke: lyke as if a byrd saystid to the snare / not knowinge that she perill of hys lyfe lyeth there upon. Heare it now therfore / O my soune / and marke the woordes of my mouth.

Let not thyne hert wante: in her wayes / and be not thou decaurd in her paynes.

For many one hath the wounded / and cast downe / yee / many a straggling hath the slaine.
Her house is the waye vnto hyll / where men goe downe to the chaubdery of death.

The VIII. Chapter.

Do not say soone: for both not vnderstandinge putt forth his voyce / as deth be not in the byche placed in the streete and wayes: doeth hee not crye by fore his whole eyne / and in the gates where men goe in and in: It is yours ye men / sayeth the / whome I call. Vnto you saye chylde of men / lyfte I up my voyce. Take heede vnto knowlege o ye ignorant / be wyse in her eye soules.
Wise care / for I will speake of greuous matters / and open my lippes to tell thinges that be myghte. For my throte shall talke of the treuch / and my lippes abhoire vngodlynesse. All the woordes of my mouth be true and righteous / there is no frowardenesse / nor fallshode therem. They are all playne to such as will vnderstande / and myghte to them that sende knowlege. For because my doctrine thine is foue and natysher / and knowlege more than hyne gold. For wysdomme is more vnto than pretious stones / yee / all the mynges that thou canst desyre / are not to be compared vnto it.

Psal. c.

† The memoriall of the iust shall haue a good report: / but the name of the vngodly shall stinke.

A veyse man will seeke waanyng / but a foule wyll souer be synner in the face.

B † He that leadech an innocent lyfe / walketh as a furey: but who so goyth a wronge waye / shalbe knowne.

† He that winketh with his eye / will do some haeme: but he that hath a soolyse mouth / shalbe brauen.

The mouthe of a righteous man is a well of lyfe / but the mouth of the vngodly is past shame and pusimpuous.

† The iust shall reche vp steyre / but † loue couereth the multitude of synne.

In the lips of bym that hath vnderstandyng / a man shal fynde wysdoine / but f rowde bilowgeth to the backe of the foolyshe.

Wysdome maye vnderwylge / but the foolyshe is nye velleitoun.

The ryghte goodis are his strong bolde / but pouert oppressech the poore.

The righteous labourch to Va good / but † vngodly stich his iuer: see vnto synne.

† To take hede vnto the chesmyng of wrongis is the way of lyfe: but he that refuseth to be reformed / goeth wronge.

Dissembling lippeis kepe barred secrety / a he that speaketh any selowder is a foule.

Wher much boylinge is / there muste neede be effente: he that restraineth his lippeis / so wyllist of all.

An innocent tounge is a noble treasure / but the herte of the vngodly is nauyng. wouche.

The lippeis of the righteous fede a whole multitude / but foules shall eye in their owne folye.

† The blessinge of the Lorde maketh riche men: as for careful trauayle / it doeth nothinge to them.

A foule boch myselfe / and maketh but a spate of innoceniblese / it is wysdome for a man to beware of such.

The thinge that the vngodly see afrayed of / shall come vpon them: but the righteous shall haue their wisye.

† The vngodly is lyk a tempeste that passeth vnto / and is not in reme: sene / but the righteous remaneth sure for aye.

As vnyngre is to the teeth / and so a smok is vnto the eye: euen so is a sloughy personie a them that sende him forth.

The feare of the Lorde maketh a lenger lyfe / but the peaces of the vngodlye shalbe shortend.

The patient abidinge of the righteous shalbe rewarded / but the hope of the vngodly shall perishe.

The waye of the Lorde giveth a courage vnto the godlye / but it is a feare for the vngodlye.

† The righteous shall neuer be outryth: of the vngodly shall not remain in the lande.

† The mouth of the iust wil be talking of wysdome / but the tounge of the froward shall perishe.

The lippeis of the righteous are occupied in acceptable thinges / but the mouth of the vngodlye catcheth them to the wast.

Ther. XI. Chapter.

† False balauce is an abomination vnto the Lorde / but a true weyght pleasech him.

Wher pryde is / there is shame also a confusion: but wher as is lowynesse / there is wysdome.

The innocent dealing of the iust shall lye thein: but the vnjust hysmalicte of the dyspyses shalbe theyr owne destruction.

† Ryches helpe not in the daye of vntygance: but righteousnesse deliuereth from death.

The rightousnesse of the innocent eith: eth his waye / but the vngodlye shall fall in his owne wickednesse.

The rightousnesse of the iust shall deliuer them / but the dyspyses shalbe taken in their owne vngodlye nesse.

Whan an vngodly man dyeth / his hope is gone: the confidence of the vngodly shall perishe.

The righteous shalbe deliuered out of the trouble: and the vngodly shall come in his slede.

Whow the mouth of the dissimble is his neyghbour destroyed / but thow the knowlidge shall the iust be deliuered.

Where is a good counsayll / there the people decaye: but where as are many that can geue counsayll / there it wealthe.

Pro. vi. a

He that is surer for a stranger / hurteth himself: but he that medleth not with suerety / shyppe no sure.

A gracious womē mainteines honestie: as for the ungracious / they mainteyn ryfion.

Either hath a gentle liberal stomack / is merciefull: but who so hurteth his neighbour / is a ryant.

The labour of the vngodly prospereth not: but he that soweth righteousnesse / shall reape a sure rewarde.

Lyfe is righteousnesse / bringeth lyfe: euen so to cleue in as euell / bringeth deathe.

The Lo: Dc abhorreth a sained herte: but he hath pleasure in them that are vadesled.

A shall not helpe the wicked / though they lay all theyr bandes together: but the seede of the righteous shall be preserved.

The fructe of the righteous is as the tree of lyfe: a iust man also mynith mens soules.

The righteous be recomyned vpon earth: how much more then the vngodly and the sinner.

The XII. Chapter.

Who so toucheth wyfdom / wyl be wanting: and he that bateth / shall be reuoyd in a soule.

A good man is acceptable vnto the Lo: Gm: d: de: but the wicked wil be contempn.

A man can not euer be in vngodlynesse: but the roe of the ryghteous shall not be moied.

A stedfast woman is a crown vnto her hous bande: but she that behauieth her self vnpoynthly / is a corruption in her bones.

The thoughtes of the ryghteous are right: but the ymaginacion of the vngodly are vnclean.

The fallinge of the vngodly is / howe they maye laye waye for bloud: but the mouth of the ryghteous will deliuer them.

Wher thou canst turne the aboute / the D: m: vngodly shall be ouerthrowen: but the house of the righteous shall stande.

A man shall be edmyded for his wisdom: but a soule shall be despised.

A simple man which labourerth and woteh: hee beate then one that is gouernour / and wateerth deade.

A righteous man regardeth the lye of his carrell: but the vngodlye haue euill herce.

Wher thou shalt be laboureth / shall haue plenty: wher thou shalt be deade: but he that soweth yel / shall mist to a very soule.

The desire of the vngodly biteth asfree myfthene: but the roe of the righteous bringeth forth fructe.

The wicked seeketh in to the snare which hee maketh of his own mouth: but the iust shall escape out of the perill.

Every man shall enioye good accordinge to the vncertainty of his mouth: and after the woe: for of his handes shall be reuoyd.

Take what a soule taketh in his ryfion: but

It is well done: but he that is wise / will be counsaile.

A soule uttereth his wrath in all the haile / but a discrete man forgiueth wronge.

A iust man will tell the truth / and shewe the change that is ryghte. but a false witness deceiuet.

A chastituous person pricketh life a sword / but a wise man a ring is wholsome.

A true iustice is euer constant / but a dissemblinge tongue is soone chaunged.

They that synagize euen in their mynde / will deceaie: but the counsaile of peacethat haue ioye followinge them.

There shall no misfortune happen vnto the iust / but the vngodlye shall be fylled with misery.

¶ The Lord abhorreth the crafty hyppocrite / but they that labour for truthe please hym.

As that hath vnderstandinge / can hyde his wysdome: but an vndiscrete harte telleth out his foolishnesse.

A diligent hande shall beare rule: but the slothfulle vnder reburre.

¶ A iustice is discouraged the bus of man / but a good wynde maketh us glad againe.

The righteous is liberal vnto his neyghbour: but the waye of the vngodlye will deceaie him selfe.

A discretionfull man shall fynde no vauntage / but he that is content with that he hath / is more worth then golde.

In the waye of righteousnesse there is life: as for any other waye / it is to the party vnto deathe.

The. XIII. Chapter.

¶ Wylde sonne will receaue hys fathers warninge: but he that is scornfull / will not heare when he is reproued.

A good man shall enioye the frute of his mouth: but he that hath a frowarde mynde / shall be spyled.

He that keepeth his mouth / keepeth his life: but who so speaketh vniudged / syndeyth harte.

The slougarde would sayne haue / and can not geue the why: but the soule of the diligent shall beare plenty.

A righteous man abhorreth lyes / but the vngodlye shameth both other and hym selfe.

Righteousnesse: keepeth the innocent in the waye: but vngodlynesse maketh shewe the synners.

Some men are ryche / though they haue nothinge: agayne / some men are poore / by synne: great ryche.

With goodde every man deliuereth his life: and they poore wyl not be repoued.

The lighte of the righteous maketh ioye full: but the candle of the vngodlye shall be put out.

Amonge the proud there is euer stryfe: but amonge those that do al thynges with aduysence: there is a wysdome.

Hastely gotten goodde is not kept: but they that be gathered togither with the hand shall increase.

Longe enuynginge for a thyng that is differred / groweth the herte: but when the desyre cometh / it is a weede of lye.

Who so despysyth the wynde / dishonoureth hym selfe: but he that feareth the commaundement / shall haue peace.

The lawe is a treile of life vnto the wyse: but it maye kepe hym from the snare of deathe.

Good vnderstandinge getteth fauour: but hard is the waye of the vngodlye.

A wise man doeth al thinges with discretioun: but a soule wyl be care lesoly.

An vngodlye messenger byngyth myschaunce / but a faythfull ambasador is wholsome.

He that chyneth seeme to be rich: and medd / cometh to pouerte and shame: but who so receaueth conceycon / shall come to honoure.

When a desire is accomplisshed / it deliuereth the soule: but soules abhorre hym that eschuech euill.

As that goeth in the companye of wyse men / shall be wise: but who so is a companion of foolkes / shall be harte.

Mischaunce followeth vpon synners: but the righteous shall haue a good rewarde.

Whoe the children of men shall haue in possession: for the ryche of the sinner is Job xxxiij. laid up for the iuste.

The XIII. Chapter.

A Wise man buildeth his house / but the foolish wyse plaucth it downe.

Who so feareth the Lorde / walketh in the righteous and regardeth not him that abhor reth the wrauth of the Lorde.

In the mouth of the foolish is the dashinge of lorde / but the wyse wyll be ware of such.

Where no oxen are / there the crybbe is empty: but where the oxen labour / there is much frute.

A faithful witness wyll not dissemble / but a false recorde wil make a lye.

Pro. viij. a ¶ A scornful body seeketh wisdom: and findeth it not: but knowlege is as to come by / to him that wyll vnderstande.

¶ He that thou medle not with a foule / and so as though thou haddest no know foolishnesse of the unwise deceauech.

¶ Iudges make but a spere of synne / but there is favourable loue amonge the righteous.

B The heric of him that hath vnderstanding / wyl rather dispayre: for any foule / nor be to perisurpicious for any soden day.

¶ The bouise of the ungodly shal be ouer

¶ The heric is forsworn euen in laughter / as the ende of iury: is heauynesse.

¶ An vnfaithfull persone shalbe filled with his own wayes: but a good man wyll

¶ An ignominious body beareth all thynges:

but who so hath vnderstanding / lotheth wrauth as his geynge.

¶ A wise man feareth / and departeth from cruelty: a foule geeth on presumptuously.

¶ An vnpatient man handeth foolishly / but he that is wil laboureth vnto other knowlege.

¶ He that shal dowe them selfes before the good: and the ungodly shal wraite as the voere of the righteous.

¶ The poore is hard euen of his neighbours / but the ryche hath many frendes.

¶ Who so despiseth his neighbour / deeth unwise: but the wyse shal be as the seede of the poore: he that beareth in the lotheth mercy.

¶ They that imagine theyr riches / shalbe disappointed: but they that trust vpon good thynges / into such / shal happen mercy and saythfulnesse.

¶ Diligent labour bringeth rycheesse: but where many wraite woodes are / thery

¶ Rycheesse is an ornament vnto the wyse / but the ignoraunce of soules is to very foolish nesse.

¶ Faithful witness shaluereth soules: but a lie deceauech them.

¶ The feare of the Lorde is a stronge holde / for vnto his be wraite a sure defence.

¶ The feare of the Lorde is a wel of lyfe / to auerde the sicures of deathe.

¶ The increase and prosperite of the com munite is the thynges honoure: but the deceare of the people is the confusion of the prync.

¶ Patyence is a token of wysdome / but wrauth and hasty displeasure is a token of foolishnesse.

¶ A new heric is the life of the body: but raue consumech away the bone.

¶ He that doeth a poore man wrong / blas phemet his maker: but who so hath pyn / de /
of the good: deeth honoure vnto God.

¶ The ungodly is as feare of many payll / but the righteous hath a good hope euen in wrauth.

W. J.

Wisdom resteth in the heart of him that hath understanding; and he will teach them that are vnwise.

Night blindness stretcheth up the people; but wisdom is a lantern for the feet of the righteous.

A discreet servant is a pleasure vnto the king; but one that is not honest / prooueth but vnto wrath.

The XV. Chapter.
A soft answer turneth away wrath: but a fierce answer kindleth the same.

A wise tongue commendeth knowledge; a foolish tongue blabbereth out nothing but foolishness.

The eyes of the Lord be in every place; beholding the good and badde.

An vholosome thing is a tree of life; but he that abuseth it shall be a blessing in vain.

A soule despiseth his father: coz: man; but he that taketh heed vpon his re: poned; shall haue the more vnderstanding.

In the house of the righteous are great riches; but in the mercies of the vngodly there is mysorde.

A wise mouth pouerth out knowledge; but the heart of the foolish is veyr not so.

The Lord abhorreth the sacrifice of the vngodly; but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable vnto him.

The way of the vngodly is abomination vnto the Lord; but he that followeth righteously; shall be loved.

As he that forsaketh the righte street shall be punished; and who so hateth correction; shall be hated.

The bell toucheth her payne; more than the heart of a man.

A full body leueth not one that rebuketh him; neither will he come among the wise.

A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance; but an inquiet mynde maketh it heavy.

A wise heart will seek after knowledge; but the mouth of fools is filled with foolishness.

All the dayes of the poore are miserable; but a quiet heart is as a continual feast.

Whence is a styll with the face of the Lord; because he hath great treasure; for they are not full.

Whence is a meece of peccage with leue; because a false one will end well.

An angry man stretcheth up his fist; but he that is patient shall be vnderstander.

The way of the foolish is full of thorns; but the stile of the righteous is well defined.

A wise sonne maketh a glad father; but a disobedient sonne shames his mother.

A soule receybeth in folly the thynges; but a wise man leueth well to his owne goynges.

Vndraused thou shalt come to naught; but there are as men that are full; there is self-wisdom.

How is it full a thing to it a man to get a commendation; without?

How is it full a thing to it a man to get a commendation; without?

The waic of the leadeth vnto heauyn; but a man should be beware of bell-gate.

The Lord will booke vnto the house of the proud; but he shall make fall the foundation of the vngodly.

The Lord abhorreth the ymaginations of the wicked; but pure wordes are pleasaunt vnto him.

The covetous man stretcheth up his owne house; but who so hateth rewardes shall flye.

A righteous man museth in his mynde how to do good; but the mynde of the vngodly ymagineth how he maye do harme.

The Lord is farre from the vngodly; but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

As the clearnes of the eyes receybeth the light; so doeth a good name receybeth the honor.

The rare that heareth vnto wholsome counsaile; and ceaseth to be angry; shall dwell among the wise.

He that refuseth to be reformed; shall see his owne soule; but he that submitteth himselfe to correction; shall be wise.
